In June 1999, the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) issued Statement No. 34, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for State and Local Governments," which established a new reporting format for annual financial statements of governmental entities. In November 1999, GASB issued Statement No. 35, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for Public Colleges and Universities," which applies these new reporting standards to public colleges and universities such as the West Hills Community College District (the District). The following discussion and analysis provides an overview of the District's financial activity. This report presents this information in a comparative format. Responsibility for the completeness and fairness of this information rests with the District.

USING THIS ANNUAL REPORT

As required by accounting principles, the annual report consists of three basic financial statements that provide information on the District's activities as a whole: the Statement of Net Assets; the Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets; and the Statement of Cash Flows.

The focus of the Statement of Net Assets is designed to be similar to bottom line results for the District. This statement combines and consolidates current financial resources (net short-term spendable resources) with capital assets and long-term obligations. The Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets focuses on the costs of the District's operational activities, which are supported mainly by property taxes and by State and other revenues. This approach is intended to summarize and simplify the user's analysis of the cost of various District services to students and the public. The Statement of Cash Flows provides an analysis of the sources and uses of cash within the operations of the District.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

JUNE 30, 2008

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

- The District's primary funding source is "State Apportionment as defined by SB 361" received from the State of California through the State Chancellor's Office. These funds are comprised of State apportionment, local property taxes, and student enrollment fees. The primary basis of this apportionment is the calculation of Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES). During the 2007-08 fiscal year, the District's actual FTES were comprised of 4,595 credit FTES and 454 non-credit FTES for a total of 5,049 FTES, an increase of 99 FTES (2%) from the 2006-07 fiscal year. These FTES are generated at the District's Coalinga and Lemoore College campuses, as well as various satellite locations.
- The District ended the year with an Unrestricted General Fund balance of $3.9 million. The State Chancellor's Office recommends reserve levels of five percent of unrestricted General Fund expenditures be set aside for economic uncertainties. The District met this requirement with 12.51% reserves.
- The primary expenditure of the District is for the salaries and benefits of the Academic, Classified, and Administrative salaries of District employees. These costs increased over the 2006-07 fiscal year by approximately $4.6 million. In addition to the costs for current employees' insurance coverage, the District provides insurance benefits to retirees meeting plan eligibility requirements.
- The District began several construction and modernization projects throughout the District. These projects will be funded through various financial vehicles, including various maintenance and construction projects funded through the State Chancellor's Office.
- The District provides student financial aid to qualifying students of the District in the amount of approximately $8,167,000. This aid is provided through grants, and loans from the Federal government, State Chancellor's Office, and local funding.

This schedule has been prepared from the Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Assets presented on page 12.

The operating revenue for the District is specifically defined as revenues from users of the colleges' facilities and programs. Excluded from the operating revenues are the components of the primary source of District funding - the State apportionment process. These components include the State apportionment and local property taxes. As these sources of revenue are from the general population of the State of California, and not from the direct users of the educational services, they are considered to be nonoperating. As a result, the operating loss of $34 million is balanced by the other funding sources leading to an overall increase in the District's net assets of $2.5 million.

Auxiliary revenue consists of bookstore and Food Service revenues. The bookstore is maintained to provide books, supplies, and other items to the students and faculty of the District. The operations are self-supporting through product sales. The Food Service operation provides meals to the students and faculty of the college.

Grant and contract revenues relate to student financial aid, as well as specific Federal and State grants received for programs serving the students of the District. These grant and program revenues are restricted as to the allowable expenses related to the programs.

The interest income is primarily the result of cash held at the Fresno County Treasurer. The interest expense relates to interest payments on the long-term debt which is described in Note 9 of the financial statements.

The District is recording the depreciation expense related to capital assets. The detail of the changes in capital assets for the year is included in the notes to the financial statements as Note 5.

Statement of Cash Flows for the Years Ended June 30, 2008, 2007 and 2006

The Statement of Cash Flows provides information about cash receipts and payments during the year. This statement also assists users in assessing the District's ability to meet its obligations as they come due and its need for external financing.

Net Increase in Cash and Cash Equivalents	$ (269)	$ 6,870	$ (7,139)	$ (1,469)	$ 8,339

The primary operating receipts are student tuition and fees and Federal, State, and local grants and contracts. The primary operating expense of the District is the payment of salaries and benefits to instructional and classified support staff, as well as District administrators.

While State apportionment and property taxes are the primary source of non-capital related revenue, the new GASB accounting standards require that this source of revenue is shown as nonoperating revenue as it come from the general resources of the State and not from the primary users of the colleges' programs and services (students). The District depends upon this funding as the primary source of funds to continue the current level of operations.

Gann Appropriation Limit

SUPPLEMENTAL DATA

Proposition 4: Gann Appropriation Limit

Proposition 4 (November 1979, Special Election) added Article XIII B to the State Constitution to place limitations of the expenditures of State and local governments.

SB 1352, Chapter 1205/80, provided the implementation of Article XIII B. Subsequently, that legislation was amended by SB 98 (Chapter 82/89), AB 198 (Chapter 83/89), and AB 751 (Chapter 1395/89).

Using the method prescribed by the Chancellor's Office and approved by the Department of Finance; please provide district information for the budget year, pursuant to Government Code Sections 7908(c) and 7910, as follows:

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

We have audited the accompanying basic financial statements of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District (the District) as of and for the years ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, and its discretely presented component unit West Hills Community College District Foundation as listed in the Table of Contents. These basic financial statements are the responsibility of the District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The financial statements of West Hills Community College District Foundation (the Foundation) were not audited in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall basic financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

In our opinion, the basic financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all-material respects, the financial position of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District and its discretely presented component unit as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, and the respective changes in financial position and cash flows, for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in the Notes to the Financial Statements, the accompanying financial statements reflect certain changes required as a result of the implementation of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 45 for the year ended June 30, 2009.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated February 9, 2010, on our consideration of the District's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and is important for assessing the results of our audit.

The required supplementary information such as the Management's Discussion and Analysis and Other Postemployment Benefit Funding Progress, as listed in the Table of Contents, is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. This supplementary information is the responsibility of the District's management. We have applied certain limited procedures, consisting principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the District's basic financial statements. The supplementary information listed in the table of contents, including the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, which is required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

In June 1999, the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) issued Statement No. 34, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for State and Local Governments," which established a new reporting format for annual financial statements of governmental entities. In November 1999, GASB issued Statement No. 35, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for Public Colleges and Universities," which applies these new reporting standards to public colleges and universities such as the West Hills Community College District (the District). The following discussion and analysis provides an overview of the District's financial activity. This report presents this information in a comparative format. Responsibility for the completeness and fairness of this information rests with the District.

As required by accounting principles, the annual report consists of three basic financial statements that provide information on the District's activities as a whole: the Statement of Net Assets; the Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets; and the Statement of Cash Flows.

The focus of the Statement of Net Assets is designed to be similar to bottom line results for the District. This statement combines and consolidates current financial resources (net short-term spendable resources) with capital assets and long-term obligations. The Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets focuses on the costs of the District's operational activities, which are supported mainly by property taxes and by State and other revenues. This approach is intended to summarize and simplify the user's analysis of the cost of various District services to students and the public. The Statement of Cash Flows provides an analysis of the sources and uses of cash within the operations of the District.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS JUNE 30, 2009

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

- The District's primary funding source is "State Apportionment as defined by SB 361" received from the State of California through the State System's Office. These funds are comprised of State apportionment, local property taxes, and student enrollment fees. The primary basis of this apportionment is the calculation of Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES). During the 2008-09 fiscal year, the District's actual FTES were comprised of 4,972 credit FTES and 486 non-credit FTES for a total of 5,458 FTES, an increase of 409 FTES (8.1%) from the 2007-08 fiscal year; however the district was only funded for 5,200 FTES. These FTES are generated at the District's Coalinga and Lemoore College campuses, as well as various satellite locations.
- The District ended the year with an Unrestricted General Fund balance of approximately $1.9 million. The State Chancellor's Office recommends reserve levels of five percent of unrestricted General Fund expenditures be set aside for economic uncertainties. The District met this requirement with approximately 5.4 % in reserves.
- The primary expenditure of the District is for the salaries and benefits of the Academic, Classified, and Administrative salaries of District employees. These costs increased over the 2007-08 fiscal year by approximately $3.0 million. In addition to the costs for current employees' insurance coverage, the District provides insurance benefits to retirees meeting plan eligibility requirements.
- The District began several construction and modernization projects throughout the District. These projects will be funded through various financial vehicles, including various maintenance and construction projects funded through the State Chancellor's Office.
- The District provides student financial aid to qualifying students of the District in the amount of approximately $9.6 million. This aid is provided through grants, and loans from the Federal government, State Chancellor's Office, and local funding.

This schedule has been prepared from the Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Assets presented on page 12.

The operating revenue for the District is specifically defined as revenues from users of the colleges' facilities and programs. Excluded from the operating revenues are the components of the primary source of District funding - the State apportionment process. These components include the State apportionment and local property taxes. As these sources of revenue are from the general population of the State of California, and not from the direct users of the educational services, they are considered to be nonoperating. As a result, the operating loss of $63 million is balanced by the other funding sources leading to a decrease in the District's net assets of $77 thousand.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS JUNE 30, 2009

Auxiliary revenue consists of Food Service revenues. The bookstore sold its inventory of books, supplies, and other items to an outside agency to operate. Those proceeds are reflected as the bookstore sales for the 2008-09 fiscal year. The Food Service operation provides meals to the students and faculty of the college.

Grant and contract revenues relate to student financial aid, as well as specific Federal and State grants received for programs serving the students of the District. These grant and program revenues are restricted as to the allowable expenses related to the programs.

The interest income is primarily the result of cash held at the Fresno County Treasurer. The interest expense relates to interest payments on the long-term debt which is described in Note 10 of the financial statements.

The District is recording the depreciation expense related to capital assets. The detail of the changes in capital assets for the year is included in the notes to the financial statements as Note 6.

Statement of Cash Flows for the Years Ended June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007

The Statement of Cash Flows provides information about cash receipts and payments during the year. This statement also assists users in assessing the District's ability to meet its obligations as they come due and its need for external financing.

	June 30, 2009	June 30, 2008	Difference	June 30, 2007	Difference

The primary operating receipts are student tuition and fees and Federal, State, and local grants and contracts. The primary operating expense of the District is the payment of salaries and benefits to instructional and classified support staff, as well as District administrators.

While State apportionment and property taxes are the primary source of non-capital related revenue, the new GASB accounting standards require that this source of revenue is shown as nonoperating revenue as it come from the general resources of the State and not from the primary users of the colleges' programs and services (students). The District depends upon this funding as the primary source of funds to continue the current level of operations.

Gann Appropriation Limit

SUPPLEMENTAL DATA

Proposition 4: Gann Appropriation Limit

Proposition 4 (November 1979, Special Election) added Article XIII B to the State Constitution to place limitations of the expenditures of State and local governments.

SB 1352, Chapter 1205/80, provided the implementation of Article XIII B. Subsequently, that legislation was amended by SB 98 (Chapter 82/89), AB 198 (Chapter 83/89), and AB 751 (Chapter 1395/89).

Using the method prescribed by the Chancellor's Office and approved by the Department of Finance; please provide district information for the budget year, pursuant to Government Code Sections 7908(c) and 7910, as follows:

Budget Year: 2009-10

West Hills College
Three-Year Plan - Non-Instructional Departments for
1999 through 2001

Unit/Department: Business Office

Date Plan Developed: December 1998

1. Operations:

a. Changes:

Present:

Increased accounting related to Residential Halls, Cafeteria, Bond Initiative.
Increase in Revolving Fund transactions due to increase in Rev. Fund balance.
Outgoing mail responsibility re-assumed by the Business Office.

Future:

Anticipated implementation of new computer/software system.
Restructuring of assigned duties to provide maximum efficiency.
(i.e. combine responsibility for the scholarship/loan fund)
Reduce the number of local bank accounts.
Automate the signature processing of local checks with a check signing machine.
(with the increase in financial aid checks it would be more time efficient than the current process of stamping each check separately by hand.)
Possible relocation of Cashier to Business Office with student cashiering functions to remain with student services staff.

b. Special Projects:

Kings County Center Construction, Additional Construction Projects for Coalings and North District Center.

2. Resources Needed:

a. Personnel:

Possible addition of a part-time accounting tech, or increase to full-time to assist with added capital projects.
Once the planning/implementation process begins for the new computer system, it will be necessary to back-fill with at least one full-time temporary employee, and additional money will need to be budgeted for overtime.

b. Equipment:

Check signing machine.
If the student cashiering duties are assumed by student services staff, these staff members will be required to have a direct connection to CEI, cash drawers, and slip printers. Estimated cost of cash drawers is $500 each. Estimated cost of slip printers is $800 each.

c. Facilities:

Storage facilities for records.

- d. Professional Services:
None.

- e. Staff Development
Staff development for MS Office 97, new computer system.
Refresher/Changes training for office staff in each area as available .
Send staff to annual CASBO Conference.

- f. Utilities:
No additional utilities.

West Hills College

Program Review Planning Process
Unit Planning Guide - Non-Instructional Departments & Areas

I. General Information

Unit/Department: Business Office

Date Plan Developed: December 1, 1998

Prepared by: Bob Carey, Tammy Weatherman, Sandy Cavins, Anne Jorgens

Staff:

Director: Tammy Weatherman

Accounting Technicians: Russell Devine, Payroll
DeAnna Estrada, Farm
Jean Schawe, Cashiering/AR
Thelma Trevino, Purchase Orders/General

Senior Accounting Technicians: Sandy Cavins, A/P, Student Payroll, Revolving Fund
Jeanne Henslick, Bookstore/ASB/Clubs/Trusts/Prching
Linda Oman, Financial Aide

II. Qualitative Analysis:

- A. The Business Office provides the financial services operation to the district and its employees. The primary functions within the Business Office include: General Ledger Accounting, Budgeting, Payroll/Benefits, Accounts Payable, Accounts Receivable, Cashiering, Purchasing, Financial Aid, and Outgoing mail.
- B. There are no trends that are unique to the Business Office. Changes are driven by trends affecting Instruction, Student Services, and student body composition.

In addition to the substantial enrollment growth within the West Hills College District during the last three years, the Residential Living Halls were re-opened and the district assumed the Cafeteria operations from an outside contractor. A direct result of these actions was an increase in accounts receivable, cashiering, purchasing, accounts payable, financial aid, and general ledger accounting.

While most increases in State funding have come from growth and COLA's, a greater amount of funding is categorical restricted money with additional reporting and tracking requirements. An example of this is the new CalWorks program. This program and the Federal Work Study Program include job placement inside and outside of the College. Student labor costs have increased from $143,436 in 1993-94 to $355,344 in 1997/98. The increase in enrollment has also caused the certificated staff to increase 48% and the classified staff to increase 43% from 1993-94 to November 1998. Currently the student payroll is prepared by the Accounts Payable clerk in addition to her regular duties. The classified and certificated payroll is prepared by one full-time classified employee.

The general fund expenditures of WHC has increased from $9,007,834 in 1993/94 to $15,776,000 for 1997/98, which the anticipated expenditures of $15,825,324 for 1998/99. This is an increase of 76% in general fund expenditures. This increase directly impacts purchasing, accounts payable and general ledger accounting in additional overtime costs.

With the increase in students, allocations for the Federal PELL and SEOG programs have risen from $856,270 in 1993/94 to $2,234,852 as of 11/30/98 for 1998/99. This is an increase of 161%.

In November 1998 WHCCD was successful in getting a Bond Issue approved by the voters. It is anticipated that the greatest impact will be in general ledger accounting and accounts payable, in addition to the tracking/reimbursement component.

Another factor that will greatly impact the Business Office, both near and long-term, is the selection and implementation of a new computer/software system. It is estimated that the Director of Accounting will be required to contribute from 50% to 75% of her time to the implementation process, and other office staff contributing the same at various points during the implementation. Development of the Financial Module will result in greater efficiency district-wide, e.g. paperless purchasing.

D. SUPPLIES:

Increased budget needs for computer paper and ribbons, copy paper and toner, warrants, purchase requisition and purchase order forms, and postage.

E. EQUIPMENT

The purchase of an automated check signing machine will add efficiency to the signing process. Currently checks are signed/stamped individually.

A data storage/retrieval system for district-wide applicability. (Need exists, but would require some staffing.)

F. FACILITIES:

Identified area for records to be stored prior to transfer/disposal, and after transfer. The data storage system identified in "E" would reduce storage space.

G. STAFFING:

Temporary/seasonal adult help will be required during the first two weeks of registration for Fall and Spring semesters.

As construction begins and Bond proceeds are used, we may need the addition of a part-time accounting technician, or an increase in the current part-time to fulltime.

Once the process of planning/implementation begins to change computer systems, at least one full-time temporary staff will be required, in addition to an increase in the overtime budget.

H. STAFF DEVELOPMENT REQUIREMENTS:

As part of the new computer/software system, all staff will need training to gain the required level of technical knowledge. In addition, some training may be required for upgraded software programs including MS Office 97. All staff are encouraged to attending training workshops that would enhance their work performance and stay current with new regulations and procedures. The staff have been encouraged to sign up for open entry/exit classes at each campus site.

I. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION (optional):

- J. What factors did you use in determining the quality and success of this department?
(Example: feedback from campus "clients", audit improvements, meeting mission statement and/or goals and objectives, etc.)

At the Board meeting of January 19, 1999, the District audit report for FY 1997-98 was presented to the Board. The auditor advised the Board that all of the findings were classified as immaterial and he believes we have maintained adequate reserves and are in good financial condition. He stated it was a pleasure to work with the district and that the district has knowledgeable people who are well trained. He also stated that the district is in the top five percent of the districts that they serve.

Audit exceptions have declined from eight in 1993-94 to two exceptions for 1997/98, none of which were directly related to the Business Office.

- K. Identify the best ways to measure the quality and success of this department or program. Conduct an evaluation of the program. Use a survey or questionnaire when appropriate to address questions. (Examples: How do the persons served by the program evaluate its adequacy or effectiveness? How do the services of this program compare to similar programs outside the College? By what processes does the program deal with complaints and continually up-grade services? Other methods might include matching or exceeding nationwide productivity measures, i.e., full-time staffing equivalent per square foot for M&O and per number of employees for Human Resources, feedback from campus "clients", etc.)

See "J" above.

- L. Scheduling Patterns: Describe the daily or annual scheduling pattern that your department or area experiences and discuss whether these are appropriate or adequate for the goals of the program and for the population being served.

The Business Office is staffed from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The cashiering office at the Coalinga Campus is open from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Closing at this time allows the Cashier time to balance and prepare deposits. During the week before, and the week classes begin, additional staff are used to cover the period from 3:30 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. If the cashiering duties are delegated to student services staff, it is anticipated that they will also need additional time for balancing their registers.

- M. Which of the measures listed in L above are you using or do you plan to use in the next year?

We are planning on keeping the same schedule.

III. Quantitative Analysis

- a. Student Enrollments and Staffing Levels

1. How does the five-year enrollment trend for the district impact workload for your department?

Impacts are felt in all areas – cashiering, accounts receivable, financial aid; additional supplies ordered for classes, additional payroll for added faculty, additional payroll for more students, additional accounts receivable, etc.

2. How does the increased/decreased staffing levels impact workload for your department?

Lack of increased staffing has and will result in continued increases in overtime costs.

b. Productivity

1. Have there been any significant fluctuations in facility ASF, FTES, FTE Staff, computers, instructional laboratories, general ledger transactions, staff vacancies, purchase orders issued, etc. (select whichever workload measures match your department) over the last five years? If so, explain.

The student enrollment has grown substantially over the last five years. The impact has been felt in the addition of faculty and staff. While there is not a big fluctuation in permanent certificated staff, there is a high turnover rate for student help, classified staff and adjunct faculty. In the Business Office, the full-time accounting position for payroll has been filled by three different employees in three years; the office assistant/accounting tech position has had three different employees in three years. This results in the continuing impact of training new employees just when the former employee has reached a level that does not require day-to-day oversight.

One of the contributing factors to classified staff turnover is the perception that classified wages are below the current job market, especially in the area of accounting. The last job announcement was advertised at the same time as an equivalent position with the City of Fresno, State Center Community College, and the City of Coalinga. The current salary for WHC was $400-$500 per month below the nearest equivalent. However, when District-paid benefits are taken into consideration, including contributions to PERS, the gap is noticeably narrowed.

The re-opening of the Residence Halls and the Cafeteria and the increase in scheduled maintenance projects along with classroom requirements, additional funding for instruction equipment, etc. has impacted productivity by increasing the number of purchase orders processed, accounts payable warrants processed, and the increase in student accounts receivable, financial aid warrants, etc.

2. How does the above five-year workload measures trend of your department compare with the State average of similar operations?

Similar.

3. Describe the population served by this program using objective measures if possible. How are the characteristics of the population served significant factors in the evaluation of this program? Considering the goals of this program, should other populations be served?

The entire campus community is served by the Business Office.

c. General Operation

1. How well does your department provide adequate services to campus constituents? What criteria was used in this determination? (Example: surveys, e-mail responses, overall campus environment, self-assessment, etc.)

Payroll processing is free of errors (less than .005%); Purchase orders are processed in a timely manner; Accounts payable are processed so as to take advantage of any discounts and avoid finance charges. Financial Aid award disbursements are processed in a timely manner, as demonstrated by the audit report.

2. Does your department meet or exceed expectations of state regulations and reporting requirements?

The Business Office meets the expectations of state regulations and reporting requirements as demonstrated by the audit report.

3. What evidence exists or suggests that your department provides adequate services to campus constituents, excluding "client or customer" responses?

See "1" above.

4. To what extent are the measurable goals of the program being met? (Example: what proportion of the student population that intends to transfer actually accomplish their goal?)

Audit exceptions have decreased. Warrants are processed in a timely manner for all areas. (see "1" above.)

d. Professional and Vocational Standards and Growth

1. What procedures are being used to assure the current skill level of your employees is adequately meeting the needs of the district relative to your department fulfilling the district's mission, goals, and objectives?

Staff development training; access to open entry/exit labs for computer training.

2. What procedures are being used to assure that the department uses current technology to perform its responsibilities?

Periodic review by the Business Office staff identifies equipment/software needs along with alternatives/changes to business practices. One result is the selection of the new financial system to address the needs of the District, including the automation of purchase requests/orders.

3. Individual Professional Growth: What evidence is there that both professional and vocational staff are staying current in their respective profession and trades vocations?

Evidenced by the level of expertise maintained in each position, the reduction in audit exceptions.

4. What recognition and/or acknowledgments (awards, publications, promotions, memberships, etc.) have been given to staff within the last year?

The District's external auditor expressed to the Board of Trustees the opinion that the Business Office staff were both knowledgeable and well-trained.

e. Overall Changes

1. Were there any significant changes in data and trends? Describe. (Example: Increase in facilities; changes in landscaping; increase in purchase; increase in staffing; implementations of hardware/software, increased applicant pool, increased program participants, etc.)

See above.

2. If changes occurred, what were the reasons for these changes? (Example: automation of financial aid; mailing of student invoices; planting of more perennials, increase outreach efforts, etc.)

See above.

3. Does analysis of the data suggest any changes are needed to improve program effectiveness: If so, what changes? (Example: too little/too much square foot custodial/maintenance per FTE Staff; work order backlog increasing; purchase order turnaround time increasing; increased recruitment or retention efforts, etc.)

Changes needed to improve program effectiveness include the automation of purchase requisitions/orders, the automation of payroll timekeeping and integration with Human Resources. Increased effort to retain classified staff, thereby reducing the training-curve of new employees.

IV. Program Analysis and Three-Year Plan

- a. What were the major accomplishments of this department or area in the previous academic year? (Example: increased applicant pool, increased program participants.) Did these accomplishments meet your goals and objectives for the previous academic year?

1. In the Fall of 1997, we began mailing Financial Aid checks to students after the first disbursements of the semester. This service helped to reduce the student traffic and helped to maintain/correct student addresses.

2. The Cashier's office was relocated into the Student Services wing to facilitate payment of student fees, lessening the frustration of students trying to figure out where to pay
 3. The student statement function of CEI was implemented to send statements on a monthly basis.
 4. The Shipping/receiving responsibility was moved to Maintenance Dept.
 5. In conjunction with Piper Jaffray, the TRANS was increased to $3,000,000 for 1998/99 to facilitate cash flow and increase interest revenue.
 6. Development of Business Office procedures manual.
- b. List other accomplishments that were not in the master plan. (Example: increased services offered.)
- c. Please create a three-year plan for this program using the analyses made in this review. Please use the attached "Three-Year Plan" form.

See attached.

V. Summary Statement

What are the major conclusions on the state of your department? Summarize the plan for improving or maintaining the quality of the department. Identify strategies for the future.

The Business Office staff are well trained. Several manual processes are in need of automation to decrease processing time. The plan for improving the quality of the Business Office revolves around the implementation of the new Financial system. The new Financial system will automate purchase request processing, link Payroll and Human Resources, and alleviate the need for alternative software for bookkeeping purposes.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors
West Hills Community College Foundation
Coalinga, California

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of the West Hills Community College Foundation (the Foundation), a California non-profit corporation, as of June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, and the related statement of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the six months and year then ended, respectively. These financial statements are the responsibilities of the Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and the significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the West Hills Community College Foundation as of June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the six months and year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated January 12, 2010, on our consideration of the West Hills Community College Foundation's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and should be considered in assessing the results of our audit.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements of the West Hills Community College Foundation taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule of expenditures of federal awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND DESCRIPTION OF ACTIVITIES

The West Hills Community College Foundation is a California not-for-profit organization for the benefit of West Hills Community College District (the District) and is considered a Component Unit of the District. The Foundation was organized for the purpose of providing Financial Aid to students in need. The Foundation provides opportunities for members of the community to donate property and money for the express purpose, through grants and scholarships, of helping deserving students receive a quality education.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Accounting Method - Basis of Accounting

The financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America as applicable to not-for-profit organizations. Basis of accounting refers to when revenues and expenses are recognized in the accounts and reported on the financial statements as well as the timing of the measurement made, regardless of the measurement focus applied. The Foundation uses the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are recognized when they are earned and expenses are recognized in the beginning of the accounting period in which the liability is incurred.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment of the Foundation are stated at cost where known or estimated cost in other instances. If donated they are stated at fair market value as of the date received. For donors planning to take a charitable tax deduction for a gift in kind valued at $5,000 or more, the IRS requires the donor to obtain an independent appraisal and to complete an IRS Form 8283. Property, equipment, and improvements are depreciated or amortized over the estimated useful life of the asset, ranging from 2 to 30 years, using the straight-line method.

Income Taxes

The Foundation is exempt from federal income and California franchise taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and corresponding California provisions. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes has been recorded in the financial statements. The Foundation has also been classified as an entity that is not a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Foundation annually files Forms 990, 199 and RRF-1 with the appropriate agencies.

Financial Statement Presentation

The Foundation in 1997 implemented Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117. In "Financial Statements of Not-For-Profit Organizations" under SFAS No. 117, the Foundation is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets and permanently restricted net assets.

Contributions

The Foundation also adopted in 1997, SFAS No. 116 "Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made," whereby contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions.

Investments

The Foundation elected to adopt SFAS No. 124, "Accounting for Certain Investments Held by Not-for-Profit Organizations," in 1997. Under SFAS No. 124, investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are valued at their fair values in the statement of financial position. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the change in net assets.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenditures/expenses during the reported period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

New Accounting Pronouncement

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements". This Statement defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. This Statement establishes a fair value hierarchy that distinguishes between valuations obtained from sources independent of the entity and those from the entity's own observable inputs that are not corroborated by observable market data. SFAS No. 157 expands disclosures about the use of fair value to measure assets and liabilities in interim and annual periods subsequent to initial recognition. This disclosure focuses on the inputs used to measure fair value and for recurring fair value measurements using significant unobservable inputs, the effect of the measurements on earnings, or changes in net assets for the period. SFAS No. 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007.

The Foundation adopted SFAS No. 157 on January 1, 2008, and the adoption did not have a material impact on the Foundation's financial statements.

NOTE TO SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION JUNE 30, 2009

NOTE 1 - PURPOSE OF SCHEDULES

Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards includes the Federal grant activity of the Foundation and is presented on the accrual basis of accounting. The information in this schedule is presented in accordance with the requirements of the United States Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Therefore, some amounts presented in this schedule may differ from amounts presented in, or used in the preparation of, the financial statements.

This page left blank intentionally.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS.

Governing Board
West Hills Community College Foundation
Coalinga, California

We have audited the financial statements of the West Hills Community College Foundation, a California non-profit corporation, as of and for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and the year ended December 31, 2008, which collectively comprise West Hills Community College Foundation's basic financial statements and have issued our report thereon dated January 12, 2010. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit, we considered West Hills Community College Foundation's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinions on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the West Hills Community College Foundation's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the West Hills Community College Foundation's internal control over financial reporting.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the District's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the District's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether West Hills Community College Foundation's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the governing board, management, and Federal awarding agencies, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of West Hills Community College Foundation with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major Federal programs for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and the year ended December 31, 2008. West Hills Community College Foundation's major Federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major Federal programs is the responsibility of West Hills Community College Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on West Hills Community College Foundation's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about West Hills Community College Foundation's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of West Hills Community College Foundation's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, West Hills Community College Foundation complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major Federal programs for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and the year ended December 31, 2008.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of West Hills Community College Foundation is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to Federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered West Hills Community College Foundation's internal control over compliance with the requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the West Hills Community College Foundation's internal control over compliance.

A control deficiency in a district's internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the District's ability to administer a Federal program such that there is more than a remote likelihood that noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the governing board, management, and Federal awarding agencies, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Good morning Larry,

Would you be able to email me that your CalWORKS audit with West Hills College Lemoore and Coalinga reported no findings as we discussed on the phone.

Our WHC Lemoore Director is requesting to have just a small blurb to include in his accreditation.

Thank you, kind regards,
Cathy

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

We have audited the accompanying basic financial statements of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District (the District) as of and for the years ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, and its discretely presented component unit West Hills Community College District Foundation as listed in the Table of Contents. These basic financial statements are the responsibility of the District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The financial statements of West Hills Community College District Foundation (the Foundation) were not audited in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall basic financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

In our opinion, the basic financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District and its discretely presented component unit as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, and the respective changes in financial position and cash flows, for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in the Notes to the Financial Statements, the accompanying financial statements reflect certain changes required as a result of the implementation of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 45 for the year ended June 30, 2009.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated February 9, 2010, on our consideration of the District's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and is important for assessing the results of our audit.

The required supplementary information such as the Management's Discussion and Analysis and Other Postemployment Benefit Funding Progress, as listed in the Table of Contents, is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. This supplementary information is the responsibility of the District's management. We have applied certain limited procedures, consisting principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the District's basic financial statements. The supplementary information listed in the table of contents, including the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, which is required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

In June 1999, the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) issued Statement No. 34, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for State and Local Governments," which established a new reporting format for annual financial statements of governmental entities. In November 1999, GASB issued Statement No. 35, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for Public Colleges and Universities," which applies these new reporting standards to public colleges and universities such as the West Hills Community College District (the District). The following discussion and analysis provides an overview of the District's financial activity. This report presents this information in a comparative format. Responsibility for the completeness and fairness of this information rests with the District.

USING THIS ANNUAL REPORT

As required by accounting principles, the annual report consists of three basic financial statements that provide information on the District's activities as a whole: the Statement of Net Assets; the Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets; and the Statement of Cash Flows.

The focus of the Statement of Net Assets is designed to be similar to bottom line results for the District. This statement combines and consolidates current financial resources (net short-term spendable resources) with capital assets and long-term obligations. The Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets focuses on the costs of the District's operational activities, which are supported mainly by property taxes and by State and other revenues. This approach is intended to summarize and simplify the user's analysis of the cost of various District services to students and the public. The Statement of Cash Flows provides an analysis of the sources and uses of cash within the operations of the District.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS JUNE 30, 2009

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

- The District's primary funding source is "State Apportionment as defined by SB 361" received from the State of California through the State System's Office. These funds are comprised of State apportionment, local property taxes, and student enrollment fees. The primary basis of this apportionment is the calculation of Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES). During the 2008-09 fiscal year, the District's actual FTES were comprised of 4,972 credit FTES and 486 non-credit FTES for a total of 5,458 FTES, an increase of 409 FTES (8.1%) from the 2007-08 fiscal year; however the district was only funded for 5,200 FTES. These FTES are generated at the District's Coalinga and Lemoore College campuses, as well as various satellite locations.
- The District ended the year with an Unrestricted General Fund balance of approximately $1.9 million. The State Chancellor's Office recommends reserve levels of five percent of unrestricted General Fund expenditures be set aside for economic uncertainties. The District met this requirement with approximately 5.4 % in reserves.
- The primary expenditure of the District is for the salaries and benefits of the Academic, Classified, and Administrative salaries of District employees. These costs increased over the 2007-08 fiscal year by approximately $3.0 million. In addition to the costs for current employees' insurance coverage, the District provides insurance benefits to retirees meeting plan eligibility requirements.
- The District began several construction and modernization projects throughout the District. These projects will be funded through various financial vehicles, including various maintenance and construction projects funded through the State Chancellor's Office.
- The District provides student financial aid to qualifying students of the District in the amount of approximately $9.6 million. This aid is provided through grants, and loans from the Federal government, State Chancellor's Office, and local funding.

This schedule has been prepared from the Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Assets presented on page 12.

The operating revenue for the District is specifically defined as revenues from users of the colleges' facilities and programs. Excluded from the operating revenues are the components of the primary source of District funding - the State apportionment process. These components include the State apportionment and local property taxes. As these sources of revenue are from the general population of the State of California, and not from the direct users of the educational services, they are considered to be nonoperating. As a result, the operating loss of $63 million is balanced by the other funding sources leading to a decrease in the District's net assets of $77 thousand.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS JUNE 30, 2009

Auxiliary revenue consists of Food Service revenues. The bookstore sold its inventory of books, supplies, and other items to an outside agency to operate. Those proceeds are reflected as the bookstore sales for the 2008-09 fiscal year. The Food Service operation provides meals to the students and faculty of the college.

Grant and contract revenues relate to student financial aid, as well as specific Federal and State grants received for programs serving the students of the District. These grant and program revenues are restricted as to the allowable expenses related to the programs.

The interest income is primarily the result of cash held at the Fresno County Treasurer. The interest expense relates to interest payments on the long-term debt which is described in Note 10 of the financial statements.

The District is recording the depreciation expense related to capital assets. The detail of the changes in capital assets for the year is included in the notes to the financial statements as Note 6.

Statement of Cash Flows for the Years Ended June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007

The Statement of Cash Flows provides information about cash receipts and payments during the year. This statement also assists users in assessing the District's ability to meet its obligations as they come due and its need for external financing.

	June 30, 2009	June 30, 2008	Difference	June 30, 2007	Difference
CASH PROVIDED BY (USED IN)
Operating activities	$ (60,686)	$ (54,385)	$ (6,301)	$ (26,464)	$ (27,921)
Noncapital financing activities	57,316	59,690	(2,374)	34,607	25,083
Capital financing activities	11,844	(7,589)	19,433	(3,813)	(3,776)
Investing activities	3,954	2,015	1,939	2,540	(525)
Net Increase in Cash and Cash Equivalents	$ 12,428	$ (269)	$ 12,697	$ 6,870	$ (7,139)

The primary operating receipts are student tuition and fees and Federal, State, and local grants and contracts. The primary operating expense of the District is the payment of salaries and benefits to instructional and classified support staff, as well as District administrators.

While State apportionment and property taxes are the primary source of non-capital related revenue, the new GASB accounting standards require that this source of revenue is shown as nonoperating revenue as it come from the general resources of the State and not from the primary users of the colleges' programs and services (students). The District depends upon this funding as the primary source of funds to continue the current level of operations.

ECONOMIC FACTORS AFFECTING THE FUTURE OF WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

The 2009-10 State Budget represents no increase in funding and in fact a reduction of FTES from the previous fiscal year of 215 down to 4,985, which is about $ 1.2 million. There was zero increase in COLA and growth. There will likely be no COLA or growth for the 2010-11 fiscal year due to the economic conditions in California.

The State continues to face a structural deficit of billions of dollars and it appears that the community college system will continue to be challenged to reduce expenditures while the demand for services continues to increase. The WHCCD is well positioned to handle any negative impact that may be required.

There are currently no other known facts, decisions, or conditions that will have a significant effect on the financial position (net assets) or results of operations (revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets) of the District. There is currently a concern that the economy continues to slow which the District is monitoring and will take the appropriate action necessary to remain fiscally sound.

CONTACTING THE DISTRICT'S FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide our citizens, taxpayers, students, and investors and creditors with a general overview of the District's finances and to show the District's accountability for the money it receives. WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION

The West Hills Community College District (District) is a political subdivision of the State of California and provides postsecondary education to the students of Coalinga-Huron Unified School District, Lemoore Union High School District, Riverdale Joint Unified School District, Golden Plains Unified School District, Firebaugh-Las Deltas Unified School District, Reef-Sunset Unified School District, and Mendota Unified School District. The District maintains a Coalinga Campus, a Lemoore Campus, and the North District Center in Firebaugh. While the District is a political subdivision of the State, it is not a component unit of the State in accordance with the provisions of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 14. The District operates under a locally elected seven-member Board of Trustees form of government and provides higher education in the County of Fresno. While the District is a political subdivision of the State of California, it is legally separate and is independent of other State and local governments, and it is not a component unit of the State in accordance with the provisions of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 39.

A reporting entity is comprised of the primary government, and other organizations that are included to ensure the financial statements are not misleading. The primary government of the District consists of all funds, departments, boards, and agencies that are not legally separate from the District. For West Hills Community College District, this includes general operations, food services, bookstores, and student related activities of the District.

Financial Reporting Entity

The District has adopted GASB Statement No. 39, Determining Whether Certain Organizations are Component Units. This statement amends GASB Statement No. 14, The Financial Reporting Entity, to provide additional guidance to determine whether certain organizations, for which the District is not financially accountable, should be reported as component units based on the nature and significance of their relationship with the District. The three components used to determine the presentation are: providing a "direct benefit"; the "environment and ability to access/influence reporting," and the "significance" criterion. As defined by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and established by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the financial reporting entity consists of the primary government, the District, and the following component unit:

As defined by generally accepted accounting principles established by the GASB, the financial reporting entity consist of the primary government (the District), as well as the following component units.

- West Hills Community College District Foundation

The West Hills Community College District Foundation (the Foundation) is a legally separate, tax-exempt component unit of the District. The Foundation acts primarily as a fundraising organization to provide grants and scholarships to students and support to employees, programs, and departments of the District. The ten-member board of the Foundation consists of community members, alumni, and other supporters of the Foundation. Although the District does not control the timing or amount of receipts from the Foundation, the majority of resources, or income thereon, that the Foundation holds and invests are restricted to the activities of the District by the donors. Because these restricted resources held by the Foundation can only be used by, or for the benefit of, the District, the Foundation is considered a component unit of the District. The Foundation is reported in separate financial statements because of the difference in its reporting model, as further described below.

The Foundation is a not-for-profit organization under Internal Revenue Code (IRS) Section 501(c)(3) that reports its financial results under Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statements. Most significant to the Foundation's operations and reporting model are FASB Statement No. 116, Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made, and FASB Statement No. 117, Financial Reporting for Not-For-Profit Organizations. As such, certain revenue recognition criteria and presentation features are different from GASB revenue recognition criteria and presentation features. No modifications have been made to the Foundation's financial information in the District's financial reporting entity for these differences; however, significant note disclosures to the Foundation's financial statements have been incorporated into the District's notes to the financial statements.

Financial statements for the Foundation can be obtained from the Foundation's Business Office at 9900 Coily Street, Coalinga, CA 93210.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Measurement Focus, Basis of Accounting, and Financial Statement Presentation

For financial reporting purposes, the District is considered a special-purpose government engaged only in business-type activities as defined by GASB Statements No. 34 and No. 35 as amended by GASB Statements No. 37, No. 38, and No. 39. This presentation provides a comprehensive entity-wide perspective of the District's assets, liabilities, activities, and cash flows and replaces the fund group perspective previously required. Accordingly, the District's financial statements have been presented using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting. Under the accrual basis, revenues are recognized when earned, and expenses are recorded when an obligation has been incurred. All material intra-agency and intra-fund transactions have been eliminated.

Revenues resulting from exchange transactions, in which each party gives and receives essentially equal value, are classified as operating revenues. These transactions are recorded on the accrual basis when the exchange takes place. Available means that the resources will be collected within the current fiscal year or are expected to be collected soon enough thereafter to be used to pay liabilities of the current fiscal year.

Nonexchange transactions, in which the District receives value without directly giving equal value in return, include State apportionments, property taxes, certain grants, entitlements, and donations are classified as nonoperating revenue. Federal and State grants received to provide direct grants to students are classified as nonoperating revenues because the District does not generally receive any direct benefit from the grants and are recognized in the fiscal year in which all eligibility requirements are satisfied. Eligibility requirements may include time and/or purpose requirements. Property tax revenue is recognized in the fiscal year received. State apportionment revenue is earned based upon criteria set forth from the Community Colleges System's Office and includes reporting of full-time equivalent student (FTES) attendance. The corresponding apportionment revenue is recognized in the period the FTES are generated.

Operating expenses are costs incurred to provide instructional services including support costs, auxiliary services, and depreciation of capital assets. All other expenses not meeting this definition are reported as nonoperating. Expenses are recorded on the accrual basis as they are incurred, when goods are received, or services are rendered.

The accounting policies of the District conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP) as applicable to colleges and universities, as well as those prescribed by the Community Colleges System's Office. The District reports are based on all applicable GASB pronouncements, as well as applicable FASB pronouncements issued on or before November 30, 1989, unless those pronouncements conflict or contradict GASB pronouncements. The District has not elected apply FASB pronouncements after that date. When applicable, certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation. The budgetary and financial accounts of the District are maintained in accordance with the Community Colleges System's Office's Budget and Accounting Manual.

The financial statements are presented in accordance with the reporting model as prescribed in GASB Statement No. 34, Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussions and Analysis for State and Local Governments, and GASB Statement No. 35, Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussions and Analysis for Public Colleges and Universities, as amended by GASB Statements No. 37 and No. 38. The business-type activities model followed by the District requires the following components of the District's financial statements:

- Management's Discussion and Analysis
- Basic Financial Statements for the District as a whole including:
 - Statement of Net Assets
 - Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets
 - Statement of Cash Flows
- Notes to the Financial Statements

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The District's cash and cash equivalents are considered to be unrestricted cash on hand, demand deposits, and short-term unrestricted investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition. Cash equivalents also include unrestricted cash with county treasury balances for purposes of the statement of cash flows. Restricted cash and cash equivalents represented balances restricted by external sources such as grants and contracts or specifically restricted for the repayment of capital debt.

Investments

Investments held at June 30, 2009 and 2008, with original maturities greater than one year are stated at fair value. Fair value is estimated based on quoted market prices at year-end. All investments not required to be reported at fair value are stated at cost or amortized cost. Fair values of investments in county and State investment pools are determined by the program sponsor.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable include amounts due from the Federal, State and/or local governments, or private sources, in connection with reimbursement of allowable expenditures made pursuant to the District's grants and contracts. Accounts receivable also consist of tuition and fee charges to students and auxiliary enterprise services provided to students, faculty, and staff, the majority of each residing in the State of California. The District provides for an allowance for uncollectible accounts as an estimation of amounts that may not be received. This allowance is based upon management's estimates and analysis.

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenditures (expenses) represent amounts paid in advance of receiving goods or services. The District has the option of reporting an expenditure in governmental funds for prepaid items either when purchased or during the benefiting period. The District has chosen to report the expenditures when incurred.

Capital Assets and Depreciation

Capital assets are long-lived assets of the District as a whole and include land, construction-in-progress, buildings, leasehold improvements, and equipment. The District maintains an initial unit cost capitalization threshold of $5,000. Assets are recorded at historical cost, or estimated historical cost, when purchased or constructed. The District does not possess any infrastructure. Donated capital assets are recorded at estimated fair market value at the date of donation. Improvements to buildings and land that significantly increase the value or extend the useful life of the asset are capitalized; the costs of normal maintenance and repairs that do not add to the value of the asset or materially extend an asset's life are not. Major outlays for capital improvements are capitalized as construction-in-progress as the projects are constructed.

Depreciation of capital assets is computed and recorded by the straight-line method. Estimated useful lives of the various classes of depreciable capital assets are as follows: buildings, 25 to 50 years; improvements, 25 to 50 years; equipment, 5 to 10 years; vehicles, 5 to 10 years.

Accrued Liabilities and Long-Term Obligations

All payables, accrued liabilities, and long-term obligations are reported in the entity-wide financial statements.

Compensated Absences

Accumulated unpaid employee vacation benefits are accrued as a liability as the benefits are earned. The entire compensated absence liability is reported on the entity-wide financial statements. The amounts have been recorded in the fund from which the employees, who have accumulated the leave, are paid. The District also participates in "load-banking" with eligible academic employees whereby the employee may teach extra courses in one period in exchange for time off in another period.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2009

Sick leave is accumulated without limit for each employee based upon negotiated contracts. Leave with pay is provided when employees are absent for health reasons; however, the employees do not gain a vested right to accumulated sick leave. Employees are never paid for any sick leave balance at termination of employment or any other time. Therefore, the value of accumulated sick leave is not recognized as a liability in the District's financial statements. Credit for unused sick leave is applicable to all certificated employees and is determined by dividing the number of unused sick days by the number of base service days required to complete the last school year, if employed full time. Sick leave is accumulated as follows:

Administrative/Classified Management/Confidential Staff

- Entitled to twenty-one (21) days of sick leave per year to be posted at the rate of 1.75 days per month.

Certificated

- Members shall accrue twenty (20) days of sick leave with pay for each school year, such leave to be made available on the first day of each school year.

Classified

- Members shall accrue, on a monthly basis, twenty-one (21) days of sick leave with pay for each school year. The amount of days posted will be 1.75 days, or fourteen (14) hours per month for full-time employees and shall be prorated for part-time employees.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue arises when potential revenue does not meet both the "measurable" and "available" criteria for recognition in the current period or when resources are received by the District prior to the incurrence of qualifying expenditures. In subsequent periods, when both revenue recognition criteria are met, or when the District has a legal claim to the resources, the liability for deferred revenue is removed from the combined balance sheet and revenue is recognized. Deferred revenues include (1) amounts received for tuition and fees prior to the end of the fiscal year that are related to the subsequent fiscal year and (2) amounts received from Federal and State grants received before the eligibility requirements are met are recorded as deferred revenue.

Net Assets

GASB Statements No. 34 and No. 35 report equity as "Net Assets." Net assets are classified according to imposed restrictions or availability of assets for satisfaction of District obligations according to the following net asset categories:

Invested in Capital Assets, Net of Related Debt: Capital Assets, net of accumulated depreciation and outstanding principal balances of debt attributable to the acquisition, construction, or improvement of those assets.

Restricted - Expendable: Net assets whose use by the District is subject to externally imposed constraints that can be fulfilled by actions of the District pursuant to those constraints or by the passage of time. Net assets may be restricted for capital projects, debt repayment, and/or educational programs.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2009

Unrestricted: Net assets that are not subject to externally imposed constraints. Unrestricted net assets may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Trustees or may otherwise be limited by contractual agreements with outside parties. Substantially all unrestricted net assets are designated for economic uncertainties.

When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, it is the District's practice to use restricted resources first and the unrestricted resources when they are needed.

State Apportionments

Certain current year apportionments from the State are based on financial and statistical information of the previous year. Any corrections due to the recalculation of the apportionment are made in February of the subsequent year. When known and measurable, these recalculations and corrections are accrued in the year in which the FTES are generated.

On-Behalf Payments

GASB Statement No. 24 requires direct on-behalf payments for fringe benefits and salaries made by one entity to a third party recipient for the employees for another legally separate entity be recognized as revenues and expenditures by the employer entity. The State of California makes direct on-behalf payments to the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS) and the California Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS) on behalf of all community colleges in California. The amounts of on-behalf payments were $593,687 for CalSTRS. No on behalf contributions were made to CalPERS.

Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Property Taxes

Secured property taxes attach as an enforceable lien on property as of January 1. The County Assessor is responsible for assessment of all taxable real property. Taxes are payable in two installments on November 1 and February 1 and become delinquent on December 10 and April 10, respectively. Unsecured property taxes are payable in one installment on or before August 31. Various counties bill and collect taxes on behalf of the District. Local property tax revenues are recorded when received.

The voters of the District passed various General Obligation Bonds for the acquisition, construction, and remodeling of District capital assets. As a result of the passage of the Bond, property taxes are assessed on the property within the District specifically for the repayment of the debt incurred. The taxes are billed and collected as noted above and remitted to the District when collected.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

Scholarship Discounts and Allowances

Student tuition and fee revenue is reported net of scholarship discounts and allowances in the Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Changes in Net Assets. Scholarship discounts and allowances represent the difference between stated charges for enrollment fees and the amount that is paid by students or third parties making payments on the students' behalf. To the extent that fee waivers and discounts have been used to satisfy tuition and fee charges, the District has recorded a scholarship discount and allowance.

Federal Financial Assistance Programs

The District participates in federally funded Pell Grants, SEOG Grants, Federal Work-Study, and Stafford Loan programs, as well as other programs funded by the Federal government. Financial aid to students is either reported as operating expenses or scholarship allowances, which reduce revenues. The amount reported as operating expense represents the portion of aid that was provided to the student in the form of cash. These programs are audited in accordance with the Single Audit Act Amendments of 1996, and the U.S. Office of Management and Budget's revised Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments and Non-Profit Organizations, and the related Compliance Supplement.

Interfund Activity

Interfund transfers and interfund receivables and payables are eliminated during the consolidation process in the entity-wide financial statements.

Reclassification

Certain reclassifications were made to prior years' presentations to conform to current year presentation.

Foundation Presentation

The West Hills Community College District Foundation presents its financial statements in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations. Under SFAS No. 117, the Foundation is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets. As permitted by the statement, the Foundation does not use fund accounting.

Permanently Restricted Net Assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the Foundation. Generally, the donors of these assets permit the Foundation to use all or part of the income earned on related investments for general or specific purposes.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that will be met by actions of the Foundation and/or the passage of time.

Unrestricted Net Assets - Net assets not subject to donor-imposed restrictions.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

Revenues and expenses are recorded when incurred in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are reported as increases in the unrestricted net assets classification unless use of the related assets is limited by donor-imposed restrictions. Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenue in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized as revenue until the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions for in-kind gifts from outside sources are recorded at their fair market value on the date of the donation.

Expenses are reported as decreases in unrestricted net assets. Gains and losses on investments and other assets or liabilities are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is restricted by explicit donor stipulation or by law.

Investments are reported at fair value in accordance with SFAS No. 157.

The Foundation is a not-for-profit organization that is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and related California Franchise Tax Codes.

Changes in Accounting Principles

In July 2004, the GASB issued Statement No. 45, Accounting and Financial Reporting by Employers for Postemployment Benefits Other than Pensions. This Statement requires local governmental employers who provide other postemployment benefits (OPEB) as part of the total compensation offered to employees to recognize the expense and related liabilities (assets) in the entity-wide financial statements of net assets and activities. This Statement established standards for the measurement, recognition, and display of OPEB expense/expenditures and related liabilities (assets), note disclosures, and, if applicable, required supplementary information (RSI) in the financial reports of State and local government employers.

This Statement provided for prospective implementation – that is that employers set the beginning OPEB obligation at zero as of the beginning of the initial year. The District has implemented the provision of the Statement for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2009. The District had an annual required contribution of $417,554 for the year June 30, 2009. The District contributed 100 percent of the required "pay as you go" portion of $109,133 and has also contributed funds with a value as of June 30, 2009, totaling $400,000 towards the future obligations of the District. The net amount of the Trust's investment returns/losses and the cumulative balance of the ARC has left a Net Plan Asset totaling $863,351 as of June 30, 2009.

In July 2004, GASB issued Statement No. 43, Financial Reporting for Postemployment Benefit Plans Other than Pension Plans. The standards in the Statement apply for OPEB trust funds included in the financial reports of plan sponsors or employers, as well as the stand-alone financial reports of OPEB plans or the public employee retirement systems, or other third parties, that administer them. This Statement also provides requirements for reporting of OPEB funds by administrators of multiple-employer OPEB plans when the fund used to accumulate assets and pay benefits or premiums when due is not a trust fund. The District has implemented the provisions of this Statement for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2009.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In March 2009, the GASB issued Statement No. 54, Fund Balance Reporting and Governmental Fund Type Classifications. The objectives of this Statement is to enhance the usefulness of fund balance information by providing clearer fund balance classifications that can be more consistently applied and by clarifying the existing governmental fund type definitions. This Statement establishes fund balance classifications that comprise a hierarchy based primarily on the extent to which a government is bound to observe constraints imposed upon the use of the resources reported in governmental funds. The requirements of this Statement are effective for the financial statements for periods beginning after June 15, 2010. The District does not anticipate a significant impact in reporting as a result of this Statement as fund financial information is not reported.

In April 2009, the GASB issued GASB Statement No. 55, The Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles for State and Local Governments. The objective of this Statement is to incorporate the hierarchy of generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) for State and local governments into the GASB authoritative literature. The "GAAP hierarchy" consists of the sources of accounting principles used in the preparation of financial statements for State and local governmental entities that are presented in conformity with GAAP and the framework for selecting those principles. GASB Statement No. 55 is effective immediately.

In April 2009, the GASB issued GASB Statement No. 56, Codification of Accounting and Financial Reporting Guidance Contained in the AICPA Statement on Auditing Standards. The objective of this Statement is to incorporate into the GASB's authoritative literature certain accounting and financial reporting guidance presented in the AICPA's Statements on Auditing Standards. This Statement addresses three issues not included in the authoritative literature that establishes accounting principles: related party transactions, going concern considerations, and subsequent events. The presentation of principles used in the preparation of financial statements is more appropriately included in accounting and financial reporting standards rather than auditing literature. GASB Statement No. 56 is effective immediately.

Comparative Financial Information

Comparative financial information for the prior year has been presented for additional analysis; certain amounts presented in the prior year data may have been reclassified in order to be consistent with the current year's presentation.

NOTE 3 - DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

Policies and Practices

The District is authorized under California Government Code to make direct investments in local agency bonds, notes, or warrants within the State; U.S. Treasury instruments; registered State warrants or treasury notes; securities of the U.S. Government, or its agencies; bankers acceptances; commercial paper; certificates of deposit placed with commercial banks and/or savings and loan companies; repurchase or reverse repurchase agreements; medium term corporate notes; shares of beneficial interest issued by diversified management companies; certificates of participation, obligations with first priority security; and collateralized mortgage obligations.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

Investment in County Treasury - The District is considered to be an involuntary participant in an external investment pool as the District is required to deposit all receipts and collections of monies with their County Treasurer (Education Code Section 41001). The fair value of the District's investment in the pool is reported in the accounting financial statements at amounts based upon the District's pro-rata share of the fair value provided by the County Treasurer for the entire portfolio (in relation to the amortized cost of that portfolio). The balance available for withdrawal is based on the accounting records maintained by the County Treasurer, which is recorded on the amortized cost basis.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in market interest rates will adversely affect the fair value of an investment. Generally, the longer the maturity of an investment, the greater the sensitivity of its fair value to changes in market interest rates. The District manages its exposure to interest rate risk by investing in the County Pool and having the Pool purchase a combination of shorter term and longer term investments and by timing cash flows from maturities so that a portion of the portfolio is maturing or coming close to maturity evenly over time as necessary to provide the cash flow and liquidity needed for operations.

Segmented Time Distribution

Information about the sensitivity of the fair values of the District's investments to market interest rate fluctuations as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, are provided by the following schedules that show the distribution of the District's investments by maturity:

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that an issuer of an investment will not fulfill its obligation to the holder of the investment. This is measured by the assignment of a rating by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. Presented below is the minimum rating required by the California Government Code, the District's investment policy, or debt agreements, and the actual rating as of the year-end for each investment type.

N/A - Not applicable

Concentration of Credit Risk

The investment policy of the District contains no limitations on the amount that can be invested in any one issuer beyond the stipulated by the California Government code. Investments in any one issuer that represent five percent or more of the total investments are as follows:

June 30, 2009

Issuer	Investment Type	Reported Amount
Morgan Stanley	Certificates of Deposit and Corporate Fixed Rate Notes	$ 12,039,218
Educational Employees Credit Union	Certificates of Deposit	8,299,981

Merrill Lynch	Treasury Obligations, and Certificates of Deposit	10,443,578
Total		$ 53,147,974

Custodial Credit Risk - Deposits

This is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the District's deposits may not be returned to it. The District does not have a policy for custodial credit risk. As of June 30, 2009 and 2008, the District's bank balance of $1,712,781 and $2,519,970, respectively, was exposed to custodial credit risk because it was uninsured and collateralized with securities held by the pledging financial institution's trust department or agent, but not in the name of the District.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2009

Custodial Credit Risk - Investments

This is the risk that, in the event of the failure of the counterparty, the District will not be able to recover the value of its investments or collateral securities that are in possession of an outside party. For June 30, 2009, of the investment in mutual funds, corporate notes, and certificates of deposit of $31,764,524, the District has a custodial credit risk because the related securities are uninsured, unregistered, and held by the brokerage firm which is also the counterparty for these securities. For June 30, 2008, of the investment in mutual funds, corporate notes, and Investment Contracts of $48,076,543, the District has a custodial credit risk exposure because the related securities are uninsured, unregistered, and held by the brokerage firm which is also the counterparty for these securities. The District does not have a policy limiting the amount of securities that can be held by counterparties.

NOTE 4 - ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLES

Receivables at June 30, 2009 and 2008, consisted of intergovernmental grants, entitlements, interest, and other local sources.

Description of Debt

Payments on the Certificates of Participation are paid by the COP Debt Service Fund. Payments on the general obligation bonds are made by the bond interest and redemption fund with local property tax revenues. The accrued vacation will be paid by the fund for which the employee worked. The Day Care Center loans are paid by the Child Development Fund and the capital leases are paid by the General and Special Revenue Fund.

Bonded Debt

On March 3, 1999, the District issued $4,000,000 in general obligation bonds, Series A. Interest on the $4,000,000 bonds issued March 3, 1999, accrues from March 3, 1999, and is payable semi-annually on February 1 and August 1 of each year commencing February 1, 2000. The bonds have maturities beginning February 1, 2000 through August 1, 2029, and have yields ranging from 3.0 percent to 5.048 percent.

On January 26, 2000, the District issued $15,000,000 in general obligation bonds, Series B. Interest on the $15,000,000 bonds is payable semi-annually, on February 1 and August 1 of each year, commencing February 1, 2001. The bonds have maturities beginning February 1, 2001 through August 1, 2030, and have yields ranging from 4.2 percent to 6.0 percent.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

The bonds, Series A and B, were issued to finance the construction of a new campus and for the alterations and additions to existing classrooms and other school facilities.

The District is empowered and obligated to cause to be levied ad valorem taxes, for the payment of interest on, and principal and accreted value of the Series A and B bonds, upon all property subject to taxation by the District (except certain personal property which is taxable at limited rates) without limitation of rate or amount.

NOTE 1) - POSTEMPLOYMENT HEALTH CARE PLAN AND OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFIT (OPEB) OBLIGATION

The District provides postemployment health care benefits for retired employees in accordance with negotiated contracts with the various bargaining units of the District.

Plan Description

The Plan (the Plan) is a single-employer defined benefit healthcare plan administered by West Hills Community College District. The Plan provides medical and dental insurance benefits to eligible retirees and their spouses. Membership of the Plan consists of 31 retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits and 309 active plan members.

Funding Policy

The contribution requirements of plan members and the District are established and may be amended by the District and the District's bargaining units. The required contribution is based on projected pay-as-you-go financing requirements with an additional amount to prefund benefits as determined annually through agreements between the District and the bargaining units. For fiscal year 2008-2009, the District contributed 100 percent of the required "pay as you go" portion of $109,133 and has also contributed funds with a value as of June 30, 2009, totaling $400,000 towards the future obligations of the District. The annual required contribution (ARC) for the District as of July 1, 2008, was $417,554. The net amount of the Trust's investment returns/losses and the cumulative balance of the ARC has left a Net Plan Asset totaling $863,351 as of June 30, 2009.

Annual OPEB Cost and Net OPEB Obligation

The District's annual OPEB cost (expense) is calculated based on the annual required contribution of the employer (ARC), an amount actuarially determined in accordance with the payments of GASB Statement No. 45. The ARC represents a level of funding that, if paid on an ongoing basis, is projected to cover normal cost each year and amortize any unfunded actuarial accrued liabilities (UAAL) (or funding costs) over a period not to exceed 30 years. The following table shows the components of the District's annual OPEB cost for the year, the amount actually contributed to the Plan, and changes in the District's net OPEB obligation to the Plan:

Funding Status and Funding Progress

Actuarial valuation of an ongoing plan involves estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of occurrence of events far into the future. Examples include assumptions about future employment, mortality, and the healthcare cost trend. Amounts determined regarding the funded status of the Plan and the annual required contribution of the employer are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared with past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information, follows the notes to the financial statements and presents multi-year trend information about whether the actuarial value of Plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liabilities for benefits. Since this is the first year of implementation, only the current year information is presented.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions

Projections of benefits for financial reporting purposes are based on the substantive Plan (the Plan as understood by the employer and the Plan members) and include the types of benefits provided at the time of each valuation and the historical pattern of sharing of benefit costs between the employer and the Plan members to that point. The actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce the effects of short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial values of assets, consistent with the long-term perspective of the calculations.

In the January 13, 2009, actuarial valuation, the entry age normal method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 7.1 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses), based on the Plan being funded in an irrevocable employee benefit trust fund invested in a long-term fixed income portfolio. Healthcare cost trend rates was 4.0 percent. The cost trend rate used for the Dental and Vision Programs was 4.0 percent. The UAAL is being amortized at a level dollar method. The remaining amortization period at January 13, 2009, was 30 years. The actuarial value of assets was not determined in this actuarial valuation.

NOTE 12 - RISK MANAGEMENT

Joint Powers Authority Risk Pools

During fiscal year ending June 30, 2009, the District contracted with the Valley Insurance Program Joint Powers Authority for property and liability insurance coverage. Settled claims have not exceeded this commercial coverage in any of the past three years. There has not been a significant reduction in coverage from the prior year.

Workers' Compensation

For fiscal year 2009, the District participated in the Valley Insurance Program Joint Powers Authority (JPA), an insurance purchasing pool. The intent of the JPA is to achieve the benefit of a reduced premium for the District by virtue of its grouping and representation with other participants in the JPA. The workers' compensation experience of the participating districts is calculated as one experience, and a common premium rate is applied to all districts in the JPA. Each participant pays its workers' compensation premium based on its individual rate. Total savings are then calculated and each participant's individual performance is compared to the overall saving. A participant will then either receive money from or be required to contribute to the "equity-pooling fund." This "equity pooling" arrangement insures that each participant shares equally in the overall performance of the JPA. Participation in the JPA is limited to community college districts that can meet the JPA's selection criteria.

NOTE 13 - EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT SYSTEMS

Qualified employees are covered under multiple-employer retirement plans maintained by agencies of the State of California. Certificated employees are members of the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS) and classified employees are members of the California Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS).

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

CalSTRS

Plan Description

The District contributes to CalSTRS, a cost-sharing multiple-employer public employee retirement system defined benefit pension plan administered by CalSTRS. The plan provides retirement and disability benefits, annual cost-of-living adjustments, and survivor benefits to beneficiaries. Benefit provisions are established by State statutes, as legislatively amended, within the State Teachers' Retirement Law. CalSTRS issues a separate comprehensive annual financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information. Copies of the CalSTRS annual financial report may be obtained from CalSTRS, 7919 Folsom Blvd., Sacramento, CA 95826.

Funding Policy

Active members are required to contribute 8.0 percent of their salary while the District is required to contribute an actuarially determined rate. The actuarial methods and assumptions used for determining the rate are those adopted by the CalSTRS Teachers' Retirement Board. The required employer contribution rate for fiscal year 2008-2009 was 8.25 percent of annual payroll. The contribution requirements of the plan members are established by State statute. The District's total contributions to CalSTRS for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007, were $1,084,330, $1,023,632, and $897,305, respectively, and equal 100 percent of the required contributions for each year.

CalPERS

Plan Description

The District contributes to the School Employer Pool under CalPERS a cost-sharing multiple-employer public employee retirement system defined benefit pension plan administered by CalPERS. The plan provides retirement and disability benefits, annual cost-of-living adjustments, and survivor benefits to plan members and beneficiaries. Benefit provisions are established by State statutes, as legislatively amended, within the Public Employees' Retirement Laws. CalPERS issues a separate comprehensive annual financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information. Copies of the CalPERS' annual financial report may be obtained from the CalPERS Executive Office, 400 P Street, Sacramento, CA 95811.

Funding Policy

Active plan members are required to contribute seven percent of their salary and the District is required to contribute an actuarially determined rate. The actuarial methods and assumptions used for determining the rate are those adopted by the CalPERS Board of Administration. The District's contribution rate to CalPERS for fiscal year 2008-2009 was 9.428 percent of covered payroll. The District's contributions to CalPERS for fiscal years ending June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007, were $1,132,472, $978,464, and $794,268, respectively, and equaled 100 percent of the required contributions for each year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

On-Behalf Payments

The State of California makes contributions to CalSTRS on behalf of the District. These payments consist of State General Fund contributions to CalSTRS which amounted to $593,687, $560,454, and $491,288 for the years ending June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007, respectively, (4.517 percent) of salaries subject to CalSTRS. These amounts have been reflected in the basic financial statements as a component of nonoperating revenue and employee benefit expense.

APPLE

Plan Description

The District contributes to the APPLE plan for employees not covered under CalPERS or CalSTRS plans. The plan provides benefits in a lump sum distribution of the employees' vested balance as of their retirement date.

Funding Policy

Active plan members and the District are each required to contribute 3.75 percent of an individual's salary to the plan, for a total of 7.5 percent of an individual's salary. Individuals enrolled in the plan are 100 percent vested in the contributions made to it. The District's contribution to the plan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2009, was $94,990.

NOTE 14 - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Grants

The District receives financial assistance from Federal and State agencies in the form of grants. The disbursement of funds received under these programs generally requires compliance with terms and conditions specified in the grant agreements and are subject to audit by the grantor agencies. Any disallowed claims resulting from such audits could become a liability of the District. However, in the opinion of management, any such disallowed claims will not have a material adverse effect on the overall financial position of the District at June 30, 2009.

Litigation

The District is involved in various litigation arising from the normal course of business. In the opinion of management and legal counsel, the disposition of all litigation pending is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the overall financial position of the District at June 30, 2009.

Operating Leases

The District has entered into a ten-year operating lease for a building in the City of Firebaugh for education and related purposes. The District is obligated to pay $41,174 per year for a ten-year period or a total of $411,740. After the ten-year period, the lease would then be renewable on a yearly basis. If the agreement is terminated prior to the ten-year term, then the rent is prorated to the date of termination.

NOTE 15 - PARTICIPATION IN PUBLIC ENTITY RISK POOLS AND JOINT POWERS AUTHORITIES

The District is a member of the Central Valley Schools Health and Welfare Trusts (CVSHWT), the Self Insured Schools of California (SISC), and the Valley Insurance Program (VIP) Joint Powers Authorities (JPAs). The District pays annual premiums for its property liability, health, and worker's compensation coverage. The relationship between the District and the JPAs is such that it is not a component unit of the District for financial reporting purposes.

The JPAs have budgeting and financial reporting requirements independent of member units and their financial statements are not presented in these financial statements; however, transactions between the JPAs and the District are included in these statements. Audited financial statements are available from the respective entities.

The District's share of year-end assets, liabilities, or fund equity has not been calculated.

During the year ended June 30, 2009, the District made payments of $1,232,212, $2,923,159, and $719,612 to CVSHWT, SISC, and VIP, respectively for health, worker's compensation, and property liability coverage.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

NOTE 16 - TAX AND REVENUE ANTICIPATION NOTES

At July 1, 2008, the District had outstanding Tax and Revenue Anticipation Notes in the amount of $2,275,000, which matured on July 6, 2008. On July 6, 2008, the District issued $1,100,000 Tax and Revenue Anticipation Notes bearing interest at 1.65 percent. The notes were issued to supplement cash flows. Interest and principal were due and payable on July 6, 2009. By June 30, 2009, the District had placed 100 percent of principal and interest in an irrevocable trust for the sole purpose of satisfying the notes. The District was not required to make any additional payments on the notes. As the District has in substance defeased the debt, the tax anticipation notes of $1,100,000 and related accrued interest and cash held in trust are not included in these financial statements.

NOTES TO SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION JUNE 30, 2009

NOTE 1 - PURPOSE OF SCHEDULES

District Organization

This schedule provides information about the District's governing board members and administration members.

Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards

The accompanying schedule of expenditures of Federal awards includes the Federal grant activity of the District and is presented on the modified accrual basis of accounting. The information in this schedule is presented in accordance with the requirements of the United States Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Therefore, some amounts presented in this schedule may differ from amounts presented in, or used in the preparation of, the financial statements.

Schedule of Expenditures of State Awards

The accompanying schedule of expenditures of State awards includes the State grant activity of the District and is presented on the modified accrual basis of accounting. Therefore, some amounts presented in this schedule may differ from amounts presented in, or used in the preparation of, the financial statements. The information in this schedule is presented to comply with reporting requirements of the California State System's Office.

Schedule of Workload Measures for State General Apportionment - Annual (Actual) Attendance

Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) is a measurement of the number of pupils attending classes of the District. The purpose of attendance accounting from a fiscal standpoint is to provide the basis on which apportionments of State funds, including restricted categorical funding, are made to community college districts. This schedule provides information regarding the annual attendance measurements of students throughout the District.

Reconciliation of Annual Financial and Budget Report (CCFS-311) with Fund Financial Statements

This schedule provides the information necessary to reconcile the fund balance of all funds reported on the Form CCFS-311 to the District's internal fund financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORTS

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH *GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

We have audited the financial statements of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District (the District) for the years ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, and have issued our report thereon dated February 9, 2010. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audits, we considered West Hills Community College District's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinions on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of West Hills Community College District's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of West Hills Community College District's internal control over financial reporting.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the District's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the District's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether West Hills Community College District's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audits and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

We noted certain matters that we reported to management of West Hills Community College District in a separate letter dated February 9, 2010.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Trustees, District Management, the California Community Colleges System's Office, and the District's Federal and State awarding agencies and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER
COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of West Hills Community College District (the District) with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major Federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2009. West Hills Community College District's major Federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major Federal programs is the responsibility of West Hills Community College District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on West Hills Community College District's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, West Hills Community College District complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major Federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2009.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of West Hills Community College District is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to Federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered West Hills Community College District's internal control over compliance with the requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of West Hills Community College District's internal control over compliance.

A control deficiency in a district's internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the District's ability to administer a Federal program such that there is more than a remote likelihood that noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Trustees, District Management, the California Community Colleges System's Office, and the District's Federal and State awarding agencies and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

REPORT ON STATE COMPLIANCE

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

We have audited the compliance of West Hills Community College District (the District) with the types of compliance requirements described in Section 400 of the California State System's Office's California Community College District Audit Manual (CDAM) that are applicable to community colleges in the State of California. The specific requirements are described below.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards for financial and compliance audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States of America and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements with State laws and regulations have occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements.

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of West Hills Community College District for the year ended June 30, 2009, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

However, during our audit we noted matters that are opportunities for strengthening internal controls and operating efficiency. The following items represent conditions noted by our audit that we consider important enough to bring to your attention. This letter does not affect our report dated February 9, 2010, on the financial statements of West Hills Community College District.

DISTRICT OFFICE

Cash Receipts

Finding

During our testing of the Cash Receipts procedures for the District's Combination Cash Account, we noted that not all checks are receipted or logged right away. Hand carried checks do not get receipted or logged right away; therefore, we were unable to reconcile the selected deposits back to the log.

Recommendation

In order to improve controls over monies received at the District Office, all monies should be logged or receipted immediately. In addition, this log should be used as a tool to ensure that all funds received have been deposited.

Finding

During our testing of the District's bank reconciliations we noted that there is no evidence of independent review. Specifically, we noted that the review was missing for the Payroll Clearing, Falcon Express, Flex America, and Perkins accounts.

Recommendation

The reviewer of the bank reconciliations should sign off on all bank reconciliations as evidence that the review has been performed.

Revolving Cash

Finding

During our testing of the Revolving fund we noted that the imprest reconciliation is performed, however, a hard copy is not kept on file. The District's Revolving fund is included in the Local Combined Cash bank account with an imprest balance of $50,000.

Recommendation

The District should prepare and keep the imprest balance account reconciliation on file. When the Local Combined Cash Account is cleared, if the revolving fund needs to be reimbursed the District does not clear out the full amount to the county treasury, some funds are left to 'reimburse' the revolving fund. A reconciliation of the imprest balance should be prepared each time the District performs the clearing of the account; thus ensuring that all checks written from the account have been reimbursed and expensed appropriately in the District's funds.

District Fees Account

Finding

During our testing of the District Fees account we noted that the checks out of this account clear with only one signature.

Recommendation

To properly safeguard cash, two approval signatures should be required on all checks issued.

FARM

Cash Disbursements

Finding

We noted that three out of ten purchase orders were dated after the date on the invoice. This would indicate that items are being purchased prior to their approval.

Recommendation

The site should review the cash disbursement procedures outlined in the District's purchasing policy. In order to provide proper controls over spending, the site should take the necessary steps to ensure that expenditures are approved through the purchasing process prior to the item being purchased.

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

Revenue Potentials

Finding

Revenue potential forms are not used to document and control fundraising activities as they occur. These forms supply an element of internal control without which it is difficult to determine the success of a fundraiser and to track money as it is spent and received.

Recommendation

As the revenue potential form is a vital internal control tool, it should be used to document revenues, expenditures, potential revenue and actual revenue. This allows an analysis of the fundraiser to be conducted, indicating to the staff the success or failure of the completed project. The revenue potential also indicates weak control areas in the fundraising procedures at the site, including lost or stolen merchandise, problems with collecting all moneys due and so forth. The revenue potential form used at the site should contain four major elements. These are:

- Potential Income-This lists the selling price of the item multiplied by the number of items purchased to compute the total income that should be deposited from this fundraiser if all the items were sold and all the money was turned in. This element should also be utilized to track the cost of the items, check numbers used to purchase the items, and the purchase dates. This purchasing information is a good reference source for future sales and also tracks to cost so that profits can be determined.
- Receipts/Fundraiser Deposits-This records all deposits turned in which are from funds generated from the sale. The receipt number issued to the advisor, date, and deposit amount should be logged. This is necessary to be able to recap the deposits of the sale and to trace these deposits to the appropriate accounts at the end of the sale to the appropriate accounts to ensure that all postings were correct.
- Analysis-This section is used to compare the potential income as calculated in the potential income section to the actual funds raised as calculated in the Receipts/Fundraiser Deposits section. The difference between these two amounts should be documented explained. The explanation can consist of merchandise not sold, merchandise lost or destroyed, or funds lost or stolen.
- Recap-This section figures the net profit of the sale. Further fundraisers of this type can be planned or canceled depending on the information calculated in this section.

Cash Receipts

Finding

While testing the cash receipts system, we discovered that cashiers are not using pre-numbered receipts to document when money is being turned in, how much money, and by which students. Without this supporting documentation we cannot determine the deposit's intactness or if the cashiers are forwarding money to the ASB bookkeeper in a timely manner. Since there are no receipts attached to the monies turned in, the bookkeeper cannot reconcile the money back to any documentation to determine the accuracy of the cash count sheet and the actual money turned in.

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
February 9, 2010

Recommendation

Pre-numbered receipts should be issued for all cash collections by teacher, advisors and the site bookkeeper, which would include a specific description of the source of the funds. A carbon of the receipts issued by the teachers and advisors should be forwarded with the cash to the bookkeeper as documentation that all monies collected have been turned in. The receipts issued to teachers and advisors from the bookkeeper should be totaled and reconciled to the current bank deposit. A system to mark the last receipt which corresponds to a deposit must be started in order to know which receipts are related to the current bank deposit.

We will review the status of the current year comments during our next audit engagement.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES AGREEMENT

This professional services agreement ("Agreement") is made and entered into effect on _____, 2010 by and between the West Hills College Foundation ("Foundation") and _____ ("Professional") with respect to the following recitals:

- A. Government Code Section 53060 authorizes the employment of persons to perform special services as independent contractors;
- B. The public interest, convenience, necessity, and general welfare will be served by this Agreement.

NOW, THEREFORE, Professional and Foundation agree as follows:

1. Professional Services. Professional shall furnish to Foundation the following services:

Professional may determine the method, details, and means of performing the services. The Foundation shall not have the right to, and shall not, control the manner or determine the method by which Professional accomplishes these services.

2. Term. The professional services described in Paragraph 1 shall commence on, , 2010 and end on, , 2010 unless terminated pursuant to Paragraph 6.
3. Payment. In consideration of the services to be rendered by Professional, Foundation agrees to pay Professional the sum of $ _____ per hour for _____ hours for a total of $ _____ payable as follows:
4. Independent Contractor Status. Professional, and any and all agents and employees of Professional, shall perform this Agreement in their independent capacity and not as officers, employees, or agents of the Foundation. Both parties acknowledge that professional is not an employee for state or federal tax purposes. Professional shall retain the right to perform services for others during the term of this Agreement.
5. Indemnity. Professional shall indemnify and hold harmless and agree to defend the Foundation and its trustees, officers, employees and volunteers from and against all claims, damages, losses and expenses including attorney fees arising out of the performance of the work described herein, caused in whole or in part by any negligent act or omission of the professional, any subcontractor, or anyone directly or indirectly employed by any of them or anyone for whose acts of them may be liable, except where caused by the active negligence, sole negligence, or willful misconduct of the Foundation.
6. Termination of Agreement. Foundation may terminate this Agreement at any time for any reason upon written notice to Professional. In the event of early termination, Professional shall be paid for satisfactory work performed to the date of termination. The Foundation may then proceed with the work in any manner the Foundation deems proper.

7. Assignment. This Agreement is personal and shall not be assigned by Professional either in whole or in part. Any such purported assignment shall void this Agreement.
8. Worker's Compensation Insurance. Professional agrees to provide all necessary Worker's Compensation Insurance for Professional's employees, if any, at Professional's own cost and expense.
9. Taxes. Professional agrees that Professional has no entitlement to any future work from the Foundation or to any employment or fringe benefits from the Foundation. Payments to the professional pursuant to this Agreement will be reported to federal and state taxing authorities as required. Foundation will not withhold any money from compensation payable to Professional. In particular, Foundation will not withhold FICA (social security), state or federal unemployment insurance contributions, and/or state or federal income tax, or disability insurance. Professional is independently responsible for the payment of all applicable taxes.
10. Notices. All payments and any notices or communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to be duly given if served personally on the party to whom notice is directed or shall be deemed served forty-eight (48) hours after the same has been deposited in the United States mail, certified or registered, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, and addressed in the case of:

Professional:
Address:
City, State, Zip:

District: West Hills College Foundation

Address: 9800 Cody Street
City, State, Zip: Coalinga, CA 93210

11. No Entitlement. Professional agrees that he or she has no entitlement to any future contracts or work from the Foundation or to any employment or fringe benefits from the Foundation.
12. Board Approval. The parties agree that the effectiveness of this Agreement may be contingent upon approval by the Foundation's Governing Board.
13. Governing Law and Venue. This Agreement and the rights and obligations of the parties shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of California. The parties also agree that in the event of litigation venue shall only lie with the appropriate state court or federal court located in Fresno County.
14. Binding Effect. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and shall be binding upon the Professional and the District and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, or successors.
15. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement shall be held invalid or unenforceable by a court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not invalidate or render unenforceable any other provisions of this Agreement.
16. Amendment. The term of this Agreement shall not be amended in any manner whatsoever except by written agreement signed by the parties.

17. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and understanding between the parties. There are no understandings, agreements, representations, or warranties, expressed or implied, not specified in this Agreement.
18. Licenses. Professional represents that Professional and all agents or employees of professional are properly licensed by the State of California to perform all of the services which Professional has agreed to render pursuant to this Agreement.
19. Compliance with Law. Professional agrees to perform the services contemplated by the Agreement in a professional and a competent manner and in compliance with all state or federal laws or regulations governing the services to be rendered pursuant to this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Agreement has been executed by the parties on the date and year first-above written.

Glossary of Terms

The federal definitions that follow are provided for use as a guide in the identification of fraud, abuse, and other criminal activity. Since the definitions cannot address every possible activity, questions as to whether an activity is reportable under this policy should be referred to your assigned Workforce Investment Division Regional Advisor for clarification and guidance.

Fraud is any deceitful act or omission, or willful device used with the intent to obtain some unjust advantage for one party, or to cause an inconvenience or loss to another party. Types of fraud include embezzlement, forgery, theft, solicitation and receipt of bribes (kickbacks), and falsification of records and claims regarding trainees (e.g., knowingly enrolling ineligible participants). Criminal fraud is a type of larceny and is punishable under both federal and California law as a felony. Civil fraud is subject to tort actions under civil laws.

Misapplication of Funds is defined as any use of funds, assets, or property not authorized or provided for in the grant or contract. This category includes, but is not limited to, nepotism, political patronage, use of participants for political activity, intentional services to ineligible enrollees, conflict of interest, failure to report income derived from federal funds, violation of contract provisions, maintenance of effort violations, and the use of the Workforce Investment Act (WIA) funds for other than WIA purposes.

Gross Mismanagement is defined as actions, or situations arising out of management ineptitude or oversight, which lead to a major violation of contract provisions and/or which severely hamper accomplishment of program goals. These include situations which lead to waste of government resources and put into serious jeopardy future support for a particular project. This category includes, but is not limited to, unauditible records, unsupported costs, highly inaccurate fiscal and/or program reports, payroll discrepancies, payroll deductions not paid to the Internal Revenue Service or the State of California, and the lack of internal control procedures.

Employee/Participant Misconduct should be considered as actions occurring during or outside work hours, that reflect negatively on the program or its purpose, and may include, but are not limited to, conflict of interest involving outside employment, business and professional activities, and the receipt or giving of gifts, fees, entertainment, and favors; misuse of federal property; misuse of official information; and other activities that might adversely affect the confidence of the public regarding the integrity of government.

Standard of Conduct Violations are violations of terms and conditions stipulated in the subgrant agreement. The relevant stipulations in the subgrant agreement are General Assurances, employment of Former State Employees, Conducting Business Involving Relatives, Conducting Business Involving Close Personal Friends and Associates, Avoidance of Conflict of Economic Interest, and Maintenance of Effort.

Administrative Procedure 2510 Participation in Local Decision Making

Reference: *Education Code Section 70902(b)(7); Title 5, Sections 53200 et seq; 51023.5; 51023.7
Accreditation Standard IV.A.2; IV.A.5*

The Board directs the Chancellor to develop operating procedures to facilitate the process of the work of the District Leadership Council (DLC), the College Consultation Council (CCC) at West Hills College Coalinga and the Planning and Governance Council (PGC) at West Hills College Lemoore. The procedures shall recognize the following relationships among the participating groups:

1. The Board – The Board retains all powers implied or granted by the law. The members of the Governing Board, as elected officials, recognize their accountability to the electorate with the District and their responsibility under law to make policy decisions affecting the District.

2. Faculty

a. West Hills College Faculty Association

1. The West Hills College Faculty Association shall be provided opportunities to participate in the formulation and development of District policies and procedures which the Board determines, in consultation with faculty, has or will have a significant effect on faculty.
2. Except in unforeseeable or emergency situations, the Board shall not take action on matters significantly affecting faculty until it has provided faculty an opportunity to participate in the formulation and development of those matters through appropriate structures and procedures as determined by the Board.

b. The Academic Senate

The Academic Senate shall have two (2) representatives on the DLC (the Academic Senate President from each college). However, the Board recognizes that the Academic Senate has a special role with the Board when adopting policies and procedures on academic and professional matters. This relationship provides for the Board of Trustees or their representative to consult collegially and to rely primarily on the advice and judgment of the Academic Senate.

1. The curriculum matters for which the Board shall rely primarily upon the Academic Senate include the following:
 - a. Curriculum development;
 - b. Establishing prerequisites and placement of courses within disciplines;
 - c. Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success;
 - d. Degree and certificate requirements;
 - e. Grading policies.

Administrative Procedure 2510
Participation in Local Decision Making

In keeping with the spirit and intent of the Board and the concept of sharing the governance of the college, the Academic Senate shall provide, as an information item to the DLC, any action taken by the Senate on the above listed curriculum matters. Once reviewed by the DLC, the policy shall be sent to the Chancellor to be placed on the Board's next meeting agenda.

The recommendations of the Academic Senate will normally be accepted. The Board of Trustees may refuse to adopt the recommendations of the Academic Senate on these matters only in exceptional circumstances or for compelling reasons. If a recommendation is not accepted, the Board, through its designee, shall promptly communicate its reasons for rejection of the recommendation in writing to the Academic Senate. The Board shall also provide the Academic Senate the opportunity to respond in writing prior to final action by the Board.

2. In all other academic and professional matters, the DLC shall be the forum where the Academic Senate has mutually agreed to meet with the appropriate administrators and constituent groups, when appropriate, to formulate recommendations, review policy, and provide the mechanism for shared governance.

How? Election of P via CFA/CSEA/AST

The other matters that shall be considered by the DLC are defined as follows:

- a. Educational program development;
- b. Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation processes including self study and annual reports;
- c. Establishing policies for faculty professional development;
- d. Process for program review;
- e. Processes for institutional planning and budget development;
- f. Hiring policies, procedures, and criteria for contract faculty and administration;
- g. District and college governance structures as related to faculty roles;
- h. Other academic and professional matters as mutually agreed upon between the Governing Board and the Academic Senates.

In all non-academic and professional matters, the Board shall retain its traditional authority as prescribed by law.

3. Staff

- a. Staff shall be defined as classified employees who are eligible to be members of the bargaining unit represented by CSEA.
- b. Staff shall be provided opportunities to participate in the formulation and development of District policies and procedures which the Board determines, in consultation with Staff, has or will have a significant effect on Staff.
- c. Except in unforeseeable or emergency situations, the Board shall not take action on matters significantly affecting Staff until it has provided Staff an opportunity to participate in the formulation and development of those matters through appropriate structures and procedures as determined by the Board.

4. Students

- a. Students shall have the opportunity to participate in the formulation and development of District policies which will have a significant effect on students, including the opportunity to participate in jointly developing recommendations to the Board as enumerated in Title V.
- b. Except in unforeseeable or emergency situations, the Board shall not take action on matters significantly affecting students until it has provided students an opportunity to participate in the formulation and development of those matters through appropriate structures and procedures as determined by the Board.
- c. The Board shall give reasonable consideration to any written recommendations or positions developed by students regarding District policies and procedures pertaining to the hiring and evaluation of faculty, administration, and staff.

5. Administration

- a. Administration shall be provided opportunities to participate in the formulation and development of District policies and procedures which the Board determines, in consultation with Administration, has or will have a significant effect on Administration.
- b. Except in unforeseeable or emergency situations, the Board shall not take action on matters significantly affecting Administration until it has provided Administration an opportunity to participate in the formulation and development of those matters through appropriate structures and procedures as determined by the Board.

6. Rights and Responsibilities – Nothing in this policy shall be construed to impinge on the rights and responsibilities of the Governing Board, the Chancellor and administration, or on the rights of faculty, staff, or students, not to detract from any negotiations or negotiated agreement between collective bargaining agents and the Board of Trustees as to how they will consult, collaborate, share, or delegate among themselves the responsibilities that are or may be delegated to the Academic Senate or to staff by this policy.

7. Status of DLC – The DLC shall only have the powers and duties set forth in these policies and procedures or applicable law and regulations. The DLC shall not be a legally constituted entity.

Title 5, Sections 53200 et seq., (Academic Senate); 51023.5 (Staff); 51023.7 (Students)
Accreditation Standard IV.A.2; IV.A.5*

The Board is the ultimate decision-maker in those areas assigned to it by state and federal laws and regulations. In executing that responsibility, the Board is committed to its obligation to ensure that appropriate members of the District participate in developing recommended policies for board action and administrative procedures for the Chancellor's action under which the District is governed and administered.

It is the intent of the Board of Trustees to have a governance process for the District which provides opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to participate in the governance of the college. At the district level, the vehicle which shall be used to carry out the Board's intent is the District Leadership Council (DLC). At the college level, the vehicle which shall be used to carry out the Board's intent is the College Consultation Council (CCC) at West Hills College Coalinga and the Planning and Governance Council (PGC) at West Hills College Lemoore.

The DLC will meet a minimum of six (6) times each academic year. Meetings will be conducted during the summer months only as necessary. The Chancellor's Office is responsible for the meeting schedule. Meeting locations will rotate among the District Office, West Hills College Coalinga and West Hills College Lemoore. The DLC shall consist of the following membership:

- Chancellor
- Vice Chancellor of Business Services
- Director of Human Resources
- Director of District Enrollment Services
- Director of Marketing
- President, West Hills College Coalinga
- President, West Hills College Lemoore
- Academic Senate President, West Hills College Coalinga
- Academic Senate President, West Hills College Lemoore
- CTA Representative
- CSEA Representative
- Student Representatives (as determined by the College Presidents)

The CCC at West Hills College Coalinga shall consist of the following membership:

- College President
- Academic Senate President or designee
- Chair or Co-Chair from Instructional Services Council
- Chair or Co-Chair from Student Services Council
- Chair or Co-Chair from Facilities Development Council

Board Policy 2510
Participation in Local Decision Making

- Chair or Co-Chair from Learning Resources Council
- Associate Dean of Student Learning
- Classified Staff (3)
- Faculty (3 - including one counselor)
- Students (2)
- Athletic Director

The PGC at West Hills College Lemoore shall consist of the following membership:

- College President
- Curriculum Committee Chair
- CTA/Faculty Representative (2)
- CSEA/Classified Representative (2)
- Librarian
- Counselor/Advisor
- Vice President of Educational Services
- Associate Dean of Educational Services, Evening College
- Dean of Students
- Director of Maintenance & Operations/Auxiliary Services
- Academic Senate President
- Student Government Association Representative (2)
- Dean of Learning Resources

Each of the following shall participate as required by law in the decision-making processes of the District:

Academic Senate (Title 5, Sections 53200-53206.)

The Board or its designees will consult collegially with the Academic Senate, as duly constituted with respect to academic and professional matters, as defined by law. Procedures to implement this section are developed collegially with the Academic Senate.

Staff (Title 5, Section 51023.5.)

Classified staff shall be provided with opportunities to participate in the formulation and development of district policies and procedures that have a significant effect on staff. The opinions and recommendations of CSEA will be given every reasonable consideration.

Students (Title 5, Section 51023.7.)

The Associated Students shall be given an opportunity to participate effectively in the formulation and development of district policies and procedures that have a significant effect on students, as defined by law. The recommendations and positions of the Associated Students will be given every reasonable consideration. The selection of student representatives to serve on district committees or task forces shall be made after consultation with the Associated Students.

Issues	Solutions
CLASS SCHEDULE
We want classes closer together
Classes offered only the evening need to have an online option.
We need more classes to be available (ie, Only one Math 15 is in the spring.)	Having one class in the morning, afternoon and evening for popular/transfer classes.
Core courses required to graduate
Need better computer support during registration time.
Give registration separation	Have different days and or options for different levels. (ie. Grades, # of credits, kinds for degrees.)
We need longer class meetings. (2 days/wk for 2 hours vs. 4 days for 1 hour.)
People who plan the classes (counselors) be honest about the class availability. Might need to go to COS.	BE honest! – Either you offer it or you don't.
Don't have schedule teachers can't attend.	(ie. Archery class never goes full time because of soccer team conflict.
Lots of idle time between classes.	Give us activities –volleyball court, hoops, tracks to walk.
Give a stray place – Not the lout library	-somewhere with no group time - open up the conference room 253 with volunteers to monitor
Multiple classes for same class
Bring tacintile classes to campus
People with no priority registration hang to crash all classes	People who don't show up to first day Get Dropped
CLASS SCHEDULE
Later class for day job people	Have teacher for night classes (midnight 24hrs)
Label classes more appropriately for web enhanced classes	Title as such make clear on the meaning of web enhanced
Bring alchemy classes or more classes regarding sciences (cosmic sciences)
More teachers should use blackboard for feedback	Have teachers log on once a week
Teacher that are web enhanced should travel to each class for equal time Lemoore/Coalinga
When students what to acquire a certificate and only a certificate schedule classes consecutively for quickness of attaining certificate
Offer classes on weekends
WILDCARD

Professors should have the same expectations of students as themselves. No foul language, No disrespect, EMT class specifically, Need afterhours cafeteria	Students should be able to file a grievance and have it taken seriously by administration, the same as out in the workplace. Have food and drink options available for night class students
Safety issues – ATM is in a remote location, need more light at night

Counseling & Advising	Financial aid counselor rocks! (one with curly hair)
	Having to make a schedule to see a counselor is annoying
	They should be more coordinated.
	They should tell everyone about student ed plans when we first start at school
	Should be more friendly and professional.
	People in the front office should not make you feel like an idiot
	Need more well informed professional counselors.
	A front desk woman is very polite and helpful.
	We like the waiting area with the tables in the front office
	Make walk-in meetings with counselors more available
	Appointments more flexible with student class schedule, especially after 3p.m.
Counseling office	Scared by the people
	Asking "dumb" questions
	Long wait
	Timed between classes appointments
	More staff
	Misleading information
	Rose*- helpful
Advisory	Helpful
	More guidance
	Students more helpful than staff
	More variety of classes -offer more classes
	Rather than have student s transfer
Counselors	Not returning phone calls
	Not answering phone

	Not much info offered for career
	More student involved
	Not much positive thought about front office
WILD CARD
Councilers tell you different things	They should all give out the same information to students.
Only 3 hours a week for tutoring	Tutoring should be more than 3 hours a week and they should be able to work around our schedule
Not enough tutors	Get more tutors!!
Tutors	Tutors need to know how the teacher teaches so that there is no confusion with the student being tutored.
Lights/ security	There should be more lights in the parking lot especially at night so that we can see if we are being followed and see where we are going there should also be security so that we can feel more safe etc.
Snack bar	There should be more vending machines since the snack bar closes so early plus it is really expensive
Phone use	There should be more pay phone s for students who forget cell phones
Transportation	There should transportation for students either to or from school besides the bus since it doesn't run after a certain time
	Need to remind people of prerequisites so that we know what/ if we can get into that class
Counselors say different things to each other	Slow it down more time for students so we didn't feel pressured
We feel rushed, pressured
Another section for financial aid
EOPS gives money at the beginning of semester	We get the money too late
Registration staff it too mean	Be friendlier, nicer...
Tutoring people who have good grade don't qualify for tutoring	Allow the students to get tutored , hire more tutors
Work study if you are not hired they don't let you know	They should send an email thanking you for your time
SSS is not funded	Bring it back fund the program
Students need more books	A program that lends books to students
You qualify for one program but not the rest	Student should qualify for all programs

Lack of scholarship info.	Provide more info. Instructors should hand out flyers
Financial Aid - Lines are too long	Need more financial aid people help new students more announce what's going on!
EOPS - Takes too long to talk to them there are only two people - Not very avail.	Need more people
Nursing counselor - Not very available	Get another person to take over when she is gone
Need more information on universities, transferring	Preps from other schools come, field trips to other schools.

The primary responsibilities of representatives are as follows:

- Prepare for and attend meetings
- Participate in discussions
- Communicate with individual constituencies
- Contribute to informed decision-making

If a council/committee member needs to miss a meeting due to unavoidable circumstances, he/she must notify the council committee chair prior to the meeting. The member should arrange for a substitute to attend the meeting whenever possible.

If a council/committee member misses two consecutive meetings, even when a substitute attends the meeting, the council/committee chairperson will send a written notice explaining that the member will be replaced should a third consecutive meeting be missed.

Recommendation and Operating Process

Each council/committee shall attempt to achieve consensus. When consensus cannot be reached, a simple majority of members shall determine the recommendation. Each council/committee chair is responsible for communicating recommendations through the appropriate administrative and/or governance structure. All representatives are responsible for keeping their respective constituencies informed of the proceedings and recommendations.

The process for presenting items first for information, then for action at a subsequent meeting shall be followed, allowing for sufficient time for discussion. Allowance will be made for suspending this process when deemed appropriate by a majority.

Minutes shall be taken at each meeting, and agendas and minutes shall be posted on the college website.

Institutional Narrative

The history of West Hills College Lemoore (WHCL) begins in 1962, when Lemoore High School District residents voted to annex to the College District. In 1979 the district purchased land in the City of Lemoore, and in 1981 a classroom building and an office were erected. The campus operated in portable buildings on five acres in the City of Lemoore, as well as in leased space in Lemoore K-12 schools and in classrooms located on the Lemoore Naval Air Station. This site was named the Kings County Center. The Center served its community well for more than twenty years.

Unique Public-Private Partnerships

In response to the growing enrollment and the enthusiasm of Lemoore area residents to build their own campus, the district supported a plan to build a new campus in Lemoore. Residents of the West Hills Community College District approved a $19 million West Hills College bond Measure G which was partially used to construct a new Lemoore campus. In Kings County, the measure was approved by 70% of the votes. This bond measure, coupled with bond monies from Proposition 1A which passed statewide, allowed the college to move on a dream that has been in the making for over 30 years. On September 26, 2000 the Board of Trustees signed and accepted a "Revised and Restated Agreement of Donation of Land" from Robert and Mardell Pedersen, and Lionel and Lola Semas for a new campus. This revised agreement described the donation in four phases and exceed 100 acres. West Hills College Lemoore opened its doors to students on January 14, 2002. The second phase of construction was approved and began in the winter of 2004. When fully completed, West Hills College Lemoore will have capacity for over 6,000 students.

Small class sizes and the latest in science and technology facilities are features of West Hills College Lemoore. The brand-new, state-of-the-art West Hills College Lemoore campus – a project with its first phase completed cost approximately $1 million less than budgeted – features the largest and most technologically advanced library in Kings County, 18 classrooms, computer labs, three science Collaboratories (an award winning concept that is being replicated at other colleges). Associate degrees and/or certificate programs are offered in almost 30 areas from Administration of Justice to trade, technology and industry. At present, students pursuing the law enforcement option of the Administration of Justice degree may earn the degree entirely online. Corrections students must currently take one course in a classroom, but may take all other coursework online. Beginning Fall 2004, students were able to earn a bachelor's degree through California State University, Fresno while attending classes at the Lemoore site or through online courses.

Responsive to Community Interests

From the beginning WHC Lemoore has recognized the importance of responding to the community. Not only do such programs meet the employer needs of the area, but they also offer work training opportunities to students who are the hardest to employ, many of whom struggle with the English language.

The Central Valley is home to a number of gaming casinos operated by local Native American tribes; one of these casinos is located approximately four miles from the campus. To meet the needs of this business, the college has developed a Hotel, Restaurant and Casino Management program. Over 1,900 students have taken coursework in this program since 2000.

Through a partnership with the Kings County Department of Health, high-risk WHC Lemoore students took coursework designed to teach them skills in food preparation and menu development for people with diabetes. Meals were taken by Kings County Department of Health to the homes of people with diabetes.

In addition, the college is responsive to the needs of Naval Air Station Lemoore. With a base resident population of 7,640 active and retired military personnel and dependents, the college is a valued source of education for the base. The college maintains an office and classrooms on the base, but most base students also come to the college campus. The needs of these personnel are varied, ranging from newly enlisted servicemen who may have little education and are in need of basic classes, to highly educated military personnel and dependents. WHC Lemoore seeks to offer courses to meet the spectrum of requirements, and works closely with base officials to select and design these courses.

Thinking Globally

Naval Air Station Lemoore is located about five miles from the WHC Lemoore campus. While many military bases have been closed or downsized in the past decade, NASL has grown and is expected to continue to grow. In addition to its positive economic impact on the community and the college, the presence of the base provides the area with a global perspective. The base has an active partnership with its personnel participating in a variety of college activities, including advisory committees, special ceremonies, and serving as a resource for programs related to military activities.

The range of experience and education offered by military personnel who participate in WHC Lemoore classes and activities is a significant resource to college faculty and staff. Some military personnel lack basic education, and the college is able to provide them with classes that increase their ability to succeed in the military. In addition, many highly educated, world-traveled military personnel seek coursework to enhance their education. The college seeks to respond to this need through NASL participation in college advisory committees and through regular meetings with base administrators. Faculty and staff at the college have noted that the presence of these knowledgeable students in their classes adds significantly to the teaching and learning experience for both students and teachers. For valley students, many of whom may have limited travel experience, the global perspective brought by NASL is invaluable.

President's Message

West Hills College Lemoore received its initial accreditation in June 2006 to become the newest community college in the State of California, and the only full service accredited college in Kings County. The governance structure and practices are outlined in this Planning and Governance Manual in concurrence with the Strategic Master Plan (SMP) which serves as the roadmap to guide the college in meeting its goals and evaluating its programs and services. During the spring 2007 semester, a broadly represented group of faculty, staff, students, and administration met to review and revise the college's Strategic Master Plan to better identify and address the needs of the community we serve.

A revised mission statement appropriately identifies who our students are and signifies a commitment to student learning outcomes utilizing innovation, goal orientated strategies, and community partnerships to provide excellent learning opportunities. We have identified institutional outcomes that will prepare our students with the skills and experiences needed to succeed in the world of work or transfer to an institution of higher learning.

Through a process of regular evaluation and review, we will be able to constantly update and revise programs or develop new programs to meet current demand. Our faculty will be equipped with the latest technology and means of delivery to provide high quality instructional experiences to our students. Faculty will have access to the latest training opportunities to further enhance their curriculum and course delivery modalities.

Our students will have at their disposal high quality support services to assist them with obtaining their educational goals. Support opportunities will be available 24/7 through online technology in order to serve students on campus or located in distant locations.

It is our goal to be able to provide the highest quality services to our constituents.

Sincerely,

Don Warkentin, President
West Hills College Lemoore

Governance Structure

Introduction

The West Hills College Lemoore governance structure and process is designed to be inclusive and collaborative. It involves faculty, staff, students, community members and administrators in the planning and operation of the college. The governance structure and practices were developed collaboratively and support the participatory approach to decision-making. The Board of Trustees is the final authority for governance at West Hills College Lemoore, and delegates authority to the District Chancellor who in turn delegates authority to the College President. The President then solicits and receives input through the participatory governance decision-making process.

Organization

The Planning and Governance Council (PGC), as the principal participatory governance body of the College, creates the processes for recommending College policies and governance committee structures (see Addendum A, AP 2410). The PGC reviews and approves actions, recommendations, and requests of committees, planning groups, and task forces. The PGC amends and guides the planning processes and recommends policies and procedures to respond to the changing needs of the student population and the internal and external environments. The PGC develops, implements, evaluates continuously and revises, if necessary, the College's plans and initiatives, both long-term and short-term.

The Strategic Master Plan outlines the tasks and actions to be accomplished during the upcoming year. The PGC reviews Strategic Master Plan and evaluates progress toward achieving the college goals. Each governance committee is responsible for achieving the tasks and actions as outlined for each committee within its goals, roles, and products. The governance committees report directly to the PGC, and each has a representative on the PGC. The College President serves as the chair of the PGC. All governance committee representatives on the PGC report progress on their assigned goal, objectives, and activities at the PGC meetings.

Review Cycle: Mission/Vision, Goals, and Institutional Outcomes

WHC Lemoore's mission/vision, goals and institutional outcomes shall be reviewed by the Strategic Planning Committee each fall semester. Recommendations will be forwarded to the respective governance groups and returned to the PGC for recommended revision/s and/or adoption.

Representation

The governance structure provides for representation from five recognized constituencies at West Hills College Lemoore: Students, Academic Senate, Faculty Association (CTA), Classified Staff (CSEA), and administrators. However, governance meetings are public. In addition, to representation afforded to individuals through constituencies, other individuals and groups may be heard in any governance meeting by requesting and receiving permission from the chair to participate and/or have items added to the agenda.

Appointments from the constituencies, when not specified by position, are made by the following:

- SGA – students
- Academic Senate – faculty
- CTA – faculty
- CSEA – classified staff
- President – administrators

The constituent appointees serve the length of term designated by the constituency group and/or the President.

Responsibilities of Representatives

The primary responsibilities of representatives are as follows:

- Prepare for and attend meetings
- Communicate with individual constituencies. All representatives are responsible for keeping their respective constituencies informed of the proceedings and recommendations.
- Contribute to informed decision-making

Recommendation and Operating Process

Each council/committee shall attempt to achieve consensus. When consensus cannot be reached, a majority of members shall determine the recommendation. Each council/committee chair is responsible for communicating recommendations through the appropriate administrative and/or governance structure. The process for presenting items first for information, then for action at a subsequent meeting shall be followed. The PGC will have 60 days in which to complete the review and approval process of board policies and administrative procedures at the college level and submit final comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy/procedure to the Chancellor's Office (AP 2410). Allowance will be made for suspending this process when deemed appropriate by a majority. Agendas and minutes for each standing committee shall be posted on the college website.

Definition of Governance Structures

Council: A group of constituency representatives designated or selected to act in an advisory capacity that meets on a regular basis. The charge of a council entails college-wide issues and is the designated governance group.

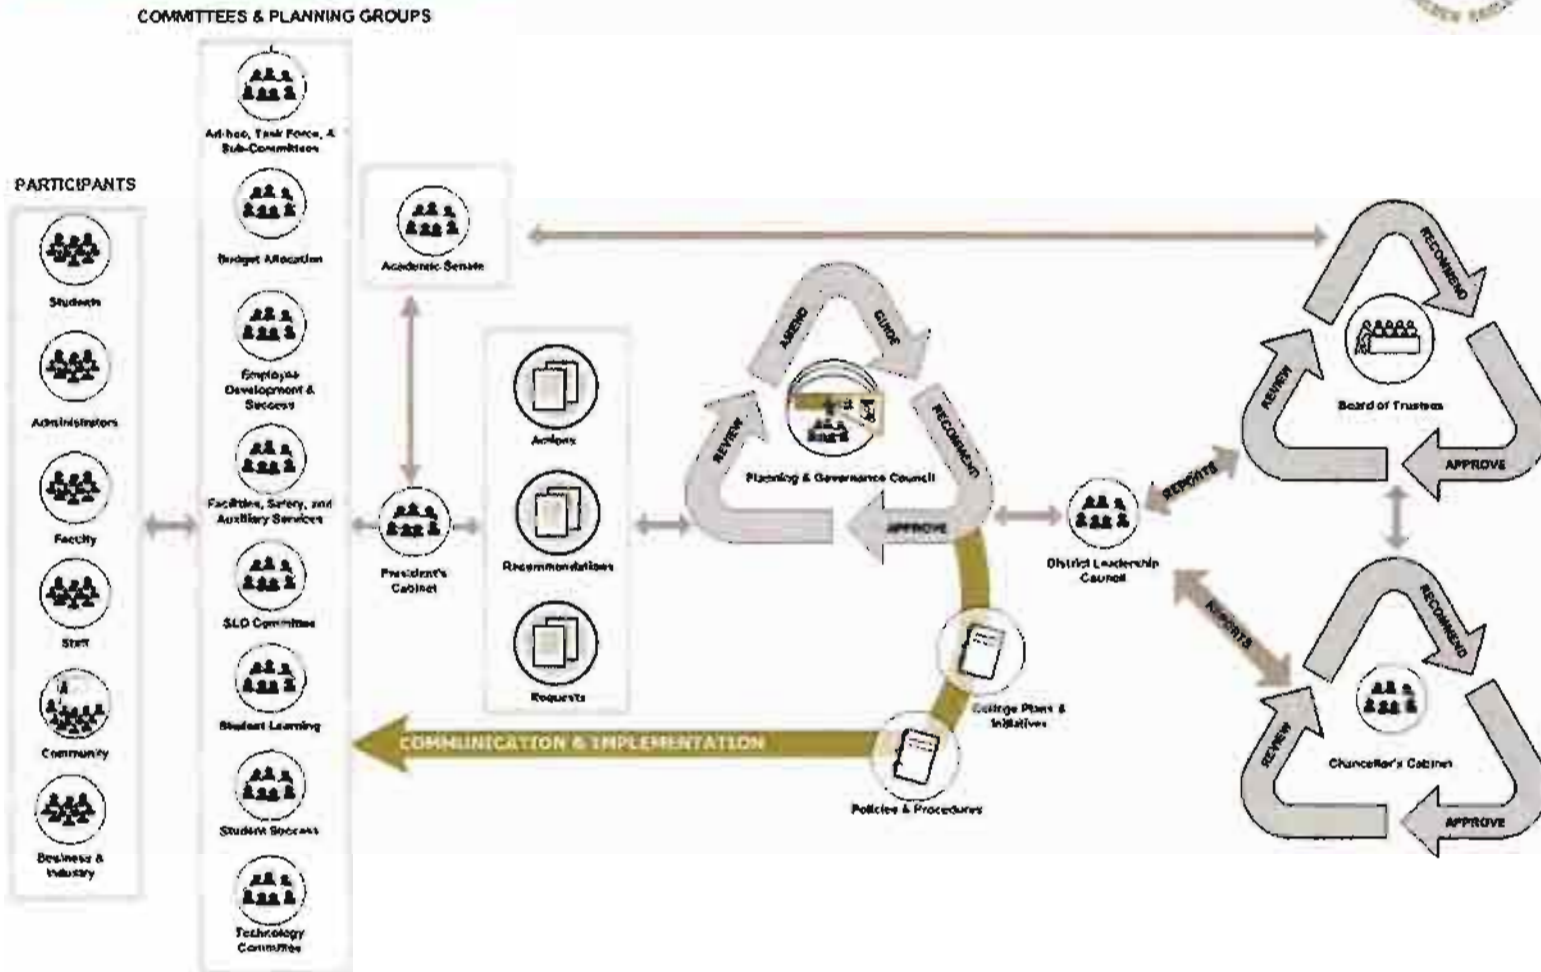

Standing Committee: A permanent committee of constituency representatives intended to consider all matters pertaining to a designated subject that meets on a regular basis. A standing committee is part of the governance structure and reports to a Council.

Permanent Sub-Committee: A permanent sub group of a standing committee designated to consider specific subjects in detail for recommendations back to the standing committee. The chair must be a member of the committee to which it reports. Other members need not be members of the committee to which it reports.

Ad Hoc Committee: A committee created by a council or standing committee to address and make recommendations on a particular subject as needed and meets until a task is completed. The members need not be from a council or standing committee.

Task Force: A constituency-represented group created to address a special college-wide subject/issue and meets until the subject/issue is resolved.

West Hills College Lemoore Governance Process

Version 1.0
 Revision 08/2015/07/2017
 Created by: [Name] | [Title] | [Organization]

COUNCIL/COMMITTEES

The following college wide committees have operational responsibility for the implementation of the Institutional Student Outcomes:

Planning and Governance Council

Role: The PGC represents all constituent groups of WHCL, develops and implements the WHCL Strategic Master Plan, develops or revises and approves governance policies and communicates with the respective groups. The strategic planning process guides budget priorities. Recommendations made by the PGC reflect the values and support the mission of the College and are in the best interest of improving student success and serving the community. The PGC, as the recognized participatory governance body of the College, creates the processes for recommending College policies and governance committee structures. The PGC amends and guides the planning processes and recommends policies and procedures to respond to the changing needs of the student population and the internal external environments. The PGC develops, implements, evaluates continuously and revises, if necessary, the College plans and initiatives, both long-term and short-term. A three-year planning cycle is used to implement the Master Plan. The PGC has oversight of college standing committees and receives and monitors reports. Communication with individual constituencies and participation in the Council meetings are primary responsibilities of the PGC members.

Products: WHCL's Strategic Master Plan, annual evaluation of the institutional outcomes, annual progress report, policies and procedures recommendations.

Diversity Statement: The PGC will review all new committee structures, policies, or procedures for the diversity statements, holding the "requesting" individual or group accountable for including the consideration of appropriate diversity issues into their processes.

PGC Membership (Approved: 10/17/07)

- (1) College President – Chairperson
- (2) CTA Faculty
- (1) Academic Senate President
- (1) Curriculum Committee Chair
- (1) Student Learning Outcomes Coordinator (Academic Senate seat)
- (1) Librarian/Technology Committee Chair
- (2) CSEA
- (1) Student Government Association
- (1) Vice President of Educational Services
- (1) Dean of Student Services
- (1) Associate Dean of Educational Services
- (1) Director of Maintenance & Operations and Auxiliary Services
- (1) Counselor/Advisor – (added 10/17/07 per recommendation from CSEA)

Reporting Relationship: Reports to the District Leadership Council, Chancellor, and Board of Trustees. Meeting Schedule: Twice per month; first and third Wednesday.

Academic/Faculty Senate

Goal: The Academic Senate represents the faculty through consultative and collegial processes and, by such means, makes recommendations to the governing board and/or to its agents or designees. The Academic Senate has primary responsibility for making recommendations in the areas of academic and professional matters, including but not limited to curriculum, academic standards, hiring policies, procedures, and criteria for contract faculty and administration; and is to comment upon and review policies proposed by the Board of Governors of the Community Colleges of California. With respect to these recommendations, the governing board and/or its agents or designees either relies primarily upon the advice or judgment of the academic senate, or otherwise enters into written mutual agreements with the academic senate in accordance with board policies delegating authority and responsibility to the academic senate. The Academic Senate shall engage in joint agreements with the district and participate in the design and implementation of participatory governance of the college in accordance with the Education Code, and Title 5, and any college policies related to the role of the Academic Senate in participatory governance.

Role: The Senate's primary function, as the representative of the faculty, is to make recommendations to the Administration and the Board of Trustees on policy development and implementation in matters concerning:

- Curriculum, including establishing prerequisites and placing courses within disciplines
- Degree and certificate requirements
- Grading policies
- Educational program development
- Standards or policies regarding student preparation and success
- Districts and college governance structures, as related to faculty roles
- Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation process; including self-study and annual reports
- Policies for faculty professional development activities
- Process for program review
- Process for institutional planning and budget development
- Other academic and professional matters as are mutually agreed upon between the governing board and the Academic Senate.

Budget Allocation Committee

Goal: To build and foster a strong commitment to the use and development of community, technology, education, and funding in order to effectively increase the resources and productivity at West Hills College Lemoore.

Role: The WHCL Budget Allocation Committee has the responsibility of soliciting budget proposals from its staff for the purposes of conducting business. Area Budget Sub-Committees from: 1) Arts and Sciences 2) Occupational Education 3) Student Services and 4) Maintenance and Operations will provide input to the Budget Allocation Committee. Once received, the Budget Allocation Committee will prioritize these requests based on their impact on student success and the college's mission and vision statements. The college's budget recommendations and priorities will be sent to the Planning and Governance Council.

Products: Prioritized list of budget recommendations to be sent to the Planning and Governance Council.

Diversity Statement: WHCL is committed to the appropriation of resources that includes thoughtful consideration of the special needs of its diverse students, faculty, staff, and community populations. It is expected that the Budget Allocation Committee will actively implement diversity issues into their budget processes. When forwarding action and/or information items to the PGC, the Budget Allocation Committee will identify the items addressed in each item.

Membership: (Chairperson to be elected by the committee membership)

- 2 – Administrators
- 2 – CTA/Faculty Representatives
- 2 – CSEA/Classified Representatives
- 1 – SGA Representative

Reporting Relationship: Planning and Governance Council

Meeting Schedule: Every two weeks beginning in January and continuing until April.

Facilities, Safety and Auxiliary Services Committee

Goal: To support the mission of the college by maintaining the appearance, functionality, accessibility, safety, technology, and cleanliness of current and future facilities conducive to a quality educational environment.

Role: The FSAC, representing all constituent groups of WHCL, develops, monitors, and has implementation oversight of the Facilities Master Plan, Site Safety, and Emergency Preparedness Plan. The FSAC evaluates and recommends revision of plans and standards and communicates with the respective groups involved. The aforementioned planning process guides budget priorities. Recommendations made by the FSAC reflect the values and support the mission of the College and are in the best interest of improving student success and serving the community. The FSAC develops, implements, evaluates continuously, and revises if necessary, the FSAC plans and initiatives, both long-term and short-term. A three-year planning cycle is used to implement all FSAC plans. The individual constituencies and participation in the committee meetings are primary responsibilities of the FSAC members.

Products: Facilities Master Plan, Site Safety, Emergency Preparedness Plan

Diversity Statement: The Facilities, Safety and Auxiliary Services Committee will address diversity into all planning and implementation processes as appropriate. Diversity issues will include but are not limited to access, use, learning experience, and indoor/outdoor environment. When forwarding action and/or information items to the Planning and Governance Council. The Facilities and Safety Committee will identify the diversity items addressed in each item.

Membership: (Chairperson to be elected by the committee membership)

- 1 – Director of Facilities Services
- 1 – Media Services Representative
- 1 – DSPS Representative
- 1 – ITS Representative
- 1 – SGA Representative
- 1 – CTA/Faculty Representative
- 1 – CSEA/Classified Representative
- 1 – Administrative Representative

Reporting Relationship: Planning Governance Council

Meeting Schedule: Monthly/first Friday of the month

Technology Committee

Goal: To support the mission of the college by maintaining technology conducive to a quality educational environment.

Role: The technology committee has the responsibility of assessing IT related policies, procedures, and planning, as they relate to WHC Lemoore. The central focus is the intersection of instruction, administrative support and technology in regards to students and their ability to meet their educational goals. WHCL has a student-centered environment that relies heavily on technology and the committee's objective will be increasing communication among the various constituencies in order to meet this goal. Open communication, collaboration and feedback related to technology needs and availability will be a key function. The committee will be representative of all campus constituencies and align to the Mission and Vision statements of the College.

Products: Technology plan (annually) in coordination with the Budget Allocation Committee.

Diversity Statement: The Technology Committee will actively address issues of diversity in the workplace including but not limited to: access, gender, age, culture, race, religion, experience and education.

- Staff members to represent support programs (4)
- SGA Representative (1)
- Instructional Administrator (1)
- Non Instructional Administrator (1)

Meeting Schedule: To be determined

Procedure and Determination in Hiring Faculty

West Hills College Lemoore recognizes that the hiring of faculty must be a deliberate and thoughtful process. Further, the process must include the input from constituency groups and instructional administrators alike based upon a combination of empirical and quantitative information.

West Hills Community College Board of Trustees has approved Board Procedure 7210 (Employment of Academic Employees). Within this procedure are guidelines to be used in the identification and filling of faculty positions:

1. The faculty/Academic Senate, in conjunction with the appropriate Dean/administrator, shall submit staffing needs each year in early fall and provide supporting data for their requests to the Chief Instructional Officer (CIO) or designee.
2. The CIO shall confer with the College President who will determine staffing priorities.
3. The staffing priorities determined by the College President will be forwarded to the Chancellor.
4. The Chancellor will make final staffing decisions and will recommend the positions to be filled to the Board of Trustees.

Execution of these procedures at West Hills College Lemoore must conform to the committee structure existing on the campus as well as the timelines necessary for full implementation. Specifically, the College will employ the following procedure to determine faculty staffing needs:

1. Submitted instructional program reviews also provide the opportunity for faculty members to identify staffing needs within their department. It is incumbent of the department to provide significant justification for the new position(s) within the program review document. The timeframe for submission of program reviews is late fall term.
2. If a program is not undergoing the periodic and regular program review, an individual faculty department member will provide full time faculty requests into their yearly budget request (Form Group 2 of the Budget Development Process Booklet). This is to occur during the beginning of the spring semester.
3. The Chief Instructional Officer (CIO) will compile all new faculty requests from a combination of program reviews and budget request forms. The CIO will provide the Academic Senate with this list for the purpose of priority ranking. This will occur no later than the end of the spring semester.
4. The Academic Senate will review all proposed new positions, as well as the unfulfilled requests from previous years, and will submit to the CIO a prioritized list of potential new faculty positions along with supporting data no later than the middle of the fall semester.
5. The CIO will consult with the other instructional administrators to determine a list of possible new faculty positions. A prioritized list will be prepared along with supporting information no later than the middle of the fall semester.
6. The CIO will present to the College President the prioritized lists prepared by both the Academic Senate and the instructional administrators. The President will determine the faculty staffing priorities and forwarded to the District Chancellor.

The District Office, and specifically the Department of Human Resources, will begin the advertisement of the position as soon as the College President has finalized his list and budget provisions have been secured.

7. In the event that it is determined that the budget cannot support new faculty positions or that the positions are unneeded at this time, the prioritize list will be maintained by the President's Office for potential implementation at a later date.

Procedure and Determination in Hiring Support Staff

West Hills College Lemoore recognizes that the hiring of support staff must be a deliberate and thoughtful process. Further, the process must include the input from constituency groups, supervisors and administrators alike based upon a combination of empirical and quantitative information.

West Hills Community College Board of Trustees has approved Board Policy 7230 and Administrative Procedure (Hiring Procedure and Guidelines for Classified Staff). Within this procedure are guidelines to be used in the identification and filling of faculty positions:

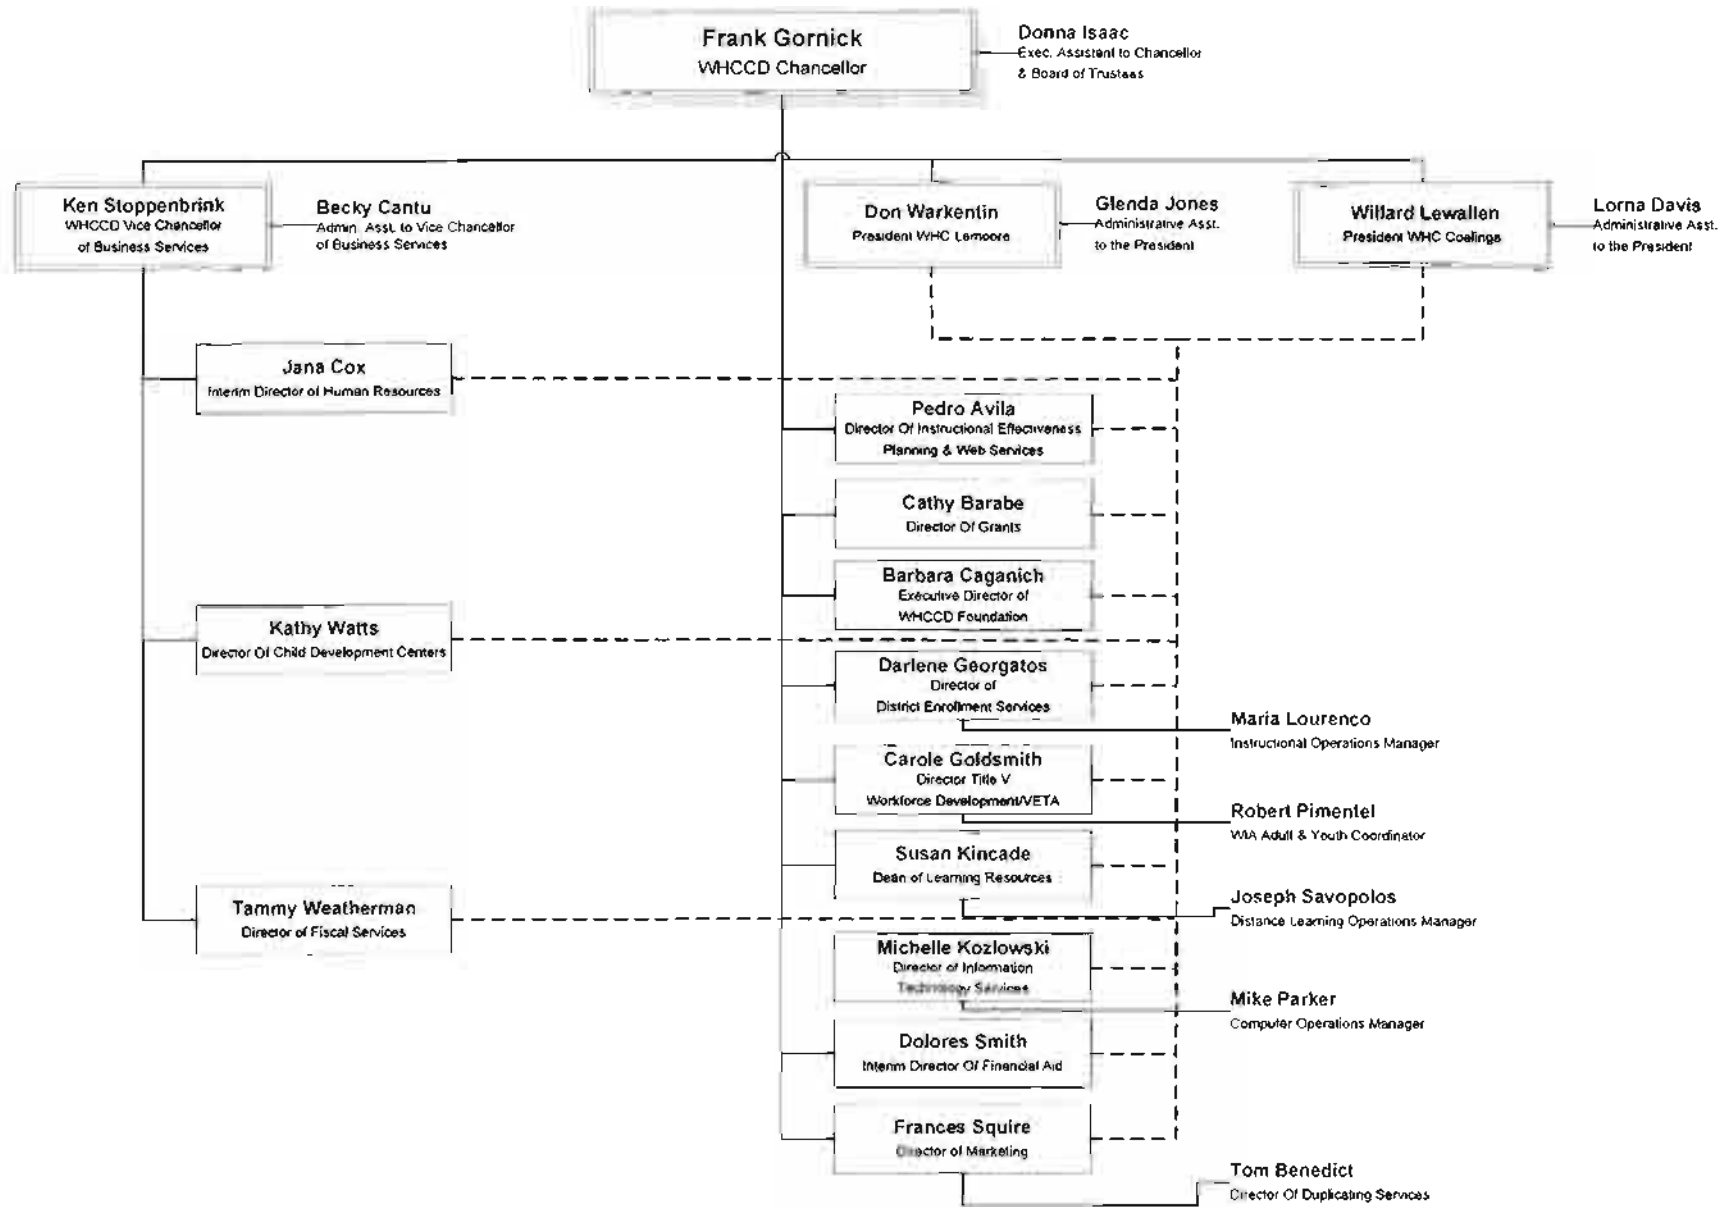

1. The Area Supervisor, in conjunction with the appropriate dean/administrator, shall submit staffing needs each year in early fall and provide supporting data for their requests to the College President or designee.
2. The Area Supervisor/Dean shall confer with the College President who will determine staffing priorities.
3. The staffing priorities determined by the College President will be forwarded to the Chancellor.
4. The Chancellor will make final staffing decisions and will recommend the positions to be filled to the Board of Trustees.

Execution of these procedures at West Hills College Lemoore must conform to the committee structure existing on the campus as well as the timelines necessary for full implementation. Specifically, the College will employ the following procedure to determine staffing needs:

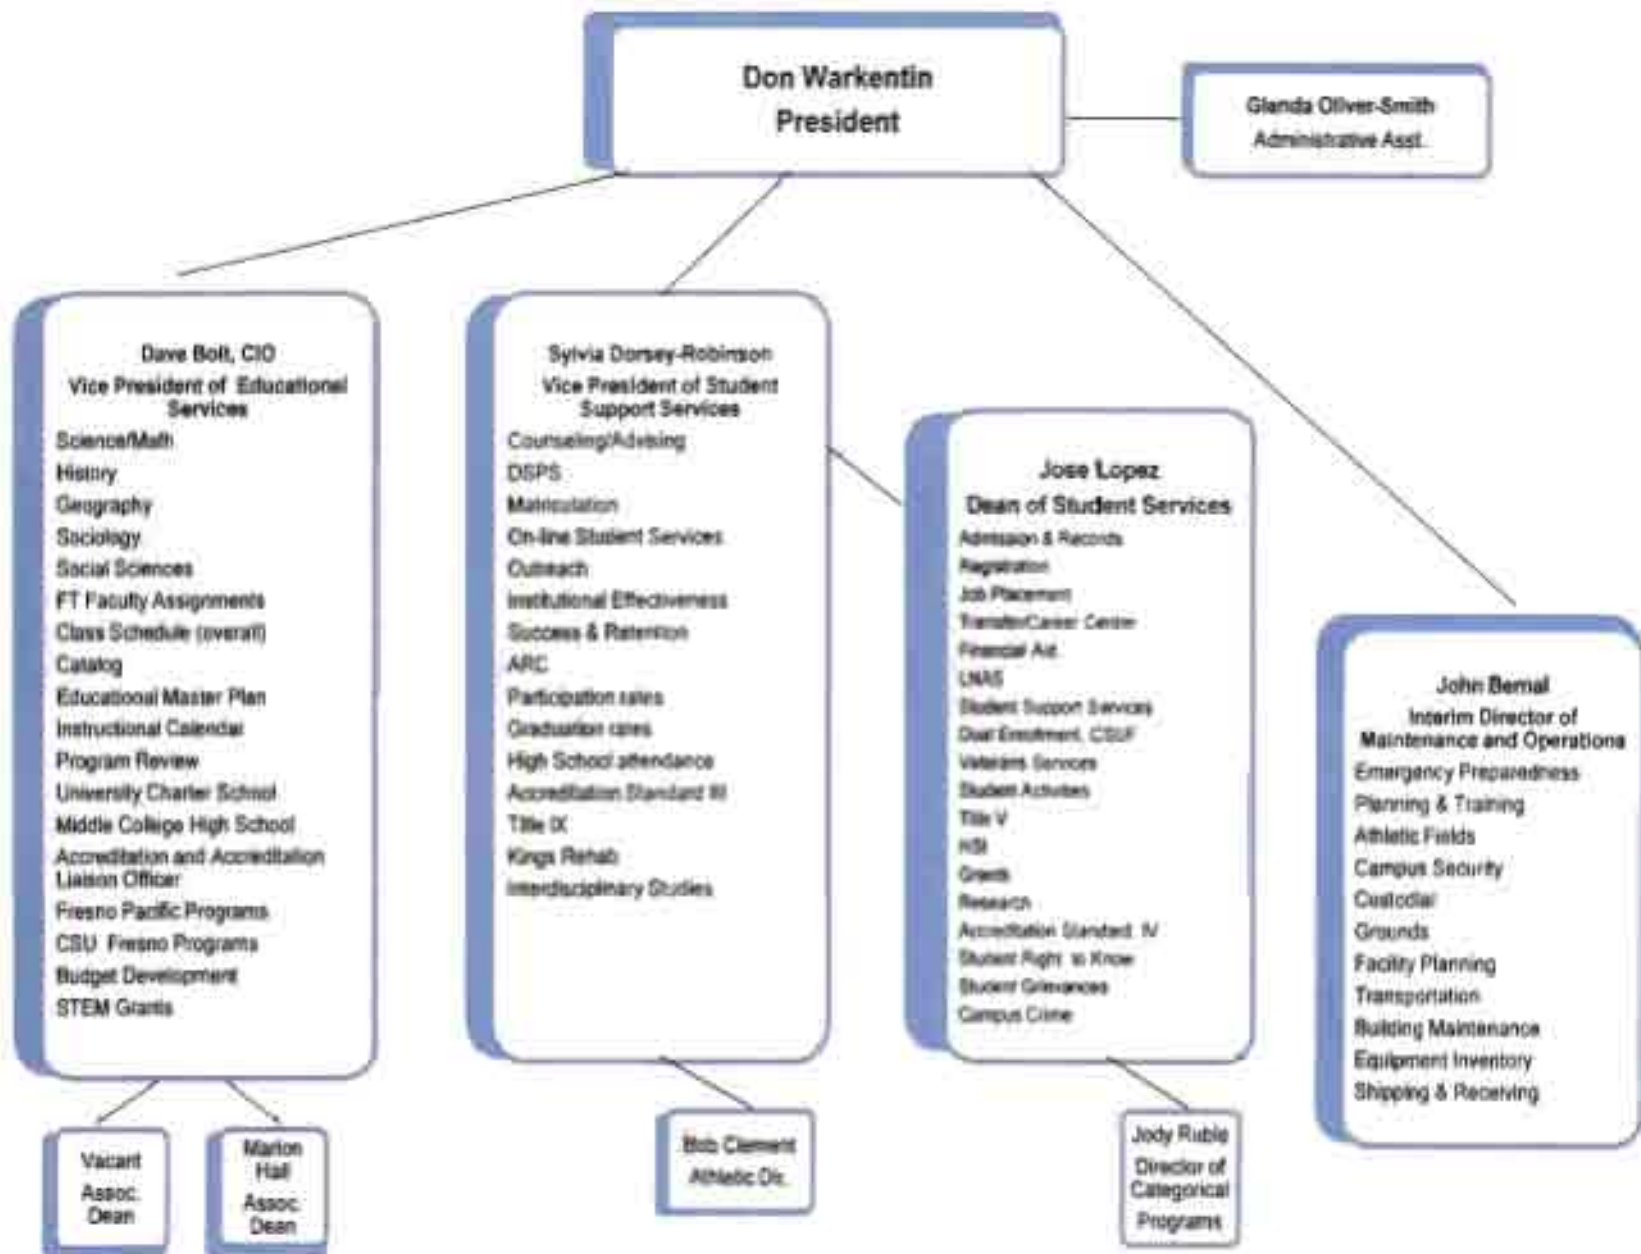

1. Submitted appropriate program reviews provide the opportunity for supervisors to identify staffing needs within their department or program. It is incumbent of the department/program to provide significant justification for the new position(s) within the program review document. The timeframe for submission of program reviews is late fall term.
2. If a program is not undergoing the periodic and regular program review, an individual supervisor will provide full time staffing requests into their yearly budget request (Form Group 2 of the Budget Development Process Booklet). This is to occur during the beginning of the spring semester.
3. The Area Administrator will compile all new staff requests from a combination of program reviews and budget request forms. The Area Administrator will provide the College President with this list for the purpose of priority ranking. This will occur no later than the end of the spring semester.
4. The College President will consult with the other administrators to determine a list of possible new staff positions. A prioritized list will be prepared along with supporting information no later than the middle of the fall semester.

5. The College President will determine the staffing priorities and forwarded to the District Chancellor. The District Office, and specifically the Department of Human Resources, will begin the advertisement of the position as soon as the College President has finalized his list and budget provisions have been secured.
6. In the event that it is determined that the budget cannot support new staff positions or that the positions are unneeded at this time, the prioritize list will be maintained by the President's Office for potential implementation at a later date.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT CHANCELLORS OFFICE

The WHCL organization chart is being revised at this time, 12/4/2009.

ADDENDUM A

Administrative Procedure 2410 Policy and Administrative Procedure

Reference: Education Code Section 70902

Board Policies and Administrative Procedures are regularly reviewed by the Chancellor's Office. The Chancellor makes recommendations to the Board of Trustees concerning revisions to existing policies and procedures or the development of new policies and procedures to ensure that they are current and comply with state and federal laws.

Any employee, student, or member of the public may initiate a review or development of any policy or procedure by submitting a request or recommendation in writing to the Chancellor's Office.

Review and Approval Process

Upon receipt of the request or recommendation, the Chancellor's Office may refer to the Community College League's Policy and Procedure Service for recommended or legally advised language. The Chancellor's Office may also use the Policy and Procedure listserv to query other districts for related Board Policies or Administrative Procedures. In some instances, the Chancellor's Office may request that legal counsel review the policy or procedure language. Other employees with expertise in specific areas governed by a Board Policy or Administrative Procedure may also be consulted during the review process.

After initial review by the Chancellor's Office, the policy and/or procedure will be routed to the supervisor, manager or Dean of the appropriate department, if applicable, for review (i.e. Student Services, Human Resources, Business Office, etc.). Following the applicable review, the policy and/or procedure will be routed as follows:

1. Policy and/or procedure to be reviewed and discussed by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet.
2. After review by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet, the policy and/or procedure will be sent to the College Consultation Council (CCC) at West Hills College Coalinga and the Planning and Governance Council (PGC) at West Hills College Lemoore (through the College Presidents) for review and approval, if applicable. Simultaneously, the policy and/or procedure will be sent to the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President as a courtesy.
3. Review and approval by the Academic Senate Presidents will be requested only if the policy and/or procedure deal(s) with academic and professional matters. Review and approval by the Faculty Association President will only be requested if the policy and/or procedure has or will have a significant effect on faculty.

4. After review by the CCC and the PGC, any comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure shall be sent to the Chancellor's Office by the College Presidents. In the case of review and approval by the Academic Senate Presidents or Faculty Association President, any comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure shall be sent to the Chancellor's Office by the individuals serving in those capacities. As a courtesy, the comments, recommendations or actions taken should also be sent to the College Presidents.

5. The Chancellor's Office will take the policy and/or procedure to the District Leadership Council (DLC) for review and approval.

6. After DLC review, and upon final review by the Chancellor, the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting.

Submission of Policies and Procedures for Review

When submitted to the CCC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President, and the DLC, the policy and/or procedure shall be accompanied by a routing form which will include the following information:

- Policy/Procedure Number
- Policy/Procedure Name
- Indication of new or revised policy/procedure
- Initiator of proposed new or revised policy/procedure
- Purpose for new or revised policy/procedure
- Anticipated timeline for review and approval process

New policies and procedures will be submitted to the appropriate groups as a "clean" copy.

Revised policies and procedures will be submitted to the appropriate groups using the following editing marks:

- Deleted text to be shown in
- Added text to be shown in bold print

Nonsubstantive ("clean up" or "housekeeping") revisions to policies and procedures (i.e. names, title changes, addition or deletion of references) that do not change the intent or meaning of the policy or procedure may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the CCC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President and the DLC as a courtesy.

Policies and procedures dealing strictly with the Board of Trustees may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the CCC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents ~~and~~, the Faculty Association President and the DLC as a courtesy. New or revised procedures that outline an existing process may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the CCC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President and the DLC as a courtesy.

Timeline

In most instances, policy and procedure review and approval will be based on a two-month cycle at the college level. Once the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet agrees to move new or revised policies and/or procedures forward to the CCC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President, the review and approval process timeline officially begins. The groups will have 60 days in which to complete the review and approval process at the college level and submit final comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure to the Chancellor's Office.

At the completion of the 60 days (or sooner if the appropriate groups have completed their review and approval process), the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the DLC agenda for review and approval if applicable. Following DLC review, the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting. The Board of Trustees will be provided with the Chancellor's final recommendation, along with the completed routing form which will include the comments, recommendations and actions taken by the appropriate groups.

The timeline may be shorted due to various circumstances including, but not limited to, changes in law or urgent need. However, the Chancellor's Office shall notify all applicable groups of the shortened timeline.

After approval by the Board of Trustees, policies and procedures will be posted to the District's website. The College Presidents and Academic Senate Presidents will also be notified as to the status of the proposed or revised policies and procedures.

Board approval date: 3/7/06
Revised policy approval date: 6/26/07

Administrative Procedure 2410
Policy and Administrative Procedure

review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the proposed or revised policies and procedures will be sent to the CPC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President and the DLC as a courtesy.

New or revised procedures that outline an existing process may be presented by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the CPC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President and the DLC as a courtesy.

Timeline

In most instances, policy and procedure review and approval will be based on a two-month cycle at the college level. Once the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet agrees to move new or revised policies and/or procedures forward to the CPC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President, the review and approval process timeline officially begins. The groups will have 60 days in which to complete the review and approval process at the college level and submit final comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure to the Chancellor's Office.

At the completion of the 60 days (or sooner if the appropriate groups have completed their review and approval process), the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the DLC agenda for final review and approval if applicable. Following DLC final review, will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting. The Board of Trustees will be provided with the Chancellor's final recommendation, along with the completed routing form which will include the comments, recommendations and actions taken by the appropriate groups. Procedures will be presented to the Board of Trustees for review and information only, unless the procedure is to be included in Chapter 2 (Board of Trustees section) of the district's policies and procedures. If the procedure is to be included in Chapter 2, it will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting.

The timeline may be shorted due to various circumstances including, but not limited to, changes in law or urgent need. However, the Chancellor's Office shall notify all applicable groups of the shortened timeline.

After review and/or approval by the Board of Trustees, policies and procedures will be posted to the District's website. The College Presidents, Academic Senate Presidents, and Faculty Association President will also be notified as to the status of the proposed or revised policies and procedures.

Board approval date: 3/7/06

Revised procedure approval date: 6/26/07

Revised procedure approval date: 10/26/10

Administrative Procedure 2410 Policy and Administrative Procedure

5. In the case of review and approval by the Academic Senate Presidents or Faculty Association President, any comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure shall be sent to the Chancellor's Office by the individuals serving in those capacities. As a courtesy, the comments, recommendations or actions taken should also be sent to the College Presidents.
6. The Chancellor's Office will take the policy and/or procedure to the District Leadership Council (DLC) for review and approval.
7. After DLC review, and upon final review by the Chancellor, policies will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting. Procedures will be presented to the Board of Trustees for review and information only, unless the procedure is to be included in Chapter 2 (Board of Trustees section) of the district's policies and procedures. If the procedure is to be included in Chapter 2, it will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting.

Submission of Policies and Procedures for Review

When submitted to the CPC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President, and the DLC, the policy and/or procedure shall be accompanied by a routing form which will include the following information:

- Policy/Procedure Number
- Policy/Procedure Name
- Indication of new or revised policy/procedure
- Initiator of proposed new or revised policy/procedure
- Purpose for new or revised policy/procedure
- Anticipated timeline for review and approval process

New policies and procedures will be submitted to the appropriate groups as a "clean" copy.

Revised policies and procedures will be submitted to the appropriate groups using the following editing marks:

- Deleted text to be shown in ~~striketrough print~~
- Added text to be shown in bold print

Nonsubstantive ("clean up" or "housekeeping") revisions to policies and procedures (i.e. names; title changes; addition or deletion of references) that do not change the intent or meaning of the policy or procedure may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and/or consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the CPC, PGC, the Academic Senate Presidents, the Faculty Association President and the DLC as a courtesy.

Policies and procedures dealing strictly with the Board of Trustees (Chapter 2 of the district's policies and procedures) may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for

Meeting Minutes

October 28th, 2010

1. Call to order:

Ryan Cardoza called to order the regular meeting of the Student Government Association at 10:05 am on October 28th 2010 in room 233.

Officers Present:

Ron Oxford: Advisor

Ryan Cardoza: President

Maleny Rodriguez: Vice President

Devin Scott: Sergeant at arms

Kelsey La Traille: Activity Coordinator

Brittany Burkhart: Treasurer

Richard De Los Santos: Interim Public Relations Officer

Columbus Hasberry: Mascot

Danielle Van Baren: Freshman Class Representative

Adrian Dotimas: Sophomore Class Representative

Angelica Wilson: Historian

Members and others Present:

Matthew Warren

Derek Sanchez

Cecilia Campos

2. Minutes Approval:

Richard De Los Santos motions to approve minutes from meetings September 30th, October 14th, and October 21st at the same time, Angelica Wilson seconds. Ryan Cardoza wants to make changes on the minutes from September 30th to show that the minutes were submitted by Victoria Hotchkiss. Motion passes unanimously.

3. Reports:

Comment Boxes: Richard De Los Santos explains that more time is needed to properly compile his report.

4. Action Items:

Angelica Wilson moves to add an additional action item to make Brittany Burkhart secretary for either semester, or year, or interim, Richard De Los Santos seconds motion. Devin Scott comments that it should be an interim position only. Motion is called an emergency action item today and put to a vote. Motion passes unanimously

5. Discussion Items:

Ryan Cardoza shows us team page on portal and points out comment box subsection and talks about the 'issue tracking system' if it is successful it will be opened up to the public. Kelsey La Traille asks if it is made open to the public and an issue is out of our hands, how do we handle that situation. Ryan Cardoza replies that the comments would only be shown if they are approved and are given a pending status.

Discussion about goals map from last meeting: Richard De Los Santos suggests that we take it one goal at a time. Kelsey La Traille suggests we go for community activities first. Ryan Cardoza asks that everyone be in charge of one goal on a separate worksheet at another point in time. Discussion follows about what constitutes community activity. Derek Sanchez suggests that the goal description be to be more active in the community with SGA involvement and to better the community around us. There is talk about how to handle the goals, whether to have one big goal bi-monthly with smaller community activities interspersed. Maleny Rodriguez suggests a big once yearly event such as the 'day of caring' from United Way. Richard De Los Santos suggests subcommittees for each goal. Devin Scott suggests that instead of creating events we volunteer at existing ones as a group. Ryan Cardoza brings up adding pre-planned community events to our goals map and worksheet for community activities. Ryan Cardoza then talks about the importance of the activities coordinator having the resources that he/she needs to plan the events.

Next item on goal map is supporting students. Derek Sanchez volunteers to take lead on this topic. Richard De Los Santos talks about importance of assisting students with their wants and needs and suggests adding that as the goal description. Maleny Rodriguez asks if we want a target date for this item, or to just have it ongoing. Ryan Cardoza suggests we have checkpoints because we do have to be able to measure our progress. Richard De Los Santos suggests utilizing verbal surveys to create a list of questions, and Maleny Rodriguez talks about just letting students know about upcoming events verbally and asking about their questions or concerns. Ryan Cardoza suggests we move outreach to go under support students. Devin Scott discusses having a 1 month goal to better our student outreach. Kelsey La Traille talks about how supporting students has the most falling under it and that it basically defines SGA, there is agreement and discussion follows on how to handle this goal. Ryan Cardoza asks for just one idea on how to reach the student support goal, Richard De Los Santos suggests outreach as the major component. Maleny Rodriguez suggests putting 'educate ourselves' under this goal so that SGA members will be knowledgeable enough to address student concerns and understand their responsibilities, as well as sitting on committees. Ron Oxford points out the importance of at least knowing who you can direct particular student concerns to. Overall goal discussion follows, to have happy students, or a more specific goal. Kelsey La Traille suggests a student survey. Ryan Cardoza brings up self surveys as well. Maleny Rodriguez makes the point that an increase in student involvement is a good indicator of reaching our goals. Adrian Dotimas says that increasing our numbers could also be a good indicator. Ryan Cardoza and Richard De Los Santos discuss periodic self assessments. Richard De Los Santos also brings up sub-committees for this goal. Ryan Cardoza asks for everyone to look into their job duties to see how we can help with this goal through our job duties.

Ryan Cardoza mentions breaking up the rest of the goals and to do it on our own time and bring what we came up with to the next meeting. Maleny Rodriguez asks for 'outreach', Richard De Los Santos wants 'campus activities', Ryan Cardoza wants 'team building', Angelica Wilson wants 'sga/icc guide', Maleny Rodriguez wants 'club support' as well, Brittany Burkhart will take 'committees'.

6. Meeting Adjourned at 10:54 am
7. Minutes Submitted by Brittany Burkhart

ICC Minutes 10/21/10

Called to order at 11:14am by Ryan Cardoza.

- Discussion:
Bulletin boards duty that was taken on by the Veterans Student Club Association was called into question because of non-action on their part to date; clarification was needed for usage of the bulletin boards. Clayton stated that the boards were solely for ICC purposes (I.E. club updates etc.). Veterans Student Club Association was unavailable to comment at the time. There was discussion of opening the job to other clubs when the Veterans Student Club Association and SIFE arrived.
- New event updates:
 - AGS: film appreciation night. AGS also called for volunteers to help with concessions and set building and design for the carnival. Volunteers should go to the conference room from 1-5pm to help out. The Halloween event will take place on October 30th from 6-10pm. Clayton discussed the kind of games to go along with SIFE's Haunted House. AGS regional conference will be on the 5th, all attendees must pay $55 for the opportunity to take part in workshops and activities, anyone is welcome to go.
 - Veterans Student Club Association: No upcoming events on the calendar other than the combined Halloween event with SIFE and AGS. This event is open to all clubs to participate in.
 - Nursing Club: IHOP flyer event to earn a percentage back from all flyers brought in to IHOP on a particular day TBA.
 - SIFE: Art and poetry event on November 17th with SPLAAT from 11-1pm including a bake sale. This is a free event and other clubs are welcome to participate. Most events are almost over for the year with the exception of the canned food drive in the library, admin building, DSPS office, and snack bar.
- More discussion items:
 - Dr. Oxford asked about the success of the meet the candidate's forum, SIFE replied that about 150 people were in attendance. Ryan commented on how fast this event was pulled together with the 14 candidates.
 - Vera Kennedy asked about signups for students to show their art at SPLAAT and SIFFE's art event, SPLAAT replies to contact the club advisor or president to sign up for art but mentions that the majority of the art will be solicited), or to contact SIFE regarding poetry or dance signups. Vera mentions need for signups to filter out some material.
 - AGS is still accepting donations for their prize drawing which will take place November 1st at noon in the quad. Clayton talked about the different prizes that your donations could win including a computer, football game tickets, and movie tickets. More prize drawings will follow if this one is successful. AGS will also be selling candy for a dollar each to help fund their trip to the state convention in the spring.

-Veterans Student Club Association will be having a popcorn fundraiser (3 bags for $10). There will also be a veteran's luncheon on November 9th from 11:30-1pm, must call 925-3312 to RSVP. This event is held every year to honor veteran's day.

-SIFE will be holding a business etiquette luncheon on October 28th, see career center for signup sheet.

-SPLAAT will have a day of the dead shrine done by October 22nd, it will be 7'x6' and installed in the library. This is an interactive piece, people may add on to the shrine which will be actually installed on Monday October 25th through November 5th. There is a call for participation from other clubs. A plaque will tell about the traditions of this holiday and encourage student participation. There is a promenade planned, however the details will not be disclosed as it is a surprise event. There is also a facilities request for a bake sale on November 1st.

-AGS student town hall will take place this Friday with 10 seats still available. It will be from 11-1 and not 10 as it is written in the agenda. Food will be provided and Susan commented that students in attendance will receive planners.

-SGA/ICC ad hoc committee to talk about structure and guidelines at first meeting. More information to be added later and must be approved by SGA/ICC/PGC. Student participation is extremely important to help guide future years. This meeting is open to everyone as the rules made will affect everyone.

-Culinary Club: tickets will be on sale to win a thanksgiving dinner to be picked up Thanksgiving Day. Also, on October 30th there will be a chili cook-off with the club advisor and 4 others to attend; if they win the prize is a used car. Discussion followed on what to do with the car if won. There will be a Bistro coming up, although this is from the culinary class, and not the club. The outdoor restaurant will be open November 8th and 10th. SPLAAT asks about the price per ticket of the thanksgiving dinner, Culinary Club responds that the tickets will be $5 each with the drawing on November 23rd. ticket sales will begin November 1st.

-Susan asked about whether the school will have a parade or a float, Vera replied that it must use the theme of the school. Ryan asked about any lead-takers for an ad hoc committee, Vera replied that AGS would take lead and welcome all other club participation. This will be added to the next agenda.

-Nurse's club left for another meeting

-Veterans Student Club Association has no information to give regarding the planned information booth/signage. Susan said that a booth might not be feasible after talking to the campus architect. Ryan talked about attempts made last year and said that the structure must be moveable, temporary, and aesthetically pleasing. SPLAAT brought up the inefficiencies in design and planning. Dr. Oxford called for student representation to go to Addington about what students want rather than small groups of people. Ryan agrees to look into the situation. Dean Lopez brought up the Miramar campus and how they have information signs of the type that our school has been unable to erect, he agreed to take a photo of the signs to PGS to try to implement at our school. Ryan also asked the veterans to look into it. Vera brought up that before making a presentation on the need for these signs, a proposal should be put together. Ryan asked the veterans if they could implement these signs if given the amount of money required, Susan asked if it would have to go before PGC. Vera said that specifications would be needed before any formal proposal could be made to PGC. The Veterans club will try to have the specs ready by the next meeting.

-Ryan brought up upcoming committee meeting dates and called for clubs/students to sit in, Vera asked for an emailed copy of the schedule to pass on to her students.

Student representatives to these committees will report back to ICC with relevant information.

-Clayton brought up making a template to grade the success of club events. This will show what does and doesn't work so that other clubs won't have the same issues over and over.

-Dr. Oxford talked about the art display currently for sale in the administration building.

- Meeting adjourned at 12pm

Action Items:

There were no action items at this time.

Information/Discussion Items

1. Child Development Program Review

Pat Kraft Chapman, the originator of the Child Development Program Review was in attendance to answer potential questions or concerns about the Review. Pat reported that this program is short on staff; the classes are filled to capacity which has resulted in student complaints and the loss of some students to COS. Pat stated that she had always identified the need for a new full-time instructor, and if not full-time, at least an adjunct faculty. Mr. Warkentin reported that he had asked Dave Bolt, chair of the Budget Allocation Committee, to maintain a prioritized list of needed faculty when hiring is again a consideration. Mr. Warkentin asked if there were any questions for Pat. There were no questions.

2. Student Town Hall Matrix Update

Jose Lopez distributed the updated matrix which originated from the student town hall meeting on 2/27/2009. Overlapping classes, lack of classes, kiosks to display information are some of the concerns. Currently the catalog is being revised and reviewed, along with the student handbook. Jose is looking at the possibility of a video monitor to display announcements and to be housed in one of the display cases. This would be an alternative to a kiosk. Marty Ennes suggested a monitor be placed in the room where the beverage machines are located. The next student town hall forum is scheduled on March 19th to again address the issues in this matrix, as well any new concerns. It will be held in the morning, followed by a second Student Leadership Conference in the afternoon. The matrix will be reviewed again at the Student Leadership event. Jose has invited David Bautista, speaker and author, to speak at the Student Leadership Conference. Marty reported that at her learning area meeting discussion transpired about tutoring. The issue was the tutoring course which teaches general tutoring. An additional workshop to model one on one tutoring practices is needed. Several instructors are putting materials together on how to tutor one on one. America Bryant, in reference to the financial aid concern, stated that they offer on campus workshops to help students complete the application on line. Also a concern was information about student awards. This information is now posted on the portal and on the financial aid web page. Accessibility was also a concern with regard to longer appointments needed with a counselor. There is not a financial aid counselor; however, they have an open door policy and no appointments are required for assistance. Financial aid checks are now available on week one to those students with complete paperwork. Book vouchers are available on a case by case basis due to the accounting process necessary to manage them. Less than a dozen book vouchers are given out to students. Angela Tos asked at what point in the process students are notified that they are disqualified for financial aid. America reported that they run a SAC calculation. Angela commented that every semester it tends to fall that students are coming out of the woodwork with financial aid appeals during the first two weeks of school and the timing from her perspective is really bad. Angela wants to make sure student needs are met. Jose stated that along with the financial aid check and notification given that all checks will be mailed in the fall. Additional concerns of students had to do with the food offered in the snack bar and Wi-Fi concerns. The snack bar manager has stated that it is too costly to make changes. Mr. Warkentin stated that we will be going to bid for the student center in the late spring of next year and food service is being considered for the student center. Parking lots will be added and will bend around southward along with this project. Regarding the safety concerns, diligent records will be kept and a safety booklet is being developed to be given to students in the fall. Wi-Fi installations will be placed in strategic areas (hot spots). Students also want more KART access. Jose stated that a meeting with the KART supervisor had been requested with no response. Mr. Warkentin commented that he will contact the county supervisor if necessary. The ramps leading up to the library were mentioned as when it rains they become slippery. Students have suggested that grading be done on the cement in this area. Students have asked about having class rings and memorabilia for purchase and they are working to develop an insignia. The lighting around campus has been corrected. It is run by computer which has to be programmed. Students would like to have sidewalks along Bush Avenue, but this is something we cannot control as it is private property owned by developers. It will eventually happen. Additionally, students have concerns with counseling and advising errors. These concerns are to be addressed by the learning areas. A student handbook will come out this summer and provide explanation of all the acronyms used. The SARS system is working great and will help students with scheduling and tracking. The next project will be e-SARS. Angela asked Ron Oxford to e-mail her regarding the tutoring component for SARS. A group location needs to be created. Jose mentioned that a student satisfaction survey will be taken regarding the portal and customer service. The Student Government Association is planning a club rush. A new club has been developed; Alpha Gamma Sigma, it has 64 members and is led by sociology instructor, Vera Kennedy. Also a Culinary Club has been established.

This matrix refers back to the Student Town Hall Forum on 2/27/2009. Mr. Warkentin would like it to be identified separately for historical purposes and to show that this has been an on-going effort as more of these are held. He believes these type of activities are an excellent representation of evidence toward institutional effectiveness and improvement. Showing that our student body is becoming more active (i.e. student clubs) and their involvement increasing should be included in the accreditation self study, Standard 2.

3. Program Review Summary Form

Dave Bolt stated that it was brought up at the last PGC meeting that the summary sheet we discussed in the fall had not been included in the recent program reviews. He asked if there were other thoughts about this summary sheet and if all three sheets were necessary. David Babb commented that he understood this was to be a one page quick summary. Mr. Warkentin asked for consensus on a one page summary sheet, with the consensus result being to use only the front one page summary sheet. Marty Ennes questioned if the form could be e-mailed to those in the process of completing their program reviews. Dave suggested that the form be used on an experimental/pilot basis for the remainder of the semester. There are six more program reviews in progress.

4. Student Government Association (SGA)

- ASB/SGA Student Body Card monies

Angel reported that SGA has completed revision of their constitution and voted on it. It now needs to be sent to Dean Lopez.

Haiti Relief – Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson reported that $530 has been received from the culinary program. Dave Bolt questioned if an individual's contribution would be tax deductible. This will be funneled through the Foundation and will be tax deductible.

Marty Ennes suggested getting information out to faculty and staff regarding their contributions being tax deductible.

The Student Government Association is providing face painting at the Pizza Festival on April 15 – 17. There will be a circus and carnival set up in parking lot east of the library. The parking lots will need to be blocked off on Friday through Sunday for this event. David Babb suggested signage be placed to inform faculty. Angel asked about the findings concerning the ASB/SGA student body cards. Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson reported that the athletes are charged $7.50 per semester and it is put into an account by the district's director of accounting. The collection of these monies is a result of NC2A athletic requirements. The regulations are still needed in printed form. The monies are to eventually be accessible to students provided the proper process is followed. Tammy Weatherman, Director of Accounting, is planning to work with the colleges to put the necessary mechanisms in place. America Bryant commented that she understands that students can get a $100 loan from this account, and that it is paid back to this account. Student body fees can be charged if the association is chartered and they vote to charge a student body fee. Sylvia believes that this process needs more work and investigation. Ron Oxford stated that he has an issue concerning the various identification cards used by students. The library has three full-time employees and one employee spends a vast majority of her time dealing with sixteen different types of student identification cards. Ron feels this should not be a library function. He stated that it is a cumbersome process and seems inappropriate for this to be exclusively handled in the library. Mr. Warkentin responded that there are future plans to expand the 100 building and these types of services will be addressed in the new locations therein: i.e. business office, admissions and records, etc.).

5. Curriculum Committee Report

Stephanie Droker reported that they have not had a Curriculum Committee meeting as there are technical issues. There are problems with the portal and Blackboard.

6. Academic Senate Report

Stephanie Droker reported that the Academic Senate met last Monday and they are working on tenure resolutions to be voted on at the next Monday's meeting. Tenure recommendations will be given to President Warkentin thereafter. There is four faculty being considered for tenure.

7. Accreditation

Dave Bolt reported that they are reviewing each standard one standard at a time in the President's Executive Cabinet meetings. They are currently reviewing Standard 2 D. Standard 3 has been given to the writer; 3B will be done any day now, and 3C will be done by the end of next week. They are also discussing a potential substantive change report as 50% of our degrees can now be completed in an online format.

8. Report from Committee Representative

a) Student Learning Outcomes Committee (SLOC)

David Babb reported that the SLOC will have their first meeting on Monday.

b) Institutional Effectiveness and Program Review Committee (IEPRC)

Dave Bolt reported that the IEPRC has received a number of program reviews and they are going through the process. They are also going to review the program review booklet for accuracy and they intend to make a distinct difference between the instructional and non instructional program review booklets. Mr. Warkentin interjected that WASC does not care how we conduct program reviews, just that we are doing program reviews.

c) Budget Allocation Committee (BAC)

Dave Bolt reported that the BAC met yesterday and they have over $36, 000 of lottery money to spend which is a carryover from last year. They are looking at budget requests from the area committees. Strategies to fully expend the funds will need to be discussed. They have some confusion about the budget process. There is the proposed tentative budget, the lottery monies, and new request items. They are going to look at the different activities and make this concern a discussion item at their meetings.

d) Employee Development and Success Committee (EDSC)

Marlon Hall reported that EDSC will meet today. They are involved with the classified staff development day on 2/12 and the lunch speaker is a member of the EDSC. Cathy Barabe has offered to give a workshop on grant writing and she would like to see participation by faculty. EEO and sexual harassment training are to be coordinated as further training opportunities.

e) Student Success Committee (SSC)

Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson reported that SSC has a meeting on Monday.

f) Facilities, Safety and Auxiliary Services Committee (FSSC)

John Ieronimo was in attendance on behalf of John Bernal. He reported that they had met with the landscape architect regarding the new Multi-use Sports Complex. He landscape architect had let them know the proposed changes of plants on campus. There will be more Chinese Pistachio trees with no more oleanders. He also provided ideas for the salt problem, i.e. additives. He additionally talked about the need for leaching the soil for the betterment of the plants. They spoke about the existing pump and a new pump for new buildings. Mr. Warkentin reported that a meeting was held with the architect and they have spoken to a professional promoter concerning the Multi-use Sports Complex. The construction is moving along on schedule. The building will allow for 3,000 persons.

g) Technology Committee (TC)

Ron Oxford reported that the TC has not met. They are still working on the meeting schedule. They have done work on the portal and they are also working to expand communication. There will be links to the various team sites at the district level. The leader's team for technology is being driven from the district and there are eight team members. Ron does not think the teams are meeting as yet. The communication is still not there.

10. Strategic Planning Grid (11/13/09)

Stephanie Droker reported that she has finalized the grid and has sent it to Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson. Sylvia reported that she, Ron Oxford, and Marlon Hall had met to assign the various concerns to the appropriate governance teams. Sylvia briefly reviewed the grid. Marty questioned why plagiarism was assigned to the Planning and Governance Council (PGC). Sylvia responded that they had looked at the definition of each committee in an attempt to make assignments. She stated that assignments can still be changed. Stephanie Droker pointed out that student concerns should be changed to concerns at this point as the session had other participants, not only students. She also pointed out that pages 12 and 13 should not be included in this particular version of the grid. Mr. Warkentin commented that this type of information represents institutional effectiveness and is a strong source of evidence for two of our self study standards. Sylvia will make corrections to the grid and send it for inclusion on the PGC agenda for approval at the next meeting. There is concern about new employee orientation for staff and administration. They were not sure where to assign this.

11. Graduation Committee

Jose Lopez reported that graduation will be held on Thursday, May 27 at the same location and at the same time. There is still no speaker identified and he would like suggestions. He presented another version of the insignia. Mr. Warkentin will check with the chancellor's office to see if Board of Trustee approval is needed for an insignia. Marty Ennes commented that she likes this one much better. Tasks are being assigned to Graduation Committee members. Mr. Warkentin would like any special graduation stories to be sent to him for his graduation speech, i.e. father/daughter graduates, etc.

12. Other

Jose Lopez reported that an activity to raise money for scholarships is being coordinated and it is entitled "Cooking for Scholars." Three chefs, including our own culinary instructor, Christian Raia, will have a cook-off later this spring. The cost is to be $25 per plate.

Marty Ennes reported that once again there are problems with the bookstore ordering the wrong books; not enough books, multiple copies, books not ordered, and the bookstore seems to not be receptive to getting this figured out. Faculty and students are very frustrated. The book form sent by Amber Avitia, Educational Services Secretary, for a 48 hr. delivery was not helpful. It did not work. Mr. Warkentin asked Marty to gather a list of concerns and he will forward these to Vice Chancellor Stoppenbrink and ask him to deal with it. A secret shopper was sent to the bookstore recently and a positive report was received, although they were not purchasing books.

Mr. Warkentin announced that there is a Board of Trustee retreat on Friday, February 5th.

13. Agenda items for next meeting

- Child Development Program Review

- Strategic Planning Grid from 11/13/2009 (To make sure the right committees are assigned.)
- Other completed program reviews

14. Adjournment

The meeting was adjourned at 3:20 p.m.

Board Policy 2410 Policy and Administrative Procedure

Reference: Education Code Section 70902; Accreditation Standard IV.B.1.b and e

The Board may adopt such policies as are authorized by law or determined by the Board to be necessary for the efficient operation of the District. Board policies are intended to be statements of intent by the Board on a specific issue within its subject matter jurisdiction.

The policies have been written to be consistent with provisions of law, but do not encompass all laws relating to district activities. All district employees are expected to know of and observe all provisions of law pertinent to their job responsibilities.

Policies of the Board may be adopted, revised, added to or amended at any regular board meeting by a majority vote. Proposed changes or additions shall be introduced not less than one regular meeting prior to the meeting at which action is recommended.

Administrative procedures are to be issued by the Chancellor as statements of method to be used in implementing Board Policy. Such administrative procedures shall be consistent with the intent of Board Policy. Administrative procedures may be revised as deemed necessary by the Chancellor.

The Chancellor shall, annually, provide each member of the Board with copies of the policies and administrative procedures or any revisions since the last time they were provided. The Board reserves the right to direct revisions of the administrative procedures should they, in the Board's judgment, be inconsistent with the Board's own policies.

All policies and administrative procedures shall be readily available through the Chancellor's Office and/or the District website.

Board approval date: 9/23/03

Revisions approved by the Board: 3/7/06

Administrative Procedure 2410 Policy and Administrative Procedure

Reference: Education Code Section 70902

Board Policies and Administrative Procedures are regularly reviewed by the Chancellor's Office. The Chancellor makes recommendations to the Board of Trustees concerning revisions to existing policies and procedures or the development of new policies and procedures to ensure that they are current and comply with state and federal laws.

Any employee, student, or member of the public may initiate a review or development of any policy or procedure by submitting a request or recommendation in writing to the Chancellor's Office.

Review and Approval Process

Upon receipt of the request or recommendation, the Chancellor's Office may refer to the Community College League's Policy and Procedure Service for recommended or legally advised language. The Chancellor's Office may also use the Policy and Procedure listserv to query other districts for related Board Policies or Administrative Procedures. In some instances, the Chancellor's Office may request that legal counsel review the policy or procedure language. Other employees with expertise in specific areas governed by a Board Policy or Administrative Procedure may also be consulted during the review process.

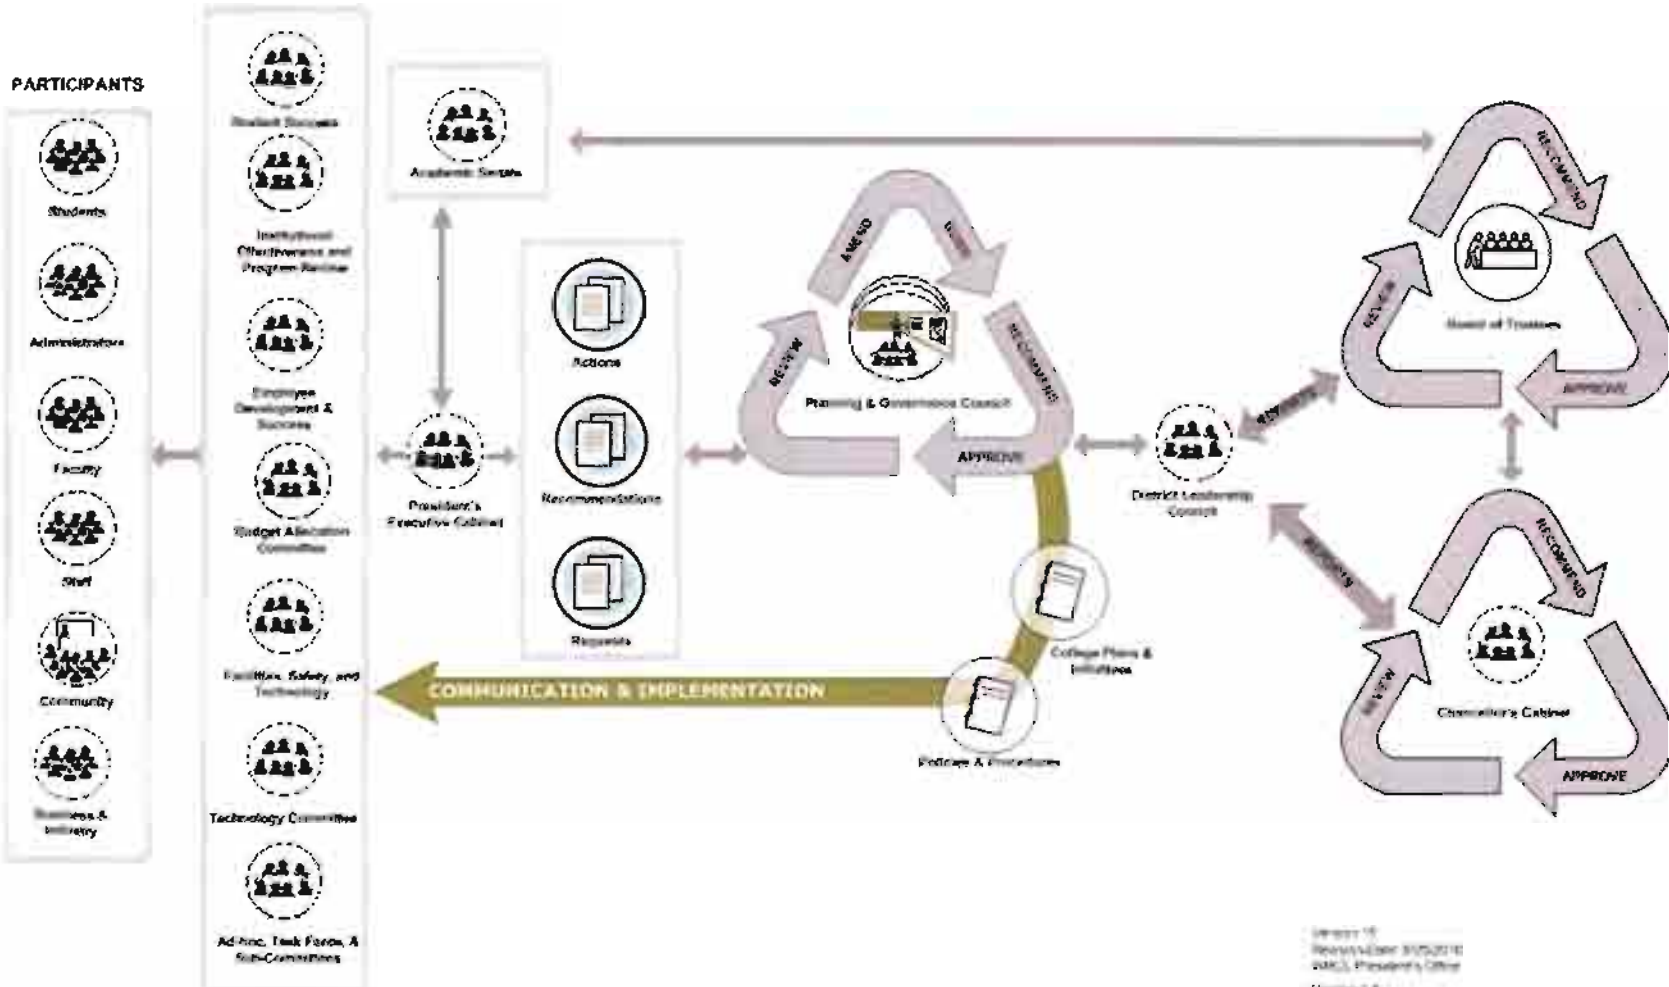

After initial review by the Chancellor's Office, the policy and/or procedure will be routed to the supervisor, manager or Dean of the appropriate department, if applicable, for review (i.e. Student Services, Human Resources, Business Office, etc.). Following the applicable review, the policy and/or procedure will be routed as follows:

1. Policy and/or procedure to be reviewed and discussed by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet.
2. After review by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet, the policy and/or procedure will be sent to the College Planning Council (CPC) at West Hills College Coalinga and the Planning and Governance Council (PGC) at West Hills College Lemoore (through the College Presidents) for review and approval, if applicable. Simultaneously, the policy and/or procedure will be sent to the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President as a courtesy.
3. Review and approval by the Academic Senate Presidents will be requested only if the policy and/or procedure deal(s) with academic and professional matters. Review and approval by the Faculty Association President will only be requested if the policy and/or procedure has or will have a significant effect on faculty.
4. After review by the CPC and the PGC, any comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure shall be sent to the Chancellor's Office by the College Presidents.

Others present:

Donna Isaac, Executive Assistant

Members absent:

John Ieronimo, CSEA President

Update and Progress on Accreditation

Frank Gornick briefly commented on the Leadership Retreat held on Friday, October 29 and the presentation by Norval Wellsfry with regard to the colleges' accreditation self studies.

Don Warkentin stated that it was interesting to have a Commissioner from the Accrediting Commission make comments about the self studies. He stated that he thinks there is a disconnect between the training that is provided to colleges and what the Commissioners are looking for when they read the reports. Don reported that he has Norv's annotated comments and has shared them with his staff and they will now be reviewing the report in their specific areas of expertise. The self study will be ready for a first reading by the Board of Trustees in December, with approval to follow in January. Don explained that one of the areas of the self study for West Hills College Lemoore that needs attention is to emphasize the importance of the self evaluation piece.

Jill Stearns reported that she and Sarah Shepard will be meeting later in the week to determine how to reevaluate the work that has been done on the self study. West Hills College Coalinga was hoping to be able to have the final bound document for the Board of Trustees at their January meeting.

Discussion took place concerning the evidence that will be linked to the self study. It was agreed that a CD of the documentation will be an easy way to handle this.

Don initiated discussion on the need for a code of ethics for employees. He stated that this needs to be in place prior to the visit. Frank stated that this policy can be added to the Policy and Procedure Review Schedule.

SB 1440 Implementation

Anita Bart reported that a webinar is being held on Wednesday, November 3 for the Academic Senate. Frank stated that the webinar should provide good information for faculty, counselors and advisors. Kurt Sterling discussed information on the course identification program (C-ID). He stated that agriculture and communication courses are done and sociology has been finalized.

Board Policies and Administrative Procedures

The following Board Policies and Administrative Procedures were reviewed by the group:

- BP 4030, Academic Freedom – Kurt reported that he sent out a request to Academic Senate Presidents asking for examples of updated policies and the faculty are actively working on this. Marty Ennes stated that the language in the current policy is out of date. Frank stated that a first reading of the policy by the Board of Trustees is scheduled for December 7, 2010. Consideration is scheduled for January 18, 2011.
- AP 4045, College Library Fines – The group agreed to the proposed changes. Frank stated that the procedure is currently under review by the various college groups.
- BP & AP 4110, Honorary Degrees – The group agreed to the proposed new policy and procedure. Frank reported that the policy and procedure are currently under review by the various college groups. A first reading by the Board of Trustees is scheduled for January 18, 2011. Consideration is scheduled for February 15, 2011.

District Mission and Vision Statement

Frank explained that the district mission and vision statements are in the process of being reviewed. The goals will also need to be updated. Pedro Avila reported that he and Carole Goldsmith will be working on the new goals that were determined as a result of the Strategic Planning Retreat and should have them ready before the end of the year.

Marty requested that the draft revision be sent electronically.

Other Business

Completion by Design – Frank reported that staff are working with a consultant and are in the process of pulling together the application for the Gates Foundation grant. West Hills will serve as the lead agency and several other colleges will join us. He explained that we are going to try to do things based on research including first generation, low income and underserved populations.

District Leadership Council

Introduction

West Hills College Lemoore (WHCL) opened its doors in January 2002 with initial facilities that included a library/learning resource center, academic learning center, and administrative/student services building. In 2005, the college added phase two facilities which included additional classrooms, vocational laboratories, and a child development center.

WHCL received its initial accreditation in June 2006 making it the only full service accredited college in Kings County. In November, 2008, the voters approved Measure E in the amount of $31 million which is being used as matching funds to construct phase three facilities. These projects include a multiuse sports complex, additional field sports, an additional academic center, a performing arts center, and additional administrative offices. Phase three construction began in October 2009 with the ground breaking of the multiuse sports complex.

The College's Strategic Plan serves as the roadmap to guide the development of the college's Educational Master Plan, Facilities Master Plan, the Technology Master Plan, and the Distance Education Master Plan. Combined these plans assist the college in meeting its goals and evaluating its programs and services.

Each year, a broadly represented group of faculty, staff, students, community members and administration meet to review and revise the College's Strategic Plan to better identify and address the needs of the community we serve.

WHCL's mission statement appropriately identifies who our students are and signifies a commitment to student learning outcomes utilizing innovation, goal orientated strategies, and community partnerships to provide excellent learning opportunities. We have identified institutional outcomes that will ensure that our students are prepared with the skills and experiences needed to succeed in the world of work or to transfer to four year institutions of higher learning. These outcomes and their methods of assessments (including data, interpretations, and strategies for improvement) are detailed in this document (see the WHCL Institutional Outcome Short Form, pp. 21 - 24).

Through a process of regular evaluation and review, we will be able to constantly update and revise programs or develop new programs to meet current demand. Our faculty will be provided with the latest technology and means of delivery to provide high quality instructional experiences to our students. Faculty will have access to the latest training opportunities to further enhance their curriculum and course delivery modalities. Our administrators will have the tools and information available to make effective and reliable decisions that are based on sound leadership practices. Together, all of these efforts will provide our students with high quality learning and success toward their individual goals.

Executive Summary

From the beginning WHCL has recognized the importance of responding to the community. Through advisory committees meetings and meetings with public sector representatives, private industry, and neighboring institutions of higher learning, the college has developed programs and services that are proactively addressing community educational and workforce requirements. Not only do such programs meet the employer needs of the area, but they also offer work training opportunities to students who are underrepresented, many of whom struggle academically.

WHCL's collaborating partners are vital to our students' success. WHCL has on-going partnerships with the local hospitals, workforce investments boards (WIBS), county administrative offices, local feeder high schools, four year universities, as well as many industry representatives.

The development of recent educational programs such as the associate degree in nursing, culinary arts certificates, maintenance mechanic certificate, health and human services certificates, and the associate's degree in web development are shining examples of WHCL's commitment to collaboration, developing career pathways, and exceeding our local community's workforce development needs.

WHCL's commitment to the community is strengthened by supporting various programs and services on and off campus. These programs and services include a grant funded by Kings County to offer GED Preparation Classes to assist adults who have not yet graduated from high school, local business events like the Chamber of Commerce Pizza Festival to increase local business visibility, upper division and post baccalaureate courses from Fresno Pacific University and CSU Fresno, and community education courses that provide learning enrichment for our neighboring citizens.

In addition, the college is responsive to the needs of Naval Air Station Lemoore. With a base resident population of approximately 7,000 active military personnel and dependents, the college is a valued source of education for the base. The college maintains an office and classrooms on the base, but most base students also come to the college campus. The needs of these personnel are varied, ranging from newly enlisted servicemen who may have little education and are in need of basic classes, to highly educated military personnel and dependents. WHCL seeks to offer courses to meet the spectrum of requirements, and works closely with base officials to select and design these courses.

WHCL faculty, staff, and administrators also know that education does not only occur within the classroom. In order to enhance the learning opportunities of the community we serve, WHCL provides outreach services and brings local events to broaden social awareness of diverse socio-economic issues. Previous events have included nationally recognized authors, cultural celebrations, visiting delegates from other nations, and political activists.

Strategic Planning Process

As a result of the West Hills Community College District's strategic planning process, West Hills College Lemoore has developed its own strategic plan to align with the district's mission, vision, and strategic goals.

The strategic planning process begins each fall semester with the identification of administrators, faculty, staff, students, and community members who will make up the Strategic Planning Committee. The purpose of this committee is to evaluate, revise, and improve the college's strategic plan. Although this plan is a long term commitment to the college's mission and vision, annual review is required to keep our institution focused on current trends and changes that affect our students' total development. This annual review ensures accuracy, relevancy, and alignment with the district's overall mission. The college's performance indicators are assessed annually to ensure adherence to the college's mission and vision statements.

Planning meetings consist of information gathering sessions which include an internal and external scan. The internal scan includes discussion of student demographics (current and anticipated), student success indicators, college needs and challenges, and an assessment of our successes and our opportunities for growth. The external scan includes discussion of population trends, economic growth, job training needs, impact of the Lemoore Naval Air Station, and other external factors that will affect the college.

The success of the strategic planning process is dependent upon the college's shared governance system. Responses from the strategic planning sessions are tracked and mapped to specific committee or department personnel for implementation. Timelines are determined and a communication network has been developed to inform the college shareholders of these outcomes.

The Strategic Planning Committee (its participating students, faculty, staff, administrators, and community members) are to be commended for their commitment to our college and for their collaborative efforts in support of our comprehensive planning process. Successful implementation of the college strategic plan and its evaluation will require the ongoing participation of the shared governance process (councils/committees, college students, faculty and staff, and the community) as we work together to achieve our mission, vision, and goals.

Mission/Vision and Institutional Outcomes

Mission Statement

West Hills College Lemoore enriches the lives of our students and the community we serve by being dedicated to quality educational learning opportunities and partnerships. The college provides a positive environment that is committed to student learning and empowering students to achieve their educational goals.

Vision Statement

Learning Through Excellence and Innovation.

Institutional Outcome 1 - WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community.

Measurements:

1. Community Participation Rates
2. High School Graduates Participation Rates
3. Overall Success Rates
4. Overall Retention Rates
5. Persistence Rates (continuous enrollment)
6. Student Learning Outcomes Implementation and assessment

Institutional Outcome 2 - WHCL is committed to empower students to achieve their educational goals.

Measurements:

1. Basic skills math successful course completion & retention
2. Basic skills ESL successful course completion & retention
3. Basic skills English successful course completion & retention
4. Vocational courses successful course completion & retention
5. Degree and certificate completion
6. Transfers to four year institutions

Institutional Outcome 3 - WHCL will effectively maintain and increase its resources and productivity.

Measurements:

1. Monitor Student Headcount
2. Meet Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) Goals
3. Successful Grant Acquisitions
4. Increase Revenue Generated by Outside Capitol Campaign Activities

Institutional Outcome 4 - WHCL will identify and disaggregate its student population groups.

Measurements:

1. Monitor student demographics (age, ethnicity, gender, socio-economic status)
2. Identify special populations as determined by categorical programs
3. Monitor veterans and dependents

Guiding Principles

West Hills College Lemoore is student-centered and is dedicated to providing high quality learning opportunities. We are guided by our core values:

Access: Ensure accessibility to all our programs and services.

Collaboration: Emphasize efforts to understand and meet community needs and garner community support. Support collaborative decision-making processes.

Community: Develop and foster a sense of community within the college.

Diversity: Respect and embrace diversity in our programs and learning environments.

Excellence: Provide high quality learning, teaching, and service opportunities.

Innovation: Support innovation and technology to enhance learning environments, services, and communication.

Integrity: Advocate and demonstrate honesty, truthfulness, equity, and ethics.

Mutual Respect: Promote an environment of open communication.

Themes

There are several “themes” woven into each of the Institutional Outcomes and their respective success indicators.

Institutional Commitments to provide high quality educational programs and services consistent with the institutional and college mission by focusing on student learning;

Evaluation, Planning, and Improvement is an ongoing process that includes goal setting; distribution of funding, facilities and staffing; implementation, and reevaluation;

Student Learning Outcomes demonstrates the college’s effectiveness to produce and support student learning by developing student learning outcomes at the course, program, certificate, and degree level;

Organization is demonstrated by having adequate staff, resources and a shared governance decision-making process to identify and make public: student learning outcomes, to evaluate the effectiveness of programs in producing those outcomes, and to make improvements;

Dialogue is open and honest participation in the college’s process of self-reflection based on reliable information about the college’s programs and services and evidence on how well the institution is meeting student needs;

Institutional Integrity is demonstrated by concern with honesty, truthfulness, and the manner in which the college represents itself to all communities, internal and external.

Data Analysis

Strategic Planning provides an opportunity to evaluate the demographics and characteristics of our students and their educational goals. We use this data (performance indicators) to discern patterns and trends. This information also provides different modalities of assessment to ensure that we are achieving our institutional outcomes.

WHCL's performance indicators are mapped back to our mission statement and institutional outcomes. Data is collected annually to address and measure each institutional outcome.

Institutional Outcome 1 - WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community. Providing quality education is the mission of West Hills College Lemoore. In order to evaluate our performance for this institutional outcome, data is collected from different sources and used as key measurements to determine the college's level of achievement. Measurements include: Community Participation Rates, High School Graduates Participation Rates, Overall Success Rates, Overall Retention Rates, Persistence Rates (continuous enrollment), and Student Learning Outcomes Implementation and Assessment.

For the 2008 – 2009 academic year, it was noted that Avenal and Kettlemen City have the lowest population participation rates (1.a). These two cities are located farthest from the WHCL campus. This data supports the idea that a campus center is needed in Avenal. Strategy: Funds from the recent bond measure have been allocated to develop a center (to provide classes and support programs) in Avenal.

Another trend to note concerns retention rates (1.c). Retention rates have been on a declining trend for the past four years. Retention has a direct impact on student success rates; therefore, success rates have declined at almost the same rate as retention. Online retention rates are about 5 percentage points below face-to-face retention rates. Strategy: This issue was discussed at the Distance Education Strategic Planning retreat and has become a top priority for the Distance Education program.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLO) Assessment (1.d) continues to drive the college's curricula evaluation review process. SLO have been written for all college courses, and faculty and staff have persisted to develop and assess outcomes for programs and services. Strategy: Continue SLO development and assessment to ensure curricula and support services are evaluated consistently and accurately.

Institutional Outcome 2 - WHCL is committed to empower students to achieve their educational goals. Empowering students is the mission of West Hills College Lemoore. Institutional outcome measurements are: Basic Skills Math Successful Course Completion and Retention Rates, Basic Skills English as a Second Language (ESL) Successful Course

Completion and Retention Rates, Basic Skills English Successful Course Completion and Retention Rates, Vocational Courses Successful Course Completion and Retention Rates (areas of study include: Administration of Justice, Business, Computer Information Systems, Culinary, Child Development, Health Sciences, Nursing, and Social Work), and Degree and Certificate Completion Rates, and Transfers Rates to Four Year Institutions. ~~(Rather than this, I think we should simply enumerate what we are counting as vocational courses. This could be done in a parenthetical statement after "Vocational Courses.")~~

For this institutional outcome, it is noted that Basic Skills English Success Rates are comparable to the statewide average. In addition, English as a Second Language (ESL) and Math success rates are well above the state wide average. It should be noted that about 50% of first-term students are placing into basic skills English and Math. Due to staffing and enrollment issues, the English as a Second Language (ESL) classes were discontinued aAs of the Spring 2009 semester. English as a Second Language (ESL) classes have been discontinued. Data supports the need for ESL classes to be reintroduced into the course schedule in order for WHCL to maintain its commitment to ESL students. ~~WHCL's commitment to students who meet basic skills academic levels is commendable.~~ WHCL has instituted other support systems to support basic skills. For example, WHCL's English lab, (a tutoring lab to support basic skills programs in this discipline) assists students to achieve their academic goals.

Data supports the idea that WHCL's English Lab has helped students develop foundational skills in order for them to ~~ace~~ excel above basic skill capabilities. ~~(a tutoring lab to support basic skills programs in this discipline) assists students to achieve their academic goals.~~

Vocational Courses Success and Retention Rates (2.b) continue to be below our peer group benchmark average. For the past three years, our vocational success rates have been one of the lowest in the state. It has become apparent that the nature of this classroom format (open entry lab) for the Business and Computer Science courses have consistently made it difficult to manage student attendance. Faculty became aware of this challenge and worked with administration to reformat these classes. ~~generated low success rates.~~ Data supports the idea that an open entry classroom lab must be adjusted to a more traditional classroom format in order to promote student success. Strategy: Change Business and Computer Science courses from open entry lab format to traditional classroom format.

Institutional Outcome 3 - WHCL will effectively maintain and increase its resources and productivity. Measurements for this institutional outcome are: Monitor Student Headcount, Meet Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) Goals, Successful Grant Acquisitions, and Increase Revenue Generated by Outside Capitol Campaign Activities.

WHCL (and the district as a whole) has steadily increased student head count and full time equivalency rates (FTES). In fact, with the current state budget issues, the California

Community College Chancellor's Office (system office), has decreased WHCL's FTES generation quota in order to meet the state budget cuts. These cuts are in spite of the increasing student enrollment that all California Community Colleges are facing.

WHCL has also been very successful with increasing access to soft money funding through grants and in-kind services. In the 2008 – 2009 academic year alone, WHCL received nearly $5 million in soft money funding. Strategy: Continue to work with the district's grant and marketing departments to capitalize on additional grant acquisitions and in kind service donations to augment district budget cuts where possible.

Institutional Outcome1 - WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community.

West Hills College Lemoore Institutional Outcomes

Originator(s): Stephanie Droker – Faculty/Strategic Planning Committee

Date: 8/18/10

I. Expected Outcomes Defined
IO 1: WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community.
IO 2: WHCL is committed to empower students to achieve their educational goals.
IO 3: WHCL will effectively maintain and increase its resources and productivity.
IO 4: WHCL will identify and disaggregate its student population groups.

II. Mapping Institutional Outcomes to the College Mission Statement

West Hills College Lemoore enriches the lives of our students and the community we serve by being dedicated to quality educational learning opportunities and partnerships. The college provides a positive environment that is committed to student learning and empowering students to achieve their educational goals.

Institutional Outcome 1: WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community. Mapping: “quality educational learning opportunities.”

Institutional Outcome 2: WHCL is committed to empower students to achieve their educational goals. Mapping: “empowering students to achieve their educational goals.”

Institutional Outcome 3: WHCL will effectively maintain and increase its resources and productivity. Mapping: “The college provides a positive environment that is committed to student learning.” The college must effectively maintain and increase its resources and productivity in order to meet our mission and goals.

Institutional Outcome 4: WHCL will identify and disaggregate its student population groups. Mapping: “West Hills College Lemoore enriches the lives of our students and the community we serve.” The college must identify all of our student groups in order to facilitate inclusion and determine the best possible strategies for educational and support service deliverance.

III. Defining Assessment of Institutional Outcomes

Identify appropriate assessment methodologies for the outcomes, including summative assessments where appropriate.

IO 1

1. Community Participation Rates
2. High School Graduates Participation Rates
3. Overall Success Rates
4. Overall Retention Rates
5. Persistence Rates (continuous enrollment)
6. Student Learning Outcomes Implementation and assessment.

IO 2

1. Basic skills math successful course completion & retention
2. Basic skills ESL successful course completion & retention
3. Basic skills English successful course completion & retention
4. Vocational courses successful course completion & retention
5. Degree and certificate completion
6. Transfers to four year institutions

IO 3

1. Monitor Student Headcount
2. Meet Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) Goals
3. Successful Grant Acquisitions
4. Increase Revenue Generated by Outside Capitol Campaign Activities

IO 4

1. Monitor student demographics (age, ethnicity, gender, socio-economic status)
2. Identify special populations as determined by categorical programs
3. Monitor veterans and dependents

4.) IV. Assessing Institutional Outcomes, Planning, and Improvements

Assessments for all institutional outcomes are reviewed annually by the Strategic Planning Committee. Assessment data, results, interpretations, and resulting modifications are located within the Strategic Planning Manual.

Additionally, the college mission and vision statements (the originating document in which these institutional outcomes are derived), are reviewed annually by the Strategic Planning Committee. Suggestions for modifications of these statements are then forwarded to the Planning and Governance Council (which seeks input from all college constituencies) for approval, and if so moved, forwarded to the Board of Trustees for approval and implementation.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

STRATEGIC PLAN 2006 – 2010

Letter from District Chancellor

Dear Community Member,

The noted 21st century American philosopher, Yogi Berra, once said, "If you don't know where you are going, you will wind up somewhere else." Organizations, including colleges, are a lot like people. When time isn't taken to develop a strategic direction of service we tend to lose focus and become satisfied with being "close enough" to our mission.

In prior years, our strategic planning has been laser focused on facilities, access, technology, personnel, diversity, marketing and finances. Those plans were developed for one college, which had fallen on hard times, and two centers that were in need of attention. Our District now serves two thriving colleges, Coalinga and Lemoore, and two successful centers, the North District Center in Firebaugh and Naval Air Station, Lemoore. The District also maintains a robust online program to serve students anywhere in the world. The need to evolve and serve our communities is compelling, and a strategic plan will help provide the direction and focus needed for our employees and students.

To that end, our latest effort in strategic planning for the District took place this past year. It was important to all of us because it was the first plan that was developed as a two-college district. Devoting this time and energy to planning not only assists us with information sharing and communication, but also is consistent with recommendations of the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges.

What is presented in the pages of this Strategic Plan is our best effort to provide clear direction for our employees and the citizens of this District. It is a living document that will change as we receive annual input from a variety of individuals and groups in our service area.

Very truly yours,

Frank Gornick, Chancellor

History of the District

West Hills Community College District has been serving the educational needs of the San Joaquin Valley's west side for over seven decades. We encompass a 3,464 square mile region that includes portions of five surrounding counties: Fresno, Kings, Madera, Monterey and San Benito.

The District began in 1932 with the establishment of a college for the Coalinga Union High School District. On October 3, 1932, Coalinga Extension Center of Fresno State College officially opened its doors to higher education. In September 1941, Coalinga Junior College became an independent unit under the direction of the Governing Board of the Coalinga Union High School District. In 1956, the current campus at the north end of Coalinga on Cherry Lane opened to students.

In 1962, residents of the Lemoore, Riverdale and Tranquillity High School Districts voted to become part of West Hills Community College District. To meet the needs of students in these areas, West Hills College built the North District Center in the city of Firebaugh in 1971, and served students in the Lemoore area from 1962 to 1979 primarily at Naval Air Station, Lemoore and Lemoore High School. In 1979, the District purchased land in the city of Lemoore, and a classroom building and office were erected in 1981. In 1991 the California Postsecondary Education Commission established the Kings County Center as the official Higher Education Center for Kings County. The Commission stated that the service area of the center was to include the cities of Laton, Armona and Hanford. This was significant for the District because California was now willing to use state funds to assist WHCCD with the construction of permanent facilities in Kings County.

The Board of Trustees has determined that it will maintain two viable and comprehensive colleges in the cities of Coalinga and Lemoore with current educational centers in Firebaugh and at Naval Air Station, Lemoore.

The Board believes that because of our geographic location and the distribution of our cities, the ability to maintain access to higher education opportunities is essential for our communities to grow and prosper.

West Hills Community College District Service Area

In 2000, West Hills Community College District alumni Robert and Mardell Pedersen, and Mardell's parents, Lola and Lionel Semas, donated 107 acres of land for a new campus just west of Highway 41 at Bush Street. Construction began on what would become California's first new community college built in the 21st century. In 2001, the Board of Governors granted the campus "college" status and West Hills College Lemoore welcomed students for the first time on January 14, 2002. The College still maintains an office and classrooms at Naval Air Station, Lemoore.

National and State Recognition

West Hills Community College District has been nationally recognized for its work. In 2002, the MetLife Foundation named West Hills as the nation's small community college that best serves the needs of a diverse student population and helps move people into "livable wage" jobs. More recently, West Hills was recognized nationally by Campus Compact for serving as a model of student civic engagement.

West Hills has designation as an Hispanic Serving Institution and in 2004 was recognized by the California State Community College Chancellor's Office for having increased the diversity of its administrative staff by the most of any community college during the previous ten years.

The Student Population

West Hills Community College District is a "minority-majority area," a service area in which a minority ethnic group is the numerical majority, with Hispanics being the largest group. With over 12,000 students enrolled in the 2004-2005 academic year, WHCCD's student population is 45.2% Hispanic,

38% White, 7.1%
African American,
7.7% Asian, 0.7%
Pacific Islander

and 1.3% Native American. The average student age is 27. Seventy percent of WHCCD students are first generation college students. Based on financial need, 44% of all students who attended WHCCD in the 2004-2005 academic year received enrollment fee waivers.

"We are very proud of the story told by these numbers."

Source: US Census (2000); WHCCD Data Warehouse

Approximately 29% of graduates from our service area high schools enroll at West Hills Community College District; these graduates make up 74% of our freshmen student population. It is also significant that 76 out of 1,000 adult residents in the District attended WHCCD during the 2004-2005 academic year.

Since 2001, the number of degrees and certificates awarded by WHCCD has increased by 37.5%. In 2005, WHCCD awarded 543 degrees and certificates. In addition, the number of transfers to four-year institutions (UC and CSU) has increased by 53.2%. In 2005 WHCCD transferred a total of 170 students to California four-year public institutions.

We are committed to the success of our students.

The District continues to experience significant growth: during the past six academic years (1999-2000 to 2004-2005) the student headcount has grown by 10.7% and the number of full time equivalent students (FTES) has grown by 37%.

Strategic Planning Process

Striving for Excellence

West Hills Community College District will be a District that:

- Aggressively pursues excellence
- Is responsive to its students and the community
- Forges partnerships with its communities
- Functions as a team with pride and ownership
- Strives for cutting-edge excellence while appreciating its history
- Offers high quality education programs and support services
- Is responsive to community educational needs
- Is accessible to students
- Is technologically advanced
- Is committed to student success
- Honors its ethnic diversity
- Pursues creative methods of instruction

History of Strategic Planning

Although West Hills Community College District has conducted several planning efforts to provide a foundation for the success we now enjoy, this document is our first comprehensive Strategic Plan. In addition, both colleges have developed strategic plans. For each of these previous efforts, students, faculty, classified staff, administrative staff and members of the Board of Trustees have enthusiastically contributed to the process.

In 1995 the District developed its first Facilities Plan that analyzed possibilities for room utilization in Coalinga and expansion in Lemoore and Firebaugh. It also set the direction for the renovation of the Coalinga campus, and the expansion of the Lemoore location, which ultimately led to our first bond, Measure G, passing in 1998.

Knowing that we wanted to be a leader in technology for our faculty and students, we developed a five-year Strategic Plan for Technology, which is the foundation for what we have and what we will achieve in the future. This led to strategic partnerships with Cisco Systems, Hewlett Packard, California State University, Fresno and Datatel; these partnerships have enabled WHCCD to become more creative in teaching and providing services to students.

The District's Farm of the Future emerged as a result of a focused planning project. The strategic planning effort resulted in a donation of land for a new location for the college farm from Mrs. Dorothy Allen and her family.

The District followed a Strategic Plan for Child Development Centers to place a nationally accredited child care facility in each of the service area communities. This met two long-term goals: providing access to West Hills College for families with young children while improving the college-going culture in area communities, and assisting with economic development in the communities we serve.

The District's Millennium Report, the result of planning in 1999 and follow-up in 2000, focused on strategic goals regarding communication, personnel, access for our students, technology and facilities.

During the mid to late 1990s, strategic planning for marketing was undertaken. Action was taken to create positive brand awareness for West Hills College and to build community awareness about the opportunities offered by the college. A complete Marketing Plan was developed that incorporated television, radio and print advertising as well as editorial placement of stories in local, state and national publications.

On a continuous basis, the grants office strategizes with college leadership to identify grant opportunities that provide access to higher education for local residents. The grants are usually focused on the teaching/learning process and technology.

As the District approached its 75th year, a new process for planning was developed. The plan established a map for the District that both delineated functions and ensured integration of its colleges and centers. Specifically, the purpose of this planning was to:

- Clarify roles and challenges of the colleges and the District
- Take steps toward satisfying accreditation requirements
- Establish accountability measures
- Ensure that college and District goals are in harmony
- Build trust

With this direction, the District sponsored a Strategic Planning Retreat on September 8 and 9, 2005. The retreat was led by the Eaton Cummings Group. Retreat participants are listed at the beginning of this plan.

The strategic planning process encompasses a wide spectrum of District "key stakeholders." The process must be viewed as one of continuous analysis and refinement. Goals and objectives that have been developed as a result of this process will be assessed on an annual basis by the District Strategic Planning Committee.

This process must be viewed as one of continuous analysis and refinement.

Analysis of Trends

Before developing goals and objectives, six key factors that will potentially influence the future success of West Hills Community College District were identified.

- Demographic Changes

Helping trends include increase in numbers of young students, changes in socioeconomic levels, and skill levels of students.

Planners identified the following trends as those most likely to directly influence the District:

Helping Trends

- Technology
- Friendly Staff
- Ethnicity and Diversity
- Ability to meet the needs of under-prepared students

Hurting Trends

- How the District is supported by State funds
- Inability to respond quickly to industry training needs

- Economy

Helping trends include Naval Air Station, Lemoore students, international students, allied health programs, the housing boom, and the population growth related to the expansion of local prisons and hospitals.

- Government and Legislative

Helping trends include the No Child Left Behind legislation, new GI bill and Veteran's benefits, AB 540 (which allows resident immigrant children to pay in-state college tuition), and the ongoing commitment to providing higher education at a low cost per unit.

- Technology

Helping trends include wireless access, free open source arrangements, general reduction in costs for technology, and new applications of technology for teaching. At West Hills Community College, we are using technology to make education available anytime, anywhere.

- Competition

Helping trends include the District's reputation for its advanced technology, supportive and friendly staff, and the positive influence on programs and services exerted by competition.

- Customers and Markets

Helping trends include the lower cost of community college education, the increasing demand for vocational training, and the District's many services and programs for single parents. In addition to serving community members who wish to improve their job skills, WHCCD serves as a low-cost entry point for those wishing to pursue higher education.

The WHCCD Mission and Vision are a reflection of an analysis of internal and external trends, the District's history and the needs of its constituents.

Mission

The mission of the West Hills Community College District is enhancing student learning and enriching the lives of the populations we serve by:

- Ensuring the vitality of its institutions;
- Encouraging the vision of strong leaders able to see and interpret the present and future needs of students and communities;
- Supporting the college in the provision of world class learning environments;
- Providing for appropriate allocation and management of human, fiscal and capital resources;
- Acting as a catalyst for collaboration with outside organizations and agencies; and
- Sharing the story by marketing a positive image.

Vision

West Hills Community College District, a trusted steward, actively engages, encourages, enriches and empowers students, faculty, staff and the communities it serves to reach their full potential (academically, socially and economically) as evidenced by:

- Its status as the preferred choice of students, and the employer of choice for faculty and staff;
- The highest percentage of students completing courses;
- Its recognized excellence; and
- The generally ascribed accolade "heartbeat of the community."

Strategic Goals

#1

West Hills Community College District will annually achieve or exceed funded growth targets.

Objectives

- 1.1. WHCCD will take action to increase student headcount and maximize the number of full time equivalent students (FTES) by increasing and or optimizing curriculum offerings, programs and services.
- 1.2. WHCCD will continue to aggressively market the District through multiple media formats and college-driven outreach activities.

Growing from 3,422 full time equivalent students (FTES) in 1999-2000 to 4,704 FTES in the 2004-2005 school year, West Hills Community College District's number of FTES has increased by 37%. The District's number of students enrolled (student headcount) has also increased. Between the 1999-2000 and 2004-2005 school years, WHCCD student enrollment increased by 10.7%. It is projected that with continued support from the State of California, West Hills Community College District will continue to maximize the number of FTES through increased or optimized curriculum offerings, programs and services. An aggressive marketing campaign is planned. We will use multiple media formats such as printed materials in Spanish and English, newspaper, radio, television, direct mail and e-mail.

Source: California Community College Chancellor's Office; WHCCD Apportionment Report
 Note: Headcount and actual FTES growth goals are based on an average of past years' performance. Funded FTES growth goals are calculated on the state's allowed 3% annual growth. Only FTES enrollments in classes that are eligible for state apportionment payments are included.

Strategic Goals

West Hills Community College District is deeply committed to the success of its students and communities. The District recognizes its role within the community and its responsibility to each student. To share its commitment with District students and communities, West Hills Community College District has produced several publications that provide readers with an inside look at the colleges of West Hills through personal accounts of students and staff. Stories focus on student/teacher and student/program relationships, and the personal impact on the lives of our students and their families. Our “stories” have evoked significant interest about WHCCD and its services and programs. The WHCCD marketing department will continue to enhance these and other publications with stories featuring faculty, students, improvements to the colleges, and new services or programs to entice community interest and support.

Objectives

- 2.1 WHCCD will establish a baseline and increase the number of annually published district-wide stories.
- 2.2 WHCCD will establish a monthly online newsletter to be distributed to all District employees highlighting activities for the month in the District.

Current publications include the Dialogue, a quarterly published newsletter for the District and the community, the West Hills Community College District Annual Report, and numerous press releases and photos that are distributed to media outlets in the region.

Strategic Goals

West Hills Community College District will annually increase community participation rates.

Objectives

- 3.1. WHCCD will maintain service area adult population rates above the California Community College System participation rate.
- 3.2. WHCCD will increase participation rates in all demographic areas including gender, age and ethnicity.
- 3.3. WHCCD will establish a baseline, and monitor and increase college participation in community partnership.

Creating greater access to our colleges is at the core of our mission. Meeting or exceeding this goal allows WHCCD to demonstrate its effectiveness in creating access for service area citizens. During the 2004-2005 school year, West Hills Community College District exceeded the California Community College system participation rates in four of its service area cities. In some cases, WHCCD significantly exceeded the California participation rates. Service area cities of Lemoore and Cantua Creek exceeded the statewide participation rates.

To produce similar participation rates in remaining service area cities, WHCCD will develop a plan that involves course offerings, marketing, outreach, and recruitment activities designed to enhance participation rates in the following area cities: Laton, Tranquillity, Stratford, Riverdale, Avenal, Hanford, San Joaquin, Mendota, Huron and Kettleman City.

Source: US Census (2000); WHCCD Data Warehouse; NCES
 Note: Population participation rate is determined by unduplicated and annual student headcount, divided by total adult population (age 18 and older) as per US Census.

West Hills Community College District will annually improve transfer, completion and graduation rates.

Student transfer rates continue to increase, as have the number of students receiving degrees and certificates. In accordance with District core values and our commitment to individual student success, we will strive to increase the number of students transferring to four-year institutions, the number of students receiving degrees and certificates, and overall student success rates.

Objective 4.1

WHCCD will continually increase the number of students transferring to public, private and out of state four-year institutions.

Source: CPEC Transfer Pathways
Note: Growth targets are based on average of past years' performance.

As shown in the table to the right, West Hills Community College District's transfer rates have increased by 3% since the 1998-2001 cohort. We will continue our efforts to increase and maintain rates above the California Community College system statewide average.

Since the 2001-2002 school year, the number of student transfers from West Hills Community College District to California State Universities (CSU) and Universities of California (UC) have increased by 35%. Student transfers to UC institutions have consistently been low due to the distance between WHCCD and UC campuses. However, the District expects the number of CSU and UC transfers to increase with the implementation of revised outreach efforts and the opening of the new UC Merced campus. Transfer rates do not include students transferring to private colleges and universities.

Source: California SRTK
Note: Cohort based on group of students who are first-time freshmen, who are enrolled full-time in a fall term, and are seeking a degree. The tracking period of cohorts is three years.

Objective 4.2

WHCCD will maintain overall student completion (success) rates above the California Community College statewide average, placing emphasis on vocational, basic skills, ESL, online success and improvement rates.

West Hills Community College District student success rates are below the 68% California Community College statewide average. With increased efforts toward this objective, the District will aim at increasing the overall student success rate by 1.22% in 2005-2006. Success rates indicate the percent of course enrollments with a grade of A, B, C or CR.

Source: WHCCD Data Warehouse; California Community College Chancellor's Office
Note: Growth forecast based on preliminary 2005-2006 success rates.

WHCCD is committed to our core values and individual student success.

Objective 4.3

WHCCD will increase the number of awards (degrees and certificates) conferred.

During the 2001-2002 school year, West Hills Community College awarded 351 degrees and certificates. That number rose to 543 during the 2004-2005 school year. Focused efforts by the colleges are projected to increase the number of degrees and certificates awarded to graduating students by an additional 2.8% in 2005-2006.

Source: California Community College Chancellor's Office
 Note: Growth forecast based on past years' performance.

Since the 1998-2001 cohort, West Hills Community College District's completion rates have increased by 7%. Efforts will be made to continue the upward trend of these rates with the goal of maintaining them above the California Community College system statewide average.

Source: California Community College SRTK; WHCCD Data Warehouse
 Note: Cohort based on a group of first time freshmen who are enrolled full-time in a fall term and are seeking transfers. The tracking period of the cohorts is three years.

Strategic Goals

#5

West Hills Community College District will become the preferred choice of students through ongoing and active recruitment.

Objectives

5.1 WHCCD will establish a baseline and monitor or increase the number of college recruitment visits to local high schools.

5.2 WHCCD will establish a study of students in local high schools and middle schools to test the students knowledge of WHCCD.

5.3 WHCCD will work toward maintaining service area high school graduate participation rates above the California Community College participation rate.

5.4 WHCCD colleges will adjust student services, outreach and recruitment efforts as needed to maintain increased participation from local high school graduates.

The goal of West Hills Community College District is to be first in the minds of students as they consider their college options. We strive to meet or exceed the California Community College statewide percentage (34%) of high school graduates attending community colleges. We currently exceed that percentage in some area high schools. Our goal is to exceed that percentage in all of our area high schools.

Source: WHCCD Data Warehouse; California Community College Chancellor's Office
 Note: High school participation rates reflect the percentage of 2003-2004 high school graduates attending WHCCD in fall 2004.

Above all, the District maintains its commitment to our students, staff, faculty, Board members, community and stakeholders.

This Strategic Plan represents our commitment to continuous improvement as we strive to meet the ever changing needs of our students and communities. Above all, the District maintains its commitment to our students, staff, faculty, Board members, community members and stakeholders. This plan represents evidence of that commitment, and the means for us to hold ourselves accountable.

Our Strategic Plan must be seen as a “living document” to be revisited and modified as we progress toward our goals. To ensure that our plan evolves to meet the goals and mission of the District, the Board of Trustees developed Administrative Procedure 3230. This procedure requires a District Strategic Planning Committee to meet a minimum of three times each academic year, and calls for representation from our Board of Trustees, District office staff, college and center staff, the Academic Senates, CTA, CSEA, students, and community and business members.

West Hills Community College District is committed to serving our community and providing access to higher education to all residents at a reasonable cost. We are proud of our 75-year history and we look forward to a bright future for all that we serve. This Strategic Plan will help us chart the course toward that success.

WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE

BOARD REPORT - NOVEMBER 2010

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

The Eighth Annual President's Scholars Dinner was held on November 4th at 6:00 p.m. in the conference center. Over 100 were in attendance including CSF high school seniors and their parents, WHCL staff and one board member. Brian Abela and Jameson Birrell made presentations about their instructional programs and current President's Scholar, Maresha Grinage, from Kings Christian, spoke to the group about the value of the scholarship. Counselors Mike Rodriguez and Angela Tos discussed WHCL's transfer services and the president's scholar's application process.

A President's Forum was held on November 4th in the conference center at 12 noon to 1:00 p.m. Approximately sixty staff members attended to hear Mr. Warkentin give updates on accreditation, budget, Golden Eagle Arena, program review, and program and course level SLO status. Lunch was provided.

College and district administrators have been busy putting the final touches on the self-study document. Comments from Norval Wellsfry, a former WASC commissioner, during the district's leadership retreat, provided additional insight and WHCL went back to work to provide minor revisions and final additions for its self study document. These revisions are now complete and the document is at the district duplicating office for printing.

On Tuesday, November 9th the college held its fifth annual Veteran's Appreciation Luncheon. At today's luncheon WHCL veteran students and veterans from the surrounding communities were recognized for their service and given applause of appreciation. Our veterans and their supporters were treated to a great lunch catered by Cal Clement and our veteran's clubs gave a short demonstration on military marching moves. President Don Warkentin gave a short presentation on his military experiences and thanked those in attendance, especially members of the Order of the Purple Heart. Thanks to Susie Aceron and Jose Lopez for organizing today's event.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

WHCL student Nathaniel Isaacson shared his Washington D.C. experience with fellow students during a workshop on November 3. Nathaniel was selected to attend a four day tour of Washington D.C. as a result of WHCL receiving a USDA grant in 2009. Nathaniel, as an ambassador of the district, did an excellent job and should be commended.

An advisory committee meeting in support of the USDA grant was held on November 12th. Representatives from local industry dealing with quality control and biotechnology were invited. Staff members presented information concerning curriculum and the goals of the grant as it pertains to the students and community of Lemoore.

The completion of program reviews continues to be an annual emphasis. Generally, program reviews are completed in four-year cycles (except for vocational programs that are on a two-year cycle). This year, over ten program reviews are expected to be completed. The due date for this year is December 1st.

The college has an on-going review of its internal processes and committees. When modifications or changes are needed, the shared governance process is utilized. For example, the current budget allocation process at the Lemoore Campus has not been changed since 2004 and is currently under revision to reflect changes in the organization of the instructional staff and to encourage more leadership for all constituency groups. Eventually, the revised budget allocation process will be approved by the primary shared governance committee, the Planning and Governance Council.

The college is divided into six certificated staff learning areas—Social Science, Math and Science, Career Technical Education, Health and Wellness, Arts and Letters, and Counseling Faculty. Each of these groups meets no less than once per month. Primary topics of discussion center on student learning outcomes, curriculum related issues, academic senate reports, and other various timely topics. Each meeting is led by a member of the administrative team.

Dave Bolt attended the Chief Instructional Officers Fall Conference. While there, Dave gave two presentations to his peers, one on his role in accreditation and one on integrated planning and institutional effectiveness. Dave co-presented with Dr. Barbara Beno, president of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (the accrediting body), Jane Patton, president of the state Academic Senate, and Dr. Joan Smith, interim chancellor of the Yosemite Community College District.

"The only full-service accredited college in Kings County."

OUTREACH

Advising Specialist Eva Jimenez administered the placement test to Riverdale High seniors on November 1st.

Advising Specialists Teresa Quilici and Susie Briones provided a presentation and assisted with admissions applications for Jamison High students on November 1st.

Advising Specialist Jan Young provided a college presentation to active duty personnel at the NAS Lemoore on November 1st and 15th.

Advising Specialists Eva Jimenez and Jan Young will meet with students at Hanford West on November 19th. Senior Presentations on November 19th.

Advising Specialist Teresa Quilici will attend the Corcoran High School Junior Ethics Seminar on November 19th.

Eva Jimenez and Jan Young will administer the placement test to seniors at Corcoran High on November 23rd. They will return on November 30th to review the placement test scores and provide orientation packets.

Advising Specialists Teresa Quilici and Susie Briones will give a presentation to freshman and seniors at Laton High on November 2nd.

Advising Specialists Eva Jimenez and Jan Young will meet with seniors at Caruthers High on November 9th.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT

The Employee Development and Success Committee has coordinated student learning outcomes trainings to be held on November 9th at 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. and on one December 9th at 4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Kings County Human Service Agency has given WHC Lemoore sixty cards representing Kings County foster children. The cards include information about the child for Christmas gift purchasing. Employees and students are choosing cards and will provide a gift for their chosen child. Anyone who would like can pick up the card. To date, there are only 20 cards remaining.

STUDENT SERVICES

The Student Town Hall meeting held on October 22nd brought over 90 West Hills students that included a small contingent from West Hills College Coalinga. The conversation was lively and fruitful. The student-driven event collected student feedback in areas such as: class schedule, student needs, financial aid, facilities and instruction. Hand written note pages from each table at the event are transcribed and are being added to the Student Town Hall matrix which is available on the West Hills Portal. New issues at this town hall will be assigned to the appropriate governance committee for action as appropriate.

A Business Etiquette Luncheon was held on October 28th at 11:30 a.m. in the conference center. Approximately 50 students participated in the hour long presentation on proper business etiquette along with a full course dinner presentation. There were 5 panelists

"The only full-service accret

(Susie P. Acheron, Academic Advisor; Jennifer Solis, Vice President of Fast Credit Union; Edna Ivans, WHCCD Board of Trustees; Angela Tos, WHCL Counselor; Dr. Marlon Hall, Associate Dean of Educational Services) available for the Q & A session. The Career Center sponsored the workshop and Angela Barginear coordinated the event. The event was free to WHCL students. Students and staff enjoyed the event and the wonderful food prepared by the Culinary Department.

A Strategic Planning Meeting will be held on December 1st from 11:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Local high school principals have been invited to join the WHCL Strategic Planning Committee to discuss ways WHCL can assist them in helping their students reach their educational goals. Lunch will be provided.

ATHLETICS

The Golden Eagle Wrestling Team competed in a dual meet at Fresno City College on Wednesday, November 3rd. They were victorious over Chabot College by a team score of 27-20, but lost a hard fought match to Fresno by a score of 37-3. Fresno City is currently ranked # 1 in the state. They will be competing for the Western States Conference championship next Saturday, November 12th in Bakersfield. Other teams in the conference besides Bakersfield include Cuesta, LA Valley College, and Victor Valley.

Janis Geddes and Tammy Alaniz from our women's golf team have qualified for the Northern California Championships on Monday, November 8th and Tuesday, November 9th at Fig Garden Golf course. Congratulations Tammy and Janis. Also Yesey Alba from our men's cross country team has qualified for the state cross country championships on Saturday, November 20th at Woodward Park in Fresno. Congratulations Yesey. Finally our men's soccer team was victorious over COS on Friday, November 5th by a score of 2-0; however our women lost to Fresno City on our home field 4-0.

Athletic Director Bob Clement recently attended the statewide meeting for the Commission on Athletics (COA). He reports that the COA is still looking at athletic conference realignment and student athlete success and retention rates. Vice President Dave Bolt chairs the Academic and Athletic Standards Review Committee which is piloting a program which ensures all student athletes have completed educational plans. The consensus is that athletes that complete an educational plan are more likely to transfer to four-year institutions.

West Hills College Lemoore

Educational Master Plan
2008

*Preliminary Draft V.4.1
October 30, 2008*

President's Message

West Hills College Lemoore, one of California's newest community colleges, is well prepared to meet the educational needs of the twenty-first century. Our Educational Master Plan will demonstrate that we are on the cutting edge and have the capacity to adapt to new and emerging educational technologies to serve a wide variety of student needs.

Our facilities, instructional programs, support services, and technology are state of the art and will allow us to keep pace in an ever-changing environment. As you read through our Educational Master Plan, you will see how we value our demographic and student data in the decision making processes. We also utilize information from our area employers in job forecasting and training needs. Information is vital to keeping our offerings current and providing the support mechanisms and resources to ensure our students are the best educated and prepared to reach their educational goals.

The development of a comprehensive educational master plan requires many hours of planning, discussions, meetings, and research involving all constituents throughout the college and also district office personnel. A plan of this nature not only informs us about who we are, but where we will be heading for the next several years. Our plan will serve as a foundation, but it also will be a template for many future updates as the college continues to grow and serve the communities of the south valley.

We hope you will find this document to be both informative and also a guide to our continued growth and expansion of the campus. You will continue to see new facilities emerge and new programs come online, adhering to our processes outlined in our Educational Master Plan.

I look forward with great anticipation to the next several years with West Hills College Lemoore.

Don Warkentin
President
West Hills College Lemoore

Acknowledgements

The WHC Lemoore Educational Master Plan (EMP) development process was facilitated by planning consultant GKK Works and the WHCCD Office of Institutional Effectiveness and Planning. The process began with a kick-off meeting on April 18, 2008 to discuss the EMP framework. A follow-up meeting took place on May 13, 2008 where faculty representatives and administrators reviewed the first draft of the EMP and provided feedback and direction. A third meeting was held on July 28, 2008 where a preliminary draft of the EMP was presented to faculty representatives and college administrators. It is important to note that the program goals, found under the instructional section of the EMP, were directly derived from the college's program review documents. During the fall 2008 Duty Day (August 8, 2008), the instructional section of the EMP was reviewed by Lemoore faculty in attendance. The preliminary draft of the EMP is scheduled for a first reading by the Board of Trustees on October 28, 2008 and by the Lemoore Planning and Governance Council on November 6, 2008.

WHC Lemoore is immensely grateful to these individuals who have volunteered to assist with this important plan. Their work will continue as we implement and refine our plan in the coming years. Participants are as follows:

Stephanie Atkinson-Alston - Dean of Educational Services, WHCL
Pedro Avila - Director of Institutional Effectiveness & Planning, WHCCD
Dave Bolt - VP of Educational Services, WHCL
David Babb - Biology Instructor/SLO Coordinator, WHCL
Robert Clement - Director of Athletics, WHCL
Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson - Associate Dean of Categorical Programs, WHCL
Stephanie Droker - Work Experience Instructor/Academic Senate President, WHCL

Intent of the Educational Master Plan

The West Hills College Lemoore Educational Master Plan (EMP) provides a reference point and framework for the future of the college. It includes a thorough data review of the recent past and present of the college's overall instructional program. While maintaining the integrity of the college's vision, mission and strategic goals, the EMP draws a blueprint for implementing emerging educational objectives.

More specifically, the EMP focuses on the service area, students, staff, and programs of West Hills College Lemoore. Matriculation rates from regional high schools provide a basis for enrollment projections. An analysis of economic trends in the area and a review of emerging labor market information inform the consideration of new programs. An examination of instructional programs and disciplines along with student performance assess current effectiveness and point the way for change.

Utilizing this quantitative and qualitative data, key findings have been identified to inform the process for rational planning to occur in a culture of evidence and history. Unanticipated events, emerging issues in the region, and changing demographics in the service area demand that the Educational Master Plan be treated as a living, fluid document that will guide decisions regarding the educational programs of the college.

The EMP is conceived to exist in a cycle of six years. The current iteration comes at the midpoint of the college's accreditation cycle -- following the submittal of the college's Midterm Focused Report to the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges. That midterm report was a summary of the college's institutional actions and progress made in response to the prior recommendations of the Accrediting Commission. West Hills College Lemoore is in the process of implementing actions and plans described in the report.

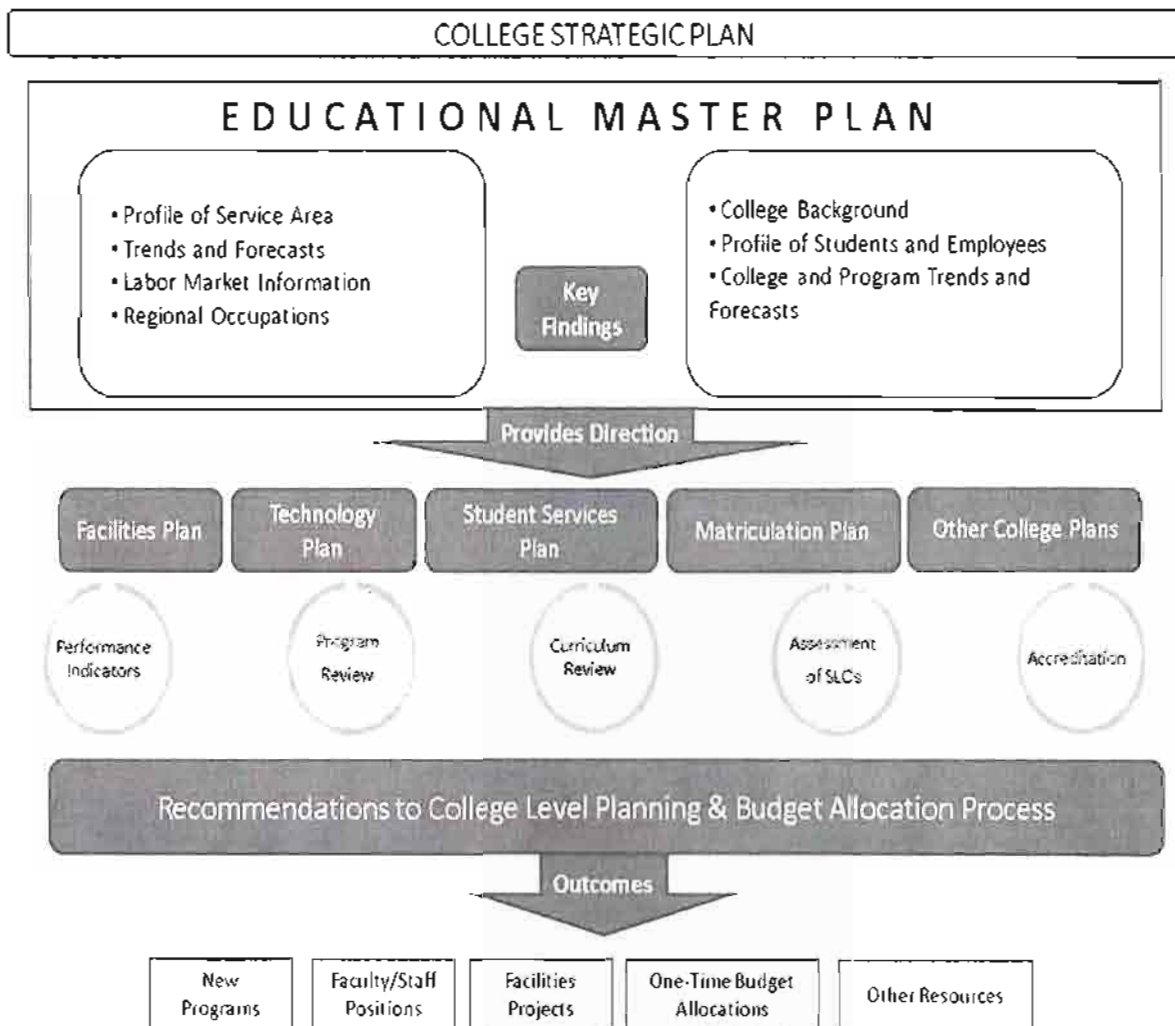

The Educational Master Plan for West Hills College Lemoore is directed by the college's strategic plan and the strategic plan of West Hills Community College District. Both of these plans are cited in the EMP as they provide the overarching direction and core values that guide the college.

Master Plan Framework

This Educational Master Plan of West Hills College Lemoore is being constructed at a particularly important juncture in our history as a college. WHC Lemoore received initial accreditation from the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges in June 2006. As one of the newest colleges in the California community college system, we are poised to realize our vision as a premiere, interactive learner-centered college.

Our Educational Master Plan gives direction to the planning processes of the college by providing a clear snapshot of our educational programs. It provides a thorough examination of internal and external trends. It serves as a primary resource for the development and update of other college plans. And it helps to identify our strengths, limitations, and capabilities -- and offer possibilities for the future.

The framework of this plan provides for an Educational Master Plan that is fluid and vital so we can respond to the community we serve.

Section I: College Background

COLLEGE HISTORY

The establishment of a college for the Coalinga Union High School District was proposed in the spring of 1932. The official beginning of the Coalinga Extension Center of Fresno State College dates from October 3, 1932. In September 1941, Coalinga Junior College became an independent unit under the direction of the Governing Board of the Coalinga Union High School District. Construction of a new campus on Cherry Lane near the northern limit of the City of Coalinga was begun on October 3, 1955, and the buildings were occupied on September 13, 1956.

In November of 1961, the voters of Coalinga Union High School District approved the formation of a separate junior college district, and in June of 1962, the voters of Lemoore High School District voted to annex to the college district, as did voters of Riverdale and Tranquillity High School Districts in December of 1962. Effective July 1, 1969, the official name of the college was changed to West Hills College in keeping with the nature of the expanded district.

In order to effectively serve the college district, West Hills College built the North District Center in the city of Firebaugh in 1971. In 1979, the District purchased land in the City of Lemoore, and in 1981, a classroom building and an office were erected. This was the Kings County Center until January 2002. On September 26, 2000, the Board of Trustees signed and accepted the "Agreement of Donation of Land for the West Hills College Lemoore" a generous donation from Robert and Mardell Pedersen and Lionel and Lola Simas.

Opening its doors to students on January 14, 2002, West Hills College Lemoore featured 18 classrooms, a state-of-the-art science wing called a Collaboratory, the largest and most technologically advanced library in Kings County, a multipurpose conference center, a full-service student services and administration building, as well as an outdoor amphitheater for students and community members.

COLLEGE MISSION

The number of students taking classes at NASL has declined from 462 students in '02-'03 to 143 in '07-'08. The ethnicity of students varies from the main campus, with a larger percentage of white and African American students making up the composition of students taking classes at NASL. More females than males take classes on site, and the age distribution of students is older than that on the Main Campus.

- Over the last five years observed, there is a consistent downward trend in the percentage of students concurrently enrolled in online and face-to-face classes. During the same period, there is a consistent upward trend of the numbers of students enrolled in online classes.
- The ratio between students enrolled in online classes versus students enrolled concurrently in online and face to face classes has widened over the last five years, with more students enrolled solely online.
- The number of students taking classes online solely or concurrently has grown in total number, reflective of the growth at the college and the accessibility of the online delivery system.

As a point of comparison the following table shows the online and face-to-face enrollment in the entire West Hills Community College District.

Summary of Online Student Demographics

There is significant growth in the district and at the college among students who only take online classes. In '02-'03, 66% of the district's students who took online classes were also enrolled in classes on a campus or at a center. By '07-'08, throughout the district the percentage of students who were enrolled concurrently had dropped to 51.4%. At Lemoore, the same trend is reflected - by '07-'08, 53.9% of students were enrolled concurrently, dropping from the 66% concurrent students in '02-'03.

Online students are 39% white and 36% Hispanic which differs from main campus students in which the ethnic predominance is reversed. Age and gender of students parallel those of the main campus, being predominantly young and female. The majority of online students come from our service area.

Admission Survey

As part of the admissions application, students are requested to participate in a supplemental survey. This survey identifies family income levels, as well as level of education attained by the parents. It provides a more in depth look into the student's characteristics and provides information for future planning.

- Classified staff is predominantly young, female, and Hispanic.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT REGIONAL AREA

A regional scan was performed by Economic Modeling Specialists, Inc. on ten counties that are a part of and surround the West Hills Community College District. These ten counties include: Fresno, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, San Benito, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, and Tulare. The region covered was identified by the district as the region where students are most likely to obtain jobs and establish residency. A scan of the ten counties revealed:

- Total regional attainment of a college degree is below average compared to the state and the nation (See Regional Educational Level, Age 25+ below)
- The educational attainment of individual ethnic groups of the region is below average compared to the state and nation (See Race/Ethnicity below)
- By 2012, the age group of 30 to 34 year olds is expected to experience the highest growth
- Racial/ethnic groups with the highest expected growth are Hispanics
- Total population is expected to change ten percent, double the expected change of the State (5 percent)

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT SERVICE AREA

The West Hills Community College District was first started in 1932 as a college for the Coalinga Union High School District. It now has a total area of 3,464 square miles and includes portions of five counties: Fresno, Kings, Madera, Monterey and San Benito. The West Hills College Coalinga campus on Cherry Lane in Coalinga opened in 1956 and in 1971, the North District Center was established in Firebaugh, in the most northern part of the district. In 1962 Lemoore High School District residents voted to annex to the college district. From 1962 to 1979 classes were offered primarily at the Lemoore Naval Air station and Lemoore High School. The facility was called The Kings County Center in 1981 when it operated in portable buildings on five acres in the city of Lemoore. In 1998, approved by 70% of the voters in Kings County, a $19 million bond was passed for the new construction of the Lemoore campus. The construction was completed in 2002. WHC Lemoore became fully accredited as a college in West Hills Community College District in 2006.

- Ethnicity of high school students in the service area differs from college student ethnicity
- 25.2% of [feeder] high school students are white, 36% of WHCL students are white.
- 64% of [feeder] high school students are Hispanic, the college's student population is 38% Hispanic.
- CCCCO asserts that by 2011 Latinos are projected to be the state's largest ethnic group, the majority population in public schools by 2013 and the overall majority by 2040.

Test Scores for Selected Schools

The California Standards Tests (CST) is administered to students in California Public Schools in English/Language Arts, mathematics, science, and history/social science. They are also referred to as the STAR tests. CST scores are used in calculating each school's Academic Performance Index (API). The test is administered in the 11th grade. The data below regarding students in our feeder high schools reveals the majority of feeder high schools exhibit a low percentage of students at the proficient or advanced level in English and math.

Note: The California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) is a completely different test. It can be taken by students at any time during their high school career. While the CAHSEE is required for high school graduation, students can pass the test with 8th grade math skills and 9th grade writing and language skills.

High School	CST English/Language Arts (2007) Percent Proficient or Advanced	CST Summative High School Math (Grade 9-11) (2007) Percent Proficient or Advanced
Avenal High School*	24%	0%
Coalinga High School*	28%	34%
Corcoran High School	26%	61%
Hanford High West	28%	32%
Hanford High School*	33%	15%
Laton High School	31%	0%
Lemoore High School*	35%	30%
Riverdale High School	34%	75%

Source: California Department of Education

- Many 11th graders from the high schools in the service area do not test at a proficient level or higher in English.
- However Corcoran High and Riverdale High school have exceedingly high proficiency scores in math.
- Schools with 0 percent proficient or advanced CST Summative High School Math may be due to non-testing conditions.

Summary

The feeder high schools of Lemoore and Hanford send the college more students than other high schools in the area. The Hispanic student population at the college is significantly smaller than their numbers in our feeder schools. Students test at a low level of proficiency with two startling exceptions in math – Corcoran High and Riverdale High. The projected number of high school graduates is static for the next 7 years.

Section III: Educational Programs Trends and Forecasts

INTRODUCTION

This data provides us with an ability to examine our students' success in a quantitative manner. It allows us to measure the strategies we have employed against general key performance indicators. From this we ascertain key findings and develop strategies to meet our goals.

DEFINITION OF TERMS

Duplicated Enrollment

This is the number of actual enrollments in any given class or program. Under this definition, a student enrolled in multiple courses is counted multiple times at the program, campus, or institutional level.

Unduplicated Enrollment, (Headcount)

This is the number of actual students. One student, taking five classes, is counted as one student. If there are 20 students in a program in which all students are enrolled in five classes, there are 100 duplicated enrollments, but a 20 student headcount.

Full Time Equivalent Student (FTES)

A full time equivalent student is one student taking 15 hours of instruction per week for two semesters of 17.5 weeks. While most of our students do not necessarily enroll in 15 hours of instruction per week, we calculate aggregated student attendance in this manner for both funding purposes as well as a measure for the college of how many full time equivalent students are participating in any given class or program, or are enrolled at the college.

Weekly Student Contact Hours (WSCH)

This is a measure of the number of students enrolled in a course multiplied by the number of hours the course meets per week. If a class meets for three hours a week and has 30 students enrolled, the WSCH is 90.

Full Time Equivalent Faculty (FTEF)

One full time faculty member teaching the equivalent of a full load of classes equals 1.0 FTEF. Most often FTEF is aggregated to provide the college with a measure of the number of faculty teaching. The loads of adjunct faculty and full time faculty are summed to provide an aggregate number for the program or college.

WSCH per FTEF

This calculation, sometimes called 'productivity,' is the number of weekly student contact hours (WSCH) per Full Time Equivalent Faculty (FTEF). Some colleges establish a target number to ensure fiscal viability.

The college community is made up of departments and programs with a wide variety of needs. Some disciplines have mandates from external sources that keep class size low. A college supports this diversity of discipline needs and strives for general support and cooperation to best serve students in meeting their educational needs while understanding the fiscal pressures of the institution. That is the purpose of understanding this formula.

Environmental Scan

An environmental scan considers present and future factors that can influence the direction and goals of an organization. Environmental scans include both external elements (e.g., service area demographics, state requirements, industry demands, marketing trends, etc) and internal elements (e.g., infrastructure, personnel, programs, abilities, etc). These are evaluated in terms of their potential impact on the organization and its ability to meet its present and future strategic goals.

Course Retention Rate

This is a measure of the number/percent of students who remain in the course after the census date until the end of the term.

Course Success Rate

This is a measure of the number/percent of students who earn a grade of A, B, C, or CR in the class. Course grades of NC, D, F, I or W are considered to be unsuccessful.

AVERAGE COURSE SUCCESS, COURSE RETENTION, AND WSCH PER FTEF

Notes:

In 2003-2004, the college responded to the statewide budget crisis and reduced the number of sections it offered. This drop in enrollment is seen significantly in some departments. It should be noted that some departments responded to the cutback in sections by enrolling larger number of students in their classes (see Basic Skills Math). This significantly increased their productivity ratio or WSCH per FTE.

Prior to 2004-2005, online instruction was offered by WHC Lemoore. Coalinga students enrolled in online courses but headcount was attributed to WHC Lemoore.

The information included in the program sections is based on submitted program reviews. The college has a developed program review process that is still being refined, but one in which a template and process are in place. Any editing was done for clarity and brevity and was not intended to change the intent of the review or plans of the program. Items under the heading "Program Plans" were derived from the program reviews. Items under the heading "Challenges and Opportunities" are not from the program reviews but have been selectively added to suggest strategic options for programs.

If a program does not offer a degree, the listing under Degrees Awarded is stated as "N/A." If a program offers a degree but none were awarded, the listing under Degrees Awarded is stated as "0."

Description:

The AOJ program offers the student a variety of educational and career pathways. The student may elect to enroll in a program leading to an Associate Degree with the emphasis on the Law Enforcement Option or the Corrections Option. Both provide a path to a four year institution. Presently, CSU Fresno offers classes on the Lemoore campus for those seeking a Baccalaureate Degree in Criminology.

Assessment

- FTES growth in 2006-2007 corresponds to increase in number of sections offered
- Online enrollment decreased over years observed
- Increase in numbers of degrees awarded
- Retention rate is stable and above college average
- Success rate is at college average

Program Plans:

- Continue to update all curriculum and create six new courses.
- Develop more short term and online courses so employed individuals can quickly update their skills or obtain job ready skills.
- Include learning activities with specific learning outcomes in all curricula.
- Market the program at high school job fairs and utilize AOJ students as ambassadors.

Description:

The Art program provides classes which meet the General Education requirement and course work that prepares art students for transfer. Classes also serve as enrichment experiences for many students. Students from diverse backgrounds work in an environment that affords a common, visual language.

Assessment

- High growth in FTES in years observed
- Number of sections offered in Art declined after the 2004-2005 academic year, but FTES has continued to increase, as has the WSCH per FTEF.
- Online courses begin in '06-'07, note FTES increase in that year
- Retention rate is fairly stable and exceeds college average
- Success rate is strong, fairly stable, and exceeds college average

Program Plans:

- Curricula is being developed for several computer generated Arts courses, including Photoshop, Illustrator, and others
- Art 15A Painting is being revised to articulate transferability to Fresno State University
- Student learning outcomes will be addressed

From Program Review of October 2006

Challenges and Opportunities

- High enrollment, strong retention and success rates suggest opportunities for further growth, for example, expanded online offerings.

Description:

The main courses offered by the Biology department include general biology, human anatomy, human physiology, and microbiology. These primarily serve as prerequisites for students going into teaching or the allied health professions. The department offers majors-level biology courses as well as courses for non science majors to fulfill the life science general education requirement.

Assessment

- FTES in years observed is increasing
- Percentage of online enrollment fluctuates, highest 2006-2007
- WSCH per FTEF has fluctuated but remained productive
- Success rate is stable and at the college average
- Retention rate is stable and at the college average
- Degree and certificates awarded are minimal because courses primarily serve as requirements for the allied health programs

Program Plans:

- Schedule biology major preparation courses once a year and work on maintaining transferability.
- Continue to add new transferable courses for the non biology major
- Offer field trips and out of classroom experience in Biology

Description:

Business Administration is an integral part of the CIS, Business, and HRCM service area. The curriculum is intended for those interested in transferring to a four year college or university to earn a baccalaureate degree.

Assessment

- FTES increase in '03-'04 academic year with decline following
- WSCH per FTEF has been erratic
- Success rates below college average
- High number of degrees awarded
- Retention rate rising and matches college average in '06-'07

Program Plans:

- Work toward providing students with placement services
- Follow up on recently submitted certificate options
- Follow up on faculty development, particularly in regards to SLOs
- Address diversity of staff

From Program Review February 2004

Description:

The chemistry department provides the initial training in chemistry for a broad range of careers and focuses as well on chemical education for the public sector. The careers include the traditional sciences, engineering, pre-professional, allied health professions, agriculture, forestry, and the many emerging cross-disciplinary or interdisciplinary programs such as oceanography, aqua-culture, environmental health, and atmospheric science.

Assessment

- FTES shows steady increase then drops in 2006-2007
- WSCH per FTEF has been stable over the five year observed but is below the college average
- Success rate is unstable and below college average
- Retention is unstable and below college average

Program Plans:

- Shift the design of the Chem 2A/B sequence for allied health students to include more directly related allied health applications.
- Maintain and extend recently acquired modern analytical instrumentation and add additional software licensing for simulations
- Expand and integrate the "Collaboratory" computerized lab platform
- Stabilize current enrollment to establish offering patterns that allow completion of an AS degree in chemistry.
- Increase student retention in all offerings
- Initiate T1 link capability so students can download data from their graphing calculators into the "Collaboratory" platform to bridge their math skills to practical applications.
- Extend software licensing to provide students with take home versions of software used in class
- Develop initial course offerings at the NDC site, complete with labs.

Description:

The Child Development program offers a comprehensive background in the field of child growth and development. Students are offered information and skills for potential employment in federal, state, non-profit, or privately owned early childhood educational programs or schools. Courses help students qualify for a Child Development Certificate and partially qualify the student for a Child Development Permit from the State of California, Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing.

Assessment

- Growth in FTES in years observed
- Number of sections offered in Child Development is steady
- Retention is steady and slightly higher than college average
- Success rate dropped in '06-'07 but is higher than the college average

Program Plans:

- Student learning outcomes and their measurement are being addressed with adjunct faculty.
- Update of 2+2 agreement with Hanford High and the Naval Base child care program for module credit transfer to specific courses.
- Create a math and possibly music and science courses for young children
- Potentially offer online classes
- Explore ways to gather information on where our students are employed

The department is in the process of changing its core curriculum from Office 2000 to Office 2007.
- Maintain and revise Comp-TIA (A+), WOW Web Development and reestablish the MOU certification programs.
- Continue the ongoing development of the Web Developer Certification program to include a Cyber Forensic, and Project Management components with current, emerging web technologies.
- Infusion of information technology components into established curricula, such as Administration of Justice, Math, Geography, etc.
- Revise curricula to implement in conjunction with the OE Department, the MOU certification program.
- Develop, maintain, and revise Internet-based courses
- Establish a full CIS AA degree online.

Description:

The Culinary Arts department has developed a full range of curricula which is available to students. Certifications from this program exist in the areas of ServSafe, Deli Cook and Baker certification, Baker Certification, Bartending Certification, Dining Room Staff Certification, and Chef Apprentice Certification. Courses provide a knowledge base that allows students to more easily obtain entry level or higher positions in this field.

Assessment

No data available

Program Plans:

- Additional curricula will be developed including Commercial Food prep as the prerequisite to most courses.
- The program will seek American Culinary Federation accreditations
- More community outreach
- Develop a job placement program

Description:

This program serves students seeking AA degrees in Humanities and Social Sciences. It is an interdisciplinary program.

Assessment

- High growth in FTEs in years observed
- Large percentage of online enrollment
- Online enrollment more than doubled from 2005-2006 to 2006-2007
- Success rate is unstable, fell below college average by 8% in '06-'07
- Retention rate is stable

Program Plans:

- Begin a Native American course
- Begin a cross cultural course
- Put Women's Studies under the Ethnic Studies program
- Participate in recruitment events at high schools in our service area

From Program Review November 2006

Challenges and Opportunities

- Review variances in success rates and seek to increase

Description:

The Math program consists of a full spectrum of courses ranging from developmental to advanced level mathematics. Courses are designed to satisfy the certificate, associate degree, and transfer level needs for both the technical and non-technical student.

Assessment

- FTES increased until '05-'06
- Significant increase in sections during the years observed
- WSCH per FTEF has decreased overall
- Success rate is decreasing and is below the college average
- Retention is relatively stable but below college average

Program Plans:

- Add student learning outcomes to all course outlines
- Increase number of Math 64 sections
- Establish an effective assessment test that accurately places students in Math 101, 61, 63 or Math 15.
- Create an assessment policy for online classes

Description:

The Office Management and Technologies program offers a variety of options that guide students toward successful employment in business and government. The certificate programs include an Office Management and Technology Certificate, a Clerk Typist Certificate, and a Secretary/Word Processing Certificate. Completion of the Certificate program and the general education and District requirements qualifies students for an associate degree.

Assessment

- FTES in years observed is decreasing
- Percentage of online courses is steadily increasing
- WSCH per FTEF has been erratic, but generally productive
- Success rate well below the college average
- Retention is improved but below the college average

Program Plans:

- Increase business community involvement in the design of classes and certificates/degrees
- Improve the business community's perception of the college's certificates/degrees
- Develop a path for students' transition from education to employment
- Investigate cross discipline course offerings to enhance employability
- Integrate certificates and degrees to articulate a path to four year institutions
- Improve student access with convenient course designs
- Develop more short term and online courses so employed individuals can quickly update their skills or the unemployed can obtain job ready skills

From Program Review January 2004

Challenges and Opportunities

Description:

The Psychology Associate Degree program is designed to provide entry-level skills and knowledge for the student transferring to a four year institution with a major in psychology. The psychology major prepares students for programs with emphasis in psychology, counseling, child development, educational psychology, education, social work, sociology, human services, and nursing.

Assessment

- No [overall] growth in FTES in years observed
- FTES dipped in 2004-2005 and increased by 2006-2007
- Large percentage of online enrollment
- Substantial number of degrees awarded.
- Success rate is relatively stable and at the college average
- Retention rate has been stable then declined and in '06-'07 fell 14% below the college average

Program Plans:

- Develop hybrid Psychology courses
- Revise curriculum to ensure currency with statewide curricular trends
- Develop student learning outcomes for Psych 1
- Expand Learning Community course offerings
- Expand offerings of hybrid Psych courses

From Program Review March 2007

Description:

The Education/Education Assistant (EDUC/EA) program provides courses and experiences for prospective teachers. The program awards a certificate as a Teaching Assistant. It is a program that has been actively involved in partnerships with Upward Bound Math and Science, Educational Talent Search, University Charter School, and Middle College High School. The teacher preparation effort is now called T.E.A.M. Teach and comes out of the Education/Education Assistant program.

Assessment

- Number of FTES as well as sections offered in Teaching Assistant declined over past five academic years
- Retention and success rates are above college average
- WSCH per FTEF is below college average.

Program Plans:

- Identify a counselor who will work specifically with T.E.A.M Teach students
- Write student learning outcomes for all remaining EDUC/EA courses
- Review and revise education assistant certificate to meet current needs of workplace and students
- Implement student learning outcome evaluation cycle in EDUC 1
- Write curriculum for CBEST prep classes to offer as nontransferable one unit courses in test preparation, reading, writing, and math
- Develop stronger articulation agreements at local high schools
- Develop strong student learning outcome assessment cycles for EDUC 1 and EDUC 5 that include adjunct faculty

Challenges and Opportunities

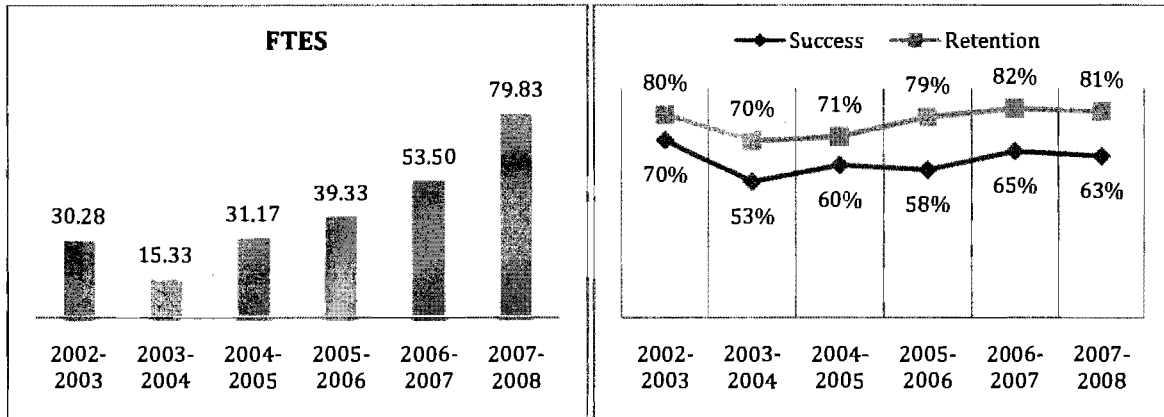

- Develop strategies to increase enrollment, retention, and success rates, and increase productivity

BASIC SKILLS

Basic Skills are the foundation for student success. Sometimes called developmental education or pre-collegiate skills, they are needed by many students entering all segments of higher education in order to be successful in college coursework. The statewide course success rate at community colleges in Basic Skills is 60.5%, about 10 % lower than that for other courses.

At Lemoore, students in Basic Skills classes are successful at a rate close to or above the statewide average. All Basic Skills classes have grown in enrollment over the six years represented below.

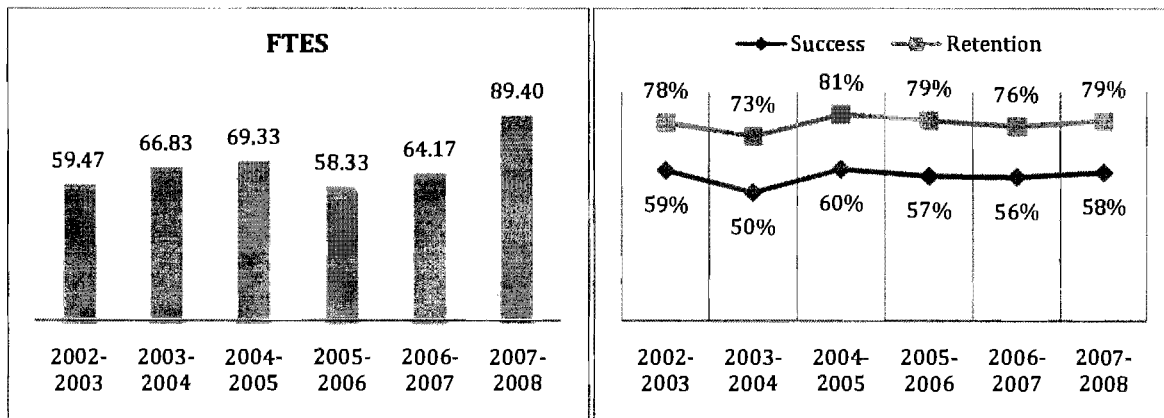

Basic Skills Math

	2002-03	2003-04	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08

WSCH per FTEF	359	339	551	494	520	537

- Math Basic Skills classes have increased both in sections and enrollment. Students are more successful than the statewide average of 52%. (Source: Board of Governor's Report on System's Basic Skills)
- The program has high productivity and strong retention

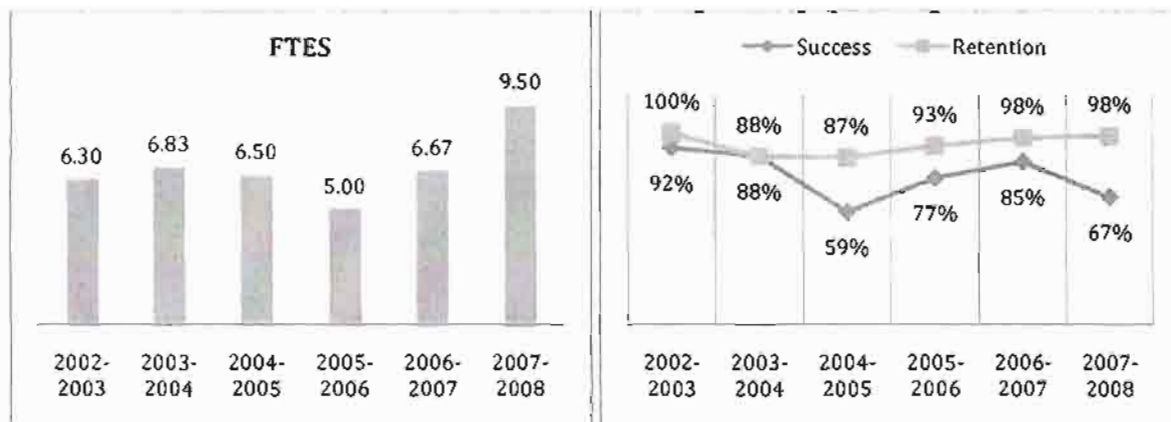

Basic Skills English

	2002-03	2003-04	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08
Sections	35	19	22	19	22	31

WSCH per FTEF	225	410	328	318	315	366

- English Basic Skills classes are building back from '02-'03. Note that with fewer sections in '07-08 they have significantly surpassed the number of enrollments they had in '02-'03 with more sections, a sign of a productive efficient program -- particularly considering that the success and retention of their students have remained steady.
- Success rates are generally comparable to statewide average of 59.3%. (Source: Board of Governor's Report on System's Basic Skills).

WSCH per FTEF	145	142	169	259	229	411

- Notable drop in sections after '02-'03, but enrollments now surpass the enrollment when the program had double the number of sections.
- No ESL courses scheduled during the day were offered between 2002-'03 to 2007-'08
- Success rates are mostly above statewide average of 70.6%. (Source: Board of Governor's Report on System's Basic Skills)

Basic Skills Placement

Students who enroll in courses that are appropriate for their preparation levels are much more likely to succeed in college. The assessment process should provide information and support to students so they can make appropriate educational choices. Below are charts that reveal the number of first term students who were assessed and placed into Basic Skills classes in English and math. The ESL program does not have a formal assessment mechanism.

WHC Lemoore Campus				Placed into Basic Skills

2007-2008	1,843	859	46.6%	411	48%	437	51%

- In the four years observed, an average of 47 percent first term students at the WHC Lemoore campus were assessed for course placement
- Of the numbers assessed, an average of 48 percent of students were placed into Basic Skills English
- Approximately 45 percent of students assessed were placed in Basic Skills Math, with the greatest percentage (51%) in the 2007-08 academic year

- Student retention is highest in programs that also reflect a high success rate – HRCM, Geology, Art, and Physics.
- Student retention is lowest in programs that reflect a lower success rate – Business, Office Management, Health Science, and Chemistry.
- The California Community Colleges System Strategic Plan of January 2006 notes that efforts are needed to improve semester to semester persistence, especially into the second year of college study.

DEGREES AND CERTIFICATES

From Fall 2003 to Fall 2007, West Hills College Lemoore conferred a total of 1,276 degrees and certificates in various disciplines. Over 50 percent of these were Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts. The Liberal Arts Program has been renamed Liberal Studies and is currently under review and modification.

The total number of degrees and certificates conferred by West Hills College Lemoore has been steadily increasing over the past four years.

TRANSFERS TO FOUR YEAR INSTITUTIONS

Data Source: National Student Clearing House; WHCCD Data Warehouse

Definition: The annual numbers of transfers to four-year institutions were determined by students who completed at least 12 units in the WHCCD system and stopped attending WHCCD prior to transferring to a four year institution.

Assessment:

- In '07, 92 students transferred to public four year institutions; 148 students transferred to private four year institutions.
- In the six years observed, more students transferred to California private institutions each year than transferred to California public institutions.
- The number of students transferring continues to increase with the most significant gains occurring at California private four year institutions.

Data Source: National Student Clearing House; WHCCD Data Warehouse

Definition: Based on WHCCD students who completed at least 12 units primarily online from a combination of online courses from WHCC and WHCL and stopped attending WHCCD prior to transferring to a four year institution.

Assessment:

- The number of online transfers has significantly increased over the six years observed.
- Significant gains have been made in the number of students transferring to out of state public institutions.

Section IV: Student Services

Student services are an important and integral function at West Hills College Lemoore. The college develops and offers a wide scope of support services that are dedicated to supplementing and complementing instructional programs and providing educational and cultural resources to students, faculty, and the community.

For the purposes of this Educational Master Plan, the student services included are those dealing with the Department of Learning Resources, Financial Aid, the Matriculation process and the following categorical programs: CalWorks, CARE, DSP&S, and EOPS.

Department of Learning Resources

Description: The Department of Learning Resources is responsible for supporting the colleges in their teaching/learning and service process through the development and administration of an academic online and video conference program that provides faculty training, help desk support, and videoconference technology installation and support.

Note: Prior to 2003-2004, all online courses were offered by WHCL

- There is significant growth in the online FTES and headcount at each campus.

- The number of video conference courses offered at Lemoore has been decreasing

- While the number of disciplines available online has remained steady, the number of sections has increased significantly.

Department Plans:

- Provide online students with active, hands-on, concrete experiences through technological media through collaboration of Learning Resources online staff and online instructors
- Develop and implement Student Technology and Online Readiness Self Assessment Tools
- Increase student technology literacy and independence through enhanced online orientations, student-friendly sites, and online training in courses
- Research and work with CENIC on all aspects of captioning for video conference courses
- Research and present to faculty new classroom mediated technologies
- Provide consultation and research services to the college academic communities.

From Program Review of Spring 2007

Matriculation

Description: The matriculation Process at WHC Lemoore provides an admission process, an orientation to college programs, services, and procedures; pre-enrollment assessment and counseling for course selection, a suitable curriculum, and a continuous follow up on student progress with referral to support services.

* Matriculation is based on students receiving assessment and counseling or orientation services.

Extended Opportunity Program and Services (EOPS)

Description: The EOPS program and services is a state funded program that provides supplemental support services to students with financial and educational needs. Eligibility is determined by income level and demonstration of need.

- The gender of students receiving financial aid differs from student population which is 61.94% female, 37.37% male.
- The age of students receiving financial aid differs slightly from the student population: 25.62% are under 19; 30.94% are 20-24; 15.36% are 25-29; 23.28% are 30-49.

Section V: Labor Market Information

INTRODUCTION

The college is committed to providing students with relevant education and training for career technical and professional programs. Consequently, we examine labor market information for this region and compare it to the programs we offer. We use this information to plan for the development of new programs.

ECONOMY OF THE SAN JOAQUIN REGION, OVERVIEW

The Educational Master Plan for West Hills College Lemoore primarily utilizes our district service area that encompasses parts of five counties (Fresno, Kings, Madera, Monterey, San Benito) for demographic data. However, for the economic and labor market section we have also included the counties of Tulare, Kern, Merced, Stanislaus and San Joaquin. The reason for this is the impact of the larger geographical region's economy on college planning for the West Hills Community College District. Employment options for our students also take into consideration a greater area than the college district.

Among the ten counties under consideration by West Hills Community College District for its Educational Master Plan, six are among the top ten counties in the state in the value of their agricultural production: Fresno, Tulare, Kern, Merced, Stanislaus and San Joaquin. Of the ten counties drawing students to the West Hills colleges, only Mariposa County, with nearly half of its land on Federal lands, has an economy not based on agriculture.

While farming and agriculture define the region to a great extent, the counties of the San Joaquin Valley differ considerably in their economic make-ups. Madera and Tulare County have about three times the proportion of employment in agriculture as San Joaquin and Stanislaus. The others fall in between. Likewise, manufacturing is a more prominent part of the employment picture in Merced and Stanislaus counties than in other counties and government is a larger sector of employment in Kings County than in the others. This suggests that educational planners need to consider the diverse employment options in the region as well as the large distances in the rural landscape.

Population Growth

The population of the region is expected to grow approximately ten percent between 2007 and 2012, compared to the state's projected growth of five percent during the same period. The greatest growth will occur among adults aged 30 to 34 years and children under ten years of age (106,284). (Source: Regional Scan and Program Demand Report, 2007) This growth will have an impact on the need for job training and re-training and for education of children, and related services.

Income Levels and Unemployment

Per capita personal income varies in the San Joaquin Valley counties, but is below the state average in each. For comparison, the average per capita personal income in California for 2006 was $39,626. Among the ten counties of the San Joaquin region, Fresno had the highest per capita income, $27,081; Kings had the lowest at $22,771. (Source: Table CA1-3, Regional Economic Accounts, Bureau of Economic Analysis, April 2008)

A recent survey of student applications for admission to West Hill College Lemoore and West Hills College Coalinga shows 45 and 48 percent of applicants, respectively, have family incomes of $25,000 or less. (Source: WHCCD 2007-2008 admission application supplemental survey) The lower than average incomes in the region are consistent with agricultural regions across the country.

Unemployment also reflects the agricultural economic base of the region. Unemployment tends to be higher in the San Joaquin Valley region than the state average. The seasonality of agriculture and the relatively low wage scale account for some of the disparity between this region and other parts of the state. Counties in the San Joaquin Valley also have higher than average poverty rates.

Employment

The top industry sectors in the region, those with over 100,000 jobs, were government, agriculture (including forestry, fishing and hunting), retail trade, health and social assistance, manufacturing, construction, and accommodation and food services in 2007. Construction ranked at the top in earnings per worker ($54,440) and accommodation and food services ranked last in the group ($16,554). The greatest growth among all industry sectors by 2012 is projected to be in health care and social assistance. (Source: Chart of Industry Sectors, Region and State, 2007-2012).

Those occupations requiring training and/or education and showing the most growth across all industries in the region in 2007 include:

- Registered nurses
- First-line supervisors/managers of retail sales workers
- Elementary school teachers, except special education
- Business operation specialists
- Truck drivers, heavy and tractor-trailer
- Medical assistants
- Customer service representatives
- Accountants and auditors
- Nursing aides, orderlies, and attendants
- Carpenters

(Source: EMSi Top-Ranked Occupations by Total Growth, 2007-2012. Note: The list above includes the top ten occupations, all with over 17,000 employees.)

At the time of the Regional Scan and Program Demand Report, West Hills Community College District offered curriculum directly related to six of the twelve high-demand occupations.

Planning for future educational programs and services at the college will take into account the agricultural character of the region, the needs of its growing population for general education and workforce training, and the need to keep pace with demands of the economy.

REGIONAL REPORT

The following information was obtained from the Regional Scan & Program Demand Report prepared for West Hills Community College District by Economic Modeling Specialist Inc.

The Regional Scan included data from ten counties: Fresno, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, San Benito, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, and Tulare. The industry and occupation employment numbers are based on numerous published sources from the federal Bureau of Labor Statistics, Bureau of Economic Analysis, Bureau of the Census, and the National Center for Education Statistics. These ten counties span a region where the West Hills Community College District students are likely to seek work.

Occupation Demand and Program Enrollment Comparison

This section compares regional occupations with the most annual openings to the college's current enrollment by program, with the goal of indicating where the college might look to increase its capacity. The occupations are taken directly from the "Top-Ranked Occupations by New + Replacement Jobs" table. "Related programs" associated with occupations are identified using a crosswalk developed by the U.S. Department of Education with some customization by EMSI. College enrollment numbers by Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code are provided by West Hills Community College District.

Note that many occupations have multiple related programs and vice versa, so students enrolled in a program may be included in more than one row in the table above. "Average annual openings" is total new and replacement jobs divided by the number of years in the given timeframe.

2007 FRESNO COUNTY EMPLOYMENT STUDY

In 2007 the Fresno County Workforce Investment Board conducted a survey of Fresno County employers to collect data relevant to guide the county's potential and job growth and employment trends. A total of 1,004 surveys were completed. They included small, medium, and large employers from seven sectors.

Below is a summary of the findings. The original data set was sorted to include only those occupations with 20 or more Projected Positions in Year 1. Occupations with no employers requiring High School Diplomas or Certification were then removed. The top 25 occupations remaining are listed below sorted by the Projected Positions in Year 3.

Salaries reported are based on the employers in the Fresno County region.

Section VI: Key Findings and Strategies

STRENGTHS OF WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE

West Hills College Lemoore's fully accredited college status that was granted by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges in 2006 was well deserved. The campus features the largest and most technologically advanced library in Kings County, 18 lecture classrooms, computer labs, and three science collaboratories. Working in this state of the art facility contributes to the high morale and 'can do' attitude of the faculty and staff. In the accreditation self study the college describes itself as having a "healthy governance environment."

The partnerships that have been developed with other educational segments have been significant and positive. The partnership with University Charter School on the Lemoore campus brings in 5th through 8th grade students who are seeking a non-traditional educational setting. The Lemoore High School Middle College program is exemplary and continues to increase in scope and size. The alliance with Cal State University, Fresno, which allows students to earn a bachelor's degree while attending classes at the Lemoore site, is a partnership that every community college in the state should have. A program with Americorps has provided tutors. In 2008, a nursing program that had been the result of a partnership with Fresno City College will break out as a stand alone nursing program. The teacher preparation program T.E.A.M. Teach addresses the need for well prepared educators in our communities.

The college has responded well to the demands of business and industry. The region's emerging hotel, restaurant, and Casino management industry resulted in the development of a program to train managers in these areas. A new engineering program was started in fall 2008.

Naval Air Station Lemoore, located five miles from the Lemoore campus has a rich and enduring presence with the college. Faculty and staff have noted that the presence of students from NASL has enriched their classes and the college community because of a global knowledge base and experiences. Its proximity to the Lemoore campus influences the college and provides a unique perspective not available to many community colleges.

Student Services: New leadership in the student services area has resulted in innovative and effective approaches to serving students. An example of this is X-treme Registration that provides students with a unique college event and services to register at the last possible moment. Another example is bilingual orientation that was scheduled to be in place in 2007 and online orientation planned for implementation by spring '08.

Instructional Services: A consensus was reached on the definition of an instructional program that has facilitated the implementation of the program review process. There has been a concerted amount of effort in working toward a college wide completion of student learning outcomes for each course, projected to be in place by the end of 2008.

The college's continued focus on improving and refining all aspects of the curriculum development process will be important to the creation of classes, programs, and services that will lead the way to an educated work force in this region. Its state of the art technology and physical plant, the growth in the area surrounding the college, and its vital faculty and staff are hallmarks of West Hills College Lemoore.

KEY FINDINGS & STRATEGIES FOR WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE

COLLEGE WIDE: MULTIPLE DELIVERY SYSTEMS – ONLINE, VIDEO CONFERENCE, WEB BASED

Key Findings

The West Hills Community College District service area spans a wide swath of the San Joaquin Valley and encompasses five counties in mostly rural environments. The area is large and the need for educational access to the population is great. Students facing time and geographical barriers to education must have their needs met through the access provided by online courses and programs and video conference courses.

Online enrollments across the district continue to grow. The majority of the students who are enrolling in online classes are from our service area, although approximately 40% are from outside the service area. The success and retention rates for students in online classes throughout the district is below classroom rates, but remains fairly consistent for Lemoore students at 55% success rate and 73% retention.

At WHC Lemoore during the '07-'08 academic year, there were 3,155 unduplicated students enrolled in online classes. On the campus at Lemoore there are 5,276 students enrolled.

With high school graduation rates projected to be static for the next 7 years, increased offerings of classes and programs in multiple delivery systems, will be a major factor for growth at the college.

Strategies to address key findings:

- More development of multiple delivery methods for classes and programs throughout the curriculum, including online, video conference, web based classes, hybrid classes and traditional classes utilizing new formats.
- Development of an array of Basic Skills classes in multiple delivery methods to provide access for students in need of pre collegiate work.
- More development of degrees and certificates that can be earned online.
- Increase student services and support for online students
- Research on staffing levels needed to support growth and development of online and video conference classes
- Close attention to the technological resources and facilities needed to maintain and increase online and video conference classes.
- Develop and market programs targeting non-traditional students.

The findings and strategies address goals from:

- District strategic plan: #1 Achieve growth targets, #4 improve transfer, completion and graduation rates
- College guiding principle: Access
- State strategic plan: College awareness and access

COLLEGE WIDE: NAVAL AIR STATION

Key Findings

The enrollment at the Naval Air Station (NASL) has been in a steep decline for the last five years, with a slight uptick in 2007-2008.

Among the factors that may have contributed to the decline are the opening of the new Lemoore campus which has attracted military students to enroll on campus, changes to military tuition assistance, deployment during the Iraq war, and the increased availability of online courses.

Students at NASL have preferred evening courses. Some student characteristics are notably different from other entities – students are older, and there are generally more white students and fewer Hispanics.

In 2007-2008, the Naval Air Station center had 143 students, down from a high of 462 in 2002-2003.

The importance of Lemoore Naval Air Station to the college and the region cannot be underestimated. The Naval Air Station is a unique resource with a stable population that has educational needs.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Formation of a widely representative advisory committee to discuss the issues of enrollment at NASL.
- Discussions with leadership at NASL in regards to their concerns, forecasted changes and/or program development, resource sharing
- Involvement of campus leadership for ideas, concerns
- Brainstorm ideas in regards to adult learners, under skilled workers, retraining and reentry training
- Offer alternative scheduling, short term curricular modes, weekend classes
- Consider new joint use ideas, non credit, and focused programs with cohorts

Addresses Goals From:

- District Strategic Plan:# 3 Community participation rates
- College Guiding Principle: Collaboration, community
- State Strategic Plan: Goal: A#3 Innovative programs and outreach

COLLEGE WIDE: COORDINATION OF PROGRAM AND COURSE DEVELOPMENT

Key Findings

There has been coordination between WHC Lemoore and WHC Coalinga in the development and offering of courses and programs.

A number of factors make coordination in coming years even more complex. Among them are the substantial and growing offerings online and the fully accredited status of the college.

In the data regarding students' identification of city of residence, a significant percentage of students come from cities such as Fresno, Coalinga, Visalia, and Avenal. While some of these residents may only be enrolled in online classes, we can also infer that these students may be willing to take classes some distance from their homes because of the desirability of a specific program.

The alignment of courses and programs within the college district and with all segments of education are essential to student access and success. Coordination would allow the college to maximize the development of courses and programs unique to its community, area, and facilities – and provide students with more choices and venues. These are essential to student access and success.

Strategies to address key finding:

- Continue to coordinate the development of courses and programs with WHC Coalinga to ensure comprehensive offerings to all students in the service area.
- Interface Lemoore's Student Learning Committee with Coalinga's Instructional Services Council on a regular basis to discuss and make recommendations for approval of new courses and programs.
- Consider the formation of a district committee for review, coordination, and recommendation for approval of courses and programs.
- Develop a process to ensure colleges adhere to the Rule of 5 in which course number, title, prefix, units, and transferability are coordinated and discussion and coordination take place that ensure students have a seamless experience in their access to curriculum at WHCCD.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan:#4 Improve transfer, completion, and graduation rates
- College Guiding Principle: Access
- State Strategic Plan: #1 College awareness and access

COLLEGE WIDE: ADDRESS THE CHANGING DEMOGRAPHICS

Key Findings:

An analysis of the demographic data for WHC Lemoore reveals that students in the age group of 30-49 have increased slightly at the college from 1,566 in '02-'03 to 1,651 in '07-'08. On the Lemoore campus, this group has dropped slightly from 1,179 to 1,157 during this time frame. But the number of online students in this age group has risen from 629 in '02-'03 to 750 in '07-'08.

The Regional Scan and Program Demand Report from Economic Modeling Specialist Inc. (EMSI) projects that the greatest growth in our region will occur among adults aged 30 to 34 years and children under 10 years of age during the period of '07-'12.

The female student population at WHC Lemoore continues to be significantly greater than the male population reflecting a state and national trend. In '07-'08 females comprised 62% of the student body.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that for the first time since the modern women's movement came to life, an economic recovery has come and gone, and the percentage of women at work has fallen, not risen. A congressional study released on July 23, 2008, offers the explanation that women are dropping out of the workforce for awhile as jobs and wages shrink, to return to the family and to potentially retrain. At WHC Lemoore 30-49 year olds are a larger proportion of the student population than those 25-29.

With the projected service area high school graduates remaining static into 2015, the college needs to focus on the demographic that may offer the most growth and also have a growing educational need in this region – students, primarily women, in the 30-49 year old age group.

Strategies to address key finding:

- Consider workforce programs that would attract students who are seeking retraining for the next stage of their work life.
- Query students in this age group about their needs – scheduling of classes, academic support, child care, programs that they seek, etc.
- Target marketing to this group of potential students in the community

Addresses goals from:

- District strategic plan: #1 Achieve growth targets, #4 Improve transfer, completion, and graduation rates
- College Guiding Principle: Access, Diversity
- State Strategic Plan: College awareness and readiness

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: BASIC SKILLS

Key Findings

Levels of proficiency in English/Language Arts and Mathematics of students at the 11th grade level in feeder high schools to WHC Lemoore are low. This implies a potential need for more Basic Skills sections available to first term students matriculating to the college.

Of first term students who were assessed, 48% assessed into Basic Skills English and 51% assessed into Basic Skills Math.

Data from the California Community College Chancellor's Office reports that when students do not receive the Basic Skills education they need, less than 10 % will survive the college experience.

Successful participation at the college level is dependent on preparation math and English skills. According to the CCCCCO, more than half of entering community college students require some Basic Skills education due in part to the fact that K-12 curriculum and assessments do not always adequately prepare students for college level work.

Students at Lemoore are generally successful in Basic Skills classes. In math and English the college has continued to increase sections after the reduction in '03-04, showing programs committed to Basic Skills offerings. Math and ESL have high productivity levels, and the success rate in both programs is above the college average. English, math, and ESL Basic Skills classes all have high retention rates.

Strategies to address key findings:

- Offer more sections of Basic Skills Classes in English, ESL, and math
- Consider a college wide committee to address Basic Skills and preparedness for college level curricula
- Work to ensure that all general education and vocational courses include specific activities designed to reinforce key reading, writing, speaking, and computational competencies
- Offer alternative pathways to Basic Skills preparation – e.g., intensive short-term courses, open skill building tutorials, etc.
- Focus professional development on student success, providing faculty with incentives to integrate the development of essential academic skills in their students
- Track students success from Basic Skills through college level curriculum
- Seek innovative ways to offer and deliver Basic Skills classes.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College guiding principle: Access
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Student success and readiness, Basic Skills as the foundation for student success

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Key Findings

Even with a significant reduction in ESL class sections that occurred after '02-'03 and little growth in additional sections following that, the enrollment has remained high. In '07-08, there are more enrollments in the 7 sections offered than the 15 sections in '02-03.

The retention rates are high in classes with success rates of 67% slightly below the statewide average of 70.6%.

The college does not offer college-level ESL classes. ESL offerings have had limited scheduling, primarily offered in the evening, although expansion into day time slots occurred in fall '08.

Latinos are projected to become the State's largest ethnic group by 2011 and the majority population in public schools by 2013. The college's predominantly Hispanic student body, which is also reflected in the region, strongly suggests that a fully developed ESL program that leads to success in college level transfer classes and programs is essential.

Data from the Public Policy Institute of California notes that the educational attainment of Latinos falls short of residents overall and short of what the economy will demand by 2015.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Develop a full curriculum of ESL courses that lead to college level offerings
- Develop an assessment and placement system for ESL students
- Offer more sections of Basic Skills classes in ESL in multiple delivery methods and time slots throughout the schedule
- Track ESL students into college level classes

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan:#4 Improve transfer, completion and graduation
- College guiding principles: Access, Diversity
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Basic Skills as the foundation for student success

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: THE ARTS

Key Findings

Art classes at Lemoore are among the highest in retention and success rates, and FTES at the college.

The location of Lemoore and the resources it provides the community suggests that it will develop as a cultural center in the community.

A recent community survey revealed that approximately 65% of respondents indicated that they would be somewhat-to-much-more-likely to vote for a local higher education bond if funds were used to construct a performing arts center for college and community use.

Music programs exist in the community and at selected high schools.

Strategies to address key findings:

- Develop a program in the arts and performing arts
- Develop an advisory committee from the community to determine interests and needs

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #3 Increase community participation
- College guiding principles: Community, Excellence
- State Strategic Plan: #1 College awareness and access

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: LOWER DIVISION TRANSFER CURRICULUM

Key Findings

On the admission application 39% of West Hills College Lemoore students state that their primary goal is to transfer to a 4 year institution.

The geographic distances inherent in West Hills Community College District make access to educational opportunities challenging. The college's partnership with CSU Fresno and Fresno Pacific University are significant as students interested in going on to a baccalaureate degree can do so by completing requirements on the Lemoore campus. Access to a wide array of lower division transfer curriculum, articulation agreements and transfer agreements facilitate a student's continued educational pursuits.

The community survey revealed a priority interest in university classes. Close to 90% of respondents indicated that they would be somewhat-to-much-more-likely to vote for the bond if funds were used to construct a university center where university classes would be offered to complete advanced college degrees.

Graduating seniors from public high schools in this region are 7 per cent less likely to attend a community college and 4 per cent are less likely to attend a UC than graduating seniors statewide.

Lemoore student transfers to four year institutions continue to grow, with CSU Fresno being a main transfer site. Notably, an increasing number of WHCCD online students are transferring. With the opening of the UC Merced campus, more articulation and transfer agreements for Lemoore students should be forged. In addition, many students from Lemoore transfer to in state private colleges and universities – in fact, more students go on to private institutions than matriculate to public institutions.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Increase the development of lower division transfer classes that fulfill IGETC requirements
- Align student learning outcomes in critical course sequences
- Discuss and coordinate with like discipline areas across the district
- Meet regularly to align curriculum with high school partners and 4 year partners, including both public and private institutions.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College Guiding Principles: Excellence
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, #4 Intersegmental transfer

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: ECONOMIC TRENDS and WHC LEMOORE PROGRAMS

Key Findings

In a scan of the economic forecasts and the projected labor market for the region against the backdrop of existing instructional programs at the college, a number of occupations in a handful of areas continue to surface.

Examples of these areas are: medically related health careers, management/supervision in the areas of retail and government, teacher education, and child care workers.

At Lemoore, the child development program is particularly well developed with its certificates and degrees. The program is layered with many options. Agreements with Hanford High and the NASL child care programs are creative. Online classes are being considered. The Education/Education Assistant program has been actively involved in partnerships with the University Charter School and highly successful Middle College High School, but appears to be shrinking. These programs can play an important role in the economic development of the region placing their graduates in the growing field of education and child care.

WHC Lemoore is well positioned to provide timely education and job training in health related fields. The new nursing program started in fall '08 and other programs are being explored.

The college has been proactive in partnering with the Health and Human Services Department of Kings County, which is with the college to provide workforce training programs for the CalWorks population in fields such as office technology.

The importance of the Naval Air Station to the college is obvious. Declining enrollment at NASL requires a fresh look at possibilities in terms of workforce training. Discussions with the NASL, college faculty and staff, environmental scans, and labor market projections should provide a foundation for the decision-making process.

In environmental scans of any region, projects or areas surface that haven't yet made the radar screens of labor market surveys. One such project is the Quay Valley Ranch, a proposed planned community consisting of about 12,000 acres in unincorporated Kings County. It is planned to be a new, sustainable, solar-powered model town of about 150,000 people. The potential for partnership, the development of programs in sustainable energy, the need for education, jobs, and services is large. The college must play a role.

Strategies to Address Key Findings:

- WHC Lemoore has already forged many strategies to respond to labor market needs. But the process to find ways to collaborate with local, regional, and state partners takes constant attention & effort.
- Monitoring economic trends and corresponding program development and expansion must continue. Employee demographics suggest that significant administrative and faculty retirements may occur in the next ten years. Staffing decisions must be considered.
- Program review and coordination at the college and district level may reveal areas of collaboration or unique pursuit because of geography, program interest or expertise, or facilities.
- Work force training is as important as the preparation of students in the Basic Skills. Contextualization – the concept that students learn essential skills best in practical, experiential contexts is ideal in that environment. Links with Basic Skills and work force training can be employed in programs at a college like Lemoore, where collegiality and communication are stated values.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College guiding principles: Excellence, Collaboration
- State strategic plan: Goal C Partnerships for economic and workforce development

STUDENT SERVICES: ASSESSMENT PLACEMENT SERVICES

Key Findings

18.8% of all students at Lemoore have received assessment placement services in '06-'07; 49.5% of first-term students were assessed that year.

In '07-08, 46% of first-term students were assessed and 48% of them placed into Basic Skills English and 51% placed into Basic Skills math.

District wide, about 14% of students who did not receive assessment had educational goals that required assessment in order to succeed at the college level.

A small percentage of 11th grade students at feeder high schools to WHC Lemoore test as proficient or advanced in English or math.

Assessment and placement are a foundation for college success and students most at risk are those who have not been assessed.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Develop programs to ensure that the majority of incoming students receive assessment placement services to provide them with information to access classes that will prepare them to succeed academically.

- Work across the curriculum to insure that classes that will help students succeed academically are available to them.
- Students in categorical programs compose about 63% of Basic Skills English enrollment. Develop collaboration between categorical programs and Basic Skills English faculty to improve success rates

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan:#4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College Guiding Principles: Access, Excellence
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Student success and readiness, Assessment and placement

STUDENT SERVICES: MULTIPLE DELIVERY SYSTEMS FOR STUDENT SERVICES

Key Findings

The remarkable growth in students taking online classes necessitates a rethinking throughout the college about new ways to support their learning and success.

The college has an unduplicated head count of online students that is equal to 49% of on-campus students. There were 3,161 online students in the '07-'08 school year. The projected development and growth of multiple delivery systems for classes will necessitate new strategies for student services.

With relatively new leadership in student services at Lemoore, new perspectives and ideas are being implemented. The goal to provide online and bilingual orientation, counseling, testing and guidance service to new and continuing students is being implemented. (Institutional self study report, '06)

Although 49% of first term students received assessment placement, 18% of all students used assessment placement services in '06-'07, with only 8% of the college's students using follow up academic services.

The success and retention rates for students taking classes online are below the rates of students taking classes on campus. Online students in '07-'08 had a success rate at Lemoore of 55% and a retention rate of 73%. On campus students had a success rate of 63% and a retention rate of 78%.

Strategies to address Key Findings

- Develop a means to provide more students with matriculation services, with a focus on students who are enrolled in online and video conference classes
- Develop methods to more effectively assess the student preparedness levels of online students
- Develop a student services strategic plan with multiple delivery systems as a main theme. Because of the existing initiative to start online and bilingual services, the college may already be developing a model program to be replicated.
- Consider the efficacy of joint online student services with WHC Coalinga so students at either college would have seamless, well supported services available in an expansive time frame.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: Goal #4 [Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College Guiding Principles: Access, Innovation
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Student Success and Readiness

West Hills Community College District:
Strategic Plan for Information Technology

1. Executive Summary

The West Hills Community College District recently completed a strategic planning process for information technology. The results of that process include substantial insight into the District's current circumstances and prospects for moving forward.

First, though, it should be pointed out that the District is already making considerable progress in many areas. For example, significant advances have been made with respect to distance learning, instructional technology, and online services for students and faculty.

Generally, the strategic planning process was based upon the following:

- Assessment (e.g., surveys, interviews, focus group discussions) in order to gain insight and create awareness
- Consideration of opportunities for improvement within key areas, including the following:
 - Administrative Information Technology Systems and Applications
 - Information Technology Infrastructure
 - Information Technology Services
 - Information Technology Leadership and Management
 - Instructional Technology

This planning document includes a consideration of specific opportunities for improvement. There is pragmatic information about potential action items within each of the above key areas.

The District's ability to pursue opportunities for improvement will be enhanced if there is an annual review of various efforts. The goal is to measure how well the institution is performing in numerous areas. Regular assessments of the District's circumstances will help reinforce everyone's understanding of expectations, commitments, accountabilities, priorities, etc.

The District deserves congratulations on its decision to complete a strategic planning process for information technology. The District took the initiative to ask questions about how to improve itself. As a result, it has substantial opportunities to enhance its vitality with respect to teaching, learning, service, operations, and sense of purpose.

2. Introduction and Purpose

Increasingly, information technology is a pervasive and integral part of our lives. It is becoming rather difficult to think of situations in which sophisticated systems do not have profound implications. Extraordinary technological advancements have been made in recent years in a number of areas, including the following:

- Education
- Communications
- Business and commerce
- Entertainment
- Health care
- Government

Within higher education, Google is used for research, iPods are commonplace, e-mail is a communications method of choice, and blogs are ordinary places for people to share their lives. Going forward, it is logical to assume that there will be increasingly widespread use of information technology.

How should the West Hills Community College District plan for the future? How will it address the following kinds of questions?

- What is the most appropriate way to leverage information technology to serve the mission of the District and its colleges?
- From an information technology standpoint, what must be done to support the District's Strategic Plan for 2006 - 2010?
- Are there particular opportunities for improving teaching, learning, and service?
- How can information technology help enable streamlined administrative services for students, faculty, alumni, staff, administrators, and others?
- Does the District have specific technology-related issues that require prompt remediation?
- Is there a particular roadmap that makes sense for the District? What practical steps should be taken?
- What obstacles and risks need to be anticipated and/or overcome?
- What are the most appropriate investments to be made with respect to information technology?

It is hard to overstate the importance of the above questions; a great deal is at stake. Information technology is widespread, foundational, increasingly complex, and costly. And, many systems and services are directly tied to the work of the District.

In addition to the practical aspects of information technology, there are important philosophical issues that need attention. For example, the advanced use of information technology is increasingly seen as an indicator of an institution's vitality and sense of progress.

Going further, there are democratic and egalitarian issues to consider. For example, the District must ensure that people have access to information technology that enhances their ability to teach, learn, interact, and serve others. We must enable everyone in the District to leverage information technology in highly beneficial ways.

Colleges and universities sometimes have rather dissimilar strategic plans for information technology. There can be substantial differences with respect to mission, priorities, resources, organizational structure, etc. Although this document recognizes best practices from other institutions, this strategic plan for information technology focuses on the unique circumstances of the West Hills Community College District.

Although the District has already realized substantial success in many areas, the basic premise of this strategic plan is that the District wants to enhance its ability to achieve certain critical outcomes. Examples of such important results can include the following:

- Improved teaching and learning
- Strong support for marketing/admissions programs
- Increased enrollment retention
- Increased productivity of students, faculty, and staff -- especially through the use of information technology
- Maximizing the District's return on the investments that are made in information technology
- Continued recruiting of talented faculty, staff, and administrators
- Streamlined administrative services (e.g., registration, financial aid)

Fundamentally, information technology helps enable certain results. It is meant to be supportive, not directive. It serves the needs of the District, not vice-versa.

This strategic plan for information technology describes numerous efforts that the institution can pursue over the next five years. The focus is on helping the District move forward in important ways.

This document is comprised of several sections. First, there is a profile of the District to help establish a context. Next, is a list of assumptions that were part of the planning process.

Third, are the results of various assessment efforts (e.g., focus group discussions, surveys that were completed by students, faculty, staff, and administrators). The assessment information is meant to provide insight into the District's existing circumstances, create awareness, and enable planning for future work.

And, finally, there is a consideration of the District's opportunities for improvement. Specific information is given on how the District might enhance its efforts.

The District deserves substantial commendation for its investment in a strategic planning process. Being thoughtful about the development of information technology will result in significant benefits to students, faculty, staff, administrators, and others.

3. Understanding the West Hills Community College District

The development of a strategic plan for information technology is at least partly rooted in an understanding of existing circumstances. Characterizing the District's current situation helps enable a sensible roadmap for the future.

a. Profile of the District

The West Hills Community College District began operations in 1932. Presently, its service area is a 3,464 square mile region that includes portions of five surrounding counties. Below, are some noteworthy statistics.

- Major Service Locations: West Hills Community College District Office, West Hills College Coalinga, West Hills College Lemoore, North District Center, Naval Air Station Lemoore.
- District Enrollment in 2006 - 2007: Headcount = 10,800; Budgeted FTES = 4,950.
- Total Degrees/Certificates Awarded in 2006 - 2007: 587.
- District budget for FY 2006 - 2007: $32.9M.

b. e-Learning Strategic Plan

The District completed its e-Learning Strategic Plan in 2002. A considerable number of accomplishments resulted from the planning process and resulting initiatives. Clearly, much of the District's growth (e.g., enrollment gains, enhanced services to students/faculty/staff) can be attributed to the effective development of supportive information technology.

Specifically, the e-Learning Strategic Plan called upon the District to address the following goals. In turn, each goal involved a number of strategies, objectives, and tasks.

- Implementation of a fully functional web site.
- Creation of partnerships to help ensure that e-learning programs/services meet the needs of the community.
- Creation of a user-friendly call center for technical assistance.
- Provision of faculty development opportunities with respect to e-learning.
- Creation of goodwill among campuses.
- Development of a well-trained workforce within the District.
- Empowerment of students to make wise e-learning decisions.
- Provision of academic and technological support to enhance student learning.
- Implementation of appropriate management practices to support e-learning.
- Provision of necessary hardware, software, and infrastructure for students, faculty, staff, and others.
- Provision of fully accessible, interactive, online library services.

This plan assumes that the District has substantially fulfilled the above goals. Now, going forward, there is a desire to build upon the success. Increasingly, there are strong expectations for enhanced services that support the work of students, faculty, staff, and the community.

c. District Strategic Plan

Certainly, the use of information technology should support the overall mission of the District. Although ensuring the success of various systems, applications, services, etc., is worthwhile, the real goal is to leverage information technology to achieve specific strategic outcomes. Going forward, it is important to enable the District to address the goals within its Strategic Plan for 2006 - 2010, including the following:

- Achieve or exceed funded growth targets
- Focus marketing efforts on District-wide “stories”
- Annually increase community participation rates
- Annually improve transfer, completion, and graduation rates
- Become the preferred choice of students through ongoing and active recruitment

d. Current Enterprise Systems and Applications

Below, is a list of the District's primary enterprise systems and applications.

- Datatel Colleague Student
- Datatel Colleague Finance
- Datatel Colleague Human Resources
- Datatel Colleague Financial Aid
- MS Exchange (e-mail)
- IMail (e-mail)
- Blackboard
- SIRSI Library Automation
- Hershey Imaging
- SARS
- MS Office

Presently, the District intends to implement the R18 version of Datatel Colleague in December 2007. And, eventually, the system will be migrated to a MS SQL Server database (from UniData).

Additionally, the District has announced plans for the implementation of several enterprise applications in 2008, including the following:

- Datatel Colleague Payroll (as opposed to the use of the County's payroll processing system)
- Datatel Colleague ActiveCampus Portal
- Datatel Colleague ActiveAdmissions
- Datatel Colleague Advancement

And, finally, in addition to commercially available products, the District may consider Open Source applications when it implements solutions for particular purposes. Likewise, the District will consider the pros/cons of in-house solutions vs. outsourced services/applications.

Current Information Technology Services

The District's information technology services entail several major types of support, including the following:

- Infrastructure and maintenance, including the following:
 - Voice, video, and data networks
 - Central computing servers and other data center systems
 - Approval and purchase of all computers and peripheral hardware.
- Mission-critical business applications, including the following:
 - Datatel Colleague, Blackboard, etc.
 - e-mail
 - SIRSI
- Information management, including the following:
 - Data management
 - Data warehousing
 - Administration of web servers
- Web services
- Emergency Notification System
- Help Desk services, including assistance with Blackboard, e-mail, My West Hills, resetting passwords, etc.
- Learning Resources assistance, including help for faculty who use Blackboard
- End user technical services, including maintenance, repairs, installations, upgrades, etc.

Presently, the District's support services are managed and delivered in a matrixed manner. That is, a number of overlapping organizations/individuals assist users in a variety of ways. There is nothing wrong with such an arrangement, but it is always important for students, faculty, staff, et al., to know how to obtain help in a prompt, structured manner. Otherwise, there is a risk that ad hoc or uncoordinated services will result in duplicative efforts, conflicting activities, and/or breakdowns in assistance.

Generally, users take the path of least resistance with they need help. That is, they will opt for the services that can be delivered most promptly and effectively -- regardless of institution's policies, procedures, organizational structure, etc. It is important for the District to recognize the nature of user behavior and ensure a coordinated approach to service requests.

e. Current Information Technology Infrastructure

The District's primary data center includes Hewlett-Packard blade servers and a 5 TB storage area network (SAN). The platforms enable considerable consolidation and scalability. That is, the systems are within a limited number of frames, and there is room for growth. The data center also includes virtual and physical tape libraries for backup purposes.

The District has a CISCO AVID system that enables voice, video, and data services over the wide area network (WAN). Currently, the network supports nine separate sites with a T1 circuits (or multiple T1 circuits). All locations are interconnected by Cisco 3662 routers that include failover capabilities. A DS3 circuit provides connectivity between the Coalinga campus and the Lemoore campus.

Both the Coalinga and Lemoore campuses have DS3 connections to the Internet. The local area networks (LANs) provide 100 MB service to the desktop. And the switching equipment enables redundant gigabit fiber connections among buildings. A Cisco Enterprise PIX 525 is used as a firewall and VPN concentrator.

Presently, the District sees its current network infrastructure as nearing (or exceeding) the end of its useful life. Bond money is being sought for the replacement of switches, routers, and other components. Additionally, the District desires a VoIP solution across its network.

There are concerns about whether telecommunications carriers are providing sufficient bandwidth to the District. There are lobbying efforts within the State (e.g., "The Last Mile") to ensure appropriate service to rural communities like Coalinga, Lemoore, etc.

The District has standards for desktops, laptops, and productivity software, but the configurations are not fixed because of the dynamic nature of the information technology industry. All full-time faculty and many adjunct faculty are issued laptops.

In general, the District has a four-year replacement cycle for desktops and laptops. However, the funding for new hardware/software is budgeted by the colleges (not the District). The Information Technology Services Department generates fixed asset aging reports so that there is clear information about the systems that require replacement. The District's goal is to "ladder" the replacement cycle so that roughly 25% of the systems are replaced each year (over a four-year period).

f. Current Organizational Structure

In many ways, the District's organizational structure involves a matrix of functions, roles, staff, responsibilities, etc. Some efforts are handled by the District's Information Technology Services Department; other efforts are handled by other District departments (e.g., Learning Resources) or campus-based staff. Additionally, the District has advisory committees to help define many of its efforts.

In a number of cases (e.g., web services, technical support, video conferencing, instructional technology), the District works across several organizational boundaries to accomplish its objectives. Presently, it is not clear how some of the efforts are kept in alignment when cross-organizational responsibilities arise.

The Information Technology Services Department is a relatively flat organization, with all staff reporting to the Director. In turn, the Director reports to the Chancellor. The classified staff includes programmer analysts, technicians, data center personnel, et al., who are cross-trained to some extent. All of the employees visit the campuses on a regular basis to provide a variety of services.

A number of information technology operations occur outside the Information Technology Services Department. For example, the Learning Resources organization is responsible for video conferencing, distance learning, faculty/student use of Blackboard, certain Help Desk functions, etc.

In terms of committee structure, the District's efforts are guided by the WHCIST (West Hills Customer Information Support Team) and the TAT (Technology Advisory Team). The membership for both groups includes key stakeholders from the District and the colleges.

WHCIST's primary (but not exclusive) focus is on the enhanced use of enterprise technology (and especially Datatel Colleague). TAT's responsibilities center around the currency of the information technology that supports students and instructional programs.

There appears to be some uncertainty about the purposes and activities that are addressed by WHCIST and TAT. It is not clear, for example, that the groups are identifying opportunities, setting priorities, recommending resource allocations, reviewing the status of various projects, etc. The seeming uncertainties about WHCIST and TAT might have prompted Lemoore College's apparent efforts to create its own technology committee.

4. Planning Assumptions

A number of assumptions are associated with the District's planning process, including the following:

- Although it is certainly important to ensure the success of information technology in all respects, the District wants its strategic plan to have a District-level perspective. As appropriate, there may be planning opportunities at the campus level that are outside the scope of this document.
- The e-Learning Strategic Plan established clear goals and objectives with respect to instructional technology, and the District should continue its efforts to improve all aspects of teaching and learning. Now, though, the District desires a strategic plan that includes consideration of administrative systems and operations.
- Strategic planning is a continuous process. The District will make ongoing efforts to assess its efforts, identify opportunities for improvement, and move forward.
- In many respects, the District is large, diverse, and widespread. As such, it is not easy to ensure that the planning process touched all those who might have significant insight. So, again, it is important for the District to ensure ongoing efforts to assess its circumstances.
- The planning process uncovered a substantial number of potential projects and initiatives. Some of them (e.g., implementing Datatel Colleague Advancement, implementing an ActiveCampus portal) require very significant investments of time, money, staff, expertise, etc. So, there is an implicit assumption that the District either has all of the necessary resources (including that which is required for ongoing maintenance), or the District has a strategy for prioritizing its projects and initiatives -- so that it can live within its existing budget.
- The planning process assumed that new advisory committees will be created. And, one of the first responsibilities of such groups will be to review the District's opportunities for improvement -- with an eye toward funding, prioritization, timing, executive sponsorship, etc.

5. Presentation of Assessment Data

A considerable amount of qualitative and quantitative assessment data was collected with respect to the District's existing circumstances. The most significant information was obtained as a result of the following:

- Interviews and focus group discussions
- Surveys of students, faculty, staff, and administrators

a. Interviews and Focus Group Discussions

Several meetings were held with individuals and groups in order to gain insight into the District's perspectives, concerns, suggestions, issues, etc. Below, are representative comments that resulted from the discussions.

- The District has made considerable progress over the last few years. Information technology has been a key factor with respect to enrollment growth, service to students, teaching and learning, and administrative operations.
- The District should continue its innovative use of information technology to support teaching and learning.
- The Datatel Colleague system was implemented in a rather hurried manner. As a result, some functionality might not be used to its full potential. Likewise, there are training issues that need attention.
- A number of the District's business processes (e.g., registration, tuition/fee payment, purchasing) might need to be analyzed, re-engineered, and optimized.
- The District wants to eliminate (or at least minimize) a number of organizational and technological silos.
- It is important for the District to have a fully secure and reliable infrastructure (e.g., network, data center) that is available 24x7x365.
- There are opportunities for improvement with respect to infrastructure services (e.g., wireless access, telephony, video conferencing, hardware/software life cycle management, e-mail).
- There is a need for better integration among the District's enterprise systems and applications.
- As much as possible, all applications should be available in self-service mode -- and through a portal that enables "single sign-on."
- The District might benefit from the implementation of enhanced point solutions for imaging, workflow, data mining, web content management, ID cards, etc.
- From a management perspective, there are opportunities for improvement with respect to budgeting, governance, policies/procedures, communication, planning, etc.
- From a services perspective, there are opportunities for improvement with respect to training, Help Desk operations, etc.
- From an instructional technology perspective, there are opportunities for improvement with respect to online applications (e.g., Blackboard), faculty development, classroom equipment, library automation, etc.

- In relative terms, the District appears to be planning some rather aggressive development projects in 2008 (e.g., ActiveCampus portal, ActiveAdmissions, Datatel Colleague Payroll, Datatel Colleague Advancement). It is not universally clear, though, that the District has sufficient resources (e.g., financial, human, infrastructure) to implement such systems. Going further, it is not clear that the long-term total cost of ownership has been determined.
 - In terms of organizational structure, there is occasional uncertainty about who is responsible for various information technology functions. Going forward, it is important to ensure that information technology functions are allocated among groups/individuals in a relatively holistic, unfractured manner.

b. Survey Results

Students, faculty, staff, and administrators were asked to complete surveys in order to gain additional insight into the District's existing circumstances and potential opportunities for improvement. The surveys asked respondents to provide the following:

- Numerical ratings with respect to specific areas of performance
- Responses to open-ended questions about general performance

In terms of numerical ratings, participants were asked to respond to each survey item according to the following scheme:

NA = Not Applicable or No Opinion

1 = Strongly Disagree

2 = Disagree

3 = Mildly Disagree

4 = Neutral

5 = Mildly Agree

6 = Agree

7 = Strongly Agree

The tables on the following pages present the mean ratings from the two survey groups. The first survey group includes students. The second survey group includes faculty, staff, and administrators.

Student Survey Responses (N = 480)
Item		Mean Rating
1.	I consider myself to be a skilled computer user.	5.63
2.	The College/District ensures that all computers are kept in good repair and have current software.	5.72
3.	The College/District provides helpful technical assistance whenever I have a computer problem.	5.51
4.	The College/District offers effective computer training so that I know how to use various systems/applications.	5.38
5.	The College/District does a good job of equipping labs and classrooms with supportive information technology.	5.73
6.	More online courses should be offered.	5.84
7.	I prefer online courses to traditional classroom instruction.	4.84
8.	I communicate with my instructor(s) via e-mail.	5.91
9.	Considerable assistance is available to students who need help with instructional technology.	5.24
10.	The College/District web site is easy to use and provides helpful information.	6.02
11.	I use the College/District web site to register for classes, view grades, etc.	6.62
12.	The College/District provides robust and reliable access to the Internet.	6.06
13.	The College/District provides pervasive wireless network access.	5.19
14.	I am pleased with the functionality of the e-mail system that the College/District makes available to students.	6.00
15.	I am confident about the security of personal information on the College/District computer systems.	5.77
16.	Aside from the College/District information technology systems, it is relatively easy to complete the business processes related to admissions, registration, payment of tuition, etc.	5.98
17.	The College/District is ahead of other institutions with respect to the use of information technology to support students, faculty, staff, and administrators.	5.26
18.	The College/District consistently finds ways to use information technology to enhance services to students, faculty, staff, and administrators.	5.58

Item	Mean Rating
19. I am pleased with the functionality of the Datatel Human Resource Management System.	4.45
20. I can access a variety of online management information (e.g., budgets, enrollment) with relative ease.	5.02
21. Our business processes (e.g., registration, purchasing) are aligned with the Datatel Colleague software and enable streamlined processes.	4.72
22. I always know how to contact the IT department when I have a request.	6.15
23. The IT department has a clear sense of direction, and is responsive to institutional needs.	5.80
24. There are appropriate advisory groups in place to assist with information technology issues and planning.	4.85
25. Although the College/District does not have extraordinary financial resources, it is doing a good job of budgeting funds to support information technology needs.	5.53
26. The College is ahead of other institutions with respect to the use of information technology to support students, faculty, staff, and administrators.	5.41
27. The College consistently finds ways to use information technology to enhance services to students, faculty, staff, and administrators.	5.61

Most of the survey items can be tied to major areas of interest, including the following (in no particular order):

- Administrative Information Technology Systems and Applications (e.g., Data! Colleague)
- Information Technology Infrastructure (e.g., networks, telephony)
- Information Technology Services (e.g., training, repairs)
- Information Technology Leadership and Management (e.g., vision, strategy, organizational structure, governance, operational excellence)
- Instructional Technology (e.g., classroom systems, online courses)

Basically, one purpose of the survey is to gauge the District's performance in such major areas. That is, we want a quantitative measure of how well important responsibilities are being handled.

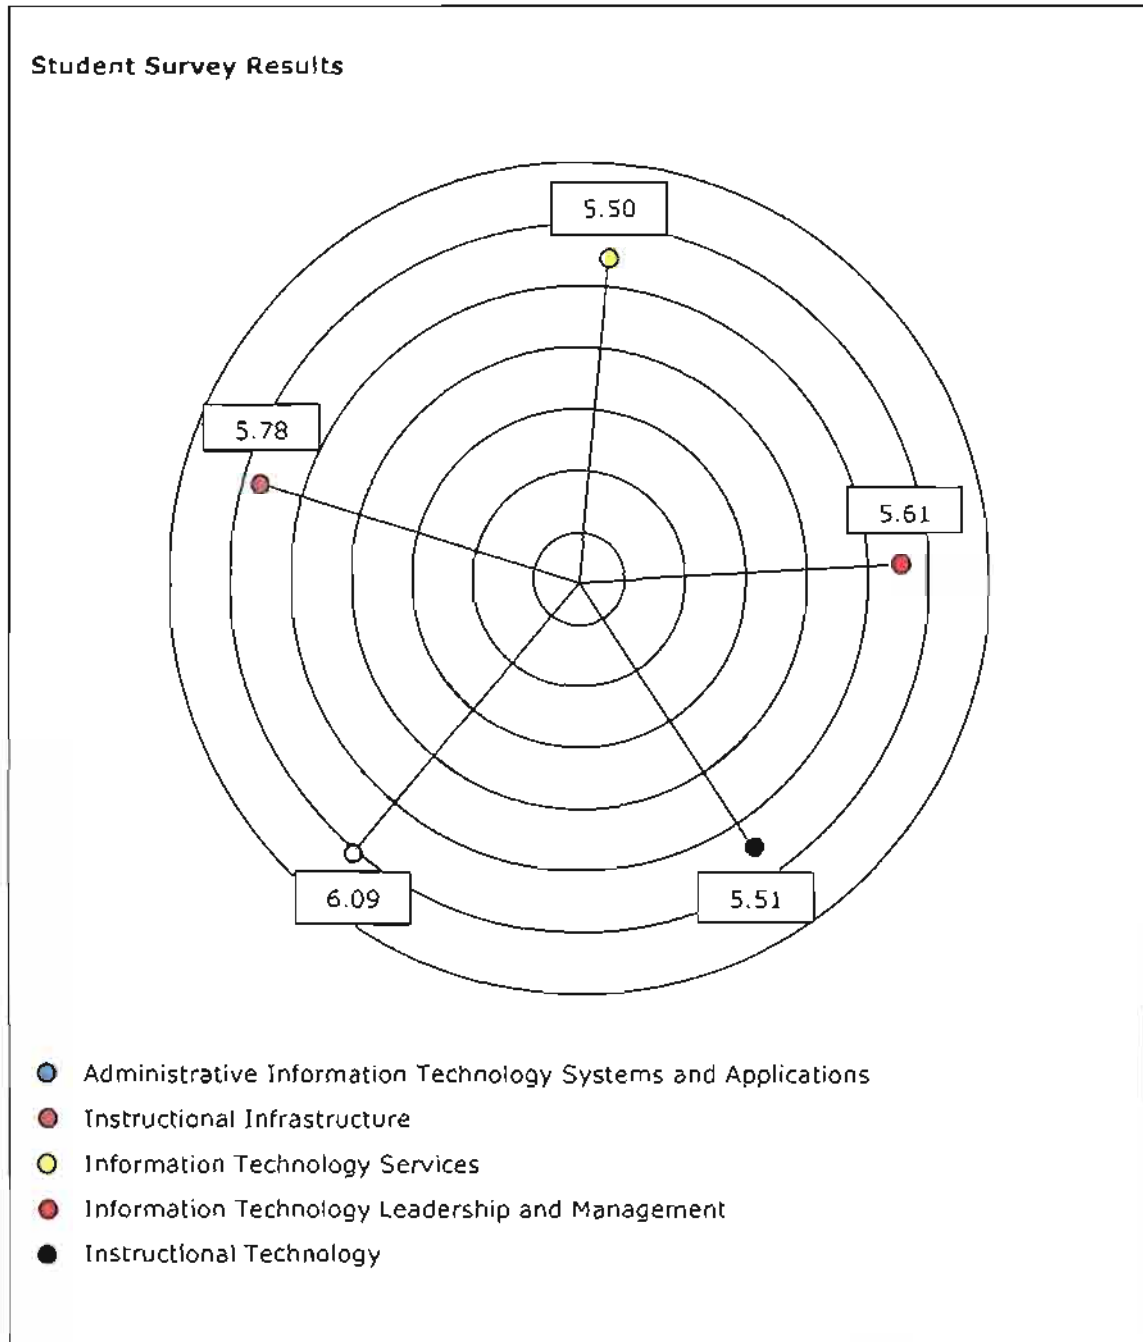

Other survey items, though, were not tied to a major area. For example, "I prefer online courses to traditional classroom instruction" is not evaluative. Instead, it reflects a desire to understand certain aspects of the District's circumstances.

The following table presents the mean ratings from the two survey groups with respect to the five major areas.

Survey Results for Major Areas
Major Area	Student Survey Mean Rating	Faculty/Staff/Administrator Survey Mean Rating
Administrative Information Technology Systems and Applications	6.09	5.39
Information Technology Infrastructure	5.78	5.74
Information Technology Services	5.50	5.72
Information Technology Leadership and Management	5.61	5.39
Instructional Technology	5.51	5.09

Below, in graphical form, is a presentation of the mean ratings from the first survey group

Below, in graphical form, is a presentation of the mean ratings from the second survey group.

In addition to the quantitative data that was obtained, both survey groups were asked to respond to two open-ended questions:

- With respect to information technology, what are the District's three most significant opportunities for improvement?
- What additional comments would you like to share about information technology systems and services?

Below, is a table with representative responses to the question about opportunities for improvement. It should be noted that some of the responses were given by many of the survey participants.

Question #1: With respect to information technology, what are District's three most significant opportunities for improvement?
Representative Student Responses
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• More online classes are needed.• Using Blackboard is very difficult.• Wireless access should be available everywhere.• Up-to-date software is needed on all computers.• It is very difficult to navigate through various web sites.• The e-mail system is difficult to use.• None of the systems (e-mail, Blackboard) should have any downtime.• More technical assistance and training is needed.• Students need access to low-cost laptops.
Representative Faculty/Staff/Administrator Responses
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• More technical assistance and training services are needed.• I would like a greater sense of IT customer service.• The Datatel Colleague system does not meet my needs.• Wireless access should be available everywhere.• It is difficult to use Blackboard.• We need better remote access to systems.• The e-mail system is problematic (e.g., spam, minimal storage capacity).• We need to streamline our operations; more tasks/processes should be automated.• Our web sites are clunky and not easy to navigate.• More online classes are needed.• Our computers need to be updated on an ongoing basis.• We need to improve our management practices (e.g., clarify the nature of District responsibilities vs. campus responsibilities).

Below, is a table with representative responses to the question about additional comments. It should be noted that some of the responses were given by many of the survey participants.

Question #2: What additional comments would you like to share about information technology systems and services?
Representative Student Responses <ul style="list-style-type: none">• I think you guys are doing a great job.• I would like a student portal.• More online classes are needed. I work 50+ hours per week, and need access to such instruction.• I like online classes but do not want to lose any interaction with my instructors.• Instructors need to be well-versed in how to handle online instruction.• Some of the systems (e.g., e-mail, Blackboard) are difficult to use. In fact, Blackboard sometimes doesn't work at all when I try to take an online test.• Some of the self-service functions (e.g., viewing my class schedule) are rather clunky.• I am new at this and have never used a computer.• I am so proud to be here. Everyone is so helpful and nice.
Representative Faculty/Staff/Administrator Responses <ul style="list-style-type: none">• I believe that our IT department does an excellent job.• The IT staff is responsive to any issues that arise, but there is always room for improvement.• There are a number of problems with Datatel Colleague functionality (e.g., pre-requisites, purchase requisitions).• Wireless access should be available everywhere.• Computers are "locked" down too tightly; users should be able to manage their systems to some extent.• Our web sites are too confusing and difficult to navigate.• Classrooms should be equipped with computers (so that faculty do not have to bring laptops with them).• More technical staff (e.g., programmers) are needed.• More training is needed.• It is very important for our information technology plan to ensure attention on Section 508 compliance.• More online classes are needed, but online classes are not for everyone.

6. Discussion of Assessment Data

There are a number of observations about the assessment data that deserve attention, including the following:

- In relative terms (compared with other colleges/universities), the mean ratings from the student survey are quite high. Many of the values are greater than 6.00.
- In relative terms (compared with other colleges/universities), the mean ratings from the faculty/staff/administrator survey are close to normal.
- Generally speaking, a mean rating below 5.00 indicates need for improvement. In the case of the faculty/staff/administrator survey, 9 out of 27 survey items had mean ratings below 5.00.
- Overall, when the mean ratings are grouped into major areas, the data shows that the District is performing reasonably well.
- In terms of specific survey items, the following mean ratings are noteworthy:

Students:

- "I prefer online courses to traditional classroom instruction." Mean rating = 4.84.
- "I use the College/District web site to register for classes, view grades, etc." Mean rating = 6.62.

Faculty/Staff/Administrators:

- "I prefer online courses to traditional classroom instruction." Mean rating = 3.76.
- "The College/District provides helpful technical assistance whenever I have a computer problem." Mean rating = 6.27.
- "I am pleased with the functionality of the Datatel Colleague Student System." Mean rating = 4.87.
- There is qualitative and quantitative data that suggests opportunities for improvement in several areas, including the following (in no particular order):
 - Providing pervasive wireless network access.
 - Enhancing the breadth and quality of online instruction.
 - Improving the delivery of Blackboard services.
 - Enhancing training programs for students, faculty, staff, and administrators, especially since some of them are new to the use of computers.
 - Resolving issues with respect to Datatel Colleague functionality.
 - Re-engineering business processes (e.g., tuition/fee payment, purchasing).
 - Resolving issues with respect to e-mail services.
 - Enhancing the integration of enterprise applications.
 - Implementing a portal, simplifying the navigation that is required on various web sites, and enabling single sign-on capabilities.
 - With respect to information technology, enhancing the District's approach to management, governance, budgeting, organizational structure, and staffing.
 - Improving the District's information technology infrastructure (e.g., telephony, networking, enterprise servers, disaster recovery, security, life cycle hardware/software replacement, 24x7x365 access).

- It appears that students and faculty are in favor of more online instruction -- but only if it is handled in the proper manner. In particular, no one wants to sacrifice the interpersonal connection between student and instructor.
 - The District might benefit from the implementation of enhanced point solutions for imaging, workflow, data mining, web content management, ID cards, etc.
 - The District's unrestricted budget for FY 2006 - 2007 was approximately $33M. It is not universally clear, though, how much of that was spent on information technology (e.g., hardware, software, salaries, maintenance). It is important for the District to implement management strategies that ensure an understanding of how funding is allocated. Additionally, such strategies should include prioritization efforts, cost/benefit analyses, etc.
 - The District should measure the percentage of its unrestricted budget that is spent on information technology and compare/contrast such a metric with peer institutions. On average, across the nation, the percentage ranges from 5% - 7%.
 - It seems that the four-year replacement cycle for hardware/software is managed at the campus or even departmental level. As a result, there is a risk of inconsistent handling of life cycle tasks. Some items might be replaced too soon; others might not be replaced until after the life expectancy is complete.
 - There is some uncertainty about the purpose and work of the District's committee structure (i.e., WHCIST, TAT).
 - The District seems to have very aggressive plans for the implementation of new enterprise systems in 2008, including ActiveCampus, ActiveAdmissions, Datatel Colleague Payroll, and Datatel Colleague Advancement. It is very, very important for the District to understand the implications of such development work and ensure that all efforts are manageable (e.g., realistic scope, affordability, return on investment).
 - There are questions about the costs/benefits associated with implementing in-house systems.

7. Opportunities for Improvement

In general, pursuing opportunities for improvement involves the alignment and optimization of several variables. In particular, the District's strategic focus should be on Tools, People, Processes, and Organizational Context.

"Tools" refer to information technology systems/applications. So, for example, it is important for DataTel Colleague, Blackboard, and other systems to meet the functional and operational needs of students, faculty, staff, and administrators.

The "People" component includes a consideration of leadership, organizational structure, staffing, individual talents, accountabilities, etc. Obviously, tools are not very worthwhile unless there are people who can use them.

"Processes" refer to the tasks that comprise certain work routines. For example, the registration process, from beginning to end, includes many steps. The challenge is to ensure that all such steps reflect a streamlined effort. It is unrealistic to think that any information technology system can overcome a deficient business process. And, it is not advisable to compensate for difficulties by allocating more human resources (e.g., people).

"Organizational Context" is an important variable. It includes the institution's mission, culture, priorities, sense of community, style, etc. It serves as the framework for Tools, People, and Processes. Although an information technology system might work well at one institution, it might be a poor fit at another college/university because of different organizational contexts.

As depicted in the following diagram, the pursuit of opportunities for improvement is really a challenge of bringing a number of pieces together in the most complementary, synergistic fashion.

The District should consider a number of opportunities for improvement. And, ideally, each such effort will be tied to a number of principles, including the following:

- A focus on the ultimate outcomes that are desired (e.g., enhancement of teaching and learning, enrollment growth, operational excellence, substantial return on investment).
- Consistency among Tools, People, Processes, and Organizational Context.
- Specific deliverables, timelines, and accountabilities.
- Appropriate allocation of necessary resources -- financial or otherwise.
- Conspicuous executive sponsorship.
- Continuous assessment of all efforts to help ensure appropriate outcomes.

The next several pages list a number of potential opportunities for improvement for the District. Although the opportunities are grouped into five major areas, they are certainly not mutually exclusive. They should be seen as interrelated efforts.

Administrative Information Technology Systems and Applications

- Consider the implementation of advanced portal technology that enhances access to systems, improves integration among enterprise applications, simplifies navigation, etc. Additionally, such an interface should entail personalized channels and a single point of entry to all appropriate applications/services.
- Document perceived gaps in Datatel Colleague functionality. Consider alternative strategies for resolving such gaps, including the following:
 - User training.
 - Implementation of functionality that is not yet in production.
 - Functional consulting.
 - Business process analysis.
 - Implementation of best practices from other institutions.
 - System customization.
 - Implementation of ancillary software products.
- Analyze, and implement as appropriate, online education plans.
- Analyze, and implement as appropriate, Datatel Colleague functionality relating to online purchasing, fixed asset management, and budget development.
- Analyze, and implement as appropriate, human resource management tools for recruiting, applicant tracking, and time reporting.
- Resolve concerns about e-mail services, including the following:
 - Storage capacity.
 - Spam.
 - Remote access.
- Identify a limited number of business processes that require analysis and re-engineering. Pursue transformational opportunities that enable extraordinary improvements (and not just marginal gains) in services for students, faculty, staff, and administrators.
- Identify the need to implement a number of enhanced point solutions (e.g., imaging, data mining, workflow, web content management, bookstore applications, "One Card" system)
- Determine what enhancements, if any, are needed with respect to integrated library systems and applications.
- Assess the presence of any departmental "shadow systems" and determine whether the functionality should reside in an enterprise application.

Administrative Information Technology Systems and Applications (continued)

- Create a written technical support plan for each system. Such plans should communicate clear messages about how the systems are maintained and who should be contacted in the event of a problem.
- Inventory all systems and ensure that each system is tied to a technology refresh (i.e., replacement) program.
- Conduct an assessment of the District's enterprise architecture. Document authoritative systems, interfaces, integration points, security/authentication schemes, databases, etc. Map the entire enterprise, resolve issues that become apparent, and ensure that future systems/applications can be supported by the architecture.
- Determine what must be done to ensure that the District's systems are compliant with Section 508 rules and regulations -- and that those with disabilities have appropriate access.
- Assess all of the implications (e.g., costs, benefits, required technical support, long-term maintenance, infrastructure issues, business processes) associated with the District's tentative development projects for 2008 (i.e., ActiveCampus, ActiveAdmissions, Datatel Colleague Payroll, Datatel Colleague Advancement).

Information Technology Infrastructure

- Implement pervasive wireless network access.
- Conduct a security audit that enables insight into potential threats. Such an audit should entail a comprehensive assessment of risk in all forms, including the following:
 - Facilities.
 - Data writes (e.g., encryption).
 - Database (e.g., ODBC connections).
 - Application (e.g., usernames, passwords).
 - Network (e.g., SSL transport).
 - Business processes.
 - System administration and operations.
 - Data archival.
 - Client data (e.g., laptops).
 - Data custodians.
 - Administrative policies.
 - Other.
- Ensure 24/7/365 access to all enterprise applications.
- Implement and rehearse disaster recovery plans.
- Implement and rehearse business continuity plans.
- On a regular basis, ensure that all necessary filters and other defenses are in place with respect to viruses, spam, etc.
- Assess the feasibility of enabling students, faculty, staff, and administrators greater access to low-cost personal hardware/software -- perhaps through the bookstore.
- Consider the need for enhanced emergency broadcast systems.
- Assess the need for enhanced, scalable video conferencing services.
- To the extent possible, ensure greater continuity and stability with respect to desktop/laptop standards.
- Consider centralizing the life cycle replacement program (and associated budgets) for desktops/laptops.

Information Technology Services

- Survey peer institutions and determine the ratio of technical support person to client devices (e.g., printers, desktops, laptops). Establish an appropriate ratio at the West Hills Community College District.
- Implement a structured curriculum of training programs/classes. Create a "College within a College" that offers both traditional and online instruction in Datatel Colleague, e-mail, word processing, etc. Such coursework is also an opportunity to provide documentation, share information about policies/procedures, etc.
- Ensure the development (and ongoing maintenance) of system-level documentation.
- Assist users with the development of functional documentation. Ensure that new employees are able to read such documentation and quickly assimilate their duties.
- Establish business processes that enable "First Day Services." That is, when a new employee arrives for his/her first day, there should be a computer, default username and password, e-mail account, system documentation, information about training classes, telephone, Help Desk contact information, etc.
- Likewise, establish business processes for "Last Day Services." That is, ensure that services are terminated (or perhaps continued) upon an employee's departure.
- On a regular basis, synthesize data on Help Desk calls, response times, satisfaction rating, etc. Establish benchmarks for service and report the results to the District's advisory committees.
- If necessary, assess the need for Help Desk management software.
- Ensure that any technical resources (support staff) who currently reside within user departments/organizations operate in conjunction with the District's Information Technology Services Department.
- Ensure the identification and cultivation of "power users" within various departments/organizations who can help ensure the success of their systems.
- Develop a "Succession Plan" that enables the District to continue operations in the event that a key employee is not available (e.g., illness, sudden retirement) -- especially for employees who are responsible for Datatel Colleague.
- Create a written technical support plan for various systems -- especially those that are used within classrooms, labs, and other instructional areas. Such plans should communicate clear messages about how systems are maintained and who should be contacted in the event of a problem.
- Inventory all systems and ensure that each system is tied to a technology refresh (i.e., replacement) program.
- Regularly update and articulate standards for user hardware/software.
- To the extent possible, centralize the procurement of hardware/software/supplies in order to manage standards, obtain volume pricing, and maintain a supply of parts/equipment so that repairs/replacements can be handled quickly.
- Consider hiring additional work study students to provide an expanded measure of user support.

- Within its committee structure, resolve concerns about the extent to which desktop/laptop configurations are managed by users.
- Enhance the ability of users to obtain online support services (e.g., FAQs).

- Consider an information technology committee structure that includes the following:
 - Executive Committee: Overall responsibility for the success of information technology within the District. Ordinarily, such a group includes key stakeholders and other individuals as appropriate. Usually, the Executive Committee is chaired by the Chancellor. And, frequently, the membership of the group is equivalent to a District's existing executive management organization.
 - Instructional Technology Advisory Committee: Responsible to the Executive Committee, with a focus on the use of information technology to improve teaching, learning, and research.
 - Administrative Technology Advisory Committee: Responsible to the Executive Committee, with a focus on the use of information technology to improve the use of systems (e.g., Datatel Colleague) that support the institution's business functions.
 - Technical Advisory Committee: Responsible to the Executive Committee, with a focus on the technical aspects of the institution's information technology (e.g., networking, hardware/software standards, telephony, support services).
- Ensure the identification of executive sponsors for important initiatives in order to resolve issues that might be problematic.
- Cultivate a project management function within the Information Technology Services Department. The goal (sometimes the work of a single, current employee) is to help drive the practical aspects of various efforts (e.g., project tasks, budgeting, resource management, training).
- Consider applying project management techniques to all information technology operations (not just major initiatives). That is, a substantial number of ordinary efforts (e.g., day-to-day user support, routine programming, network operations) can be driven with project management practices (e.g., timelines, specification of desired outcomes, monitoring of accountabilities). Applying such techniques in an appropriate manner can provide the District with a clear and thoughtful structure for completing its work. There will be increased certainty about results, how they are achieved, and what must be done to correct any difficulties.

In terms of caution, an appropriate balance must be developed with respect to project management. That is, some institutions have been too zealous in their approach; they've invested more in the management of projects than actual work activities.

- With respect to information technology, conduct regular assessments (at least annually) of the District's progress. Develop benchmarks and measure the District's performance against such standards. For example, metrics can be developed for customer service satisfaction, network uptime, etc.
- Address seeming uncertainty about how certain functions (e.g., web services) will be handled by different organizations/individuals. Assess the District's need for relatively holistic and seamless approaches to all operations.

- Within its committee structure, develop relevant policies and procedures (e.g., Acceptable Use).
- Implementation a variety of communications techniques to help ensure District-wide insight into important topics and issues. Such communications can include newsletters, regular Board reports, publication of committee meeting agendas/minutes, etc.

- From a functional standpoint, consider an organizational structure that resembles the following diagram. As necessary, build links with campus-based programs and staff. It should be noted that the functional diagram is not indicative of staffing requirements. So, for example, some functions might be handled by the same person. And, some functions might be fulfilled by multiple people.

Instructional Technology

Instructional Technology

- Review the District's e-Learning Strategic Plan and ensure that all goals and objectives are met.
- Resolve concerns about the use of Blackboard; ensure that the system is reliable, properly configured, and totally functional.
- Seek opportunities to enhance the use of Blackboard. In particular, at a minimum, find ways of making all instructional materials (e.g., syllabi, reading lists, notes, assignments, reference documents) available online.
- Establish an ongoing mini-grant program that provides resources to faculty who want to pursue specific instructional technology initiatives. Such a program should focus on innovation in teaching and learning -- with specific deliverables. Additionally, the program should be available to faculty across all academic programs.
- Consider incorporating the outcomes of mini-grant programs into development programs for all faculty/staff/administrators. For example, the best practices that are learned can be shared at professional conferences. As another example, regular District-level symposia can be held to help others understand new instructional systems, techniques, and tools.
- Consider using the mini-grant program to pursue new opportunities in distance learning -- especially those efforts that ensure a strong connection between student and instructor.
- Establish an Instructional Technology Advisory Committee that helps drive the success of instructional technology.
- Create a conspicuous "Center for Instructional Technology" that helps extend the District's use of supportive information technology and innovative teaching/learning strategies.
- Seek widespread implementation of faculty web pages.
- Inventory all physical spaces (e.g., classrooms, libraries, offices, labs) to ensure appropriate access to instructional technology (e.g., wireless connectivity, printing, general access computers).
- Define a clear technical support plan that addresses policies, procedures, documentation, training, organizational structure, etc. Above all else, ensure a District-wide understanding of what must be supported, how it will be supported, and who will support it. Consider reorganizing the technical staff around the functions that must be fulfilled.
- Determine how funding for instructional technology should be handled across various groups/departments. Ensure a measure of support for those who have had insufficient resources in the past.
- Develop a life cycle funding plan for the replacement of hardware/software that becomes obsolete.
- Consider developing "Communities of Scholars" -- virtual forums for students, faculty, and others who want to discuss topics, issues, etc.

- Determine what must be done to ensure that the District's systems are compliant with Section 508 rules and regulations -- and that those with disabilities have appropriate access.
- Assess the need for additional library automation services across the entire District.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Distance Education Strategic Plan September 2009-2012

The Eaton Cummings Group
Kathleen E. Guy, Ph.D., CFRE
William M. Craft, Ed.D., CFRE

West Hills Community College District

Distance Education Strategic Plan

1. Introduction

The West Hills Community College District Distance Education has grown dramatically in numbers of individual students, FTEs and in the range of courses, programs and services offered. Rather than continuing to adapt to growth as it emerges, the West Hills Community College District is taking steps to analyze, anticipate, and manage the evolution of WHCCD-Distance Education to ensure the maximum benefit to students, the regional community, and the most beneficial return on investment.

In order to ensure broad-based campus involvement in shaping the future for WHCCD-Distance Education (WHCCD-DE), the District participated in accelerated strategic planning to determine a consensus position regarding the Mission, Vision and a list of strategic next steps for WHCCD-DE. The summary report that follows represents the work of a representative group of stakeholders including students, full-time and part-time faculty, the District Chancellor, College Presidents, staff, and administrators meeting over a day and a half. The Eaton Cummings Group served as facilitators.

This report summarizes future expectations for WHCCD-DE, a review of Distance Education's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats as well as recommendations regarding next steps. The material is presented with minimal editing in order to preserve the integrity of participant discussions and decisions. During the planning workshop no effort was made to fully confirm facts or evidence presented. As appropriate, recommendations from this planning meeting should be further vetted in light of relevant data and market research. In addition, in order to align ourselves with the language adopted by the recent passage of the Higher Education Opportunity Act in August 2008, all current and future references to Distance Learning are moving to Distance Education.

The results of the session should be further refined following a comment period involving workshop participants and others essential to the future success of the Distance Education Program. In the context of this planning workshop, Distance Education was generally considered to include web-based instruction and videoconferencing. Discussions during the workshop made clear that other delivery systems might also be developed and incorporated within WHCCD-DE.

1.1. Goals - WHCCD-DE Planning Workshop

- Engage representatives of relevant stakeholder groups in a facilitated dialogue designed to enhance the future promise and prospects of Distance Education at WHCCD
- Give each participant an opportunity to benefit from the full range of experience and expertise of those present
- Review the implied mission and values of WHCCD-DE and establish three to five year expectations for WHCCD-DE that can be expressed in a vision statement
- Establish a priority list of next steps focusing on high yield strategies likely to move WHCCD-DE forward toward the realization of the WHCCD-DE vision

1.2. Agenda - WHCCD-DE Planning Workshop

Agenda-Day 1

- Introductory remarks – Chancellor Gornick
- Planning overview – Strategic and Operational Planning
- Opening exercise – The “Online Experience”
- Setting the stage - WHCCD-DE Enrollment Data (See Attachment B)
- WHCCD-DE Mission
- WHCCD-DE Values
- Trends likely to influence the future success of WHCCD-DE

Agenda-Day 2

- SWOT Analysis
- Vision for WHCCD-DE
- Vision in Action – Strategic Initiatives
- Next steps
- Closing remarks

1.4. Planning Process

- Participants in the WHCCD-DE planning workshop:
 - Form the planning team (See Attachment A for a List of Planning Workshop Participants);
 - Are considered WHCCD-DE experts;
 - Are sensitive to the WHCCD-DE role in meeting student and community needs; and
 - Provide the content and perspective that helps to identify and shape strategies for consideration.

- Participant opinions were solicited prior to the planning session using a confidential SWOT analysis
- Consultant/facilitators manage the process
- The process encourages and benefits from different points of view
- The process is driven by a sequence of focused, interactive discussions with frequent prioritization of participant input
- Planning results are always considered a work in progress
- Next steps in refining the WHCCD-DE Plan will require further vetting and analysis by WHCCD-DE staff.

1.5. Frequent Reconfiguration of Working Task Groups

Working task groups were reconfigured at intervals throughout the planning session to give each participant an opportunity to benefit from the full range of participant experience and expertise. The reconfiguring relied on a variety of web-based application terms and associated phrases to familiarize participants with web jargon and social messaging/bookmarking utilities such as RSS, Twitter and Delicious.

2. Outcomes Achieved

2.1. WHCCD-DE Mission Statement

Participants, functioning in working groups, developed “raw material” for the WHCCD-DE Mission Statement. It was determined that the most appropriate starting point for the WHCCD-DE Mission Statement was the District Mission Statement. The statement that follows in bold reflects the emphasis and structure of the District Mission.

West Hills Community College District Mission

The mission of the West Hills Community College District is enhancing student learning and enriching the lives of the populations we serve by:

- Ensuring the vitality of its institutions;
- Encouraging the vision of strong leaders able to see and interpret the present and future needs of students and communities;
- Supporting the colleges in the provision of world class learning environments;
- Providing for appropriate allocation and management of human, fiscal, and capital resources;
- Acting as a catalyst for collaboration with outside organizations and agencies; and
- Sharing the story by marketing a positive image.

West Hills Community College District Distance Education Mission

The mission of Distance Education at West Hills Community College District is to enhance student learning and enrich the lives of the populations we serve by:

- Delivering world-class distance education courses, programs, and student services,
- Providing any time, anywhere access,
- Connecting communities of learners locally and globally,
- Using the latest technology and flexible formats, and
- Helping students to achieve their career and personal goals.

2.2. WHCCD-DE Values Statement

Values inherent in WHCCD-DE play an important role in guiding program and service development and prioritization. Participants developed the following list of values considered important to WHCCD-DE's emerging role and brand identification.

West Hills Community College District Distance Education Values

Our commitment to the WHCCD Distance Education Mission will be guided and informed by the following values:

- Student success,
- Reducing barriers to education (access),
- Exceptional support services for learners and teachers,
- Currency of technology and curriculum with relevance to student and community needs,
- Creativity and innovation in teaching, learning strategies, and service delivery,
- Quality in all that we do, initiating and demonstrating best practices,
- Diversity in populations, programming, and ideas,
- Information literacy,
- Civic and social responsibility,
- Disciplined inquiry and critical thinking,
- Integrity in relationships and programs, and
- Respect for and responsibility to self and others.

2.3. Trends likely to influence the future success of WHCCD-DE

Trends

Participants initially identified both "helping" and "hurting" trends likely to influence the future success of WHCCD-DE. Following working group discussions and presentation to the entire group, participants prioritized the trends considered most influential using a multi-voting process. The seven trends that emerged as most likely to be influential are as follows:

Category: Competition

Hurting Trend

- Designated distance education support staff—likelihood that competition has invested more in designated support staff. In order to counter competition's edge WHCCD may need to increase investment in these critical support positions. (14 votes)

Category: Technology

Hurting Trend

- Competitors are using more advanced technology and, at the same time, changes in technology are occurring rapidly. Need to provide ongoing training of WHCCD staff and faculty due to these changes—WHCCD challenge to find operational resources for this; failure to do so may compromise WHCCD competitiveness in the marketplace. (13 votes)

Category: Government/Legislative/Regulatory

Hurting Trend

- Uncertainty of resources, particularly operational funds, provided by the public sector. (8 votes)

Category: Technology

Helping Trend

- Increasing access to/pervasiveness of technology and the consequent increase in access to information; more people with more technology = more information and familiarity. (9 votes)
- Rapid change in both technology and software applications. Because of its successful bond measures WHCCD has the capacity to maintain currency and the market may move in the direction of internet provision of textbooks and other learning resources. (9 votes)

Category: Markets and Customers

Helping Trend

- Basic skills—there appears to be growing market potential. WHCCD might identify ways to capitalize on this market. (8 votes)

Category: Government/Legislative/Regulatory

Helping Trend

- Increasing emphasis on quality assurance in both legislative requirements and the activities of accrediting bodies. WHCCD has demonstrated the capacity to successfully navigate accreditation requirements and other statutory mandates. (4 votes)

2.4. SWOTS – Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats

Participants engaged in a SWOT Analysis as part of a pre-work assignment prior to the planning workshop. Confidential assessments of WHCCD-DE strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats were submitted to and summarized by the consultant/facilitators and presented, without attribution, during the planning session. (See Attachment C for the Summary SWOT Analysis—numbers following individual items in the lists below refer to the numbered items in Attachment C).

Working in teams, participants were asked to identify the most influential/significant strengths, weaknesses (interpreted as “areas for improvement”), opportunities and threats facing WHCCD-DE. The results from each working team were presented to the full group and, following discussion, reduced to those items considered most likely to have the greatest influence on the future success of the Distance Education Program at WHCCD. The strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats likely to be most influential in determining the future success of WHCCD-DE are:

2.4.1. Strengths

- Opportunity/own schedule/flexibility/diversity of curriculum and population (1)
- Complete degrees with transferable credit (37)
- World class support for students and faculty (8)
- Innovation encouraged (10)
- Early adopters of Distance Education (11)

2.4.2. Weaknesses – areas that could be improved

- Training for students and faculty (6, 7, 13, 19, 22, 30, 33, 36)
- Support for students and faculty (1, 2, 9,10, 12, 17, 21, 34, 39)
- Service for students and faculty (3, 4, 8, 11,16,18, 24, 25, 26, 28, 32, 40, 41, 42)
- Articulation with CSU Fresno

2.4.3. Opportunities

- Training culture for all staff (14, 9, 11, 29, 28)
- Innovative library access (19, 10, 18, 30)
- Awesome student support (2, 6, 13, 24, 21, 19, 23)
- Programming
 - New degree programs on line (22)

- Foreign language courses (23)
- Basic English skills courses (24)

2.4.4. Threats

- Quality (5, 6, 8, 9, 13, 14, 15, 18, 20, 21, 24, 26, 28, 29)
- Competition (3, 7, 17, 23, 25, 27)
- Academic integrity (1,12,16, 22)
- Operational issues (2, 4,10,11)
- Lack of course variety (20)
- Ignoring client’s needs (29)

2.5. WHCCD-DE Vision Statement

Following discussion, the work teams presented commentary and offered recommendations regarding the WHCCD-DE Vision Statement. The vision statement is inspirational in nature—it is also heroic, motivating, distinctive, and should cause the organization to stretch to achieve it.

WHCCD Distance Education Vision 2012

WHCCD is the preferred choice for distance education. Your computer is your campus, a portal to a complete virtual college experience. Achieve your educational dreams—only a click away. Anyone. Anytime. Anywhere.

2.6. WHCCD-DE Vision In Action - “Characteristics to Aspire to”

In order to give meaning to the Vision 2012, participants discussed and prioritized the following characteristics that WHCCD-DE should aspire to achieve. It is emphasized that these characteristics are those to be aspired to – a more complete list of strategies and operational plans, resources required, metrics to evaluate progress/accomplishment, individuals responsible and time lines will need to be identified and prioritized.

Vision in Action

- 1. 24/7 Service and Support for Everything—beyond Pacific time, nights, weekends and holidays (24 votes)
- 2. Student Success Rate (retention and graduation) Mirrors or Exceeds FTF Success Rate (23 votes)
- 3. Students' Entire College Experience is Virtual, e.g. WHCCD eCollege (19 votes)
- 4. Expanded Portfolio of Academic Courses and Programs and More Basic Skills—relevant courses (10 votes)

3. Next Steps

Next Steps Identified Through Whole-Group Discussion

Process Next Steps

- Communicate results of this planning workshop broadly—what did we accomplish? What will happen next and in what time frame? Who will be involved?
- Create strategic planning team website—digital suggestion box and/or blog for next steps in developing the strategic plan
- Do next level of planning to operationalize strategic goals

Possible Strategic/Operational Goals and Strategies

- Bring focus to DE marketing efforts
- Training—develop a plan that moves WHCCD-DE closer to 24/7, the complete virtual experience with student support and best practices
- Assess student services now available and identify gaps
- Assess retention challenges and determine strategic steps that will optimize retention (i.e. finding the most effective faculty); mine existing data to help with this analysis
- Consider system impact vis-à-vis momentum desired—how will chosen actions affect students, infrastructure, budgets, etc.
- Identify what tools for success need to be imbedded in distance education window
 - Host focus group(s) with students—what do they need to have upon entry to be successful in DE?
- Identify next steps in expanding courses, programs to meet student needs:
 - Which programs are needed?
 - In what priority order?
 - With whom do we need to communicate and/or partner?

Strategic Planning Review Cycle

- The WHCCD Distance Education Strategic Planning process will be reviewed every three (3) years for
 - Relevance and Update of the Mission Statement
 - Relevance and Update of the Values Statement
 - Relevance and Update of the Vision 2012
 - Achievement and Update of the Vision in Action; and
 - SWOT Analysis (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats)

4. Linkages

Strategic Planning:

It is important that the strategic planning process at West Hills Community College District is integrally linked so that no one process is a silo unto itself. The Distance Education Strategic Plan has clear linkages to the West Hills Community College District Strategic Plan as well as the college's Educational Master Plans.

At the District level, distance education has contributed significantly to:

- Strategic Goal 1: West Hills Community College District will annually achieve or exceed funded growth targets. The online program at West Hills has grown from student enrollments of 2,068 in 2002-03 district-wide to enrollments over 4,900 in 2008-09 funding one-quarter of the FTES for each of the colleges in the district.
- Strategic Goal 4.2 states, WHCCD will maintain overall student completion (success) rates above the California Community College statewide average, placing emphasis on vocational, basic skills, ESL, online success and improvement rates. While online courses consistently dip below face-to-face averages for success and retention, online courses at West Hills are on par with community college statewide averages for online courses.

District Strategic Goal 4.2 was specifically identified by the participants in this Distance Education Strategic Plan in a number of areas including, a Key Value: Student Success; a Vision in Action: Student Success Rate (retention and graduation) Mirrors or Exceeds Face-to-Face Success Rate; and Next Steps: Identify what tools for success need to be imbedded in distance education window.

Distance Education is driven by the colleges and coordinated at the district level. Both West Hills College Coalinga and West Hills College Lemoore have a relationship with the online courses and programs that is more than FTE generation. Institutional Research shows that 52% of the online students at each campus are also taking face-to-face courses in order to complete their educational goals. The locally-based online students are accessing computer labs, library services, academic counseling and advising, as well as a host of other student services needs.

The distance education strategic planning process feeds into the college's educational master plans at a number of levels. WHCL's Vision is Learning Through Excellence and Innovation and distance education is one aspect of that innovation. In addition, WHCL has many Guiding Principles including:

- Access: Ensure Accessibility to all our programs and services;
- Innovation: Support innovation and technology to enhance learning environments, services, and communication.

Distance Education contributes to these Guiding Principles through the implementation of asynchronous learning environments that allow students to complete their educational goals independent of time or geographical boundaries. Distance Education has continuously sought to improve help desk and faculty training services in order to meet the learning environment needs of students.

At WHCC, Distance Education supports their College Mission: To commit college-wide staff and resources to the student learning process. To provide educational, cultural, and economic development opportunities to our current and future students and the local and global communities that we serve. Again, Distance Education clearly meets the needs of supporting global communities by providing asynchronous learning environments to students independent of time and geographical boundaries. Distance Education also supports the WHCC College Goal 3: We will demonstrate academic quality, leadership, engagement, innovation, and creative thought. Distance Education is one avenue that provides the colleges with “student engagement, innovation, and creative thought” through the ongoing use of new technologies, active faculty engagement in social media and learning, and the use of the online classroom as a tool for creativity and learning.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Distance Education at West Hills Community College District has clearly grown in terms of enrollment and FTEs. Student learning in online courses and programs is of the utmost importance to our college community. To that end, both the WHCCD Strategic Plan and this Distance Education Strategic Plan specifically address and report on the success rates of online students. The WHCCD Distance Education Vision in Action 2 states: Student Success Rate (retention and graduation) Mirrors or Exceeds FTE Success Rate.

Meeting student learning needs is a priority. This is exhibited by the inclusion of the following WHCCD Distance Education values:

- Student success
- Reducing barriers to education (access), and
- Exceptional support services for learners and teachers.

WHCCD Distance Education continues to support the student learning outcomes of the district and colleges through a commitment to excellence in the online teaching/learning process.

WHCCD Distance Education is at an important juncture where the program is under review and in an organizational planning process to determine next steps for improvement and educational program process as well as support to the colleges and students it serves. Planning the future for Distance Education will center on the ability to provide parallel opportunities for online academic and student services in a comprehensive virtual college site model.

WHCCD Online Enrollment and Student Performance

Prepared by WHCCD Office of Institutional Effectiveness & Planning
September 1, 2009

WHCCD ONLINE SECTIONS, UNDUPLICATED STUDENT HEADCOUNT, AND FTES

Year	Sections % Change		Student		FTES % Change
			Headcount	% Change
02-03	118	Baseline	2,068	Baseline	461	Baseline

08-09	383	-5.2%	4,964	10.2%	1,391	9.1%

Source: WHCCD Data Warehouse

During the past seven years, the number of online sections, unduplicated enrollment, and FTES increased by 324%, 240%, and 301%, respectively. Enrollment and FTE decline during 2003-2004 reflect budget cuts, tuition increase, and reduction in course offerings for that year.

WHCCD Online Enrollment by Ethnicity

Source: WHCCD Data Warehouse

During the last eight years, the proportion of Hispanic and White students enrolled in online courses has changed. Hispanic enrollment in online courses has increased by approximately 10%. During 2008-2009, approximately 39% of online students were Hispanic and 36% White. These percentages are closer to the overall WHCCD enrollment of Hispanic (46%) and White (33%) students.

WHCCD Online Enrollment by Gender

Source: WHCCD Data Warehouse

Approximately 66% of online students are female compared to 60% of all WHCCD students. Female enrollment in online courses is slightly higher than the overall WHCCD enrollment.

WHCCD Online Success and Retention Rates

Source: WHCCD Data Warehouse; CCCC Data Mart

Success = $(A+B+C+CR)/(A+B+C+D+F+CR+NC+W+I)$

Retention = $(A+B+C+D+F+CR+NC+I)/(A+B+C+D+F+CR+NC+W+I)$

Note: The above success and retention rate formulas are provided by the CA Community College Chancellor's office (CCCCO). The grade of "W" is earned by students withdrawing from class and is used to measure retention rates. The CCCC considers students who withdraw from a course as not being successful, therefore, includes grades of "W" into the denominator of the success rate formula. These formulas are used for state reporting and when comparing ourselves against other institutions.

During the past seven years, online retention and success rates have had a slight and steady decline. WHCCD Online success rates remain similar to the CA community college overall average of "Internet Asynchronous Instruction" of approximately 56%.

WHCCD 2006 through 2009 Course Retention and Pass Rate Comparison (Online vs. Face-to-Face)

$$\text{Retention} = (A+B+C+D+F+CR+NC+I)/(A+B+C+D+F+CR+NC+W+I)$$

$$\text{Pass Rate} = (A+B+C+CR)/(A+B+C+D+F+CR+NC+I)$$

Note: The tables below compare online and face-to-face course retention and pass rates based on chi square test ($p < .05$). The "Pass Rate" formula does not include grades of "W" in the denominator and serves as a comparison of successful grades between online and face-to-face courses.

Note - in order to maintain statistical power, only courses with sample size larger than 70 students were compared. There are a few online courses that do not have a face-to-face comparison.

WHCCD Online Enrollment of Students by Service Area

During the past three years, approximately 70% of students enrolled in online courses live within the WHCCD service area. The majority of out-of-service area students are from nearby cities such as Fresno, Visalia, and Clovis.

WHCCD Fall 2008 Online Participation Rates by Service Area Cities

City	WHCCD Overall Student Headcount	Number of Students Enrolled in Online Courses	Percent of Students Enrolled Online (Participation)
Tranquillity	14	9	64%
Kettleman City	31	14	45%
Hanford	1491	557	37%
Avenal	219	81	37%

Five Points	20	5	25%
Stratford	57	10	18%
Cantua Creek	46	8	17%
Total	5398	1849

The cities of Lemoore, Hanford, Coalinga, and Firebaugh had the highest number of students enrolled in online courses. The cities of Tranquillity and Kettleman City, based on the overall WHCCD student headcount, had the highest percentage of students who participated in online courses. It is important to note that the cities of Tranquillity and Kettleman City have the farthest proximity to any of the WHCCD campuses.

Attachment C – SWOT Analysis: Pre-work Summary Distributed at Planning Workshop

West Hills Community College District
*Distance Learning Program

SWOT Analysis

STRENGTHS – What does the WHCCD Distance Learning program do well?

1. Provide opportunity to attend college to students that live far away from the college or whose jobs are not flexible to attend face-to-face classes (7)
2. Students can login at any time
3. The ability to e-mail instructors and receive feedback
4. Opportunities to attend college during tough economic times (e.g. gas prices, transportation issues)
5. Transferable credits (2)
6. To develop and expand degree offerings online and reach more students
7. Hybrid methodology allows expansion of curriculum while maintaining quality and integrity
8. The technical assistance provided to faculty by well trained staff that assist with the online curriculum development and related resources (4)
9. The student help desk (3)
10. Willingness of administration to try new alternatives
11. Diversity, quantity of online curriculum delivered to a diverse population (4)
12. Advertising and instructor support for full-time faculty
13. Bringing in students from around the country and the world

*prior to release of this document Distance Education at WHCCD was Distance Learning

14. Giving students at four year institutions the chance to take required lower division courses at WHCCD
15. Support through ITS
16. Using industry standard CMS – Blackboard – rather than others or even homegrown variety
17. Good teachers
18. Well supported administratively
19. Input from various constituencies
20. Appropriate technology
21. Market for new students
22. Ability to meet more student scheduling needs
23. Organization! Program is easy to navigate and helps tremendously when the instructors organize their classes in a way that you know what to expect each week.
24. Flexibility for students to work on their own schedule when they have free time outside of their normal workday or schedule.
25. Students can communicate with instructors and classmates without traveling to distant locations where classes are offered face to face
26. Deliver online courses and complete degree options
27. Online application
28. Online registration
29. Online payment
30. Presence in online market
31. Compensation for faculty

32. Robust DL program. We were fortunate to start early in the process and we have enjoyed great success.
33. Enrollment growth. If it were not for our DL program we would be significantly smaller than we are right now. (2)
34. Good leadership at the faculty and administrative level. We are focused on the learner and we have a good variety of courses.
35. Market for new students
36. Support services are almost equivalent to those an on-campus student can receive
37. Complete degrees/certificate programs offered on-line

WEAKNESSES – What does the WHCCD Distance Learning program need to improve upon?

1. Concerns from students when tests do not go as planned such as “timed out” issues.
2. Blackboard issues—technical issues when Blackboard does not log in, when classes that are registered for do not come up on Blackboard—it needs to be updated and improved or go to another system; glitches in the system (5)
3. Online is not for everyone. The administration needs to keep that in mind. There is a perception by some that administration wants to put everything online.
4. Retention and success rates need to be improved
5. CSU is not on board yet, fear that classes will not transfer, thus placing students at risk of having to repeat courses at the CSU.
6. Need better training opportunities for adjuncts and a better selection process for adjuncts who teach DL courses; I am not convinced that they are going through proper hiring procedures including equivalency (2)
7. More faculty need to take advantage of the technical staff’s expertise.
8. Lacks live classroom interaction and dynamics
9. Student need for instructor assistance is not instantaneous; slow reply to student e-mails from instructors (2)
10. Adjunct faculty support: sometimes support personnel are rude or just don’t answer e-mails/questions.
11. Scheduling: We have a two-year schedule set up which includes on-line and traditional classes. This is not considered and has been hurting traditional enrollment for the last several years
12. Large classes
13. Insufficient training on new methodology and technology
14. Some classes should not be taught online. Seems to be a push towards more classes online and sometimes critical evaluation of the appropriateness of the media for the particular course is skipped.

15. Course listings in the catalog are limited by the way Datatel can display data
16. Lack of use of library resources by online students and instructors
17. Many students lack basic skills to successfully complete online courses
18. DL staff and students need more and easier-to-find information on disability access (section 508)
19. Student input:
 - a. Don't learn anything from open book exams
 - b. Some subjects don't fit well online; some are too easy and boring
 - c. Teacher and class organization sometimes confusing.
 - d. No substance to learning in course compass
 - e. Instructors don't often give timely responses
20. Not enough student input
21. Help Desk overwhelmed at peak times (2)
22. Some untrained online instructors
23. Lack of student accountability when taking tests online
24. Not enough research services and resources available online
 - a. Amount of research databases and eBooks not equivalent to on-site collections
 - b. No information literacy component embedded in DL
 - c. Library resource navigation
25. Support services and personnel are usually campus based and not aligned to overall mission of District based DL
26. Tutoring in online environment is inefficient
27. Culture – while students may view DL as seamless, from some staff perspectives DL is separate entity and not truly a part of each campus culture.
28. ADA compliance – Need more clear and thorough information about ADA compliance for students and faculty to access.

29. Lack of comprehensive learning. Many students want to pass their classes and do as little work as possible. Some instructors make this very easy. I know it is the student's responsibility to take initiative and make college count, but college shouldn't be as easy as some instructors make it.
30. Some students who register for this type of learning plan don't understand what is expected of them such as computer program abilities, computer access, meeting scheduled deadlines, and understanding the class operation.
31. Connection for online students
32. Online advising/counseling
33. There were a couple of classes I took online at WHC that were not very organized and used several websites on top of Blackboard. It made the class difficult to understand, let alone keep up with.
34. Online faculty community
35. We have aroused our competition, they are wondering why they are losing enrollment and they are realizing that it is to our e-learning program.
36. Some reluctance by faculty and administration to accept this new modality of instruction; sticking with tradition.
37. Lack of marketing to expand the program
38. Need the District to view this as an opportunity to develop a "Virtual West Hills"
39. Not enough student support.
40. Slow turn around in grades from instructors
41. Not a clear idea of the correct textbook to purchase
42. Most classes follow a rigid time line within the semester. I think some classes should be very flexible as long as all work and tests are completed within the semester time frame. This gives the student the choice to choose which format will work best for them.

OPPORTUNITIES – What are the greatest opportunities available to enhance the future of Distance Learning at West Hills?

1. All distance education courses should have “ability requirements” stated up front so students can be tested before enrolling in those courses
2. Concierge or other individual to whom online student is assigned as their “go-to” resource
3. Flexibility with course scheduling will be a key competitive advantage for the future
4. Expand degrees online (4), in particular CIS and Business
5. Market online offerings to local high schools
6. Develop the student services aspect
7. Update the technology
8. WHC has great labs so that students who do not own computers can still take advantage of on-line classes
9. There are many types of training available for on-line instructors
10. Hire a systems librarian to enhance library resources, work with online instructors and students to strengthen information literacy skills; this may improve retention
11. Opportunity to bridge “digital divide” that still exists in the demographic that we serve
12. Hire instructors from larger pool than available locally
13. Online counseling and support for students
14. Ability to use cutting edge technology for student learning and to fully train and inform online faculty
15. Seek student input via surveys or focus groups
16. Incoming students are digitally savvy
17. Library Resources:

- a. Create a state-of-the-art virtual library; online collection development policy needs to mirror what is done in traditional library collection development
 - b. Participation in online curriculum development process to ensure proper library resources available.
 - c. Direct human access (this is huge for online learning and entails utilizing Library 2.0 methods of social networking). Need to install instant messaging such as MEEBO so that online students and faculty can see when librarians are available for research questions and gain instant feedback.
 - d. Pathfinders, tutorials, online workshops, etc. to instruct students and faculty on proper usage of available research databases and internet searching techniques.
 - e. Embedding links to library search boxes via iGoogle or something similar directly into Blackboard classes will give more direct library access.
 - f. Lifelong learning skills in information literacy (ability to seek, evaluate, and disseminate information) need to either be ingrained throughout the curriculum
 - g. Specialized staffing – Drawing from campus library staff and budgets will strain resources and hamper innovation due to workloads.
18. Offering live/archived classes. For students at CSU Chico some classes are completely online like those at WHC, some are recorded and available either live or from archives. You can type on the chat board and interact with the instructor while you're watching. It is easier to understand difficult concepts when the instructor talks you through them. It's not something you usually get being an online student.
19. Many publishers now provide online textbook content and course materials at a substantial discount over published textbooks. We should find a way to provide every student with a wireless capable laptop computer that can access the internet in every classroom. Students could end up with a computer and a paperless/bookless opportunity to get their education, at less cost than traditional textbooks for 60 or so units of college.
20. Simplification of maintaining course records and transferring these records to an Excel format for submission of grades and recording of SLO effectiveness
21. Students have the confidence to determine for themselves if online learning is a good fit with their needs/skill set
22. New degree programs designed with online option in place

23. Development of foreign language online courses
24. Development of basic skills English online courses
25. Development of non-transfer level courses
26. Market to U.S. Navy and their dependents
27. We have an enlightened administration and board
28. We have an innovative faculty, both full and part-time
29. Technology is available that can allow our distance learning classes and services to be better than what is available on our campuses. Those same technologies also need to be incorporated into face-to-face instruction to provide rich learning environments.
30. The computer labs should extend hours to evenings and weekends

THREATS – What are the greatest threats to the future of Distance Learning at West Hills?

1. Students allowing other people to do their work for them; plagiarism; lack of controls for this (5)
2. Always the threat of hackers
3. Other colleges getting on the train
4. Not improving the delivery system
5. Not hiring faculty who are current
6. In the competition to expand, the quality of the faculty pool will dwindle.
7. Older students may be left behind
8. Class size makes it impossible to run identical traditional/on-line class structure
9. On-line students are not getting the same instructor support/feedback (2)
10. Computer lab availability
11. Blackboard is not a stable class management system
12. Academic integrity
13. Becoming stagnant—not bringing new curriculum into DL; WHC has a lot of potential for an even better distance learning program. I think adding courses and degree programs would bring in a whole new group of students (3)
14. Growing too quickly with a limited staff.
15. Not integrating library resources into the online learning environment.
16. Articulation – how 4-year schools will accept rigor of online courses; CSU Fresno and like-minded institutions that do not value distance education (2)
17. Competition such as National, University of Phoenix, etc; everyone is jumping on the distance learning bandwagon. As somewhat early adopters, we had an advantage. Now to compete, our courses must become unique and stand out from the crowd (better content, more flexibility, more interesting/exciting/innovative presentation of content) (3)

18. Disjointed or unconnected pedagogy among online instructors
19. No feeling of "place"
20. Lack of course variety. WHC does not offer some needed courses so students search other community colleges to find one.
21. Possible outsourcing of distance learning activities is perceived by some union members as a possible threat.
22. Laboratory activities in DL is questioned by some 4-year institutions
23. ACCJC and Department of Education
24. Quality--any poorly designed or executed online course
25. Expanding internal processes limiting our ability to be responsive to emerging opportunities
26. That the traditionalists will win the day and we will become a shadow of ourselves; faculty resistance to online education or reactive to external pressure (2)
27. State budget constraints
28. Political correctness or our unwillingness to change for the benefit of student learning.
29. Ignoring our clients' needs

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT
Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan

1993-94, 1994-1995, 1995-1996

I. Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan: Statement of Purpose

The West Hills Community College District is committed to the concept and principles of affirmative action in providing equal opportunity in education and employment for all persons and to prohibit discrimination based on race, sex, color, religion, age, national origin, disability, marital status, Vietnam-era veteran status, or sexual orientation. This commitment applies to every aspect of education and personnel policies and practices in employment, development, advancement, and treatment of employees, students and the general public.

The West Hills Community College District believes that in order to effectively address and comply with federal and state mandates and guidelines on affirmative action, the Board of Trustees, administration, faculty, and classified staff must recognize that faculty and staff diversity is a shared responsibility and must be held accountable for application and enforcement of the plan within their area of authority. This also applies to all regional areas of the West Hills Community College District which consists of the Coalinga Campus, Kings County Center at Lemoore, the Naval Air Station Lemoore Office, and the North District Center. It is through our combined efforts that the West Hills Community College District will achieve fairness and equity consistent with established affirmative action goals and objectives.

The West Hills Community College District will continue to make faculty and staff diversity efforts to ensure that the recruitment, screening, selection, hiring, and promotional processes are in accordance with principles of equal opportunity. In addition to employment, this plan shall also address the treatment of students on campuses and centers in accordance with district-wide affirmative action efforts.

II. Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan: General Description

A. RATIONALE AND INTENT

It is the obligation of the West Hills Community College District to promote understanding and appreciation of the diverse population within the community it serves as well as within its sphere of influence.

It is educationally sound for all students attending the college and its centers within the District to have available positive images provided by individuals from historically underrepresented groups and to observe that such individuals can assume responsibilities and diverse roles in our society.

By the adoption of this faculty and staff diversity plan, members of the Board of Trustees of the West Hills Community College District reaffirm their commitment to equal opportunities in employment and education. Therefore, the policies which govern this faculty and staff diversity plan are designed to promote recruitment, employment, and promotion of persons by giving consideration to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, Vietnam-era veterans status, or sexual orientation.

The concept of affirmative action is one of applying good faith efforts to provide equal occupational and educational opportunity. This concept is an extension of procedures which West Hills Community College District has followed for some time. The intent is to assure equal employment and educational opportunities for all, but consideration is given to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, Vietnam-era veteran status, or sexual orientation, through the process of education, dissemination of information, and the modification of existing practices. In many instances, employment opportunities in our society have not been as available to minorities and women as they have been to other citizens. Affirmative action, therefore, is both a legal and moral responsibility for all employers. For purposes of clarification, the term "affirmative action" can best be understood in relation to equal opportunity. Equal opportunity is a condition, and affirmative action includes all the various methods through which equal employment opportunity for all is made a reality. More specifically, the intention of the affirmative action program at West Hills Community College District is to ensure that persons from underrepresented groups are incorporated into the service of the District in all job categories and all job levels without diminishing work quality. In keeping with the law, the program affirms that efforts to bring about a better ethnic and sexual balance among employees shall not come into conflict with the concept of equal opportunity for all, that is, steps to increase opportunities for some must not result in discrimination against others.

B. DEFINITIONS

(Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 53001)

(a) Affirmative Action Employment Programs. "Affirmative action employment programs" means all the various methods by which equal employment opportunity and proportionate representation is to be achieved for qualified members of historically underrepresented groups.

(b) Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan. A "faculty and staff diversity plan" is a written document in which a district's work force is analyzed and specific result-oriented plans and procedures for achieving equal employment opportunity and proportionate representation of qualified members of historically underrepresented groups are set forth.

(c) Business Necessity. "Business necessity" means circumstances which justify an exception to the requirements of Section 53021 because compliance with that section would result in substantial additional financial cost to the district or pose a significant threat to human life or safety. Business necessity requires greater financial cost than does mere business convenience. Business necessity does not exist where there is an alternative that will serve business needs equally well.

(d) Equal Employment Opportunity. "Equal employment opportunity" means that all qualified individuals have a full and fair opportunity to compete for hiring and promotion and to enjoy the benefits of employment with the district.

(e) Ethnic Minorities. "Ethnic minorities" means American Indians or Alaskan natives, Asians or Pacific Islanders, Blacks, and Hispanics. A person shall be included in the group with which he or she identifies as his or her group, but may be counted in only one ethnic group. These groups shall be more specifically defined by the chancellor consistent with state and federal law.

(f) Goals and Timetables. "Goals and timetables" means projected new levels of employment of historically underrepresented groups to be worked toward on a specific schedule, given the expected turnover in the work force and the availability of persons who are qualified to perform a particular job through appropriate training or experience or who will become so qualified within a reasonable length of time. Goals are not "quotas" or rigid proportions.

(g) Person with a Disability. "Person with a disability" means any person who (1) has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more of such person's major life activities, (2) has a record of such an impairment, or (3) is regarded as having such an impairment. A person with a disability is "substantially limited" if he or she is likely to experience difficulty in securing, retaining, or advancing in employment because of such an impairment.

(h) Historically Underrepresented Group. "Historically underrepresented group" means any group for which the percentage of persons from that group in the applicable work force is not, and has historically been, significantly lower than the percentage that members of that group represent in the pool of persons who are determined by the Chancellor to be available and qualified to perform the work in question. The Board of Governors has determined that, on a statewide basis, ethnic minorities, women, and persons with disabilities are historically underrepresented groups.

(i) Reasonable Accommodation. "Reasonable accommodation" means the efforts made on the part of the employer to remove artificial or real barriers which prevent or limit the employment and upward mobility of persons with disabilities.

(j) Proportionate Representation. "Proportionate representation" means that the percentage of persons from a historically underrepresented group in the applicable work force is at least equal to the percentage that members of that group represent in the pool of persons who are determined by the Chancellor to be available and qualified to perform the work in question.

(k) In-house or Promotional Only Hiring. "In-house" or "promotional only" hiring means that only existing district employees are allowed to apply for a position.

(l) Screening or Selection Procedures. "Screening or selection procedures" means any measure, combination of measures, or procedure used as a basis for any employment decision. Selection procedures include the full range of assessment techniques, including but not limited to, traditional paper and pencil tests, performance tests, and physical, educational, and work experience requirements, interviews, and review of application forms.

(m) Adverse or Disparate Impact. "Adverse impact" or "disparate impact" means that a statistical measure (such as those outlined in the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's "Uniform Guidelines on Employee Selection Procedures") is applied to the effects of a selection procedure, and demonstrates a disproportionate negative impact on a historically underrepresented group as defined in subsection (h).

C. WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT AFFIRMATIVE ACTION POLICY

1. Commitment. The West Hills Community College District Board of Trustees commits itself to nondiscrimination and affirmative action.

a. Nondiscrimination.

(1) No person shall be denied an educational, employment or related benefit because of the individual's race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, marital status, disability, sexual orientation, or Vietnam-era veteran status.

(2) Nondiscrimination requires the elimination of discriminatory practices and conditions that may exist, whether intentional or inadvertent.

(3) This District shall monitor continuously and evaluate at specified times all educational and employment policies, procedures, and practices and shall take action to correct those that may unlawfully discriminate. Employment policies, procedures, and practices shall be consistent with the approved faculty and staff diversity plan.

b. Affirmative Action.

(Reference: Education Code Sections 87100-87107)

87100. Legislative findings, declarations and intent

"The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) Generally, California Community Colleges employ a disproportionately low number of racial and ethnic minority classified and certificated employees and a disproportionately low number of women and members of racial and ethnic minorities in administrative positions.

(b) It is educationally sound for the minority student attending a racially impacted school to have available the positive impact provided by minority classified and certificated employees. It is likewise educationally sound for the student from the majority group to have positive experiences with minority people which can be provided, in part, by having minority classified and certificated employees at schools where enrollment is largely made up of majority group students. It is also educationally important for student to observe that females as well as males can assume responsible and diverse roles in society.

(c) Past employment practices created artificial barriers and past efforts to promote additional action in the recruitment, employment, and promotion of women and minorities have not resulted in a substantial increase in employment opportunities for such persons.

(d) Lessons concerning democratic principles and the richness which racial diversity brings to our national heritage can be best taught by the presence of staff of mixed races and ethnic groups working toward a common goal.

It is the intent of the Legislature to establish and maintain a policy of equal opportunity in employment for all persons and to prohibit discrimination based on race, sex, color, religion, age, handicap, ancestry, or national origin in every aspect of personnel policy and practice in employment, development, advancement, and treatment of persons employed in the public school system, and to promote the total realization of equal employment opportunity through a continuing Affirmative Action Program. The Legislature recognizes that it is not enough to proclaim that public employers do not discriminate in employment but that effort must also be made to build a community in which opportunity is equalized. It is the intent of the Legislature to require educational agencies to adopt and implement plans for increasing the numbers of women and minority persons at all levels of responsibility."

87101. Definitions

For the purposes of this article:

(a) "Affirmative action employment program" means planned activities designed to seek, hire, and promote persons who are underrepresented in the work force compared to their number in the population, including handicapped persons, women, and persons of minority racial and ethnic backgrounds.

It is a conscious, deliberate step taken by a hiring authority to assure equal employment opportunity for all staff, both certificated and classified. These programs require the employer to make additional efforts to recruit, employ, and promote members of groups formerly excluded at the various levels of responsibility who meet statewide minimum qualifications, if any, and who, relative to local qualifications, are qualified or may become qualified through appropriate training or experience within a reasonable length of time. The programs should be designed to remedy the exclusion, whatever its cause. Affirmative action requires imaginative, energetic, and sustained action by each employer to devise recruiting, training, and career advancement opportunities which will result in an equitable representation of women and minorities in relation to all employees of the employer.

(b) "Goals and timetables" means projected new levels of employment of women and minority racial and ethnic groups to be attained on an annual schedule, given the expected turnover in the work force and the availability of persons who are, relative to local qualifications beyond the statewide minimum qualifications, qualified, or may become qualified through appropriate training or experience within a reasonable length of time. Goals are not quotas or rigid proportions. They should relate both to the qualitative and quantitative needs of the employer.

(c) "Public education agency" means the office of the chancellor and the governing board of each community college district in California.

87102. Compliance affirmation; Record of Success to be Produced

The governing board of each community college district shall periodically submit to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges an affirmation of compliance with the provisions of this article. The affirmative action employment program shall have goals that ensure participation in, and commitment to, the program by district personnel, and timetables, for its implementation. The affirmative action plan shall include steps that the district will take in meeting and improving hiring goals for both full-time faculty and part-time faculty pursuant to Section 87482.6, and the development of the plan shall be a condition for receipt of allowances to that section.

The governing board of each community college district shall be held accountable pursuant to this article and other applicable provisions of law for the success or failure of its affirmative action employment program. The plans shall be a public record within the meaning of the California

Public Records Act [Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code].

(b) The governing board of each community college district shall publish and distribute a record of the success rate of measurable progress, with respect to its goals and timetables, in hiring employees through its affirmative action employment program. This publication shall be a public record within the meaning of the California Public Records Act, and shall include data and information specified by the board of governors.

87103. Assistance

The Office of the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges shall render assistance in developing and implementing affirmative action employment programs to community college districts under its jurisdiction.

87104. Requirements for use of funds

The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, out of funds appropriated for such purposes, (1) shall provide assistance to local community colleges in adopting and maintaining high quality affirmative action programs; (2) report to the Legislature regarding the number of districts which have adopted and are maintaining affirmative action programs, including the effectiveness of such programs in meeting the intent of this article; (3) develop and disseminate to public community college district guidelines to assist such agencies into developing and implementing affirmative action employment programs; and (4) shall establish a technical assistance team to review the affirmative action plan of each community college district which fails to make measurable progress in meeting the goals and timetables of its adopted plan. The technical assistance team shall recommend appropriate actions to assure reasonable progress in improving success rate. The board of governors shall prescribe those conditions necessary to assure reasonable progress and otherwise meet the legal requirements of affirmative action. The conditions may include the withholding of allowances made pursuant to Sections 87482.6 and 87107.

(b) The board of governors shall establish, by July 1, 1989, within the chancellor's office or through other means as deemed necessary, a major service function to assist community college districts in identifying, locating, and recruiting qualified members of underrepresented groups, and in establishing and maintaining effective affirmative action hiring procedures.

(c) The board of governors shall, by March 15, 1989, develop and adopt a systemwide plan for strengthening faculty and staff affirmative action policies and programs in the California Community Colleges.

87105. Rules and Regulations

The Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges shall adopt all necessary rules and regulations to carry out the intent of this article.

87106. Federal law

Any activities undertaken pursuant to this article shall be subject to provisions of Title VII of the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964, and amendments thereto.

87107. Faculty and Staff Diversity Fund Establishment and Use of Money

(a) There is hereby created in the State Treasury a fund which shall be known as the Faculty and Staff Diversity Fund.

The money in the fund shall be available to the board of governors upon appropriation by the Legislature for the purpose of enabling the California Community Colleges as a system to address the goal that by the year 2005 the system's work force will reflect proportionately the adult population of the state. For the purpose of administering this fund, the board of governors shall develop and apply availability data and factors for measuring district progress in contributing to this goal for the system. Also for the purpose of administering this fund, it is the intent of the Legislature that the board of governors take the steps which are necessary to reach the goal that by fiscal year 1992-93, 30 percent of all new hires in the California Community Colleges as a system will be ethnic minorities.

(b) By December 1, 1993, the board of governors shall report upon and assess the extent to which the California Community colleges as a system have met or begun to meet the goals specified in this section. The report shall include conclusions regarding any necessary revisions to these goals.

Unless provided otherwise by the Legislature by statute, the board of governors may, on or after September 30, 1994, adopt regulations to revise these goals.

(c) The board of governors shall utilize up to 25 percent of the fund to do all of the following:

(1) Reimburse districts for the costs of publishing, distributing, and reporting affirmative action success rates as provided in Section 87102.

(2) Reimburse district for the cost of preparing and updating affirmative action plans.

(3) Carry out the assistance, service, monitoring, and compliance functions specified in Section 87104.

(d) The remainder of the fund shall be allocated to districts, in accordance with regulations of the board of governors, to provide for extended outreach and recruitment of underrepresented groups, for incentives to hire members of underrepresented groups, for in-service training, and for other related staff diversity programs.

(e) It is the intent of the Legislature that the board of governors in administering this fund, shall, pursuant to the provisions of this article, give funding priority and shall afford flexibility and discretion in the use of these funds to districts which have made or are making reasonable progress in contribution to the achievement of the goals of this fund.

D. DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF AFFIRMATIVE ACTION OFFICER

The West Hills Community College District will have an Affirmative Action Officer responsible for the district. The Affirmative Action Officer of the District is responsible for the overall implementation of the Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan and shall work in conjunction with the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee and the Superintendent/President or designee of the West Hills Community College District to carry out the goals and objectives of the program.

The Affirmative Action Officer is responsible to the Superintendent/President of the West Hills Community College District and shall administer and coordinate the Affirmative Action Program. Responsibilities may include, but not necessarily be limited to the following:

1. Develop and disseminate the Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan statements and programs.
2. Identify affirmative action problem areas.

3. Assist management and supervisory personnel in arriving at solutions to affirmative action problems.
4. Design and implement an audit and reporting system that will:
 - a. Measure effectiveness of the District Affirmative Action Programs.
 - b. Indicate need for remedial action.
 - c. Develop goals and objectives based on recommendations from administration, faculty, and classified staff, and the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee.
 - d. Determine the degree to which goals and objectives have been attained.
 - e. Assure that the District is in compliance with federal and state guidelines, executive orders, etc.
5. Serve as liaison to minority organizations, community action groups, disabled and women's organizations concerned with employment opportunities and Affirmative Action.
6. Keep current on all federal, state, and local laws concerned with affirmative action and keep the Superintendent/President or designee, Advisory Committee, and district personnel informed of the latest developments in affirmative action.
7. Develop, implement, and audit methods of effective recruitment, screening and interviewing, review job descriptions, selection, training, retraining, transfer and promotion practices, and evaluation of employees to comply with equal employment laws.
8. Review the qualifications of all employees to ensure that minorities, women, and other affected classes are given full opportunities for transfers and promotions.
9. Conduct regular discussions with administrators, managers, supervisors, faculty, and classified staff to ascertain that the District Affirmative Action Program is being followed.
10. Prepare an annual written report to the Board of Trustees and college staff to be presented at a regularly scheduled meeting. The report shall include but not be limited to:

- a. progress towards goals and timetables
 - b. problems identified and solutions carried out
 - c. current problem areas
11. Serve as Chairperson of the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee.
 12. Conduct active personnel recruitment efforts with county board organizations, private industry, professional organization, colleges, universities, and other identified recruitment target areas.
 13. Make periodic reports to the Chancellor's Office, state and federal compliance agencies as necessary.
 14. Keep current on equal employment opportunity developments and inform administration how any changes of emphasis might affect district hiring practices.
 15. Maintain a District Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee, as outlined and directed by the Superintendent/President and Board of Trustees, consisting of diversified representation.
 16. Update all recruitment and selection processes (recruitment, interviews, job description, transfer and promotion practices etc.) eliminating any artificial barriers and non-job-related selection procedures.
 17. Affirmative Action Officer or designee shall attend all selection committee meetings, paper screenings, and interviews.

III. FACULTY AND STAFF DIVERSITY PLAN: PROCEDURES FOR IMPLEMENTATION

A. RESPONSIBILITY

(Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Sections 53020-53024)

53020. Responsibility; Delegation of Authority; Complaints

(a) The governing board of each community college district is ultimately responsible for proper implementation of this Subchapter at all levels of district and college operation and for making measurable progress toward the goals established in the district's faculty and staff diversity plan. In carrying out this responsibility, the governing board, upon the recommendation of the chief executive officer, shall ensure that an affirmative action officer is designated to oversee the day-to-day implementation of the requirements set forth in this Subchapter.

(b) The administrative structure created by any delegation of authority to the affirmative action officer or others shall be described in the district's faculty and staff diversity plan submitted pursuant to Section 53003 and shall be designed in such a manner so as to ensure prompt and effective implementation of the requirements of this Subchapter. The plan shall also designate a single officer, who may be the affirmative action officer, who shall be given authority and responsibility for receiving complaints filed pursuant to Section 53026, for ensuring that such complaints are promptly and impartially investigated, and ensuring that selection procedures and the applicant pool are properly monitored as required by Sections 53023 and 53024.

(c) Any organization or individual, whether or not an employee of the district, who acts on behalf of the governing board with regard to the recruitment and screening of personnel is an agent of the district and is subject to all of the requirements of this Subchapter.

B. RECRUITMENT

53021. Recruitment

(a) Community college districts shall undertake a program of verifiable affirmative action recruitment of qualified members of historically underrepresented groups in all job categories and classifications, including, but not limited to, faculty, classified employees, categorically funded positions, the chief executive officer and all other executive/administrative/managerial positions.

(b) "In house or promotional only" recruitment shall not be used to fill any new opening except when:

- (1) The pool of eligible district employees has achieved proportionate representation and the district has an upward mobility program which is included in the faculty and staff diversity plan approved by the Chancellor;

(2) The position is being filled on an interim basis (not to exceed one year) to allow for full and open recruitment; or

(3) Justified by "business necessity" as defined in Section 53001 (c).

(c) If a district believes justification exists for use of the "business necessity" exception, it shall so notify the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee established pursuant to Section 53005 and the Chancellor at least ten (10) working days prior to offering the position to a candidate.

(d) Even where in-house or promotional only recruitment is permitted pursuant to subsection (b), all qualified district employees shall be afforded the opportunity to apply.

(e) For purposes of this section, a new opening is not created when:

(1) There is a reorganization or series of transfers that does not result in a net increase in the number of employees;

(2) A position which is currently occupied by an incumbent and is upgraded, reclassified, or renamed without significantly altering the duties being performed by the individual;

(3) The faculty in a division or department elect one faculty member to serve as a chairperson for a prescribed limited term; or

(4) The position is filled by a temporary appointment using recruitment procedures authorized by other provisions of law.

C. HIRING PROCEDURES

The West Hills Community College District Superintendent/ President and College Council, in conjunction with the Director of Personnel Services and/or the Affirmative Action Officer have developed specific "Hiring Procedures" which are to be followed for all permanent full-time and part-time positions. These procedures are included as appendices to this plan.

D. JOB ANNOUNCEMENTS

(Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 53022)

53022. Job Announcements and Required Qualifications

Job Announcements shall state clearly job specifications setting forth the knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to job performance. For faculty and administrative positions, job requirements shall include a sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, socioeconomic, cultural, disability and ethnic backgrounds of community college students. Job specifications, including any "desired" or "required" qualifications beyond the state minimum qualifications (set forth in Subchapter 4, commencing with Section 53400 of this Chapter) which the district wishes to utilize, shall be reviewed before the position is announced, to ensure conformity with the requirements of this Subchapter and state and federal nondiscrimination laws.

E. APPLICANT POOL

53023. Applicant Pool

(a) All applicants shall be given an opportunity to identify themselves as being a member of a historically underrepresented group when their application is submitted. This information shall be kept confidential and shall be used only in research, validation, monitoring, evaluating the effectiveness of the district's affirmative action employment program, or any other purpose specifically authorized in this Subchapter, or by any applicable statute or regulation.

(b) After the application deadline has passed, applications shall be screened to determine which candidates satisfy job specifications set forth in the job announcement. Before the selection process begins, the composition of the qualified applicant pool shall be analyzed to ensure that the goals established in the district's faculty and staff diversity plan may be furthered and that members of historically underrepresented groups are not adversely impacted. If this is not the case, the chief executive officer or his or her designee shall take effective steps to address the adverse impact before the selection process is begun. Such steps may include, but are not limited to:

(1) the deadline is extended and additional recruitment focused on historically underrepresented groups is undertaken;

(2) applicants from historically underrepresented groups who were initially screened out because they failed to meet locally established "desirable or preferred" qualifications beyond the state minimum qualifications are included in the applicant pool where such applicants may be expected to meet these additional qualifications through appropriate training or experience within a reasonable length of time.

(3) locally established qualifications beyond state minimum qualifications are modified or removed and the application deadline is extended.

(c) If adverse impact persists after taking steps required under subdivision (b), the selection process may proceed only if:

(1) the job announcement does not require qualifications beyond the statewide minimum qualifications;

(2) locally established qualifications beyond state minimum qualifications, if any, are shown to be job related and consistent with business necessity through a process meeting the requirements of federal law; or

(3) the particular requirements beyond statewide minimum qualifications which are used in the job announcement are among those which the Board of Governors has found to be job-related and consistent with business necessity throughout the community college system.

F. SCREENING

(Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 53024)

53024. Screening or Selection Procedures

(a) All screening or selection techniques, including the procedure for developing interview questions, and the selection process as a whole, shall be:

(1) provided to the Chancellor upon request;

(2) designed to ensure that for faculty and administrative positions, consideration is given to the extent to which applicants have a sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, socioeconomic, cultural, disability, and ethnic backgrounds of community college students;

(3) based solely on job-related criteria, provided that, when a particular candidate who meets the minimum qualifications for the job is also a member of a historically underrepresented group, this membership may be taken into account as one factor in the final selection process where this would further achievement of the goals set forth in the district's faculty and staff diversity plan; and

(4) designed and monitored to ensure that they do not have an adverse impact on members of historically underrepresented groups.

(b) If monitoring pursuant to subsection (a) (4) reveals that any selection technique or procedure has adversely impacted any historically underrepresented group, the chief executive officer or his/her designee shall suspend the selection process, and timely and effective steps shall be taken to remedy the problem before the selection process resumes. The affirmative action officer, or other official charged with responsibility for monitoring selection procedures, may assist the screening committee by discussing the overall composition of the applicant pool and the screening criteria or procedures which have produced an adverse impact, provided that confidential information about individual candidates is not disclosed. Where necessary, the position may be re-opened at any time and a new selection process initiated in a way designed to avoid adverse impact.

(c) A district may not designate or set aside particular positions to be filled by members of any group defined in terms of race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, or any other characteristic which would result in discriminatory treatment prohibited by state or federal law. Nor may a district apply goals set forth in the district's faculty and staff diversity plan in a rigid manner which has the purpose or effect of so discriminating.

(d) Seniority or length of service may be taken into consideration only to the extent it is job related, is not the sole criterion, and is included in the job announcement consistent with the requirements of Section 53022.

(e) Selection testing for employees shall follow procedures as outlined in Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's "Uniform Guidelines on Employee Selection Procedures."

(f) Selection committees shall include members of historically underrepresented groups whenever possible.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Division, the governing board or its designee shall have the authority to make all final hiring decisions based upon careful review of the candidate or candidates recommended by a screening committee. This includes the right to reject all candidates and order further review by the screening committee or reopening of the position where necessary to further achievement of the goals established in the faculty and staff diversity plan. However, consistent failure to select qualified candidates from historically underrepresented groups who are recommended by screening committees shall constitute a violation of Section 51010 of this Division.

G. PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

53025. Persons with Disabilities

(a) By July 1, 1992, each community college district shall establish goals and timetables for hiring and promotion of persons with disabilities, provided that data on the availability of persons with disabilities who are qualified for employment by community colleges is furnished by the Chancellor.

(b) For academic year 1992-93, and each year thereafter, districts shall monitor for adverse impact on persons with disabilities consistent with the requirements of Sections 53004, 53023, and 53024 and shall report on the number of persons with disabilities who are employed by the district pursuant to Section 53004.

(c) Community college districts shall ensure that applicants and employees with disabilities receive reasonable accommodations consistent with the requirements of Government Code Sections 11135 et seq., and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Such accommodations may include, but are not limited to, job site modifications, job restructuring, flexible scheduling, adaptive equipment, and auxiliary aids such as readers, interpreters, and notetakers. Such accommodations may be paid for with the faculty and staff diversity funds provided pursuant to Article 3 (commencing with Section 53030) of this Subchapter.

H. AFFIRMATIVE ACTION COMMITMENT

1. All employment practices, including selection, assignment, promotion, transfer, demotion, or termination decisions, shall be based on job-related factors which include qualifications and capabilities. Seniority shall be considered as required by law. The goals of the Affirmative Action Program shall also be designed to meet the special needs and aspirations of protected groups, students and the community in counseling, bilingual/multicultural education, and school-staff mobility. Bilingual/multicultural education may also include multilingual.

2. To effectuate its affirmative action commitment, the West Hills Community College District shall seek to hire and retain employees whose backgrounds and abilities add to the cultural diversity of the institution, and who can act as positive role models.

- a. Review procedures to eliminate any unlawful discriminatory practices.
- b. Display State Department of Fair Employment and Housing and Equal Employment Opportunity Commission posters where applicants and interviewers are likely to see them.
- c. Eliminate sex-stereotyped job titles.
- d. Whenever possible, assign persons with bilingual skills to provide service to non-English-speaking persons or limited-English-speaking ability persons.
- e. In a reduction in force situation, examine programmatic needs in a very comprehensive manner to ensure protected group members are retained in employment whenever possible.

I. AGENTS

[Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 53020 (c)]

See Page 11 of this document.

J. PERSONNEL POLICIES

Personnel policies comply with equal opportunity laws and guidelines.

1. Salary and Benefit Plan.

- a. Fixed salary schedules for administrative and faculty positions are based on responsibilities, experience, and education.
- b. Fixed salary schedules for classified and temporary hourly staff are based on an analysis of similarities of job responsibilities and requirements including experience and education.
- c. Salary policies are made available to all employees and prospective applicants for employment.

- d. District-provided fringe benefit plans do not operate to discriminate based on sex.

2. Leave Policies

- a. The granting of leaves, including paid or unpaid leave for educational or professional purposes, illness, disability, vacation, and personal necessity is nondiscriminatory.
- b. Women employees, regardless of marital status, are eligible for district approved disability benefits during the period of time they are physically disabled and unable to work as a result of pregnancy. A physical disability arising out of pregnancy is considered to be and is treated the same as any other disability under those benefits and policies provided by the District which may include accrued sick leave pay, vacation, and substituted difference pay. Any other leave time requested associated with pregnancy or childbirth is treated under Subsection 2-c below.
- c. The District may grant both men and women employees, in addition to other leaves provided by policy, personal leaves of absence without pay for reasonable periods for child caring and/or preparation of childbirth. Requests for personal leaves of absence specify the length of the leave, giving a definite date of return to work. For certificated teaching staff where the need for a personal leave of absence without pay may be anticipated in advance, leaves are granted recognizing the employee's needs, yet maintaining the continuity and continuation of the courses being taught.

3. Policy on Employment of Relatives

The policy on employment of relatives does not operate to violate the intent of the Plan which provides that affirmative action be taken to recruit and place minority persons. Similarly, the policy is not applied unilaterally to deny employment to persons of one sex. Where a practice of providing for employment of relatives has operated to exclude people based on race, such practices are contrary to the intent of the law. Policies or practices which prohibit or have an adverse impact upon one sex or the other are in violation of the law. The Board policy concerning the employment of relatives allows for employment of members of the same family but prohibits such employment when the Superintendent/President or designee determines that such employment would result in a potential conflict of interest in the performance of job duties and responsibilities. See West Hills Community College District Board Policy.

K. SPECIAL STAFF TRAINING AND PARTICIPATION

Education and training play a vital role in affirmative action.

1. Staff Training Equal opportunity is a fundamental and continuing staff responsibility. Since it is the knowledge, attitude, motivation, and personal involvement of the staff that will ensure success of the Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan, education and orientation of staff are provided for a part of the Plan.

a. Regular Meetings On at least an annual basis, Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan progress is reviewed during meetings of the Board of Trustees, faculty, administrative and classified staff, and students. To the fullest extent possible, staff and board members are responsible for the development of equal opportunity goals, objectives, and programs through discussion and planning in such meetings.

b. Training Seminars and Meetings Attendance by staff at seminars and training workshops designed to improve understanding of equal opportunity policy and affirmative action is encouraged. West Hills Community College District Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee will provide those involved with screening and selection processes training in equal opportunity and affirmative action guidelines on a regular basis.

2. Upward Mobility Program Training and Development of Employees

Operation of the West Hills Community College District will use those training programs which provide the most meaningful opportunities for preparation of employment and advancement.

a. Preparation for Entry-Level Classified and Certificated Positions:

(1) Special hiring programs in entry-level positions where future, regular employment opportunities may be anticipated are undertaken.

(2) Through vacation replacement, seasonal employment and leaves of absence individuals are provided with opportunities to gain practical experience qualifying for future, regular positions.

- b. Preparation for Advancement/Promotion for Classified and Certificated Positions.
 - (1) Preparation for advancement into specialized, technical, professional and management positions is encouraged.
 - (2) Abilities and experience necessary for promotions to management, supervisory, professional, technical, clerical, semi-skilled and skilled positions are developed by on-the-job-training, vacation relief and special assigned work projects.

- c. Preparation for Faculty Positions
 - (1) Higher degree-granting institutions seeking to provide their graduates with internship and other educationally-related experiences are encouraged to utilize the District as a possible resource.
 - (2) Opportunities are given to staff to participate in conferences, professional meetings and committees to gain experience, knowledge and skills wherever possible.

- d. Supplemental Education

Participation in educational and training programs is encourage and made known to employees.

- e. Professional Associations

Employees are encouraged to participate in professional organizations where such participation will contribute to their advancement and competency.

L. COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

The District will maintain an active program of community involvement and support. The District will provide for active participation in community affairs and will maintain positive and cooperative relations with underrepresented groups and community organizations covered under its Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan. Being small in enrollment, but large in rural areas, West Hills Community College District must seek out the few community organizations that do exist.

M. STUDENT RECRUITMENT, PLACEMENT, RETENTION SERVICES AND PROGRAMS

All student support services are operated in compliance with the District's equal opportunity and affirmative action policies.

1. Recruitment and Retention

Student outreach programs are developed to recruit disadvantaged and underrepresented students. In considering recruitment techniques and formulating programs, affirmative action efforts are included.

- a. Special programs such as extended opportunity programs and services, disabled student programs, re-entry, single parent, career placement, and disadvantaged vocational student programs are all programs which are intended to improve equal opportunity and are part of our Affirmative Action Program.
- b. Emphasis is placed on ensuring that disadvantaged and underrepresented students learn of and are encouraged to undertake educational programs which they might not have undertaken in the past. Emphasis is placed on assisting women students to become aware of and involve in educational programs leading to occupations other than those traditionally available to women.

2. Service to Students

Student services such as counseling, financial aid, the Learning Resource Center, placement services, and tutoring are or will be made available to all students. Priority is given as necessary to disadvantaged students enabling them to complete their educational programs in the District. For example, West Hills Community College District allows for priority registration to DSPS and EOPS students.

3. Awareness Programs

Social and cultural awareness programs are offered throughout the year to promote district-wide understanding and support the efforts of minority groups and women. West Hills Community College District will continue to offer workshops, guest speakers, teleconferences, and video tapes on social and cultural awareness programs.

4. Curriculum

Curriculum in the West Hills Community College District includes courses on political, social, economic, historical and cultural backgrounds of minority groups and women. A list of courses which pertain exactly to minority groups and women is as follows:

Social Science 32A-Cultural History of the Chicano
Social Science 32B-Cultural History of Black Americans

Social Science 32C-Women's Studies
History 32A-Cultural History of the Chicano
History 32B-Cultural History of Black Americans
Social Service 11-Understanding the Disadvantaged Client
Social Service 12-Cultural Factors in Employment Counseling

In addition to these courses that pertain exclusively in these areas, numerous other courses present major section or modules regarding social, economic, historical, and/or cultural backgrounds of minority groups and women. A list of these courses is as follows:

Business 18-Business Law
Business 20-Introduction to Business
Business 29-Techniques of Management
Business 32-Small Business Management
Business 34-Marketing
Business 35-Personnel Management
Business 37-Human Relations in Business

5. Scholarship Programs

Scholarship programs controlled by the District comply with the equal opportunity policy. Additional scholarships are to be sought to provide financial assistance to disadvantaged students.

6. Student Programs

Student operated and controlled programs, publications, and activities are covered under the equal opportunity policy.

7. Cooperative Career Education

A cooperative Career Education Program encourages students to gain practical work experience as part of their college curriculum. West Hills Community College District will continue to conduct CWEE courses.

N. DISTRICT FACILITIES, ACTIVITIES AND PROGRAMS

The District prohibits any practice which tends to segregate employees or students based upon race, age, sex, ethnicity, disability, sexual orientation, or Vietnam-era veteran as might arise in the planning or use of District facilities, activities, and committees. The District openly encourages all employees and students to participate fully in the affairs and activities of the District.

Where the District identifies problems that tend to segregate or inhibit full employment and educational opportunities, solutions to such problems are to be sought by the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee.

O. PURCHASING POLICY

It is the policy of the District to ensure the minority owned and/or operated businesses have an equal opportunity to do business with the District. Additionally, the District seeks to do business with vendors complying with equal opportunity laws and guidelines.

P. DISABLED

1. The District shall make reasonable accommodation for the disabled applicant or employee. (Title 5, Regulations of the California Administrative Code, Section 53025)

2. Disabled (formerly referred to as handicapped) person(s) means any person who (a) has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities, (b) has a record of such an impairment, or (c) is regarded as having such an impairment. Reasonable accommodation is defined as efforts made on the part of the employer to remove artificial or real barriers, which prevent or limit the employment and upward mobility of disabled persons. Accommodations may include but are not limited to the provision or modification of equipment and assistive devices, modified work schedules, and job restructuring as well as job site modification.

3. (Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 59306)

59306. Visitor Parking for Persons with Disabilities

(a) Each community college district shall, consistent with the requirements of Education Code Sections 66260 and 67311.5, provide visitor parking at each of its colleges or centers at no charge to persons with disabilities or those providing transportation for such persons.

(b) For purposes of this section, "persons with disabilities" are those who:

(1) qualify as disabled persons pursuant to Section 22511.5 of the Vehicle Code; or

(2) if they were students, would be entitled to special parking provided to students with disabilities pursuant to Subchapter 1 (commencing with Section 56000) of Chapter 7 of this Division.

(c) Parking at no charge shall be available to persons with disabilities who are visitors, and those providing transportation to such persons, in those parking facilities which are most accessible to administrative offices, libraries, and other facilities which the district finds are most used by visitors.

(d) Each community college district shall post in conspicuous places notice that parking is available without charge to persons with disabilities who are visitors and those providing transportation for such persons.

(e) When parking provided pursuant to this section is located in an area where access is controlled by a mechanical gate, the district shall ensure that accommodations are made for persons with disabilities who are unable to operate the gate controls. Accommodations may be provided by an attendant assigned to assist in operation of the gate or by any other effective means deemed appropriate by the district.

(f) Parking fees collected pursuant to Education Code Section 72247 shall be used to offset any costs resulting from compliance with the requirements of this section.

4. The West Hills Community College District requests candidates to indicate on the job application if they need accommodation for the disabled in the job interview.

5. The West Hills Community College District DSPS Program plans to obtain grant money with possible matching funds by the District to make the facilities more accessible to the disabled.

Q. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

59307. Sexual Harassment and Sex Discrimination

The governing board of each community college district shall ensure that all persons, regardless of their sex, are afforded equal rights and opportunities in programs and activities conducted by colleges in the district. The district shall comply with all requirements of Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 200) of Division 1 of Title 1 of the Education Code, which is commonly referred to as the Sex Equity in Education Act. Complaints alleging sexual harassment or discrimination on the basis of gender prohibited by that Act shall be filed and investigated pursuant to the procedures set for in this subchapter.

Also, refer to West Hills Community College District Board Policy on sexual harassment.

R. AFFIRMATIVE ACTION OFFICER

The Superintendent/President is responsible for ensuring affirmative action and equal employment opportunity. He/She may designate an Affirmative Action Officer who will oversee recruitment, selection, and interviewing in an effort to improve representation of ethnic minority groups, women, and the disabled.

Also refer to Page 9 of this document for duties and responsibilities of Affirmative Action Officer.

S. DISSEMINATION

1. Internal. The Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan shall require that all District employees be apprised of the equal employment opportunity/affirmative action policy.

2. External. The Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan shall require that a written notice be provided at least annually to various community organizations concerning the District's Affirmative Action Policy and to solicit their assistance in recruiting ethnic minority, female, disabled, and Vietnam-era veteran candidates.

3. General

(a) The principles of the District's Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan should be disseminated to all work units.

(1) A letter from the Superintendent/President reaffirming the District's commitment to affirmative action shall be sent to all employees at the beginning of each school year.

(b) Meetings with administrators and other supervisory personnel to explain the intent of the Plan and individual responsibility for its implementation shall be conducted by the Affirmative Action Officer.

(c) Meetings shall be held with officials of all employee organizations, informing them of the Faculty and Staff

Diversity Plan and enlisting their cooperation.

(d) An affirmative action statement and federal and state EEO posters shall be posted in the administration buildings and instructional offices and student support services areas.

(e) A list of recruiting sources, agencies, and professional organizations shall be maintained and enhanced as a basic aid in the recruitment of minority groups, women, and other affected classes.

(f) The Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan shall be distributed to various agencies, including employment sources and commercial establishments, and specifically to those with which the District conducts business.

(g) Annual reports assessing the progress made under the Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan shall be given to the Board of Trustees.

(h) Additional procedures of dissemination, as appropriate, shall be developed by the Affirmative Action Officer in association with the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee.

(i) Reports shall be submitted to the Chancellor's Office, as appropriate.

(j) Equal opportunity posters shall be posted on bulletin boards regularly viewed by students, employees and applicants for employment.

(k) District publications shall include statements concerning the equal opportunity and affirmative action policies. Employees and students featured in District publications shall include both underrepresented persons and women.

T. COMPLAINT PROCEDURES

(Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 53026)

53026. Complaints

Each community college district shall establish a process permitting any person to file a complaint alleging that the requirements of this Subchapter have been violated. A copy of the complaint shall immediately be forwarded to the Chancellor who may require that the district provide a written investigative report within ninety (90) days. Complaints which also allege discrimination prohibited by Government Code Sections 11135 et seq. shall be processed according to the procedures set forth in Subchapter 4 (commencing with Sections 59300) of Chapter 10 of this Division.

An employee, applicant for employment, or student of the West Hills Community College District may file a complaint with the District Affirmative Action Officer based on alleged discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, marital status, disability or Vietnam-era veteran status which meets the following requirements (Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code Sections 59328-59342):

59328. Complaint

(a) An investigation of alleged unlawful discrimination prohibited by this Subchapter will be initiated by filing a complaint which meets the following requirements:

(1) The complaint shall be filed by one who alleges that he or she has personally suffered unlawful discrimination or by one who has learned of such unlawful discrimination in his or her official capacity.

(2) The complaint shall be filed with the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges or with the officer designated pursuant to Section 59324 by the appropriate community college district.

(3) The complaint shall be in a form prescribed by the Chancellor.

(4) The complaint shall be filed within one year of the date of the alleged unlawful discrimination or within one year of the date on which the complainant knew or should have known of the facts underlying the allegation of unlawful discrimination.

(b) Districts shall establish procedures for attempting to resolve charges of unlawful discrimination which shall be a prerequisite to filing a complaint pursuant to this chapter. Such procedures shall be limited to thirty (30) days.

59329. Complaints Filed with Chancellor

Upon receiving a complaint filed pursuant to Section 59328, the Chancellor will immediately forward a copy of the complaint to the appropriate community college district responsible officer who shall respond pursuant to Section 59322 or initiate the investigation required by Section 59334.

59330. Notice to Chancellor

Immediately upon receiving a complaint filed in accordance with Section 59328 the district shall notify the Chancellor of the complaint in a form and manner determined by the Chancellor.

59332. Defective Complaint

When a district receives a complaint which it finds does not meet the requirements of Section 59328 that district shall immediately notify the complainant that the complaint does not meet the requirements of Section 59328 and shall specify in what requirement the complaint is defective.

59334. District Investigation

Upon receiving a complaint which is properly filed in accordance with Section 59328, the district will commence an impartial fact-finding investigation of that complaint and notify the complainant and Chancellor that it is doing so. The results of the investigation shall be set forth in written report which shall include at least all of the following:

- (a) a description of the circumstances giving rise to the complaint;
- (b) a summary of the testimony provided by each witness, including the complainant and any witnesses identified by the complainant in the complaint;
- (c) an analysis of any relevant data or other evidence collected during the course of the investigation;
- (d) a specific finding as to whether discrimination did or did not occur with respect to each allegation in the complaint; and
- (e) any other information deemed appropriate by the district.

59336. Administrative Determination

Within ninety (90) days of receiving a complaint, the district shall complete its investigation and forward all of the following to the complainant:

- (a) a copy or summary of the investigative report required pursuant to Section 59334;

(b) a written notice setting forth:

(1) the determination of the chief executive officer or his/her designee as to whether discrimination did or did not occur with respect to each allegation in the complaint;

(2) a description of actions taken, if any, to prevent similar problems from occurring in the future;

(3) the proposed resolution of the complaint; and

(4) the complainant's right to appeal to the district governing board and the Chancellor pursuant to Section 59338.

59338. Final District Decision; Appeals

(a) If the complainant is not satisfied with the results of the administrative determination pursuant to Section 59336, the complainant may, within fifteen (15) days, submit a written appeal to the district governing board. The governing board shall review the original complaint, the investigative report, the administrative determination, and the appeal and issue a final district decision in the matter within forty-five (45) days after receiving the appeal. A copy of the final district decision rendered by the governing board shall be forwarded to the complainant and to the Chancellor. The complainant shall also be notified of his or her right to appeal this decision pursuant to this section. If the governing board does not act within forty-five (45) days the administrative determination shall be deemed approved and shall become the final district decision in the matter.

(b) In any case not involving employment discrimination, the complainant shall have the right to file a written appeal with the chancellor within thirty (30) days after the governing board issues the final district decision or permits the administrative determination to become final pursuant to subsection (a). Such appeals shall be processed pursuant to the provisions of Article 4 (commencing with Section 59350) of this subchapter.

(c) In any case involving employment discrimination, the complainant may, at any time before or after the final district decision is rendered, file a complaint with the Department of Fair Employment and Housing. In addition, in such cases, the complainant may file a petition for review with the Chancellor within thirty (30) days after the governing board issues the final district decision or permits the administrative determination to become final pursuant to subsection (a). The Chancellor shall have discretion to accept or reject any such petition for review in employment discrimination cases. If the Chancellor agrees to accept the case, he/she may:

(1) attempt to informally resolve the matter pursuant to Section 59354;

(2) where applicable, treat the complaint as an allegation that the district has violated the provisions of Subchapter 1 (commencing with Section 53000) of Chapter 4 of this Division; or

(3) take any other action deemed appropriate by the Chancellor.

59340. Forward to Chancellor

Within 150 days of receiving a complaint, the district will forward the following to the Chancellor:

(a) the original complaint;

(b) the report required pursuant to Section 59334 describing of the nature and extent of the investigation conducted by the district;

(c) a copy of the notice sent to the complainant pursuant to Section 59336(b);

(d) a copy of the final district decision rendered by the governing board or a statement indicating the date on which the administrative determination became final pursuant to Section 59338(a);

(e) a copy of the notice to the complainant required pursuant to Section 59338(a); and

(f) such other information as the Chancellor may require.

59342. Extensions; Failure to Comply

(a) If a district, for reasons beyond its control, is unable to comply with the 150-day deadline specified in Section 59340 for submission of materials to the Chancellor, the district may file a written request that the Chancellor grant an extension of the deadline. The request shall be submitted no later than ten (10) days prior to the expiration of the deadline established pursuant to Section 59340 and shall set the reasons for the request and the date by which the district expects to be able to submit the required materials.

(b) A copy of the request for an extension shall be sent to the complainant who may file written objections with the Chancellor within five (5) days of receipt.

(c) The Chancellor may grant the request unless delay would be prejudicial to the complainant.

(d) If a district fails to comply with the requirements of Section 59340 by the required deadline, including any extension granted pursuant to this section, the Chancellor may proceed to review the case as provided in Article 4 (commencing with Section 59350) of the Subchapter based on the original complaint and any other relevant information then available.

U. GOALS AND TIMETABLES

On April 27, 1992, the Board of Governors adopted amendments to Title 5, Division IV of the California Administrative Code to require each community college district to develop and adopt a district-wide written affirmative action and equal opportunity plan. Such plans and revisions are subject to review and approval by the State Chancellor. Section 53003 of the regulations requires that each community college district shall "revise its affirmative action goals and timetables every three years..." and submit them to the State Chancellor for approval.

The Superintendent/President of West Hills Community College District in consultation with the Affirmative Action Officer, appropriate campus administrators, faculty and staff, has determined the goals for the District for the three-year period 1993-1994, 1994-1995, and 1995-1996 as specified by the Chancellor's Office, California Community Colleges, Affirmative Action Unit.

1. Background

The following conditions (based on recommendations of the Task Force on Availability) apply to the derivations of the availability data:

(a) "Professional" positions are assumed to be recruited on a statewide basis.

(b) "Non-professional" positions are assumed to be drawn from the population within a 30-mile radius of the primary work site.

This is a departure from the 1983 Task Force recommendation to use the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) or county data for these positions. The 30-mile radius assumes a "reasonable" commuting distance for recruitment purposes.

(c) All categories are calculated based on the single eligibility factor of individuals possessing "requisite skills."

This approach conforms to numerous U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

(d) A procedure for calculating "grouped" faculty data for use by small colleges is provided.

The suggested method for combining "subparts of the whole" is to use a weighted average, since it results in availability numbers that reflect the general faculty and staff configuration.

(e) Occupational categories used to estimate availability for classified positions have been increased to include those which encompass comparable to typical college jobs.

(f) "Career Education" Faculty requisite skills reflect the educational requirements associated with minimum qualifications.

Although Census data do not provide for a perfect match of occupation and the AA degree level, there is a sufficiently consistent statistical relationship to permit estimation of the proportion of AA degree holders in this category.

(g) Since the State Department of Rehabilitation has not been able to provide alternative information to date, the estimates provided here of persons in the labor force with disabilities are the best currently available. Each district's overall goals is based on statewide census data of disabled persons in the labor force adjusted for 30-mile composition of the district's faculty, educational administrators and classified staff.

2. Why goals and timetables?

Every endeavor has a measure of progress and completion. Goals and Timetables serve this purpose for diversity programs. The concept was developed in federal regulation and adapted by the Chancellor's Office for use by the system. The original purpose still holds: the measure of progress and completion toward the overriding goal of having a community work force that is proportional to the qualified labor force. Please note that goals are not quotas. A goal is a target we would like to reach because the goal makes sense. With good-faith effort, goals usually will be reached. Other circumstances affecting the choices of applicants may intrude on our ability to reach a particular goal.

3. For whom are goals set?

Goals are set for members of "historically underrepresented" groups that have been identified as having been discriminated against because of group membership in the past. For community colleges, this group includes American Indian/Alaskan Native, Asian/Pacific Islander, Black, Hispanic, Women, and Persons with a Disability.

4. How are goals set?

For each of the groups, an "availability" measure is calculated primarily based on those in the relevant occupational category who possess the requisite skills to perform the duties of the occupation. Since professional occupations (administrators, instructors, counselors, librarians, etc) have a wider supply market than non-professional occupations (clerical, service/maintenance, technical/paraprofessional, and skilled trades workers), the relevant markets for the two are not the same. The former are expected to be recruited on a statewide basis, while the latter are recruited in a more local labor market within 30 miles of the work site. The existing work force of the district and/or college is compared to the availability in the relevant labor force market for each job category. Where there is a shortfall in the college's work force, a goal is possible if there is expected turnover in that category during the goal setting period. Whether or not there is a goal to be set up to the district, based on its good-faith effort to achieve a balanced and diverse work force.

5. Constraints in Affirmative Action Goal Setting. The Superintendent/President of the West Hills Community College District believes and recommends that the District be proactive in carrying out the provisions of its adopted Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan. While the adoption of these affirmative action goals and timetables represent a commitment to fulfill the goals leading toward a diverse organization, the Superintendent/President has identified the following constraints in achieving these goals:

- a. The employment capability of the District is largely dependent on the fiscal status and budgetary considerations of the District.

- b. The changing needs of the total district program has a direct effect on the employment program of the District.
- c. A number of positions in the District are singular position, i.e., the particular classification has only one position. These positions typically experience low turnover. The incumbents tend to be career oriented in these specialized areas. Such specialized positions do not lend themselves well to the affirmative action goal setting process.
- d. Although West Hills Community College District recruitment sources include protected group entities, the recruitment program does not always result in a sufficient number of applications from protected group members. The plan is for the Affirmative Action Officer to review possible corrective action, such as to re-open positions at least once or increase the recruitment efforts, if this situation exists. The Affirmative Action Officer will report possible corrective action to the Superintendent/President for the final decision.

V. DISTRICT FACULTY AND STAFF DIVERSITY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The West Hills Community College District Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan hereby establishes the District Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee to act in an advisory capacity to the Affirmative Action Officer and assist the District to achieve understanding and support of affirmative action/equal employment opportunity policies and programs. The Committee shall assist in developing the District Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Plan in conformity with the state and federal statutes, regulations, and guidelines and monitor its progress. The membership of the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee will include representatives of the protected groups (ethnic minorities, women, disabled, age, and Vietnam-era veterans) whenever possible (Reference: Title 5 California Administrative Code, Section 53005).

1. Committee Functions. The Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee shall hold a minimum of two meetings per fiscal year, with additional meeting if needed, to review affirmative action goals, policies, progress, and when appropriate make recommendations to the Superintendent/President through the Affirmative Action

Officer to effectuate a more meaningful Faculty and Staff Diversity Program.

The Committee will be particularly concerned with the following areas:

- a. The adequacy of projected goals and the effectiveness of the Faculty and Staff Diversity Program.
- b. The review of reports prepared by the Affirmative Action Officer regarding the District's hiring progress. The Committee should suggest appropriate actions and/or recommend policy changes as necessary.
- c. The accountability for affirmative action progress at all levels. The Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee should be given the opportunity to comment and make recommendations.
- d. The evaluation of whether or not there is sufficient information distributed to employees clarifying misconceptions regarding affirmative action goals, responsibilities and progress to date by the District.
- e. Recruitment efforts.
- f. The advisement of administration regarding special training needs related to affirmative action. The Committee should assist in planning and implementing training programs to meet those needs.
- g. The Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee should:
 1. solicit advice from the DSPS Director/Counselor regarding District services to disabled persons.
 2. review employment policies regarding the disabled;
 3. assist in reviewing other written District rules, policies, practices, and procedures affecting the disabled; and

4. suggest revisions of those rules, policies, practices, and procedures which may potentially be a cause for complaints of discrimination by disabled persons.
- h. Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee members will be encouraged to participate in the Faculty and Staff Diversity Program in the West Hills Community College District. Committee members may serve as the designee of the Affirmative Action Officer to serve on selection committees, paper screenings, interviews, and recruitment teams.
 - i. The Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee will also have subcommittees as needed to oversee matters such as Gender Equity, Sexual Harassment, American with Disabilities Act. The chair of these subcommittee will be elected at the time of formation of the subcommittee and for purposes of the subcommittee business will report to the Affirmative Action Officer. The results of subcommittee business will be reported to the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee before action is taken.
 - j. District employees who are committee members shall be permitted to participate in affirmative action committee activities on District time upon approval by the Affirmative Action Officer or appropriate administrator.

2. Composition and Terms of Office

Composition of the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee will consist of:

-  Affirmative Action Officer
-  Representative from administration
-  Representative from faculty
-  Representative from classified
-  Representative from Gender Equity Director/Counselor
-  Representative from classified

management/confidential

-  Representative from classified supervisors
-  Student representative
-  Disabled Students Program and Services Director/Counselor
-  Representative from the community

There will be a representative from the Kings County Center at Lemoore who may be one of the above representatives. The representatives from the community will be from memberships that are truly representative of racial and ethnic minority groups, women, and the disabled.

Appointments will be for one (1) year terms.

3. Procedures for the selection of members

- a. The Affirmative Action Officer, Gender Equity Director/Counselor, and Disabled Students Program and Services Director/Counselor are appointed by the nature of their position.
- b. The representatives from administration and classified management/confidential will be appointed by the Superintendent/President.
- c. The representatives from classified, classified supervisors and faculty will be appointed by their respective union organizations (CSEA, IUOE, and CTA); or for faculty only, they may be appointed by the Academic Senate.
- d. The student and community representative will be selected by the Faculty and Staff Diversity Advisory Committee.

4. Orientation of New Members

The Affirmative Action Officer shall provide all new committee members with an orientation that includes the following;

- a. Copy of the District Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan.

- b. The annual work force data which details the ethnic and sex representation of employees by occupational categories and departmental grouping.
- c. A copy of the District rules, polices and procedures manual as it becomes available.
- d. Other data, reports, policies, documents which would assist the committee's knowledge of faculty and staff diversity.

W. AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PUBLICITY

The West Hills Community College District will provide public information with special attention given to publicity, advertising and promotion both on and off campus for programs and activities which highlight cultural diversity and illustrate the unique contributions made by minority groups and women.

X. FACULTY AND STAFF DIVERSITY PLAN REVISION

The District shall revise its affirmative action goals and timetables as required in Title 5 California Administrative Code Section 53003.

Y. CORRECTIVE ACTION

1. Regulation

The Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan shall require that when imbalances exist in the various job categories of the district work force, district practices and policies must be examined to determine the factors contributing to the imbalance. Employment practices within the personnel system which constitute barriers to equal opportunity shall be identified and corrective action designed to eliminate the barriers.

2. Guideline

Conditions which should have careful review and most often necessitate corrective action include the following:

- a. Lateral or vertical movement of historically under-represented groups or women employees occurs at a lesser rate than that of other employees in all job classifications and titles.
- b. Termination rate for minorities and women is higher than that of non-minorities and men.

- c. Application forms, tests, interviews, and other related preemployment material are not in compliance with local, state, federal regulations, executive orders, or guidelines.
- d. Entrance qualifications are not consistent with actual functions and duties required of the position.
- e. Sex designation is used when not a bonafide occupational requirement for the job.
- f. Minorities and women are absent from or under-represented in staff training or other career improvement programs.
- g. Recruitment efforts do not yield a sufficiently representative group of applicants to indicate historically under-represented groups, the disabled, and Vietnam-era veterans are being reached for jobs at all levels.
- h. There is evidence of harassment, coercion, or other adverse acts.

Mission

The mission of West Hills Community College District is enhancing student learning and enriching the lives of the populations we serve by:

- Ensuring the vitality of its institutions;
- Encouraging the vision of strong leaders able to see and interpret the present and future needs of students and communities;
- Supporting the colleges in the provision of world class learning environments;
- Providing for appropriate allocation and management of human, fiscal and capital resources;
- Acting as a catalyst for collaboration with outside organizations and agencies; and
- Sharing the story by marketing a positive image.

Vision

West Hills Community College District, a trusted steward, actively engages, encourages, enriches and empowers students, faculty, staff and the communities it serves to reach their full potential (academically, socially and economically) as evidenced by:

- Its status as the preferred choice of students, and the employer of choice for faculty and staff;
- The highest percentage of students completing courses;
- Its recognized excellence; and
- The generally ascribed accolade, "heartbeat of the community."

West Hills College Coalinga

Mission Statement

To commit college-wide staff and resources to the student learning process.
To provide educational, cultural, and economic development opportunities to our current and future students and the local and global communities that we serve.

Vision Statement

West Hills College Coalinga strives to become a premiere interactive learner-centered community college recognized for its contribution to the educational, social, cultural, and economic vitality of the region and the state.

Achieving goals despite economic challenges

The economic challenges of these past few years have not deterred us from achieving our mission. Despite significant budget reductions, our enrollment for 2008-09 was 13 percent higher compared to 2007-08. This is directly attributable to our talented faculty and staff who have found ways to be more efficient and productive with fewer resources to ensure student access and success.

In June 2008, citizens in the northern part of the district passed Measure Q, an $11.8 million general obligation bond measure. In November 2008, citizens in the Coalinga-Huron area passed Measure C, an $11.6 general obligation bond measure. These bond measures will provide resources for facilities improvements that will impact current and future generations.

General obligation bond funds have already made a difference. Significant improvements have been completed at the North District Center in Firebaugh. A facilities planning team has been working with campus architects to design a new building to replace the existing campus center.

Major improvements have also been completed on the Coalinga campus. The men's residence hall (Gordon Hall) received a facelift. Two new relocatable buildings were added to the child development center. Bond funds have been used to assist with the wellness center project (gym renovation and additional 10,000 sf building) and the ag science facility. The wellness center is scheduled for occupancy in the fall 2010.

Providing access to high quality education opportunities for all residents in our service area continues to be the focus of our overall mission. In 2010-11 we will open learning/outreach centers in several of the smaller communities within our service area.

Improvements to institutional effectiveness processes have taken center stage. We are now utilizing measurable outcomes on a regular basis to guide planning and resource allocation decisions. Results from the assessment of performance indicators, program review, and other evaluative processes are being used to make improvements to student learning. The results of some of these assessments can be found at http://www.westhillscollege.com/coalinga/about/governance_planning/college_consultation/index.asp.

Our vision of becoming "a premiere interactive learner-centered community college" continues to guide our efforts in making a difference in the lives of our students and in contributing to the vitality of the communities we serve.

President, West Hills College Coalinga

Grants:

Total grant funding in 2008-09 exceeded $5 million for WHCC.

President's Scholars:

A total of 22 students received President's Scholars scholarships for 2008-09. This scholarship covers enrollment fees and provides a book allowance each term.

Successful Transfer:

The number of students transferring to four-year institutions in 2008 increased by 58% from 2007.

West Hills College Lemoore

Mission

West Hills College Lemoore enriches the lives of our students and the community we serve by being dedicated to quality educational learning opportunities and partnerships. The college provides a positive environment that is committed to student learning and empowering students to achieve their educational goals.

Vision

Learning Through Excellence and Innovation

WHCL planning for the future with new programs, facilities

The academic years 2008-09 and 2009-10 will have seen extraordinary cuts to community colleges as the result of the state's recent economic downturn. West Hills College Lemoore will have reduced its operating budget by over $2.2 million while at the same time maintaining its priority and focus on students.

Course offerings were reduced yet we were able to maintain our commitment to general education, basic skills, workforce development, and degree level courses.

With all the reductions to the general fund, WHC Lemoore still celebrated its groundbreaking for the new $24 million multi-use sports complex that begins phase three of the college's master plan. It is scheduled to open in March 2011.

Our Allied Health program has been able to withstand budget reductions and will expand its offerings with new courses. Highly skilled technical program training will remain a strong demand throughout the state and West Hills is positioned to provide training.

Our newly developed Engineering Scholars Program provides financial support to more students by providing full tuition and books to qualified students. WHCL will play a key role in preparing students for great career opportunities.

All this is just a small list of the many ways West Hills is a leader in providing quality educational opportunities for the communities that we serve. Even in times of great difficulty, with hard work and teamwork, great things can still happen. West Hills College Lemoore will continue to be a leader in assisting the state to recover from its economic downturn.

Foundation helps students realize dreams

The students at West Hills College are our future. Helping them realize their dreams of a college education will positively impact our communities and enhance the quality of life we appreciate now and in the years ahead.

As a proud member of the foundation board of directors, I've been privileged to work with a dedicated team of individuals who support the students of West Hills through their time, energy, leadership and philanthropy. Our foundation board consists of community members, civic leaders, businesswomen and men and agriculturalists from across our service area who value education and want to expand the higher educational opportunities for our children and local residents.

Ernest "Ernie" Drewry
President, WHCC Foundation

Special thanks go to three individuals who made substantial gifts to the foundation during 2009. Phyllis Roberts donated $25,000 for an endowed scholarship at WHCC. Vince Motte contributed $12,500 to help fund a new weather station at the WHCC Farm of the Future. George Ollikkala donated a substantial art collection to libraries throughout the district. We thank them and the many others who contributed to help our students realize their dream of a college education.

Foundation Mission

The West Hills Community College Foundation enthusiastically engages residents, corporations, foundations and communities of the San Joaquin Valley in financial support and advocacy for the West Hills Community College District. We are entrepreneurial partners with the colleges as we plan and implement programs to build relationships and raise funds.

The Foundation Vision

Our vision is to be a dynamic, legacy organization recognized for:

- The Foundation's $5 million endowment (by 2008),
- 140 new scholarship funds,
- Establishment of a successful "new alumni" fundraising program,
- An effective and engaged board,
- Significant contributions to the "K-16 Dream" (creating a college-going culture among K-12 students) and,
- Sponsorship of cultural, educational and economic development programs.

The Foundation- Guiding Principles

The West Hills Community College Foundation applies the following guiding principles in its conduct of business:

- Advocate for education and its ability to change lives,
- Practice responsible stewardship,
- Maintain respect for others,
- Conduct business in an open and transparent manner,
- Support diversity and inclusiveness,
- Demonstrate reliability and accountability, and
- Exemplify a commitment to serve students and the community.

WEST HILLS ADJUSTS TO STATE BUDGET PROBLEMS BY CUTTING COSTS

While there appears to be no good news on the state budget front, West Hills Community College District employees are managing to do more with less to keep the district's budget balanced.

In a recent budget update to employees, Chancellor Frank Gornick said, "To date, the response to our financial crisis has been terrific. Everyone has felt the effect of furloughs, yet everyone has gone beyond that with great spirit.

"The faculty have been fantastic in their response by accepting more students into classes where there literally are no more seats," he continued, "and the maintenance and operations departments have done more with less, yet our colleges continue to look great.

Our administrators have accepted new responsibilities without compensation and they continue to do more with less."

For two years, budget leaders at WHCCD have planned for the state's budget meltdown and have taken action to keep the West Hills budget balanced with the least possible impact to students. This year promises more of the same, Gornick said, and it could be the worst yet in terms of budget reductions

The college district's budget is about $60 million a year with just under half of that coming in the form of restricted funds for specific programs. The remaining $32 million general fund budget has absorbed most of the $2.8 million cut during the 2008-2009 year with an additional $3.6 million being cut this year.

Ken Stoppenbrink, vice chancellor of business services for West Hills, first implemented a

WHC PLANNING AND BUILDING FOR FUTURE GROWTH

Construction (capital) and general fund budgets are entirely separate for California community colleges. Construction planning is years in the process and work that begins today may have started as long as 10 years ago.

The greatest hockey player of all time, Wayne Gretzky, summed up construction plans at West Hills Community College District when he said, "I skate to where the puck is going to be, not where it has been."

WHCCD Trustee Edna Ivans used that quote during a recent board meeting to explain why trustees have continued to move forward with construction plans despite cutbacks in the district's general fund budget.

More than $100 million in projects are planned in the district during the next eight years.

Ivans, who has served on the WHCCD board since 1967, has seen ups and downs in the district's budget a number of times. As one of California's longest serving trustees, the semi-retired pharmacist remains committed to seeing that students on the west side of the San Joaquin Valley have the facilities and technology needed to prepare them for tomorrow's workplace.

"We're working at the local level to continue to provide open access to higher education for our students," Chancellor Frank Gornick said. "This is especially important during difficult economic times when our residents turn to community colleges for job training or to update their skills. "Many students who formerly had planned to go straight to a four-year college are enrolling with us since the University of California and California State Universities are limiting enrollment," he continued.

Voters shared that sentiment during elections last year that overwhelmingly supported continued growth and development in the district. Today, the results of that vote are construction that is underway at West Hills College Coalinga, West Hills College Lemoore and North District Center, Firebaugh.

School facilities improvement districts were formed in each of the three areas served by WHCCD and citizens' oversight committees have been formed in each of the districts. Those committees will be responsible for monitoring expenses covered by the bond measures.

As a result of the local higher education bond measures and a number of other actions taken by the

WEST HILLS RECOGNIZED AS "GREAT COLLEGE TO WORK FOR"

Fred Vasquez is really impressed with the services West Hills College Lemoore offers for disabled students.

Rosemary Burciaga enjoys watching young students at North District Center, Firebaugh, as they build an academic foundation and move on to become community leaders.

Mark Gritton is proud of the hands-on approach that provides first generation college students at West Hills College Coalinga the attention and skills they need to be successful in life.

All three reflect the attitude of West Hills Community College District employees who recently participated in a nationwide survey with the results garnering national recognition for WHCCD as a "Great College to Work For."

The award was announced by and profiled in

Fred Vasquez

The Chronicle of Higher Education, which is the number one source of news, information and jobs for college and university faculty members and administrators, according to a release issued by Jeffrey J. Selingo, its editor.

The Chronicle publishes a daily Web site, a weekly newspaper, a weekly magazine of ideas plus newsletters and events. The newspaper has a weekly print readership of 350,000 and Web traffic of more than 14 million pages a month at chronicle.com

The results were based on a survey conducted by ModernThink LLC, which Selingo said is a team of organizational development experts dedicated to helping colleges follow through and capitalize on feedback from employees and

Rosemary Burciaga

"I am so proud of the growth West Hills College, North District Center, Firebaugh, has experienced since 1985. I have been part of a winning team. It has been a joy watching young students become successful, building their academic foundation near home and become community leaders. It's a great institution to work for. district during the past few years, a number of major construction projects are underway. They include:

WHCC wellness center and gymnasium renovation

Over $10 million in construction is underway on the campus of West Hills College Coalinga.

The largest project is updating the gymnasium, which was built in 1960, and building a new 10,000 square foot wellness center. In addition to completely renovating the gym and locker rooms, the old weight room will become a dance studio and a new weight room is being built. Facilities for the athletic trainer and offices for coaches and instructors are included in the project.

Cobb said that several major campus infrastructure improvements are being done with the project including a major electrical upgrade that will allow power for kilns in the art studio, energy management and video security systems and an irrigation system. Contractor on the project, which is expected to take another year, is Wysong spending freeze in Oct. of 2007 that eliminated the purchase of all but critical items. The same held true during the last school year with another spending freeze early in the school year. This year's freeze came on Sept. 30.

"This means our district employees have to take a hard look at their budgets early in the year and plan well for expenses they will incur," Stoppenbrink said.

"We've been able to address the budget cuts so far without layoffs or reductions in benefits," he added, "but if things continue as we expect, that may not hold true for the future. We may be forced to look at reducing benefits and we may have to look at staff reductions."

"Our board of trustees require us to live within our budget," he added, "plus maintain a five percent reserve."

In addition to the spending freeze, Stoppenbrink said that the district has taken a close look at:

Class Scheduling

To maximize opportunities to register for a convenient class schedule, students are encouraged to register early and pay their fees on time since the number of sections of each class offered may be limited.

Students with 45 units or more are being granted priority registration permission, which should help them accomplish enrollment in the classes they need to graduate on time.

Furloughs

Employees at West Hills have accepted furloughs to help cut costs. Administrators throughout the district have accepted a two-day a month furlough that amounts to a 10 percent cut in pay. California Teachers Association (the faculty group) and CSEA members have accepted the equivalent of one-day a month furloughs that mean their pay is down five percent.

Unlike some colleges and universities that have been shut down entirely for a furlough day, West Hills has chosen to stagger furlough days to keep the doors open and student services available.

The furloughs were done instead of layoffs, Stoppenbrink said. Layoffs create chaos since an employee who is laid off may have bumping rights to a different position and that person then has bumping rights. In effect, a domino effect is created with a number of workers being displaced.

Early retirements

The district offered an early retirement plan that is expected to save $1.1 million per year. Ten people opted for the plan including the district's longest serving full-time faculty member, Eric Christenson, who had taught science for the district since 1975.

Those positions and other positions that were lost through attrition will not be filled, Stoppenbrink said, in hopes of avoiding layoffs as the district seeks to cut an additional $1.9 million from the 2010-2011 budget.

Reorganization

Succession planning is a key component in successful organizations and West Hills Community College District trustees have been considering the issue for the past couple of years. As a result of that planning, two new vice chancellor positions have been created and two key directors from the district have been named to the positions (with no pay increases).

Chancellor Frank Gornick said the goal of the reorganization, in addition to dealing with succession planning, is to provide greater service and efficiency to the colleges while conforming to the economic realities of our current budget situation. The plan requires less than $9,000 a year in budget funds.

Dr. Carole Goldsmith, who had led the district's vocational training programs, became vice chancellor of educational services and workforce development.

Pedro Avila, who first served as the district's webmaster and most recently as its institutional researcher, was named vice chancellor of institutional effectiveness and enrollment management.

Susan Whirener, who was dean of learning resources and web services, was named associate vice chancellor of educational planning.

Jana Cox, who has served most recently as the district's human resources director, will take over as the director of financial aid for West Hills College Lemoore. Her position in HR will not be filled and the responsibilities associated with it will be assumed by Stoppenbrink.

Eric Christenson

Dolores Smith, who was previously director of financial aid, will move to West Hills College Coalinga in the same role.

Jill Stearns, formerly a dean at WHCC, will become the vice president of educational services at WHCC. She was previously dean of student learning.

At West Hills College Lemoore, Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson was promoted to vice president of student services. She was previously an associate dean. ❧ colleges based on enrollment size in 15 categories. West Hills was recognized in four of those categories including overall satisfaction with benefits, compensation and benefits, health insurance and vacation/paid time off.

"This recognition is especially important," WHCCD Chancellor Frank Gornick said, "as we fulfill our vision of being 'the employer of choice for faculty and staff.'"

"This recognition will allow us to continue to attract highly qualified faculty and staff members," Gornick said. "In our mission statement, we strive to provide our students with a 'world class learning environment.' The Chronicle of Higher Education is greatly respected and their recognition will serve us well." ❧

This summer, the WHCC men's residence halls underwent a major renovation with new paint, flooring, furniture for the rooms, new windows and screens. Plans are underway to renovate the bedrooms and common areas and the women's residence halls in the future.

WHCC is one of about a dozen community colleges in the state with residence halls. That housing makes possible the international students program that draws over 100 students a year to Coalinga from throughout the world and also provides housing for students participating in the college athletic programs.

Edna L. Evans Hall, the women's residence, has space for 56 students and Vernon Gordon Hall, which houses men, has 120 spaces.

Total cost of the renovations to both residence halls will be $2.3 million.

WHCC agriculture science

When Dorothy Allen and her family donated 230 acres to West Hills College Coalinga in 2001, the stage was set for the creation of the Farm of the Future, which has become a model for precision agriculture education and college/industry partnerships. The college farm had previously been located close to the city center in Coalinga and faced challenges of urban encroachment. The new farm is 2.5 miles north of the college campus at Highway 198/33 and Gale Avenue on land that has been used for agricultural use.

For the past two years, the college has been engaged in a master planning effort that includes a master environmental impact report. A draft of that document is now complete and available for viewing on the college website: westhillscollege.com, search Farm of the Future EIR.

The master plan includes classrooms, shops, offices, labs, farm equipment buildings, maintenance buildings, rodeo facilities, parking and a large area reserved for row crops, pasture and animal facilities. Long-term plans include an indoor pavilion.

One of the first steps on the master plan is a $12.4 million project that will go to bid in January with construction anticipated to start in the spring. It will provide much of the infrastructure for the farm including water, wastewater and electrical systems, roads and shop buildings.

It will also include the outdoor arena, which will have a 34,789 square foot arena floor surrounded by 2,026 seats and 66,585 square feet of support facilities. Plans call for the arena to be lit for nighttime use and to have over 500 parking spaces for cars and trucks with trailers and recreational vehicles.

WHCC child development center expansion

West Hills Community College District operates child development centers in Coalinga, Avenal, Lemoore, Firebaugh and San Joaquin. Plans are underway to open centers in additional communities.

In Coalinga, the centers include the Helen M. Cowell Child Development Center on the campus of West Hills College Coalinga and the Coalinga

State Preschool, which recently moved to the campus after occupying facilities owned by the K-12 school district in town. Total cost of the project, which included two new portable buildings, and refinancing debt on existing structures was $1 million.

North District Center, Firebaugh

West Hills College Coalinga's North District Center in Firebaugh is undergoing stop-gap renovations to its current facility—a 50 year old bowling alley, while planning is underway for a new building that will serve the north end of West Hills Community College District.

A college facilities committee has been meeting, along with the school facilities improvement district citizen's advisory committee, and there has been near-unanimous support for constructing a new building that will house WHC classes and a new county library in Firebaugh.

At the earliest, that project would see construction in five years, so in the mean time renovations at NDC include carpet, paint, new restroom facilities, new heating and air conditioning systems and outdoor and interior lighting.

The almost 500 students who attend classes at the center are currently using portable restrooms that will be replaced with new Americans With Disabilities Act compliant restrooms.

Next on the list for NDC will be community field sports facilities that will be built in conjunction with a city park.

Total cost of the current projects is $3.9 million.

Firebaugh Green Oversight Committee

Learning centers offer opportunity for San Joaquin, Huron, Mendota, Tranquillity, Riverdale and Avenal

Transportation to classes is an issue for many current and potential WHCCD students. In response, learning centers are being planned in communities throughout the district. The centers will be centrally located in each community and will feature one or two classrooms with technology that will allow students to work near their homes and also be connected with classrooms at WHCC, WHCL or NDC.

The first of these centers, in the City of San Joaquin, is being planned in cooperation with city officials. Centers are also planned in the communities of Mendota, Tranquillity, Avenal and Riverdale.

About $400,000 is being budgeted for each facility.

WHCL multi-use sports complex

At West Hills College Lemoore, construction started in Sept. on a $20 million multi-use sports complex and infrastructure improvements that will include roads on the south side of the campus. The project is expected to take 18 months to complete. EMJ Construction is the general contractor.

Women's soccer coach Rodney Ragsdale and wrestling coach Kent Olsen at sports complex ground breaking ceremony

The project will include a 55,000 square-foot, two-story arena with 2,200 seats in a theatre style arrangement. An additional 1,000 seats can be added to the floor for large gatherings. It is about twice the size of the current college library.

This project is the third major phase of construction for the campus, which opened in January of 2002, with the library, administration building and a classroom building. Later construction included additional classroom buildings and a child development center.

Dignitaries gather for sports complex ground breaking

Future plans for the college, which served more than 3,000 students at the end of last semester, call for construction of a student center, a library expansion, two-story classroom buildings and a field sports complex.

The college sits on 107 acres of land that was donated to WHCCD by Mardell and Bob Pedersen and her parents, Lola and Lionel Semas. The Pedersens met while they were both students at West Hills College Coalinga in the 1950s.

More than 12,000 students are expected to attend WHCL when it is fully-built out in 2020.

WHC COALINGA STUDENT WINS STATEWIDE PHOTO CONTEST

Pedro Trevino likes taking pictures that stir emotions and send a message. Just such a picture won the West Hills College Coalinga student first place in a statewide photo contest sponsored by the Foundation for California Community Colleges.

In his image of a single mother with a child in her lap balancing home and school, Pedro reflects the challenges many community college students face.

"This is truly inspirational to see that a single mother can experience drastic change and achieve her goals so that she may set a positive example and provide for her children in the future," he said.

The young single mother in the picture is his sister, Maria G. Trevino, who is a student at West Hills College Lemoore. Her daughter, Yazmin

Belk, was three when the photo was taken late one night while Maria was studying. Maria is the mother of three children—all under age five.

Pedro, who left the Navy after five years in aviation administration, starting taking business classes at West Hills but has switched to liberal arts with an interest in psychology. Originally from Texas, he lives with Maria and her children. He helps care for the children, who also take advantage of the child development center at West Hills College Lemoore.

The photo was shot with an eight megapixel Canon Rebel.

In addition to the $500 grand prize in the contest, Pedro won an Adobe Creative Suite Design

Premium package, courtesy of Adobe. ☺

Accreditation and the ACCJC/WASC

The Purposes of Accreditation are:

- To provide assurance to the public that education provided by institutions meets acceptable levels of quality
- To promote continuous institutional improvement
- To maintain the high quality of higher educational institutions in the region/nation

ACCJC encourages and supports institutional development through:

- Establishing standards of quality based upon excellent practices in higher education
- Evaluating institutions with these standards using a three-part process that entails
 - Institutional Self Study
 - Peer Review
 - Commission Review

ACCJC Bylaws, Accreditation Reference Handbook, p. 136

Commission Actions on Institutions

- The Commission determines the accredited status of a member institution.
- The Commission communicates the accreditation decision to the institution.
- The Commission communicates the accreditation decision to the public.
- The Commission requires the institution to make all reports available to students and the public.

The Standards of Accreditation

Standards of Accreditation:

Are necessary conditions for high - quality education

Reflect excellent practices in higher education

Apply to diverse institutions

Standards are not:

- Inclusive of every excellent practice in higher education
- Representative of state or system regulations or requirements or used to enforce those regulations or requirements
- Meant to represent the “standards” of other groups that purport to establish best practice or quality

The ACCJC Standards

Standard I: Institutional Mission and Effectiveness

Standard II: Student Learning Programs and Services

Standard III: Resources

Standard IV: Leadership and Governance

Standard I: Institutional Mission and Effectiveness

A. Mission – The institution:

Defines its purpose

Defines its intended population

Defines its commitment to student learning

Continued

B. Improving Institutional Effectiveness – The institution:

Provides evidence it collects and uses student achievement and student learning outcomes data

Provides evidence it conducts program review and other ongoing, systematic evaluation

Provides evidence it uses systematic assessment and planning to improve educational effectiveness and institutional quality

Standard Program

A. Instruction

Offers high quality instruction wherever and whenever possible

Identifies student needs and evaluates how to meet them

Assesses student learning and progress

Assesses program effectiveness

Assures quality of instruction in all programs

B. Student Support Services – The institution:

Researches and identifies the learning support needs of its students

Provides appropriate, comprehensive learning support services to its students regardless of location or delivery method

Provides precise and accurate information about the institution to students and the public

Continued

B. Student Support Services;

Assesses the quality of those services by evaluating student achievement and student learning outcomes as appropriate

Uses the results of evaluation to plan and implement improvements to student support services

C. Library and Learning Support Services –

The institution:

Offers sufficient services to support the quality of its instructional programs

Includes library, tutoring, technology and other learning support services

Trains students and staff to use these services

Assesses services systematically using SLOs as appropriate

Assures quality and improvement of services

Standard III: Resources

A. Human resources – The institution:

Employs qualified personnel

Evaluates all personnel

Ensures professional development of personnel

Assesses its performance in employment equity and diversity

Uses human resources to support student learning

Integrates human resource planning with institutional planning (driven by educational planning)

B. Physical Resources – The institution:

- Provides safe and sufficient facilities and equipment
- Evaluates the quality of its physical resources on a regular basis
- Ensures physical resources support student learning
- Integrates physical resource planning with institutional planning (driven by educational planning)

C. Technology Resources – The institution:

- Ensures its technology supports facilities, research and college-wide communication
- Provides training to students and personnel in the use of technology
- Ensures that technology supports student learning programs and services
- Integrates technology planning with institutional planning (driven by educational planning)

D. Financial Resources – The institution:

Ensures fiscal stability and integrity

Plans for short-term and long-term financial needs

Ensures that financial resources are sufficient to support student learning programs and services and to improve institutional effectiveness

Integrates financial planning with institutional planning (driven by educational planning)

Standard IV: Leadership and Governance

A. Decision-Making Roles and Processes – The institution:

Uses ethical and effective leadership that enables it to identify values, set and achieve goals, learn, and improve

Provides for staff, faculty, administrator, and student involvement in governance

Establishes and evaluates the effectiveness of governance structures and processes

Ensures that governance supports student learning and improves institutional effectiveness

B. Board and Administrative Organization – The institution:

Has an independent governing board that sets policy, assures quality and integrity of student learning programs and services and financial stability

Has a chief administrator that provides leadership for institutional quality and improvement

Has clearly defined and effective lines of authority and responsibility between colleges and the district/system in a multi-college system. (functional map)

Ensures that board and administrative organization supports student learning and improves institutional effectiveness

The Requirements for Evidence in the Self Study

Data in the Self Study should be:
(see Guide to Evaluating Institutions for samples)

- Qualitative or quantitative presented in data tables, charts and graphs or documentary form with analyses
- Longitudinal, where appropriate, with analyses

Continued

Data about the institution's service area
(related to mission) should include:

- labor market information
- demographic information
- socio-economic information

Continued

Data about incoming students should include:

- information about student educational goals (programs)
- information about student educational goals (courses, certificates, degrees, transfer, jobs, etc.)
- information about student readiness for college/needs for remedial instruction

Continued

Data about enrolled students should include:

(See Guide to Evaluating Institutions pp 10-11)

- PT/FT enrollments
- student demographics
- student educational goals (courses, certificates, transfer, degrees, jobs, etc.)
- student enrollment across the range of instructional programs

Continued

Data about enrolled students must include Student Achievement:

- course completion data
- retention term to term
- progression to next course/level
- program completion
- degree/certificate completion
- transfer rates to four-year institutions
- scores on licensure exams
- job placement/post training

Data on Student Achievement can also include:

- average grades awarded
- alumni survey responses
- employer survey results
- course outlines containing evaluation methods for course objectives
- SCANS skills assessment results
- Common course examination results
- English, math, and ESL placement results

Data on Program Review should include:

- institutional program review data including longitudinal data
- course outlines/syllabi showing intended learning outcomes and evaluation methods
- catalogues showing program goals and learning outcomes
- budgets showing adequate resources
- policies on curricular review
- evidence of regular course review and improvement (program review)

Data on Student Learning Outcomes should include:

- catalogue and institutional descriptions of programs with related SLOs
- course outlines/syllabi with stated SLOs
- portfolios, productions, and samples of student work
- grading rubrics where they exist
- summary data on SLO attainment
- evidence that SLO data is used for institutional self-evaluation, planning, and improvement of teaching and learning

Data on Student Services should include:

- student services program reviews
- student satisfaction or follow-up surveys
- records of student use of services
- student services planning documents
- catalogue, handbook, web-page descriptions of student services
- policies on academic progress, honesty, codes of conduct, grievance and complaint procedures
- availability of services (off-campus and DL)

In using evidence, the college should:

- Gather it routinely and systematically
- Analyze and reflect upon it
- Publish it and share it widely within the college (research reports, fact books)
- Use it to plan and implement program improvements
- Use it to plan and implement institutional improvements

Finding Evidence: An Exercise

Themes in the Standards

Six themes integrate the standards:

See Self Study Manual pp 5-6

- Dialogue
- Student Learning Outcomes
- Institutional Commitments
- Evaluation, Planning, and Improvement
- Organization
- Institutional Integrity

Using the Themes in the Self Study Report

➤ Themes can be used to conduct and present a summative evaluation of institutional quality

Institutions are advised to use Themes to develop an executive summary at the beginning or end of the Self Study Report, or

At beginning of the report, Themes can be used as a tool to summarize the state of the college as assessed by self study (“Where are we now”); at end of the report, use Themes to summarize college directions for the future (“Where we are going”).

Organizing the College Community for Self Study

In order to achieve an accurate Self Study Report institutions should seek Broad participation

from:

- Faculty
- Administrators
- Support Staff
- Students

Leadership from:

- Faculty
- Support Staff
- IR Staff
- Administrators
- CEO/College President
- Board
- IT Staff

The college should establish structures and processes for the self study that ensure:

The college evaluates itself against each standard and eligibility requirement

The college's evaluation is holistic, integrated, and honest

The self study report uses and is integrated with ongoing research, evaluation and planning

The self study report leads to institution-wide reflection about quality and student learning

Continued

The college should establish structures and processes for the self study that ensure:

The report summarizes and references evidence to support its analyses

The report has coherence and a single voice

The report is a meaningful document for the college, the team, and the Commission

Rubric for Evaluating Institutional Effectiveness

This rubric measures the following characteristics of institutional effectiveness and evaluates each to determine the level of institutional implementation (Awareness, Development, Proficiency, or Sustainable Continuous Quality Improvement).

Program Review
Planning
Student Learning Outcomes

Using the Rubric for Evaluating Institutional Effectiveness

- The Rubric provides common language to describe a college's status vis-à-vis full adherence to the standards.
- The Rubric provides a framework for understanding the actions institutions must take to achieve full compliance with standards.
- The sample behaviors at each level are not meant to replace the standards; rather, they are examples of performance that indicate the stages of implementation of the standards.

Using the Rubric... Continued

- The Commission expects that institutions be at Sustainable Continuous Quality Improvement level for program review and planning.
- The Commission expects institutions to currently be at the Development level for SLOs.
- The Commission expects that institutions achieve the Sustainable Continuous Quality Improvement level for SLOs by 2012.

Growth

Continued

■ If the institution discovers that it has recently grown its DE program, it should verify that the Commission's Substantive Change process was followed or make plans to submit a proposal immediately.

2. Increasing Expectations

Institutional processes that impact student access and completion of on line programs:

- admissions, orientation, registration, advising, financial aid
- course delivery, grade integrity, tutoring services, communication with students
- graduation applications, transcript requests, student survey collection and analysis

3. Student Success Data

- Class size
- Student retention and withdrawal rates/data
- Student course completion rates/data
- On-line pass rate compared with seat-time pass rate
- Analysis of above data
- Use of student data for improvement

4. Quality Assurances

- Academic integrity: course content between online and seat-time courses
- Faculty online teaching capability
- Student capability for online delivery
- Faculty and student support services
- Faculty and student learning assessment systems
- Integration with institutional mission

Twenty percent of respondents indicated that the members of their organization do not understand how the shared governance process works. Sixteen percent of respondents indicated that the members of their organization are not kept informed about the work and accomplishments of the shared governance process.

Are there areas of the shared governance process that can be made more productive or effective? Explain

1. To make more easily available the minutes or at least ideas and plans available for all to view so we can comment, question, offer suggestions of the issues at hand.
2. I am personally not very familiar with "shared governance" under the new administration. I know that, under the old administration, shared governance existed only because it had to on paper and no one's opinions really mattered except the administration's. It seems to have improved, or at least the communication between it and those not attending the meetings, has improved.
3. Academic Senate in Coalinga does not post any information to the College web site. Curriculum Committees do not post any information to the College web sites.
4. Student participation is badly needed on all share governance committees.
5. I participate on one committee that does not post minutes or seem to have clear direction. I would like to see better accountability that this occur. I often feel that important information is not disseminated clearly at this committee nor are expectations or deadlines explicitly or clearly explained. As a result of my frustration, I have not attended as regularly as I should (shame on me.)
6. While this is likely true for every large organization, shared governance process can be more productive if the individuals involved were to learn their duties and become better at the principle of 'return and report'.
7. NO
8. Too elitist and not transparent enough.
9. Follow the guidelines and procedures that are in place, stick to defined roles, and put students first.

Do you have any comments regarding the policies mentioned above?

1. I am not familiar with this policies as described (perhaps a link to the description would be helpful)
2. James, I am a new faculty member and do not have a clear understanding of what Shared Governance means. So, I am unable to answer these questions. I am working to find out how this applies to the college and myself. Sorry, Lataria
3. Don't know what happens with DCSL
4. I am going to have to research them further. I have worked under the assumption that they drive the business and models of PGC and DCSL, but will now go back and verify this.
5. I know that the BP are public information on the website. I have actually looked up BP 6225 and 3250. To be perfectly honest, I do not understand BP 6225 and I have not taken the time to familiarize myself with BP 2510.
6. Not real familiar with some of the policies. Explanation helped some.
7. NO
8. How can we be advised of the policies mentioned and how the Governance committee makes their decisions and considerations?

Are there areas of the shared governance process that can be made more productive or effective? Explain

1. more student participation and involvement would be a plus.
2. no
3. n/a
4. Student Government is new in the sense of its role in leading the students but has done its part to getting on track. It is satisfied with the effort that the various boards and committees go through in seeking the students' opinions.
5. N/A
6. honestly i know nothing of the governance process that why i put no opinion.
7. I'm personally part of an organization under SGA. I personally think things aren't communicated as much as they should be just in the clubs itself. As for other committees and organizations on campus, other than small student organizations, I don't feel fully informed.
8. THANK YOU FOR THE SURVEY
9. none.
10. It just needs to more specific I need to understand the process more better.
11. Yes, actually posting meeting times and places as I have never heard of any of this and have no clue as to how decisions are made at WHCL. It is difficult to comment on anything when I know nothing of the organizations. I am guessing that unless one has a strong personal interest and seeks out these organizations, they will be left in the dark.
12. NONE
13. What is the shared governance process???
14. I have never been involved in the shared governance process. So I really have no opinion on it at all.
15. We need communication at West Hills. There seem to be a failure to communicate with students. Faculty really don't communicate with each other. The Student need a student area were they could share idea's.
16. SGA is growing and will make sure that shared governance is working effectively and appropriately. It will prove that it has been thus far in weeks to come.

Do you have any comments regarding the policies mentioned above?

1. more involvement and participation from the students may prove to be very helpful.
2. no
3. no
4. where do i find all this information at?
5. I answered neutral because I am very unfamiliar with them and have not been presented with them at all...
6. Sorry I'm not involved in these areas to be qualified to comment on them. I think that WHC is an excellent institution with an outstanding staff.
7. none.
8. I know nothing of them, never heard of them.
9. NONE
10. Again, I have no idea what the Board Policies are.
11. I have no clue as to what this survey is about. I would have answered the questions if I knew what the survey was. That is why my answers are blank.
12. West Hills has come along way and still growing. I thank God for West Hill, it is a wonderful college with excellent teachers. Keep up the Good work West Hills. We have the best President for our college. I just hope the student's get some place we could socialize, or talk. Brenda Dodd

Board Policy 2431 Delineation of Authority to District Chancellor and College Presidents

An essential element in the relationship between the Chancellor and Presidents is a mutual understanding of their roles and responsibilities. The job descriptions of the District Chancellor and College President clarify and delineate the role of each in the process of decision making which directly affects college operations.

District Chancellor

As Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the district, the Chancellor is responsible to the Governing Board for the administration of the district in accordance with the provisions of the California Education Code and the policies of the district.

The Chancellor's powers and duties shall be initiatory and executory. The Chancellor shall act both as a professional advisor to the Board in the formulation of policies for governing the district and as chief executor of the policies adopted by the Board. All powers and duties delegated to the Chancellor are to be executed in accordance with the policies adopted by the Board, and all acts performed by the Chancellor which are classed in law as discretionary are subject to review and to final approval by the Board unless the Board specifically authorizes such acts to be executed in a particular manner.

College Presidents

Authority flows from the Governing Board through the Chancellor to the College Presidents. Each College President is responsible for carrying out the district policies. Each College President's administrative organization shall be the established authority on campus. The College President is the final authority at the college level.

Administrative Procedure 2431 Delineation of Authority to District Chancellor and College Presidents

The district is represented by the Chancellor and each college is represented by a President. Working in partnership with the colleges and District governance processes, the Chancellor and the Presidents define policy standards for college operation which are recommended to the Board by the Chancellor for adoption.

It is the role and responsibility of the President to provide leadership of campus level discussion and the shared governance process. The President leads decision making at the college level which directly affects the operation of the college. It is the responsibility of the President to establish and maintain a climate which encourages open discussion and communication across all levels on the campus. It is further the responsibility of the President to promptly communicate college and District decisions to all staff.

Chancellor Full Time Vacancy

In the case of a full time Chancellor vacancy, the Board shall establish a search process to fill the vacancy. The process shall be fair and open and comply with relevant regulations. Specifically, the search process will include open recruitment that is at least statewide, will at a minimum include seeking qualified applicants in the California Community Colleges Equal Employment Opportunity Registry, and will include posting job announcements with the California Community Colleges Equal Employment Opportunity Registry.

Board Policy 2430 Delegation of Authority to Chancellor

Reference: Education Code Sections 70902(d), 72400; Accreditation Standard IV.B.1.j, IV.B.2

The Board delegates to the Chancellor the executive responsibility for administering the policies adopted by the Board and executing all decisions of the Board requiring administrative action.

The Chancellor may delegate any powers and duties entrusted to him or her by the Board, including the administration of colleges and centers, but will be specifically responsible to the Board for the execution of such delegated powers and duties.

The Chancellor is empowered to reasonably interpret board policy. In situations where there is no board policy direction, the Chancellor shall have the power to act, but such decisions shall be subject to review by the Board. It is the duty of the Chancellor to inform the Board of such action and to recommend written board policy if one is required.

The Chancellor is expected to perform the duties contained in the Chancellor's job description and fulfill other responsibilities as may be determined in annual goal-setting or evaluation sessions. The job description and goals and objectives for performance shall be developed by the Board in consultation with the Chancellor.

The Chancellor shall ensure that all relevant laws and regulations are complied with, and that required reports are submitted in a timely fashion.

The Chancellor shall make available any information or give any report requested by the Board as a whole. Individual trustee requests for information shall be met if, in the opinion of the Chancellor after consultation with the Board President, they are not unduly burdensome or disruptive to District operations. Information provided to any trustee shall be provided to all trustees.

The Chancellor shall act as the professional advisor to the Board in policy formation.

Chancellor Selection Process

The Board may appoint a search consultant firm to assist the recruitment selection process. The Board should be involved in the search process at every step. The major events that require Board action/involvement include: initial planning meeting (Board members and advisers), review and adopt brochure; review and approve criteria for screening committee; determine which candidates to interview; conduct initial and final interviews; and select the Chancellor.

Suggested Responsibilities of the Board

- All Board members should be present at all meetings regarding the selection.
- At least one or two members of the Board spend one or more days in the community of the prospective candidate(s) to obtain satisfactory assurance of the candidate's acceptability.
- Conduct interviews and other business related to the search in progress.
- Legal counsel to develop or view any agreement between the Board and the prospective Chancellor.

Suggested Responsibilities of a Consultant or Adviser

- Serve as facilitator and advise the Board throughout each step of the process.
- Obtain input from community, staff, and Board members.
- Prepare and distribute the brochure/application (with Board approval).
- Advertise and publicize the vacancy, and recruit candidates.
- Maintain all applicant files.
- Communicate with applicants regarding process and status of their files.
- Advise and assist the paper screening committee (through extensive reference checks) in the evaluation and validation of candidates in preparation for presentation to the Board of Education.
- Assist the Board with contract clauses for negotiating an initial contract with the Chancellor.

Developing Selection Criteria

Community and staff members' involvement shall be considered in the establishment of a leadership profile for the new Chancellor. The following methods represent a non-exhaustive approach which may be utilized to obtain input from others regarding what they believe it would take for the new Chancellor to be a "fit" in their college community.

- Individual interview appointments
- Meetings with representative groups
- Community forums

Processes Used to Involve Various Segments of the College Community

The Board, the community, and the staff will be consulted to participate in the development of criteria for the selection of the new Chancellor.

Resources Used for Recruiting Candidates

Networks across the state and the nation, requesting assistance in recruiting qualified candidates for the Chancellor position may be used.

Advertising and Search Resources to Utilize in This Search

Advertisements are placed in several publications, including electronic, throughout California and nationwide, depending on the desires of the Board.

Processes Used for Paper Screening, Interviewing, Verification of Education and Experience, and Reference Checking/Site Visitation

The Board shall select individuals to serve as paper screeners. It is important that they meet with the Board to discuss first-hand the qualities it is seeking. They will establish a matrix of these criteria for inter-rater reliability and to ensure each screener is looking for and reporting back information consistently. Each screener will rate each application independently.

The screeners will verify education and experience, and will conduct extensive reference checks. They will also speak to each candidate on whom they conduct reference checks to make sure the candidate knows the screener will be checking with references other than those listed in the applications materials.

The screeners and the advisers will review the ratings to determine those top candidates who most closely fit the leadership profile. This information will be presented to the Board in closed session, at a special meeting. The Board will have had time to previously preview each applicant before the screening committee presents its recommendations. The Board may ask questions about any of the candidates, and is not limited to those candidates the screening committee presents. At the conclusion of the presentation of information from the screening committee, the Board will select the candidates for the initial interviews.

Once the Board has chosen candidates to interview, the advisers will schedule the interviews and be present on-site to facilitate the interview process. The Board shall develop interview questions, and will discuss some of the other options to exercise in addition to the interview, if so desired.

A second-level interview with finalists, conducted by the Board is recommended as well as a visit to the community and site of the top candidate.

The Board shall select the candidate it deems is in the best interests of the College District.

Administrative Procedure 2715 Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice

Reference: Accreditation Standard IV.B.1.a, e, and h

The Board of Trustees shall periodically review the Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice policy to be sure it continues to be an effective guide for Board behavior. The Board shall foster awareness of ethical expectation by:

- Ensuring that all trustees are aware of the Board's ethical expectation by providing the policy to all trustees and having it available at Board meetings.
- Including a review of the Code of Ethics when orienting new trustees.
- Using the standards in the Code of Ethics as criteria in the Board self-evaluation process.
- Identifying consequences for violations of the code of ethics.

Types of Violations

There are three major categories of laws that address ethical behavior by public officials:

- Financial Interests – Conflicts of interest laws prohibit trustees from financially benefiting from Board decisions, or acting on matters that benefit family members.
- Fair and Open Decision-Making – California's open and public meetings laws (the Brown Act) require that the public's business be done in public. Examples of violations include making decisions in private or that should be made in public meetings, discussing items that have not been noticed to the public, and violating provisions that closed session information shall be kept confidential.
- Use of Public Funds – It is felony to misuse public funds. Examples include claiming expenses that were not incurred and using college resources for personal or political purposes.

Violating the Board's Code of Ethics

In some cases, behaviors may violate the Board's code of ethics or standards of practice, but do not violate the law. Examples of violations include:

- Attacking other trustees or the Board President in public
- Publicly advocating against Board decisions after they are made
- Sabotaging the work of the Board
- Ongoing and substantial attempts by trustees to administer, rather than govern the district, which violates the separation of CEO and Board roles.
 - Ignoring the local decision-making process and communication protocols by working directly with staff members
 - Telling college staff whom they should hire
 - Attempting to direct the day-to-day duties of staff members

Administrative Procedure 2715
Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice

- Advocating a single interest instead of the common public good
 - Ignoring the broad range of public needs in community college education
 - Appearing to be agents of a union, a specific community group, or a business interest

Actual or perceived violations of the law must be dealt with expeditiously and legal advice should be sought. A study session or workshop may be appropriate for the entire Board if it appears that trustees may be unaware of the law.

Consequences of Violations

The Chancellor and Board President are authorized to consult with legal counsel when they become aware of or are informed about actual or perceived violations of pertinent laws and regulations including, but not limited to, conflict of interest, open and public meetings, confidentiality of closed session information, and use of public resources. Violations of law may be referred to the District Attorney or Attorney General as provided for in law.

Violations of the Board's code of ethics policy will be addressed by the Board President who will first discuss the violation with the trustee to reach a resolution. If resolution is not achieved and further action is deemed necessary, the Board President may appoint an ad hoc committee to examine the matter and recommend further courses of action to the Board. Sanctions will be determined by the Board officers [or committee] and may include a recommendation to the Board to censure of the trustee. If the Board President is perceived to have violated the code, the Vice President of the Board is authorized to pursue resolution.

Board Policy 2710 Conflict of Interest

Reference: Government Code Sections 1090, et seq.; 1126; 87200, et seq.;
Title 2, Sections 18730 et seq.

Board members shall not be financially interested in any contract made by the Board of Trustees or in any contract they make or participate in making in their capacity as Board members.

A Board member shall not engage in any employment or activity that is inconsistent with, incompatible with, in conflict with or inimical to his or her duties as an officer of the District. A Board member shall not simultaneously hold two public offices that are incompatible.

Upon leaving the Board, former members shall not, for a period of one year, act as an attorney, agent or otherwise represent for compensation others appearing before the board.

The Chancellor shall establish administrative procedures to provide for disclosure of assets of income of Board members who may be affected by their official actions, and prevent members from making or participating in the making of Board decisions which may foreseeably have a material effect on their financial interest.

Board members shall file statements of economic interest with the filing officer identified by the administrative procedures.

Compliance with conflict of interest rules requires forethought and careful attention. Board members are encouraged to seek counsel from the District's legal advisor in every case where any question arises.

Mission and Vision

Mission

The mission of the West Hills Community College District is enhancing student learning and enriching the lives of the populations we serve by:

- Ensuring the vitality of its institutions;
- Encouraging the vision of strong leaders able to see and interpret the present and future needs of students and communities;
- Supporting the colleges in the provision of world class learning environments;
- Providing for appropriate allocation and management of human, fiscal and capital resources;
- Acting as a catalyst for collaboration with outside organizations and agencies; and
- Sharing the story by marketing a positive image.

Vision

West Hills Community College District, a trusted steward, actively engages, encourages, enriches and empowers students, faculty, staff and the communities it serves to reach their full potential (academically, socially and economically) as evidenced by:

- Its status as the preferred choice of students, and the employer of choice for faculty and staff;
- The highest percentage of students completing courses;
- Its recognized excellence; and
- The generally ascribed accolade, "heartbeat of the community."

Goals

1. Achieve or Exceed Funded FTES growth targets
2. Will focus marketing efforts on district-wide stories.
3. Will annually increase community participation rates.
4. Will annually improve completion, graduation, and transfer rates.
5. Will become the preferred choice of students through ongoing and active recruitment.

Title 5, Section 51000, 51022(a), 55130, 55150*

The programs and curricula of the District shall be of high quality, relevant to community and student needs, and evaluated regularly to ensure quality and currency. To that end, the Chancellor shall establish procedures for the development and review of all curricular offerings, including their establishment, modification or discontinuance.

Furthermore, these procedures shall include:

- appropriate involvement of the faculty and Academic Senate in all processes;
- regular review and justification of programs and course descriptions;
- opportunities for training for persons involved in aspects of curriculum development.

All new courses, programs and program deletions shall be recommended by the Curriculum Committee to the Chief Instructional Officer who shall make the recommendation to the College President. The College President shall then submit a recommendation(s) to the Chancellor for consideration by the Board of Trustees.

All new programs shall be submitted to the Office of the Chancellor for the California Community Colleges for approval as required.

Individual degree-applicable credit courses offered as part of a permitted educational program shall be approved by the Board. Non degree-applicable credit and degree-applicable courses that are not part of an existing approved program must satisfy the conditions authorized by Title V regulations and shall be approved by the Board.

Board Policy 6200 Budget Preparation

Reference: Education Code Section 70902(b)(5); Title 5, 58300 et seq.

Each year, the Vice Chancellor of Business Services shall present to the Board a budget prepared in accordance with Title 5 and the California Community Colleges Budget and Accounting Manual. The schedule for presentation and review of budget proposals shall comply with state laws and regulations, and provide adequate time for Board study.

Utilizing the budget process for resource allocation, along with the budget preparation process, the colleges shall submit an annual budget to the Vice Chancellor of Business Services. Each college shall develop a budget based on its college procedures and college governance process.

Budget development shall meet the following criteria:

- The annual budget shall support the master and educational plans (including the facilities, technology and strategic plans) of the District and colleges.
- Assumptions upon which the budget is based are presented to the Board for review.
- Due dates for budget development are identified in the budget preparation procedure (Administrative Procedure 6200) which includes dates for presentation of the tentative budget, required public hearing(s), Board study session(s), and approval of the final budget. At the public hearings, interested persons may appear and address the Board regarding the proposed budget or any item in the proposed budget.
- Unrestricted general reserves shall be at least/greater than 5%. (California Community Colleges System Office Memorandum of October 25, 2005)
- Changes in the assumptions upon which the budget was based shall be reported to the Board in a timely manner.
- Budget projections address long term goals and commitments.

She also introduced the following guests: Captain James Knapp, Commanding Officer at NAS Lemoore, and Mr. Roman Benitez, Community Plans & Liaison Officer at NAS Lemoore.

Public Comments

There were no public comments made at this time.

REPORTS FROM ORGANIZATIONS / COLLEGES / DISTRICT OFFICE

Academic Senate Report – Mr. Kurt Sterling, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Lemoore, thanked the Board of Trustees for being at West Hills College Lemoore. He reported that the Senate has been meeting and all committee seats have been filled. He will be attending the Central Valley Higher Education Consortium (CVHEC) conference in Yosemite in October. Mr. Sterling reported that the Senate is currently reviewing all of the policies and procedures that have been sent to them and will soon be providing input.

In the absence of Ms. Anita Bart, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Coalinga, Ms. Cindy Hauki reported that all committee assignments have been made and approved and the academic freedom policy has been sent to all faculty for review.

WHCFA Report – Ms. Marty Ennes, WHCFA President, reported that the faculty association has been busy. A meeting was held last week with Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink and Ms. Tammy Weatherman concerning ongoing issues with regard to payroll. They hope for resolution soon. Ms. Ennes reported that the faculty association was also able to work with district administration on replacing the information in evaluations as a result of the grievance filed. They will continue negotiating the grievance. Ms. Ennes reported that the faculty association was fortunate to be able to bring Ms. Mary Ann Reynolds and Mr. Alan Frey to the campuses earlier this month for grievance training. The training was extremely productive. Ms. Ennes reported that she, Ms. Jacqui Shehorn, and Ms. Tiffani McGee will be attending the upcoming CCA conference in Burlingame. She also briefly commented on student involvement at the recent forensics tournament at West Hills College Lemoore.

CSEA Report – Mr. John Ieronimo, CSEA President, reported that CSEA has a meeting scheduled for October 6. They are also in the process of negotiations.

Student Trustee Report – Mr. Ryan Cardoza, Student Trustee, reported on campus activities at West Hills College Coalinga including the purchase of a mascot by the President's Office for homecoming week and basketball games; blood drive; spirit week; ASB goals retreat; creating more clubs and increasing student participation on the campus. At West Hills College Lemoore, activities include a recent successful club rush; car wash; and a student town hall to be facilitated by AGS.

West Hills College Coalinga and North District Center, Firebaugh – Dr. Willard Lewallen, President, thanked Student Trustee Cardoza for supporting the North District Center and attending the recent recognition event. Dr. Lewallen commented on the recent ASB planning retreat and stated that the main goal was for the students to develop some goals. He passed around thank you notes and student information for the Board to review. Dr. Lewallen also displayed the resolution received by the North District Center, Firebaugh in honor of their recent recognition as one of America's Top 50 Best Community Colleges.

West Hills College Lemoore – Mr. Don Warkentin, President, thanked the Board of Trustees for meeting at West Hills College Lemoore. He reported that a tour of the Multi Use Sports Complex was provided to Board members earlier in the day and the facility should be up and running in March.

Mr. Warkentin introduced Ms. Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson, Vice President of Student Services. Ms. Dorsey-Robinson provided a presentation on student services at West Hills College Lemoore. She discussed the mission of student services and outlined the tasks that have been identified and the accomplishments and progress to date.

Chancellor's Report – Dr. Frank Gornick, Chancellor, thanked Mr. Warkentin and the West Hills College Lemoore staff for hosting the Board of Trustees at their campus. Dr. Gornick discussed the district's strategic plan and ideas with regard to high school student outreach. He stated that this matter will continue to be an important topic and will be an ongoing process.

Closing the Gap Project Update – Dr. Gornick reported that he has secured the services of Ms. Elaine Cash as a consultant to work with our staff and high school district staff to address the issues of outreach. Ms. Cash is a retired superintendent from Riverdale Unified School District. This is a project that is moving along and updates will continue to be provided to the Board.

Related to this topic is the CVHEC planning summit scheduled to be held in October. The planning summit is predicated on recent legislation passed and signed unanimously by the Senate and Assembly (Padilla SB 1440) which guarantees community college students, with 60 units as a core, junior standing at a university. He stated that there is much excitement about this activity and he looks forward to continuing to provide updates.

Dr. Gornick reported that he and Mr. Pedro Avila recently conducted a workshop on integrated planning for the State Center Community College District. It was well received and it is gratifying to step back and take a look at where we are. It is encouraging to see how much progress we have made as a district.

Dr. Gornick reported that he recently attended the Datatel Fall Executive Forum with Trustee Henry and Mr. Avila. He stated that it is nice to see what we can get out of the product for our staff and students. He also recently attended a meeting with DeVry which was beneficial. They are excited that we have the infrastructure for distance education and we are looking forward to the possibilities of partnering with them.

Athletics Philosophy and Program Review – Dr. Gornick asked Mr. Avila to address the issue of program review as it relates to athletics. Mr. Avila stated that he wants to conduct a program review for every sport and thinks it would be best to take a look at each program and each sport individually. Dr. Gornick stated that this would be consistent with other program reviews that take place. Trustee Levinson stated that the bottom line is accountability. President McKean questioned if there is a way we could get data from other community colleges for comparison or benchmark purposes. Dr. Gornick stated that we will look at success rates and transfer rates. Discussion took place concerning performance and participation.

SFID Series B Analysis – Dr. Gornick asked Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink to provide a report on the SFID Series B bonds. With regard to SFID 1 (Northern Area), Mr. Stoppenbrink reported that we issued $3.84 million in 2009. The assessed value growth was 7.91% during 2009-2010. With regard to SFID 2 (Coalinga Area), we issued $2.99 million in 2009. The assessed value declined during 2009-2010. We currently have an outstanding BAN (Bond Anticipation Note) of $4.5 million which is due and payable in 2012. With regard to SFID 3 (Lemoore Area), we issued $5.99 million in 2009. The assessed value growth was 4.16% during 2009-2010. Mr. Stoppenbrink summarized the recommendations as follows: SFID 1 – Hold until the state bonds pass to fund the new facility; SFID 2 – Spend BAN funds and issue bond in 2012 to pay back the BAN; SFID 3 – Issue Series B for $9.3 or $14.1 million. The timeline would include a resolution for consideration at the November 2010 Board meeting. The S & P rating presentation would occur in January 2011. The pricing of the bonds would occur in February 2011 and close in March 2011. The sale costs and results would be disclosed at the April 2011 Board meeting. Further brief discussion took place regarding bonds.

CONSENT AGENDA

The following consent agenda items were approved on a motion by Trustee Ivans, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously:

CA-12 Minutes – The minutes of the August 24, 2010 Board of Trustees meeting were approved as submitted.

CA-13 Warrants – The warrants were approved as submitted.

CA-14 Personnel Transactions – The list of personnel transactions was approved as submitted.

CHANCELLOR’S OFFICE

CO-8 Presentation by Lemoore Naval Air Station – Dr. Gornick introduced Captain James Knapp, Commanding Officer at NAS Lemoore, and Mr. Roman Benitez, Community Plans & Liaison Officer at NAS Lemoore. Captain Knapp provided an overview of the Lemoore Naval Air Station including its vision and mission statements, size, and flight operations. He also discussed the economic impact assessment and its impact on Kings and Fresno Counties.

Captain Knapp commented on encroachment which is primarily any non-Navy action planned or executed which inhibits, curtails, or possesses the potential to impede the performance of Navy activities. The concerns with regard to encroachments include population growth and unmanaged urban sprawl.

Captain Knapp provided information on the Joint Land Use Study (JLUS), stating that it is funded by the Department of Defense, Office of Economic Adjustment. It has two objectives: 1) To encourage collaborative planning between military installations and local jurisdictions so that future community land uses and the operational missions of the installation are compatible; and 2) To develop strategies for reducing the impact of existing community and military activities on each other. The partners in the JLUS are Kings County, Fresno County, the City of Lemoore, and NAS Lemoore. The contract is administered by the Kings County Association of Governments and input is received from stakeholders and working groups. At the end of the study, the stakeholders will acquire ownership of the study and adopt/implement recommendations. Funding is available through the Office of Economic Adjustments to assist in implementing the recommendations.

With regard to AICUZ (the Air Installation Compatible Use Zone program), Captain Knapp explained that it is an active local command effort to work with local, state, regional, other federal agencies, and community leaders to encourage compatible development of land adjacent to military airfields. The AICUZ program recommends land uses that will be compatible with noise levels, accident potential and obstruction clearance criteria associated with military airfield operations.

The objectives are to recommend compatible land use development and zoning; protect operational capability and the Navy's capital investment; protect public health and safety; and minimize noise and safety impacts.

Captain Knapp reported that NAS Lemoore is seeking partners to enact Readiness and Environmental Protection Initiative (REPI) conservation measures.

Dr. Gornick commented on the planning for the West Hills College Lemoore campus and the relationship and discussions with NAS Lemoore. Discussion took place regarding growth and flight patterns. Captain Knapp referred to the Joint Land Use Study.

CO-9 Resolution - Child Care - The following resolution in the matter of child care was adopted on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Oxborrow, and carried unanimously:

- Infant Toddler Resource Grant No. CCAP-0013-6213-00-0

FISCAL SERVICES

FS-13 Fiscal Services Report - Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, provided the fiscal services report. He stated that we are 16.7% through the fiscal year. General fund revenues are at 14.8% and general fund expenditures are at 13.1%.

FS-14 2012-2016 Five Year Construction Plan - Mr. Kevin Cobb, district architect, provided a presentation on the five year construction plan. He explained that there are three projects at West Hills College Coalinga that are not yet funded. Those projects include Initial Buildings Modernization, Phase 2; SAM Modernization; and Health Careers Facility. At West Hills College Lemoore, the projects not yet funded include Field Sports; Instructional Center Phase 1; and Institutional Support Services. The North District Center, Firebaugh Center Expansion project is also not currently funded. Dr. Gornick discussed the possibility of having projects re-scored which would assist us with the funding for these projects.

The 2012-2016 Five Year Construction Plan for the West Hills Community College District was approved on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Levinson, and carried unanimously.

FS-15 Final Project Proposals (FPPs) - The following Final Project Proposals (FPPs) were approved on a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously:

- North District Center, Firebaugh - Center Expansion
- West Hills College Lemoore - Institutional Supportive Services, Phase 1
- West Hills College Lemoore - Instructional Center
- West Hills College Coalinga - Health Careers
- West Hills College Coalinga - SAM Modernization

BOARD REPORTS / COMMENTS / REQUESTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Trustee Cantu had nothing to report at this time.

Trustee Minnite thanked Mr. Warkentin for hosting the meeting at his campus and thanked everyone for the great reports. Trustee Minnite thanked everyone for coming to the recognition event at the North District Center, Firebaugh and stated that it is a special place. It was a great feeling to be a part of history and it could not have happened without the support of the staff, students and Board of Trustees.

Trustee Ivans thanked Mr. Warkentin for hosting the Board meeting and providing a tour of the Multi Use Sports Complex.

Trustee Henry commented on the Datatel conference he recently attended in Chicago. He stated that it was quite interesting to see what they do for us.

Trustee Oxborrow stated that it is good to be at West Hills College Lemoore and see progress on the Multi Use Sports Complex. She expressed her congratulations to the North District Center, Firebaugh for their recognition and thanked everyone for their presentations.

Trustee Levinson stated that he looks forward to hearing future reports from Mr. Avila on athletics.

President McKean expressed his apologies for not being able to attend the recognition event at the North District Center. He stated that he looks forward to further discussions on athletics.

President McKean announced that the next meeting of the Board of Trustees is scheduled for October 26, 2010.

REPORTS FROM ORGANIZATIONS / COLLEGES / DISTRICT OFFICE

Academic Senate Report - Ms. Anita Bart, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Coalinga, was not present to report at this time.

Mr. Kurt Sterling, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Lemoore, was not present to report at this time.

WHCFA Report - Ms. Marty Ennes, WHCFA President, was not present to report at this time.

CSEA Report - Mr. John Ieronimo, CSEA President, was not present to report at this time.

West Hills College Coalinga and North District Center, Firebaugh - Dr. Willard Lewallen, President, passed around recent thank you notes and letters his office has received. He also discussed various activities and events being held in conjunction with the groups that have been visiting the campus. Dr. Lewallen announced that the rededication event for the gymnasium is planned for October 16. He also discussed an upcoming visit by Mr. Francesco Attesti, an Italian pianist of international acclaim. He will be making a performance on October 11 at the West Hills College Coalinga Theatre. This will be a fundraiser which will be co-sponsored with the Rotary Club of Coalinga.

West Hills College Lemoore - Mr. Don Warkentin, President, introduced Mr. Ryan Cardoza, new SGA President for West Hills College Lemoore and Student Trustee for the District. Mr. Cardoza commented on events that will be held at West Hills College Lemoore. Welcome Week is scheduled for the first week of school and a Club Rush Day will be held a couple of weeks later. West Hills College Lemoore currently has six active clubs. SGA's main goal this year is to create more student participation on campus. President McKean questioned new clubs on campus. Mr. Cardoza responded that they are not planning to create more, but will assist students in doing so if there is interest. There is currently a diverse group of clubs already on campus.

Mr. Warkentin provided an update on accreditation, stating that he is working on reading the draft of the self study. He thanked the chairs of the accreditation standards: Mr. Bob Clement, Standard 1; Dr. Marlon Hall, Standard 2; Ms. Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson, Standard 3; and Mr. Jose Lopez, Standard 4. Mr. Warkentin discussed a recent visit to Santa Rosa Rancheria for cultural and diversity training. He explained that the decisions of the tribe are all based on consensus, which is why it sometimes takes a greater amount of time for them to respond to us. Mr. Warkentin reported that the Golden Eagle Arena is about 50% complete and is close to being on schedule. The opening is anticipated for early spring.

Chancellor's Report - Dr. Frank Gornick, Chancellor, commented on the groups who have been visiting at the Coalinga campus and stated that Mr. Blong Xiong, Fresno City Council Member, visited the campus when the Hmong students were here. Dr. Gornick reported on the recent Chancellor's Executive Cabinet meeting at which Ms. Tammy Ketelhut attended. Ms. Ketelhut is from Paramount Farming and attended the meeting to discuss their mentorship program. Brief discussion took place regarding the program and the possibilities for the district.

Dr. Carole Goldsmith reported to the Board of Trustees that Mr. David Castillo, Director of Westside Institute of Technology (WIT), has recently spent several weeks in the hospital. He is now home and is expected to make a full recovery. Dr. Goldsmith provided information on grants that were recently awarded, including the U.S. Department of Transportation (Trucking); Teacher Preparation Grant at West Hills College Lemoore; and Employment Development Department Veterans Grant VEAP. Dr. Goldsmith reported that staff are also in the process of submitting several grants, including U.S. Department of Education, Title III, Transitioning Students with Intellectual Disabilities; U.S. Department of Education, Title V Centers for Excellence, Veterans; and U.S. Department of Education, Title III, Strengthening Native American Student Retention. We hope to hear more about pending grant awards in the next 30-60 days.

Dr. Gornick thanked Trustees Oxborrow and Ivans for their attendance at the recent Strategic Planning Retreat workshops. Mr. Pedro Avila reported that a total of 85 individuals participated in the retreat including staff, students, board members, community members, and representatives from agencies. The retreat was broken down into three sections: Student Success, High School Outreach, and Workforce Development. Mr. Avila shared a video of the retreat and thanked Mr. Dennis Gallegos for his work on the video. He reported that we will be receiving a summary of the retreat from the consultants (Eaton Cummings Group) who conducted the workshops, and the results will be shared with the Board at a later date.

CONSENT AGENDA

The following consent agenda items were approved on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Ivans, and carried unanimously:

- CA-1 Minutes - The minutes of the June 22, 2010 Board of Trustees meeting were approved as submitted.

- CA-2 Warrants - The warrants were approved as submitted.

- CA-3 District Appropriations Limit (Gann Limit) - The District Appropriations Limit (Gann Limit) for 2010-2011 was approved as submitted.
- CA-4 Quarterly Financial Status Report - The Quarterly Financial Status Report, 311Q for the quarter ending June 30, 2010 was approved as submitted.
- CA-5 Surplus Property - The list of property was declared as surplus.
- CA-6 Personnel Transactions - The list of personnel transactions were approved as submitted.

CHANCELLOR'S OFFICE

- CO-1 Resolutions - Child Care - The following resolutions in the matter of child care were adopted on a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously:

- State Preschool Program No. CSPP 0094-6213-00-0
- Children and Families Commission of Fresno County (First 5) Contract No. 2011CP6111

- CO-2 Board Policies and Administrative Procedures - The following Board Policies and Administrative Procedures were approved on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Ivans, and carried unanimously:

- Administrative Procedure 5055, Enrollment Priorities
- Board Policy and Administrative Procedure 5070, Attendance
- Board Policy 5500, Standards of Student Conduct
- Board Policy and Administrative Procedure 5520, Student Discipline
- Administrative Procedure 5530, Student Rights and Grievances

Trustee Minnite commented on the routing forms provided with the policies and procedures and questioned why there are no comments from the West Hills College Coalinga Academic Senate. Discussion took place and it was stated that the Senate is participating in the review of the policies and procedures; however, there is a breakdown in their comments being sent to the Chancellor's Office for inclusion on the routing forms. Dr. Lewallen stated that he will follow up on this matter and assured the Board that the Senate is participating in the review process.

- CO-3 Athletics Report - Mr. Warkentin and Dr. Lewallen introduced their athletic department staff and provided a presentation on the athletics program at their respective colleges. The proposed athletic department philosophies were shared and the Presidents summarized the number of student athletes by sport and term over the past five years. Program details were discussed including out of state students, money owed by student athletes, loan default rates, FTES, operational and instructional costs, and enrollment revenue generated. Student progress was summarized and retention rate, success rate, graduation rate and transfer rate for athletes and non-athletes were discussed. Dr. Lewallen provided comments on Title IX and the Three Prong Test, and myths vs. facts. The Presidents discussed future participation interest and the surveys that were conducted at each college. Brief discussion took place regarding the information collected. Cost containment and fundraising for each college was shared with the Board. With regard to the future of athletics, Dr. Lewallen and Mr. Warkentin provided information on the plans that are being discussed and reviewed for possible implementation. Student athlete and team success stories were summarized for the Board. Dr. Lewallen discussed internal and external program review of the athletics program. The Central Valley Conference Athletic Program Review (external) was held in April 2010 for West Hills College Coalinga, and is scheduled for Spring 2012 for West Hills College Lemoore. The Athletic Department Program Review (internal) for West Hills College Coalinga occurred in Spring 2007, and Fall 2008 for West Hills College Lemoore. Dr. Lewallen commented on the recommendation received with regard to a district policy on athletic recruiting. He explained that we will continue to comply with CCCAA bylaws for recruitment of student athletes and will establish a philosophy for recruitment of student athletes that addresses our district approach. Mr. Warkentin briefly commented on state, regional and conference issues.

Trustee Levinson stated that he would like to have this item back on the agenda next month for further discussion. Trustee Ivans stated that everyone can appreciate how important the coaches are. Trustee Cantu stated that it is good to have a starting point for further discussion and thinks we can move forward to the next step. Dr. Lewallen explained that the purpose of the report was to give an overview of the program. Dr. Gornick encouraged the Board to continue reading the materials and welcomed the opportunity for further discussion at the next meeting. He stated that it is a significant topic for discussion. Trustee Oxborrow questioned how often the Central Valley Conference review takes place. Dr. Lewallen responded that it occurs every six years. Mr. Warkentin stated that the internal review occurs every four years. President McKean questioned where we are going with this topic and what the Board wants to see happen at the next meeting. Trustee Levinson stated that he anticipates further discussion and to see some resolution to some of the areas. Trustee Henry stated that he would also like to have further discussion to determine where we want to go with the athletics program. Trustee Minnite commended everyone for the work done on the report and stated that the results of the review will be positive for all of us. Mr. Warkentin thanked all of the staff who assisted in the preparation of the report. President McKean stated that a good sports program brings a tremendous amount of energy and enthusiasm to a campus and helps with student success and retention. We need to take a look at how each program affects the campus. Trustee Henry agreed with President McKean's comments. Dr. Gornick summarized the conversation, stating that further discussion will revolve around developing a statement about athletics for the colleges. Trustee Levinson stated that he wants to continue reviewing the materials received and have the opportunity to think about the information before having a discussion at the next meeting. Student Trustee Cardoza commented that he agrees with the idea to develop Board policies with regard to this topic. Brief comments were made concerning the Civic Center Act and the use of the new facilities.

FISCAL SERVICES

FS-1 Fiscal Services Report – Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, provided the fiscal services report. He stated that we are 100% through the fiscal year. General fund revenues are at 99.6% and general fund expenditures are at 82.1%.

Mr. Stoppenbrink also provided a quarterly summary of the enterprise fund revenues and expenses for the cafeteria, farm, child development centers, residence halls, and international student program.

Mr. Stoppenbrink briefly discussed the current reimbursement rate of the state and reported that we have sufficient cash flow.

FS-2 Chancellor's Office Tax Offset Program (COTOP) – On a motion by Trustee Cantu, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously, the Board of Trustees approved the district's participation in the Chancellor's Office Tax Offset Program (COTOP) for 2011.

FS-3 Contract Award – Trustee Oxborrow commented that the bid is very low and urged staff to make sure that the contractor is paying prevailing wage.

On a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Ivans, and carried unanimously, the contract for the North District Center parking expansion project was awarded to Seal Rite Paving & Grading for a total amount of $239,306.45 which includes base bid and alternate #1.

FS-4 Resolution – Intention to Convey Real Property – Mr. Stoppenbrink stated that this is the first of six properties that we hope to acquire in Firebaugh.

The resolution in the matter of intention to convey real property was adopted on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Levinson, and carried unanimously.

PERSONNEL SERVICES

PS-1 Faculty Contracts – On a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Oxborrow, and carried unanimously, the third-year contracts for the following faculty members transferring from temporary employment contracts to regular employment contracts were approved:

- Stephanie Droker
- Michael Rodriguez

PS-2 Part Time Faculty Salary Schedule – The changes to the part time faculty salary schedule were approved on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Oxborrow, and carried unanimously.

BOARD REPORTS / COMMENTS / REQUESTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Trustee Cantu stated that he has no further comments at this time.

Trustee Minnite welcomed Student Trustee Cardoza. He thanked Dr. Goldsmith for the information she provided on awarded and pending grants and thanked the Presidents for the athletics report.

Trustee Ivans stated that she appreciates the information provided on athletics and commented that the program is a big part of our colleges. She stated that she is happy to see the positive financial reports. Trustee Ivans expressed her appreciation for being able to attend the Strategic Planning Retreat and stated that she has heard many positive comments.

Trustee Henry echoed the comments made by his fellow Board members and thanked everyone for their good work.

Trustee Oxborrow stated that she enjoyed the Strategic Planning Retreat and that it was good to see the various individuals from the different agencies who were willing to participate. She expressed her appreciation to Dr. Goldsmith and Mr. Avila for their work at the retreat.

Trustee Levinson expressed his thanks to everyone for their work on the athletic report.

President McKean announced that the next meeting of the Board of Trustees is scheduled for August 24, 2010.

Board Policy 343 4030
Academic Freedom

Reference: ~~Education Code Section 87704~~; Title 5, Section 51023; Accreditation Standard 2.2

The Board believes that academic freedom is an essential right arising from the nature and function of education. The aims and objectives of the West Hills Community College District point to the unreserved and unqualified obligation of the instructor to pursue his/her subject and the program area surrounding it in a manner consistent with standards of scholarly objectivity as defined by academic tradition and practice.

The West Hills Community College District holds that academic freedom involves inherently the following rights and responsibilities:

1. The right to explore to the limit of competence and training, the assigned teaching area and its references.
2. The responsibility within the teaching area to weigh studiously serious intellectual differences, when applicable, which rise from historical context and perspective.
3. The right to present the democratic process with its freedoms, rights, and safeguards as the sole way in which the academic community and nation can exist and establish the means for progress and the greater fulfillment of man.
4. The responsibility in solving problems to appeal only to those criteria sanctioned historically by reason as confirmed through objective discussion.
5. The right to survey, probe, and question the condition of man within the guidelines of accepted research techniques and intelligent discussion.
6. The responsibility of avoiding the intellectual error of assuming absolute answers for complex problems and presenting these answers as unquestionable truth.
7. The responsibility to introduce within the assigned teaching areas, controversial concepts, issues and systems, subjecting these ideas to the test of objective reasoning.
8. The responsibility of recognizing, respecting, and discussing fairly those areas of human activity not amenable as such to the scientific method.
9. The right to create unhampered and clear intellectual atmosphere, maintained, encouraged, and supported by staff, administration and trustees.
10. The responsibility of avoiding any teaching method, which relies on rigid authority or implied infallibility.
11. The responsibility in challenging students, notwithstanding their ability or program, to develop a spirit of inquiry regarding all academic areas and to seek logical answers.

The West Hills Community College District considers academic freedom defined by its attendant rights and responsibilities as a vital, primary force in the achievement of the aims and objectives of the institution.

ADMINISTRATION

EVALUATION OF SUPERINTENDENT

The board believes it is essential that it evaluate the Superintendent/President's performance periodically in order to assist both the board and the Superintendent/President in the proper discharge of their responsibilities and to enable the Board to provide the District with the best possible leadership.

The Board shall, periodically evaluate the performance of the Superintendent/President. Such evaluation shall include an assessment of both the Superintendent/President's strengths and weaknesses, the working relationship between the Board and the Superintendent/President, the Superintendent/President's relationship to staff, students and community and the progress of the District toward goals of this Board and the Board's own effectiveness in providing direction to the Superintendent/President.

The Board and the Superintendent/President jointly shall at the outset of each evaluation determine the method by which the evaluation shall be conducted. Such method may include the Superintendent/President's own self-analysis and the active participation of each Board member.

Board approval date: _____

CONFIDENTIAL AND MANAGEMENT EVALUATION

- 214 A Evaluation of Confidential and Management employees has as its primary purpose recognition and improvement of job performance as it relates to the mission of the District. This process is viewed as continuous and shall include, to the extent possible and where appropriate, input by faculty and peers.
- 214 B A written evaluation report shall be completed annually for each confidential and management employee. See Appendix A of this Board Policy for the Report of Confidential/Management Evaluation form. The annual evaluation report shall present a total impression of the employee's technical and human relations competencies and shall include the following:
- a. A written self assessment, which shall include accomplishments for the current year and goals for the coming year;
 - b. A current job description; and
 - c. A written evaluation from the immediate supervisor.
- 214 C The annual evaluation process shall include one or more of the following: results of surveys and interviews of students, faculty, peers, community members, or others, as well as commendations, and any other procedures as agreed upon by the employee and his/her supervisor.
- 214 D At least once every three years, and before step increases at level 5, 6, or 7 of the Administrative Salary Schedule, faculty input shall be included in the evaluation of confidential and management staff whose assignment involves regular interaction with faculty. Faculty selected to participate in the process shall be selected from a list submitted by the President of the Academic Senate and who regularly interact with the administrator being evaluated. The supervising administrator shall inform the Academic Senate President regarding faculty selected to participate in this evaluation prior to the beginning of the process.

- 214 E The evaluation process shall be jointly designed as outlined in sections 214 C and 214 D by the employee and supervisor based upon observation of the employee's work in his/her assigned position.
- 214 F The supervisor shall provide a copy of, review, and discuss the annual report with the employee.
- 214 G The evaluation is to be completed and submitted to the Superintendent/President by July 1 of each year.
- 214 H The employee's evaluation shall be compiled and written by the immediate supervisor and requires the approval of the supervising dean and the Superintendent/President.
- 214 I The Superintendent/President may initiate an employee evaluation at any time. The scope and process for this evaluation shall be determined by the Superintendent/President.

CHAPTER 1
About the West Hills Community College District

History of the District

The establishment of a college for the Coalinga Union High School District was proposed in the spring of 1932. The official beginning of the Coalinga Extension Center of Fresno State College dates from October 3, 1932. In September 1941, Coalinga Junior College became an independent unit under the direction of the Governing Board of the Coalinga Union High School District. Construction of a new campus on Cherry Lane near the northern limit of the City of Coalinga was begun on October 3, 1955, and the buildings were occupied on September 13, 1956.

In November of 1961, the voters of the Coalinga Union High School District approved the formation of a separate junior college district, and in June of 1962, the voters of Lemoore High School District voted to annex to the college district, as did voters of Riverdale and Tranquillity High School Districts in December of 1962. Effective July 1, 1969, the official name of the college was changed to West Hills College in keeping with the nature of the expanded district.

In order to effectively serve the college district, West Hills College built the North District Center in the city of Firebaugh in 1971. In 1979 the district purchased land in the City of Lemoore, and in 1981 a classroom building and an office were erected. This was the Kings County Center until January 2002. On September 26, 2000, the Board of Trustees signed and accepted the "Agreement of Donation of Land for West Hills College Lemoore" – a generous donation from Robert and Mardell Pedersen and Lionel and Lola Semas.

Opening its doors to students on January 14, 2002, West Hills College Lemoore features 18 classrooms, a state-of-the-art science wing called a Collaboratory, the largest and most technologically advanced library in Kings County, a multipurpose center, a full-service student services and administration building, as well as an outdoor amphitheater for students and community members.

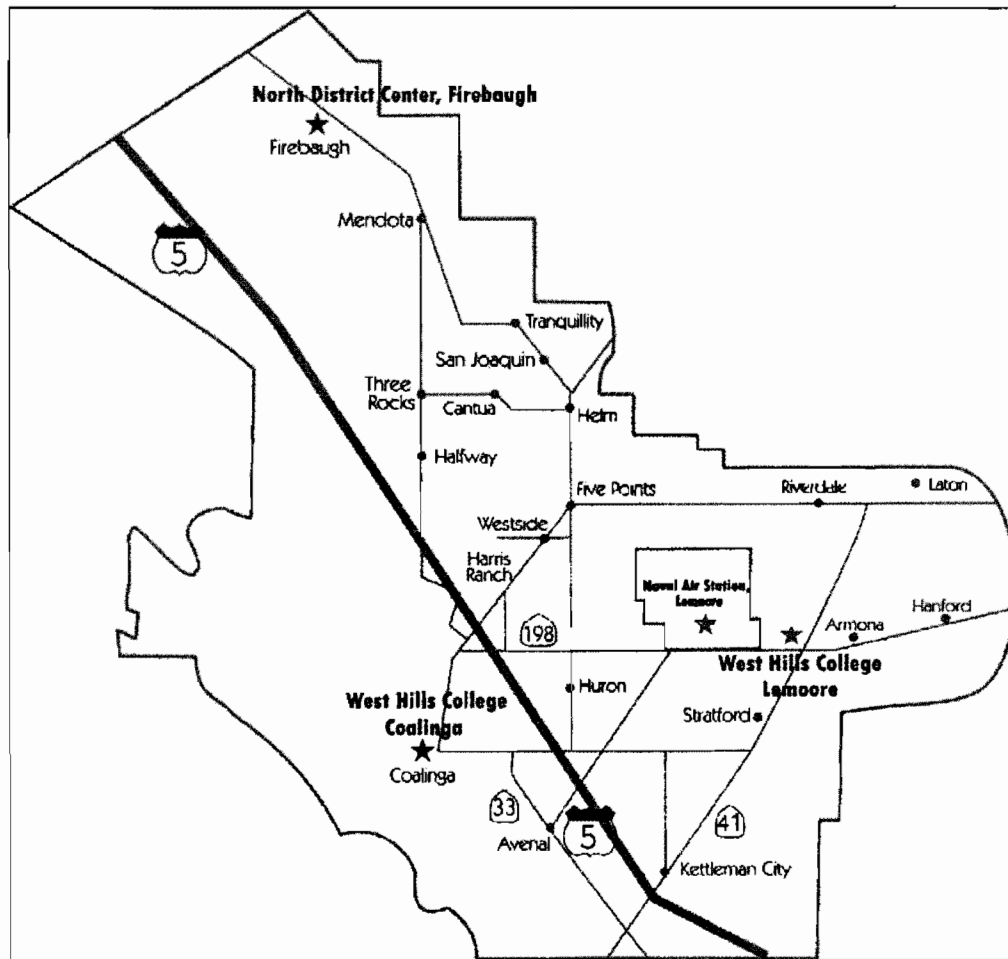

Areas Served

The West Hills Community College District consists of the following colleges and education centers:

- West Hills College Coalinga
- West Hills College Lemoore
- North District Center, Firebaugh
- Naval Air Station, Lemoore

The district covers parts of five counties including Fresno, Kings, Madera, Monterey and San Benito. High school districts within the service area include:

- Coalinga-Huron Unified School District
- Firebaugh-Las Deltas Unified School District
- Golden Plains Unified School District
- Laton Joint Unified School District
- Lemoore Union High School District
- Mendota Unified School District
- Reef-Sunset Unified School District

Mission and Vision Statements

Mission

The mission of the West Hills Community College District is enhancing student learning and enriching the lives of the populations we serve by:

- Ensuring the vitality of its institutions;
- Encouraging the vision of strong leaders able to see and interpret the present and future needs of students and communities;
- Supporting the colleges in the provision of world class learning environments;
- Providing for appropriate allocation and management of human, fiscal and capital resources;
- Acting as a catalyst for collaboration with outside organizations and agencies; and
- Sharing the story by marketing a positive image.

Vision

West Hills Community College District, a trusted steward, actively engages, encourages, enriches and empowers students, faculty, staff and the communities it serves to reach their full potential (academically, socially and economically) as evidenced by:

- Its status as the preferred choice of students, and the employer of choice for faculty and staff;
- The highest percentage of students completing courses;
- Its recognized excellence; and
- The generally ascribed accolade, "heartbeat of the community."

Access and Fees

Current tuition rates for in-state residents are $20 per unit. The non-resident tuition fee is $173 per semester unit, which is the statewide average. The tuition fee for students living outside of the country (foreign students) is $180.63 per semester unit ($173 non-resident fee plus $7.63 capital outlay fee).

For 2008-2009, non-resident tuition rates are $181 per semester unit, which is the statewide average. The tuition fee for students living outside of the country (foreign students) is $189.98 per semester unit ($181 non-resident fee plus $8.98 capital outlay fee).

Section 2: The Governing Board

CHAPTER 2
Governance

Trustee Areas

Board members must reside in and be registered to vote in the trustee area he or she seeks to represent. Trustee areas are as follows:

Area	District(s)	High School(s)
Area 1 – Coalinga	Coalinga-Huron Unified School District	Coalinga High School
Area 2 – Firebaugh	Firebaugh-Las Deltas Unified School District	Firebaugh High School
	Mendota Unified School District	Mendota High School

The Role of the Board of Trustees

Responsibilities

Board Members

Most trustees seek the position as a member of the Board because they have a sincere desire to provide an important public service and to give back to the community. They believe in the community college mission and wish to play a role in making sure that citizens have access to high quality education. They make a difference by their service on the Governing Board.

The job is demanding and time-consuming. It requires sophisticated interpersonal skills, as well as the abilities to digest complex information and balance multiple interests. However, the rewards are great and the results are important for society.

Trustee Responsibilities

- ❖ Honor the "team" nature of the Board.
- ❖ Allocate time to prepare, study for and attend meetings.
- ❖ Participate in trustee development opportunities.
- ❖ Actively support the colleges, CEO and staff.
- ❖ Serve as an advocate and liaison between the colleges and the community.
- ❖ Ensure that all district business is channeled through the CEO for recommendations to the Board.
- ❖ Have a positive, visionary mindset in approaching Board business.

Trusteeship is not an individual act. It is expressed by being a valuable member of a team of people who, together, comprise the legal unit that governs the District. Trustees work together to be a cohesive unit. Trustees have no authority outside of a Board meeting.

Communication among Board members is encouraged. Board members should expect to hear from their fellow Board members and the Board president by telephone on a regular basis.

The Board's role is significantly different than the roles of the Chancellor and others employed at the college. The Board does not do the work of the institution, but ensures that it is done. The most important Board responsibility is to make good policy, which then provides guidance for college staff. The Board approves policy that is recommended by the Chancellor.

One of the most essential factors for successful governance is a good Board/Chancellor relationship. The Chancellor is the primary agent of the Board and is the single most influential person in creating an outstanding institution. Selection, evaluation and support for the Chancellor are among the Board's most important responsibilities.

Student Trustee

The Board of Trustees includes one (1) non-voting student member. The term of office is for one year, commencing June 1. The student trustee is seated with the Board and is entitled to participate in discussion of issues and receive materials presented to members of the Board. Responsibilities of the student trustee include becoming educated about Board and district issues by attending meetings, carefully reading Board agendas and important district materials such as the most recent accreditation report and planning documents; periodically meeting with the College President and/or Chancellor, and studying the role and responsibilities of being a member of the Board.

Board Effectiveness

Effective boards ensure that trustees are educated about the institution and their roles. Effective boards also nurture the cohesiveness of the Board as a group. They understand and recognize the need to develop and maintain healthy relationships among key constituencies. They analyze problems and situations using diverse values and contributions from many different groups.

Board Self Evaluation

The Board of Trustees is committed to assessing its own performance as a Board in order to identify its strengths and areas in which it may improve its functioning. While the Board of Trustees sees its role of assessing its performance as ongoing, it sets aside time at its annual retreat to conduct a self evaluation among its members (Board Policy and Administrative Procedure 2745, Board Self Evaluation)

Conflicts of Interest

Board members shall not be financially interested in any contract made by the Board of Trustees or in any contract they make or participate in making in their capacity as Board members.

A Board member shall not engage in any employment or activity that is inconsistent with, incompatible with, in conflict with or inimical to his or her duties as an officer of the District. A Board member shall not simultaneously hold two public offices that are incompatible.

Upon leaving the Board, former members shall not, for a period of one year, act as an attorney, agent or otherwise represent for compensation others appearing before the Board.

The Chancellor shall establish administrative procedures to provide for disclosure of assets of income of Board members who may be affected by their official actions, and prevent members from making or participating in the making of Board decisions which may foreseeably have a material effect on their financial interest.

Board members shall file statements of economic interest with the filing officer identified by the administrative procedures.

Compliance with conflict of interest rules requires forethought and careful attention. Board members are encouraged to seek counsel from the District's legal advisor in every case where any question arises. (Board Policy 2710)

CHAPTER 4
Board Organization and Practices

Composition of the Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees is composed of seven (7) members elected by the qualified voters of the district. Members are elected at large by trustee area. The Board of Trustees also includes one (1) non-voting student member.

Annual Organizational Meeting

Board members terms begin on the first Friday of December in accordance with Education Code Section 72027(b). The annual organizational meeting of the Board of Trustees is held within a 15-day period commencing on the day a new member's term begins.

The purpose of the annual organizational meeting is to elect a President, Vice President and Clerk of the Board.

Compensation and Benefits

Board members are compensated in the amount of $240 per month for attendance at Board meetings and travel to such Board meetings (Board Policy 2725).

Members of the Board of Trustees shall be permitted to participate in the district's health benefits program at the same level as provided to current administrative employees (Board Policy 2730; Government Code Section 53201).

Former members of the Board of Trustees may continue to participate in the district's health benefits program at the same level as provided to current administrative retirees, provided the following criteria are met:

- The Board member participated in the district's health benefits program during his/her years of service
- The Board member served in office after January 1, 1981
- The former Board member began their term of office prior to January 1, 1995
- The total service at the time the Board member leaves the Board is not less than 12 years

All other former Board members first elected to a term of office that began on or after January 1, 1995 may only continue to participate in the District's health benefits program on a self-pay basis.

Board members who elect to participate in the district's health benefits program may choose their level of participation by selecting the appropriate health benefits plan. Options may vary each year. Board members are given an option to prepay their premium amount in full or to have the premium deducted from their stipend check each month.

CHAPTER 5
Board of Trustees Meetings

Annual Schedule

Board of Trustees meetings are normally held on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 3:00 p.m. Exceptions occur due to holidays, organizational meeting restrictions, study sessions, etc. Meetings are normally held at the District Office Board Room. At least once each year the Board of Trustees travels to the college campuses for a meeting at each location. Occasionally the Board of Trustees will meet via conference call to conduct matters of business that may arise between monthly meetings. These meetings are scheduled according to Board member availability and are posted in accordance with the Brown Act, as are all other meetings of the Board of Trustees.

- Organizational Meeting – The annual organizational meeting is held in December each year. The date selected must fall within a 15-day period commencing on the day a new member’s term begins, and in non-election years, during the same 15-day period. Board member terms begin on the first Friday of December in accordance with Education Code Section 72027(b).
- Board Retreat – The annual Board Retreat is held in late January or early February each year. At this annual retreat, Board members discuss issues of importance including their own self evaluation, the direction of the district, facilities plans, etc. No action is taken at the retreat.
- Study Sessions – Board study sessions are held in the fall and spring of each year and focus on current issues and plans.

Agenda Preparation

The agenda is prepared by the Chancellor’s Office and is posted in the District Office and on the district’s website at least 72 hours prior to the meeting. Agenda packets are mailed to Board members the week prior to the meeting.

Meeting Protocol

The Board of Trustees follows a standard agenda format for conducting its business. Meetings are conducted using Robert’s Rules of Order and meetings are held in accordance with the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Board members are discouraged from engaging in one-on-one dialogues with members of the audience. Rather, dialogue should occur with speakers at the podium.

A usual meeting day consists of the Board of Trustees, acting as the Financing Corporation Board, holding the Financing Corporation meeting. The Financing Corporation meets to review, discuss and consider matters and activity relating to the district's Certificates of Participation.

Immediately following the Financing Corporation, the Board of Trustees convenes its regular business at a meeting of the Board of Trustees. The agenda format is as follows:

- I. Call to Order/Open Session
 - a. Introduction of Guests
 - b. Public Comments

- II. Reports from Organizations/Colleges/District Office
 - a. Academic Senate Report
 - b. WHCFA Report
 - c. CSEA Report
 - d. ASB Report
 - e. West Hills College Coalinga and North District Center, Firebaugh
 - f. West Hills College Lemoore
 - g. Chancellor's Report

- III. Consent Agenda

- IV. Chancellor's Office Items for Review/Consideration

- V. Fiscal Services Items for Review/Consideration

- VI. Personnel Services Items for Review/Consideration

- VII. Board Reports/Comments/Requests and Announcements
 - a. Board Reports
 - b. Announcement of next Board meeting

- VIII. Closed Session

- IX. Adjournment

The President of the Board calls the meeting of the Board of Trustees to order. Guests are introduced and opportunity is given for public comments. The time for public comments is reserved for the public to comment on non-agenda items. If an individual wishes to address the Board of Trustees, he/she is requested to state his/her name and occupation/ affiliation and proceed with comments at the podium.

Reports are heard from the various college and district groups at each regular meeting of the Board of Trustees. Reports are sometimes accompanied by written material which is distributed to the Board and members of the audience.

The consent agenda contains items of a routine nature or items for which no Board discussion is anticipated and for which the Chancellor recommends approval. Consent agenda items are enacted by one motion. There is no separate discussion of items unless a Board member or citizen so requests, in which event the item(s) will be considered following approval of the consent agenda

Chancellor's Office items may include various reports, Board policies and administrative procedures, resolutions and other matters related to the district in general.

Fiscal Services items may include budget status reports, bid awards, change orders, notices of completion, and other matters related to the fiscal services of the district.

Personnel Services items may include job descriptions, job positions, personnel resolutions (i.e. layoff), salary schedules, and other matters related to the personnel services of the district.

The regular business of the Board of Trustees is held during open session, which is open to the public. At the conclusion of the open session portion of the meeting, Board members are given the opportunity to provide comments or to make requests or announcements.

Following the Board reports, the Board adjourns to closed session to conduct the business of the district that is closed to the public as identified in the Ralph M. Brown Act, Government Code Sections 54950 – 54962.

Closed session topics include:

- License/Permit Determination
- Conference with Real Property Negotiator
- Conference with Legal Counsel – Existing Litigation
- Conference with Legal Counsel – Anticipated Litigation
- Liability Claims
- Threat to Public Services or Facilities
- Public Employee Appointment
- Public Employment
- Public Employee Performance Evaluation
- Public Employee Discipline/Dismissal/Release

- Conference with Labor Negotiator
- Case Review/Planning
- Report Involving Trade Secret
- Hearings

CHAPTER 6
Board Officers

Becoming an Officer of the Board

Board members desiring to become an officer of the Board should communicate this with the Board President and/or the Chancellor who will, in turn, communicate the information back to the Board as a whole. Following is a historical account of the Board Presidency:

2004 – Present	Mark McKean
2000 – 2004	Jeff Levinson
1993 – 2000	Mark McKean
1991 – 1993	Bill Henry
1990 – 1991	Robert Arp
1989 – 1990	Jeff Levinson
1987 – 1989	Edna Ivans
1984 – 1987	Vernon Gordon
1982 – 1984	Bob E. Wood
1979 – 1982	Ralph Neate Sr.
1977 – 1979	Jack Jones
1974 – 1977	Edna Ivans
1973 – 1974	L.E. McKean, Jr.
1972 – 1973	Allyn Gramps
1971 – 1972	Bob E. Wood
1970 – 1971	Jerry Whitmore
1969 – 1970	Jack Jones
1968 – 1969	Bob E. Wood
1967 – 1968	Tony Mendes
1966 – 1967	Bill Deal
1965 – 1966	Herb Atkinson
1963 – 1965	Ralph Neate Sr.

Prior to 1963, the Board of Trustees served as a joint Board with the Coalinga Unified School District.

The Board does not have an official system of rotation of officers; it elects the officers each year from among all its members.

Responsibilities of the Board President

The role of the Board President is very important to the effectiveness of the Board, the Board/CEO relationship, and the institution. The Board President is the leader of the Board and the facilitator of Board meetings. Specific areas of responsibility include the following:

- Preside over all meetings of the Board
- Call emergency and special meetings of the Board as required by law
- Consult with the Chancellor on Board meeting agendas
- Communicate with individual Board members about their responsibilities
- Participate in the orientation process for new Board members
- Assure Board compliance with policies on Board education, self-evaluation and CEO evaluation
- Represent the Board at official events or ensure Board representation

The Board President is encouraged to keep in contact with the members of the Board on a monthly basis, prior to each meeting.

Responsibilities of the Vice President

The responsibilities of the Vice President of the Board include the following:

- Serve as President of the Board when the President is not present at a meeting of the Board
- Carry out such responsibilities as the President may assign to him/her from time to time

Responsibilities of the Clerk of the Board

The responsibilities of the Clerk of the Board include the following:

- Sign the minutes of all regular and special meetings approved by the Board
- Sign any documents that would otherwise require the signature of the President of the Board

CHAPTER 7
Community Relations

Responsibilities of the Board

The Board of Trustees holds the colleges in trust on behalf of the communities they serve and represents the general public's interests. The Board acts as a bridge and buffer between the community and the college. Its role may also include fundraising, public relations and political advocacy. Trustees are powerful spokespersons for their colleges. Trustees represent the college to the community.

Who is the community?

The community served by the Board of Trustees includes:

- Students
- The General Public
- Electorate
- Diverse Communities
- Taxpayers
- The State
- Business and Industry
- Local and Regional Agencies
- Other Educational Institutions

Board Responsibilities

- ❖ Represent the public and communities served by the college.
- ❖ Create strategies to ensure strong bridges between the Board and community groups.
- ❖ Become knowledgeable about the diverse needs and interests in the community.
- ❖ Be willing to buffer the college from undue influence in order to ensure academic freedom.
- ❖ Advocate for the college in the community and to government.
- ❖ Support the West Hills Community College Foundation and be willing to engage in fundraising.

Public relations

Trustees are responsible for enhancing the public image of the colleges. Trustees promote the mission, goals and programs of the institution and focus on guiding the district in problem-solving. They control rumors and respond to questions from the media. To be effective, trustees must be educated about the institution. There must be constant communication and close cooperation between the CEO and the Board. The Board has legal power only as a unit. Trustees have no authority as individuals. A Board member's public comments should represent Board decisions and policies, even if the individual trustee did not vote for a Board decision.

Advocacy and Fundraising

The West Hills Community College Foundation was founded in 1983 and is the tax-exempt 501(c)(3) subsidiary authorized to develop, receive, manage and disburse gifts and grants for all not-for-profit entities of the West Hills Community College Foundation. These gifts and grants support educational programs.

Two Board members are also appointed to serve as members of the West Hills Community College Foundation.

CHAPTER 8
Ethics and Laws

Board of Trustees Code of Ethics

The Board maintains high standards of ethical conduct for its members. Members of the Board are responsible to the following code of ethics:

"I pledge my best efforts as a trustee of the West Hills Community College District to evidence good citizenship in community and state affairs; refrain from making any decision or commitments concerning community college governance, except in Board meetings or when designated by the Board to do so; avoid situations leading to conflicts of interest; bring credit to the District through personal effort, either directly or indirectly, in business, social, professional and personal relationships; make decisions which are responsive to the geographic distribution and social, ethnic, economic, and minority make-up of the community; make decisions which give priority to the students; keep informed on matters pertaining to the community college movement; fulfill the responsibilities of my commission without regard to prejudice or partisanship." (Board Policy 2715)

Trustee Conduct

Trustees are expected to remain courteous and open-minded, treating others with honesty, decency and respect. Trustees should avoid bitter arguments and use courteous, non-inflammatory language at Board meetings. Consideration for others means speaking well of others in public.

Legal Responsibilities

State law requires that public boards do their work in public. This law is known as the Ralph M. Brown Act (Government Code Sections 54950 – 54962). The intent of the law is that the actions of the Board be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly.

CHAPTER 9
Board Self-Evaluation

Purpose

The Board of Trustees is committed to assessing its own performance as a Board in order to identify its strengths and areas in which it may improve its functioning.

Criteria for Evaluation

The criteria for the Board of Trustees self evaluation are based on the responsibilities of the Board. Those responsibilities are as follows:

- Represent the public and communities served by the college.
- Create strategies to ensure strong bridges between the Board and community groups.
- Become knowledgeable about the diverse needs and interests in the community.
- Be willing to buffer the college from undue influence in order to ensure academic freedom.
- Advocate for the college in the community and to government.
- Support the West Hills Community College Foundation and be willing to engage in fundraising.

Evaluation Process and Tools

While the Board of Trustees sees its role of assessing its performance as ongoing, it sets aside time at its annual retreat to conduct a self evaluation among its members.

The purpose of the Board self evaluation is to identify those areas of Board functions which are working well and those which may need improvement. The Board self evaluation speaks to the Board as a whole, not to individual trustees. It is the evaluation process of the overall effectiveness of the Board as a decision-making group.

The following process will be used:

- A self-evaluation form (Administrative Procedure 2745, Appendix A) will be distributed to all Board members annually.

- The completed self-evaluation forms shall be submitted to the Chancellor's Office at least one week prior to the regularly scheduled Board Retreat or Board Study Session at which the self evaluation will be discussed.
- The self-evaluation results shall be included as an agenda item for review at a regularly scheduled Board Retreat or Board Study Session.
- The Board of Trustees will develop a remediation plan during a future Board Retreat or Board Study Session within one year from the date of the initial approval of this administrative procedure.

CHAPTER 10
Board Professional Education

Board of Trustees Orientation

The Board of Trustees is committed to its ongoing development as a Board and to a trustee education program that includes new trustee orientation. The Board engages in study sessions and is provided access to reading materials, conferences and other activities that foster trustee education.

Conferences and Workshops

Board members are encouraged to attend conferences and workshops relative to the interests of the district.

Conference arrangements (including registration, hotel accommodations, travel, etc.) can be made by the Chancellor's office. Reasonable and necessary expenses for Board member attendance at conferences and workshops are paid for by the District.

Conferences include:

- AACC (American Association of Community Colleges) Annual Convention
- CCLC (Community College League of California) Annual Trustees Conference
- ACCT (Association of Community College Trustees) Conference

Reading

Board members receive and are encouraged to read the following publications:

- Community College Journal
- Community College Times
- Community College League Newsletter

The California Education Code and Government Code can be found at:

<http://www.leginfo.ca.gov>

CHAPTER 11
The Decision-Making Process

Steps for Decision-Making

Trustees are responsible to be prepared for Board meetings so that they are able to make well-informed decisions. Responsibilities include:

- Devoting time, thought and study to agenda items and proposed actions;
- Fostering a spirit of harmony and cooperation that honors differences of opinion;
- Basing personal decisions upon available facts in each situation;
- Voting honest convictions in every case; and
- Abiding by and upholding the Board decision.

Trustees are to keep an open mind to others' points of view. Once the decision is made, all trustees support the decision of the Board.

Decision-Making Criteria and Questions

Some questions to ask in studying agenda items and making decisions are:

- Do I thoroughly understand the issue?
- What problem is it addressing? Is it the "real" problem?
- Is a decision really required at the Board level? Or, is the item more appropriately an administrative matter? To whom should it be delegated?
- Is the decision able to be made through existing Board policies and guidelines?
- What guidance do the mission, goals, and values of the institution provide?
- Does a proposal address the overall interests of the college, or is it limited to special interest needs?
- Is the proposed action legal and ethical?
- What will it cost in time and money? Is it within the budget?
- What evidence or data have been gathered related to the proposal?
- What are the advantages and disadvantages of the proposal?
- What will be the short and long-range impact on the college?
- What other information is needed? Who can provide it?
- How will the decision be evaluated? What feedback does the Board need? When?

At Board Meetings

The manner in which trustees discuss and explore various issues at Board meetings sets a tone for the entire District. Both the public and the staff are interested in the values, thoughts, contribution and decisions of Board members. Thoughtful, respectful discussions, particularly when there are diverse views, reflect well on the Board and the entire District. Guidelines for participation in Board meeting discussions are:

1. Follow rules of order, usually adapted from Robert's Rules or similar references.
2. Actively and thoughtfully participate.
3. During meetings, interact with other members of the Board, but not with the public or press.
4. Ask questions to get facts related to the discussion.
5. State inquiries in non-hostile language.
6. Actively listen to others; listen to what is said as well as what is not said.
7. Respect others' views.
8. Consider issues, not personalities.
9. Clarify the pros and cons of all alternatives.
10. Advocate for a position based on thorough study and after listening to all sides.
11. Help the chair by ceasing debate when all sides of a question have been explored.
12. Seek to table or postpone an item if there is not sufficient information or to avoid making a decision under stress.
13. Abstain from voting when there is a conflict of interest. Don't abstain just to avoid offending a fellow Board member or member of the public.

After the Board meeting, all Board members must:

- Accept and support the decision no matter how they voted;
- Convey their support for the decision to others;
- Follow up on expected action; and
- Monitor and review the decision regularly.

Managing Conflict

The Board of Trustees maintains a Board policy related to meeting decorum (Education Code Section 72121.5; Government Code Section 54954.3(b)). The following will be ruled out of order by the presiding officer:

- Remarks or discussion in public meetings on charges or complaints which the Board has scheduled to consider in closed session.
- Offensive language.
- Physical violence and/or threats of physical violence directed towards any person or property.

In the event that any meeting is willfully interrupted by the actions of one or more persons so as to render the orderly conduct of the meeting unfeasible, the person(s) may be removed from the meeting room.

Before removal, a warning and a request that the person(s) curtail the disruptive activity will be made by the President of the Board. If the behavior continues, the person(s) may be removed by a vote of the Board, based on a finding that the person is violating this policy, and that such activity is intentional and has substantially impaired the conduct of the meeting.

If order cannot be restored, the Board may order the meeting room cleared and may continue in session. The Board shall only consider matters appearing on the agenda. Representatives of the press or other news media, except those participating in the disturbance, shall be allowed to attend any session held pursuant to this rule.

Involving Others in Decisions

There are different levels of decision-making that progressively involve more and more people within the district. The Board is the ultimate decision-maker in those areas assigned to it by state and federal laws and regulations.

With regard to personnel decisions, there are two areas of potential liability for trustees: conflicts of interest and the importance of maintaining confidentiality. The Political Reform Act prohibits public officials from acting on decisions in which they have a personal interest. Maintaining confidentiality is extremely important. Publicly talking about personnel decisions or closed session discussions opens up the possibility of lawsuits and other legal actions against individual trustees.

CHAPTER 12
Policy and Policymaking

Board Responsibilities

The Board of Trustees governs through the policies they make. After policies have been developed and discussed in accordance with the district protocol, the Board of Trustees sets the policy and the administration carries it out.

Policy Process

Board Policies and Administrative Procedures are regularly reviewed by the Chancellor's Office. The Chancellor makes recommendations to the Board of Trustees concerning revisions to existing policies and procedures or the development of new policies and procedures to ensure that they are current and comply with state and federal laws.

Any employee, student, or member of the public may initiate a review or development of any policy or procedure by submitting a request or recommendation in writing to the Chancellor's Office. (Board Policy and Administrative Procedure 2410, Policy and Administrative Procedure).

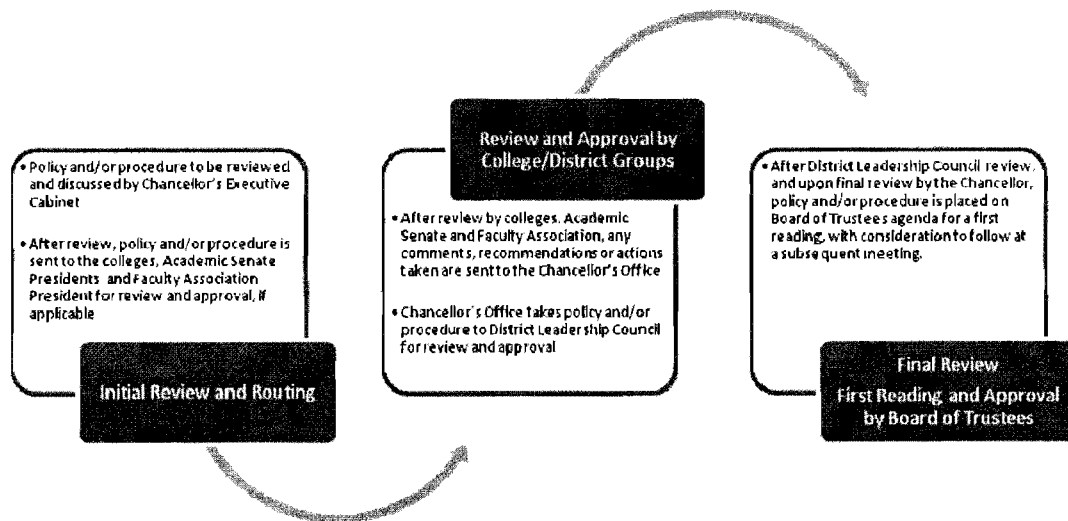

Review and Approval Process

Upon receipt of the request or recommendation, the Chancellor's Office may refer to the Community College League's Policy and Procedure Service for recommended or legally advised language. The Chancellor's Office may also use the Policy and Procedure listserv to query other districts for related Board Policies or Administrative Procedures. In some instances, the Chancellor's Office may request that legal counsel review the policy or procedure language. Other employees with expertise in specific areas governed by a Board Policy or Administrative Procedure may also be consulted during the review process.

After initial review by the Chancellor's Office, the policy and/or procedure will be routed to the supervisor, manager or Dean of the appropriate department, if applicable, for review (i.e. Student Services, Human Resources, Business Office, etc.). Following the applicable review, the policy and/or procedure will be routed as follows:

1. Policy and/or procedure to be reviewed and discussed by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet.

2. After review by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet, the policy and/or procedure will be sent to the colleges (through the College Presidents) for review and approval, if applicable. Simultaneously, the policy and/or procedure will be sent to the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President as a courtesy.
3. Review and approval by the Academic Senate Presidents will be requested only if the policy and/or procedure deal(s) with academic and professional matters. Review and approval by the Faculty Association President will only be requested if the policy and/or procedure has or will have a significant effect on faculty.
4. After review by the colleges, any comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure shall be sent to the Chancellor's Office by the College Presidents.
5. In the case of review and approval by the Academic Senate Presidents or Faculty Association President, any comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure shall be sent to the Chancellor's Office by the individuals serving in those capacities. As a courtesy, the comments, recommendations or actions taken should also be sent to the College Presidents.
6. The Chancellor's Office will take the policy and/or procedure to the District Leadership Council (DLC) for review and approval.
7. After DLC review, and upon final review by the Chancellor, the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting.

Submission of Policies and Procedures for Review

When submitted to the various college groups, the policy and/or procedure shall be accompanied by a routing form which will include the following information:

- Policy/Procedure Number
- Policy/Procedure Name
- Indication of new or revised policy/procedure
- Initiator of proposed new or revised policy/procedure
- Purpose for new or revised policy/procedure
- Anticipated timeline for review and approval process

New policies and procedures will be submitted to the appropriate groups as a “clean” copy.

Revised policies and procedures will be submitted to the appropriate groups using the following editing marks:

- Deleted text to be shown in ~~striketrough print~~
- Added text to be shown in bold print

Nonsubstantive (“clean up” or “housekeeping”) revisions to policies and procedures (i.e. names, title changes, addition or deletion of references) that do not change the intent or meaning of the policy or procedure may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the colleges, the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President as a courtesy.

Policies and procedures dealing strictly with the Board of Trustees may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the colleges, the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President as a courtesy.

New or revised procedures that outline an existing process may be recommended by the Chancellor to the Board of Trustees for review and consideration without being routed through the review and approval process. However, the revised policies and procedures will be sent to the colleges, the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President as a courtesy.

Timeline

In most instances, policy and procedure review and approval will be based on a two-month cycle at the college level. Once the Chancellor's Office submits the policy and/or procedure to the colleges, the Academic Senate Presidents and the Faculty Association President, the review and approval process officially begins. The groups will have 60 days in which to complete the review and approval process at the college level and submit final comments, recommendations or actions taken with regard to the policy and/or procedure to the Chancellor's Office.

At the completion of the 60 days (or sooner if the appropriate groups have completed their review and approval process), the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the DLC agenda for review and approval if applicable. Following DLC review, the policy and/or procedure will be placed on the Board of Trustees agenda for a first reading, with consideration to follow at a subsequent meeting. The Board of Trustees will be provided with the Chancellor's final recommendation, along with the completed routing form which will include the comments, recommendations and actions taken by the appropriate groups.

The timeline may be shorted due to various circumstances including, but not limited to, changes in law or urgent need. However, the Chancellor's Office shall notify all applicable groups of the shortened timeline.

After approval by the Board of Trustees, policies and procedures will be posted to the District's website. The College Presidents and Academic Senate Presidents will also be notified as to the status of the proposed or revised policies and procedures and provided with a final, "clean" copy.

Policy Manual

Hard copies of all policies and procedures are located in the Chancellor's Office. Additionally, policies and procedures are posted on the district's website at the following address:

http://www.westhillscollege.com/district/about/board_trustees/policies/index.asp

Implementation and Evaluation

After new or revised policies and/or procedures are adopted, the Chancellor and staff members are responsible for carrying them out. Policies and procedures are reviewed on an ongoing basis to ensure that they comply with state and federal laws.

CHAPTER 13
Board Role in Planning and Institutional Effectiveness

Board Responsibilities

- Foster an institutional climate conducive to ongoing planning and evaluation.
- Establish the institutional direction by adopting policies that define the vision, mission, and "ends."
- Represent broad-based community interests in setting the policy direction.
- Be aware of societal, demographic, economic, and technological changes influencing the college.
- Monitor institutional progress toward the ends and goals.
- Review and discuss the evidence demonstrating the district's effectiveness in reaching its goals.
- Review and discuss the evidence demonstrating the colleges' effectiveness in reaching their goals.

Strategic Planning Process

The Chancellor and the College Presidents shall ensure that the district has and implements a broad-based comprehensive, systematic and integrated system of planning that involves appropriate segments of the college community and is supported by institutional research.

The planning system shall include plans required by law including, but not limited to:

- College master plans
- Facilities plan
- Faculty and staff diversity plan
- Student equity plan
- Matriculation
- Transfer Center
- Cooperative Work Experience
- EOPS and DSPS

The planning system shall also include plans not required by law including, but not limited to:

- Technology Strategic Plan
- Human Resources Plan
- District Strategic Plan

The Chancellor shall submit those plans to the Board for which Board approval is required by Title 5.

The District Strategic Plan will be developed by a broad representation of Board members, district staff, college and center staff, the Academic Senates, CTA, CSEA, students, and community and business members. The district’s executive team, comprised of the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, and the College Presidents, will have overall responsibility for implementation of the District Strategic Plan and will develop methods for achieving the strategic directions within their respective organizations and units. In this way, plan implementation will be integrated into the ongoing planning and consultation process of each college, site and unit within the district. The implementation process will be integrated into the district’s annual planning processes.

Each college will develop an Educational Master Plan that is in compliance with the plans articulated by the District Educational Master Plan.

The Chancellor shall inform the Board about the status of planning and the various plans.

The Chancellor shall ensure the Board has an opportunity to assist in developing the general institutional mission and goals for the comprehensive plans. (Board Policy 3250, District Strategic Planning).

Indicators of Effectiveness

The District has established five goals for institutional effectiveness:

GOAL #1

West Hills Community College District will annually achieve or exceed funded growth targets.

- 1.1 WHCCD will take action to increase student headcount and maximize the number of full time equivalent students (FTES) by increasing and or optimizing curriculum offerings, programs and services.
- 1.2 WHCCD will continue to aggressively market the District through multiple media formats and college-driven outreach activities.

GOAL #2

West Hills Community College District will focus marketing efforts on district-wide "stories".

- 2.1 WHCCD will establish a baseline and increase the number of annually published district-wide stories.
- 2.2 WHCCD will establish a monthly online newsletter to be distributed to all district employees highlighting activities for the month in the district.

GOAL #3

West Hills Community College District will annually increase community participation rates.

- 3.1 WHCCD will maintain service area adult population rates above the California Community College System participation rate.
- 3.2 WHCCD will increase participation rates in all demographic areas including gender, age and ethnicity.
- 3.3 WHCCD will establish a baseline, and monitor and increase college participation in community partnerships.

GOAL #4

West Hills Community College District will annually improve transfer, completion and graduation rates.

- 4.1 WHCCD will continually increase the number of students transferring to public, private and out of state four-year institutions.
- 4.2 WHCCD will maintain overall student completion (success) rates above the California Community College statewide average, placing emphasis on vocational, basic skills, ESL, online success and improvement rates.
- 4.3 WHCCD will increase the number of awards (degrees and certificates) conferred.

GOAL #5

West Hills Community College District will become the preferred choice of students through ongoing and active recruitment.

- 5.1 WHCCD will establish a baseline and monitor or increase the number of college recruitment visits to local high schools.
- 5.2 WHCCD will conduct a study of students in local high schools and middle schools to test the students' knowledge of WHCCD.
- 5.3 WHCCD will work toward maintaining service area high school graduate participation rates above the California Community College participation rate.
- 5.4 WHCCD colleges will adjust student services, outreach and recruitment efforts as needed to maintain increased participation from local high school graduates.

Accreditation and Student Learning Outcomes

Institutional effectiveness is directly related to student learning. The colleges have developed Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) for nearly 100% of their courses. The SLOs will be used to measure student achievement and the analysis of the SLOs will guide institutional improvement efforts.

State and National Accountability

The West Hills Community College District is required to have a comprehensive management information and accountability system and the district reports data to the state Chancellor's Office (Systems Office). Some of the data that the district collects and reports are:

- Student characteristics: Community participation rates; high school graduates participation; financial aid participation; categorical programs participation; basic skills and ESL enrollment
- Student course activity and outcomes: Persistence in courses, programs and the college; completion of degrees and certificates; completion by field of study; transfer, job placement
- Course inventory
- Staff composition and workload; e.g. staff diversity, faculty assignments
- Fiscal activity, including budget and expenditure levels

In addition, the district collects and reports applicable data for the following agencies:

- WASC (Western Association of Schools and Colleges)
- IPEDS (Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System)
- ARCC (Accountability Reporting for the Community Colleges)

CHAPTER 14
Accreditation and the Board's Role

What is Accreditation?

The West Hills Community College District is accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC). Accreditation is a voluntary, nongovernmental process involving institutional self-study and professional peer review. Accreditation provides two essential services: quality assurance to the public and other institutions, and institutional improvement through a peer review process.

Accreditation is a continuing process, the heart of which lies in periodic self-appraisal by an institution. In preparation for each accreditation visit, the district prepares an extensive report with primary emphasis on self-analysis and evaluation. Preparing the report usually involves representatives from all employee groups and areas of the college. The report and other materials are sent to an evaluation team, which visits the college, meets with groups and individuals, validates the self-study report, and reviews the college's responses to the previous report.

The comprehensive self-study and evaluation are conducted at least every six years. Ongoing evaluation and planning enables the district and colleges to integrate self-study processes into regular review processes of the institution; however, the self-study and planning for the accreditation report generally begin two years prior to the scheduled accreditation visit.

Between scheduled visits, the district and colleges address their own and previous visiting team recommendations and submits periodic reports. The effectiveness of self-regulatory accreditation depends upon the institution's acceptance of specific responsibilities, including complying with all of the standards and abiding by the Commission's policies, procedures, and decisions.

Accreditation Standards

Accreditation standards adopted in 2002 reflect the Commission's belief that accredited institutions must have to foster learning in their students as their primary purpose. Therefore, the standards require institutions to ensure that resources and processes support student learning, continually assess that learning and pursue institutional excellence. The self-study that is done to maintain accreditation must include a collegewide dialogue on the institution's effectiveness. The standards are designed to facilitate the dialogue.

The standards are presented in four parts:

- Standard I – Institutional Mission and Effectiveness
Addresses the institutional mission, which provides the impetus for achieving student learning and other college goals. Institutions must provide the means for students to learn, assess how well learning is occurring, and improve that learning through ongoing, systematic, and integrated planning.
- Standard II – Student Learning Programs and Services
Includes criteria for instructional programs, student support services, and library and learning support services, which assure the quality and improvement of all programs and services as they promote and foster student learning.
- Standard III – Resources
Addresses the human, physical, technological, and financial resources required to achieve the purposes of the college.
- Standard IV – Leadership and Governance
Tackles issues related to and includes the organization and roles of the Board and CEOs, decision-making processes, and organization of multi-college districts.

Board Role in Accreditation

Accreditation requires that the Board of Trustees is informed about and involved in the accreditation process. At the time the self-study report is submitted, the Board President signs the self-study document, which attests to the accuracy of the report in reflecting the nature and substance of the institution. The Board of Trustees, as the Governing Board of the district, will review the final report of the evaluation team, and is ultimately responsible for ensuring that the college responds to the issues raised in the self-study, the recommendations of the evaluation team, and the decisions of the Commission. The Board may also assume leadership in ensuring that the self-study report and subsequent recommendations become an integral part of the institutional planning process.

Accreditation is achieved by colleges, not districts. The Board of Trustees should work closely with each of the colleges to achieve consistency in their participation.

The Board and CEO should have a strategy to address Standard IV.B, Board and Administrative Organization, at the beginning of the accreditation self-study process.

The strategy should be coordinated with the efforts of the college steering committee for the accreditation process. It may include:

- assessing the status of Board policies related to the standard and updating policies if necessary;
- identifying the strategies used by the Board to meet the standards, describing the results of those strategies, and developing new strategies if necessary;
- contributing to and reviewing drafts of the report for the self-study.

The Board of Trustees is encouraged to devote significant time and thought to their responses to the standards. It is important that all Board members be significantly involved in the discussion.

CHAPTER 15
Board/CEO Relationships

Board Responsibilities

- ❖ Appoint a CEO who can meet the district's needs and is trusted by the board.
- ❖ Establish appropriate lines of authority and delegation
- ❖ Define clear expectations for performance
- ❖ Provide a mutual beneficial contract
- ❖ Support the CEO's authority
- ❖ Maintain open communication
- ❖ Base the relationship on mutual respect and trust
- ❖ Conduct regular evaluations

The Board/CEO Partnership

The Board delegates to the Chancellor the executive responsibility for administering the policies adopted by the Board and executing all decision of the Board requiring administrative action.

Appointing/Hiring a CEO

The Board establishes a search process to fill the vacancy left by a departing Chancellor. The process is to be fair and open and comply with relevant regulations.

CEO Evaluation

Timeline

March – April	Evaluation forms for Chancellor sent to Board members for completion prior to April Board meeting
Late April	Completed evaluation forms/scores compiled by Clerk of the Board and given to Executive Assistant to the Chancellor/Board of Trustees. Executive Assistant types final evaluation from compiled scores
May	Final evaluation distributed to Board members prior to regular Board meeting Chancellor's evaluation takes place during closed session of regular Board meeting
June	Chancellor's contract is taken to the Board of Trustees for approval

CEO Contract and Compensation

The Chancellor's contract is approved by the Board of Trustees in June of each fiscal year. The contract length and compensation are determined and agreed upon by the Board of Trustees and the Chancellor.

Communication

Communication between the Board of Trustees and the Chancellor is ongoing. The Board is provided with an update letter from the Chancellor each month, which is often accompanied by a brief newsletter which includes information about recent and upcoming events and activities and information relevant to Board members. The Chancellor speaks by phone and visits with Board members as necessary each month. Email is also used as a form of communication with Board members

CHAPTER 16
Equal Employment Opportunity Provisions

Laws and Regulations

The Board of Trustees plays an important role in ensuring the quality of the employees, the effective use of college resources for personnel, and an environment that supports excellence.

State and federal laws and regulations heavily regulate human resources policies, practices and negotiations in public institutions. Board responsibilities include:

- Requiring that the district adhere to federal and state laws and regulations
- Maintaining an excellent CEO/Board relationship
- Setting policy standards that ensure fair and equitable employment practices, personnel procedures, and contract negotiations
- Supporting internal lines of authority – avoiding dealing directly with individual staff members
- Acknowledging and supporting staff achievements and professional development programs
- Fostering an environment that promotes quality, caring and dedication to high moral and ethical standards

Collective Bargaining (CSEA; CTA)

There are two unions in the West Hills Community College District:

- CSEA (Classified Employees) – California School Employees Association, Chapter 429
- CTA (Certificated Employees) – West Hills College Faculty Association/California Teachers Association/National Educators Association

The collective bargaining process is conducted by the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, Director of Human Resources, and the district's attorney.

The current collective bargaining agreement for each union is located on the district's website as follows:

http://www.westhillscollge.com/district/human_resources/contracts/index.asp

Personnel Matters/Trustee Liability

There are two areas of potential liability for trustees related to personnel: conflicts of interest and the importance of maintaining confidentiality. The Political Reform Act prohibits public officials from acting on decisions in which they have a personal interest. Maintaining confidentiality is extremely important. Publicly talking about personnel decisions or closed session discussions opens up the possibility of lawsuits and other legal actions against individual trustees.

CHAPTER 17
Employee Participation in Decision-Making

Participatory Governance

The Board is the ultimate decision-maker in those areas assigned to it by state and federal laws and regulations. In executing that responsibility, the Board is committed to its obligation to ensure that appropriate members of the District participate in developing recommended policies for Board action and administrative procedures for the Chancellor's action under which the District is governed and administered.

It is the intent of the Board of Trustees to have a governance process for the District which provides opportunities for students, faculty, and staff to participate in the governance of the college. The vehicle which shall be used to carry out the Board's intent is the District Leadership Council (DLC).

The DLC shall consist of the following membership:

- Chancellor
- Vice Chancellor of Business Services
- Director of Human Resources
- Director of District Enrollment Services
- Director of Marketing
- President, West Hills College Coalinga
- President, West Hills College Lemoore
- Academic Senate President, West Hills College Coalinga
- Academic Senate President, West Hills College Lemoore
- CTA Representative
- CSEA Representative
- Student Representatives (as determined by the College Presidents)

At the college level, the vehicle which shall be used to carry out the Board's intent is the College Consultation Council (CCC) at West Hills College Coalinga and the Planning and Governance Council (PGC) at West Hills College Lemoore.

The CCC at West Hills College Coalinga shall consist of the following membership:

- College President
- Academic Senate President or designee

- Chair or Co-Chair from Instructional Services Council
- Chair or Co-Chair from Student Services Council
- Chair or Co-Chair from Facilities Development Council
- Chair or Co-Chair from Learning Resources Council
- Associate Dean of Student Learning
- Classified Staff (3)
- Faculty (3 - including one counselor)
- Students (2)
- Athletic Director

The PGC at West Hills College Lemoore shall consist of the following membership:

- College President
- Curriculum Committee Chair
- CTA/Faculty Representative (2)
- CSEA/Classified Representative (2)
- Librarian
- Counselor/Advisor
- Vice President of Educational Services
- Associate Dean of Educational Services, Evening College
- Dean of Students
- Director of Maintenance & Operations/Auxiliary Services
- Academic Senate President
- Student Government Association Representative (2)
- Dean of Learning Resources

Each of the following shall participate as required by law in the decision-making processes of the District:

Academic Senate

The Board or its designees will consult collegially with the Academic Senate, as duly constituted with respect to academic and professional matters, as defined by law. Procedures to implement this section are developed collegially with the Academic Senate.

Staff

Classified staff shall be provided with opportunities to participate in the formulation and development of district policies and procedures that have a significant effect on staff. The opinions and recommendations of CSEA will be given every reasonable consideration.

Students

The Associated Students shall be given an opportunity to participate effectively in the formulation and development of district policies and procedures that have a significant effect on students, as defined by law. The recommendations and positions of the Associated Students will be given every reasonable consideration. The selection of student representatives to serve on district committees or task forces shall be made after consultation with the Associated Students.

Except for unforeseeable emergency situations, the Board shall not take any action on matters subject to this policy until the appropriate constituent group or groups have been provided the opportunity to participate.

Nothing in this policy will be construed to interfere with the formation or administration of employee organizations or with the exercise of rights guaranteed under the Educational Employment Relations Act, Government Code Sections 3540, et seq.

Benefits and Challenges

The value of participator decision-making is in its inclusive nature. When inclusive processes are used, there is a greater understanding and acceptance of decision, a greater commitment to their implementation, and an understanding of and commitment to the goals and objectives of the organization. Participatory decision-making promotes trust, cooperation, a team identity, and coordination of efforts.

Participation in decision-making also has its challenges. Those involved in the decision must do their homework. Participation requires time away from the other duties of the job. Decisions take longer; therefore, the processes for gathering comments and making recommendations must take into account longer decision-making cycles.

CHAPTER 18
Fiscal Services

Sources of Revenue

The district obtains the bulk of their resources from the state. The state's appropriation is based on three major sources: state monies, local property taxes and student fees. In addition, funds from the federal government support specific programs in the colleges.

State Appropriations Process

Building the state budget is at least a yearlong process involving local entities, state agencies, the Legislature and the Governor. Each fall, proposals for changes in the state budget for the following fiscal year are submitted to the Department of Finance (DOF) by every state agency, including the System Office of the California Community Colleges. The DOF makes recommendations to the Governor in December, who also meets with agency heads, including the Chancellor of the Community Colleges.

- By January 10 the Governor presents a proposed state budget to the Legislature. Throughout the spring, the Assembly and Senate hold hearings on the Governor's budget proposal and develop their own budget proposals.
- In May, the Governor releases a revised budget proposal known as the May Revise.
- June 15 is the constitutional deadline for the Legislature to submit its proposed budget to the Governor.
- June 30 is the target date for the Governor to sign the budget.

Throughout the state appropriations process, local district budgeting is based on educated projections of what the final budget will be.

- Once the state budget is approved, the Board of Governors (BOG) and System Office are responsible for allocating the state appropriation for community colleges to the districts.

District Allocation Model

Philosophy

All the communities within the district have made significant contributions to the welfare of our colleges and centers. In recognition of the contributions and confidence in the actions of the West Hills Community College District, the Board of Trustees has determined that it will maintain a district office, viable and comprehensive colleges in the cities of Coalinga and Lemoore with current educational centers in Firebaugh and the Lemoore Naval Air Station. The Board believes that because of our geographic location and distribution of our cities, the ability to maintain access to higher education opportunities is essential for our communities and citizens to grow and prosper. In keeping with this overall philosophy, the Board has implemented the following principles to maintain access to higher education:

- The district shall maintain standards of design, construction and reconstruction of new facilities which will be followed and applied at all locations.
- The district shall maintain standards in the use and application of technology at all locations.
- The district shall develop long term plans in education, construction and fiscal resources.

The purpose of the resource allocation procedure is to provide an understandable, clear methodology to the practice of allocating resources to the cost centers of the district and to realize the Board's objective in extending the educational opportunity to all citizens of the district. This procedure, along with the budget definitions, provides the necessary information for the development of comprehensive budgets for the district and individual college operations.

If at any time there are circumstances beyond the control of the district, such as a major earthquake or other events that disrupt the operations of the district, these circumstances may dictate a different course of action than those outlined in this procedure.

Allocation Fundamentals (Distribution of Fiscal and Human Resources)

1. Each college receives a base allocation:
 - a. Based on prior year expenditures
 - b. Based on the college's ability to achieve their FTE goal
 - c. Based on the state's ability to fund growth
2. The percentage of growth achieved by each college at the end of a fiscal year will be a determining factor in the amount of resources realized by each college. Retention may also be a factor in the amount of resources realized by each college.

3. Resources will be allocated to maintain the viability and comprehensiveness of both colleges and their educational centers.
4. Resources will be allocated to colleges for the purpose of prioritizing and planning the human resources, support programs and academic programs desired by the colleges which are determined by the internal planning processes at the college level.
5. The District Office receives a base allocation:
 - a. Based on prior year expenditures
 - b. Based on the budget development process and program review
 - c. Based on the state's ability to fund growth

Cost Centers

The cost centers of the district will be the colleges and the District Office.

Approval Process

1. Prior to the planning and budget cycle for each college, the district Business Office will provide each College President with the prior "base year allocation and expenditures" and the projected "base year allocations". The budget assumption used for the "projected year" shall be the same as the state chancellor's office. The budgets for the cost centers will be allocated using a "base year" allocation. The "base year" allocation is based upon the prior year's actual expenditures.
2. Upon approval of the tentative district budget for the upcoming fiscal year, an appendix to the budget will be provided to illustrate the estimated actual budgets of the cost centers.
3. Distribution of Income
 - a. Prior to any distribution, the reserve must be taken into account which requires the district to set aside 5% of new revenues in order to avoid being placed on the State Chancellor's watch list;
 - b. Any increases in the mandated expenses such as utilities, bad debt, step increases, insurance or other costs will be funded;
 - c. After items a and b are accounted for, the remaining growth dollars will be allocated to each college based upon the percentage of growth dollars each college provided to the overall district funded growth. (Example: If the growth is 8% total for the District and 2% is from Coalinga and 6% is from Lemoore, then 25% of the new money will be allocated to Coalinga and 75% will be allocated to Lemoore.) In accordance with Education Code Section 84362, 50% of growth dollars expended at each college shall be expended for instructional purposes.

- d. As a part of the distribution of resources, there must be consideration given to the resources required to support the district office functions. These considerations would include, but not be limited to, resources received for scheduled maintenance, equipment or other restricted funds that serve to increase services throughout the district. The district office reserves the right to allocate resources from restricted areas to maximize their effect on the ability to serve students. These expenditures will be tied to a district scheduled maintenance plan, as well as any facilities plans in order to obtain maximization of the limited resources. Areas identified in subsection d will exclude general fund restricted programs such as EOPS/DSPS. Decisions on how these resources are allocated will be finalized by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet.

4. Distribution of Staff

- a. In the matter of full time faculty, Title V Section 51025 provides the target number for the district to achieve.
- b. Ideally, this process will conclude prior to the start of the spring semester to allow for immediate advertising in January to begin the process of employing faculty.
- c. The Chancellor will require that the College Presidents meet and confer on their respective lists to determine similar positions or shared positions being sought by both colleges.
- d. The reconciled list will then be forwarded to the Human Resources department for immediate distribution.
- e. The College President is responsible for disseminating the decisions made on distribution of staff to their respective colleges using regular and appropriate means of communicating the process and results of the decisions made.
- f. This process shall also be used in the recommendation of new and replacement classified, management and administrative staff.

The allocation model is reviewed annually.

Other Funding Sources

- Bonds
- Foundations and Fundraising
- Asset Management
- Grants
- Partnerships
- Certificates of Participation (COPs)

CHAPTER 19
Budgets and Budgeting

Budget Development Process

The colleges begin planning for the next fiscal year in January. Various departments and groups are engaged in reviewing programs and needs, planning, and establishing assumptions and criteria for the next year's budget.

Board Review and Approval

The Board adopts the tentative budget no later than June 15 prior to the beginning of the fiscal year. The purpose of the tentative budget is to provide the District with an operating plan for the next few months. The District is required to have a final, Board-approved budget on or before September 15 for the fiscal year. The final budget takes into account the official state budget and allocations as well as the actual ending balance from the previous fiscal year.

- Board Responsibilities
1. Establish policy criteria to guide the budgeting process
 2. Set general priorities for the budget early in the process
 3. Study and understand budget proposals
 4. Adopt budgets after assessing proposals against policy criteria and priorities.

Understanding Budget Status Reports

Budget Status Reports are presented to the Board of Trustees each month at the Board meeting. The report is presented by the Vice Chancellor of Business Services and includes the current budget standing of the District's revenues and expenses for general and categorical fund budgets.

Annual Audit

An external audit of the district's funds is conducted each year in accordance with requirements of the California State Chancellor's Office, Governmental Audit Standards and generally accepted auditing standards. The audit report is presented to the Board of Trustees in January of each year and consists of three basic financial statements that provide information on the District's activities as a whole:

- Statement of Net Assets
- Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets

- Statement of Cash Flows

The focus of the Statement of Net Assets is designed to be similar to bottom line results for the District. It combines and consolidates current financial resources with capital assets and long-term obligations.

The Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets focuses on the costs of the District's operational activities which are supported mainly by property taxes and by State and other revenues.

The Statement of Cash Flows provides an analysis of the sources and uses of cash within the operations of the District.

Reserve

The minimum prudent unrestricted general fund balance is 5 percent (5%). This minimum prudent level is considered necessary to ease cash flow problems, to deal with unexpected cost increases, and other fiscal uncertainties. If the district falls below this minimum prudent level, further review will be performed to determine if any fiscal problems exist.

Warrants

The Board of Trustees is presented with a list of warrants each month at the Board meeting. The warrants are the expenses that have been paid by the District for the month.

CHAPTER 20
Resources and Readings

District Web Site

The district maintains its own website at <http://www.westhillscollge.com>.

Dialogue

The Dialogue newsletter is published six times each year by the district's marketing department. It contains stories and articles related to the district, its communities, students and employees.

The Board of Trustees handbook will be reviewed annually as information is subject to change throughout the year.

Board Policy 3200 Accreditation

Reference: Accreditation Eligibility Requirement 20, Standard IV.B.1.i

The Chancellor shall ensure the District complies with the accreditation process and standards of the Accrediting Commission of Community and Junior Colleges and of other District programs that seek special accreditation.

The Chancellor shall keep the Board informed of approved accrediting organizations and the status of accreditations.

The Chancellor shall ensure that the Board is involved in any accreditation process in which Board participation is required.

The Chancellor shall provide the Board with a summary of any accreditation report and any actions taken or to be taken in response to recommendations in an accreditation report.

Board approval date: 11/18/03

Board Policy 2100 Board Elections

Reference: Education Code Sections 5000 et seq.

The term of office of each trustee shall be four (4) years, commencing at the organizational meeting in December, following the November election. Elections shall be held every two years, in odd numbered years. Terms of trustees are staggered so that, as nearly as practical, one half of the trustees shall be elected at each trustee election.

The election of a board member residing in and registered to vote in the trustee area he or she seeks to represent shall be by the registered voters of the entire community college district. Trustee areas are as follows:

- Area 1 – Coalinga
- Area 2 – Firebaugh
- Area 3 – Avenal
- Area 4 – Lemoore (2 Board members)
- Area 5 – Riverdale
- Area 6 – Tranquillity

The Chancellor shall submit recommendations to the Board regarding adjustments to be made to the boundaries of each trustee area, if any adjustment is necessary, after each decennial federal census. The Chancellor shall submit the recommendation in time for the Board to act as required by law.

Board approval date: 5/20/03

Administrative Procedure 2745 Board Self-Evaluation

Reference: Accreditation Standard IV.B.1.a & g

The purpose of the Board self-evaluation is to identify those areas of Board functions which are working well and those which may need improvement. The Board self-evaluation speaks to the Board as a whole, not to individual trustees. It is the evaluation process of the overall effectiveness of the Board as a decision-making group.

The following process will be used:

- A self-evaluation form (Appendix A) will be distributed to all Board members annually.
- The completed self-evaluation forms shall be submitted to the Chancellor's Office at least one week prior to the regularly scheduled Board Retreat or Board Study Session at which the self evaluation will be discussed.
- The self-evaluation results shall be included as an agenda item for review at a regularly scheduled Board Retreat or Board Study Session.
- The Board of Trustees will develop a remediation plan during a future Board Retreat or Board Study Session within one year from the date of the initial approval of this administrative procedure.

Board Policy 2745 Board Self-Evaluation

Reference: Accreditation Standard IV.B.1.e & g

The Board of Trustees is committed to assessing its own performance as a board in order to identify its strengths and areas in which it may improve its functioning.

While the Board of Trustees sees its role of assessing its performance as ongoing, it sets aside time at its annual retreat to conduct a self evaluation among its members.

REPORTS FROM ORGANIZATIONS / COLLEGES / DISTRICT OFFICE

Academic Senate Report - Ms. Anita Bart, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Coalinga, apologized for missing the last meeting. She thanked the Board for approving Ms. Melissa Delaney for tenure. Ms. Bart reported that the Senate is working on the restructuring of committees, the college budget process, and the first draft document for degree level program SLOs (Student Learning Outcomes).

Ms. Stephanie Droker, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Lemoore, reported that the Senate is working on tenure resolutions. They have forwarded four names for tenure. The Senate will soon be voting in a new president and they have had a lot of discussion on the proposed District Education Coordinating Council (DECC) and will continue to have dialogue. They want to have stronger communication between the colleges.

WHCFA Report - Ms. Marty Ennes, WHCFA President, reported that the Faculty Association is busy as usual. A meeting is scheduled with the district for next week to set the calendar for 2012 through 2014. The first general meeting of the semester will also be held next week. Ms. Ennes reported that Matt Magnuson, West Hills College Coalinga librarian, recently graduated from the CCA Building Strong Locals Academy at the CCA Winter Conference.

She stated that the faculty enjoyed spending the day at the Board Retreat and hearing Barbara Beno's comments. As we watch the nation and the state grapple with this economic crisis, it is important to remember that each and every one of us is in crisis as well. Many of Barbara Beno's statements were reassuring and a good reminder of our mission: to enhance student learning. Ms. Ennes stated that she walked away reminded of how essential it is that, to quote Dr. Beno, "Everything goes back to educational excellence" and that "priorities should be based on how to enhance (or improve) student learning". This is something that faculty struggle daily to achieve. While some may believe that "those who can't do, teach," the reality is that a large number of teachers enter education because of their passion for their subject areas. They are driven to share this passion and knowledge with others in order to make the world a better place. For without education, a true democracy is impossible. Most of the faculty were drawn to the West Hills Community College District because of the supportive environment and the freedom to develop their programs. Like the students, they appreciated the small class sizes and the opportunity to work one-on-one with students, because it is in those interactions that true difference is achieved.

“The new normal” means less freedom, less support, and almost no one-on-one time with students. Our students are not getting everything we could give them. They may not know that they’re being cheated, but we know. We know that there is a better way because we have lived and worked it for decades. Standing in the classroom used to be the time faculty could take a deep breath and remember why they work here. But “the new normal” also means those deep breaths are few and far between. The classroom, once a place of reprieve and nourishment, is now one more thing to manage.

In 2001, before we had even acquired the land to build West Hills College Lemoore, we had 87 full-time faculty, just over 7,000 students in unduplicated headcount, and roughly 4,000 FTES. Today we have the same number of full-time faculty, over 10,000 students, and well over 5,000 FTES. We have lost the majority of our part-time faculty, and all of those “other duties as assigned” have doubled. Because we are now two colleges rather than one, we must duplicate everything: two Academic Senates, two curriculum committees, program reviews for each college, and two self-studies rather than one, to name just a few. We now must also write, assess, and evaluate student learning outcomes. Faculty surely are doing more with less – in essence, 50% less.

We must do something now before we lose sight of what made this institution great and before we are stretched any thinner. Faculty need support, they need control over the classroom, and they need to be listened to when it comes to class capacity and scheduling decisions. Faculty need to see your commitment and a plan for how we are going to get back to being an institution that truly is in the business of enhancing and improving student learning.

President McKean questioned Ms. Ennes’ comment about faculty control over the classroom. Ms. Ennes discussed enrollment and classes not being in the schedule, along with the class size and when the class is offered (fall versus spring). Trustee Oxborrow questioned the comment concerning program reviews for each college. Ms. Ennes stated that it is part of accreditation and has to be done for each college. Trustee Minnite questioned SLOs, stating that his understanding is that we have to continue with a second round. Ms. Ennes responded that the first round involved writing the SLOs and the next round is the assessment. Each college has its own assessment calendar. After being assessed, the SLOs must be evaluated and then re-assessed. It is an ongoing process and is part of accreditation.

CSEA Report – Mr. John Ieronimo, CSEA President, was not present to report at this time.

Student Trustee Report – Mr. Yohan Maeda, Student Trustee, stated that he wanted to share some pictures of student activities with the Board of Trustees. Due to a technical error, the pictures were not able to be projected.

West Hills College Coalinga and North District Center, Firebaugh – Dr. Willard Lewallen, President, passed around photos of new signs at the North District Center, Firebaugh. He also shared letters from students thanking us for what we have done for them. Dr. Lewallen provided an update on the accident involving four West Hills College Coalinga students, stating that they all sustained injuries and are recuperating.

West Hills College Lemoore – Mr. Don Warkentin, President, commented on recent activities at West Hills College Lemoore. He stated that the campus was recently host to the California League of Cities area dinner meeting and commented on the staff development day for classified staff and the upcoming Gospel and Gumbo event. Mr. Warkentin reported that he attended a contractor’s meeting this morning. The Multi Use Sports Complex is 16% complete. He reported that we now have a new project superintendent through EMJ Construction and things are moving quickly. He thanked the Board of Trustees for supporting the Lemoore Kiwanis/WHC Lemoore Valentine Dinner. Mr. Warkentin reported that his college is busy with the accreditation process and they need to their mission statement back to the Board. They will be reviewing performance indicators and making sure that they match up with the mission statement. In closing, Mr. Warkentin commented on the Wine and Wellness event coming up in March. The event is a fundraiser for the nursing program as they are raising money for their pinning ceremony.

Chancellor’s Report – Dr. Frank Gornick, Chancellor, thanked the Board of Trustees and all of the staff who were in attendance for the time spent at the Board Retreat. He stated that Dr. Barbara Beno was very pleased to see what we are doing in terms of the accreditation process. He stated that the Accrediting Commission will be holding their annual planning retreat March 17-19 and they will be discussing the scheduling of colleges and timing for the accreditation cycle.

Dr. Gornick commented on the great staff development day recently held with classified staff, stating that it was well attended and the participants learned a lot. He thanked Ken and his staff for arranging the details for the day. He stated that the 2011 staff development day will be held at West Hills College Coalinga.

The CVHEC Coordinating Council recently met with members of the Legislative Analyst’s Office at CSU Stanislaus. They discussed issues faced in higher education. Discussion also took place regarding California’s Master Plan, if it has served us well, and what it is doing for us now. The conclusion is that there is a need for greater coordination among the segments of higher education. The biggest complaint is the difficulty of transferring among the segments. Good discussion occurred at the meeting and the group is looking at ways in which to approach the legislature about setting up the system in a different way.

With regard to the Board of Trustees Retreat, Dr. Gornick stated that there are a few items that the Board will be reviewing and discussing over the next couple of months.

Those items include Robert's Rules of Order; the Board of Trustees self evaluation to be discussed in more detail; code of ethics training; and the review of the Board of Trustees handbook. At their retreat, the Board discussed athletics. The College Presidents and the Vice Chancellor of Institutional Effectiveness and Enrollment Management were assigned to prepare a report for the Board to review and discuss at their June meeting. The Board requested factual information about the athletic programs. Dr. Gornick stated that the end result will be a philosophical statement about athletics.

Dr. Gornick stated that the Board of Trustees must participate in ICS (Incident Command System) training. This is a two hour training session for elected officials. He asked that the Board members begin thinking about the possibility of having another study session to cover this item, along with the remaining items from the Board Retreat.

CONSENT AGENDA

Trustee Ivans asked for clarification on the third bullet of the Assistant Coach 1 job description. Dr. Lewallen stated that the second occurrence of the word "coach" is being used as a verb.

The following consent agenda items were approved on a motion by Trustee Ivans, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously:

- CA-35 Minutes – The minutes of the January 19, 2010 Board of Trustees meeting were approved as submitted.
- CA-36 Warrants – The warrants were approved as submitted.
- CA-37 Adult Student Temporary Salary Schedule – The changes to the adult student temporary salary schedule were approved as submitted.
- CA-38 Personnel Transactions – The list of personnel transactions were approved as submitted.

CHANCELLOR'S OFFICE

- CO-20 Resolution – Child Care Services – The resolution certifying approval for the instructional materials grant no. CIMS-9110-10-6213-00-0 in the amount of $1,781.00 for the 2009-2010 fiscal year was adopted on a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Oxborrow, and carried unanimously.

FISCAL SERVICES

FS-30 Fiscal Services Report - Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, provided the fiscal services report. He stated that we are 58.4% through the fiscal year. General fund revenues are at 62.6% and general fund expenditures are at 57.2%.

Trustee Minnite questioned if we are in better shape to date for the remainder of the fiscal year or if we will face the same problems as last year. Mr. Stoppenbrink responded that we are still in the same situation with regard to deferred apportionment; however, with the measures we have taken to cut expenditures and freeze spending, he stated that he believes we will be okay with our cash flow. This is being monitored on a monthly basis. Mr. Stoppenbrink stated that we have a BAN in place, but hope not to have to use it. Dr. Gornick commented on things that can affect us, including midyear reductions; projects that are moving forward that are bond funded; and allocations that come from the Public Works Board. He also commented on the state's credit rating. Discussion took place regarding FTE, stating that we have more than we need even with cuts to classes. We are becoming more efficient.

Mr. Kevin Cobb, district architect, distributed a revised spreadsheet on the facilities projects, stating that the numbers on this corrected documents more accurately reflect the information. The spreadsheet was corrected following the errors pointed out at the Board Retreat.

FS-31 Resolution - TRANs - The resolution in the matter of the district's participation in the 2010-2011 Piper Jaffray California Cash Reserve Program (Tax and Revenue Anticipation Notes - TRANs) was adopted on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Cantu, and carried unanimously. The resolution will allow, but does not obligate, the District to utilize the TRANs program. It is a means of interim cash flow financing only.

FS-32 Audit Report - Mr. Stoppenbrink introduced Mr. Bill Williams, auditor. Mr. Williams reported that there are no major changes to the audit report format. GASB was implemented this year and a portion of that liability is being recorded each year as long term liability. It is offset by expenditures paid out for retirees and how much is in the trust. There were no noted findings in the audit and the district is in good financial condition. Mr. Williams stated that the district has a good business office, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, and Chancellor. They are all doing an outstanding job.

Trustee Ivans questioned the recommendations. Mr. Stoppenbrink stated that the process has already been started. Some of the recommendations will tie back to the Foundation because of the fundraising activities.

Dr. Gornick commented on the discussion held at the Board Retreat about the efforts going into reducing transfers. He stated that the College Presidents are doing a great job. We are focusing on the technology that is available to us and are looking at all of these areas. Student debt has been discussed and staff are looking at processes. Good suggestions are coming out of the meetings that have been held to tighten the controls.

Trustee Oxborrow questioned the finding on page 2 of the letter to the Board of Trustees with regard to the farm. It was noted by the auditors that three out of 10 purchase orders were dated after the date on the invoice. Mr. Stoppenbrink commented on the district's procedure with confirming purchase orders. He stated that the procedure is to have a purchase order in place prior to the purchase. Memos have been sent to the offenders letting them know that they are liable for the purchase amount if a purchase order is not in place. Letters have also been sent to the vendors letting them know that they will not be paid by the district if there is no purchase order for the purchase. Mr. Stoppenbrink stated that the situation is getting better but there is still room for improvement. Trustee Oxborrow stated that we can't afford to have items ordered that we cannot afford. There needs to be accountability. Dr. Gornick commented on the use of open purchase orders and how this helps with the purchase process. Trustee Henry questioned how other institutions control this issue. Mr. Williams stated that this is a common problem and he commented on the possibility of utilizing internal audits or spot checks.

Trustee Levinson JL questioned the finding on page 1 which refers to Falcon Express. It was stated that this is the district's credit card process.

Trustee Oxborrow questioned page 30 and the statement that the district does not have a policy for custodial credit risk. Mr. Williams stated that this is a guideline that restricts the amount that can be invested in any one account. Brief discussion took place.

The 2008-2009 audit report was approved on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Cantu, and carried unanimously.

BOARD REPORTS / COMMENTS / REQUESTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Trustee Cantu thanked everyone for their great accomplishments.

Trustee Minnite expressed his thanks for the good news on the district's financial status. He stated that the Board Retreat was a positive and enriching experience and he thanked everyone who attended.

Trustee Ivans expressed her thanks for the good financial reports. She also thanked the grants office for the wonderful accomplishment on grants.

Trustee Henry commented on the Board Retreat and thanked everyone for their attendance. He stated that he was very impressed with Dr. Beno's statements with regard to the district. He thanked the staff for their hard work.

Trustee Oxborrow echoed the comments made by her fellow board members and stated that we have to keep doing a lot more with a lot less. She stated that it can be stressful, but hopefully things will turn around. Trustee Oxborrow expressed her appreciation for the work everyone is doing.

Trustee Levinson stated that he truly enjoyed the retreat and thought it was very enlightening. He stated that Dr. Carole Goldsmith's presentations were on the mark. Trustee Levinson commented on Ms. Ennes' comments, providing his perspective on compensation. He stated that we truly do care about our staff, faculty and management and he understands the concerns of the faculty. We have no idea where we are going to be because of the state, but we have a duty to our students and we do not want to turn them away. Trustee Levinson stated that the Board does not have a solution but will keep trying.

President McKean stated that we want to provide as many students as we can with a quality education.

President McKean announced that the next meeting of the Board of Trustees is scheduled for Monday, March 8, 2010.

RECONVENE TO OPEN SESSION

The meeting was reconvened to open session at 11:03 a.m.

President McKean announced that during closed session, the Board of Trustees directed the Chancellor to make the appropriate notifications to employees regarding the status of their grant funded positions.

REPORTS FROM ORGANIZATIONS / COLLEGES / DISTRICT OFFICE

Academic Senate Report - Ms. Anita Bart, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Coalinga, reported that the Senate is working on curriculum forms to make them more user friendly. They have also worked on the college level budget process and are working on tenure recommendations, policies and procedures.

Ms. Stephanie Droker, Academic Senate President for West Hills College Lemoore, reported that they are also in the middle of tenure recommendations, policies and procedures. She commented on the recent Wine and Wellness fundraiser and expressed her appreciation and congratulations to the culinary and nursing department faculty.

WHCFA Report - Ms. Marty Ennes, WHCFA President, commented on the upcoming March 15 deadline and the concerns of the faculty. She stated that everyone is working hard to come up with ideas and make sacrifices. She expressed her appreciation of the College Presidents to come up with ideas. Ms. Ennes commented on the resolution with regard to the reduction of academic positions, stating that the effects will have to be negotiated. She stated that it is sometimes easy to forget the people behind the positions. We see figures and dollar amounts, but not the people and the things that they do. Ms. Ennes commented on the work of Mike Rodriguez, Stephanie Droker, Tammy Larson, Tiffany McGee, Rupinder Rai, Kim Sheffield, Leisa Wyman, and Raymond Rawn.

CSEA Report – Mr. John Ieronimo, CSEA President, was not present to report at this time.

Student Trustee Report – Mr. Yohan Maeda, Student Trustee, stated that he does not have a report at this time.

West Hills College Coalinga and North District Center, Firebaugh – Dr. Willard Lewallen, President, reported on recent and upcoming events. He recognized Mr. Merlin Welch for his exemplary performance, stating that he was recently recognized as Contractor of the Year by LICA. LICA is a notional organization that has recognized Mr. Welch for his leadership in the organization.

West Hills College Lemoore – Mr. Don Warkentin, President, commented on the recent Wine and Wellness event which gave West Hills College Lemoore an opportunity to showcase its nursing and culinary programs. Mr. Warkentin thanked Ms. Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson, Dr. Marlon Hall, and Ms. Angela Barginear for their work on the recent Gospel and Gumbo event. He reported that the staff are busy working on accreditation. He will soon be bringing the college mission statement and performance indicators to the Board at an upcoming meeting. This is part of the accreditation process. The contractors on the multi use sports complex project are scheduled to pour the concrete slab this week.

Chancellor's Report – Dr. Frank Gornick, Chancellor, reported that he and other staff visited the Cisco headquarters in San Jose in February. They saw some of the latest and greatest technology and had an interesting visit. Dr. Gornick reported that a barbecue lunch will be held at noon on Friday at the district office to recognize Dr. Rick Post, whose last day with the West Hills Community College Foundation will be March 17. Dr. Gornick thanked Dr. Post for his work on the Wine and Wellness event.

Dr. Post distributed and discussed the quarterly report on recent Foundation activities including new members; upcoming golf tournament; the Wine and Wellness event; donations for the first quarter; member pledges; gift acceptance policy; amendments to the bylaws; IRS regulations; and new policies and procedures.

Dr. Gornick reviewed the Board of Trustees self evaluation results and trustees made several comments on the results, highlighting areas which they think they do a good job, and discussing areas where improvement is needed. Trustee Henry stated that the Board needs to follow Robert's Rules of Order. Trustee Oxborrow stated that she would like to have more information prior to the meeting and suggested having the PowerPoint presentations in advance. She stated that it is hard to make a decision when they don't have all the information. Trustee Ivans questioned if the Board is supposed to be more available for questions, or if they should be deferred to staff. President McKean posed this question to the audience. Ms. Ennes stated that the annual Board Retreat was an excellent way of making connections with Board members. Trustee Cantu commented on attending college and district events and stated that the distance sometimes makes it difficult to participate in all of the events.

Mr. Warkentin stated that the Board's self evaluation results are good information for Accreditation Standard IV.B.

Dr. Gornick provided a presentation on Robert's Rules of Order. Trustee Cantu questioned amending an existing motion and the process to override the initial motion. The information is contained in the presentation which will be provided to the Board of Trustees as a handout.

CONSENT AGENDA

The following consent agenda items were approved on a motion by Trustee Ivans, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously:

CA-39 Minutes - The minutes of the February 5 & 6, 2010 and February 16, 2010 Board of Trustees meetings were approved as submitted.

CA-40 Warrants - The warrants were approved as submitted.

CA-41 Out of State Travel - The following request for out of state travel was approved as submitted:

- Approximately 15 agriculture students to travel to the following locations during the March 26 - April 3, 2010 spring break:
 - Klamath Falls, Oregon
 - Wells, Nevada
 - Salt Lake City, Utah
 - Laramie, Wyoming
 - Fort Collins, Colorado
 - Grand Junction, Colorado
 - Las Vegas, Nevada (Hoover Dam)

CA-42 Personnel Transactions - The list of personnel transactions were approved as submitted.

CHANCELLOR'S OFFICE

CO-21 Curriculum Committee Action Report - West Hills College Lemoore - The curriculum committee action report for West Hills College Lemoore was approved on a motion by Trustee Minnite, seconded by Trustee Cantu, and carried unanimously.

- CO-22 Nomination – CCC Classified Employee of the Year – The nomination of Mark Millett for the California Community Colleges Classified Employee of the Year Award was approved on a motion by Trustee Oxborrow, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously.

FISCAL SERVICES

- FS-33 Fiscal Services Report – Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink, Vice Chancellor of Business Services, provided the fiscal services report. He stated that we are 66.7% through the fiscal year. General fund revenues are at 66.1% and general fund expenditures are at 48.2%.

Jack Minnite questioned the expenses for the North District Center, stating that they always seem to be 1 or 2% above the others. He also questioned transfers out. Mr. Stoppenbrink stated that he would have to get the detailed information on the inquiry with regard to North District Center expenses and provide it at a later time. With regard to the transfers, Mr. Stoppenbrink explained the annual expenditure for the COP Audit. He stated that the calculations were based on the SFIDs but he will have to do some additional research for the specific information.

- FS-34 Midyear Budget Adjustments – Mr. Stoppenbrink explained that the P1 adjustments just came out about two weeks ago. He explained the differences in the ending balance and provided a brief presentation on the midyear budget adjustments.

The midyear budget adjustments were approved on a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Cantu, and carried unanimously.

- FS-35 Facilities Update Report – Mr. Stoppenbrink commented on the surprise visit by the San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District. The following items were cited: above ground gas tank at the district office; boiler at West Hills College Coalinga; dust control plan at construction site at West Hills College Lemoore; and commercial emissions at West Hills College Lemoore. We do not know what the cost of the violations will be; however, the fine will be in the range of $1,500 – $5,000. Trustee Oxborrow requested that a follow up report be provided at a later date.

Mr. Kevin Cobb addressed the facilities projects in the district. With regard to the ag science project, Mr. Cobb explained the memo that will be necessary in order to proceed to the next phase. Discussion took place regarding the PMI funding issue of December, 2008 and a disclaimer that is needed stating that the district is financially prepared to cover the cost. The state will reimburse the district at a later date. The deadline to award this project is June. Dr. Gornick stated that at this time the Board is being alerted of the state's new conditions because of the poor bond performance.

It was stated that the Lemoore Redevelopment Agency (RDA) contribution for the multi use sports complex project is not going to materialize. We have a couple of options. The recommendation is to continue looking for other funding sources. We are currently taking the position that we will find a way of funding the portion of the funds anticipated from the RDA. In the meantime, we will need to earmark future SFID dollars. Dr. Gornick stated that we are aggressively looking at other sources to backfill the $3.2 million by way of naming opportunities. We are currently waiting for a response. Trustee Henry commented that one of the members of the city council suggested that instead of asking the RDA to participate with $3.2 million, we instead ask to borrow the money from the RDA. They may be in a position to lend. It was stated that it would be strictly a loan and no other conditions would apply.

FS-36 Notice of Completion - The notice of completion for the West Hills College Coalinga ag science facility irrigation project was approved on a motion by Trustee Cantu, seconded by Trustee Levinson, and carried unanimously.

FS-37 Escrow Agreement - The escrow agreement for security deposit in lieu of retention for the West Hills College Lemoore Multi Use Sports Complex was approved on a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Minnite, and carried unanimously.

PERSONNEL SERVICES

PS-6 Resolution - Layoff and/or Reduction of Academic Positions - The resolution in the matter of layoff and/or reduction of academic positions was adopted on a motion by Trustee Levinson, seconded by Trustee Ivans, and carried unanimously.

BOARD REPORTS / COMMENTS / REQUESTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Trustee Cantu expressed his congratulations to Mr. Welch. He expressed his regrets for having to reduce the contracts of the faculty and stated that hopefully things will change in the near future.

Trustee Minnite expressed his thanks to everyone. He stated that we all play an important part in the success and accomplishments of the district. He appreciates the sacrifices everyone has made. He stated that we have a team that is impenetrable and we will continue to be successful.

Trustee Ivans thanked everyone for their reports and stated that good publicity has been received on the accomplishments of our people. She stated that she hope not to have to lay off any employees. Trustee Ivans thanks Dr. Post for his work with the Foundation.

Trustee Henry thanked those who participated for supporting the Wine and Wellness event. He stated that it was nice to see a large level of participation by the community. He also thanked Dr. Post for his work and expressed his congratulations to Mr. Welch. Mr. Henry stated that the staff has shown extraordinary efforts during these hard financial times and he expressed his thanks to everyone.

Trustee Oxborrow expressed her thanks to everyone, stating that it is not easy. We are doing the best we can with the information, abilities, and constraints that we have. She stated that she appreciates everyone and it is nice to hear accolades about the staff. Trustee Oxborrow expressed her congratulations to Mr. Welch and her thanks to Dr. Post.

Trustee Levinson echoed the comments made by his fellow Board members. He wished Dr. Post good luck and thanked Ms. Ennes for putting a personal face on the employees.

President McKean expressed his thanks to Ms. Ennes for her comments and stated that he feels the Board has always done everything within their power before effecting a layoff. He stated that we have to secure the financial well being of the institution above all else and the Board will continue to do everything possible to keep staff intact.

President McKean announced that the next meeting of the Board of Trustees is scheduled for Tuesday, April 20, 2010.

Administrative Procedure 2715 Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice

Reference: Accreditation Standard IV.B.1.a, e, and h

The Board of Trustees shall periodically review the Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice policy to be sure it continues to be an effective guide for Board behavior. The Board shall foster awareness of ethical expectation by:

- Ensuring that all trustees are aware of the Board's ethical expectation by providing the policy to all trustees and having it available at Board meetings.
- Including a review of the Code of Ethics when orienting new trustees.
- Using the standards in the Code of Ethics as criteria in the Board self-evaluation process.
- Identifying consequences for violations of the code of ethics.

Types of Violations

There are three major categories of laws that address ethical behavior by public officials:

- Financial Interests – Conflicts of interest laws prohibit trustees from financially benefiting from Board decisions, or acting on matters that benefit family members.
- Fair and Open Decision-Making – California's open and public meetings laws (the Brown Act) require that the public's business be done in public. Examples of violations include making decisions in private or that should be made in public meetings, discussing items that have not been noticed to the public, and violating provisions that closed session information shall be kept confidential.
- Use of Public Funds – It is felony to misuse public funds. Examples include claiming expenses that were not incurred and using college resources for personal or political purposes.

Violating the Board's Code of Ethics

In some cases, behaviors may violate the Board's code of ethics or standards of practice, but do not violate the law. Examples of violations include:

- Attacking other trustees or the Board President in public
- Publicly advocating against Board decisions after they are made
- Sabotaging the work of the Board
- Ongoing and substantial attempts by trustees to administer, rather than govern the district, which violates the separation of CEO and Board roles.
 - Ignoring the local decision-making process and communication protocols by working directly with staff members
 - Telling college staff whom they should hire
 - Attempting to direct the day-to-day duties of staff members

Administrative Procedure 2715
Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice

- Advocating a single interest instead of the common public good
 - Ignoring the broad range of public needs in community college education
 - Appearing to be agents of a union, a specific community group, or a business interest

Actual or perceived violations of the law must be dealt with expeditiously and legal advice should be sought. A study session or workshop may be appropriate for the entire Board if it appears that trustees may be unaware of the law.

Consequences of Violations

The Chancellor and Board President are authorized to consult with legal counsel when they become aware of or are informed about actual or perceived violations of pertinent laws and regulations including, but not limited to, conflict of interest, open and public meetings, confidentiality of closed session information, and use of public resources. Violations of law may be referred to the District Attorney or Attorney General as provided for in law.

Violations of the Board's code of ethics policy will be addressed by the Board President who will first discuss the violation with the trustee to reach a resolution. If resolution is not achieved and further action is deemed necessary, the Board President may appoint an ad hoc committee to examine the matter and recommend further courses of action to the Board. Sanctions will be determined by the Board officers [or committee] and may include a recommendation to the Board to censure of the trustee. If the Board President is perceived to have violated the code, the Vice President of the Board is authorized to pursue resolution.

Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson, Vice President of Educational Services, West Hills College Lemoore
Dave Bolt, Vice President of Educational Services, West Hills College Lemoore

Introduction of Guests

Ms. Frances Squire introduced the following guests: Mr. Brandon Broussard and Mr. Arakel Arisian from Yamabe and Horn Engineering, Inc.

Public Comments

There were no public comments made at this time.

STUDY SESSION

Mendota WIT Center Partnership – Dr. Frank Gornick commented on recent conversations with Mendota landowners regarding the location of the Westside Institute of Technology (WIT). He commented on looking at future growth and where we might want to locate. Mr. Arakel Arisian and Mr. Brandon Broussard are present at the meeting to provide the Board of Trustees with an update. Mr. Arisian stated that he and Mr. Broussard are present on behalf of the Coelho family. Dr. Gornick stated that this is a study session and the Board will just be hearing the presentation. Mr. Arisian stated that the project they are working on is south of Mendota High School. They are working with approximately 640 acres. The property represents a good portion of the growth of the city and could be a potential new home for the WIT. The proposed site for the WIT is 15 acres. Discussion took place regarding Highway 180 and water. Trustee Minnite questioned the economic stimulus for the project and stated that he would like to see the WIT more prominent in the placement on the property because of the work they are doing. Mr. Arisian stated that they can definitely look at that. Dr. Gornick again reiterated that he just wanted the Board to have an update on the progress being made. He stated that this project would be a great location for a permanent facility for the WIT and we only want 15 acres. He stated that we can provide truck driving training there but we do not want more land for which we have to take care. He stated that having a place we can get people to would be great.

Trustee Ivans arrived during this presentation.

Facilities Update – At this time Mr. Kevin Cobb, district architect, provided a presentation on facilities for the Board of Trustees.

- Bid for Farm of the Future – Mr. Cobb explained that the project is scheduled to go out to bid in April, with bids being opened in May. Construction would begin in August and would be a 16 month duration including the farm lab building. Mr. Cobb explained the disclaimer memo being required by the Department of Finance. He discussed the cash flow demands if there were to be a delay in reimbursements. Trustee Minnite questioned if we would qualify for a state loan. Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink stated that we would need to go through the application and approval process. He stated that he would recommend a ten year note. Trustee Henry questioned if we could use a similar disclaimer when we go out to bid. Mr. Cobb stated that legal counsel for another district has reviewed this issue and does not think it would be appropriate. Discussion took place regarding cash flow being taken care of by Bond Anticipation Notes (BANs).
- Solar Field – Mr. Cobb commented on new regulations being delayed until 2011. PG&E is supporting the November legislation in order to relieve their commitment to renewal goals. Mr. Cobb explained the opportunity to negotiate directly with PG&E to obtain incentives and criteria prior to regulations.

- District Office – With regard to the new district office, Mr. Cobb explained that staff are currently involved with the design process and he is meeting with stakeholders in each department. The building will be approximately 26,000 square feet and will include growth space. The project could be funded with a solar finance package and energy savings.
- North District Center Facility Plans – EIR public meeting for the North District Center have been completed and we are awaiting comments. Mr. Cobb reported that the parking expansion will begin over the summer.
- West Hills College Coalinga Wellness Center – Mr. Cobb reported that the West Hills College Coalinga Wellness Center is scheduled for full occupancy in August. The infrastructure work is 75% complete.
- Coalinga Sports Park – Mr. Cobb explained the partnership with the City of Coalinga for a soccer park. The process will be managed by the City of Coalinga as lead agency. The project is planned to go out to bid this summer. The main connections for the infrastructure for the storm drainage system were installed during the site work for the Wellness Center.
- West Hills College Lemoore Multi Use Sports Complex – Construction continues on the Multi Use Sports Complex. Mr. Cobb reported that steel construction is in progress and the facility is scheduled for full occupancy in March 2011.

Code of Ethics/Standards of Practice Review – Dr. Gornick explained that it is time for the Board of Trustees to have ethics training again. He explained that there are numerous options for training including online, training by district legal counsel, or using an outside agency. The Board members agreed that they would prefer to have the training conducted face to face and will schedule an additional meeting for the purposes of conducting the training.

ADJOURNMENT

There being no further items for discussion, the study session was adjourned at 11:41 a.m.

Mr. Warkentin called the meeting to order at 10:13 a.m.

1.0 Accreditation Update

Mr. Warkentin reported that the WHCL accreditation visit will be March 7 – 10, 2011. The team members will arrive on Sunday and make a visit to the District Office on Monday morning. Both WHCC and WHCL will be visited. WHCC's team chair will be the president from the Ventura College District. WHCL's team chair will be Rosa Carlson, president of Porterville College. The WHCC team will stay at Harris Ranch and the WHCL team will stay at the Tachi Hotel. A month prior to the visit the team chairs and their assistants will meet with the Colleges and District Office. One aspect the team will look at is how we communicate with our District Office staff. Mr. Warkentin reiterated that this committee, President's Intercommunication Team (PIT), conducts monthly meetings to dialogue with the District Offices. He reviewed the PIT mission statement and its membership.

The WHCL self study draft has been sent out and we are awaiting feedback from the district office staff. The WHCL Planning and Governance Council (PGC) will take action on the self study in October with Board of Trustees action to follow in October/November. The Study will need to be mailed out to the team in January. Evidence documents will be scanned and accessible via links through the website. The WHCL team room will be in the conference center room 256. It will be partitioned off for individual meetings and opened up for the larger meetings.

Susan announced that she will be participating on an accrediting team in Oxnard and she had just returned from training. A few of the issues WASC has concern with are: Resource allocation (whether it is integrated into resource planning) also, whether colleges have a plan in place for reimbursement to reserves. SLO will not be a sanction; however, proficiency is expected by 2012; continuous quality improvement is the next level. Non proficiency by 2012 will be a recommendation. Mr. Warkentin added that recommendations may bring a follow up visit which he intends to avoid. Susan will send a bulleted list of her observations from the training. Additionally, she reported that she learned that the data we present should also be analyzed. Another issue concerns international students and if colleges are meeting their special needs. The data about incoming students should include international students. The international program at WHCCD generates about the equivalent of 200 FTES per year. WASC wants to see that SLO for online programs are managed the same as face to face and that success, retention, and persistence rates are comparative to face to face student achievement. Student achievement relates to certificates, degrees, and SLO (what they walk away with in their head).

Mr. Warkentin announced that he is chairing an accreditation team to Evergreen Valley College and Jose Lopez is on a team at Miramar College in San Diego in October. After all have participated on teams they will convene for dialogue.

2.0 Budget Update

Ken Stoppenbrink stated that the District budget for 2010-2011 was approved in August despite the fact the state does not have a budget. Communication from the State Chancellor's Office is that there is a budget eminent. Apportionment has not been received and currently we are using reserves which should take us to October. The state is paying IOU's with the challenge being how long the banks will honor the IOU'S. Ken does not expect an approved budget soon. All districts will be in the same situation. Mr. Warkentin reported that he had spoken with EECU Manager, Lisa Franks, and EECU is preparing to provide interest free payroll loans. The loans would also be available to elementary and high schools in the valley. Frances interjected that there is speculation that a budget will be approved after the November elections are over. Ken stated that there are monies in capital outlay projects that could be pulled to put in the general fund if necessary. Frances will contact Lisa Franks to question the details. Bob asked if there would be concern with the bond monies and the continuance of construction. Ken does not see any delays in construction. Bob asked if budgets would be frozen. Ken responded that the same procedure as in past will likely be in place which would freeze budgets before the end of the fiscal year. He reiterated that the state is holding $6 million a year out of our apportionment and will pay it next fiscal year.

This is why a freeze has to be put on our spending. Mr. Warkentin stated that he had been informed that we will not receive MAA checks until the state budget passes even though MAA is federal monies. Ken reported that WHCCD is in excellent shape. The normal budget planning process will continue in the spring.

Ken questioned if in WHCL'S perspective on budget if there is a flow or are there areas that need to improve. Mr. Warkentin replied that aside from no budget in the last few years, an area to strengthen is the need for a formal response mechanism from the district to acknowledge prioritized budget requests. Currently, when Anne Jorgens reports lottery dollars have been received, the Budget Allocation Committee revisits the priority lists. There needs to be a response form. As new monies become available we need a communication piece. Ken responded in agreement and recommends this be further discussed at the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet as it is needed district-wide. Cathy stated that she would like to see priority 3 lists to know what has been requested.

3.0 Program Review Schedule

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the District Office program review schedule. If there are reviews not showing that have been completed, please let he or Dave Bolt know.

4.0 New Grants Program

Cathy Barabe reported that she had informed Mr. Warkentin about CTE equipment monies available. Additionally, she has found monies for two child development classes for spring and fall. She has talked to Dave Bolt about adding science classes for spring as there is funding for online and/or face to face classes. She is working with the Avenal school districts regarding the educational center and she needs feedback on signage, i.e. WHC Center at Avenal, WHC Avenal Learning Center. There will be staff stationed at the outreach sites. It is expected that the students will be nontraditional. Susan asked about the Title V grant approval. Cathy responded that she had not heard. The Student Services Grant will not be received.

5.0 FTES Update

In the absence of Mr. Avila, no report was given.

6.0 Other

Frances Squire made event announcements as follows:

- Washington Monthly magazine has named NDC the 34th best college in America based on SICEE survey rates. There will be a celebration on 9/23 at 5:00 p.m. in Firebaugh.
- On October 10th Karl Rove will be speaking at WHCC. This will be announced on KMJ. Rove's visit will be advertised in Paso Robles also. Tickets are $30 in advance. Doors open at 5:00 p.m. with Rove to speak at 6:15 p.m. Seating will be on a first come, first served basis.
- On October 11th there will be an pianist/organist concert at WHCC.

- On October 16th is the Hall of Fame dinner at WHCC. A dedication of the gym will also be held that day.
- Veteran Student Club Association will hold a 9/11 event today (9/9/2010) with lunch provided and Dr. Marlon Hall will be the keynote speaker.

The next meeting is scheduled on October 14, 2010.

Updated: 2/2/2010 PGC

Sending on behalf of President Warkentin:

October 22, 2010

It was my pleasure to welcome students who were participating in our fourth Student Town Hall meeting today. We had almost 80 students, many from Vera Kennedy's classes and AGS members, eager to provide their input into how we can make West Hills Lemoore a better college for our students. Students are our first priority and any input we can receive from students concerning our schedule of courses, facilities, programs, activities, accommodations, and services will only provide great feedback as we continue planning for improvement. We have developed a very active student body this year and our goal is to keep the momentum going. Thanks to Jody and Vera for their leadership for this event. We look forward to seeing the results and suggestions.

- Candidates Night – Many thanks to Angela Barginear, Joy Jones, Brian Kron and our SIFE team for their hard work in organizing a great candidate's night last Wednesday. We had the two candidates for state Senate District 16 and one candidate for Assembly District 20 along with city council candidates for Hanford seats and Lemoore seats. All in all it was a great event and showcased our campus to many who have never visited. We had a packed house with many community folks in attendance as well as 98 students. Also a special thanks to Stephanie Droker for arranging for county Assessor Ken Baird for serving as the moderator.
- Staff Development – Also on Wednesday, Marlon and our Employee Success and Staff Development Committee arranged motivational speaker Marc Jones to speak to us about contributing positively to the organization. His basic message centered on creating a strong foundation (stake) that will allow all to grow individually and grow the college. If we have a strong foundation we can grow "vines" that will create other strong programs. Marlon reports that the conference center was full of faculty, staff, and students along with community visitors and folks from our Coalinga campus. Thanks to all for a great staff development committee.
- Are You Smarter Than a Fifth Grader – Our Team T.E.A.C.H. folks held a very interesting event last Tuesday whereby members were able to test their knowledge with fifth graders from our University Charter School. James said it was a blast. This is a great way to demonstrate the partnership we have with our charter folks and provide a fun way for learning. You need to check out the Team T.E.A.C.H. website and scroll down to the "Are You Smarter Than a Fifth Grader" link and take the test. I was afraid I'd flunk so maybe next week I'll try the exam.

- Learning Community Learns Archery Techniques - Jacqui and Neomi's Learning Community class solicited the aid of Rodney Ragsdale and his archery class to give them an archery lesson. The Learning Community class is reading the book "Hunger Games" and the main character is an expert with the bow and arrow. Having a lesson in archery provided better insight for the class to understand the character and the skill involved in archery. Rodney also recruited students for his archery class this spring. This was a great way to expand a lesson into real life activities.
- Accreditation – Sylvia, Jose, and I recently returned from our accreditation team visits and we will be discussing great ideas as we prepare for our visit this spring. Jose went to Miramar College in San Diego and Sylvia and I traveled to Evergreen College in San Jose. We all feel we are making great progress as we compare ourselves to others, but we must continue the process.
- Athletics – Congratulations to lady golfer Tammie Alaniz for shooting her personal best of 84 in Tuesday's conference match at Fig Garden Golf Course in Fresno. Tammie led the team to a third place finish ahead of Reedley and COS. Fresno and Canada College are leading the conference thus far. Our men's soccer team is tied for first place with Fresno City after their 0-0 tie last Friday.

Have a great weekend!

Introduction

West Hills College Lemoore (WHCL) opened its doors in January 2002 with initial facilities that included a library/learning resource center, academic learning center, and administrative/student services building. In 2005, the college added phase two facilities which included additional classrooms, vocational laboratories, and a child development center.

WHCL received its initial accreditation in June 2006 making it the only full service accredited college in Kings County. In November, 2008, the voters approved Measure E in the amount of $31 million which is being used as matching funds to construct phase three facilities. These projects include a multiuse sports complex, additional field sports, an additional academic center, a performing arts center, and additional administrative offices. Phase three construction began in October 2009 with the ground breaking of the multiuse sports complex.

The College's Strategic Plan serves as the roadmap to guide the development of the college's Educational Master Plan, Facilities Master Plan, the Technology Master Plan, and the Distance Education Master Plan. Combined these plans assist the college in meeting its goals and evaluating its programs and services.

Each year, a broadly represented group of faculty, staff, students, community members and administration meet to review and revise the College's Strategic Plan to better identify and address the needs of the community we serve.

WHCL's mission statement appropriately identifies who our students are and signifies a commitment to student learning outcomes utilizing innovation, goal orientated strategies, and community partnerships to provide excellent learning opportunities. We have identified institutional outcomes that will prepare our students with the skills and experiences needed to succeed in the world of work or to transfer to four year institutions of higher learning.

Through a process of regular evaluation and review, we will be able to constantly update and revise programs or develop new programs to meet current demand. Our faculty will be equipped with the latest technology and means of delivery to provide high quality instructional experiences to our students. Faculty will have access to the latest training opportunities to further enhance their curriculum and course delivery modalities.

Our students will have at their disposal high quality support services to assist them with obtaining their educational goals.

Executive Summary

From the beginning WHCL has recognized the importance of responding to the community. Through advisory committees meetings and meetings with public sector representatives, private industry, and neighboring institutions of higher learning, the college has developed programs and services that are proactively addressing community educational and workforce requirements. Not only do such programs meet the employer needs of the area, but they also offer work training opportunities to students who are underrepresented, many of whom struggle academically.

WHCL's collaborating partners are vital to our students' success. WHCL has on-going partnerships with the local hospitals, workforce investments boards (WIBS), county administrative offices, local feeder high schools, four year universities, as well as many industry representatives.

The development of recent educational programs such as the associate degree in nursing, culinary arts certificates, maintenance mechanic certificate, health and human services certificates, and the associate's degree in web development are shining examples of WHCL's commitment to collaboration, developing career pathways, and exceeding our local community's workforce development needs.

WHCL's commitment to the community is strengthened by supporting various programs and services on and off campus. These programs and services include a grant funded by Kings County to offer GED Preparation Classes to assist adults who have not yet graduated from high school, local business events like the Chamber of Commerce Pizza Festival to increase local business visibility, upper division and post baccalaureate courses from Fresno Pacific University and CSU Fresno, and community education courses that provide learning enrichment for our neighboring citizens.

In addition, the college is responsive to the needs of Naval Air Station Lemoore. With a base resident population of approximately 7,000 active military personnel and dependents, the college is a valued source of education for the base. The college maintains an office and classrooms on the base, but most base students also come to the college campus. The needs of these personnel are varied, ranging from newly enlisted servicemen who may have little education and are in need of basic classes, to highly educated military personnel and dependents. WHCL seeks to offer courses to meet the spectrum of requirements, and works closely with base officials to select and design these courses.

WHCL faculty, staff, and administrators also know that education does not only occur within the classroom. In order to enhance the learning opportunities of the community we serve, WHCL provides outreach services and brings local events to broaden social awareness of diverse socio-economic issues. Previous events have included nationally recognized authors, cultural celebrations, visiting delegates from other nations, and political activists.

Strategic Planning Process

As a result of the West Hills Community College District's strategic planning process, West Hills College Lemoore has developed its own strategic plan to align with the district's mission, vision, and strategic goals.

The strategic planning process begins each fall semester with the identification of administrators, faculty, staff, students, and community members who will make up the Strategic Planning Committee. The purpose of this committee is to evaluate, revise, and improve the college's strategic plan. Although this plan is a long term commitment to the college's mission and vision, annual review is required to keep our institution focused on current trends and changes that affect our students' total development. This annual review ensures accuracy, relevancy, and alignment with the district's overall mission. The college's performance indicators are assessed annually to ensure adherence to the college's mission and vision statements.

Planning meetings consist of information gathering sessions which include an internal and external scan. The internal scan includes discussion of student demographics (current and anticipated), student success indicators, college needs and challenges, and an assessment of our successes and our opportunities for growth. The external scan includes discussion of population trends, economic growth, job training needs, impact of the Lemoore Naval Air Station, and other external factors that will affect the college.

The success of the strategic planning process is dependent upon the college's shared governance system. Responses from the strategic planning sessions are tracked and mapped to specific committee or department personnel for implementation. Timelines are determined and a communication network has been developed to inform the college shareholders of these outcomes.

The Strategic Planning Committee (its participating students, faculty, staff, administrators, and community members) are to be commended for their commitment to our college and for their collaborative efforts in support of our comprehensive planning process. Successful implementation of the college strategic plan and its evaluation will require the ongoing participation of the shared governance process (councils/committees, college students, faculty and staff, and the community) as we work together to achieve our mission, vision, and goals.

Mission/Vision and Institutional Outcomes

Mission Statement

West Hills College Lemoore enriches the lives of our students and the community we serve by being dedicated to quality educational learning opportunities and partnerships. The college provides a positive environment that is committed to student learning and empowering students to achieve their educational goals.

Vision Statement

Learning Through Excellence and Innovation.

Institutional Outcome 1 - WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community.

Measurements:

1. Community Participation Rates
2. High School Graduates Participation Rates
3. Overall Success Rates
4. Overall Retention Rates
5. Persistence Rates (continuous enrollment)
6. Student Learning Outcomes Implementation and assessment

Guiding Principles

West Hills College Lemoore is student-centered and is dedicated to providing high quality learning opportunities. We are guided by our core values:

- Access: Ensure accessibility to all our programs and services.
- Collaboration: Emphasize efforts to understand and meet community needs and garner community support. Support collaborative decision-making processes.
- Community: Develop and foster a sense of community within the college.
- Diversity: Respect and embrace diversity in our programs and learning environments.
- Excellence: Provide high quality learning, teaching, and service opportunities.
- Innovation: Support innovation and technology to enhance learning environments, services, and communication.
- Integrity: Advocate and demonstrate honesty, truthfulness, equity, and ethics.
- Mutual Respect: Promote an environment of open communication.

Themes

There are several “themes” woven into each of the Institutional Outcomes and their respective success indicators.

Institutional Commitments to provide high quality educational programs and services consistent with the institutional and college mission by focusing on student learning;

Evaluation, Planning, and Improvement is an ongoing process that includes goal setting; distribution of funding, facilities and staffing; implementation, and reevaluation;

Student Learning Outcomes demonstrates the college’s effectiveness to produce and support student learning by developing student learning outcomes at the course, program, certificate, and degree level;

Organization is demonstrated by having adequate staff, resources and a shared governance decision-making process to identify and make public: student learning outcomes, to evaluate the effectiveness of programs in producing those outcomes, and to make improvements;

Dialogue is open and honest participation in the college’s process of self-reflection based on reliable information about the college’s programs and services and evidence on how well the institution is meeting student needs;

Institutional Integrity is demonstrated by concern with honesty, truthfulness, and the manner in which the college represents itself to all communities, internal and external.

Data Analysis

Strategic Planning provides an opportunity to evaluate the demographics and characteristics of our students and their educational goals. We use this data (performance indicators) to discern patterns and trends. This information also provides different modalities of assessment to ensure that we are achieving our institutional outcomes.

WHCL's performance indicators are mapped back to our mission statement and institutional outcomes. Data is collected annually to address and measure each institutional outcome.

Institutional Outcome 1 - WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community. Providing quality education is the mission of West Hills College Lemoore. In order to evaluate our performance for this institutional outcome, data is collected from different sources and used as key measurements to determine the college's level of achievement. Measurements include: Community Participation Rates, High School Graduates Participation Rates, Overall Success Rates, Overall Retention Rates, Persistence Rates (continuous enrollment), and Student Learning Outcomes Implementation and Assessment.

For the 2008 – 2009 academic year, it was noted that Avenal and Kettleman City have the lowest population participation rates (1.a). These two cities are located farthest from the WHCL campus. This data supports the idea that a campus center is needed in Avenal. Strategy: Funds from the recent bond measure have been allocated to develop a center (to provide classes and support programs) in Avenal.

Another trend to note concerns retention rates (1.c). Retention rates have been on a declining trend for the past four years. Retention has a direct impact on student success rates; therefore, success rates have declined at almost the same rate as retention. Online retention rates are about 5 percentage points below face-to-face retention rates. Strategy: This issue was discussed at the Distance Education Strategic Planning retreat and has become a top priority for the Distance Education program.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLO) Assessment (1.d) continues to drive the college's curricula evaluation review process. SLO have been written for all college courses, and faculty and staff have persisted to develop and assess outcomes for programs and services. Strategy: Continue SLO development and assessment to ensure curricula and support services are evaluated consistently and accurately.

Institutional Outcome 2 - WHCL is committed to empower students to achieve their educational goals. Empowering students is the mission of West Hills College Lemoore. Institutional outcome measurements are: Basic Skills Math Successful Course Completion and Retention Rates, Basic Skills English as a Second Language (ESL) Successful Course

Completion and Retention Rates, Basic Skills English Successful Course Completion and Retention Rates, Vocational Courses Successful Course Completion and Retention Rates, and Degree and Certificate Completion Rates, and Transfers Rates to Four Year Institutions.

For this institutional outcome, it is noted that Basic Skills English Success Rates are comparable to the statewide average. In addition, English as a Second Language (ESL) and Math success rates are well above the state wide average. It should be noted that about 50% of first-term students are placing into basic skills English and Math. WHCL's commitment to students who meet basic skills academic levels is commendable. Data supports the idea that WHCL's English Lab (a tutoring lab to support basic skills programs in this discipline) assists students to achieve their academic goals.

Vocational Courses Success and Retention Rates (2.b) continue to be below our peer group benchmark average. For the past three years, our vocational success rates have been one of the lowest in the state. It has become apparent that the classroom format (open entry lab) for the Business and Computer Science courses have consistently generated low success rates. Data supports the idea that an open entry classroom lab must be adjusted to a more traditional classroom format in order to promote student success. Strategy: Change Business and Computer Science courses from open entry lab format to traditional classroom format.

Institutional Outcome 3 - WHCL will effectively maintain and increase its resources and productivity. Measurements for this institutional outcome are: Monitor Student Headcount, Meet Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) Goals, Successful Grant Acquisitions, and Increase Revenue Generated by Outside Capitol Campaign Activities.

WHCL (and the district as a whole) has steadily increased student head count and full time equivalency rates (FTES). In fact, with the current state budget issues, the California Community College Chancellor's Office (system office), has decreased WHCL's FTES generation quota in order to meet the state budget cuts. These cuts are in spite of the increasing student enrollment that all California Community Colleges are facing.

WHCL has also been very successful with increasing access to soft money funding through grants and in-kind services. In the 2008 – 2009 academic year alone, WHCL received nearly $5 million in soft money funding. Strategy: Continue to work with the district's grant and marketing departments to capitalize on additional grant acquisitions and in kind service donations to augment district budget cuts where possible.

Goal 1 - WHCL is committed to provide quality education to students and the community.

West Hills College Lemoore

Educational Master Plan
2008

*Preliminary Draft V.4.1
October 30, 2008*

President's Message

West Hills College Lemoore, one of California's newest community colleges, is well prepared to meet the educational needs of the twenty-first century. Our Educational Master Plan will demonstrate that we are on the cutting edge and have the capacity to adapt to new and emerging educational technologies to serve a wide variety of student needs.

Our facilities, instructional programs, support services, and technology are state of the art and will allow us to keep pace in an ever-changing environment. As you read through our Educational Master Plan, you will see how we value our demographic and student data in the decision making processes. We also utilize information from our area employers in job forecasting and training needs. Information is vital to keeping our offerings current and providing the support mechanisms and resources to ensure our students are the best educated and prepared to reach their educational goals.

The development of a comprehensive educational master plan requires many hours of planning, discussions, meetings, and research involving all constituents throughout the college and also district office personnel. A plan of this nature not only informs us about who we are, but where we will be heading for the next several years. Our plan will serve as a foundation, but it also will be a template for many future updates as the college continues to grow and serve the communities of the south valley.

We hope you will find this document to be both informative and also a guide to our continued growth and expansion of the campus. You will continue to see new facilities emerge and new programs come online, adhering to our processes outlined in our Educational Master Plan.

I look forward with great anticipation to the next several years with West Hills College Lemoore.

Don Warkentin
President
West Hills College Lemoore

The WHC Lemoore Educational Master Plan (EMP) development process was facilitated by planning consultant GKK Works and the WHCCD Office of Institutional Effectiveness and Planning. The process began with a kick-off meeting on April 18, 2008 to discuss the EMP framework. A follow-up meeting took place on May 13, 2008 where faculty representatives and administrators reviewed the first draft of the EMP and provided feedback and direction. A third meeting was held on July 28, 2008 where a preliminary draft of the EMP was presented to faculty representatives and college administrators. It is important to note that the program goals, found under the instructional section of the EMP, were directly derived from the college's program review documents. During the fall 2008 Duty Day (August 8, 2008), the instructional section of the EMP was reviewed by Lemoore faculty in attendance. The preliminary draft of the EMP is scheduled for a first reading by the Board of Trustees on October 28, 2008 and by the Lemoore Planning and Governance Council on November 6, 2008.

WHC Lemoore is immensely grateful to these individuals who have volunteered to assist with this important plan. Their work will continue as we implement and refine our plan in the coming years. Participants are as follows:

Stephanie Atkinson-Alston - Dean of Educational Services, WHCL
Pedro Avila - Director of Institutional Effectiveness & Planning, WHCCD
Dave Bolt - VP of Educational Services, WHCL
David Babb - Biology Instructor/SLO Coordinator, WHCL
Robert Clement - Director of Athletics, WHCL
Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson - Associate Dean of Categorical Programs, WHCL
Stephanie Droker - Work Experience Instructor/Academic Senate President, WHCL
Dr. Carole Goldsmith - Director of Title V/Workforce Connection, WHCCD
Dr. Frank Gornick - Chancellor, WHCCD
Lataria Hall - DSPS Counselor, WHCL
Marlon Hall - Associate Dean of Educational Services, WHCL

Intent of the Educational Master Plan

The West Hills College Lemoore Educational Master Plan (EMP) provides a reference point and framework for the future of the college. It includes a thorough data review of the recent past and present of the college's overall instructional program. While maintaining the integrity of the college's vision, mission and strategic goals, the EMP draws a blueprint for implementing emerging educational objectives.

More specifically, the EMP focuses on the service area, students, staff, and programs of West Hills College Lemoore. Matriculation rates from regional high schools provide a basis for enrollment projections. An analysis of economic trends in the area and a review of emerging labor market information inform the consideration of new programs. An examination of instructional programs and disciplines along with student performance assess current effectiveness and point the way for change.

Utilizing this quantitative and qualitative data, key findings have been identified to inform the process for rational planning to occur in a culture of evidence and history. Unanticipated events, emerging issues in the region, and changing demographics in the service area demand that the Educational Master Plan be treated as a living, fluid document that will guide decisions regarding the educational programs of the college.

The EMP is conceived to exist in a cycle of six years. The current iteration comes at the midpoint of the college's accreditation cycle -- following the submittal of the college's Midterm Focused Report to the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges. That midterm report was a summary of the college's institutional actions and progress made in response to the prior recommendations of the Accrediting Commission. West Hills College Lemoore is in the process of implementing actions and plans described in the report.

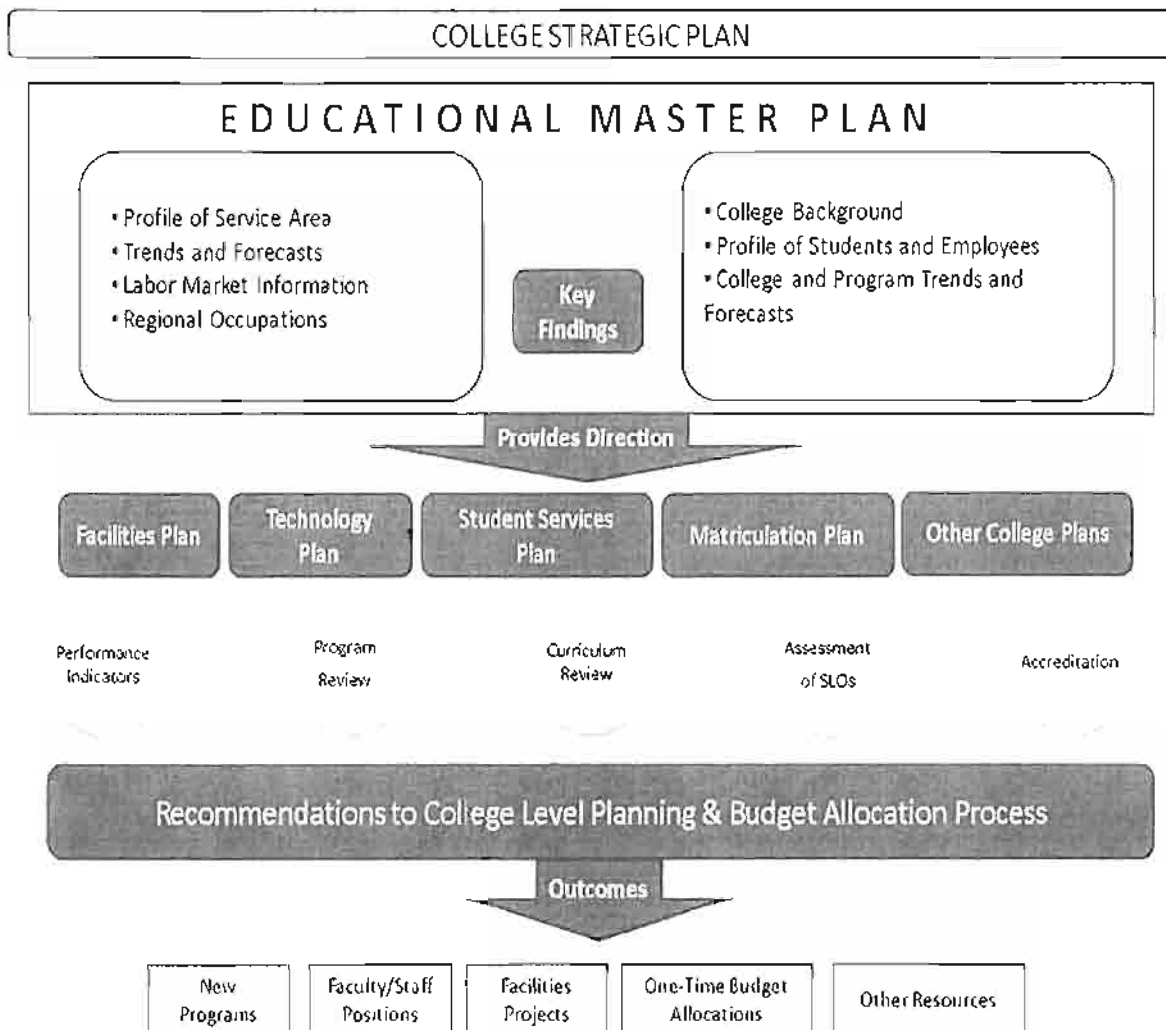

The Educational Master Plan for West Hills College Lemoore is directed by the college's strategic plan and the strategic plan of West Hills Community College District. Both of these plans are cited in the EMP as they provide the overarching direction and core values that guide the college.

Master Plan Framework

This Educational Master Plan of West Hills College Lemoore is being constructed at a particularly important juncture in our history as a college. WHC Lemoore received initial accreditation from the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges in June 2006. As one of the newest colleges in the California community college system, we are poised to realize our vision as a premiere, interactive learner-centered college.

Our Educational Master Plan gives direction to the planning processes of the college by providing a clear snapshot of our educational programs. It provides a thorough examination of internal and external trends. It serves as a primary resource for the development and update of other college plans. And it helps to identify our strengths, limitations, and capabilities -- and offer possibilities for the future.

The framework of this plan provides for an Educational Master Plan that is fluid and vital so we can respond to the community we serve.

Section I: College Background

COLLEGE HISTORY

The establishment of a college for the Coalinga Union High School District was proposed in the spring of 1932. The official beginning of the Coalinga Extension Center of Fresno State College dates from October 3, 1932. In September 1941, Coalinga Junior College became an independent unit under the direction of the Governing Board of the Coalinga Union High School District. Construction of a new campus on Cherry Lane near the northern limit of the City of Coalinga was begun on October 3, 1955, and the buildings were occupied on September 13, 1956.

In November of 1961, the voters of Coalinga Union High School District approved the formation of a separate junior college district, and in June of 1962, the voters of Lemoore High School District voted to annex to the college district, as did voters of Riverdale and Tranquillity High School Districts in December of 1962. Effective July 1, 1969, the official name of the college was changed to West Hills College in keeping with the nature of the expanded district.

In order to effectively serve the college district, West Hills College built the North District Center in the city of Firebaugh in 1971. In 1979, the District purchased land in the City of Lemoore, and in 1981, a classroom building and an office were erected. This was the Kings County Center until January 2002. On September 26, 2000, the Board of Trustees signed and accepted the "Agreement of Donation of Land for the West Hills College Lemoore" a generous donation from Robert and Mardell Pedersen and Lionel and Lola Simas.

Opening its doors to students on January 14, 2002, West Hills College Lemoore featured 18 classrooms, a state-of-the-art science wing called a Collaboratory, the largest and most technologically advanced library in Kings County, a multipurpose conference center, a full-service student services and administration building, as well as an outdoor amphitheater for students and community members.

COLLEGE MISSION

WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE ENRICHES THE LIVES OF OUR STUDENTS AND THE COMMUNITY WE SERVE BY BEING DEDICATED TO QUALITY EDUCATIONAL LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES AND PARTNERSHIPS. THE COLLEGE PROVIDES A POSITIVE ENVIRONMENT THAT IS COMMITTED TO STUDENT LEARNING AND EMPOWERING STUDENTS TO ACHIEVE THEIR EDUCATIONAL GOALS.

COLLEGE VISION

LEARNING THROUGH EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION.

COLLEGE GOALS

1. WHCL IS COMMITTED TO PROVIDE QUALITY EDUCATION TO STUDENTS AND THE COMMUNITY.
2. WHCL IS COMMITTED TO EMPOWER STUDENTS TO ACHIEVE THEIR EDUCATIONAL GOALS.
3. TO SUPPORT STUDENT LEARNING, WHCL WILL EFFECTIVELY MAINTAIN AND INCREASE ITS RESOURCES AND PRODUCTIVITY.

Section II: Profile of Students, Employees, and Service Area

This internal scan of West Hills College Lemoore is an opportunity to assess, over academic years, the demographics and characteristics of our students and their educational goals. We use this data to discern patterns and trends and review our institutional educational plans to best serve our students.

WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE, OVERALL STUDENT DEMOGRAPHICS

During the 2007-08 academic year, West Hills College Lemoore, including the students on its campus on College Avenue, at the Naval Air Station, and students enrolled in online classes, totaled 7,091 unduplicated students, a 9.62% increase in students served from the previous academic year. The growth in student population at West Hills College Lemoore is expected to continue on its upward trend.

Summary of Naval Air Station Lemoore (NASL) Student Demographics

The number of students taking classes at NASL has declined from 462 students in '02-'03 to 143 in '07-'08. The ethnicity of students varies from the main campus, with a larger percentage of white and African American students making up the composition of students taking classes at NASL. More females than males take classes on site, and the age distribution of students is older than that on the Main Campus.

- Over the last five years observed, there is a consistent downward trend in the percentage of students concurrently enrolled in online and face-to-face classes. During the same period, there is a consistent upward trend of the numbers of students enrolled in online classes.
- The ratio between students enrolled in online classes versus students enrolled concurrently in online and face to face classes has widened over the last five years, with more students enrolled solely online.
- The number of students taking classes online solely or concurrently has grown in total number, reflective of the growth at the college and the accessibility of the online delivery system.

As a point of comparison the following table shows the online and face-to-face enrollment in the entire West Hills Community College District.

- The online student age distribution has remained constant since 2003 which is consistent with overall college pattern.

Summary of Online Student Demographics

There is significant growth in the district and at the college among students who only take online classes. In '02-'03, 66% of the district's students who took online classes were also enrolled in classes on a campus or at a center. By '07-'08, throughout the district the percentage of students who were enrolled concurrently had dropped to 51.4%. At Lemoore, the same trend is reflected - by '07-'08, 53.9% of students were enrolled concurrently, dropping from the 66% concurrent students in '02-'03.

Online students are 39% white and 36% Hispanic which differs from main campus students in which the ethnic predominance is reversed. Age and gender of students parallel those of the main campus, being predominantly young and female. The majority of online students come from our service area.

- Classified staff is predominantly young, female, and Hispanic.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT REGIONAL AREA

A regional scan was performed by Economic Modeling Specialists, Inc. on ten counties that are a part of and surround the West Hills Community College District. These ten counties include: Fresno, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, San Benito, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, and Tulare. The region covered was identified by the district as the region where students are most likely to obtain jobs and establish residency. A scan of the ten counties revealed:

- Total regional attainment of a college degree is below average compared to the state and the nation (See Regional Educational Level, Age 25+ below)
- The educational attainment of individual ethnic groups of the region is below average compared to the state and nation (See Race/Ethnicity below)
- By 2012, the age group of 30 to 34 year olds is expected to experience the highest growth
- Racial/ethnic groups with the highest expected growth are Hispanics
- Total population is expected to change ten percent, double the expected change of the State (5 percent)

Test Scores for Selected Schools

The California Standards Tests (CST) is administered to students in California Public Schools in English/Language Arts, mathematics, science, and history/social science. They are also referred to as the STAR tests. CST scores are used in calculating each school's Academic Performance Index (API). The test is administered in the 11th grade. The data below regarding students in our feeder high schools reveals the majority of feeder high schools exhibit a low percentage of students at the proficient or advanced level in English and math.

Note: The California High School Exit Exam (CAHSEE) is a completely different test. It can be taken by students at any time during their high school career. While the CAHSEE is required for high school graduation, students can pass the test with 8th grade math skills and 9th grade writing and language skills.

High School	CST English/Language Arts (2007) Percent Proficient or Advanced	CST Summative High School Math (Grade 9-11) (2007) Percent Proficient or Advanced
Avenal High School*	24%	0%
Coalinga High School*	28%	34%
Corcoran High School	26%	61%
Hanford High West	28%	32%
Hanford High School*	33%	15%
Laton High School	31%	0%
Lemoore High School*	35%	30%
Riverdale High School	34%	75%

Source: California Department of Education

- Many 11th graders from the high schools in the service area do not test at a proficient level or higher in English.
- However Corcoran High and Riverdale High school have exceedingly high proficiency scores in math.
- Schools with 0 percent proficient or advanced CST Summative High School Math may be due to non-testing conditions.

Summary

The feeder high schools of Lemoore and Hanford send the college more students than other high schools in the area. The Hispanic student population at the college is significantly smaller than their numbers in our feeder schools. Students test at a low level of proficiency with two startling exceptions in math – Corcoran High and Riverdale High. The projected number of high school graduates is static for the next 7 years.

Section III: Educational Programs Trends and Forecasts

INTRODUCTION

This data provides us with an ability to examine our students' success in a quantitative manner. It allows us to measure the strategies we have employed against general key performance indicators. From this we ascertain key findings and develop strategies to meet our goals.

DEFINITION OF TERMS

Duplicated Enrollment

This is the number of actual enrollments in any given class or program. Under this definition, a student enrolled in multiple courses is counted multiple times at the program, campus, or institutional level.

Unduplicated Enrollment, (Headcount)

This is the number of actual students. One student, taking five classes, is counted as one student. If there are 20 students in a program in which all students are enrolled in five classes, there are 100 duplicated enrollments, but a 20 student headcount.

Full Time Equivalent Student (FTES)

A full time equivalent student is one student taking 15 hours of instruction per week for two semesters of 17.5 weeks. While most of our students do not necessarily enroll in 15 hours of instruction per week, we calculate aggregated student attendance in this manner for both funding purposes as well as a measure for the college of how many full time equivalent students are participating in any given class or program, or are enrolled at the college.

Weekly Student Contact Hours (WSCH)

This is a measure of the number of students enrolled in a course multiplied by the number of hours the course meets per week. If a class meets for three hours a week and has 30 students enrolled, the WSCH is 90.

Full Time Equivalent Faculty (FTEF)

One full time faculty member teaching the equivalent of a full load of classes equals 1.0 FTEF. Most often FTEF is aggregated to provide the college with a measure of the number of faculty teaching. The loads of adjunct faculty and full time faculty are summed to provide an aggregate number for the program or college.

WSCH per FTEF

This calculation, sometimes called 'productivity,' is the number of weekly student contact hours (WSCH) per Full Time Equivalent Faculty (FTEF). Some colleges establish a target number to ensure fiscal viability.

The college community is made up of departments and programs with a wide variety of needs. Some disciplines have mandates from external sources that keep class size low. A college supports this diversity of discipline needs and strives for general support and cooperation to best serve students in meeting their educational needs while understanding the fiscal pressures of the institution. That is the purpose of understanding this formula.

Environmental Scan

An environmental scan considers present and future factors that can influence the direction and goals of an organization. Environmental scans include both external elements (e.g., service area demographics, state requirements, industry demands, marketing trends, etc) and internal elements (e.g., infrastructure, personnel, programs, abilities, etc). These are evaluated in terms of their potential impact on the organization and its ability to meet its present and future strategic goals.

Course Retention Rate

This is a measure of the number/percent of students who remain in the course after the census date until the end of the term.

Course Success Rate

This is a measure of the number/percent of students who earn a grade of A, B, C, or CR in the class. Course grades of NC, D, F, I or W are considered to be unsuccessful.

AVERAGE COURSE SUCCESS, COURSE RETENTION, AND WSCH PER FTEF

Notes:

In 2003-2004, the college responded to the statewide budget crisis and reduced the number of sections it offered. This drop in enrollment is seen significantly in some departments. It should be noted that some departments responded to the cutback in sections by enrolling larger number of students in their classes (see Basic Skills Math). This significantly increased their productivity ratio or WSCH per FTE.

Prior to 2004-2005, online instruction was offered by WHC Lemoore. Coalinga students enrolled in online courses but headcount was attributed to WHC Lemoore.

The information included in the program sections is based on submitted program reviews. The college has a developed program review process that is still being refined, but one in which a template and process are in place. Any editing was done for clarity and brevity and was not intended to change the intent of the review or plans of the program. Items under the heading "Program Plans" were derived from the program reviews. Items under the heading "Challenges and Opportunities" are not from the program reviews but have been selectively added to suggest strategic options for programs.

If a program does not offer a degree, the listing under Degrees Awarded is stated as "N/A." If a program offers a degree but none were awarded, the listing under Degrees Awarded is stated as "0."

Description:

The AOJ program offers the student a variety of educational and career pathways. The student may elect to enroll in a program leading to an Associate Degree with the emphasis on the Law Enforcement Option or the Corrections Option. Both provide a path to a four year institution. Presently, CSU Fresno offers classes on the Lemoore campus for those seeking a Baccalaureate Degree in Criminology.

Assessment

- FTES growth in 2006-2007 corresponds to increase in number of sections offered
- Online enrollment decreased over years observed
- Increase in numbers of degrees awarded
- Retention rate is stable and above college average
- Success rate is at college average

Program Plans:

- Continue to update all curriculum and create six new courses.
- Develop more short term and online courses so employed individuals can quickly update their skills or obtain job ready skills.
- Include learning activities with specific learning outcomes in all curricula.
- Market the program at high school job fairs and utilize AOJ students as ambassadors.

Description:

The Art program provides classes which meet the General Education requirement and course work that prepares art students for transfer. Classes also serve as enrichment experiences for many students. Students from diverse backgrounds work in an environment that affords a common, visual language.

Assessment

- High growth in FTES in years observed
- Number of sections offered in Art declined after the 2004-2005 academic year, but FTES has continued to increase, as has the WSCH per FTEF.
- Online courses begin in '06-'07, note FTES increase in that year
- Retention rate is fairly stable and exceeds college average
- Success rate is strong, fairly stable, and exceeds college average

Program Plans:

- Curricula is being developed for several computer generated Arts courses, including Photoshop, Illustrator, and others
- Art 15A Painting is being revised to articulate transferability to Fresno State University
- Student learning outcomes will be addressed

From Program Review of October 2006

Challenges and Opportunities

- High enrollment, strong retention and success rates suggest opportunities for further growth, for example, expanded online offerings.

Description:

The main courses offered by the Biology department include general biology, human anatomy, human physiology, and microbiology. These primarily serve as prerequisites for students going into teaching or the allied health professions. The department offers majors-level biology courses as well as courses for non science majors to fulfill the life science general education requirement.

Assessment

- FTES in years observed is increasing
- Percentage of online enrollment fluctuates, highest 2006-2007
- WSCH per FTEF has fluctuated but remained productive
- Success rate is stable and at the college average
- Retention rate is stable and at the college average
- Degree and certificates awarded are minimal because courses primarily serve as requirements for the allied health programs

Program Plans:

- Schedule biology major preparation courses once a year and work on maintaining transferability.
- Continue to add new transferable courses for the non biology major
- Offer field trips and out of classroom experience in Biology

Description:

Business Administration is an integral part of the CIS, Business, and HRCM service area. The curriculum is intended for those interested in transferring to a four year college or university to earn a baccalaureate degree.

Assessment

- FTES increase in '03-'04 academic year with decline following
- WSCH per FTEF has been erratic
- Success rates below college average
- High number of degrees awarded
- Retention rate rising and matches college average in '06-'07

Program Plans:

- Work toward providing students with placement services
- Follow up on recently submitted certificate options
- Follow up on faculty development, particularly in regards to SLOs
- Address diversity of staff

From Program Review February 2004

Description:

The chemistry department provides the initial training in chemistry for a broad range of careers and focuses as well on chemical education for the public sector. The careers include the traditional sciences, engineering, pre-professional, allied health professions, agriculture, forestry, and the many emerging cross-disciplinary or interdisciplinary programs such as oceanography, aqua-culture, environmental health, and atmospheric science.

Assessment

- FTES shows steady increase then drops in 2006-2007
- WSCH per FTEF has been stable over the five year observed but is below the college average
- Success rate is unstable and below college average
- Retention is unstable and below college average

Program Plans:

- Shift the design of the Chem 2A/B sequence for allied health students to include more directly related allied health applications.
- Maintain and extend recently acquired modern analytical instrumentation and add additional software licensing for simulations
- Expand and integrate the "Collaboratory" computerized lab platform
- Stabilize current enrollment to establish offering patterns that allow completion of an AS degree in chemistry.
- Increase student retention in all offerings
- Initiate T1 link capability so students can download data from their graphing calculators into the "Collaboratory" platform to bridge their math skills to practical applications.
- Extend software licensing to provide students with take home versions of software used in class
- Develop initial course offerings at the NDC site, complete with labs.

Description:

The Child Development program offers a comprehensive background in the field of child growth and development. Students are offered information and skills for potential employment in federal, state, non-profit, or privately owned early childhood educational programs or schools. Courses help students qualify for a Child Development Certificate and partially qualify the student for a Child Development Permit from the State of California, Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing.

Assessment

- Growth in FTES in years observed
- Number of sections offered in Child Development is steady
- Retention is steady and slightly higher than college average
- Success rate dropped in '06-'07 but is higher than the college average

Program Plans:

- Student learning outcomes and their measurement are being addressed with adjunct faculty.
- Update of 2+2 agreement with Hanford High and the Naval Base child care program for module credit transfer to specific courses.
- Create a math and possibly music and science courses for young children
- Potentially offer online classes
- Explore ways to gather information on where our students are employed

Assessment

- FTES in years observed is declining significantly
- WSCH per FTEF has fluctuated, but remains at a productive level
- Success stable and improved in 2006-2007 when it exceeded the college average
- Retention rate is stable but slightly below the college average

Program Plans:

- Maintain and revise CIS Open Entry/Open Exit entry level courses to provide students with marketable job skills specifically geared toward the needs of reentry, traditional, and lifelong learning students. The department is in the process of changing its core curriculum from Office 2000 to Office 2007.
- Maintain and revise Comp-TIA (A+), WOW Web Development and reestablish the MOU certification programs.
- Continue the ongoing development of the Web Developer Certification program to include a Cyber Forensic, and Project Management components with current, emerging web technologies.
- Infusion of information technology components into established curricula, such as Administration of Justice, Math, Geography, etc.
- Revise curricula to implement in conjunction with the OE Department, the MOU certification program.
- Develop, maintain, and revise Internet-based courses
- Establish a full CIS AA degree online.

Description:

The Culinary Arts department has developed a full range of curricula which is available to students. Certifications from this program exist in the areas of ServSafe, Deli Cook and Baker certification, Baker Certification, Bartending Certification, Dining Room Staff Certification, and Chef Apprentice Certification. Courses provide a knowledge base that allows students to more easily obtain entry level or higher positions in this field.

Assessment

No data available

Program Plans:

- Additional curricula will be developed including Commercial Food prep as the prerequisite to most courses.
- The program will seek American Culinary Federation accreditations
- More community outreach
- Develop a job placement program

Hotel, Restaurant and Casino Management (HRCM)

Description:

This is a program to certify students to work in the fields of hotel, restaurant, and casino management. All courses offered promote practical job skills and have resulted in students receiving certificates in Dining Room Management, Pastry and Bakery Arts, and Beverage Management.

Assessment

- FTES in years observed is increasing
- WSCH per FTEF has been erratic, but productive
- Success rate high in 2005-2006 and exceeds college average
- Retention rate high and steady and exceeds college average

Assessment

- High growth in FTES in years observed
- Large percentage of online enrollment
- Online enrollment more than doubled from 2005-2006 to 2006-2007
- Success rate is unstable, fell below college average by 8% in '06-'07
- Retention rate is stable

Program Plans:

- Begin a Native American course
- Begin a cross cultural course
- Put Women's Studies under the Ethnic Studies program
- Participate in recruitment events at high schools in our service area

From Program Review November 2006

Description:

The Math program consists of a full spectrum of courses ranging from developmental to advanced level mathematics. Courses are designed to satisfy the certificate, associate degree, and transfer level needs for both the technical and non-technical student.

Assessment

- FTES increased until '05-'06
- Significant increase in sections during the years observed
- WSCH per FTEF has decreased overall
- Success rate is decreasing and is below the college average
- Retention is relatively stable but below college average

Program Plans:

- Add student learning outcomes to all course outlines
- Increase number of Math 64 sections
- Establish an effective assessment test that accurately places students in Math 101, 61, 63 or Math 15.
- Create an assessment policy for online classes

Description:

The Office Management and Technologies program offers a variety of options that guide students toward successful employment in business and government. The certificate programs include an Office Management and Technology Certificate, a Clerk Typist Certificate, and a Secretary/Word Processing Certificate. Completion of the Certificate program and the general education and District requirements qualifies students for an associate degree.

Assessment

- FTES in years observed is decreasing
- Percentage of online courses is steadily increasing
- WSCH per FTEF has been erratic, but generally productive
- Success rate well below the college average
- Retention is improved but below the college average

Program Plans:

- Increase business community involvement in the design of classes and certificates/degrees
- Improve the business community's perception of the college's certificates/degrees
- Develop a path for students' transition from education to employment
- Investigate cross discipline course offerings to enhance employability
- Integrate certificates and degrees to articulate a path to four year institutions
- Improve student access with convenient course designs
- Develop more short term and online courses so employed individuals can quickly update their skills or the unemployed can obtain job ready skills

The psychology major prepares students for programs with emphasis in psychology, counseling, child development, educational psychology, education, social work, sociology, human services, and nursing.

Assessment

- No [overall] growth in FTES in years observed
- FTES dipped in 2004-2005 and increased by 2006-2007
- Large percentage of online enrollment
- Substantial number of degrees awarded.
- Success rate is relatively stable and at the college average
- Retention rate has been stable then declined and in '06-'07 fell 14% below the college average

Program Plans:

- Develop hybrid Psychology courses
- Revise curriculum to ensure currency with statewide curricular trends
- Develop student learning outcomes for Psych 1
- Expand Learning Community course offerings
- Expand offerings of hybrid Psych courses

Teaching Assistant (Education Assistant)

Description:

The Education/Education Assistant (EDUC/EA) program provides courses and experiences for prospective teachers. The program awards a certificate as a Teaching Assistant. It is a program that has been actively involved in partnerships with Upward Bound Math and Science, Educational Talent Search, University Charter School, and Middle College High School. The teacher preparation effort is now called T.E.A.M. Teach and comes out of the Education/Education Assistant program.

Assessment

- Number of FTES as well as sections offered in Teaching Assistant declined over past five academic years
- Retention and success rates are above college average
- WSCH per FTEF is below college average.

Program Plans:

- Identify a counselor who will work specifically with T.E.A.M Teach students
- Write student learning outcomes for all remaining EDUC/EA courses
- Review and revise education assistant certificate to meet current needs of workplace and students
- Implement student learning outcome evaluation cycle in EDUC 1
- Write curriculum for CBEST prep classes to offer as nontransferable one unit courses in test preparation, reading, writing, and math
- Develop stronger articulation agreements at local high schools
- Develop strong student learning outcome assessment cycles for EDUC 1 and EDUC 5 that include adjunct faculty

BASIC SKILLS

Basic Skills are the foundation for student success. Sometimes called developmental education or pre-collegiate skills, they are needed by many students entering all segments of higher education in order to be successful in college coursework. The statewide course success rate at community colleges in Basic Skills is 60.5%, about 10 % lower than that for other courses.

At Lemoore, students in Basic Skills classes are successful at a rate close to or above the statewide average. All Basic Skills classes have grown in enrollment over the six years represented below.

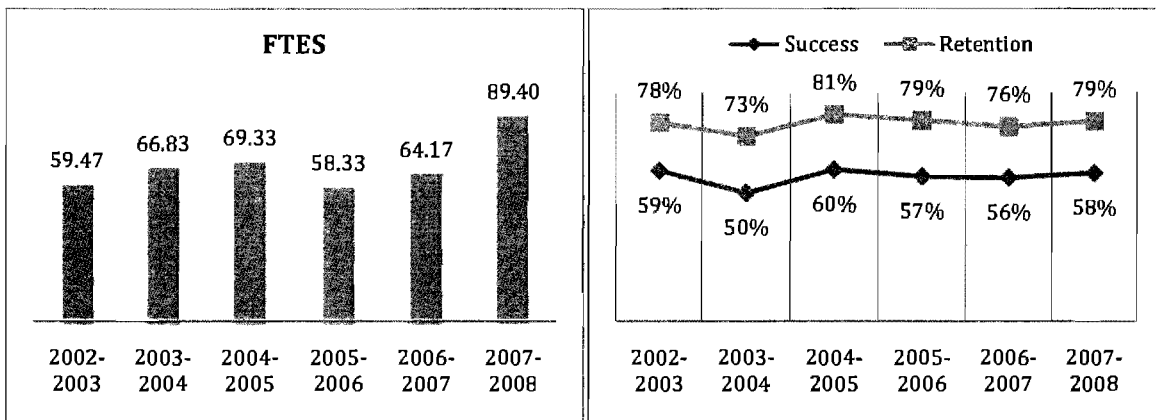

Basic Skills Math

	2002-03	2003-04	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08
Sections	8	4	5	7	9	13
Duplicated Enrollment	188	92	187	236	321	479
FTEF	2.46	1.32	1.65	2.32	3.00	4.33
WSCH per FTEF	359	339	551	494	520	537

- Math Basic Skills classes have increased both in sections and enrollment. Students are more successful than the statewide average of 52%. (Source: Board of Governor’s Report on System’s Basic Skills)
- The program has high productivity and strong retention

Basic Skills English

	2002-03	2003-04	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08
Sections	35	19	22	19	22	31
Duplicated Enrollment	360	401	416	350	385	648
FTEF	7.71	4.76	6.16	5.34	5.93	7.13
WSCH per FTEF	225	410	328	318	315	366

- English Basic Skills classes are building back from '02- '03. Note that with fewer sections in '07-08 they have significantly surpassed the number of enrollments they had in '02-'03 with more sections, a sign of a productive efficient program -- particularly considering that the success and retention of their students have remained steady.
- Success rates are generally comparable to statewide average of 59.3%. [Source: Board of Governor's Report on System's Basic Skills].

English as a Second Language (ESL)

	2002-03	2003-04	2004-05	2005-06	2006-07	2007-08

FTEF	1.27	1.40	1.12	0.56	0.85	0.67
WSCH per FTEF	145	142	169	259	229	411

- Notable drop in sections after '02-03, but enrollments now surpass the enrollment when the program had double the number of sections.
- No ESL courses scheduled during the day were offered between 2002-03 to 2007-08
- Success rates are mostly above statewide average of 70.6%. [Source: Board of Governor's Report on System's Basic Skills]

Basic Skills Placement

Students who enroll in courses that are appropriate for their preparation levels are much more likely to succeed in college. The assessment process should provide information and support to students so they can make appropriate educational choices. Below are charts that reveal the number of first term students who were assessed and placed into Basic Skills classes in English and math. The ESL program does not have a formal assessment mechanism.

WHC Lemoore Campus				Placed into Basic Skills

2007-2008	1,843	859	46.6%	411	48%	437	51%

- In the four years observed, an average of 47 percent first term students at the WHC Lemoore campus were assessed for course placement
- Of the numbers assessed, an average of 48 percent of students were placed into Basic Skills English
- Approximately 45 percent of students assessed were placed in Basic Skills Math, with the greatest percentage (51%) in the 2007-08 academic year

- Student retention is highest in programs that also reflect a high success rate – HRCM, Geology, Art, and Physics.
- Student retention is lowest in programs that reflect a lower success rate – Business, Office Management, Health Science, and Chemistry.
- The California Community Colleges System Strategic Plan of January 2006 notes that efforts are needed to improve semester to semester persistence, especially into the second year of college study.

DEGREES AND CERTIFICATES

From Fall 2003 to Fall 2007, West Hills College Lemoore conferred a total of 1,276 degrees and certificates in various disciplines. Over 50 percent of these were Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts. The Liberal Arts Program has been renamed Liberal Studies and is currently under review and modification.

The total number of degrees and certificates conferred by West Hills College Lemoore has been steadily increasing over the past four years.

TRANSFERS TO FOUR YEAR INSTITUTIONS

Data Source: National Student Clearing House; WHCCD Data Warehouse

Definition: The annual numbers of transfers to four-year institutions were determined by students who completed at least 12 units in the WHCCD system and stopped attending WHCCD prior to transferring to a four year institution.

Assessment:

- In '07, 92 students transferred to public four year institutions; 148 students transferred to private four year institutions.
- In the six years observed, more students transferred to California private institutions each year than transferred to California public institutions.
- The number of students transferring continues to increase with the most significant gains occurring at California private four year institutions.

Data Source: National Student Clearing House; WHCCD Data Warehouse

Definition: Based on WHCCD students who completed at least 12 units primarily online from a combination of online courses from WHCC and WHCL and stopped attending WHCCD prior to transferring to a four year institution.

Assessment:

- The number of online transfers has significantly increased over the six years observed.
- Significant gains have been made in the number of students transferring to out of state public institutions.

Totals includes In State Public, Out of State Public, In State Private and Out of State Private Two Year institutions.

Definitions

- Lemoore Total: The annual number of transfers to two-year institutions was determined by students who completed at least 12 units in the WHCCD system and stopped attending WHCCD prior to transferring to a two year institution.

Assessment

- The number of students transferring to two year institutions has increased over the six years observed.
- Exit interviews could reveal reasons for these transfers that will assist the college in educational planning.

Section IV: Student Services

Student services are an important and integral function at West Hills College Lemoore. The college develops and offers a wide scope of support services that are dedicated to supplementing and complementing instructional programs and providing educational and cultural resources to students, faculty, and the community.

For the purposes of this Educational Master Plan, the student services included are those dealing with the Department of Learning Resources, Financial Aid, the Matriculation process and the following categorical programs: CalWorks, CARE, DSP&S, and EOPS.

Department of Learning Resources

Description: The Department of Learning Resources is responsible for supporting the colleges in their teaching/learning and service process through the development and administration of an academic online and video conference program that provides faculty training, help desk support, and videoconference technology installation and support.

Note: Prior to 2003-2004, all online courses were offered by WHCL

- There is significant growth in the online FTES and headcount at each campus.

- The number of video conference courses offered at Lemoore has been decreasing

- While the number of disciplines available online has remained steady, the number of sections has increased significantly.

Department Plans:

- Provide online students with active, hands-on, concrete experiences through technological media through collaboration of Learning Resources online staff and online instructors
- Develop and implement Student Technology and Online Readiness Self Assessment Tools
- Increase student technology literacy and independence through enhanced online orientations, student-friendly sites, and online training in courses
- Research and work with CENIC on all aspects of captioning for video conference courses
- Research and present to faculty new classroom mediated technologies
- Provide consultation and research services to the college academic communities.

From Program Review of Spring 2007

Matriculation

Description: The matriculation Process at WHC Lemoore provides an admission process, an orientation to college programs, services, and procedures; pre-enrollment assessment and counseling for course selection, a suitable curriculum, and a continuous follow up on student progress with referral to support services.

* Matriculation is based on students receiving assessment and counseling or orientation services.

Extended Opportunity Program and Services (EOPS)

Description: The EOPS program and services is a state funded program that provides supplemental support services to students with financial and educational needs. Eligibility is determined by income level and demonstration of need.

- The ethnic composition varies from the overall college: Cal Works: 48% Hispanic, college: 39%, Cal Works: 29% white, college: 36% white, Cal Works: 14% African American, college: 7% African American

Financial Aid

Description: This department assists students through the various financial aid programs administered by the college. Financial aid is funding provided by federal and state governments and institutional sources to help students with their educational expenses. The funding is made up of grants, scholarships, and loans. Loans have several repayment options.

- The number of students receiving financial aid awards has increased over the six years observed.
- The percentage of students who were awarded financial aid and enrolled at WHCCD has increased during six years observed.

- The gender of students receiving financial aid differs from student population which is 61.94% female, 37.37% male.
- The age of students receiving financial aid differs slightly from the student population: 25.62% are under 19; 30.94% are 20-24; 15.36% are 25-29; 23.28% are 30-49.

Section V: Labor Market Information

INTRODUCTION

The college is committed to providing students with relevant education and training for career technical and professional programs. Consequently, we examine labor market information for this region and compare it to the programs we offer. We use this information to plan for the development of new programs.

ECONOMY OF THE SAN JOAQUIN REGION, OVERVIEW

The Educational Master Plan for West Hills College Lemoore primarily utilizes our district service area that encompasses parts of five counties (Fresno, Kings, Madera, Monterey, San Benito) for demographic data. However, for the economic and labor market section we have also included the counties of Tulare, Kern, Merced, Stanislaus and San Joaquin. The reason for this is the impact of the larger geographical region's economy on college planning for the West Hills Community College District. Employment options for our students also take into consideration a greater area than the college district.

Among the ten counties under consideration by West Hills Community College District for its Educational Master Plan, six are among the top ten counties in the state in the value of their agricultural production: Fresno, Tulare, Kern, Merced, Stanislaus and San Joaquin. Of the ten counties drawing students to the West Hills colleges, only Mariposa County, with nearly half of its land on Federal lands, has an economy not based on agriculture.

While farming and agriculture define the region to a great extent, the counties of the San Joaquin Valley differ considerably in their economic make-ups. Madera and Tulare County have about three times the proportion of employment in agriculture as San Joaquin and Stanislaus. The others fall in between. Likewise, manufacturing is a more prominent part of the employment picture in Merced and Stanislaus counties than in other counties and government is a larger sector of employment in Kings County than in the others. This suggests that educational planners need to consider the diverse employment options in the region as well as the large distances in the rural landscape.

Population Growth

The population of the region is expected to grow approximately ten percent between 2007 and 2012, compared to the state's projected growth of five percent during the same period. The greatest growth will occur among adults aged 30 to 34 years and children under ten years of age (106,284). (Source: Regional Scan and Program Demand Report, 2007) This growth will have an impact on the need for job training and re-training and for education of children, and related services.

Income Levels and Unemployment

Per capita personal income varies in the San Joaquin Valley counties, but is below the state average in each. For comparison, the average per capita personal income in California for 2006 was $39,626. Among the ten counties of the San Joaquin region, Fresno had the highest per capita income, $27,081; Kings had the lowest at $22,771. (Source: Table CA1-3, Regional Economic Accounts, Bureau of Economic Analysis, April 2008)

A recent survey of student applications for admission to West Hill College Lemoore and West Hills College Coalinga shows 45 and 48 percent of applicants, respectively, have family incomes of $25,000 or less. (Source: WHCCD 2007-2008 admission application supplemental survey) The lower than average incomes in the region are consistent with agricultural regions across the country.

Unemployment also reflects the agricultural economic base of the region. Unemployment tends to be higher in the San Joaquin Valley region than the state average. The seasonality of agriculture and the relatively low wage scale account for some of the disparity between this region and other parts of the state. Counties in the San Joaquin Valley also have higher than average poverty rates.

Employment

The top industry sectors in the region, those with over 100,000 jobs, were government, agriculture (including forestry, fishing and hunting), retail trade, health and social assistance, manufacturing, construction, and accommodation and food services in 2007. Construction ranked at the top in earnings per worker ($54,440) and accommodation and food services ranked last in the group ($16,554). The greatest growth among all industry sectors by 2012 is projected to be in health care and social assistance. (Source: Chart of Industry Sectors, Region and State, 2007-2012).

Those occupations requiring training and/or education and showing the most growth across all industries in the region in 2007 include:

- Registered nurses
- First-line supervisors/managers of retail sales workers
- Elementary school teachers, except special education
- Business operation specialists
- Truck drivers, heavy and tractor-trailer
- Medical assistants
- Customer service representatives
- Accountants and auditors
- Nursing aides, orderlies, and attendants
- Carpenters

(Source: EMSI Top-Ranked Occupations by Total Growth, 2007-2012. Note: The list above includes the top ten occupations, all with over 17,000 employees.)

At the time of the Regional Scan and Program Demand Report, West Hills Community College District offered curriculum directly related to six of the twelve high-demand occupations.

Planning for future educational programs and services at the college will take into account the agricultural character of the region, the needs of its growing population for general education and workforce training, and the need to keep pace with demands of the economy.

REGIONAL REPORT

The following information was obtained from the Regional Scan & Program Demand Report prepared for West Hills Community College District by Economic Modeling Specialist Inc.

The Regional Scan included data from ten counties: Fresno, Kern, Kings, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, San Benito, San Joaquin, Stanislaus, and Tulare. The industry and occupation employment numbers are based on numerous published sources from the federal Bureaus of Labor Statistics, Bureau of Economic Analysis, Bureau of the Census, and the National Center for Education Statistics. These ten counties span a region where the West Hills Community College District students are likely to seek work.

Occupation Demand and Program Enrollment Comparison

This section compares regional occupations with the most annual openings to the college's current enrollment by program, with the goal of indicating where the college might look to increase its capacity. The occupations are taken directly from the "Top-Ranked Occupations by New + Replacement Jobs" table. "Related programs" associated with occupations are identified using a crosswalk developed by the U.S. Department of Education with some customization by EMSI. College enrollment numbers by Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code are provided by West Hills Community College District.

Note that many occupations have multiple related programs and vice versa, so students enrolled in a program may be included in more than one row in the table above. "Average annual openings" is total new and replacement jobs divided by the number of years in the given timeframe.

2007 FRESNO COUNTY EMPLOYMENT STUDY

In 2007 the Fresno County Workforce Investment Board conducted a survey of Fresno County employers to collect data relevant to guide the county's potential and job growth and employment trends. A total of 1,004 surveys were completed. They included small, medium, and large employers from seven sectors.

Below is a summary of the findings. The original data set was sorted to include only those occupations with 20 or more Projected Positions in Year 1. Occupations with no employers requiring High School Diplomas or Certification were then removed. The top 25 occupations remaining are listed below sorted by the Projected Positions in Year 3.

Salaries reported are based on the employers in the Fresno County region.

Occupation	Projected Positions (Yr.1)	Projected Positions (Yr.3)	High School Diploma Required	Certification Required	Salary Estimate (Low)	Salary Estimate (Mid)	Salary Estimate (High)

Section VI: Key Findings and Strategies

STRENGTHS OF WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE

West Hills College Lemoore's fully accredited college status that was granted by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges in 2006 was well deserved. The campus features the largest and most technologically advanced library in Kings County, 18 lecture classrooms, computer labs, and three science collaboratories. Working in this state of the art facility contributes to the high morale and 'can do' attitude of the faculty and staff. In the accreditation self study the college describes itself as having a "healthy governance environment."

The partnerships that have been developed with other educational segments have been significant and positive. The partnership with University Charter School on the Lemoore campus brings in 5th through 8th grade students who are seeking a non-traditional educational setting. The Lemoore High School Middle College program is exemplary and continues to increase in scope and size. The alliance with Cal State University, Fresno, which allows students to earn a bachelor's degree while attending classes at the Lemoore site, is a partnership that every community college in the state should have. A program with Americorps has provided tutors. In 2008, a nursing program that had been the result of a partnership with Fresno City College will break out as a stand alone nursing program. The teacher preparation program T.E.A.M. Teach addresses the need for well prepared educators in our communities.

The college has responded well to the demands of business and industry. The region's emerging hotel, restaurant, and Casino management industry resulted in the development of a program to train managers in these areas. A new engineering program was started in fall 2008.

Naval Air Station Lemoore, located five miles from the Lemoore campus has a rich and enduring presence with the college. Faculty and staff have noted that the presence of students from NASL has enriched their classes and the college community because of a global knowledge base and experiences. Its proximity to the Lemoore campus influences the college and provides a unique perspective not available to many community colleges.

Student Services: New leadership in the student services area has resulted in innovative and effective approaches to serving students. An example of this is X-treme Registration that provides students with a unique college event and services to register at the last possible moment. Another example is bilingual orientation that was scheduled to be in place in 2007 and online orientation planned for implementation by spring '08.

Instructional Services: A consensus was reached on the definition of an instructional program that has facilitated the implementation of the program review process. There has been a concerted amount of effort in working toward a college wide completion of student learning outcomes for each course, projected to be in place by the end of 2008.

The college's continued focus on improving and refining all aspects of the curriculum development process will be important to the creation of classes, programs, and services that will lead the way to an educated work force in this region. Its state of the art technology and physical plant, the growth in the area surrounding the college, and its vital faculty and staff are hallmarks of West Hills College Lemoore.

KEY FINDINGS & STRATEGIES FOR WEST HILLS COLLEGE LEMOORE

COLLEGE WIDE: MULTIPLE DELIVERY SYSTEMS – ONLINE, VIDEO CONFERENCE, WEB BASED

Key Findings

The West Hills Community College District service area spans a wide swath of the San Joaquin Valley and encompasses five counties in mostly rural environments. The area is large and the need for educational access to the population is great. Students facing time and geographical barriers to education must have their needs met through the access provided by online courses and programs and video conference courses.

Online enrollments across the district continue to grow. The majority of the students who are enrolling in online classes are from our service area, although approximately 40% are from outside the service area. The success and retention rates for students in online classes throughout the district is below classroom rates, but remains fairly consistent for Lemoore students at 55% success rate and 73% retention.

At WHC Lemoore during the '07-'08 academic year, there were 3,155 unduplicated students enrolled in online classes. On the campus at Lemoore there are 5,276 students enrolled.

With high school graduation rates projected to be static for the next 7 years, increased offerings of classes and programs in multiple delivery systems, will be a major factor for growth at the college.

Strategies to address key findings:

- More development of multiple delivery methods for classes and programs throughout the curriculum, including online, video conference, web based classes, hybrid classes and traditional classes utilizing new formats.
- Development of an array of Basic Skills classes in multiple delivery methods to provide access for students in need of pre collegiate work.
- More development of degrees and certificates that can be earned online.
- Increase student services and support for online students
- Research on staffing levels needed to support growth and development of online and video conference classes
- Close attention to the technological resources and facilities needed to maintain and increase online and video conference classes.
- Develop and market programs targeting non-traditional students.

The findings and strategies address goals from:

- District strategic plan: #1 Achieve growth targets, #4 improve transfer, completion and graduation rates
- College guiding principle: Access
- State strategic plan: College awareness and access

COLLEGE WIDE: NAVAL AIR STATION

Key Findings

The enrollment at the Naval Air Station (NASL) has been in a steep decline for the last five years, with a slight uptick in 2007-2008.

Among the factors that may have contributed to the decline are the opening of the new Lemoore campus which has attracted military students to enroll on campus, changes to military tuition assistance, deployment during the Iraq war, and the increased availability of online courses.

Students at NASL have preferred evening courses. Some student characteristics are notably different from other entities – students are older, and there are generally more white students and fewer Hispanics.

In 2007-2008, the Naval Air Station center had 143 students, down from a high of 462 in 2002-2003.

The importance of Lemoore Naval Air Station to the college and the region cannot be underestimated. The Naval Air Station is a unique resource with a stable population that has educational needs.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Formation of a widely representative advisory committee to discuss the issues of enrollment at NASL.
- Discussions with leadership at NASL in regards to their concerns, forecasted changes and/or program development, resource sharing
- Involvement of campus leadership for ideas, concerns
- Brainstorm ideas in regards to adult learners, under skilled workers, retraining and reentry training
- Offer alternative scheduling, short term curricular modes, weekend classes
- Consider new joint use ideas, non credit, and focused programs with cohorts

Addresses Goals From:

- District Strategic Plan:# 3 Community participation rates
- College Guiding Principle: Collaboration, community
- State Strategic Plan: Goal: A#3 Innovative programs and outreach

COLLEGE WIDE: COORDINATION OF PROGRAM AND COURSE DEVELOPMENT

Key Findings

There has been coordination between WHC Lemoore and WHC Coalinga in the development and offering of courses and programs.

A number of factors make coordination in coming years even more complex. Among them are the substantial and growing offerings online and the fully accredited status of the college.

In the data regarding students' identification of city of residence, a significant percentage of students come from cities such as Fresno, Coalinga, Visalia, and Avenal. While some of these residents may only be enrolled in online classes, we can also infer that these students may be willing to take classes some distance from their homes because of the desirability of a specific program.

The alignment of courses and programs within the college district and with all segments of education are essential to student access and success. Coordination would allow the college to maximize the development of courses and programs unique to its community, area, and facilities – and provide students with more choices and venues. These are essential to student access and success.

Strategies to address key finding:

- Continue to coordinate the development of courses and programs with WHC Coalinga to ensure comprehensive offerings to all students in the service area.
- Interface Lemoore's Student Learning Committee with Coalinga's Instructional Services Council on a regular basis to discuss and make recommendations for approval of new courses and programs.
- Consider the formation of a district committee for review, coordination, and recommendation for approval of courses and programs.
- Develop a process to ensure colleges adhere to the Rule of 5 in which course number, title, prefix, units, and transferability are coordinated and discussion and coordination take place that ensure students have a seamless experience in their access to curriculum at WHCCD.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan:#4 Improve transfer, completion, and graduation rates
- College Guiding Principle: Access
- State Strategic Plan: #1 College awareness and access

COLLEGE WIDE: ADDRESS THE CHANGING DEMOGRAPHICS

Key Findings:

An analysis of the demographic data for WHC Lemoore reveals that students in the age group of 30-49 have increased slightly at the college from 1,566 in '02-'03 to 1,651 in '07-'08. On the Lemoore campus, this group has dropped slightly from 1,179 to 1,157 during this time frame. But the number of online students in this age group has risen from 629 in '02-'03 to 750 in '07-'08.

The Regional Scan and Program Demand Report from Economic Modeling Specialist Inc. (EMSI) projects that the greatest growth in our region will occur among adults aged 30 to 34 years and children under 10 years of age during the period of '07-'12.

The female student population at WHC Lemoore continues to be significantly greater than the male population reflecting a state and national trend. In '07-'08 females comprised 62% of the student body.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that for the first time since the modern women's movement came to life, an economic recovery has come and gone, and the percentage of women at work has fallen, not risen. A congressional study released on July 23, 2008, offers the explanation that women are dropping out of the workforce for awhile as jobs and wages shrink, to return to the family and to potentially retrain. At WHC Lemoore 30-49 year olds are a larger proportion of the student population than those 25-29.

With the projected service area high school graduates remaining static into 2015, the college needs to focus on the demographic that may offer the most growth and also have a growing educational need in this region – students, primarily women, in the 30-49 year old age group.

Strategies to address key finding:

- Consider workforce programs that would attract students who are seeking retraining for the next stage of their work life.
- Query students in this age group about their needs – scheduling of classes, academic support, child care, programs that they seek, etc.
- Target marketing to this group of potential students in the community

Addresses goals from:

- District strategic plan: #1 Achieve growth targets, #4 Improve transfer, completion, and graduation rates
- College Guiding Principle: Access, Diversity
- State Strategic Plan: College awareness and readiness

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: BASIC SKILLS

Key Findings

Levels of proficiency in English/Language Arts and Mathematics of students at the 11th grade level in feeder high schools to WHC Lemoore are low. This implies a potential need for more Basic Skills sections available to first term students matriculating to the college.

Of first term students who were assessed, 48% assessed into Basic Skills English and 51% assessed into Basic Skills Math.

Data from the California Community College Chancellor's Office reports that when students do not receive the Basic Skills education they need, less than 10 % will survive the college experience.

Successful participation at the college level is dependent on preparation math and English skills. According to the CCCCO, more than half of entering community college students require some Basic Skills education due in part to the fact that K-12 curriculum and assessments do not always adequately prepare students for college level work.

Students at Lemoore are generally successful in Basic Skills classes. In math and English the college has continued to increase sections after the reduction in '03-04, showing programs committed to Basic Skills offerings. Math and ESL have high productivity levels, and the success rate in both programs is above the college average. English, math, and ESL Basic Skills classes all have high retention rates.

Strategies to address key findings:

- Offer more sections of Basic Skills Classes in English, ESL, and math
- Consider a college wide committee to address Basic Skills and preparedness for college level curricula
- Work to ensure that all general education and vocational courses include specific activities designed to reinforce key reading, writing, speaking, and computational competencies
- Offer alternative pathways to Basic Skills preparation – e.g., intensive short-term courses, open skill building tutorials, etc.
- Focus professional development on student success, providing faculty with incentives to integrate the development of essential academic skills in their students
- Track students success from Basic Skills through college level curriculum
- Seek innovative ways to offer and deliver Basic Skills classes.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College guiding principle: Access
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Student success and readiness, Basic Skills as the foundation for student success

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Key Findings

Even with a significant reduction in ESL class sections that occurred after '02-'03 and little growth in additional sections following that, the enrollment has remained high. In '07-08, there are more enrollments in the 7 sections offered than the 15 sections in '02-03.

The retention rates are high in classes with success rates of 67% slightly below the statewide average of 70.6%.

The college does not offer college-level ESL classes. ESL offerings have had limited scheduling, primarily offered in the evening, although expansion into day time slots occurred in fall '08.

Latinos are projected to become the State's largest ethnic group by 2011 and the majority population in public schools by 2013. The college's predominantly Hispanic student body, which is also reflected in the region, strongly suggests that a fully developed ESL program that leads to success in college level transfer classes and programs is essential.

Data from the Public Policy Institute of California notes that the educational attainment of Latinos falls short of residents overall and short of what the economy will demand by 2015.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Develop a full curriculum of ESL courses that lead to college level offerings
- Develop an assessment and placement system for ESL students
- Offer more sections of Basic Skills classes in ESL in multiple delivery methods and time slots throughout the schedule
- Track ESL students into college level classes

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan:#4 Improve transfer, completion and graduation
- College guiding principles: Access, Diversity
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Basic Skills as the foundation for student success

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: THE ARTS

Key Findings

Art classes at Lemoore are among the highest in retention and success rates, and FTES at the college.

The location of Lemoore and the resources it provides the community suggests that it will develop as a cultural center in the community.

A recent community survey revealed that approximately 65% of respondents indicated that they would be somewhat-to-much-more-likely to vote for a local higher education bond if funds were used to construct a performing arts center for college and community use.

Music programs exist in the community and at selected high schools.

Strategies to address key findings:

- Develop a program in the arts and performing arts
- Develop an advisory committee from the community to determine interests and needs

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #3 Increase community participation
- College guiding principles: Community, Excellence
- State Strategic Plan: #1 College awareness and access

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: LOWER DIVISION TRANSFER CURRICULUM

Key Findings

On the admission application 39% of West Hills College Lemoore students state that their primary goal is to transfer to a 4 year institution.

The geographic distances inherent in West Hills Community College District make access to educational opportunities challenging. The college's partnership with CSU Fresno and Fresno Pacific University are significant as students interested in going on to a baccalaureate degree can do so by completing requirements on the Lemoore campus. Access to a wide array of lower division transfer curriculum, articulation agreements and transfer agreements facilitate a student's continued educational pursuits.

The community survey revealed a priority interest in university classes. Close to 90% of respondents indicated that they would be somewhat-to-much-more-likely to vote for the bond if funds were used to construct a university center where university classes would be offered to complete advanced college degrees.

Graduating seniors from public high schools in this region are 7 per cent less likely to attend a community college and 4 per cent are less likely to attend a UC than graduating seniors statewide.

Lemoore student transfers to four year institutions continue to grow, with CSU Fresno being a main transfer site. Notably, an increasing number of WHCCD online students are transferring. With the opening of the UC Merced campus, more articulation and transfer agreements for Lemoore students should be forged. In addition, many students from Lemoore transfer to in state private colleges and universities – in fact, more students go on to private institutions than matriculate to public institutions.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Increase the development of lower division transfer classes that fulfill IGETC requirements
- Align student learning outcomes in critical course sequences
- Discuss and coordinate with like discipline areas across the district
- Meet regularly to align curriculum with high school partners and 4 year partners, including both public and private institutions.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College Guiding Principles: Excellence
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, #4 Intersegmental transfer

INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS: ECONOMIC TRENDS and WHC LEMOORE PROGRAMS

Key Findings

In a scan of the economic forecasts and the projected labor market for the region against the backdrop of existing instructional programs at the college, a number of occupations in a handful of areas continue to surface.

Examples of these areas are: medically related health careers, management/supervision in the areas of retail and government, teacher education, and child care workers.

At Lemoore, the child development program is particularly well developed with its certificates and degrees. The program is layered with many options. Agreements with Hanford High and the NASL child care programs are creative. Online classes are being considered. The Education/Education Assistant program has been actively involved in partnerships with the University Charter School and highly successful Middle College High School, but appears to be shrinking. These programs can play an important role in the economic development of the region placing their graduates in the growing field of education and child care.

WHC Lemoore is well positioned to provide timely education and job training in health related fields. The new nursing program started in fall '08 and other programs are being explored.

The college has been proactive in partnering with the Health and Human Services Department of Kings County, which is with the college to provide workforce training programs for the CalWorks population in fields such as office technology.

The importance of the Naval Air Station to the college is obvious. Declining enrollment at NASL requires a fresh look at possibilities in terms of workforce training. Discussions with the NASL, college faculty and staff, environmental scans, and labor market projections should provide a foundation for the decision-making process.

In environmental scans of any region, projects or areas surface that haven't yet made the radar screens of labor market surveys. One such project is the Quay Valley Ranch, a proposed planned community consisting of about 12,000 acres in unincorporated Kings County. It is planned to be a new, sustainable, solar-powered model town of about 150,000 people. The potential for partnership, the development of programs in sustainable energy, the need for education, jobs, and services is large. The college must play a role.

Strategies to Address Key Findings:

- WHC Lemoore has already forged many strategies to respond to labor market needs. But the process to find ways to collaborate with local, regional, and state partners takes constant attention & effort.
- Monitoring economic trends and corresponding program development and expansion must continue. Employee demographics suggest that significant administrative and faculty retirements may occur in the next ten years. Staffing decisions must be considered.
- Program review and coordination at the college and district level may reveal areas of collaboration or unique pursuit because of geography, program interest or expertise, or facilities.
- Work force training is as important as the preparation of students in the Basic Skills. Contextualization – the concept that students learn essential skills best in practical, experiential contexts is ideal in that environment. Links with Basic Skills and work force training can be employed in programs at a college like Lemoore, where collegiality and communication are stated values.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College guiding principles: Excellence, Collaboration
- State strategic plan: Goal C Partnerships for economic and workforce development

STUDENT SERVICES: ASSESSMENT PLACEMENT SERVICES

Key Findings

18.8% of all students at Lemoore have received assessment placement services in '06-'07; 49.5% of first-term students were assessed that year.

In '07-08, 46% of first-term students were assessed and 48% of them placed into Basic Skills English and 51% placed into Basic Skills math.

District wide, about 14% of students who did not receive assessment had educational goals that required assessment in order to succeed at the college level.

A small percentage of 11th grade students at feeder high schools to WHC Lemoore test as proficient or advanced in English or math.

Assessment and placement are a foundation for college success and students most at risk are those who have not been assessed.

Strategies to address Key Findings:

- Develop programs to ensure that the majority of incoming students receive assessment placement services to provide them with information to access classes that will prepare them to succeed academically.

- Work across the curriculum to insure that classes that will help students succeed academically are available to them.
- Students in categorical programs compose about 63% of Basic Skills English enrollment. Develop collaboration between categorical programs and Basic Skills English faculty to improve success rates

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan:#4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College Guiding Principles: Access, Excellence
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Student success and readiness, Assessment and placement

STUDENT SERVICES: MULTIPLE DELIVERY SYSTEMS FOR STUDENT SERVICES

Key Findings

The remarkable growth in students taking online classes necessitates a rethinking throughout the college about new ways to support their learning and success.

The college has an unduplicated head count of online students that is equal to 49% of on-campus students. There were 3,161 online students in the '07-'08 school year. The projected development and growth of multiple delivery systems for classes will necessitate new strategies for student services.

With relatively new leadership in student services at Lemoore, new perspectives and ideas are being implemented. The goal to provide online and bilingual orientation, counseling, testing and guidance service to new and continuing students is being implemented. (Institutional self study report, '06)

Although 49% of first term students received assessment placement, 18% of all students used assessment placement services in '06-'07, with only 8% of the college's students using follow up academic services.

The success and retention rates for students taking classes online are below the rates of students taking classes on campus. Online students in '07-'08 had a success rate at Lemoore of 55% and a retention rate of 73%. On campus students had a success rate of 63% and a retention rate of 78%.

Strategies to address Key Findings

- Develop a means to provide more students with matriculation services, with a focus on students who are enrolled in online and video conference classes
- Develop methods to more effectively assess the student preparedness levels of online students
- Develop a student services strategic plan with multiple delivery systems as a main theme. Because of the existing initiative to start online and bilingual services, the college may already be developing a model program to be replicated.
- Consider the efficacy of joint online student services with WHC Coalinga so students at either college would have seamless, well supported services available in an expansive time frame.

Addresses goals from:

- District Strategic Plan: Goal #4 Improve transfer, completion, graduation rates
- College Guiding Principles: Access, Innovation
- State Strategic Plan: Goal B, Student Success and Readiness

1. Graduation Update

Jose reported that the program had errors and had already been printed. He would like to add a graduation page to the website. Graduation begins at 6:30 p.m. with the line up to begin at 6:00 p.m. Rehearsal is at 8:30 a.m. on May 27th. An insert for the honorary degree is being proofread. Sylvia has spoken with Maria regarding the honorary degree. There will be a VIP section up front. The vice chancellors will walk with the faculty. The police department has been called to help with parking. We will have our own state flags. Water and roses will be sold by SIFE. AGS will sell t-shirts.

2. Accreditation Update

Jose will participate on an accreditation team to Miramar. Training will be in Oakland on 10/19/2010.

3. Summer One Year Schedule Task Force

The chancellor would like to develop a one year schedule with students able to register for both semesters. A summer task force will meet. A recommendation for faculty to attend the task force meeting has been made by the Academic Senate. Dr. Hall and Dave Bolt will be on the task force. This will occur late June or July to develop the parameters. It will be implemented in January. Class additions can be made. The goal is to implement this one year schedule for spring, summer and fall of 2011. The registration dates would remain the same.

4. Bookstore Mgr. Involvement in Campus Meetings

There are concerns by faculty with issues concerning the bookstore. Don would like learning areas to invite the bookstore manager to attend their meetings. We need to support the bookstore and purchase from them. Follett is a nationwide bookstore. Since Follett is on our campus we need to take advantage of apparel orders, etc. (outreach supplies, shirts, hats). Involve the bookstore manager, Phil. They can order in bulk. Phil will activate the advisory committee in the fall and involve college staff.

5. Goals and Evaluations

Don needs evaluations (goals and self assessments) sent to him as soon as possible. The deadline for these to be submitted to the chancellor is June 30th. The 360 Franklin Covey is not to be the total evaluation. This is just a small piece. The chancellor plans to have more training, however, you can use recommendations if you choose. This is based upon last year's goals.

6. Timecard Issues

Some classified staff has not been turning in timecards. They must turn in timecards. A list has gone out from the vice chancellor. If staff is required to complete timecards and they do not comply, it can become a disciplinary issue.

7. PAN Forms

This refers to temporary faculty whose grants are ending. The district is going to absorb these faculty members. Also, there are classified grant staff we are trying to pick up. Prepare PAN forms for certificated and classified staff whose grants are ending and that we intend to absorb. i.e., staff will need budget numbers from the instructional, general fund and/or categorical budgets for a total of %100. If there are grant monies possible then use as much grants where possible and the remainder will have to be charged to the district. The direction is to start a PAN with the appropriate budget and turn them in by the next Executive Cabinet meeting in two weeks. Sylvia stated that she had not included the 12% increase in benefits in her last spreadsheet. Don responded that the overage will need be charged to the district budget. At the bottom of the spreadsheet show the totals for the general fund and for the categorical funds. Lay off letters have gone out to some as of last week. Tenure concerns will be determined by the board. Don encouraged those who may have 194 day employees to refer to the recent list sent from HR.

8. Facilities Use Procedures

The Pizza Festival brought great marketing, but also two lawsuits. One is from a parent whose child fell off the mechanical bull and broke his arm and the other was from one of the vendors who stepped in a hole and broke her leg. It is imperative that facilities use forms be submitted along with an insurance certificate naming WHCL as additional insured before any event. If WHCL is a co-sponsor of an event and hosting the conference, then no certificate needed. If one is unclear what constitutes sponsorship they are to call Anne Jorgens at the district office.

9. Shared Governance Survey

Due to accreditation we have to evaluate ourselves. A survey will go out to all staff and SGA members.

10. Other

Personnel concerns.

Evening coverage will be needed for summer. Administrators will need to choose a week for coverage and plan to stay until 8:00 p.m. This allows experience in the evening. Swapping nights/weeks is ok.

- Get your vacation schedules to Glenda. Coverage is needed for summer.
- Furloughs – No furloughs beginning July 1, no COLA, step increases will return.
- Award Ceremonies are being conducted at the high schools and administrators are attending the high school ceremonies.

1.0 Accreditation Update

Dave Bolt reported that today was the deadline for the District Office to return their self study changes. Dave and Jose incorporated the changes to Standard Four. The month of September will be used to consider the changes from the District Office and then it will be sent to the constituency groups and posted on the web site. Mr. Warkentin would like a hard copy for PGC next week. Standard Three members are working on their part. PGC will have a first reading in October and it will be an action item on the October 20 agenda. Thereafter it will be sent to the printer for final copies. The Board of Trustees will receive it in January for a first reading. Pedro has a tremendously large role as he is to write a chapter and provide other needed documentation. Mr. Warkentin cautioned that we need to verify documentation for references. Dave will check the references for consistency. We now have a scanner. Dave will visit the District Office to speak with Duplicating, to review the photos, tabs, and cover photo. Dave stated that he is comfortable with the progress. There will be a picture of the 200 bldg. on the front. Physical documents are needed and will need to be named the same as in the self study.

2.0 Student Learning Outcomes

a) SLO Implementation Plan

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the plan beginning with year 2008-2009. We are supposed to be in the second year of our assessment cycle. Last week review was made as to where we were with course level and program level SLO. The CTE area needs help. There needs to be a way found to encourage individuals to get SLO completed. SLO are included as part of the faculty responsibility. We have until the end of fall to get these done. There are also program areas that have not assessed the SLO. Data from course level SLO can be used toward program level SLO.

3.0 Portal Sites

Mr. Warkentin would like for areas to look at portal sites to make sure they are up to date. The visiting team will want to see the minutes of the Student Services meetings, for example, on their team site. Dave reported that we do not have a web master and we have been told that the portal site/web site is going to be redesigned. It has been difficult to get District Office help. Sylvia stated that the portal needs to be cleaned up, and the external web sites are incorrect. Mr. Warkentin suggested this concern be discussed at WHCIST and at DLC. Felicia Torrez has been designated to work on the web page and she has not come over to get with staff here in Lemoore to work on this. This will be on the PIT meeting agenda.

4.0 Spring Schedule

Mr. Warkentin stated that there are some dollars left over in order to have a larger spring schedule than last spring. If there are classes that you would like back in the schedule then let Dave know. Service learning can be considered as long as it does not have to go through curriculum. We still have $700,000 left which should allow for a fairly good size spring.

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the enrollment report. The spring schedule is due to the District Office by September 9th.

5.0 Bookstore Committee

Dave reported issues with the bookstore and they are going to bring back a Bookstore Ad Hoc Committee. The bookstore manager, Phil, would like to have an English and a Nursing faculty member present and a few others. Phil would like this to be an opportunity to hear concerns face to face rather than through e-mails. If there are faculty representatives interested they will meet once every three weeks or so and in the middle of the semester more frequently. Concern: Faculty e-mailed the bookstore in June to order a book for the first week of class in August. . . too little notice.

6.0 WHCL Organizational Chart

Dave stated that a current organizational chart would be needed for the self study.

7.0 Program Review

Dave has reformatted the program review schedule and added color coding for a clear view as to timeframes for program reviews. He obtained the most recent program reviews completed based on all records. There is a program review party next Friday at 10:00a.m. Faculty members have responded to attend. Mr. Warkentin would like this schedule on the PIT agenda for discussion. Non instructional programs are up to date and instructional programs are on track.

8.0 Graduation

Jose reported that this year he is doing things differently in that he will hold monthly meetings to prepare for graduation. He has submitted a facilities request to reserve the Golden Eagle Arena for graduation on May 26, 2011. Dr. Clifton Harris will participate on the graduation committee as one of the faculty representatives. Jose would like to entertain ideas, i.e. crest for announcements, fanfare, how to set up staging/audio, etc.

Mr. Warkentin recommended Dennis Gallegos as a good resource. Plans to air the ceremony over the internet will be discussed and a video to show prior to students marching in of past graduations and highlights over the year. Bob commented that tickets could be issued to students to limit attendees and perhaps detour disruptive children's from attendance.

9.0 Scholarships

Jose will hold monthly meetings for scholarships on the first Friday of each month. He would like to streamline the process. Mr. Warkentin cautioned to verify that scholarships are active from year to year.

10.0 Waitlist

Jose Lopez reported that there have been many comments regarding the waitlists and the front counter staff is caught in the middle. There are instructors that did not drop students. Some of the instructors seem to be doing their own thing. Specific concern: i.e. instructor with huge roster who does not drop, and adds on to the waitlist. Sylvia suggested that definitive timelines are needed. Something else to evaluate is how many more seats were added.

Dave recommends a meeting with Pedro and Keith to discuss the things that went right and/or wrong with the waitlist. Perhaps deadlines could be determined for drops and adds. Dave reported that in general the faculty were happy with the waitlist. There is room for improvement.

11.0 Student Town Hall

Jose stated that there will definitely be a student town hall in the fall and he asked if there should be a particular focus. There have been a couple of students that have WIFII concerns. Mr. Warkentin recommended a review of the results from the previous student town hall and informing the students of the upcoming accreditation. Mr. Warkentin would like to solicit from students what type of events they would like to see in the Arena (events they would pay to see and events to be offered for no charge). Jose reported that Ryan Cardoza, SGA president, is going to create a survey to students.

12.0 Other

Mr. Warkentin reported that Rebecca Neves had submitted her resignation as our Physics and Engineering instructor. Cathy Barabe has found a grant to pay for part of Christian Raia's salary and it will free up some funds. They have received permission to advertise for the Physics/Engineering instructor position. A brochure will be developed and the search will be upgraded. This position will have grant-writing responsibilities, articulation agreements, and will be asked to go to high schools to give presentations. This will be a tenure track position and in place by January.

Mr. Warkentin commented that Athletics was again a topic at the board meeting. They would like more information on philosophy statements, retention, persistence, transfer rates, etc.

Budget Allocation Committee

West Hills College Lemoore

October 25, 2010

2pm-3pm

Rm 124

Members present: Tammy L., Fidela B., Elva T., Sylvia D., Dave B.

1. Role

The role of the committee was emphasized to the committee members present as per the Planning and Governance Manual.

2. Membership

Tammy L. replaces Joel on the committee as a faculty representative. Sylvia D. replaces Jose as an administrator.

3. Restricted Fund Expenditures FY 09-10

As requested at the last meeting, the purchases of lottery funds from 09-10 was given to the committee.

4. Restricted Funds FY 10-11

Dave reported that as of October 20, there was $37,739.60 of lottery funds to be expended this year. Fidela asked if we would be able to roll-over unused money but Dave could not confirm this as true for this year.

5. Budget Development Process

A. Current

The current Budget Development Process is in dire need of revising. The current process does not parallel the instructional learning areas, for example, so it is difficult to ensure proper communication. Sylvia mentioned that what we might want to call it is the "Budget Allocation Process."

B. Updating

The process of updating the Budget Development Process was incompletely done last year by the Budget Allocation Committee. Dave expressed his goal of completing the revision this year so that it could be approved by the Planning and Governance Council by the end of the school year. Tammy thought that it would be nice if we could have it completed by the time the accreditation visitation team arrived.

6. ABC Roll Out

Dave would like to begin having the ABCs meet. It is important to have all of the members of the ABCs identified so the constituency leaders will be contacted—John Ieronimo, Kurt Sterling, and Ryan Cardoza. Once all committee members have been named, Dave will meet with each of the ABCs leaders to lay out the expectations, timelines, etc. Dave will invited members of the BAC, but they are not expected to attend.

II. Program Overview

- A. State the program mission. The mission statement should include the purpose of the program, the ideals the program strives to attain, and who the program serves. The program mission must align with the college's mission and goals. (200 word limit)

The mission of the ADN Program at West Hills College Lemoore is to prepare students to meet the requirements for licensure as entry-level Registered Nurses in California. These graduates will provide care across the health-illness continuum to a culturally diverse population in a variety of healthcare settings. The program will utilize Business and Professions Code and Title 16 Code of Regulations of the California Nurse Practice Act to organize the competencies that will take into consideration the individual differences of students, including their cultural and ethnic background, learning styles, goals, and support systems. Consistent with the mission of West Hills College Lemoore, the Nursing Program shall provide a positive learning environment which is committed to student learning outcomes and success using relevant goals, innovations, strategies, and partnerships.

- B. List any recommendations from the most recent college/program/department accreditation and/or previous review. (250 words or less)
In May 2010, BRN consultants reviewed the ADN program. They found that the program was meeting the needs of the students that were enrolled. Recommendations included improving clerical support, as well as increasing the number of full-time faculty, to offer the students a more diversified learning experience.

- C. Identify all personnel, including the number of certificated, classified professionals and volunteers.

NCLEX Pass Rate: 12 of 13 LVN to RN students that have taken the NCLEX have passed the NCLEX exam (92.3%). There is 2 more LVN to RN graduates to take the exam in the future. In the traditional RN graduates, 15 of 17 students have passed (88%) NCLEX. There are 2 other students that are still to take the NCLEX exam. The cumulative pass rate for all students is 90%, well above the 76% statewide.

B. Using the data provided, address any significant trends/challenges/opportunities identified which relate to your specific program. (250 words or less)

A few challenges that have been identified include having students take the NCLEX exam within the first 3 months post program completion, to assist in improved success on NCLEX. The students that had difficulty during the nursing program, having been on probation during at least one nursing course, were the students that did not pass the NCLEX exam on their first attempt. There was significant diversity in the class in terms of age, prior healthcare experience, which could also have an impact on student success.

Students are provided with information prior to beginning the program, at orientation, regarding the various requirements, commitment to learning, as well as the intensity of the program. Some students have left the program related to family and personal reasons, once they experienced the classes and amount of learning that occurs in a short period of time. Most classes are 9 weeks in length, which requires students to maintain a certain degree of rigor in learning the material. For some students, this is not the "typical" college class that they have taken before.

The faculty of the program demonstrates significant commitment to student success. They remain available to students, staying over tutoring to ensure success, helping students learn the material that they need to be successful. They coordinate an open skills laboratory, so that students can remediate as well as practice clinical skills. They offer after class tutoring and remediation. If students are not being successful in a lecture class, they provide students with that information, and develop a remediation plan with the student to assist them in being successful.

- C. Attach any other data maintained by your program or at the division level: (e.g. budget information regarding costs per program on personnel, equipment, supplies, delivery of services).

Nursing and Health Careers Budget Information.

Personnel total costs	784,831
Instructional supplies	24,677
Other supplies	2,391

Total Payroll & Expenses	$864,409
Indirect costs	$35,362

- D. What resources are required to maintain the program, and what additional resources are necessary to improve or expand it?

Appropriate staff support to maintain the success and function of the department is needed to improve and expand the program. There is a need for increasing the number of full-time Nursing faculty that can teach lecture classes, as well as having consistent clerical support. There have been other Allied Health programs added to the department, which places a burden on staff. Details need to be attended to, as well as having a system to attend to the various functions and documents that need to be filed with the Department of Public Health (for the CNA program), as well as with the BRN (for the ADN program).

The number of students being served by the Health Careers office has increased over the last 3 years, with the addition of the CNA, Medical Assisting, EMT, EKG, EEG, and Sterile Processing programs to the Health Careers Department. Many students make daily inquiries through the department in regards to the various programs that are offered on the Lemoore campus. There needs to be consistent clerical support to attend to the details that are required for each of the programs that are run through the department.

In terms of nursing faculty, there are 2 full time faculty members, 1 part-time simulation coordinator/lecturer, and 1 part-time lecturer for Psychiatric Nursing, as well as approximately 11 adjunct clinical faculty. The BRN has recommended hiring another full-time nursing faculty to assist with lecture & clinical teaching. Having another faculty can assist in providing diversified instruction to the students.

IV. Professional Development

A. What professional development activities have faculty participated in? Have any of these professional development activities been technology related? Please specify. Each faculty member needs to maintain Professional Development Continuing Education Units (CEU's) to maintain licensure in the Nursing profession (30 CEUs every 2 years). A basic educational requirement is CPR for each faculty member, every 2 years. Faculty has also attended Blackboard training on campus to facilitate use of Blackboard for their classes. The nursing classes are web-enhanced.

Leslie Catron has attended "Magic in Teaching", as well as other technology related programs that will be seen on her professional development resume. She is also presenting at a conference in the October 2010. Marleen Smart, Charles Freeman, Judy Terrazas, and Cynthia Dolata attended an in-service in Alameda on 3G Sim Man, which is the technology used for simulation of clinical scenarios. Cynthia Dolata, Sherry Barragan, and Marleen Smart have attended a conference on Skin Care that is provided by Hospital Council of Northern and Central California. This program is also attended by 24 first semester students with faculty supervision, to incorporate the concepts from the Fundamentals in Nursing course in a professional conference. Students are exposed to what a professional nursing conference is, and what they will need to do once they are licensed as Registered Nurses.

A list of each staff members CEU's that have been completed will be attached to this form.

B. Relate how the professional development activities have improved student learning outcome attainment.

The faculty has had the opportunity to attend a variety of clinical and educational programs, which they can utilize the material/information in their classes that they teach. This assists them in maintaining currency in the material that is presented, as in Nursing, information changes frequently, as does regulations by governing bodies. The faculty has the duty to prepare entry-level practitioners that can function in a safe and competent manner in the clinical practice environment. The faculty has to prepare the graduates of the nursing program to successfully attain licensure, while teaching the variety of clinical skills that are part of the practice of nursing. Students need to demonstrate proficiency in professional behaviors to achieve an entry-level nursing role.

Students have also had the opportunity to attend professional programs as part of their education. Each year, in NURS 1, the students are invited by the Hospital Councils of Northern and Central California to attend the "Educare Skin Conference" that is held locally in the fall. If students are unable to attend, they are offered an alternative assignment. Also, students have had the opportunity to attend professional education programs at Saint Agnes Medical Center (SAMC) during their NURS 10L clinical rotation at SAMC. The topics included Organ Donation and Renal Failure, both topics that are studied in the NURS 10 curriculum. Students have also had the opportunity to use the "clicker" system to answer questions during class. This provides them with the opportunity to obtain immediate feedback to questions that are posed by faculty during class.

C. Describe the program's plans for staff development over the next four years.

Staff will continue to maintain their own professional licensure and development annually. There are conferences that are available that the faculty would like to attend, as funding allows. The conferences that they would like to attend include: (1) Medical-Surgical Nursing conference on a variety of topics. This conference is usually offered with a wide range of topics, which would assist in enhancing their lectures to the students; (2) "Boot Camp for Nurse Educators"- this is a program that is held annually in New Mexico. The course provides materials and information on preparing students for NCLEX exams, student evaluation of learning, as well as other topics. (3) Simulation conferences- there are a variety of conferences that are available for faculty to attend on latest uses of simulation in learning.

V. Curriculum and Student Learning Outcomes

A. List your Instructional Program-Level Student Learning Outcomes.

1. LVN to RN Program Outcomes

- a. The attrition rate for admitted students from admission to completion will be less than 5%.*
- b. The NCLEX pass rate will be 85% or better.*
- c. Graduates will function as competent entry level nurses.*

2. ADN Program Outcomes (Traditional Students)

- a. The attrition rate for admitted students from admission to completion will be less than 5%.*
- b. The NCLEX pass rate will be 85% or better.*
- c. Graduates will function as competent entry level nurses.*

1. Have any Instructional Program-Level Student Learning Outcomes been changed from the completion of the previous program review? What are the changes? Attach documentation.

This will be the first time to evaluate the Program's Student Learning Outcomes for the Nursing program in 2010. Currently, in reviewing each of the above outcomes, we have been able to meet the NCLEX pass rate $\geq 85\%$ for both groups of students. This past spring, the difficulty level of the NCLEX exam was increased. It is important to note that the pass rate has exceeded the SLO established before the Nursing program was initiated. We will continue to monitor the pass rate, and may need to modify the SLO.

Many students have been able to obtain entry level RN positions in a variety of health care settings.

The established goal for learning outcome was to measure attrition in the various programs. State wide the attrition rate for a nursing program is 26%. The West Hills College established a very ambitious 5% attrition as a measure of academic success. The first graduating class of nursing student had a 16.6% rate of attrition. The LVN to RN Bridge students lost 2 students (16%) for academic reasons and no students transferred out for personal reasons. There were 12 students enrolled in the Bridge program. The traditional nursing students had 2 students (8%) dropped or transfer from the program for non academic reasons. 2 students (8%) received non-passing grades and dropped from the program in the first year of the program. While the overall attrition rate was 16.6%, when the students that dropped from the program for academic reasons, the attrition rate was 11%. The stated goal of 5% attrition was not achieved; however the 11% attrition rate of the WHCL ADN Program is only 42% of the State and National attrition rates.

The second group of Traditional nursing students was admitted into the nursing program using specific selection criteria and not a lottery process. The result was that only 1 student (4%) dropped for personal reasons and 1 student (4%) dropped for academic reasons. This was for the students in the first year of the program. Barring any further attrition for academic reason, we may achieve our attrition goal.

We expect that we will need to change the estimated percentage of attrition, as students may enter the program, not recognizing the level of dedication and difficulty that is expected to complete the program. Students may find that the profession does not meet their expectations, and therefore leave the program. Nursing is a complex and demanding profession.

2. Describe the assessment used to improve student learning. Cite a specific example.

Assessment tools include: student evaluations of courses, ATI course exit exams, and ATI NCLEX readiness programs. At the beginning of the program, students are provided with ATI course materials, books, and CD's to assist with their learning. Faculty include the ATI materials as part of the student learning expectations, as well as having the students take the ATI content specific course exams at the end of each course. The exams count in the current course the student is in, so this provides faculty with a further evaluation measure. This has given the faculty a measure of student success, especially on the ATI comprehensive exam. The comprehensive exam is given at the end of the last semester of the nursing program, when the students have had all of the coursework. It is useful for faculty, as well as the students, to identify any areas in the program that may need improvement for future students. The students that have taken the exam are also afforded the opportunity to review areas that they may have had difficulty in, and remediate the material prior to taking their NCLEX exams. The ATI exit exam is structured similar to the NCLEX exam that they take post-program completion. Students take the exams on a computer, with faculty supervision, which again is similar to the method that is used when they take NCLEX, which is also a computer-based exam.

- B. Explain how Instructional Program-Level Student Learning Outcomes are used to measure quality and success of this department/service area.

The Program level SLO's are used to identify if the courses that are taught need further revision. The pass rate on the NCLEX exam has been identified as a specific measure to not. It gives a measure regarding if the material taught has assisted the graduates of the program be successful and complete licensure requirements. Also, students that have become licensed have accepted positions in a variety of healthcare facilities throughout the Central Valley. Students have been hired at Kaweah Delta, Adventist Health- Hanford, Saint Agnes Medical Center, and a number of Golden Living Center facilities. Some graduates have not been able to obtain an entry level nursing position, primarily related to the current economic climate in the valley. Some graduates are considering looking for positions in other areas of the state and country.

- C. Review course outlines and prerequisites. List all courses that apply to this program requiring a five-year course outline review.

1. Describe the curriculum changes anticipated in the next two years. (These changes would include major course revisions, deletions, new courses, revised or new options within a program, or a proposed new program).

In the first semester, the students take NURS 1 & NURS 1L, which is Foundations of Nursing. This is an important class that the students use as the foundation for their nursing career. They have many concepts, such as professionalism, communication as well as other core concepts that are included in the theory component of the class. NURS 1L is the clinical component, where the students learn how to perform professional skills. More hours are needed in the clinical portion, in order to effectively instruct the students in the skills that serve as the foundation of their clinical nursing practice.

We would also like to look at making NURS 101 a progressive class in each semester: (First semester: NURS 101, second semester: NURS 102, etc.) We will need to make a curriculum change to accomplish this. The class would be used as a tutorial in the first semester, then in the second through fourth semesters, develop more correlation to what the lecture classes are, incorporating more practical and technical experiences. The course would increase in intensity as each semester progresses. We would like to use clickers, preparing the student to take the NCLEX exams. This would involve a curriculum change.

In NURS 10L, the students need to fulfill 243 clinical hours. This creates a significant burden on the students, as there are many hours that they need to complete in the clinical facility and community, along with their theoretical classes. We would like to assess if the number of hours can be reduced for this course. It would require a major curriculum change, as well as approval by the BRN.

NURS 11L: We would like to decrease the number of clinical hours, hence we would need to make a curriculum change.

Any nursing course changes would need to not only have a college curriculum change, but also a BRN change.

- D. To what extent is technology being used in the program?

Clickers are used by faculty in their lectures and during the tutorial classes to evaluate student learning during instruction. The program has also invested in simulation, to assist students in learning clinical scenarios and how to manage patients. This is especially effective in demonstrating clinical scenarios that they may not encounter on their clinical rotation. Critical thinking is also fostered with simulation, as the students need to identify how to manage a situation, and can receive feedback as to how they did, if they were in sequence with the treatment plan, and coordinate the care that would be required for a "real" patient. The program has also received a "Mobile Sim Van" from the US Navy, Lemoore. This will allow the nursing program to utilize and partner with community resources for training. The nursing program was invited to participate in a community disaster training event in May 2010, with plans for future involvement.

- E. How does the program ensure that the current curriculum is adequately meeting the needs of the students?

Currently, the courses that are taught include didactic as well as practical learning that the students need to complete their professional training. The program is based on a "Model Curriculum" that was recommended by the State of CA BRN. The measure of the program and students success is through successful completion of the NCLEX exam, achieving licensure as a Registered Nurse in the State of California. If the BRN identifies that further educational material is required, the program will adapt their recommendations.

VI. Career Technical Education Only

- A. Does your program result in providing licensing or certification to its program graduates which will enhance opportunities for employment? If yes, list.

Graduates of the ADN and LVN to RN Bridge program are afforded the opportunity to sit for the NCLEX licensing exam after graduation. Students that pass the NCLEX exam receive professional licensure as a Registered Nurse in the state that they take their exam in. The program does not provide licensure or certification for entry level nursing practice.

- B. Discuss the opportunities available to students who plan to transfer to an institution of higher learning.

West Hills College ADN program is a member of a collaborative effort that include 3 ADN nursing programs and 7 colleges and universities whose goal is to achieve an efficient articulation process from ADN to BSN and MSN. The department has evaluated the curriculum to establish course equivalencies that are consistent with other area colleges and universities that are in the coalition. The nursing students were offered the opportunity to attend a presentation by the colleges and universities to inform the students of the upgrade process. The names and contact information of the students that were interested in upgrading to BSN and/or MSN were collected. The names of the students were forwarded to the school of interest and to that school's nursing counselor. The objective is that the student would ideally finish the educational upgrading process in three semesters following the completion of the ADN. The collaborative is developing a web site that will allow students to access and obtain information that will help them in their articulation efforts. The web site is still in its construction phase; however the prototype is available for viewing. The web site address is:

<http://www.twoandtransfer.org/testsite/index.html>.

C. Discuss the effectiveness of your program in terms of:

1. Entry-level job placement as a result of training.

Initially, students can practice as a graduate nurse via a permit through the BRN, until they take their initial NCLEX exam. Students are able to enter into nursing practice as an entry-level professional in a variety of health-related settings, once they have received their RN licensure.

During their educational experience here at WHCL, the students also have the opportunity to take NURS 15X, which allows them the chance to participate in an externship in a local healthcare organization. This encourages the student to develop professional behaviors and skills, and align themselves with an organization for post-graduation employment. Students will be more likely to be hired by employers that they have already externed for, as the amount of orientation required will be less, since the new graduate will be familiar with the organization. It creates a more seamless process and transition for both the new graduate nurse, as well as the organization. Both the graduate and organization will be aware of each other's expectations, shortening the "honeymoon" phase for both.

2. Effectiveness of continuing education to meet the need for advanced training and/or training in emerging technologies.

The faculty attended a variety of learning opportunities to maintain currency in their knowledge. The faculty members CE is outlined in part IV A of the program review.

The many educational offerings that the faculty has attended has provided the program with significant diversity that assists in students' success.

CPR: This is a class that is provided by EMT faculty to incoming ADN students, as well as CNA & MA students.

3. State any other measures used to determine the success of this program (e.g. satisfaction surveys, employer surveys or advisory committee feedback).

The Nursing Program has had several advisory committee meetings with local healthcare organizations, to identify specific needs of future employers in terms of employing the program's graduates. Their information and feedback has been important in molding the program, so that the students are competitive in the job market.

Nursing faculty also receive feedback from mentors in the clinical facility, as well as from the administration of the healthcare facilities where the students have their clinical experience. They have been impressed with our students' abilities and the program's rigor in training and education of our student nurses. The program's faculty continues to maintain positive relationships with the various organizations.

The students had a Wine and Wellness event in March 2010, to raise funds for their pinning ceremony. During the event, the students were present and able to mingle with attendees, which were members of the college, the various healthcare organizations where they attend clinical. They also did a simulation presentation during the event, which allowed the attendees to see what simulation was and how it can be effective in the student's education. This stimulated further discussion with a variety of organizations, including partnering with the US Navy, Lemoore for their disaster drill in May 2010. The simulation staff (Leslie Catron and Thomas Johnson) has been asked to present at this year's simulation conference in October 2010. They will share their experiences in regards to developing simulation in a new nursing program.

4. Comment on how the success rate compares to the success rate of the same program at other colleges in the region. (250 words or less)

The NCLEX exam is used to license graduates into the nursing profession, determining that they are minimally competent entry-level practitioners. The NCLEX pass rates are used as a measure of success of the program. For the 2009-2010 academic year, WHCL ADN program was officially at 100% pass rate (2 students took NCLEX and passed for the period measured through June 2010).

Comparison with other local RN programs: CSUF: 90.83%; COS: 89.03%; FCC: 77.92%.

- D. What would be the preferred sequence of courses to be taken to achieve your program's goal of a degree or certificate?

Currently, the courses are sequenced in the order needed to achieve the level of learning needed to progress into the profession.

Prerequisites: Microbiology, Anatomy, Physiology, English 1A

Corequisites: General Chemistry, Math 63 (or higher), Communications I, Nutrition, Psychology, Intro to Sociology.

First year, Fall semester:

- NURS 1 Foundations of Nursing
- NURS 1L Foundations of Nursing, clinical
- NURS 2 Medical-Surgical Nursing I
- NURS 2L Medical-Surgical Nursing I, clinical
- NURS 3 Pharmacology
- NURS 101 Tutorial, Learning Lab

First year, Spring semester:

- NURS 4 Medical-Surgical Nursing II
- NURS 4L Medical-Surgical Nursing II, clinical
- NURS 5 Obstetrics-Maternity Nursing
- NURS 5L Obstetrics-Maternity Nursing, clinical
- NURS 6 Advanced Pharmacology
- NURS 101 Tutorial, Learning Lab

Second year, Fall semester:

NURS 7 Medical-Surgical Nursing III
NURS 7L Medical-Surgical Nursing, clinical NURS 8 Psychiatric Nursing
NURS 8L Psychiatric Nursing, Clinical NURS 9 Pediatric Nursing
NURS 9L Pediatric Nursing, Clinical
NURS 101 Tutorial, Learning Lab

Second year, Spring semester:

NURS 10 Medical-Surgical Nursing IV, Advanced Medical Surgical Nursing NURS 10L Medical-Surgical Nursing IV, clinical NURS 11 Gerontology-Community Nursing
NURS 11L Gerontology-Community Nursing, Clinical NURS 13 Leadership
NURS 101 Tutorial, Learning Lab

Throughout the program after the first year, first semester: Externships- Work Study elective.

E. How does the program ensure that the current curriculum is adequately meeting the needs of students?

The curriculum is directed by the BRN, to assure student success in the profession. Student success within the individual courses is reviewed. The distribution of the student's grades is also reviewed. Student progress is monitored monthly by each faculty member with case notes kept. Students that are having difficulty in courses are placed on probation and the faculty member intervenes with tutoring and use of accessory teaching tools.

ATI course exit exams are also used, to identify if the students have been able to meet the course objectives and content mastery. These exams are administered at the end of each of the nursing courses. The exams are nationally standardized, allowing the program to compare how the individual nursing cohort compares with similar nursing programs throughout the nation. Student success with the exit exam has exhibited a high correlation with success on the NCLEX-RN exam.

Student course evaluations are also reviewed, with course revisions made from the feedback received.

Our first cohort graduated in May 2010; the pass rate for the LVN to RN cohort was 92.3%; the student pass rate for the entire cohort is currently 87% (27/31).

F. Excluding curriculum validation, discuss community involvement in the program.

A variety of clinical sites are utilized for the students to train in, beginning in skilled nursing facilities, acute care hospitals, schools, home health agencies, cancer centers and public health agencies. This provides the students with experiences that assist in their professional development, as well as the opportunity to network with potential employers.

The program has also developed a partnership with the US Navy, Lemoore base. A mobile simulation van has been provided, so that simulation can be shared with the base. Students from the nursing program have been participants in the disaster drill in Hanford in May 2010, with plans for future collaboration.

- G. List any special accreditations, external regulations, or advisory committees that have oversight to your program.

*The California Board of Nursing
WASC*

- H. List any special regulations, space requirements, staff training, etc. required by your program.

All nursing faculty need to maintain licensure, continuing education requirements for licensure, as well as CPR and other clinical certifications. The nursing skills lab is used to teach and practice clinical nursing skills. The simulation lab is also used to practice the nursing skills, along with the analysis, synthesis, and application of nursing concepts. The lab needs to be maintained at specified standards to "house" the high fidelity simulation manikins that are used for the students training.

Medical equipment needs to be available to assist the students in their training as well. Having enough supplies, as well as a secure space to keep it is necessary.

Simulation training was completed through Laerdal and Guamard for faculty. Blackboard training for faculty for web-enhanced classes.

- I. List any program initiatives to meet the needs of social-economically diverse students, and/or those with non-traditional requirements (e.g., physical, mental disabilities, re-entry, gender, etc.).

- 1. Students that have any disabilities are accommodated to assist them be successful. Students are encouraged to meet with the DSPPS counselor for evaluation, so that faculty is aware of any specific needs that require accommodations.*
- 2. Workforce: students are evaluated to identify if they qualify for workforce funding.*
- 3. Students are also provided with information regarding scholarships that they can apply for, to assist them with meeting funding needs for the nursing program.*
- 4. Students (male and female) were given the opportunity to attend a "Men in Nursing" conference in 2009. The students were exposed to issues that men in nursing face and options for addressing these issues. The students were introduced to different styles of nursing and caring, which impacts communication styles as well.*
- 5. Students that have difficulty with basic skills to Tammy Larson for remediation with WIN solutions. This is an online self-paced learning program that helps students progress at their own pace in all the basic skills areas. For example, students can develop their math skills using a health careers backdrop with the computer program. Testing is used to* measure the students' progress and to determine their levels of achievement.

6. ATI tutorial programs are used to remediate students that have weaknesses in their basic skills and are unable to pass the entrance exam (TEAS test). Students must be able to obtain a 67% score in order to qualify for admission into the nursing program.

J. Discuss the program's use of external funding, including grants, if applicable.

External funding has been provided from a State Chancellor's Nursing Expansion grant 10-116. This grant provides over $237,000 per year for 2 years. This grant is designed to ensure that the program admits 24 traditional and 12 LVN to RN Bridge student every year. The program has entered into an agreement with Kaiser's Employee Joint Education Fund to provide education for 2 of their LVN's wishing to articulate to a RN status. The fund has provided $37,400 dollars for the students' education. There has been $10,000 has allocated through VTEA funding for tutorial services for the students. The department has recently been awarded a Department of Labor Grant, which is a 3 year, $900,000 grant. It is a partnership with the State Center Community College District.

VII. Summary and Recommendations

A. Based on analysis of the information provided in Sections I through VI above, describe the program's strengths, areas that need improvement, and strategies and actions to make those improvements.

1. Program strengths:

Student success has been at least 85% in the program, including graduation from the nursing program, as well as passing the NCLEX exam for licensure as a Registered Nurse. Faculty commitment to the students is significant- they have given their time and effort to assist the students in being successful in the nursing program and courses that are taught.

The partnerships that have been developed with the various healthcare facilities have been a definite strength. The students are provided with diverse environments to learning. Facilities have been welcoming to the students, assisting with their professional growth.

The program has been designated as a training facility by Gaumard for simulation. This is providing the program with the opportunity to partner with other facilities and programs, such as Adventist Health; surrounding school districts, such as Laton, Lemoore, and Hanford; the US Navy, Lemoore and the Loma Linda Medical training program.

2. Areas that need improvement:

We have outgrown our physical facilities on campus. We need more classrooms, a dedicated simulation lab, storage, as well as offices for the faculty and administrative staff.

There is 1 office for the 3 faculty that teach in the program. They share the space currently. This makes it difficult to meet with students individually to provide confidential discussions when needing to assist students to be successful or to provide evaluations. We also need to have a dedicated washer and dryer, as many linens are used by not only the nursing program, but the CNA and MA programs that shares the skills lab. Currently, the nursing faculty have taken turns in taking the linens home- washing, drying, and folding them for the students to use. The staff needs a dedicated locked storage area for all of the supplies that each of the programs uses. Since the supplies are of a medical nature, we need a space that is secure and can only be accessed by the faculty. A dedicated high fidelity simulation lab also needs to be developed, as many programs need to have access and use of facility.

Also expanding the number of full-time faculty available for the nursing program would be a benefit to both the staff and students. Having consistent administrative staff is also needed, to assist with all of the programs that are now part of the Health Careers department. It is difficult to manage the number of inquiries that come through the office for the other programs that are managed through the single office. Phone calls need to be handled in a timely manner, as well as having administrative support to ensure that all records are processed correctly for all students that access the department's office. Because the programs are funded by grants, the program needs to have a dedicated administrative assistant that has been trained to maintain the necessary documentation and reports that need to be generated.

3. Strategies and actions for program enhancement and improvement:
The depressed economic conditions that our community is enduring have impacted the Health Care Industry.
Plans to increase nursing graduates marketability:
 - 1) Provide education in basic cardiac arrhythmias, ACLS, PALS.
 - 2) Increase participation in electronic simulation to increase the student's critical thinking. This is important because the NCLEX exam is at the level of analysis and application of the knowledge that they have learned in the program, which requires students to reason through information provided.
 - 3) Development of a scholarship program.
- B. Attach your Program Planning and Evaluation Assessment Grid. Follow the directions provided and thoroughly complete the form. You should have not more than five short term goals, of which at least three are student learning outcome goals.

1. Program Review Overall Progress

Don explained that he wants to encourage a final push to complete program reviews and SLOs for continued institutional effectiveness. He reported that Chancellor Gornick had attended a training in Sacramento and learned the need for colleges to prove that they are in continuous quality improvement stage, if not, the Accrediting Commission could very likely make a recommendation in this regard to include an additional visit. Don reported that for this reason he had invited Pedro, Stephanie, Ron and David to this meeting to find out where we currently are. The first draft of the self study is soon due. All of the President's Executive Cabinet meetings will focus on these things. Sylvia questioned the mechanism for creating the artifacts for program review in order to have a seamless flow. The closer we get to our accreditation visit the more important this will be. Mr. Warkentin stated that all have been involved with program review for a long time; what we have not done is implement program reviews. This is the hard part, specifically with the lack of budget. Pedro commented that the action for program review is related to budget, but we can't use this as an excuse. We have to use the results of program review toward improvements. Dave stated that components of program review can be facilities. Don questioned if improvements can be documented as to what was identified and those that were made. Jody responded that improvements were made in his areas as they are working at doing things better, transfers, etc. Don believes what would help for our evidence is to have folders with samples of program review documents along with the documented improvements. He gave an example of the recent reorganization which has brought about improvements. In some cases a program review has resulted in new courses and also the move of the DSPS lab. The string is going back to make sure and bring forward that the DSPS lab was moved with evidence documented showing it was due to growth, the need for increased staff and hours which were added. This documentation should be in the midterm report. Pedro, playing devil's advocate, stated that he had pulled out some program reviews and their action plans and some show that the action had occurred, and some show no action. Don responded that the Budget Allocation Committee (BAC) ranks priorities for personnel and equipment. Sylvia stated that at Sacramento City College, in her role as an accrediting team member, she observed that they listed all of their program goals in a master list; it lifted requests resulting from program reviews onto a master list along with the fiscal impact. It was listed by each program review and the outcomes and what they related to, i.e. budget, facilities, courses, etc. Dave voiced that this was the intent of the program review summary sheet. The requests coming from program review should come from the originator of the program review. Ron explained that this was the idea for the Eagles Nest portal team site; to house needed information in one location. Don asked if Sacramento City was well along with their program reviews. Sylvia responded that they had on-line training for their staff. Stephanie commented that program review parties are held at WHCL to help new managers begin the process. Don stated that some type of attention to program review will occur for managers every two years. He recalled when new staff once received an on-going orientation throughout the semester. Ron will demonstrate the Eagles Nest portal team site when it is completed. Don stated that we need to get to sustainable quality improvement and demonstrate that we are closing the cycle.

2. Course level SLO Progress

- a. Identification of SLOs
- b. Assessment tool
- c. Assessments
- d. Improvements

David Babb was in attendance to address agenda items 2, a – d. He distributed a tracking spreadsheet showing the course level SLOs, active courses, non-active courses, GE courses, courses with SLOs defined (100%), SLOs assessed, results analyzed, and how many courses have used the results to improve learning. The learning area representatives came up with a schedule last semester. The area reps and he keep an eye on getting things done and remind faculty to make sure courses are getting assessed. Basically this chart shows the six learning areas. David uses this spreadsheet for his annual report. 28% of active courses have been assessed. Once data is received further implementation is required. This year's WASC report had different questions. WASC simply asks for how many courses have been assessed. Don asked if for the courses currently offered this fall, spring and summer and the following fall, could they have David believes we will only be able to achieve 60% completion but there are many courses on the books that we don't offer. Each learning areas has to decide to make courses active. If an active course is in the catalog then it has to be tracked. Most of these classes fall under CTE, and the CTE department has done the fewest assessments. This is a massive area when it comes to courses and programs and an area that needs reps. Pedro stated that the team will be looking at completion of SLOs by 2012. It is not impossible, but there are; for example, 5 psychology classes taught by adjunct. These classes were not put on the assessment schedule. There are big chunks in learning areas that are being done by adjunct faculty. If the schedule extends to 2010 and we are at the end of 2009 at 28%, and have been working on these since 2008, is it likely we will be where we need to be? David believes we will be at 34% by the end of this semester. The topic of SLO progress needs to be on each learning area meeting agenda. Health and Wellness took their schedule to 2013. It's not just the assessments; it is additionally analyzing the results and making improvements. Don would like David to return to this meeting in early spring to provide another update.

3. Program Level SLO Progress

- a. Identification of SLOs
- b. Assessment tool
- c. Assessments
- d. Improvements

David spoke about overall totals of programs. He can't get an accurate count on the number of instructional programs we have with our definition. He has been working with Dave to get a handle on what to call a program for tracking purposes. He came up with certificates and degrees and they are now doing program review for every certificate. He needs to know what to put on his list so he can motivate people. Program SLOs are a part of program review and there seems to be disconnection. In Child Development there are many degrees and certificates. Pat Kraft-Chapman only does two of these; also Matriculation is another review for seven different programs. Does each seven have different SLOs? Child Development has one degree and several certificates. She does a program review for the certificate options. Pat plans to create SLOs to be bundled. Don expressed concern about how programs are being defined with regard to Child Development having seven program reviews. Brian Kron prefers to do program reviews for each certificate option. If there is a series of certificate options within a program, it seems only one review should be necessary. The data is pulled for each certificate and the students are overlapped. Pedro feels that these need not be separated. WASC will not question our program definition. Stephanie thinks we can do what we choose to do as far as WASC is concerned. Where can we be in six months on the instructional side? David believes by the end of next semester we can be 1/3 complete with the programs. At the end of this academic year SLOS will have been written and 33% assessed. We have to be 100% identified and the assessment tool identified. With proficiency levels we do not have to have everything assessed, but defined, with assessments in place.

4. Institutional Level SLOs

- a. Identification
- b. Assessment tools
- c. Assessments
- d. Improvements

The Library and Tutoring SLOS are still to be completed and Ron is working with Debra Christy, snack bar manager, on the snack bar SLOs. Ron figures it will be assessed by their program reviews and updates. These will also be mapped. Ron believes all these areas will have assessments this year. Matriculation and its areas are done. Program reviews are being sent to the SLO Committee first for review. How will we assess our SLOs? SLO's will likely be assessed by collecting a survey of student engagement. Ron is confident that the first three columns will be at a 100% soon. Sylvia would like "not applicable" put in the fourth column. Ron will return in the early spring to report to this group. In theory we are shooting for mapping from any course and to trace SLOs back.

For clarification, on the rubric they don't use institutional level; rather they have course and degree level. Pedro hopes both colleges can call them the same. Stephanie asked if we are talking about an AA versus an AS. We defined a degree as a program. Nowhere on the rubric do they mention institutional SLOs. Don commented that by getting a degree the outcomes could be what they have learned after they leave. These are in the general ed SLOs. Could we map job skills back and/or information competency? The goals are based on student progress and outcome data, not necessarily learning outcomes. David stated that program level only looks at the core courses not the general ed courses. Think of the goals as performance indicators for the institution. One approach is to identify programs that align with institutional SLOs; you bring up the information and use this data to support this SLO. Another approach is an exit test for graduates to find out if they are walking away with what they should have accomplished. The mission statement and syllabus need to be considered. Looking at this from a broad sense we are trying to connect the dots to all areas, i.e. Student Services and M & O. David stated that this campus started with course level SLOs and other schools started with program level. How do we measure quality environment? Environment has to do with the Student Services side. We need to tie to the mission statement. Pedro reported that at American River College they took a survey and aligned the questions to their SLOs. It is a good idea, but not for all programs or courses. David has every course level SLO mapped to general ed. Some general ed courses are in a program. The rubric does not state AA and/or AS. Pedro believes that both degrees were combined. David stated that we are looking at program level and degree level. What are we expecting them to walk away with? Expectations for the degree will be on the next agenda. WASC is not clear about the definitions. They do not give a clear answer and they leave it subjective. Don asked the consensus on this. Will we bundle our program and general ed courses together and call it programs including general ed? Pedro suggested to put the groups together.

5. Next Steps

6. Standard I Accreditation Review

Bob Clement, co-chairs

Bob has tri-chairs and has ten committee members. Don's intent is to go through the standard as a group. We can give something to our writer. Standard IA.I is the mission; 1b is institution effectiveness and planning. Pedro recommends referencing the guide. Sylvia as a newbie needed a chart. Dave stated the one of the goals was to produce a 200 page document. We need to be concerned that we answer the questions thoroughly. The guide provides an overview. This time we will have 300-600 pages. The teams are broken up into standards and focus on their standard. We must be thorough and specific to make sure we walk away with the minimum of recommendations. The bullets each need to be considered in our write ups. Program review, dialogue and Communication are part of the answers to the question. The committees should write an introduction to each standard. All four standards ask the same questions there is some redundancy. Pedro is aware of a college who wrote their document as a story from the beginning to the end. He recommends that the committees go back and reference the guide. Don stated that suggestions to the subcommittees be made for additional items. Pedro submitted an eight page document on standard I and none has been included. Sylvia's stated that Standard III is ready for review. Jody asked how the district portion is intended to be incorporated. The intent was for centralized services to have input into this process. District strategic planning and WHCIST needs to be mentioned. Standard III will begin to be reviewed at the next meeting. The summary narrative is the introduction. Don wants an overall introduction for 2.a, 2.b., and 2.c. We are doing all the work for the writer, and the writer has to make sense of it all. The ghost writer has some working knowledge of how the college operates and will take the templates and mesh them into one document. As soon as the draft is available the person one wrote the template needs to make sure their intent is included. Ultimately the final decision as to what will be included in the document falls to the president. ON the planning agenda sections should be kept these to a minimum. Make them attainable and make sure they are identified with a weakness. Pedro stated it you identify a weakness and a planning agenda is written; make sure it is attainable and realistic. An introduction should be written for each sub standard. For process mapping, we will go with our functions and services. As a recommendation two visits ago the team identified confusion from employees regarding where some services were provided. So we conducted a mapping service which lists all the functions and services at the district. This gives the employee the option to select where the function lies and how often they interact with these functions. A survey will go out to staff. Some functions have changed. Some colleges do it by standard. The order of review is as follows: Standard 3 - 2 - 4 - 1.

Mr. Warkentin called the meeting to order at 10:13 a.m.

1.0 Accreditation Update

Mr. Warkentin reported that the WHCL accreditation visit will be March 7 – 10, 2011. The team members will arrive on Sunday and make a visit to the District Office on Monday morning. Both WHCC and WHCL will be visited. WHCC's team chair will be the president from the Ventura College District. WHCL's team chair will be Rosa Carlson, president of Porterville College. The WHCC team will stay at Harris Ranch and the WHCL team will stay at the Tachi Hotel. A month prior to the visit the team chairs and their assistants will meet with the Colleges and District Office. One aspect the team will look at is how we communicate with our District Office staff. Mr. Warkentin reiterated that this committee, President's Intercommunication Team (PIT), conducts monthly meetings to dialogue with the District Offices. He reviewed the PIT mission statement and its membership.

The WHCL self study draft has been sent out and we are awaiting feedback from the district office staff. The WHCL Planning and Governance Council (PGC) will take action on the self study in October with Board of Trustees action to follow in October/November. The Study will need to be mailed out to the team in January. Evidence documents will be scanned and accessible via links through the website. The WHCL team room will be in the conference center room 256. It will be partitioned off for individual meetings and opened up for the larger meetings.

Susan announced that she will be participating on an accrediting team in Oxnard and she had just returned from training. A few of the issues WASC has concern with are: Resource allocation (whether it is integrated into resource planning) also, whether colleges have a plan in place for reimbursement to reserves. SLO will not be a sanction; however, proficiency is expected by 2012; continuous quality improvement is the next level. Non proficiency by 2012 will be a recommendation. Mr. Warkentin added that recommendations may bring a follow up visit which he intends to avoid. Susan will send a bulleted list of her observations from the training. Additionally, she reported that she learned that the data we present should also be analyzed. Another issue concerns international students and if colleges are meeting their special needs. The data about incoming students should include international students. The international program at WHCCD generates about the equivalent of 200 FTES per year. WASC wants to see that SLO for online programs are managed the same as face to face and that success, retention, and persistence rates are comparative to face to face student achievement. Student achievement relates to certificates, degrees, and SLO (what they walk away with in their head).

Mr. Warkentin announced that he is chairing an accreditation team to Evergreen Valley College and Jose Lopez is on a team at Miramar College in San Diego in October. After all have participated on teams they will convene for dialogue.

2.0 Budget Update

Ken Stoppenbrink stated that the District budget for 2010-2011 was approved in August despite the fact the state does not have a budget. Communication from the State Chancellor's Office is that there is a budget eminent. Apportionment has not been received and currently we are using reserves which should take us to October. The state is paying IOU's with the challenge being how long the banks will honor the IOU'S. Ken does not expect an approved budget soon. All districts will be in the same situation. Mr. Warkentin reported that he had spoken with EECU Manager, Lisa Franks, and EECU is preparing to provide interest free payroll loans. The loans would also be available to elementary and high schools in the valley. Frances interjected that there is speculation that a budget will be approved after the November elections are over. Ken stated that there are monies in capital outlay projects that could be pulled to put in the general fund if necessary. Frances will contact Lisa Franks to question the details. Bob asked if there would be concern with the bond monies and the continuance of construction. Ken does not see any delays in construction. Bob asked if budgets would be frozen. Ken responded that the same procedure as in past will likely be in place which would freeze budgets before the end of the fiscal year. He reiterated that the state is holding $6 million a year out of our apportionment and will pay it next fiscal year.

This is why a freeze has to be put on our spending. Mr. Warkentin stated that he had been informed that we will not receive MAA checks until the state budget passes even though MAA is federal monies. Ken reported that WHCCD is in excellent shape. The normal budget planning process will continue in the spring.

Ken questioned if in WHCL'S perspective on budget if there is a flow or are there areas that need to improve. Mr. Warkentin replied that aside from no budget in the last few years, an area to strengthen is the need for a formal response mechanism from the district to acknowledge prioritized budget requests. Currently, when Anne Jorgens reports lottery dollars have been received, the Budget Allocation Committee revisits the priority lists. There needs to be a response form. As new monies become available we need a communication piece. Ken responded in agreement and recommends this be further discussed at the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet as it is needed district-wide. Cathy stated that she would like to see priority 3 lists to know what has been requested.

3.0 Program Review Schedule

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the District Office program review schedule. If there are reviews not showing that have been completed, please let he or Dave Bolt know.

4.0 New Grants Program

Cathy Barabe reported that she had informed Mr. Warkentin about CTE equipment monies available. Additionally, she has found monies for two child development classes for spring and fall. She has talked to Dave Bolt about adding science classes for spring as there is funding for online and/or face to face classes. She is working with the Avenal school districts regarding the educational center and she needs feedback on signage, i.e. WHC Center at Avenal, WHC Avenal Learning Center. There will be staff stationed at the outreach sites. It is expected that the students will be nontraditional. Susan asked about the Title V grant approval. Cathy responded that she had not heard. The Student Services Grant will not be received.

5.0 FTES Update

In the absence of Mr. Avila, no report was given.

Central Valley Degree Completion Summit Steering Committee

August 9, 2010 - Meeting Highlights

Hosted by Alliant International University – Thanks so much Penny Schafer!

Attendees

Frank Gornick, Chancellor, West Hills CC District – Committee Chairman; Cheri Cruz, DeVry University (call in); Benjamin Duran, Superintendent/President, Merced College; Bernell Hirming, Regional Dean, National University; Michele Lahti, Director, Central Valley Higher Education Consortium; Bill Scroggins, Superintendent/President, College of the Sequoias; Penny Schafer, Regional Director, Alliant International University; Jeanie Smith, Summit Coordinator, John Welty, President, California State University, Fresno.

Guest(s): Katie Tremper, College Access Foundation

The Central Valley Degree Completion Initiative addresses a growing national need to redesign articulation agreements to improve degree completion rates and reduce costs of degree attainment.

Summit Vision Statement

To create a framework to address the challenges of regional articulation and develop a work plan that is voluntary and faculty driven.

STEM Articulation and Alignment Profile Review & Discussion

- Data on regional articulation in STEM revealed three issues:
 1. Variation among institutions on what constitutes lower division major articulation
 2. Lack of uniform commitment to articulation among institutions
 3. Unavailability of required courses
- Liberal Studies majors will be considered for first-phase inclusion following review of the alignment data.
- Benchmarks on the number of students in STEM and Liberal Studies majors need to be established.
- Motivations for institutions/faculty to participate include pending legislation (SB1440), student preparation, and release time to maintain and sustain a collaborative model.
- The Summit is not a STEM initiative but rather the platform to develop a regional articulation model that will be applied first to STEM majors.
- The initiative is organized around the theory that improving degree completion and reducing the costs of degree attainment are viable economic recovery strategies.

Eaton Cummings Group

- Bill Craft and Kathleen Guy presented their initial outline of the components for a successful Summit outcome. Important goals of the Summit include:
 - Co-creating a shared vision for articulation
 - Creating a work plan that can be replicated to other majors
 - Identifying and establishing benchmarks
 - Determining a mechanism and process to convene post work
 - Developing a Summit Findings Report that can be shared with funding organizations and policy makers.

Eaton Cummings Group (continued)

- Items still to be discussed among committee and facilitators include:
 - Finalizing agenda framework
 - Determining the number of facilitators for work groups
 - Identifying persons to (1) spearhead implementation (2) monitor benchmarks, milestones and outcomes (3) lead communications responsibility.
- Pre work for Summit attendees will include a survey that the facilitators will draft and refine with the committee. The survey will reference the literature and contain questions that relate to issues surrounding articulation.

Summit Invitational Letter

- To be sent out to all members the week of August 9¹

Summit Itinerary

MINUTES

Meeting of the Lemoore District Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Tuesday, September 21, 2010, 2010 at 7:00 a.m. at the Chamber Office

PRESENT WERE: CHAIRMAN Rick Rossiter; CHAIRMAN-ELECT Michael Patterson; CFO Ron Walker; DIRECTORS: Jeff Brittz, Jeff Garcia, Paul Santiago, Mary Hornsby, Don Warkentin, Debbie Gullord, Aracely Salas, Skip Nugent and CEO Maureen Azevedo

ABSENT WERE: VICE CHAIRMAN Rick Rayburn; DIRECTORS: Melinda Larson, John Miller and Diana Peck

Called to Order: 7:00 a.m.

ACTION ITEMS:

Minutes - August 17, 2010: Motion by Mary Hornsby, Second by Michael Patterson, unanimously approved.

Financial Reports - August 2010: Motion by Jeff Garcia, Second by Skip Nugent, unanimously approved.

DISCUSSION/ACTION ITEMS:

RDA and Lemoore Chamber 5yr Agreement - Subcommittee was formed, who would meet to discuss, make changes and recommendations on this Contract/Agreement. The Board Members in attendance, unanimously agreed to accept whatever changes and recommendations this subcommittee made, with regards to the Chamber/RDA 5yr Agreement. Furthermore, it would not be necessary to present the Chamber/RDA 5yr Agreement for approval to the entire Chamber Board again. The subcommittee consists of, Rick Rossiter, Michael Patterson, and Jeff Garcia. (At a later date, John Miller became involved in this subcommittee).

2011 Goal Setting Session - October 23, 2010 @ Tachi Palace Hotel: A subcommittee was formed to review the "2010 Goals", determine what, if any of these Goals had been met. With that information, it would help us in preparing for the "2011 Goal Setting". This committee was comprised of, Jeff Garcia, Michael Patterson, John Miller and Rick Rossiter.

Car Show - October 2nd - Due to a lack of time, as well as not having a "Car Show Committee" in place, it was decided to cancel the Car Show this year. Additionally, Ron Walker acknowledged the City of Lindsey was having a Car Show on the same day. Suggestions made to possibly incorporate a CAR and BIKE Show together. It was mentioned, the Car Show applicants felt insulted by having their cars judged by just any random person pulled out of the audience. Judges need to know Cars. Perhaps we could find "Celebrity Judges", i.e. Race Car Drivers, Kyle Evans, Billingsley Tire, Past Car Club Presidents, etc. "No Car Show" was better than doing a "Bad Car Show". Cancel Car Show: Motion by Jeff Garcia, Second by Skip Nugent, unanimously approved. Mary Hornsby asked if another time of year might make a difference in the car show. Skip Nugent felt by getting car enthusiast back on the committee is what would be needed. This event would also require Board Member involvement along with a strong Committee being in place.

Upcoming Events: Discussed Holiday Stroll, Tree Raising and Christmas Parade.

Update Items:

Status of Rental Properties:

212 West "D" Street - Had a possible tenant, who wanted a significant reduction in rent, in exchange for labor to remove and rebuild the garage in the back. However, upon further investigation it was certain we would not want them building anything for us, nor would we want them as a tenant.

Other Business: Joe Simonson addressed the Board concerning his recent rental experience in renting the Freight Room. He was upset because he did not receive a full refund of his Security Deposit, as he was only given ½ of his deposit back. He complained that he was not given a key to the padlock on the South facing sliding hall door. Additionally, the men's bathroom immediately ran out of paper towels and toilet paper, indicating they had not been refilled prior to his arrival. He said when he previously rented the Freight Room, he said the supply cabinet in the hall was always unlocked. This time it was locked, so he didn't have access to the broom and mop, etc. and that is why he didn't clean the floors, etc.

The Board recommended we have cleaning tools available for the renters. Items to include, wet mop, bucket, dust mop, broom, dustpan and toilet brush.

It was also suggested, Joe Simonson's refund should be recalculated, and all or a portion to be refunded.

Meeting adjourned @ 8:35 a.m.

Respectfully Submitted,

Maureen Azevedo,
Chief Executive Officer

The institution takes the following steps to contact students and request overpayments:

1. A hold is placed, preventing registration and release of student records.
2. Three written requests for repayment are mailed to the student.
3. The overpayment is submitted for state tax offset.
4. The overpayment may be referred to the Department of Education for collection.

Scholarships

West Hills College Lemoore offers a variety of local and institutional scholarships and maintains applications for outside scholarships. Awards are made on the basis of scholastic achievement, selected major, citizenship, leadership, and/or need. Scholarships are offered through the generosity of citizens and civic groups in the West Hills Community College District and surrounding area. Criteria vary with each scholarship. Brochures and applications for the following academic year are available each spring from the Financial Aid Office.

Institutional and local scholarship applications may be obtained from any of the West Hills College District locations: Lemoore, Coalinga, Firebaugh, and NASL. Applications for outside scholarships may also be obtained by contacting any counselor.

West Hills College Lemoore scholarship applications must be received by the April 15th deadline and must be legible and complete to be considered.

CITIZENS' BOND OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE for Measure E – School Facilities Improvement District (SFID) No. 3, Lemoore Area MINUTES

December 9, 2009 4:00pm

West Hills College Lemoore - Admin. Conference Rm. 124

Members Present:	Members Absent:	WHCCD Staff:	Others Present:
Buddy Brooks	Salli Day	Don Warkentin, WHCL	Keven Cobb, AP
Les Brown		President	Architects
Tom Hernandez		Ken Stoppenbrink	Rich Treece, AP
Lynda Lahodny		WHCCD Vice Chancellor	Architects
Donna Elliott		of Business Services
Linda Balcazar		Frances Squire, WHCCD
		Marketing Director

1. Call to Order/Public Comments

WHCL President Don Warkentin called the meeting to order at 4: 03 p. m. Self introductions were made by those in attendance. Mr. Warkentin stated that due to the passing of Measure E at the November 2008 election, the district was obligated to establish an oversight committee in alignment with the Education Code of the State (Proposition 39). The purpose of the oversight committee is to provide review and oversight of district expenditures from Measure E as we begin to construct new facilities. Proposition 39 allows for districts to use 55% voter approval for passage of bond elections; however, districts are required to select a citizens oversight committee to ensure we are spending taxpayers' dollars according to the language on the election ballot. He asked if there were comments, there were no comments.

2. Action Items

A. Election of Officers

Mr. Warkentin explained that a president and vice president would need to be elected. The president will preside over the meetings and the vice president will preside in the absence of the president. Mr. Warkentin entertained a motion for president. Lynda Lahodny motioned that Tom Hernandez be elected president. Tom Hernandez responded that he was not interested to be president, however, he would consider the vice presidency. Lynda Lahodny retracted her motion to nominate Tom Hernandez for president. She motioned that Les Brown be nominated president, it was seconded by Tom Hernandez, all in favor, motion passed. Lynda Lahodny motioned that Tom Hernandez be nominated for vice president, it was seconded by Les Brown, all in favor, motion passed. Mr. Warkentin turned the meeting over to newly elected president, Les Brown.

B. Select Terms of Service

Les Brown made reference to page 4, 5.4, of the bylaws which references term of service. Each member will serve a (2) two year term beginning December 9, 2009. Two (2) members will draw lots for services of an initial one (1) year term. A stick lot was taken by Don Warkentin with the result for (1) one year term committee members as follows: Linda Balcazar, Salli Day and Donna Elliott. Donna Elliott questioned how Avenal and Riverdale would be represented if the term of service expired. Don Warkentin responded that a region representative is always needed and when a region representative's term expires another representative will be chosen.

C. Set Meeting Calendar

Les Brown stated that this committee will meet once every six months. Buddy Brookes 2 motioned that the next meeting be held on Wednesday, June 9, 2010 at 4:00 p.m., it was seconded by Donna Elliott, all in favor, motion passed.

3. Information/Discussion/Presentations

A. Review of Measure E and SFID No. 3

Review was made of the School Facilities Improvement District's (SFID) No. 3 general obligation bond which was a result of Measure E and the areas that it encompasses. Measure E is a $31,000,000 bond for new educational facilities construction to be paid back over a twenty (20) year period. The bond includes the cities of Avenal and Riverdale. $1,000,000 will go to Riverdale and $2,000,000 will go to Avenal, with the remainder to Lemoore.

B. Review Bylaws

An overview was made of the bylaws, specifically the Committee's purposes and duties. Les Brown called attention to page 2, section 3.5 which specifies what the District has not charged this Committee to do.

C. Bond Rating/Sale of Bonds – Series A

Ken Stoppenbrink stated that insurance has been purchased on the bond. An A+ rating was assigned which lowers the cost of borrowing, as well does the great outlook as a stable district. Ken reported that Series A has been issued in the amount of $6,000,000.

D. Measure E Facility Projects

Kevin Cobb distributed two reports that AP Architects prepares in their office to track projects for West Hills College Lemoore which included the overall budget and completion recap for each series. The light blue columns of the spreadsheet represent the budgeted local bond dollars. The gymnasium funding is not a part of the bond. Les Brown indicated that this was a misunderstanding by some of the community that a gym was being built but no bond dollars used. Mr. Warkentin responded that there was a survey taken and the community did not support using bond dollars for the gymnasium. Mr. Warkentin asked Kevin to explain what the term "infrastructure" refers to. Kevin explained that infrastructure refers to support for areas of the college, i.e. parking lots, sidewalks (fire lanes), roads, and chillers. Kevin spoke also about the California Environment Quality Act (EIR). Kevin stated that the bonds are sold in chunks. They have taken Avenal and Riverdale's portion of the bond dollars and split them up as the bonds are sold. Mr. Warkentin reported that he had met with the City of Avenal and they discussed an educational center in Avenal. The plan is for a partnership. Riverdale has had preliminary discussion as to what they would like.

E. Annual Audit

Les Brown questioned how this committee could be objective to look at an audit of construction costs when the auditor is hired by the district. Ken Stoppenbrink responded that the audit functions have to include all audit information.

4. Announcements

- Next Meeting Date – June 9, 2010 at 4:00 p.m.

5. Committee Member Comments and Requests

Les Brown stated that there was much detail in today's meeting.

Tom Hernandez thanked Mr. Warkentin and Kevin Cobb for the information.

Donna Elliott questioned whether information could be shared with local clubs. Mr. Warkentin responded affirmatively.

Frances Squire reported that communication about this Committee would go out twice per year in a newsletter mailed out to the community. She asked Committee members to join her for a picture following today's meeting to be included in the newsletter.

6. Adjournment

The meeting was adjourned at 5:05 p.m.

Administrative Procedure 6225 Resource Allocation

*Reference: Education Code Section 84362;
CCR, Title V Section 51025*

Philosophy

All the communities within the district have made significant contributions to the welfare of our colleges and centers. In recognition of the contributions and confidence in the actions of the West Hills Community College District, the Board of Trustees has determined that it will maintain a district office, viable and comprehensive colleges in the cities of Coalinga and Lemoore with current educational centers in Firebaugh and the Lemoore Naval Air Station. The Board believes that because of our geographic location and distribution of our cities, the ability to maintain access to higher education opportunities is essential for our communities and citizens to grow and prosper. In keeping with this overall philosophy, the Board has implemented the following principles to maintain access to higher education:

- The district shall maintain standards of design, construction and reconstruction of new facilities which will be followed and applied at all locations.
- The district shall maintain standards in the use and application of technology at all locations.
- The district shall develop long term plans in education, construction and fiscal resources.
- The district shall develop energy efficiency and conservation goals.

The purpose of the resource allocation procedure is to provide an understandable, clear methodology to the practice of allocating resources to the cost centers of the district and to realize the Board's objective in extending the educational opportunity to all citizens of the district. This procedure, along with the budget definitions (see Appendix A), provides the necessary information for the development of comprehensive budgets for the district and individual college operations.

If at any time there are circumstances beyond the control of the district, such as a major earthquake, the fiscal condition of the state, or other events that disrupt or minimize the operations of the district, these circumstances may dictate a different course of action than those outlined in this procedure.

Allocation Fundamentals (Distribution of Fiscal and Human Resources)

1. The district receives a base allocation from the State Chancellor's Office:
 - a. Based on prior year FTES (Full Time Equivalent Students)
 - b. Based on the state's ability to fund growth and COLA (Cost of Living Adjustment)
2. Each college receives a base allocation:
 - a. Based on prior year expenditures
 - b. Based on the college's ability to achieve their FTES goal
 - c. Based on the state's ability to fund growth and COLA

Administrative Procedure 6225
Resource Allocation

3. The percentage of growth achieved by each college at the end of a fiscal year will be a determining factor in the amount of resources realized by each college. Student retention and success may also be a factor in the amount of resources realized by each college.
4. Resources will be allocated to maintain the viability and comprehensiveness of both colleges and their educational centers.
5. Resources will be allocated to colleges for the purpose of prioritizing and planning the human resources, support programs and academic programs desired by the colleges which are determined by the internal planning processes at the college level.
6. The District Office receives a base allocation based on:
 - a. Prior year expenditures
 - b. Budget development
 - c. Ability to fund growth and COLA

Cost Centers

The cost centers of the district will be the colleges and the District Office.

Approval Process

1. Prior to the planning and budget cycle for each college, the district Business Office will provide each College President with the prior "base year allocation and expenditures" and the projected "base year allocations". The budget assumption used for the "projected year" shall be the same as the State Chancellor's Office. The budgets for the cost centers will be allocated using a "base year" allocation. The "base year" allocation is based upon the prior year's actual expenditures.
2. Upon approval of the tentative district budget for the upcoming fiscal year, an appendix to the budget will be provided to illustrate the estimated actual budgets of the cost centers.
3. Distribution/Reduction of Income
 - a. Prior to any distribution, the reserve must be taken into account which requires the district to set aside a minimum of 5% of revenues in order to comply with the California Community Colleges System Office Memorandum of October 25, 2005;
 - b. Mandated expenses and increases in the mandated expenses to the district and colleges such as utilities, bad debt, step increases, insurance or other costs will be funded;
 - c. After items a and b are accounted for, the remaining growth dollars will be allocated to each college based upon the percentage of growth dollars each college provided to the overall district funded growth. (Example: If the growth is 8% total for the District and 2% is from Coalinga and 6% is from Lemoore, then 25% of the new money will be allocated to Coalinga and 75% will be allocated to Lemoore.) In accordance with Education Code Section 84362, 50% of growth dollars expended at each college shall be expended for instructional purposes.

Administrative Procedure 6225
Resource Allocation

- d. In the event the state provides a deficit factor to either COLA, growth or FTES which requires a reduction in the allocation to the colleges, the allocations to the colleges and District Office will be adjusted accordingly. This would also be applicable to any mid-year cuts.
- e. In the event the state increases overall funding for the district, the allocations to the colleges and the district office will be adjusted accordingly.
- f. As a part of the distribution of resources, there must be consideration given to the resources required to support the district office functions. These considerations would include, but not be limited to, resources received for scheduled maintenance, equipment or other restricted funds that serve to increase services throughout the district. The district office reserves the right to allocate resources from restricted areas to maximize their effect on the ability to serve students. These expenditures will be tied to a district scheduled maintenance plan, as well as any facilities plans in order to obtain maximization of the limited resources.
- g. Decisions on how these resources are allocated will be finalized by the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet.

4. Distribution of Staff

- a. In the matter of full time faculty, Title V Section 51025 provides the faculty obligation target number for the district to maintain.
- b. Ideally, this process will conclude prior to the start of the spring semester to allow for immediate advertising in January to begin the process of employing faculty.
- c. The Chancellor will require that the College Presidents meet and confer on their respective lists to determine similar positions or shared positions being sought by both colleges.
- d. The reconciled list will then be forwarded to the Human Resources department for immediate distribution.
- e. This process shall also be used in the recommendation of new and replacement classified, management and administrative staff.
- f. The College President is responsible for disseminating the decisions made on distribution of staff to their respective colleges using regular and appropriate means of communicating the process and results of the decisions made.
- g. In the event the district is in a position to freeze hiring or eliminate positions, a list will be maintained that provides a starting point for hiring once the freeze is lifted. An historical list of vacant positions will be created and reviewed on a yearly basis and used in the process.

Review of Procedure

This procedure will be reviewed annually.

Board approval date: 11/15/05
Revised: 5/15/07; 1/19/10

Other Operating Expenses Categories Definitions

Definitions: Other operating expenses, budget object code number 5000, are identified by the Budget and Accounting Manual published by the Chancellors Office. The various categories are as follows:

1. Audit: These expenses involve the cost associated with the districts audit as identified in Education Code Section 84040(b).
2. Contract Services: These payments are for those firms that provide internet access, access, on-line services, and software licensing. The object code also includes services for an entity such as joint powers agency to administer a self-insurance fund.
3. Depreciation: These expenses are taken from that asset that is income producing.
4. Dues and Membership: Expenses related to associations, membership fees, for the governing board and the employees who are required to join these associations due to their positions within the district.
5. Election: expenditures for election services provided by the county (Elections Code Section 10002).
6. Insurance: Expenditures for all forms of fire, casualty or liability insurance for the district. This would include any costs for appraisals, bonds safeguarding the district against losses resulting from actions of its employees, and insurance for students participating in intercollegiate athletics. (Excluded in this category are those insurance premiums related to employee benefits).
7. Interest: Interest expenses related to the cost of borrowing to finance the operations of the district.
8. Legal: Expenditures as assessments for other than capital improvements, bond issues or other advertisements required by law, judgments, and lawyers' fees.
9. Personal and Consultant Services: Contracts for personal or consultant services provided by an individual or firm. This would include costs associated with surveys and appraisals.
10. Postage: Costs for sorting, handling, shipping and postage of mail and documents.
11. Rents and Leases: Payments for the rent or lease of land, athletic fields, equipment, and buildings; payments to independent vendors for transportation. (Lease purchases are excluded and are expensed in object code 6000, Capital Outlay).

12. Repairs and Maintenance: Expenditures for payments to independent vendor for repairs and maintenance to buildings or equipment, including maintenance agreements on equipment.
13. Self-Insurance Claims: Expenditures for payments and/or accrued costs for claims to a self-insured fund. Payments to an insurance joint powers agency are treated as insurance expense in the General fund or applicable special fund, such as a bookstore fund.
14. Travel and Conference: Expenditures for per diem and actual, necessary expenditures incurred by employees, board members, and other district representatives for authorized meetings, transportation, mileage allowance, meals and lodging.
15. Utilities and Housekeeping: Expenditures for water, fuel, light, power, telephone, waste disposal, laundry, dry cleaning and other similar expenses, including contracts for these services.
16. Other: expenditures for bad debt expense, loan costs, physical examinations, fingerprinting, damage to personal property, cash variances, advertisements not required by law and all other operating costs not identifiable within any other object 5000 category. This would be the area where our advertising for marketing our educational programs would be charged.

Other Outgo Definitions

Definitions: Other outgo, budget object code number 7000, is identified by the Budget and Accounting Manual published by the Chancellors Office. The various categories are as follows:

1. 7100: Debt Retirement (Long-Term Debt)
These expenditures include costs for long-term bonds or other indebtedness for the purpose of purchasing land, constructing or purchasing buildings, equipping buildings pursuant to Ed Code 15100 or 81901.
2. 7200: Intrafund Transfers-Out
These are transfers within a fund of the district such as transfers from the general fund unrestricted to a general fund restricted.
3. 7300: Interfund Transfers-Out
These are transfers that are taken from one fund and added to another fund without an expectation of repayment. An example would be where there is a required match for scheduled maintenance that is transferred from the general fund to the capital outlay projects fund.
4. 7400: Other Transfers
These are for extraordinary situations such as transfers from reorganized or lapsed district to another district, loss on investments or joint ventures, such as material, prior-year assessments to self-insurance programs, JPA's or consortiums.
5. 7500: Student Financial Aid
Expenditures for student aid in the form of grants, fellowships, scholarships, tuition reduction, etc. Payments to students for services rendered, such as work study that are chargeable to the activity benefited by the student's work.
6. 7600: Other Student Aid
This category is for amounts paid to/for students for non-cash assistance, such as bus tickets, auto repairs related to commuting to college classes, child care vouchers, and bookstore vouchers. These would be for participants in EOPS, DSPS or other categorical programs.
7. 7900: Reserve for Contingencies
No expenditures are allowed in this category and are for appropriation only. This would include amounts equal to the portion of the current fiscal year's appropriation that are not designated for any specific purpose, but are held in reserve to fund other appropriation items necessary during the fiscal year.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

We have audited the accompanying basic financial statements of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District (the District) as of and for the years ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, and its discretely presented component unit West Hills Community College District Foundation as listed in the Table of Contents. These basic financial statements are the responsibility of the District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The financial statements of West Hills Community College District Foundation (the Foundation) were not audited in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall basic financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions.

In our opinion, the basic financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District and its discretely presented component unit as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, and the respective changes in financial position and cash flows, for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in the Notes to the Financial Statements, the accompanying financial statements reflect certain changes required as a result of the implementation of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 45 for the year ended June 30, 2009.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated February 9, 2010, on our consideration of the District's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and is important for assessing the results of our audit.

FINANCIAL SECTION

The required supplementary information such as the Management's Discussion and Analysis and Other Postemployment Benefit Funding Progress, as listed in the Table of Contents, is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. This supplementary information is the responsibility of the District's management. We have applied certain limited procedures, consisting principally of inquiries of management regarding the methods of measurement and presentation of the required supplementary information. However, we did not audit the information and express no opinion.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the District's basic financial statements. The supplementary information listed in the table of contents, including the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, which is required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

In June 1999, the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) issued Statement No. 34, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for State and Local Governments," which established a new reporting format for annual financial statements of governmental entities. In November 1999, GASB issued Statement No. 35, "Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis for Public Colleges and Universities," which applies these new reporting standards to public colleges and universities such as the West Hills Community College District (the District). The following discussion and analysis provides an overview of the District's financial activity. This report presents this information in a comparative format. Responsibility for the completeness and fairness of this information rests with the District.

USING THIS ANNUAL REPORT

As required by accounting principles, the annual report consists of three basic financial statements that provide information on the District's activities as a whole: the Statement of Net Assets; the Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets; and the Statement of Cash Flows.

The focus of the Statement of Net Assets is designed to be similar to bottom line results for the District. This statement combines and consolidates current financial resources (net short-term spendable resources) with capital assets and long-term obligations. The Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets focuses on the costs of the District's operational activities, which are supported mainly by property taxes and by State and other revenues. This approach is intended to summarize and simplify the user's analysis of the cost of various District services to students and the public. The Statement of Cash Flows provides an analysis of the sources and uses of cash within the operations of the District.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS
JUNE 30, 2009

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

- The District's primary funding source is "State Apportionment as defined by SB 361" received from the State of California through the State System's Office. These funds are comprised of State apportionment, local property taxes, and student enrollment fees. The primary basis of this apportionment is the calculation of Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES). During the 2008-09 fiscal year, the District's actual FTES were comprised of 4,972 credit FTES and 486 non-credit FTES for a total of 5,458 FTES, an increase of 409 FTES (8.1%) from the 2007-08 fiscal year; however the district was only funded for 5,200 FTES. These FTES are generated at the District's Coalinga and Lemoore College campuses, as well as various satellite locations.
- The District ended the year with an Unrestricted General Fund balance of approximately $1.9 million. The State Chancellor's Office recommends reserve levels of five percent of unrestricted General Fund expenditures be set aside for economic uncertainties. The District met this requirement with approximately 5.4% in reserves.
- The primary expenditure of the District is for the salaries and benefits of the Academic, Classified, and Administrative salaries of District employees. These costs increased over the 2007-08 fiscal year by approximately $3.0 million. In addition to the costs for current employees' insurance coverage, the District provides insurance benefits to retirees meeting plan eligibility requirements.
- The District began several construction and modernization projects throughout the District. These projects will be funded through various financial vehicles, including various maintenance and construction projects funded through the State Chancellor's Office.
- The District provides student financial aid to qualifying students of the District in the amount of approximately $9.6 million. This aid is provided through grants, and loans from the Federal government, State Chancellor's Office, and local funding.

This schedule has been prepared from the Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Assets presented on page 12.

The operating revenue for the District is specifically defined as revenues from users of the colleges' facilities and programs. Excluded from the operating revenues are the components of the primary source of District funding - the State apportionment process. These components include the State apportionment and local property taxes. As these sources of revenue are from the general population of the State of California, and not from the direct users of the educational services, they are considered to be nonoperating. As a result, the operating loss of $63 million is balanced by the other funding sources leading to a decrease in the District's net assets of $77 thousand.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS
JUNE 30, 2009

Auxiliary revenue consists of Food Service revenues. The bookstore sold its inventory of books, supplies, and other items to an outside agency to operate. Those proceeds are reflected as the bookstore sales for the 2008-09 fiscal year. The Food Service operation provides meals to the students and faculty of the college.

Grant and contract revenues relate to student financial aid, as well as specific Federal and State grants received for programs serving the students of the District. These grant and program revenues are restricted as to the allowable expenses related to the programs.

The interest income is primarily the result of cash held at the Fresno County Treasurer. The interest expense relates to interest payments on the long-term debt which is described in Note 10 of the financial statements.

The District is recording the depreciation expense related to capital assets. The detail of the changes in capital assets for the year is included in the notes to the financial statements as Note 6.

Statement of Cash Flows for the Years Ended June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007

The Statement of Cash Flows provides information about cash receipts and payments during the year. This statement also assists users in assessing the District's ability to meet its obligations as they come due and its need for external financing.

	June 30, 2009	June 30, 2008	Difference	June 30, 2007	Difference
CASH PROVIDED BY (USED IN)
Operating activities	$ (60,686)	$ (54,385)	$ (6,301)	$ (26,164)	$ (27,921)
Noncapital financing activities	57,316	59,699	(2,374)	34,607	25,083
Capital financing activities	11,844	(7,589)	19,433	(3,813)	(5,776)
Investing activities	3,954	2,015	1,939	2,540	(525)
Net Increase in Cash and Cash Equivalents	$ 12,428	$ (269)	$ 12,697	$ 6,870	$ (7,139)

The primary operating receipts are student tuition and fees and Federal, State, and local grants and contracts. The primary operating expense of the District is the payment of salaries and benefits to instructional and classified support staff, as well as District administrators.

While State apportionment and property taxes are the primary source of non-capital related revenue, the new GASB accounting standards require that this source of revenue is shown as nonoperating revenue as it come from the general resources of the State and not from the primary users of the colleges' programs and services (students). The District depends upon this funding as the primary source of funds to continue the current level of operations.

ECONOMIC FACTORS AFFECTING THE FUTURE OF WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

The 2009-10 State Budget represents no increase in funding and in fact a reduction of FTES from the previous fiscal year of 215 down to 4,985, which is about $ 1.2 million. There was zero increase in COLA and growth. There will likely be no COLA or growth for the 2010-11 fiscal year due to the economic conditions in California.

The State continues to face a structural deficit of billions of dollars and it appears that the community college system will continue to be challenged to reduce expenditures while the demand for services continues to increase. The WHCCD is well positioned to handle any negative impact that may be required.

There are currently no other known facts, decisions, or conditions that will have a significant effect on the financial position (net assets) or results of operations (revenues, expenses, and changes in net assets) of the District. There is currently a concern that the economy continues to slow which the District is monitoring and will take the appropriate action necessary to remain fiscally sound.

CONTACTING THE DISTRICT'S FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

This financial report is designed to provide our citizens, taxpayers, students, and investors and creditors with a general overview of the District's finances and to show the District's accountability for the money it receives. WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION

The West Hills Community College District (District) is a political subdivision of the State of California and provides postsecondary education to the students of Coalinga-Huron Unified School District, Lemoore Union High School District, Riverdale Joint Unified School District, Golden Plains Unified School District, Firebaugh-Las Delgas Unified School District, Reef-Sunset Unified School District, and Mendota Unified School District. The District maintains a Coalinga Campus, a Lemoore Campus, and the North District Center in Firebaugh. While the District is a political subdivision of the State, it is not a component unit of the State in accordance with the provisions of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 14. The District operates under a locally elected seven-member Board of Trustees form of government and provides higher education in the County of Fresno. While the District is a political subdivision of the State of California, it is legally separate and is independent of other State and local governments, and it is not a component unit of the State in accordance with the provisions of Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 39.

A reporting entity is comprised of the primary government, and other organizations that are included to ensure the financial statements are not misleading. The primary government of the District consists of all funds, departments, boards, and agencies that are not legally separate from the District. For West Hills Community College District, this includes general operations, food services, bookstores, and student related activities of the District.

Financial Reporting Entity

The District has adopted GASB Statement No. 39, Determining Whether Certain Organizations are Component Units. This statement amends GASB Statement No. 14, The Financial Reporting Entity, to provide additional guidance to determine whether certain organizations, for which the District is not financially accountable, should be reported as component units based on the nature and significance of their relationship with the District. The three components used to determine the presentation are: providing a "direct benefit"; the "environment and ability to access/influence reporting," and the "significance" criterion. As defined by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and established by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the financial reporting entity consists of the primary government, the District, and the following component unit:

As defined by generally accepted accounting principles established by the GASB, the financial reporting entity consist of the primary government (the District), as well as the following component units.

- West Hills Community College District Foundation

The West Hills Community College District Foundation (the Foundation) is a legally separate, tax-exempt component unit of the District. The Foundation acts primarily as a fundraising organization to provide grants and scholarships to students and support to employees, programs, and departments of the District. The ten-member board of the Foundation consists of community members, alumni, and other supporters of the Foundation. Although the District does not control the timing or amount of receipts from the Foundation, the majority of resources, or income thereon, that the Foundation holds and invests are restricted to the activities of the District by the donors. Because these restricted resources held by the Foundation can only be used by, or for the benefit of, the District, the Foundation is considered a component unit of the District. The Foundation is reported in separate financial statements because of the difference in its reporting model, as further described below.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

The Foundation is a not-for-profit organization under Internal Revenue Code (IRS) Section 501(c)(3) that reports its financial results under financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statements. Most significant in the Foundation's operations and reporting model are FASB Statement No. 116, Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made, and FASB Statement No. 117, Financial Reporting for Not-For-Profit Organizations. As such, certain revenue recognition criteria and presentation features are different from GASB revenue recognition criteria and presentation features. No modifications have been made in the Foundation's financial information in the District's financial reporting entity for these differences; however, significant note disclosures to the Foundation's financial statements have been incorporated into the District's notes to the financial statements.

Financial statements for the Foundation can be obtained from the Foundation's Business Office at 9900 Cody Street, Coalinga, CA 93210.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Measurement Focus, Basis of Accounting, and Financial Statement Presentation

For financial reporting purposes, the District is considered a special-purpose government engaged only in business-type activities as defined by GASB Statements No. 34 and No. 35 as amended by GASB Statements No. 37, No. 38, and No. 39. This presentation provides a comprehensive entity-wide perspective of the District's assets, liabilities, activities, and cash flows and replaces the fund group perspective previously required. Accordingly, the District's financial statements have been presented using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting. Under the accrual basis, revenues are recognized when earned, and expenses are recorded when an obligation has been incurred. All material intra-agency and intra-fund transactions have been eliminated.

Revenues resulting from exchange transactions, in which each party gives and receives essentially equal value, are classified as operating revenues. These transactions are recorded on the accrual basis when the exchange takes place. Available means that the resources will be collected within the current fiscal year or are expected to be collected soon enough thereafter to be used to pay liabilities of the current fiscal year.

Nonexchange transactions, in which the District receives value without directly giving equal value in return, include State apportionments, property taxes, certain grants, entitlements, and donations are classified as nonoperating revenue. Federal and State grants received to provide direct grants to students are classified as nonoperating revenues because the District does not generally receive any direct benefit from the grants and are recognized in the fiscal year in which all eligibility requirements are satisfied. Eligibility requirements may include time and/or purpose requirements. Property tax revenue is recognized in the fiscal year received. State apportionment revenue is earned based upon criteria set forth from the Community Colleges System's Office and includes reporting of full-time equivalent student (FTES) attendance. The corresponding apportionment revenue is recognized in the period the FTES are generated.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

Operating expenses are costs incurred to provide instructional services including support costs, auxiliary services, and depreciation of capital assets. All other expenses not meeting this definition are reported as nonoperating. Expenses are recorded on the accrual basis as they are incurred, when goods are received, or services are rendered.

The accounting policies of the District conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP) as applicable to colleges and universities, as well as those prescribed by the Community Colleges System's Office. The District reports are based on all applicable GASB pronouncements, as well as applicable FASB pronouncements issued on or before November 30, 1989, unless those pronouncements conflict or contradict GASB pronouncements. The District has not elected to apply FASB pronouncements after that date. When applicable, certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation. The budgetary and financial accounts of the District are maintained in accordance with the Community Colleges System's Office's Budget and Accounting Manual.

The financial statements are presented in accordance with the reporting model as prescribed in GASB Statement No. 34, Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussions and Analysis for State and Local Governments, and GASB Statement No. 35, Basic Financial Statements and Management's Discussions and Analysis for Public Colleges and Universities, as amended by GASB Statements No. 37 and No. 38. The business-type activities model followed by the District requires the following components of the District's financial statements:

- Management's Discussion and Analysis
- Basic Financial Statements for the District as a whole including:
 - Statement of Net Assets
 - Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets
 - Statement of Cash Flows
- Notes to the Financial Statements

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The District's cash and cash equivalents are considered to be unrestricted cash on hand, demand deposits, and short-term unrestricted investments with original maturities of three months or less from the date of acquisition. Cash equivalents also include unrestricted cash with county treasury balances for purposes of the statement of cash flows. Restricted cash and cash equivalents represented balances restricted by external sources such as grants and contracts or specifically restricted for the repayment of capital debt.

Investments

Investments held at June 30, 2009 and 2008, with original maturities greater than one year are stated at fair value. Fair value is estimated based on quoted market prices at year-end. All investments not required to be reported at fair value are stated at cost or amortized cost. Fair values of investments in county and State investment pools are determined by the program sponsor.

WEST HILLS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS JUNE 30, 2009

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable include amounts due from the Federal, State and/or local governments, or private sources, in connection with reimbursement of allowable expenditures made pursuant to the District's grants and contracts. Accounts receivable also consist of tuition and fee charges to students and auxiliary enterprise services provided to students, faculty, and staff, the majority of each residing in the State of California. The District provides for an allowance for uncollectible accounts as an estimation of amounts that may not be received. This allowance is based upon management's estimates and analysis.

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenditures (expenses) represent amounts paid in advance of receiving goods or services. The District has the option of reporting an expenditure in governmental funds for prepaid items either when purchased or during the benefiting period. The District has chosen to report the expenditures when incurred.

Capital Assets and Depreciation

Capital assets are long-lived assets of the District as a whole and include land, construction-in-progress, buildings, leasehold improvements, and equipment. The District maintains an initial unit cost capitalization threshold of $5,000. Assets are recorded at historical cost, or estimated historical cost, when purchased or constructed. The District does not possess any infrastructure. Donated capital assets are recorded at estimated fair market value at the date of donation. Improvements to buildings and land that significantly increase the value or extend the useful life of the asset are capitalized; the costs of normal maintenance and repairs that do not add to the value of the asset or materially extend an asset's life are not. Major outlays for capital improvements are capitalized as construction-in-progress as the projects are constructed.

Depreciation of capital assets is computed and recorded by the straight-line method. Estimated useful lives of the various classes of depreciable capital assets are as follows: buildings, 25 to 50 years; improvements, 25 to 50 years; equipment, 5 to 10 years; vehicles, 5 to 10 years.

Accrued Liabilities and Long-Term Obligations

All payables, accrued liabilities, and long-term obligations are reported in the entity-wide financial statements.

Compensated Absences

Accumulated unpaid employee vacation benefits are accrued as a liability as the benefits are earned. The entire compensated absence liability is reported on the entity-wide financial statements. The amounts have been recorded in the fund from which the employees, who have accumulated the leave, are paid. The District also participates in "load-banking" with eligible academic employees whereby the employee may teach extra courses in one period in exchange for time off in another period.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

Sick leave is accumulated without limit for each employee based upon negotiated contracts. Leave with pay is provided when employees are absent for health reasons; however, the employees do not gain a vested right to accumulated sick leave. Employees are never paid for any sick leave balance at termination of employment or any other time. Therefore, the value of accumulated sick leave is not recognized as a liability in the District's financial statements. Credit for unused sick leave is applicable to all certificated employees and is determined by dividing the number of unused sick days by the number of base service days required to complete the last school year, if employed full time. Sick leave is accumulated as follows:

Administrative/Classified Management/Confidential Staff

- Entitled to twenty-one (21) days of sick leave per year to be posted at the rate of 1.75 days per month

Certificated

- Members shall accrue twenty (20) days of sick leave with pay for each school year, such leave to be made available on the first day of each school year.

Classified

- Members shall accrue, on a monthly basis, twenty-one (21) days of sick leave with pay for each school year. The amount of days posted will be 1.75 days, or fourteen (14) hours per month for full-time employees and shall be prorated for part-time employees.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue arises when potential revenue does not meet both the "measurable" and "available" criteria for recognition in the current period or when resources are received by the District prior to the incurrence of qualifying expenditures. In subsequent periods, when both revenue recognition criteria are met, or when the District has a legal claim to the resources, the liability for deferred revenue is removed from the combined balance sheet and revenue is recognized. Deferred revenues include (1) amounts received for tuition and fees prior to the end of the fiscal year that are related to the subsequent fiscal year and (2) amounts received from Federal and State grants received before the eligibility requirements are met are recorded as deferred revenue.

Net Assets

GASB Statements No. 34 and No. 35 report equity as "Net Assets." Net assets are classified according to imposed restrictions or availability of assets for satisfaction of District obligations according to the following net asset categories:

Invested in Capital Assets, Net of Related Debt: Capital Assets, net of accumulated depreciation and outstanding principal balances of debt attributable to the acquisition, construction, or improvement of those assets.

Restricted - Expendable: Net assets whose use by the District is subject to externally imposed constraints that can be fulfilled by actions of the District pursuant to those constraints or by the passage of time. Net assets may be restricted for capital projects, debt repayment, and/or educational programs.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

Unrestricted: Net assets that are not subject to externally imposed constraints. Unrestricted net assets may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Trustees or may otherwise be limited by contractual agreements with outside parties. Substantially all unrestricted net assets are designated for economic uncertainties.

When both restricted and unrestricted resources are available for use, it is the District's practice to use restricted resources first and the unrestricted resources when they are needed.

State Apportionments

Certain current year apportionments from the State are based on financial and statistical information of the previous year. Any corrections due to the recalculation of the apportionment are made in February of the subsequent year. When known and measurable, these recalculations and corrections are accrued in the year in which the FTES are generated.

On-Behalf Payments

GASB Statement No. 24 requires direct on-behalf payments for fringe benefits and salaries made by one entity to a third party recipient for the employees for another legal separate entity be recognized as revenues and expenditures by the employer entity. The State of California makes direct on-behalf payments to the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS) and the California Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS) on behalf of all community colleges in California. The amounts of on-behalf payments were $593,687 for CalSTRS. No on-behalf contributions were made to CalPERS.

Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Property Taxes

Secured property taxes attach as an enforceable lien on property as of January 1. The County Assessor is responsible for assessment of all taxable real property. Taxes are payable in two installments on November 1 and February 1 and become delinquent on December 10 and April 10, respectively. Unsecured property taxes are payable in one installment on or before August 31. Various counties bill and collect taxes on behalf of the District. Local property tax revenues are recorded when received.

The voters of the District passed various General Obligation Bonds for the acquisition, construction, and remodeling of District capital assets. As a result of the passage of the Bond, property taxes are assessed on the property within the District specifically for the repayment of the debt incurred. The taxes are billed and collected as noted above and reinstituted to the District when collected.

Scholarship Discounts and Allowances

Student tuition and fee revenue is reported net of scholarship discounts and allowances in the Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Changes in Net Assets. Scholarship discounts and allowances represent the difference between stated charges for enrollment fees and the amount that is paid by students or third parties making payments on the students' behalf. To the extent that fee waivers and discounts have been used to satisfy tuition and fee charges, the District has recorded a scholarship discount and allowance.

Federal Financial Assistance Programs

The District participates in federally funded Pell Grants, SEOG Grants, Federal Work-Study, and Stafford Loan programs, as well as other programs funded by the Federal government. Financial aid to students is either reported as operating expenses or scholarship allowances, which reduce revenues. The amount reported as operating expense represents the portion of aid that was provided to the student in the form of cash. These programs are audited in accordance with the Single Audit Act Amendments of 1996, and the U.S. Office of Management and Budget's revised Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments and Non-Profit Organizations, and the related Compliance Supplement.

Interfund Activity

Interfund transfers and interfund receivables and payables are eliminated during the consolidation process in the entity-wide financial statements.

Reclassification

Certain reclassifications were made to prior years' presentations to conform to current year presentation.

Foundation Presentation

The West Hills Community College District Foundation presents its financial statements in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 117, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Organizations. Under SFAS No. 117, the Foundation is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets. As permitted by the statement, the Foundation does not use fund accounting.

Permanently Restricted Net Assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the Foundation. Generally, the donors of these assets permit the Foundation to use all or part of the income earned on related investments for general or specific purposes.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets - Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that will be met by actions of the Foundation and/or the passage of time.

Unrestricted Net Assets - Net assets not subject to donor-imposed restrictions

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

Revenues and expenses are recorded when incurred in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting. Revenues are reported as increases in the unrestricted net assets classification unless use of the related assets is limited by donor-imposed restrictions. Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenue in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized as revenue until the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions for in-kind gifts from outside sources are recorded at their fair market value on the date of the donation.

Expenses are reported as decreases in unrestricted net assets. Gains and losses on investments and other assets or liabilities are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is restricted by explicit donor stipulation or by law.

Investments are reported at fair value in accordance with SFAS No. 157.

The Foundation is a not-for-profit organization that is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and related California Franchise Tax Codes.

Changes in Accounting Principles

In July 2004, the GASB issued Statement No. 45, Accounting and Financial Reporting by Employers for Postemployment Benefits Other than Pensions. This Statement requires local governmental employers who provide other postemployment benefits (OPEB) as part of the total compensation offered to employees to recognize the expense and related liabilities (assets) in the entity-wide financial statements of net assets and activities. This Statement established standards for the measurement, recognition, and display of OPEB expense/expenditures and related liabilities (assets), note disclosures, and, if applicable, required supplementary information (RSI) in the financial reports of State and local government employers.

This Statement provided for prospective implementation – that is that employers set the beginning OPEB obligation at zero as of the beginning of the initial year. The District has implemented the provision of the Statement for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2009. The District had an annual required contribution of $417,554 for the year June 30, 2009. The District contributed 100 percent of the required "pay as you go" portion of $109,111 and has also contributed funds with a value as of June 30, 2009, totaling $400,000 towards the future obligations of the District. The net amount of the Trust's investment returns/losses and the cumulative balance of the ARC has left a Net Plan Asset totaling $863,351 as of June 30, 2009.

In July 2004, GASB issued Statement No. 43, Financial Reporting for Postemployment Benefit Plans Other than Pension Plans. The standards in the Statement apply for OPEB trust funds included in the financial reports of plan sponsors or employers, as well as the stand-alone financial reports of OPEB plans or the public employee retirement systems, or other third parties, that administer them. This Statement also provides requirements for reporting of OPEB funds by administrators of multiple-employer OPEB plans when the fund used to accumulate assets and pay benefits or premiums when due is not a trust fund. The District has implemented the provisions of this Statement for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2009.

New Accounting Pronouncements

In March 2009, the GASB issued Statement No. 54, Fund Balance Reporting and Governmental Fund Type Classifications. The objectives of this Statement is to enhance the usefulness of fund balance information by providing clearer fund balance classifications that can be more consistently applied and by clarifying the existing governmental fund type definitions. This Statement establishes fund balance classifications that comprise a hierarchy based primarily on the extent to which a government is bound to observe constraints imposed upon the use of the resources reported in governmental funds. The requirements of this Statement are effective for the financial statements for periods beginning after June 15, 2010. The District does not anticipate a significant impact in reporting as a result of this Statement as fund financial information is not reported.

In April 2009, the GASB issued GASB Statement No. 55, The Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles for State and Local Governments. The objective of this Statement is to incorporate the hierarchy of generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) for State and local governments into the GASB authoritative literature. The "GAAP hierarchy" consists of the sources of accounting principles used in the preparation of financial statements for State and local governmental entities that are presented in conformity with GAAP and the framework for selecting those principles. GASB Statement No. 55 is effective immediately.

In April 2009, the GASB issued GASB Statement No. 56, Codification of Accounting and Financial Reporting Guidance Contained in the AICPA Statement on Auditing Standards. The objective of this Statement is to incorporate into the GASB's authoritative literature certain accounting and financial reporting guidance presented in the AICPA's Statements on Auditing Standards. This Statement addresses three issues not included in the authoritative literature that establishes accounting principles: related party transactions, going concern considerations, and subsequent events. The presentation of principles used in the preparation of financial statements is more appropriately included in accounting and financial reporting standards rather than auditing literature. GASB Statement No. 56 is effective immediately.

Comparative Financial Information

Comparative financial information for the prior year has been presented for additional analysis; certain amounts presented in the prior year data may have been reclassified in order to be consistent with the current year's presentation.

NOTE 3 - DEPOSITS AND INVESTMENTS

Policies and Practices

The District is authorized under California Government Code to make direct investments in local agency bonds, notes, or warrants within the State; U.S. Treasury instruments; registered State warrants or treasury notes; securities of the U.S. Government, or its agencies; bankers acceptances; commercial paper; certificates of deposit placed with commercial banks and/or savings and loan companies; repurchase or reverse repurchase agreements; medium term corporate notes; shares of beneficial interest issued by diversified management companies; certificates of participation, obligations with first priority security; and collateralized mortgage obligations.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Investment in County Treasury - The District is considered to be an involuntary participant in an external investment pool as the District is required to deposit all receipts and collections of monies with their County Treasurer (Education Code Section 41001). The fair value of the District's investment in the pool is reported in the accounting financial statements at amounts based upon the District's pro-rata share of the fair value provided by the County Treasurer for the entire portfolio (in relation to the amortized cost of that portfolio). The balance available for withdrawal is based on the accounting records maintained by the County Treasurer, which is recorded on the amortized cost basis.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in market interest rates will adversely affect the fair value of an investment. Generally, the longer the maturity of an investment, the greater the sensitivity of its fair value to changes in market interest rates. The District manages its exposure to interest rate risk by investing in the County Pool and having the Pool purchase a combination of shorter term and longer term investments and by timing cash flows from maturities so that a portion of the portfolio is maturing or coming close to maturity evenly over time as necessary to provide the cash flow and liquidity needed for operations.

Segmented Time Distribution

Information about the sensitivity of the fair values of the District's investments to market interest rate fluctuations as of June 30, 2009 and 2008, are provided by the following schedules that show the distribution of the District's investments by maturity:

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that an issuer of an investment will not fulfill its obligation to the holder of the investment. This is measured by the assignment of a rating by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization. Presented below is the minimum rating required by the California Government Code, the District's investment policy, or debt agreements, and the actual rating as of the year-end for each investment type.

N/A - Not applicable

Concentration of Credit Risk

The investment policy of the District contains no limitations on the amount that can be invested in any one issuer beyond the stipulated by the California Government code. Investments in any one issuer that represent five percent or more of the total investments are as follows:

June 30, 2009		Reported Amount
Issuer	Investment Type
Morgan Stanley	Certificates of Deposit and Corporate Fixed Rate Notes	$ 12,039,218
Educational Employees Credit Union	Certificates of Deposit	8,299,981

Total		$ 53,147,974

Custodial Credit Risk - Deposits

This is the risk that in the event of a bank failure, the District's deposits may not be returned to it. The District does not have a policy for custodial credit risk. As of June 30, 2009 and 2008, the District's bank balance of $1,712,781 and $2,519,970, respectively, was exposed to custodial credit risk because it was uninsured and collateralized with securities held by the pledging financial institution's trust department or agent, but not in the name of the District.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

Custodial Credit Risk - Investments

This is the risk that, in the event of the failure of the counterparty, the District will not be able to recover the value of its investments or collateral securities that are in possession of an outside party. For June 30, 2009, of the investment in mutual funds, corporate notes, and certificates of deposit of $31,764,574, the District has a custodial credit risk because the related securities are uninsured, unregistered, and held by the brokerage firm which is also the counterparty for these securities. For June 30, 2008, of the investment in mutual funds, corporate notes, and Investment Contracts of $48,076,543, the District has a custodial credit risk exposure because the related securities are uninsured, unregistered, and held by the brokerage firm which is also the counterparty for these securities. The District does not have a policy limiting the amount of securities that can be held by counterparties.

NOTE 11 - POSTEMPLOYMENT HEALTH CARE PLAN AND OTHER POSTEMPLOYMENT BENEFIT (OPEB) OBLIGATION

The District provides postemployment health care benefits for retired employees in accordance with negotiated contracts with the various bargaining units of the District.

Plan Description

The Plan (the Plan) is a single-employer defined benefit healthcare plan administered by West Hills Community College District. The Plan provides medical and dental insurance benefits to eligible retirees and their spouses. Membership of the Plan consists of 31 retirees and beneficiaries currently receiving benefits and 309 active plan members.

Funding Policy

The contribution requirements of plan members and the District are established and may be amended by the District and the District's bargaining units. The required contribution is based on projected pay-as-you-go financing requirements with an additional amount to pre-fund benefits as determined annually through agreements between the District and the bargaining units. For fiscal year 2008-2009, the District contributed 100 percent of the required "pay as you go" portion of $109,133 and has also contributed funds with a value as of June 30, 2009, totaling $400,000 towards the future obligations of the District. The annual required contribution (ARC) for the District as of July 1, 2008, was $417,554. The net amount of the Trust's investment returns/losses and the cumulative balance of the ARC has left a Net Plan Asset totaling $863,351 as of June 30, 2009.

Annual OPEB Cost and Net OPEB Obligation

The District's annual OPEB cost (expense) is calculated based on the annual required contribution of the employer (ARC), an amount actuarially determined in accordance with the payments of GASB Statement No. 45. The ARC represents a level of funding that, if paid on an ongoing basis, is projected to cover normal cost each year and amortize any unfunded actuarial accrued liabilities (UAAL) (or funding costs) over a period not to exceed 30 years. The following table shows the components of the District's annual OPEB cost for the year, the amount actually contributed to the Plan, and changes in the District's net OPEB obligation to the Plan:

Funding Status and Funding Progress

Actuarial valuation of an ongoing plan involves estimates of the value of reported amounts and assumptions about the probability of occurrence of events far into the future. Examples include assumptions about future employment, mortality, and the healthcare cost trend. Amounts determined regarding the funded status of the Plan and the annual required contribution of the employer are subject to continual revision as actual results are compared with past expectations and new estimates are made about the future. The schedule of funding progress, presented as required supplementary information, follows the notes to the financial statements and presents multi-year trend information about whether the actuarial value of Plan assets is increasing or decreasing over time relative to the actuarial accrued liabilities for benefits. Since this is the first year of implementation, only the current year information is presented.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

Actuarial Methods and Assumptions

Projections of benefits for financial reporting purposes are based on the substantive Plan (the Plan as understood by the employer and the Plan members) and include the types of benefits provided at the time of each valuation and the historical pattern of sharing of benefit costs between the employer and the Plan members to that point. The actuarial methods and assumptions used include techniques that are designed to reduce the effects of short-term volatility in actuarial accrued liabilities and the actuarial value of assets, consistent with the long-term perspective of the calculations.

In the January 13, 2009, actuarial valuation, the entry age normal method was used. The actuarial assumptions included a 7.1 percent investment rate of return (net of administrative expenses), based on the Plan being funded in an irrevocable employee benefit trust fund invested in a long-term fixed income portfolio. Healthcare cost trend rates was 4.0 percent. The cost trend rate used for the Dental and Vision Programs was 4.0 percent. The UAAL is being amortized at a level dollar method. The remaining amortization period at January 13, 2009, was 30 years. The actuarial value of assets was not determined in this actuarial valuation.

NOTE 12 - RISK MANAGEMENT

Joint Powers Authority Risk Pools

During fiscal year ending June 30, 2009, the District contracted with the Valley Insurance Program Joint Powers Authority for property and liability insurance coverage. Settled claims have not exceeded this commercial coverage in any of the past three years. There has not been a significant reduction in coverage from the prior year.

Workers' Compensation

For fiscal year 2009, the District participated in the Valley Insurance Program Joint Powers Authority (JPA), an insurance purchasing pool. The intent of the JPA is to achieve the benefit of a reduced premium for the District by virtue of its grouping and representation with other participants in the JPA. The workers' compensation experience of the participating districts is calculated as one experience, and a common premium rate is applied to all districts in the JPA. Each participant pays its workers' compensation premium based on its individual rate. Total savings are then calculated and each participant's individual performance is compared to the overall saving. A participant will then either receive money from or be required to contribute to the "equity-pooling fund." This "equity pooling" arrangement insures that each participant shares equally in the overall performance of the JPA. Participation in the JPA is limited to community college districts that can meet the JPA's selection criteria.

NOTE 13 - EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT SYSTEMS

Qualified employees are covered under multiple-employer retirement plans maintained by agencies of the State of California. Certificated employees are members of the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS) and classified employees are members of the California Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS).

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

CalSTRS

Plan Description

The District contributes to CalSTRS, a cost-sharing multiple-employer public employee retirement system defined benefit pension plan administered by CalSTRS. The plan provides retirement and disability benefits, annual cost-of-living adjustments, and survivor benefits to beneficiaries. Benefit provisions are established by State statutes, as legislatively amended, within the State Teachers' Retirement Law. CalSTRS issues a separate comprehensive annual financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information. Copies of the CalSTRS annual financial report may be obtained from CalSTRS, 7919 Folsom Blvd., Sacramento, CA 95826.

Funding Policy

Active members are required to contribute 8.0 percent of their salary while the District is required to contribute an actuarially determined rate. The actuarial methods and assumptions used for determining the rate are those adopted by the CalSTRS Teachers' Retirement Board. The required employer contribution rate for fiscal year 2008-2009 was 8.25 percent of annual payroll. The contribution requirements of the plan members are established by State statute. The District's total contributions to CalSTRS for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007, were $1,084,330, $1,023,632, and $897,305, respectively, and equal 100 percent of the required contributions for each year.

CalPERS

Plan Description

The District contributes to the School Employer Pool under CalPERS a cost-sharing multiple-employer public employee retirement system defined benefit pension plan administered by CalPERS. The plan provides retirement and disability benefits, annual cost-of-living adjustments, and survivor benefits to plan members and beneficiaries. Benefit provisions are established by State statutes, as legislatively amended, within the Public Employees' Retirement Laws. CalPERS issues a separate comprehensive annual financial report that includes financial statements and required supplementary information. Copies of the CalPERS' annual financial report may be obtained from the CalPERS Executive Office, 400 P Street, Sacramento, CA 95811.

Funding Policy

Active plan members are required to contribute seven percent of their salary and the District is required to contribute an actuarially determined rate. The actuarial methods and assumptions used for determining the rate are those adopted by the CalPERS Board of Administration. The District's contribution rate to CalPERS for fiscal year 2008-2009 was 9.428 percent of covered payroll. The District's contributions to CalPERS for fiscal years ending June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007, were $1,132,472, $978,464, and $794,268, respectively, and equal 100 percent of the required contributions for each year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
JUNE 30, 2009

On-Behalf Payments

The State of California makes contributions to CalSTRS on behalf of the District. These payments consist of State General Fund contributions to CalSTRS which amounted to $593,637, $560,454, and $491,288 for the years ending June 30, 2009, 2008, and 2007, respectively, (4.517 percent) of salaries subject to CalSTRS. These amounts have been reflected in the basic financial statements as a component of nonoperating revenue and employee benefit expense.

APPLE

Plan Description

The District contributes to the APPLE plan for employees not covered under CalPERS or CalSTRS plans. The plan provides benefits in a lump sum distribution of the employees' vested balance as of their retirement date.

Funding Policy

Active plan members and the District are each required to contribute 3.75 percent of an individual's salary to the plan, for a total of 7.5 percent of an individual's salary. Individuals enrolled in the plan are 100 percent vested in the contributions made to it. The District's contribution to the plan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2009, was $94,990.

NOTE 14 - COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Grants

The District receives financial assistance from Federal and State agencies in the form of grants. The disbursement of funds received under these programs generally requires compliance with terms and conditions specified in the grant agreements and are subject to audit by the grantor agencies. Any disallowed claims resulting from such audits could become a liability of the District. However, in the opinion of management, any such disallowed claims will not have a material adverse effect on the overall financial position of the District at June 30, 2009.

Litigation

The District is involved in various litigation arising from the normal course of business. In the opinion of management and legal counsel, the disposition of all litigation pending is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the overall financial position of the District at June 30, 2009.

Operating Leases

The District has entered into a ten-year operating lease for a building in the City of Firebaugh for education and related purposes. The District is obligated to pay $41,174 per year for a ten-year period or a total of $411,740. After the ten-year period, the lease would then be renewable on a yearly basis. If the agreement is terminated prior to the ten-year term, then the rent is prorated to the date of termination.

The projects are funded through a combination of general obligation bonds, certificates of participation, and capital project apportionments from the California State System's Office.

NOTE 15 - PARTICIPATION IN PUBLIC ENTITY RISK POOLS AND JOINT POWERS AUTHORITIES

The District is a member of the Central Valley Schools Health and Welfare Trusts (CVSHWT), the Self Insured Schools of California (SISC), and the Valley Insurance Program (VIP) Joint Powers Authorities (JPAs). The District pays annual premiums for its property liability, health, and worker's compensation coverage. The relationship between the District and the JPAs is such that it is not a component unit of the District for financial reporting purposes.

The JPAs have budgeting and financial reporting requirements independent of member units and their financial statements are not presented in these financial statements; however, transactions between the JPAs and the District are included in these statements. Audited financial statements are available from the respective entities.

The District's share of year-end assets, liabilities, or fund equity has not been calculated.

During the year ended June 30, 2009, the District made payments of $1,232,212, $2,923,159, and $719,612 to CVSHWT, SISC, and VIP, respectively for health, worker's compensation, and property liability coverage.

NOTE 16 - TAX AND REVENUE ANTICIPATION NOTES

At July 1, 2008, the District had outstanding Tax and Revenue Anticipation Notes in the amount of $2,275,000, which matured on July 6, 2008. On July 6, 2008, the District issued $1,100,000 Tax and Revenue Anticipation Notes bearing interest at 1.65 percent. The notes were issued to supplement cash flows. Interest and principal were due and payable on July 6, 2009. By June 30, 2009, the District had placed 100 percent of principal and interest in an irrevocable trust for the sole purpose of satisfying the notes. The District was not required to make any additional payments on the notes. As the District has in substance defeased the debt, the tax anticipation notes of $1,100,000 and related accrued interest and cash held in trust are not included in these financial statements.

NOTES TO SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

JUNE 30, 2009

NOTE 1 - PURPOSE OF SCHEDULES

District Organization

This schedule provides information about the District's governing board members and administration members

Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards

The accompanying schedule of expenditures of Federal awards includes the Federal grant activity of the District and is presented on the modified accrual basis of accounting. The information in this schedule is presented in accordance with the requirements of the United States Office of Management and Budget Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Therefore, some amounts presented in this schedule may differ from amounts presented in, or used in the preparation of, the financial statements.

Schedule of Expenditures of State Awards

The accompanying schedule of expenditures of State awards includes the State grant activity of the District and is presented on the modified accrual basis of accounting. Therefore, some amounts presented in this schedule may differ from amounts presented in, or used in the preparation of, the financial statements. The information in this schedule is presented to comply with reporting requirements of the California State System's Office.

Schedule of Workload Measures for State General Apportionment - Annual (Actual) Attendance

Full-Time Equivalent Students (FTES) is a measurement of the number of pupils attending classes of the District. The purpose of attendance accounting from a fiscal standpoint is to provide the basis on which apportionments of State funds, including restricted categorical funding, are made to community college districts. This schedule provides information regarding the annual attendance measurements of students throughout the District.

Reconciliation of Annual Financial and Budget Report (CCFS-311) with Fund Financial Statements

This schedule provides the information necessary to reconcile the fund balance of all funds reported on the Form CCFS-311 to the District's internal fund financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORTS

REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Corteza, California

We have audited the financial statements of the business-type activities of West Hills Community College District (the District) for the years ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, and have issued our report thereon dated February 9, 2010. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audits, we considered West Hills Community College District's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinions on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of West Hills Community College District's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of West Hills Community College District's internal control over financial reporting.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the District's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the District's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control over financial reporting was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over financial reporting that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether West Hills Community College District's financial statements are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audits and, accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

We noted certain matters that we reported to management of West Hills Community College District in a separate letter dated February 9, 2010.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Trustees, District Management, the California Community Colleges System's Office, and the District's Federal and State awarding agencies and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

WALK THE DIFFERENCE

REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER
COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of West Hills Community College District (the District) with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major Federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2009. West Hills Community College District's major Federal programs are identified in the summary of auditors' results section of the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major Federal programs is the responsibility of West Hills Community College District's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on West Hills Community College District's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, West Hills Community College District complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major Federal programs for the year ended June 30, 2009.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of West Hills Community College District is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to Federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered West Hills Community College District's internal control over compliance with the requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major Federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of West Hills Community College District's internal control over compliance.

A control deficiency in a district's internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the District's ability to administer a Federal program such that there is more than a remote likelihood that noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a Federal program will not be prevented or detected by the District's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Trustees, District Management, the California Community Colleges System's Office, and the District's Federal and State awarding agencies and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

REPORT ON STATE COMPLIANCE

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Coalinga, California

We have audited the compliance of West Hills Community College District (the District) with the types of compliance requirements described in Section 400 of the California State System's Office's California Community College District Audit Manual (CDAM) that are applicable to community colleges in the State of California. The specific requirements are described below.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards for financial and compliance audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States of America and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements with State laws and regulations have occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of West Hills Community College District's compliance with those requirements.

February 9, 2010

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
Chalinda, California

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of West Hills Community College District for the year ended June 30, 2009, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

However, during our audit we noted matters that are opportunities for strengthening internal controls and operating efficiency. The following items represent conditions noted by our audit that we consider important enough to bring to your attention. This letter does not affect our report dated February 9, 2010, on the financial statements of West Hills Community College District.

DISTRICT OFFICE

Cash Receipts

Finding

During our testing of the Cash Receipts procedures for the District's Combination Cash Account, we noted that not all checks are receipted or logged right away. Hand carried checks do not get receipted or logged right away; therefore, we were unable to reconcile the selected deposits back to the log.

Recommendation

In order to improve controls over monies received at the District Office, all monies should be logged or receipted immediately. In addition, this log should be used as a tool to ensure that all funds received have been deposited.

Finding

During our testing of the District's bank reconciliations we noted that there is no evidence of independent review. Specifically, we noted that the review was missing for the Payroll Clearing, Falcon Express, Flex America, and Perkins accounts.

Recommendation

The reviewer of the bank reconciliations should sign off on all bank reconciliations as evidence that the review has been performed.

Board of Trustees
West Hills Community College District
February 9, 2010

Revolving Cash

Finding

During our testing of the Revolving fund we noted that the imprest reconciliation is performed, however, a hard copy is not kept on file. The District's Revolving fund is included in the Local Combined Cash bank account with an imprest balance of $50,000.

Recommendation

The District should prepare and keep the imprest balance account reconciliation on file. When the Local Combined Cash Account is cleared, if the revolving fund needs to be reimbursed the District does not clear out the full amount to the county treasury, some funds are left to reimburse the revolving fund. A reconciliation of the imprest balance should be prepared each time the District performs the clearing of the account; thus ensuring that all checks written from the account have been reimbursed and expensed appropriately in the District's funds.

District Fees Account

Finding

During our testing of the District Fees account we noted that the checks out of this account clear with only one signature.

Recommendation

To properly safeguard cash, two approval signatures should be required on all checks issued.

FARM

Cash Disbursements

Finding

We noted that three out of ten purchase orders were dated after the date on the invoice. This would indicate that items are being purchased prior to their approval.

Recommendation

The site should review the cash disbursement procedures outlined in the District's purchasing policy. In order to provide proper controls over spending, the site should take the necessary steps to ensure that expenditures are approved through the purchasing process prior to the item being purchased.

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

Revenue Potentials

Finding

Revenue potential forms are not used to document and control fundraising activities as they occur. These forms supply an element of internal control without which it is difficult to determine the success of a fundraiser and to track money as it is spent and received.

Recommendation

As the revenue potential form is a vital internal control tool, it should be used to document revenues, expenditures, potential revenue and actual revenue. This allows an analysis of the fundraiser to be conducted, indicating to the staff the success or failure of the completed project. The revenue potential also indicates weak control areas in the fundraising procedures at the site, including lost or stolen merchandise, problems with collecting all moneys due and so forth. The revenue potential form used at the site should contain four major elements. These are:

- Potential Income-This lists the selling price of the item multiplied by the number of items purchased to compute the total income that should be deposited from this fundraiser if all the items were sold and all the money was turned in. This element should also be utilized to track the cost of the items, check numbers used to purchase the items, and the purchase dates. This purchasing information is a good reference source for future sales and also tracks to cost so that profits can be determined.
- Receipts/Fundraiser Deposits-This records all deposits turned in which are from funds generated from the sale. The receipt number issued to the advisor, date, and deposit amount should be logged. This is necessary to be able to recap the deposits of the sale and to trace these deposits to the appropriate accounts at the end of the sale to the appropriate accounts to ensure that all postings were correct.
- Analysis-This section is used to compare the potential income as calculated in the potential income section to the actual funds raised as calculated in the Receipts/Fundraiser Deposits section. The difference between these two amounts should be documented explained. The explanation can consist of merchandise not sold, merchandise lost or destroyed, or funds lost or stolen.
- Recap-This section figures the net profit of the sale. Further fundraisers of this type can be planned or canceled depending on the information calculated in this section.

Cash Receipts

Finding

While testing the cash receipts system, we discovered that cashiers are not using pre-numbered receipts to document when money is being turned in, how much money, and by which students. Without this supporting documentation we cannot determine the deposit's intactness or if the cashiers are forwarding money to the ASB bookkeeper in a timely manner. Since there are no receipts attached to the monies turned in, the bookkeeper cannot reconcile the money back to any documentation to determine the accuracy of the cash count sheet and the actual money turned in.

Recommendation

Pre-numbered receipts should be issued for all cash collections by teacher, advisors and the site bookkeeper, which would include a specific description of the source of the funds. A carbon of the receipts issued by the teachers and advisors should be forwarded with the cash to the bookkeeper as documentation that all monies collected have been turned in. The receipts issued to teachers and advisors from the bookkeeper should be totaled and reconciled to the current bank deposit. A system to mark the last receipt which corresponds to a deposit must be started in order to know which receipts are related to the current bank deposit.

We will review the status of the current year comments during our next audit engagement.

1. Call to Order/ Open Session

President Ernest Drewry called the meeting to order at 10:05 a.m.

• Introduction of Guests

Those in attendance made self-introductions.

• Public Comments

There were no public comments on non-agenda items.

2. Review and consideration of removal of 8% administration fee from constituent accounts with $10,000 or less.

Mr. Larson, Director of the Farm of the Future, stated he supports the removal of the 8% from the club accounts. Mr. Larson also stated that their Pistachio account had $5,600 and since the account is in the investment fund, it has lost $900.00 in just a few short months. They were unable to plant trees due to the loss in their account.

Mr. Hunt, Rodeo Instructor, stated that the boosters support the removal of the 8% from the club accounts.

Mr. Gritton, Athletic Director, stated that fundraising, student giving and instructor giving is down. They have lost donations in the Athletic department because of the 8% fee.

Rick Post, Interim Executive Director, stated that he understood how the directors, students and instructors feel. On July 1, 2009, the Foundation will be implementing Datatel and the Foundation will no longer be writing checks. Since the inception of the 8%, the accounts have been billed $19,000. If the accounts were in a Money Market account, the accounts would have earned 3%. The 8% will continue on accounts over $10,000. With the removal of the 8% fee there will be an incentive in the future for the clubs, students and faculty to fundraise. The mission of the foundation should not be to make money off the students or faculty. If the Board removes, the 8% from the club accounts there will be other opportunities to make up the 8%. We at the foundation care about our students, faculty & instructors and we want this to be a successful experience.

Director Nina Oxborrow stated that she wanted to know what brought Dr. Gornick to his choice in March 2008 regarding the 8%.

Staff Director Gornick stated that at the time the 8% fee was implemented it was reasonable. However, circumstances have changed. The Foundation will be introducing efficiencies that will reduce the staff time spent on writing checks among other things. Currently the District financially supports the Foundation by contributing $300,000 for operating expenses, which is reasonable. When July 1, 2009 comes and the Foundation implements Datatel, there will be less check writing and the accounts will be monitored by the Business office. It is time to give the constituents, including students, faculty and clubs a break from the 8% administrative fee.

Director Nina Oxborrow, questioned why the Foundation takes care of the financials for the various clubs. She would like to change the way the structure is of the accounting for the Foundation.

President Drewry stated that he feels that people are making issues out of the 8% because their accounts are losing money at this point.

Staff Director Gornick stated President Warkentin supports removing the 8% and so does his staff. At the recent Leadership retreat, Interim Director of the Foundation Rick Post gave a report about the 8% and people were happy about what the Foundation was choosing to do.

President Ernest Drewry called for a motion to approve the recommendation to remove the 8% administration fee from constituent accounts with $10,000 or less. Moved by Director Nina Oxborrow, Seconded by Staff Director Frank Gornick, Motion carried unanimously.

3. Review and consideration of transferring small constituent accounts (less than $10,000) from investment fund to money market to other low or no risk account.

Mr. Hunt, Rodeo Instructor, stated that he did not know that his accounts were involved in the investment until they were affected.

Mr. Gritton, Athletic Director, stated that if the recommendation of transferring accounts passes things would be a lot easier for everyone.

Interim Director Rick Post stated that President Don Warkentin supports the transfer of small constituent accounts to a money market or other no risk account. President Warkentin asked Post to distribute some examples of several accounts to illustrate how certain accounts have suffered losses since they have been in the investment accounts.

Post stated that if the recommendation were approved, the Foundation would be moving $205,000 from the UBS investment account to a no risk account, such as a Money Market. Post further stated that as we move the Foundation forward, we need to expand scholarships and endowments. There will be an opportunity to have UBS Vice President James Giordano come back and explain the changes that have been made, the performance of the accounts and how they will affect the Foundation. We want to move the investment money into a low risk Money Market account. Post also stated the Foundation he worked for before coming to West Hills covered all losses any investment accounts realized thus protecting the original amount invested. The Foundation did not pass the losses or gains on to their constituents because it was able to endow everything using the Foundation funds available. Post made it clear that if the recommendation is passed, the smaller West Hills Community College Foundation accounts will not realize any losses but will also not receive any gains either. Any interest earned on these accounts will remain with the Foundation to cover any administrative expenses associated with servicing these accounts, such as processing purchase orders. The minimum investment to open a Money Market account at UBS is $100,000. This will not be an issue because we have over $200,000 to invest. Once the recommendation is approved, we will make everything clear to all of the constituents within the District.

Mr. Gritton, Athletic Director asked, "Can we roll small accounts into the investment".

Staff Director Gornick stated, "If you had $10,000 or more maybe you can do so".

President Drewry stated, "You are defeating the purpose of today. We can look at our options another day".

Interim Executive Director Post stated that he had no other comments at this time regarding the proposed recommendation.

President Ernest Drewry called for a motion to approve the recommendation to transfer small constituent accounts (less than $10,000) from the investment fund to a money market or other low or no risk account. Moved by Director Nina Oxborrow, Seconded by Staff Director Frank Gornick. Motion carried unanimously.

4. Investment Committee Reports/Comments/Requests and Announcements

Interim Executive Director Post stated that he enjoys working with the Foundation, students and faculty. He also stated that he really appreciates all the hard work of the Investment Committee and their passage of the two recommendations.

Public Comments

Mr. Bill Pucheu read the following letter (typed as written):

West Hills Community College Foundation
Board of Directors – Minutes
June 17, 2009
Page 2

Dear Rick –

As the Foundation is approaching our June meeting some items are necessary, in my opinion, to be completed beforehand. As a result of Mr. Zampi's statement that the Foundation falls under the Ralph M. Brown Act we have a number of items to accomplish prior the board being able to meet or transact any business. Those items I feel are as follows:

- 1. Posting of our meeting agendas – This must be published in the local media and then posted in easy view of the public at our regular place of meeting. Perhaps a board resolution is sufficient to accomplish this.*
- 2. Conflict of Interest Code compliance – To my knowledge every public entity subject to the Ralph M. Brown Act in California must adopt a Conflict of Interest Code prior to the transaction of any business. Perhaps we could adopt the West Hills Community College Conflict of Interest Code presently in use by the Governing Board of the District. Every board of directors that I presently sit has complied with the Fair Political Practices Commission requirement.*
- 3. Affirming Board actions taken prior to March 25, 2009 – I need legal advice on this item. We have purchased real property and spent public funds in the course of our believed to be legal actions in the course of doing the Business of the Foundation. How we affirm or ratify our past actions I do not know.*
- 4. California Form 700 (Statement of Economic Interests) – To my knowledge this filing requirement is necessary of all directors of the Foundation prior to the conducting of any business. Normally this is an annual filing that is accomplished on or before April 1st. For the purposes of the Foundation I have used March 25, 2009 (Assuming Office) because that is the day the college's counsel (Mr. Zampi) opined that the Foundation falls under the Ralph M. Brown Act. I hope this is not too great a burden for those needing to complete this filing.*

There are two other items I need to bring to your attention and ask for an explanation.

The first concern is the school audit of the Foundation office. I would like to know who requested this, who defined the parameters of this audit, who is conducting this audit, and what is the purpose of this audit. Audits of any public agency's financial records is solely the responsibility of the Board of Directors is therefore is completely under their control. As a member of the Board I have not been made aware of any suspected irregularities. I only learned of this "Audit" from the recent press releases (March 25, 2009, Fresno Bee) and have unable to respond to questions asked of me by residents of my local community.

Secondly, I have been made aware that Dr. Gornick prepared and sent to the District Trustees a letter informing them of his resignation from the Foundation Board. I would request an explanation of this and would request a copy of the letter if it is a public document.

I regret having to prepare such a long letter with my concerns for you. My commitment to the West Hills Community College District will remain as strong as it has been in the past. In my younger years my attendance at Coalinga College had a major influence on me and helped me find my way in this life. My wish is to insure that the Foundation is in compliance with the rules and regulations as defined by the various California laws that govern the Foundation's activities.

*Kindest regards,

Reports

Executive Director's Report

Dr. Rick Post provided a brief summary of the Ralph M. Brown Act. He stated that he was happy to report that the notices were properly posted for this Board meeting.

Dr. Post discussed Form 700 Statement of Economic Interests and asked the Board members to complete and return the forms at their earliest convenience. He also briefly reviewed the instructions page.

Dr. Post provided a summary of income, expenses and profit for the Foundation Golf Tournament from 2006 through 2009. He thanked several Board members for their commitment to the tournament and also thanked the wonderful group of volunteers.

Dr. Post commented on the list of scholarships given to students at West Hills College Coalinga and West Hills College Lemoore. He stated that the total amount awarded for Coalinga for 2009-2010 is $27,000 and the total amount awarded for Lemoore for 2009-2010 is $19,350. Mr. Pucheu questioned the number of Presidential Scholars and Dr. Post responded that he will find out and get back to him with an answer. Dr. Post reported that the Osher Foundation has provided a challenge wherein they will provide a $25 million donation if we will match it. The goal among all California Community Colleges is to raise $50 million. Our individual goal for the West Hills Community College Foundation is $217,000. Dr. Post stated that we will be doing what we can in that area.

Dr. Post discussed the mission, vision and guiding principles statements with the Board. He suggested that the Board hold a retreat to develop a strategic plan for the Foundation.

Dr. Post informed the Board that the following individuals have submitted their resignation from the Foundation Board of Directors:

Investment Committee Report

With regard to the Investment Committee meeting held on May 7, 2009, Mr. Ernie Drewry discussed the removal of the 8% administrative fee from constituent accounts with $10,000 or less. He asked if anyone had comments. Mr. Mark Gritton stated that he participated in that meeting and he commented that we lose our volunteers because of the fee that is being charged. Mr. Richard Larson expressed his agreement and stated that he is supportive of the changes to the 8% fee.

Ms. Nina Oxborrow initiated discussion concerning the scholarships listed in the investment account. Dr. Post commented on the investment policy and how it addresses this matter. He also commented on specific requirements with regard to the Osher Foundation and Title 5.

Discussion took place regarding the various accounts and activity related to those accounts. Discussion also took place regarding donations to the Foundation and Dr. Post explained the process. He also commented on the Datatel Colleague Advancement software, stating that this new software allows for the accounting to be handled by the Foundation staff and the business office staff. Mr. Drewry commented on the recent report from UBS and the gains and losses in the accounts.

College Reports

- West Hills College Coalinga – In the absence of Dr. Willard Lewallen, President, Mr. David Reynolds, Associate Dean of Student Services, distributed copies of the college report and briefly commented on recent and upcoming events and activities.

Mr. Kevin Cobb, District Architect, provided an update on the North District Center, Firebaugh. He provided a history of the center and commented on the initial purchase and the Chancellor's office communication. He reported that the project has been carried on the 5 year construction plan since 1998. Mr. Cobb also reported that DSA (Department of the State Architect) retrofit testing occurred in 1999-2000 and the project has been pushed back each year. Currently, the Capacity Load Ratio (CLR) is sufficiently low for a fundable project and Measure Q funds are available for matching funds. Mr. Cobb explained the planning options and commented on maintaining the downtown location. Master plan options were also discussed which include modernization with new space detached, modernization with new space addition, or an entirely new building which would replace the existing building. He also discussed Chancellor's Office funding. Mr. Cobb explained that the project would be funded by capital outlay. The final cost is unknown until options are determined and the final data input is complete. With regard to the schedule, Mr. Cobb reported that the Initial Project Proposal (IPP) will be submitted in June 2009 and the Final Project Proposal (FPP) will be ready for submittal in September 2009. The District will need to have title of the property with the FPP final submittal.

Mr. Brad Gleason initiated discussion on the process of the sale or transfer of the Firebaugh property. Dr. Frank Gornick explained the history of acquiring the property and the issues with the IRS and the property owner.

- West Hills College Lemoore – Mr. Don Warkentin, President, distributed copies of his college report and briefly commented on recent and upcoming events and activities.

Financial Activity

Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink presented the financial activity report for the Foundation accounts. Discussion took place concerning the negative balance in the IEE account. Dr. Post explained the previous accounting process used and reported that it has been changed and there will no longer be a negative amount reflected. Brief discussion took place concerning the account activity.

Action Items

- 3.F. 8% Administrative Fee – Dr. Post explained that the reason for the change in the 8% administrative fee procedure is that it would be beneficial for the students. Ms. Edna Ivans stated that she thinks it is the right thing to do. Additional brief comments were made in support of the change.

The removal of the 8% administrative fee from constituent accounts with $10,000 or less was approved on a motion by Ms. Edna Ivans, seconded by Mr. Don Forth, and carried unanimously.

- 3.A. Minutes – The minutes of the December 10, 2008 meeting were approved on a motion by Mr. Bill Pucheu, seconded by Mr. Len Falter, and carried unanimously.
- 3.B. Acceptance of Donation – On a motion by Ms. Edna Ivans, seconded by Mr. Bill Pucheu, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors accepted the donation of $25,000 to establish the Phyllis Roberts Endowed Scholarship.
- 3.C. Authorization to Sell/Trade/Transfer – The authorization to sell/trade/transfer and receipt of sale for the following property was approved on a motion by Mr. Bill Pucheu, seconded by Mr. Len Falter, and carried unanimously:
- 4 Black Angus Calves
 - 1 Old Canner Cutter

- 3.D. 2009-2010 Meeting Schedule – On a motion by Mr. Bill Pucheu, seconded by Mr. Don Forth, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the 2009-2010 meeting schedule which includes a meeting every other month.
- 3.E. Statement of Investment Policy – The Statement of Investment Policy was approved on a motion by Ms. Edna Ivans, seconded by Mr. Ken Stoppenbrink, and carried unanimously.
- 3.G. Kings Country Club Dues – On a motion by Mr. Len Falter, seconded by Ms. Edna Ivans, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the deduction of the Kings Country Club annual golf dues from the Foundation's operating budget. In addition, the Board agreed to appoint a committee to discuss the Kings Country Club annual golf dues. The volunteers for the committee are Mr. Brad Gleason, Mr. Len Falter, Ms. Nina Oxborrow, Ms. Nancy Oliveria, Dr. Rick Post and Mr. Ernie Drewry.
- 3.H. 2009-2010 Operating Budget – The 2009-2010 Operating Budget for the West Hills Community College Foundation was approved on a motion by Ms. Edna Ivans, seconded by Mr. Bill Pucheu, and carried unanimously.
- 3.I. Sale of Firebaugh Property – Mr. Drewry asked for public comments. Hearing none, he turned the discussion over to Dr. Gornick.

Dr. Gornick commented on the history of the construction and expenses at the North District Center in Firebaugh, stating that it solidifies the good relationship that the District has always had with the Foundation. He stated that the expenses were incurred on the Foundation's behalf and the Foundation was willing to allow the expenses. The question of transferring title may have come sooner if the issues with the IRS and Mr. Joseph Uremovic had not occurred three or four years ago. He commented on the Firebaugh community's support of a School Facilities Improvement District (SFID) and the funds being available to expand the center. Dr. Gornick also commented on the recent discussions with the Fresno County Library and the resources that they have allocated for Firebaugh area. They are very anxious to work with us in terms of partnering to combine facilities. It is a much anticipated project for us and they will be a good partner.

Dr. Gornick stated that from the District's point of view, the District's part of the bargain is the ongoing support for the Foundation activities. That support has increased significantly over the years with the employment of a full time Director and two staff members. The intent is to continue that support. The Board of Trustees' perspective is that they see the value in maturing the Foundation in terms of what can occur. The Foundation and the District have come a long way to the mutual credit of everyone. The overall intent of what the plan was and what we wanted to do is still intact, is still supported by the Board of Trustees, and is still supportive in terms of recognition to the Foundation. The transfer of title, and the District and Foundation agreeing to continue to maintain the operation of the Foundation as you see it today, continues to solidify the commitment that began 15 years ago in terms of what we wanted to do in Firebaugh.

Ms. Ivans stated that 15 years ago we would give out about $3,500 in scholarships and thought we were doing a great job. She stated that we have worked really hard and the increase in the amount of scholarships we are able to give is amazing.

Mr. Gleason stated that he doesn't disagree but referred to the balance sheet which shows a value of $250,000 that has been capitalized. He stated that he can't see deeding the property to the District for just one dollar. He stated that we would be taking it out of the Foundation without receiving some commensurate amount of money. Mr. Gleason commented that the Foundation's fund balance for the whole operation is $209,000 and if the property is to be taken off the books, they would be in a deficit position.

Mr. Gleason expressed his concern that there is not a contractual obligation between the two entities with regard to the District supporting the salaries of the staff and expressed that the issue is being forced – for example, a fair trade of assets. Mr. Drewry stated that his opinion is that the Foundation is providing an asset to the District and the District is providing employee support for the Foundation. The Foundation is not getting a tangible dollar amount but the District is making a commitment over the next five years that they will take care of the staffing. If it is calculated over five years, the District is incurring more than $1,200,000 in expenses that would have had to be taken care of by the Foundation.

Mr. Gleason stated that he is used to an escrow, a buy/sale agreement or an appraisal and what is and isn't tangible. He stated that the Foundation is talking about deeding the property for a dollar and going from an equity positive to an equity negative. He stated that there is not an accounting transaction in the world that is going to allow the Foundation to treat it as an asset with and be able to quantify a future benefit we are going to receive. He stated that he is not in favor of just deeding the asset over for nothing while the Foundation has it capitalized on their books for $250,000. He stated that he will not go along with that.

Discussion took place concerning the capitalized amount of $250,000. Mr. Stoppenbrink stated that the $250,000 was the money spent by the District for improvements on the property and was capitalized as such as an asset on the books. Mr. Gleason stated that to the extent that there was rental income, if the Foundation is investing in something it is entitled to make a return on that investment.

Mr. Gleason initiated discussion concerning the why the district did not take on the property in the first place. Mr. Cobb explained that the Foundation taking

West Hills Community College Foundation
Board of Directors – Minutes

initial ownership of the property is a mechanism to use for the District to qualify for a future that would ultimately replace some piece of property. Mr. Gleason commented that the Foundation is going to create a deficit by taking a loss and will be giving up a $250,000 item that is on the balance sheet. Mr. Pucheu questioned if this is an unmanageable issue. Mr. Falter stated that it is for the benefit of the college, not for the benefit of the Foundation. They are two separate entities and the Foundation's goal is to support the college with long term objectives.

Mr. Drewry stated that all the improvements on the property have been paid for by the District and not the Foundation. He stated that the benefit of the district owning the property is that they can build a new campus and receive matching funds from the state to do so. He stated that the Foundation is here to benefit the college and it doesn't bother him if the District owns the property.

Mr. Pucheu stated that the Foundation has to take action to protect themselves and that a title search and environmental assessments should be done if necessary. Mr. Drewry agreed and stated that the transfer of title will not occur unless the title is clear. Mr. Cobb stated that a title search would occur as a matter of business practice, but any environmental reviews can be done later in the project. He stated that the District can take title without any environmental reviews. Dr. Gornick stated that the District can accept the title with any liabilities that come with it.

Mr. Pucheu commented on Foundations being separate entities. He stated that there has been good dialogue over this matter and we are finding that things are not as different as originally thought in many respects. He commented on the balance sheet and stated that he is not going to worry about it too much. The Foundation's emphasis is to support the college and we are going to find a way to do that.

Dr. Gornick stated that he isn't implying that there would just be a change of title without a title search and all the things that are stipulated in escrow. Any liability would be incurred by the District. These are stipulations that would be put into escrow. The District's point of view is that they have acted in good faith on behalf of the Foundation. They will continue that in terms of exchange. He stated that he doesn't see arguing against the transfer. Mr. Gleason stated that he thinks the money could be put to use for the students.

Dr. Post stated that the exchange for the property is obviously going to have some form of present consideration and that might be a dollar, but having an agreement that the District is going to continue to support the Foundation will be beneficial. He commented on the work of the staff and the implementation of the Colleague Advancement software that it going to make the office much more professional and efficient when it comes to communicating with donors, potential donors, and alumni. He stated that the Foundation could not absorb the expenses of the Foundation staff and their benefits and continue to exist.

Dr. Gornick stated that the District is not in a financial position to be able to pay for the property plus an operating budget. Mr. Gleason initiated discussion concerning the Foundation carrying a note if the District didn't have the cash. Ms. Ivans stated that the Foundation did not buy the building, the District did. Mr. Gleason stated that the Foundation capitalized it as though they owned it and they have the title. Mr. Pucheu stated that the issue before us is not how the building was purchased, but how we sell it. Dr. Post stated that the item the Board of Directors is considering is the sale of the property. He stated that it could be for a dollar, but there has to be present consideration. Mr. Gleason questioned if the offer is for a dollar. Dr. Post again stated that it would be nominal consideration and, in addition, future support of the Foundation. Dr. Gornick stated that the District had not made an offer, they are just attempting to state the facts.

Mr. Gleason questioned if a vote is needed today. Dr. Gornick stated that he is not hearing that the Foundation is against the benefit, but that they are questioning the details and the transfer. Dr. Forth questioned the ownership of properties by Foundations on behalf of colleges and stated that he does not believe this is uncommon in California. Dr. Post responded that it is not unusual. The Foundation can step in to help the District. He stated that looking back in retrospect, it made a lot of sense for the Foundation and the District to do what they did. His experience is that this is a common practice with Foundations and he does not recommend that the Foundation get into the business of buying and selling real estate.

Mr. Drewry stated that when the Foundation took on the responsibility of the North District Center, they did so to help the District. It also helped the Foundation by providing them with an asset as they basically had nothing back then. The Foundation did not have the money to purchase the property on their own, but the District offered to pay the lease if the Foundation would purchase the property. Now the Foundation has the opportunity to transfer it back to the District so that they can build a big campus and provide additional services to students. Mr. Drewry stated that the Foundation should transfer the property to the District. Dr. Post stated that it would be beneficial to get rid of the insurance premium on the property. Mr. Drewry reiterated that the District is going to cover the cost of the expenses with regard to the title search and escrow. Mr. Drewry stated that he would entertain a motion to transfer the property to the District.

Mr. Pucheu stated that he lives in the Firebaugh area and he would certainly welcome this idea. He stated that someday the industry is going to come back and we have to plan for the next 20 to 30 years. He stated that he is grateful to be here at this moment. Mr. Pucheu made a motion to approve the sale of the Firebaugh property to the West Hills Community College District. Ms. Ivans seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

Ms. Oxborrow stated that the Foundation and District have been put in this position because we have operated in some instances as a family. She stated that she thinks from this point on we need to operate like a business, we need to be accountable, and we need to do what's right. She stated that we need to have good accounting, legal opinions and CPA opinions and we need to act like a business. She stated that this is all she has asked for and it is the reason why a lot of these issues have come up and may continue to come up. Ms. Oxborrow stated that we have the opportunity now to go forward and make this the best Foundation possible. We need to make our District proud of our Foundation. We have done wonderful things in the past and we just need to do the right thing. She stated that she expected that everything will be done legally and correctly and in the future, when this present Board is not here, someone can look at everything that has been done and know that it was done correctly.

Mr. Drewry stated that the Foundation hasn't done anything illegal and he agrees with Ms. Oxborrow that things need to be done legally and correctly.

Action Items

2.A. Consideration of nominations for new officers for West Hills Community College Foundation Board of Directors 2009-2010.

Community Director Gleason stated, he would like to withdraw his name from the Nomination of Officers for Vice President.

Community Director Pucheu stated, he would like to withdraw his name from the Nomination of Officers for President.

Mr. Marc Scott moved to approve the slate Board officers for 2009-2010 as follows: Ernie Drewry – President, Don Forth – Vice President, Ann Stone – Secretary and Leonard Falter – Chief Financial Officer, motion seconded by Dr. Willard Lewallen, and carried unanimously.

2.B. Consideration of the proposed West Hills Community College Foundation Bylaws

Dr. Post provided some background as to the need for revising the Foundation's bylaws and stated that in the first meeting of the Board of Directors that he attended at the end of March, it was apparent that the Foundation Bylaws needed to be revised in order to be compliant with state law and he took it upon himself to do so. Dr. Post mentioned that the West Hills Community College Foundation is not unique and that the Foundation Board falls under the laws of the State of California and the Foundation Board operates within the organizational structure of the District and under the authority of it's governing Board. Post also discussed that the West Hills Community College District provides either direct or in-kind funding for Foundation, including providing office space, staff, copying, accounting and marketing services, etc. Dr. Post stated that the proposed bylaws insure that the Foundation is in compliance with state law as well as providing for the future growth of the Foundation.

Note: Listed below are the proposed Section numbers with corresponding proposed changes/revisions and discussion, if any.

1.1 Name

The name of this organization is the West Hills Community College Foundation, hereinafter called Corporation, is an auxiliary of and operates solely pursuant to the authority provided to it by the West Hills Community College District, hereinafter called District, which is a political subdivision of the State of California.

Dr. Post discussed with the board that he wanted them to understand that the Foundation is legitimate and operating as an auxiliary of the District.

2.1- Objective, Purpose and Activities

The specific purpose of this Corporation is to engage in the solicitation, receipt, and administration of property and, from time to time, to disburse such property and the income there from, to, for the benefit of, West Hills College Coalinga, West Hills College Lemoore, the North District Center in Firebaugh, West Hills College NAS Lemoore and any other District affiliated learning centers that may exist within the District for cultural, educational, and community service purposes.

Mr. Gleason stated to the Board that he was under the impression that the Foundation was not in the real estate business.

Ms. Oxborrow stated that the Board needs to consider guidelines for purchasing property.

Dr. Post stated that the proper place for this discussion would be in an Investment committee and that the investment policy should be reviewed.

3.1- Number

This Corporation shall be administered by a Board of Directors consisting of a minimum of 15 persons and a maximum of 21 persons. At least sixty percent (60%) of the Board of Directors shall be Community Directors, who shall be elected pursuant to the procedures outlined in Article 3.3(e). All business of the Corporation be conducted in accordance with the Ralph M. Brown Act. (Section 54590 et seq. of the California Government code.)

Discussion followed as to the appropriate minimum and maximum number of Directors.

Mr. Gleason asked about the number of current directors. Dr. Post stated that we currently have 16 members.

Mr. Pucheu asked "If we fall below the (proposed) minimum number is "the Board frozen" ?. Dr. Post explained that should Board membership fall below the minimum, there is a provision for immediately filling a vacancy and that given its meeting schedule, the impact on the Board should be minimal.

Mr. Forth asked if we currently have a quorum problem. Dr. Post answered we do not.

Dr. Post went on to emphasize that the Foundation Board needs to have a good representation of the communities we serve through a majority of Community Directors and that Community Directors should reflect the communities they represent. Staff directors are also important to maintain an open line of communication between the Foundation and the colleges and staff within the District.

Dr. Post stated that Mr. Forth, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Kreyenhagen have all indicated that they have persons interested on serving on the Board.

3.3b- Designation of Directors and Tenure

The Chancellor of the District and Vice Chancellor of the District shall serve as non-voting, ex officio members of the Board of Directors.

Dr. Post stated that it is important to maintain a direct line of communication with the District Chancellor and Vice Chancellor, but that they should be non-voting members of the Board.

3.3c

The College Presidents shall serve as two (2) of the total number of staff Directors and shall serve as a director so long as employment is continued with the District.

3.3d

The remaining Staff Directors shall be appointed by the Chancellor of the District and shall serve until the earlier of: (1) he or she ceases to be employed by the District; or (2) until the appointment of a successor by the Chancellor. Staff Directors shall be appointed until the total number of Staff Directors plus Trustee directors constitutes at least forty percent (40%) of the total number of the Board of Directors.

3.3f

The Executive Director shall direct the daily operations of the Foundation and shall be a non-voting, ex officio member of the Foundation Board.

Dr. Post stated that we need to clarify that the Executive Director is a non-voting member of the Board, but give him/her legitimate authority to attend all Board meetings and any closed sessions of the Board.

3.4- Terms of Office

Each director shall hold office for the term set forth in section 3.3 above or until his or her death, resignation, disqualification or removal, whichever occurs earlier. Directors may hold subsequent terms.

Dr. Post discussed with the board that adding the disqualification allows for the removal of a Director should they have an economic interest with the Foundation.

Mr. Pucheu asked, "Who makes that judgment". Dr. Post responded that the Bylaws clearly state that no Director shall have an economic interest in the Foundation and the Foundation Board would determine if an interest exists.

3.6- Removal

Trustee Directors may be removed by the vote of a majority of the Trustees of the District. Staff Directors may be removed at the will of the Chancellor of the District. Community Directors may be removed by a majority vote of the Board of Directors.

3.7- Vacancies

Vacancies on the Board of Directors shall be filled in accord with Section 3.3. Provided, however, no person may serve as director until qualified in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.2. As soon as is practicable, but no later than 30 days, after the death, resignation, disqualification or removal of a Trustee Director, a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the District or by a nomination, as applicable, shall be duly called for the appointment of the successor director. Where a Staff Director has died, resigned, been disqualified or been removed., the Chancellor of the District shall appointment a successor director.

If any vacancy results in the minimum of the directors falling below fifteen (15), said vacancy shall be filled within thirty (30) days of the declaration of vacancy.

3.8 through 3.12

Dr. Post commented that there were no changes to these sections at this time.

3.13- Non- Liability of Directors

The directors shall not be personally liable for the debts, liabilities, or other obligations of the Corporation within the scope of performance of their duties as director.

3.16- Disqualification and Restriction regarding interested Directors

Notwithstanding any other provision of these Bylaws, no Director nor an Officer of the Corporation (or their spouses or their relatives by blood or marriage) may engage in any transaction or business relationship with the Corporation that results in such person or persons receiving an economic benefit of any kind or nature whatsoever from the Corporation which does not comply with the law of the State of California. Any such person as described above shall be deemed an interested Director or Officer.

An interested Director or Officer, or anyone with an interest as defined above that is Nominated for membership on the Board of Directors, shall be disqualified and shall not be eligible to serve on the Board of Directors and their existing position on the Board of Directors shall be declared vacant by the President of the Board.

4.1- Place of Meetings

Regular and special meetings shall be held at the principal office of the Corporation unless otherwise provided by the Executive Director or at such place within the boundaries of the territory of the District over which the Corporation exercises jurisdiction subject to the exceptions provided under the Ralph M. Brown Act. Notice of such meetings shall be given in accordance with the Ralph M. Brown Act (Section 54950 et seq. of the California Government Code.)

If, by reason of fire, flood, earthquake, or other emergency, it shall be unsafe to meet in the place designated, the meetings shall be held for the duration of the emergency at the place designated by the President of the Board or his or her designee in a notice to the local media that have requested notice pursuant to Section 54956, by the most rapid means of communication available at the time.

4.2- Organizational Meeting

The first Board of Directors may at any time hold an organizational meeting at which the Board of Directors shall elect a President, a Vice President, a Secretary and a Chief Financial Officer and may elect such subordinate officers as they may determine, none of whom need be a director of the Corporation. Unless provided otherwise in the Articles of Incorporation of the Corporation or these Bylaws, any number of offices may be held by the same person except that neither the Secretary nor the Chief Financial Officer may serve concurrently as the President or Chairman of the Board of Directors. Notice of such a meeting shall be given in accordance with California law.

4.3- Regular and Annual Meeting

Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at least bi-monthly on such date and time and at such location as is established by resolution of the Board of Directors. Notice of such meetings shall be given in accordance with the Ralph M. Brown Act. (Section 54950 et seq. of the California Government Code.)

4.4- Special Meetings

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by the Executive Director, the President, the Vice President, the Secretary, or by any two directors, and such meetings shall be held at such place within the boundaries of the territory of the District over which the Corporation exercises jurisdiction subject to the exceptions provided under the Ralph M. Brown Act. (Section 54590 et seq. of the California Government Code.)

Dr. Post stated that the Foundation Board and its committees cannot just meet anywhere it chooses because there are designated places that the Foundation Board is authorized to meet, but the Brown Act also provides exceptions to the requirement that all meetings take place within the territory over which the Board has jurisdiction.

4.5- Notice of Meetings

At least seventy-two (72) hours before a regular meeting an agenda shall be posted containing a brief description of each item of business to be transacted or discussed at the meeting, including items to be discussed in closed session. For special meetings, notice must be given twenty-four (24) hours in advance to those who request such notice.

Dr. Post stated that the agendas are posted on the website, at the meeting locations, at West Hills College Lemoore, at West Hills College Coalinga, at the West Hills College District Office and at the West Hills College North District Center.

4.7- Quorum for Meetings

A quorum shall consist of fifty-one (51%) of the Board of Directors as it is constituted as of the date of such meeting. Any meeting at which a quorum is initially present may continue to do business until adjournment notwithstanding the withdrawal of Directors to leave less than a quorum. Every item acted upon or decision made by a majority of the Directors present at a meeting duly held at which a quorum is present shall be regarded as the act of the Board of Directors. No proxy is permitted.

Dr. Post stated that he deleted everything that was in violation of the Brown Act.

4.9- Adjournment

A majority of the Directors present, whether or not constituting a quorum, may adjourn any meeting to another time and place. Notice of the time and place for holding an adjourned meeting shall be in accordance with the Ralph M. Brown Act. (Section 54950 et seq. of the California Government Code).

4.11- Meeting By Telephone, Video or Other Form of Communication

Any Board meeting may be held by conference telephone, video screen communication, or other communications equipment.

Dr. Post stated that under the Brown Act we are able to have a phone conference as long as we give 72-hour notice that we are doing so.

5.1- Members

This Corporation shall have no members other than Directors and officers.

Dr. Post stated that we do have members of the West Hills Community College Foundation Board.

6.2- Qualifications, Elections, and Term of Office

Each officer shall hold office for one year, or until he or she resigns or is removed or is otherwise disqualified to serve, or until his or her successor shall be elected and qualified, whichever occurs first. Officers may serve consecutive terms by approval of a majority the Board of Directors, however, no officer shall hold the same office for more than three (3) consecutive terms. Newly elected officers shall assume their responsibilities immediately following the annual meeting.

Mr. Pucheu stated could you waive these terms of election.

Dr. Post stated yes you could with a new person in their place.

6.3- Removal and Resignation

Any officer may be removed, either with or without cause, by the Board of Directors, at any time. Any officer may resign at any time by giving written notice to the Board of Directors or to the President, Executive Director or Secretary of the Corporation. Any such resignation shall take effect at the date of receipt of such notice or at any later date specified therein, and, unless otherwise specified therein, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

6.4 through 6.8

Dr. Post commented that there were no changes to these sections at this time.

6.9 Duties of Executive Director

Discussion of the duties and responsibilities of the Executive Director resulted in the recommendation that the last paragraph of this section include a provision that the Executive Director will be responsible for reporting activities and functioning of the Foundation to the Board of Trustees.

There was a concurrence of the Board members and Dr. Post revised the section to read as follows:

“The Executive Director shall served on the Board as a non-voting, ex officio member and shall be responsible for reporting the activities and functioning of the Foundation Board to the Board of Trustees.”

There was also a request that all members of the Board receive the current job description of the Executive Director. Dr. Post indicated that he would send out the job description via email within the week.

7.1- Compensation

Directors and Officers shall serve without compensation except that any director or officer may be reimbursed for expenses duly incurred in the performance of their duties as directors or officers of the Corporation, upon approval of the Board of Directors.

Dr. Post discussed with the Board of Directors that there are approval processes that you go through to have reimbursements paid back to you.

8.5- Statement of Investment Policy, Objectives and Guidelines

The Investment and Finance Committee will review the statement of investment policy quarterly and make changes as needed. The investment policy, objectives and guidelines shall be reviewed by the Board of Directors each year at the annual meeting.

9.1- Conduct of Meetings

All committees, except for Ad Hoc committees, will be noticed and conducted in accordance with the Ralph M. Brown Act.(Section 54950 et seq. of the California Government Code.) At least seventy-two (72) hours before a committee meeting, except Ad Hoc committee meetings, an agenda shall be posted containing a brief general description of each item of business to be transacted or discussed at the meeting, including items to be discussed in closed session.

9.2- Executive Committee

The Executive Committee shall consist of the President, Vice President, Chief Financial Officer, Secretary, Chancellor of the District, Vice Chancellor of the District, the Executive Director of the Corporation, the Chair of the Resource Development Committee, the Chair of the Investment/Finance Committee and up to three other Directors of the Board selected by the Board President and approved by the Board. Executive Committee members shall be limited to two consecutive one-year terms, except when such limit would preclude a Board Officer, the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor or a named Committee Chair from serving on the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee shall meet regularly throughout the year and serve as an advisory group to the President and the Board of Directors.

9.3- Investment and Finance Committee

The Investment and Finance Committee shall consist of five members and one alternate member appointed by the Board President. The Investment Committee terms of office shall be for three years. No member shall serve more than two 3-year terms without a lapse of at least one year. Any vacancy shall be filled by appointment of the Board President.

Mr. Gleason suggested that the CFO should be a member of this committee. There was a concurrence to this suggestion among the other members of the Board.

Dr. Post stated that he would revise the proposed bylaws to include the CFO as a required member of the Investment and Finance Committee. The first sentence of Section 9.3 would read as follows: The Investment and Finance Committee shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be the Chief Financial Officer of the Board.

9.4- Nominating Committee

The Nominating Committee shall consist of seven Directors, three of whom shall be nominated by the Board President; and four of whom shall be nominated by the Board of Directors. All seven members shall be elected by the Board of Directors. The Directors serving on this committee shall elect a committee chair. The Nominating Committee terms of office shall be for three years. No Director shall serve more than two 3-year terms without a lapse of at least one year. Any Nominating Committee seat becoming vacant due to the 3-year term limits shall be filled by appointment of the Board President. The current President cannot be a member of the Nominating Committee.

The Committee will work throughout the year to identify a pool of potential new Directors for review and consideration. They will present those selected from the pool as recommendations to the full Board for action when appropriate. At the Board meeting, the President shall direct the Nominating Committee to prepare a slate of officers for the coming year. All candidates for office will have declared their intention to serve, if elected. The slate shall be presented at the Board meeting, and will be voted on at the annual Board meeting in September.

9.5 –Resource and Development Committee

The Resource Development Committee shall provide leadership, oversight and guidance to the Foundation's resource development efforts and will consist of no more than six Director members and one staff development officer. The Development Committee Chair shall serve a three-year term and be appointed by the Board President, with the advice of the Foundation's Executive Director. The appointment shall be approved by the Executive Committee. The Chair may serve no more than two consecutive terms but may be reappointed as Chair after a one year lapse.

Committee members shall serve no more than two terms of three years without a lapse of at least one year before reappointment. The Resource Development Committee shall meet monthly or on an as needed basis. It will report to the Board at the regular meetings of the Board.

Dr. Post stated we should be involved in planned giving and capital campaigns

9.6- Standing Committees

Each of these may include persons who are not Directors of the Board.

9.7- Ad Hoc Committees

The Corporation shall have such other committees as may from time-to-time be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors for the purpose of assistance with planning and events. The following committees may meet frequently but are considered Ad Hoc committees: Golf tournament, Planned Giving and Events. Such other committees may consist of persons who are not also members of the Board (i.e. non-directors).

10.1 through 14.1

Dr. Post commented that there were no changes to these sections at this time.

Mr. Warkentin suggested that in 5.1 of the Bylaws an Investment Committee could look into an audit Company for the West Hills Community College Foundation.

Dr. Gornick stated as long as it is consistent with the Brown Act Laws.

Ms. Stone raised the issue of the recent Executive Director issue. Discussion followed concerning the Foundation Boards authority to make decisions relative to the employment of staff.

Mr. Gleason asked if we would be able to hire our own employees if we raise our own money. Dr. Post stated that the organizational structure is such that you follow the money. Currently funds for staff wages and benefits come from the District. The Foundation should be able to grow and if and when the Foundation has sufficient resources to pay for the salary and benefits of its staff, the Foundation should be able to make those decisions.

Mr. Gleason stated that given the fact that the Board cannot employ anyone without the approval of the Board of Trustees, the term “and employees” should be removed from Section 3.9 – Duties ((of the Board of Directors) under sub-sections 3.9 (b) and 3.9 (c). There being concurrence of the members of the Board, Dr. Post stated that he would make those changes to Section 3.9.

Mr. Pucheu stated that there is nothing in the Bylaws that states how money is being raised for scholarships.

Dr. Post discussed that we have committees that meet and decide how our money is to be separated and spent.

West Hills Community College Foundation

July 15, 2009
Page 12

Mr. Gleason asked if it falls on the Foundation if scholarship money is spent incorrectly. Dr. Post answered that we have scholarship committees that the Foundation sits on that decide how the scholarships will be awarded.

Dr. Lewallen stated the Foundation does more than just scholarships.

Mr. Gleason stated is the Foundation always under the Board of Trustees and does the Foundation have to ask for permission from the Board of Trustees to do everything.

Dr. Post stated that he reports to the Board of Trustees regarding what the Foundation is doing, but he does not ask for permission to do things in the Foundation.

Mr. Gleason discussed how does the Foundation know when the Board of Trustees approves things. Dr. Post stated if things are not approved the Board of Trustees will let him know and he would report this to the Board.

Dr. Post stated that he serves under the authority of both the Foundation Board and the Chancellor. While his immediate supervisor is the Chancellor, the Foundation Board also evaluates his performance based upon his goals and objectives.

Mr. Pucheu stated that in the Bylaws nothing is stated on what role the Foundation has in raising funds for functions. Dr. Post stated that the Foundation should receive a report from the Executive director on funds that are raised in the Foundation.

On a motion by Dr. Lewallen, seconded by Dr. Forth, and carried unanimously, the Board approved the proposed revised West Hills Community College Foundation Bylaw including the changes made today as indicated above.

Announcements and Upcoming Events

The next annual meeting of the West Hills Community College Foundation Board of Directors meeting will be held on Wednesday, September 16, 2009 at the North District Center, Firebaugh at 10:00 a.m

Board of Directors Comments and Requests

Dr. Post handed out his goals and proposed 2009-2010 Goals and Objectives and asked for the members of the Board to send their comments or suggestions to him over the next few weeks. He stated that his current contract with the District expires September 30, 2009.

Dr. Gornick stated that the District has a one year window to keep an interim executive director and then the District will conduct a search or can ask for a one year exemption due to "special circumstances".

stated that the quarter looks better than the year to date totals. Mr. Giordano stated that the Foundation has a 5 year CD and it was open 1 ½ ago. He stated that the CD rate is higher than the cash rate. He stated if the CD rate increases to sell CD. Dr. Post asked if the Foundation was to move funds out of the CD how much would we move. Mr. Giordano stated that if you transfer $400,000 to balance out the accounts that would be enough.

3. Action Items-

A. Approval of Minutes of meeting held on May 7, 2009.

On a motion by Nina Oxborrow, seconded by Leonard Falter, and carried unanimously, the Investment and Finance Committee minutes were approved.

B. Consideration of the Preliminary Draft of the Audit report for the years ending December 31, 2008 and 2007, including a presentation by a presentation from the auditing firm of Vavrinek, Trine, Day & Co., LLP

Mr. Williams stated that the Foundation has been doing well and has accomplished a lot through a short amount of time. Mr. Williams stated that the total net assets for 2008 were $2,283,661. Dr. Post asked what is the difference between permanently restricted and temporarily restricted? Mr. Williams stated that permanently restricted you cannot touch the principal and temporary you can touch the principal such as: scholarships, agriculture etc. Mr. Gleason stated that the Allen Farm is in the Foundation General Administration account and asked what would it take to move the money out of that account? Mr. Williams commented it would take nothing to do so. Mr. Williams also stated that the cash and equivalent year to end is $1,294,409 and the total expenses for all programs in the Foundation for 2008 is $1,403,339.

C. Consideration of the Auditor selection process and the auditing of the Foundation.

Dr. Post stated that an independent audit will cost the Foundation approximately around $10,000.00, and Currently the District pays for the Foundation's annual audit. Trustee Oxborrow asked, "Can we change the year on the audit". Mr. William's noted that changing the year would not be a problem as long as it is stated in the audit report.

On a motion by Len Falter, seconded by Marc Scott, and carried unanimously, the Investment and Finance Committee approved the current auditor select process and the Districts auditing of the Foundation.

D. Consideration of the Statement of Investment Policy, Objectives and Guidelines

Dr. Post advised that the current Investment policy allows the Foundation to acquire land. Trustee Oxborrow commented that we do not want to be real estate owners, with the exception of the farm.

3. Board of Directors Comments and Requests

Dr. Post stated that on October 14, 2009 we will be bringing forth at our Board meeting Sharon Gordon as a Community Director.

Community Director Pucheu commented that his district is having several water district issues. He also commented that the Foundation has their first Ad Hoc committee up and running.

Trustee Oxborrow commented that we as a Foundation need to make sure where we are at as a Foundation. We also need to make that the Foundation has things correct.

Community Director Brad Gleason commented that we need to restore credibility to the Foundation. Mr. Gleason would also like to know why the Allen Farm account is sitting in General Administrative Account.

Dr. Frank Gornick commented that West Hills Community College has recently been awarded "The Chronicles 2009 Great Colleges to Work For". Dr. Gornick also commented that his colleges will be having furlough days, administrative 24, faculty 12 and classified 12.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SEPTEMBER 16, 2009

10:00 a.m.

This regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Hills Community College Foundation was held on September 16, 2009, at the West Hills Community College North District Center Firebaugh.

1. Call to Order

Due to a lack of quorum, the meeting was declared an adjourned meeting by President Ernest Drewry at 10:15 a.m. President Drewry led the assemblage in the flag salute.

Board of Directors Present:

Willard Lewallen, Staff Director
Don Warkentin, Staff Director
Ernest Drewry, President
Bill Pucheu, Community Director
Edna Ivans, Trustee Director
Sheilah Kreyenhagen, Community Director
Don Forth, Vice President
Ken Stoppenbrink, Chief Financial Officer, West Hills Community College District

Board of Directors Absent:

Brad Gleason, Community Director
Len Falter, Chief Financial Officer, West Hills Community College Foundation
Ann Stone, Secretary
Nancy Oliveira, Community Director
Nina Oxborrow, Trustee Director
Marc Scott, Community Director

Others Present:

Jim Giordano, Vice President UBS Financial
Dr. Rick Post, Interim Executive Director, West Hills Community College Foundation
Dr. Frank Gornick, Chancellor
Dr. Marcel Hetu, Director of North District Center
Laura Mendes-Moore
Tina Souza, Foundation Secretary

Introduction of Guests

Community Director, Sheilah Kreyenhagen introduced prospective Board member, Laura Mendes-Moore.

Public Comments

Dr. Marcel Hetu welcomes the Foundation Board and guests to West Hills Community College North District Center. Dr. Hetu commented on all the construction and also stated that NDC held their first ASB election and approximately 128 students voted. They have a great group of young leaders.

2. Election of 2009-2010 Officers

Due to a lack of a quorum at the meeting, no election of officers was held.

3. Interim Executive Director's Report – Dr. Rick Post

A. Council on Resource Development- Fundraising workshop July 19-21, 2009

Dr. Post reported that he and Dr. Gornick had the opportunity in July to attend a Presidents' fundraising workshop sponsored by the Council on Resource Development in San Francisco. The focus was the role of the chancellor, presidents, trustees and board members in foundation fundraising. The Foundation serves as advisors to the Board and ambassadors to the community. The college governing board authorizes the creation of the Foundation endorsing financial commitment, cultivation and fundraising events. The Chancellor and President's identify where there are fundraising needs. Dr. Post noted that several members of the board are fiscally supportive of the Foundation and he appreciated Nina and Edna's history with the Foundation board.

B. "Engaging Young Alumni: Strategies that Work Now" Audio Conference August 19, 2009

Dr. Post stated that the Foundation staff attended an audio conference on Engaging Young Alumni. The Foundation staff gathered a lot of useful information and strategies used to engage students. Tina Souza commented that it begins with educating the students on the history and traditions at WHCC. Starting with the graduating class of 2010 all graduates will receive a congratulations email from the Foundation. We can partner with SGA for Welcome Week and Senior Week activities to give the students an ownership of their class, developing a senior gift campaign, an on-line newsletter with a link to make donations. Dr. Gornick added that community colleges are young in the higher education scene. Many individuals are finding it easier to form alumni organizations. Dr. Post commented that College of the Desert has a strong alumni, they have regional street fairs that bring in a lot of money by selling parking lot space to vendors and part of his job description is Director of Alumni Association and with the new Datatel system, we now have many ways to track and generate information to donors and students.

C. Donor Bill of Rights – Association of Fundraising Professionals

Dr. Post stated that many charitable organizations have developed and endorsed a Donor Bill of Rights, and he is recommending at the Foundation adopt this document. And feels important aspect of Donor Bill of Rights is IV which may have certain issues with taking certain gifts. Donors have the right to say where their donation goes. However, equally important that other needs may arise and the governing board would have the authority to determine needs if other requirements aren't there. Mr. Pucheu encourages the District's governing board to review and feels that a Donor Bill of Rights is absolutely fundamental to build trust in the community.

D. Foundation Board member job description –Council of Resource Development

Dr. Post noted that this job description was presented at the CRD conference in San Francisco and added that it's not unreasonable and all board members should do what's asked. Dr. Post will be requesting the board to adopt the job description.

E. "Class of 2009" Retirement dinner –September 11, 2009

Dr. Post commented that the Foundation just hosted a Class of 2009 retirement dinner at Tachi Palace. There was a 200+ turnout. Tachi did an outstanding job, very well done. Dr. Post added that each retiree was given a $250 gift as a token of appreciation for their service to the students and the District.

4. Chancellor's Report – Dr. Frank Gornick

Dr. Frank Gornick extended a thank you to the Foundation for hosting the retirement party. This was the first time we have done anything together and it was done very well, wonderful evening. Dr. Gornick reported to the Foundation Board that they have extended Rick Post's contract six more months and have applied through the state to keep him on one more year. Dr. Gornick commented on the budget stating that we are not out of the woods, we are looking at a decrease in the spring schedule by 30%. The college Presidents are diligently working on becoming more efficient on the class schedules and may have a priority registration for those students with 45 units or more who are looking to graduate.

5. Campus Reports

A. Dr. Willard Lewallen – WHC Coalinga

Dr. Lewallen reported that this summer they cut the schedule by 25% and had more students enrolled and that trend continues through fall, by next spring they will be at full capacity. Dr. Lewallen explained that the community is hearing about all the reductions but still see construction and he has to explain that the funding comes from two different pots of money. Mrs. Sheilah Kreyenhagen suggested an article explaining the funding differences. Dr. Frank Gornick replied that we are working with Frances Squire in marketing on an article or a flyer “How Are We Surviving the Budget.” Mrs. Edna Ivans added that this will provide an explanation on what’s happening at WHCC. Dr. Lewallen reported that the Wellness Center on the campus was put on hold because of cash flow with the state, but now are back on track and will complete in the spring of next year.

B. Mr. Don Warkentin – WHC Lemoore

Mr. Warkentin stated that next week will be a day in history because of the ground breaking of the Multi-Use Sports Complex. Mr. Warkentin commented that this facility will have stadium-style seating, over 700 invitations were mailed out, and the Culinary Arts department will be providing lunch. Mr. Warkentin also reported that they were given a clean bill of health on the audit report concerning MAA funds and that there are over 100 staff promoting MAA. The auditors were pleased with the structure and will use WHC as an example to other colleges. Dr. Gornick commented that the Child Development program greatly benefits from MAA funding and they have an opportunity to see more people and generate more funds.

6. Committee reports

A. Investment and Finance – Ernie Drewry, Chair
a. Jim Giordano, UBS Financial Vice President

Mr. Giordano stated that the equities in the Foundation as of September 9 are at a 1.51% positive return. The Foundation’s portfolio value and investment returns are down approximately $136K. Not included in that figure is the $813K and change from September 1st that was invested in an institutional money market account. Institutional money market has an increased rate of return and no checks will ever bounce. Mr. Drewry asked if the money market was better than a CD. Mr. Giordano responded “Yes” because it has a higher rate. Mr. Giordano recommends to put some back in investment, but keeping $400K in cash is not a problem because there is volatility in the market. Dr. Rick Post asked what would be best? Mr. Giordano replied at a minimum put half into investments. Mr. Giordano also reports that all accounts are doing very well, they are increasing nicely.

B. Kings CC Golf membership ad hoc committee report

Ernie Drewry, co-chair, stated that it is the committee’s recommendation that the Executive Director of the Foundation should be the person representing the Foundation’s membership. Currently Dr. Gornick is the representative. The committee found that the Country Club offers a place to do business, have lunch and get acquainted with potential donors, but it’s not only for those who play golf. In the past this membership has not been abused, when the Foundation first acquired the membership, Dr. Gornick was the Foundation’s Executive Director. The Foundation owns the membership now, the person to use should be the person who does the friend-raising.

7. Len Falter, CFO, Financial Report

In Mr. Falter's absence, Dr. Post gave the report.

Dr. Post stated that with the new Datatel accounting system the Foundation is currently not able to generate a report similar to past reports and apologized for the current format. We are working with the Business Office to improve the format of our reports. Dr. Post reviewed the expenditures to date in the Foundation and explained that through community support the Foundation was able to donate to the Kings Art Center Guild Gala Fundraiser and through campus support the Foundation was able to make a donation to the WHCL golf tournament and to Student Government Association at WHC Lemoore for Welcome Week. Total expenditures were $1,450.

Reports

- A. Consideration of the Audit report for the years ending December 31, 2008 and 2007 - Vavrinek, Trine, Day & Co., LLP

Larry Corum of Vavrinek, Trine, Day & Co., LLP introduced himself and thanked the Investment and Finance Committee for the opportunity to report on the Foundation's December 31, 2008 audit report. Mr. Corum reported that the Independent Auditors' Report (pg. 2) is the entire focal point of the report. Mr. Corum commented that he felt the financial statements in the report were overall correct. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Financial Position (Pg. 4) is broken out into three sections; Current Assets, Liabilities and Net Assets. Mr. Corum noted the Net Assets are a theory of what the Foundation would be worth if all assets were liquidated. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Activities (Pg. 5) has three areas; Unrestricted, Temporarily Restricted and Permanently Restricted. Mr. Corum explained Unrestricted funds can be used anywhere without restrictions , Temporarily Restricted funds for instance scholarship donations –once the Foundation fulfills the criteria of the scholarship the funds can be used, Permanently Restricted funds for instance would be an endowment. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Cash Flow (Pg. 6) shows the change in net assets and although there was an increase in account payable, there was less cash out. Don Warkentin commented that this is positive, Mr. Corum agreed. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Functional Expenses (pg. 7) discloses what the Foundation spends money on; it's a matrix of how funds are spent. The total support services, and total program services add up for the total year end expenses. Mr. Corum reported on the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards (pg. 15) that more than $500K was received in federal awards. Mr. Stoppenbrink asked if there are any restrictions on how MAA dollars are invested. Mr. Corum responded he is unaware of any specific investment requirements. Mr. Corum reported the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs (pg. 23) states the type of auditor's report issued: Unqualified. Mr. Warkentin remarked that is a good thing, Mr. Corum agreed. Mr. Corum reported on the Financial Statement Findings (pg. 24 & 25) and stated the current year deals with the golf membership, an attorney was attained and the opinion was that personal use of the membership should be reported on the member's W2, but based on the amount spent on membership the risk is minimal. Dr. Post commented that this did not jeopardize the status on a non-profit Foundation and assuming the board approves the change in membership to him, the membership would then be used for donor cultivation and asked 'Is that considered personal use. Mr. Corum responded that it would not be personal considering business purpose for the Foundation. Dr. Post gave a scenario that if he played 4 rounds of golf in a month, 3 were donor cultivation, the other being personal, would he report pro rata 25% on W2. Mr. Corum responded with "Yes". Mr. Stoppenbrink added to take action only if the membership is used on a personal basis. Dr. Post commented that the Ad hoc Committee recommended that the membership be assigned to the Executive Director with exact reporting of each time used, and with whom. Mr. Corum reported the other issue deals with the loss of investments and being out of balance which led to the Foundation accounts showing more funds than they actually had and commented that this occurred in 2007 and is no longer an issue. Audit Report concluded.

Action Items

Vice President Dr. Don Forth announced that member Marc Scott needed to excuse himself early and requested a motion to change the order of the agenda items by moving the Action items ahead of the Reports.

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pacheu, seconded by Trustee Nina Oxborrow, and carried unanimously the Board of Directors approved the motion.

A. Approval of Minutes

- (1) Regular Board meeting June 17, 2009
- (2) Special Board meeting July 15, 2009
- (3) Special Board meeting August 20, 2009
- (4) Annual Board meeting September 16, 2009

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Community Director Sheilah Kreyenhagen, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Minutes of the Regular Board meeting June 17, 2009; Special Board Meeting July 15, 2009; Special Board meeting August 20, 2009; Annual Board meeting September 16, 2009.

B. Consideration of Sharon Gordon as a member of the Foundation Board of Directors. This is a three year term.

On a motion by Staff Director Don Warkentin, seconded by Trustee Director Nina Oxborrow, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved Sharon Gordon as a Community Director to the Foundation Board of Directors for a three year term.

C. Consideration of Laura Mendes-Moore as a member of the Foundation Board of Directors. This is a three year term.

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Community Director Marc Scott, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved Laura Mendes-Moore as a Community Director to the Foundation Board of Directors for a three year term.

The Foundation Board welcomed Sharon Gordon and Laura Mendes-Moore to the Foundation Board of Directors.

D. Consideration of change in Kings Country Club authorized user.

Dr. Post noted that at the Annual meeting on September 16, 2009, the ad hoc golf membership committee recommended that the authorized user of the Kings Country Club membership be the Executive Director of the Foundation and that an accurate accounting of the use of the membership be made to the Board on a monthly basis. Golf membership committee co-chair Ann Stone indicated that this was the committee's recommendation.

On a motion by Trustee Director Nina Oxborrow, seconded by Community Director Marc Scott, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Executive Director of the Foundation as the person authorized to use the Foundation's Kings Country Club membership with all rights and privileges pertaining thereto.

E. Consideration of proposed 2009-2010 Statement of Investment Policy, Objectives and Guidelines.

Dr. Post stated that there the Statement being presented was the same as that which was presented to the Board and approved at the Board meeting on July 15, 2009. However, the Board is required under the terms of its bylaws to approve the Statement at its Annual meeting, but lacking a quorum, the approval of the Statement was moved to today's meeting.

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Trustee Director Nina Oxborrow, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the 2009-2010 Statement of Investment Policy, Objectives and Guidelines.

F. Consideration of Donor Bill of Rights – Assn. of Fundraising Professionals

Dr. Post commented that this is the same Donor Bill of Rights presented at the September 16, 2009 meeting, but lacking a quorum at that meeting the item was placed on today's agenda. Dr. Post reported that the Donor Bill of Rights has been developed by a number of national fundraising organizations and endorsed by all major consortiums on planned giving. The Donor Bill of Rights is very straight forward and is basically the "ten commandments of giving" and that it insures it's donors that the organization is using funds for the purpose for which was given. Dr. Post strongly recommends approval. Trustee Director Nina Oxborrow asked "where would this be presented to donors?" Dr. Post answered that it will be sent to past, current and any new donors. Community Director Bill Pucheu asked "has this been presented to the Governing Board?" Dr. Post answered that "It is scheduled to be presented by the Chancellor's office to the Governing Board during their upcoming study session."

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Secretary Ann Stone, and carried unanimously the Board of Directors approved the Donor Bill of Rights – promulgated by the Association of Fundraising Professionals.

G. Consideration of Foundation Board member job description – CRD

Dr. Post stated that the Foundation Board member job description was developed by the Council for Resource Development (CRD) and is widely accepted. Dr. Post added that the Board is free to make its own job description if it chooses to and may add to or subtract from the job description components. He encouraged approval. Trustee Director Nina Oxborrow commented that there are two elected officials on the Board, is there a job description for others. Dr. Post answered "Trustees also have a list of expectations which has been developed by the CRD."

On a motion by Community Director Brad Gleason, seconded by Community Director Marc Scott, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Foundation Board member job description.

Following the last Action item, Dr. Post thanked all of the Board Members for being present at today's meeting.

Public Comments

None

2. Election of 2009-2010 Officers

Dr. Post noted the four nominees approved by the nominating committee earlier this year: Ernie Drewry – President, Dr. Don Forth – Vice President, Ann Stone – Secretary, Len Falter – Chief Financial Officer/Treasurer.

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Staff Director Dr. Lewallen, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the 2009-2010 slate of Foundation Officers.

3. Interim Executive Director's Report-Dr. Rick Post

Dr. Post again thanked the Board for moving the action items forward. Dr. Post updated the Board on President Ernie Drewry's condition and stated that Ernie is doing well although he is very sore from his quadruple bypass surgery, but in good spirits. Dr. Post added that a long time donor and friend of the Foundation, Mrs. Phyllis Roberts was a victim of a home invasion and that he has been working with her the last couple of weeks on insurance and DMV documents. Dr. Post commented on the recent deaths of Brian and Dixie Welborn and that they passed away within 30 days of each other. Dr. Post stated that he has been notified by the Executor of the Welborn Estate that WHCCF has been named in the will and that details will follow.

4. Chancellor's Report-Dr. Frank Gornick

Chancellor Gornick was absent due to his serving as Chair and participation on an accreditation team visit at Sacramento City College. No report was given.

5. Campus Reports-

A. Dr. Willard Lewallen-WHC Coalinga

Dr. Lewallen presented the most recent edition of the President's Pen.

B. Don Warkentin- WHC Lemoore

Mr. Warkentin commented that he had good news and bad news: Good news being that the Multi-Use Sports Complex is under way, bad news is with the budget cuts, they are looking at reducing the spring schedule by 54% -which is a decrease of about 213 classes. Mr. Warkentin also noted that there will be special registration/processing to get those students who are close to graduation the classes needed to do so. Dr. Lewallen commented that WHCC is in the same situation. Mr. Warkentin added that he still gets questions from the community regarding how can WHCCD be building with all the budget cuts and he finds himself explaining that the funds come out of two pots of money, bonds and that building costs do not come from the general funds. Community Director Nancy Oliveira asked "what priority will be given to those students close to graduation." Don replied with "those students will have a two week priority registration."

6. Len Falter CFO, Financial Report

A. Expense Report – July 1, 2009 – September 30, 2009

In Mr. Falter's absence, Dr. Post gave the report.

Dr. Post explained when the Foundation changed computer systems we lost the ability to generate certain reports, but, that the Foundation staff will be trained in Colleague Finance in November. Dr. Post reviewed the Income/Expense on the unrestricted budget and reported that after Community Support for Kings Art Gala, and the plaques from Warner's Stable Graphics the Community support budget has a balance of $2,951.65. Campus Support was given to the WHCL golf tournament –Tee sponsor, a donation to the WHCL Student Government Assn., $2,500 in retirement gifts for the ten 2009 retirees and reimbursement for various donor cultivation activities. The Campus Support budget has a balance of $36,935.32. Dr. Post commented that next month he will be giving a report on donations, there is still money coming in during these tough economic times and thanked the WHCCD staff and administration for continuing to support the Employee Philanthropy Program.

B. Auditors' Final Report – December 31, 2008 and 2007

Larry Corum of Vavrinek, Trine, Day & Co., LLP introduced himself and thanked the Investment and Finance Committee for the opportunity to report on the Foundation's December 31, 2008 audit report. Mr. Corum reported that the Independent Auditors' Report (pg. 2) is the entire focal point of the report. Mr. Corum commented that overall he felt the financial statements in the report were accurate and correct. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Financial Position (Pg. 4) is broken out into three sections; Current Assets, Liabilities and Net Assets. Mr. Corum noted the Net Assets are a theory of what the Foundation would be worth if all assets were liquidated. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Activities (Pg. 5) has three areas; Unrestricted, Temporarily Restricted and Permanently Restricted. Community Director Brad Gleason requested Mr. Corum to define Restricted, Unrestricted and Temporarily Restricted. Mr. Corum explained Unrestricted funds can be used anywhere without restrictions, Temporarily Restricted funds for instance scholarship donations –once the Foundation fulfills the criteria of the scholarship the funds can be used, Permanently Restricted funds for instance would be an endowment. Community Director Brad Gleason stated he was concerned and asked, “Are the clubs aware that their money is restricted, why wouldn’t it be unrestricted –for instance football.” Mr. Corum responded “in football, people generally donate to football.” Dr. Post added that as far as the Foundation is concerned their money is restricted; it’s not in the Foundation’s budget. Community Director Brad Gleason replied that he understood Rick’s objective, but if football has money, why aren’t funds unrestricted? Dr. Post commented that once the money comes to our office to deposit, we only have one account for football, to the Foundation it is restricted and only football can spend funds. Community Director Brad Gleason asked “Is there a policy on donations, such as trees, if the trees are on land that the Foundation owns, how you capitalize?” Mr. Corum responded that generally non-cash donations, such as trees donated to the Foundation are property of the Foundation. Community Director Brad Gleason asked “If someone wrote a check for the weather station, would that get capitalized?” Mr. Corum responded with “Yes.” Community Director Brad Gleason asked “What about the Motte donation?” Dr. Post replied that “The donation was used for the purpose of the CIMIS Weather Station.” Mr. Clint Cowden also responded with “The weather station itself was purchased by the USDA, the irrigation and other components were purchased with the Motte donation.” Community Director Brad Gleason requested a written policy of capitalization. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Cash Flow (Pg. 6) shows the change in net assets and although there was an increase in account payable, there was less cash out. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Functional Expenses (pg. 7) discloses what the Foundation spends money on; it’s a matrix of how funds are spent. The total support services, and total program services add up for the total year end expenses. Mr. Corum reported on the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards (pg. 15) that more than $500K was received in federal awards. Mr. Corum reported the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs (pg. 23) states the type of auditor’s report issued: Unqualified. Mr. Corum reported on the Financial Statement Findings (pg. 24 & 25) and stated the current year deals with the golf membership, an attorney was attained and the opinion was that personal use of the membership should be reported on the member’s W2, but based on the amount spent on membership the risk is minimal. Mr. Corum reported the other issue deals with the loss of investments and being out of balance which led to the Foundation accounts showing more funds than they actually had and commented that this occurred in 2007 and is no longer an issue. Audit Report concluded. Mr. Corum asked for any questions. Community Director Brad Gleason asked about the Foundations tax returns. Mr. Corum responded that the tax returns are publically available for anyone to review.

On a motion by Vice President Dr. Don Forth, seconded by Community Director Brad Gleason, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Auditors’ Final Report – December 31, 2008 and 2007.

Dr. Post commented that this Audit Report will be included with the Districts Final Audit Report and because of the fiscal year, an audit was performed through June 30, 2009 and requested Mr. Corum and VTD to please have the audit report for this period prepared by the November Board meeting. Community Director Brad Gleason commented that the bylaws state 90-120 days, “Is this reasonable for the future?”

Dr. Post responded in the affirmative.

7. Special report – Farm of the Future – Dr. Willard Lewallen

Dr. Lewallen thanked the Foundation Board for allowing the Farm of the Future to present their program and introduced the staff from the Farm:

Mr. Richard Larson, Instructor Farm of the Future
Mr. Clint Cowden, Instructor Farm of the Future
Mr. Ray Rawn, Instructor Farm of the Future

See attached presentation on the Farm of the Future.

8. Announcements

A. WHC Coalinga Athletic Hall of Fame Celebration – October 31, 2009

Dr. Post reminded the Foundation Board and guests of the upcoming Hall of Fame Celebration.

B. Regular Board meeting November 18, 2009 10 a.m. District Boardroom

Dr. Post announced he would appreciate any agenda items for this meeting.

9. Member comments and requests

Community Director Bill Pucheu thanked the Farm of the Future for their presentation. Community Director Brad Gleason commented that he appreciated the Farm for coming over and explaining what's going on at the Farm. Trustee Director Nina Oxborrow noted that the information and communication is good.

Public Comments

Dr. Post congratulated Mrs. Oxborrow on her recent election to the Board of Trustees.

2. Interim Executive Director's Report-Dr. Rick Post

Dr. Post thanked Dr. Forth for chairing the meeting in President Drewry's absence. Dr. Post commented on a few activities the foundation is currently involved in: Fundraising for the WHCL nursing program for their pinning ceremony, students will be selling tickets to a wine tasting & hors d'oeuvres event to be held in February/March, money from the ticket sales will assist the pinning ceremony at Hanford Civic Auditorium; Support to WHCC Men's Basketball by putting together a few auction items for Mr. Arce's BIG Monday event; Scholarship and Ag Program support from H.M. Newhall Foundation and Natasha Hunt , last year the foundation received $8K, we have applied again this year, but have not received a final decision from the Foundation, Dr. Post thanked Ms. Hunt for her support of the Farm of the Future and WHCC. Dr. Post commented that he is actively meeting with members of the board and referred to Mrs. Oxborrow. Mrs. Oxborrow noted that this year she has donated $1K and has challenged the other board members and trustees to do the same. Dr. Post mentioned that he has met with six members of the board and thus far has received 100% donor participation which illustrates the Board's support for students and WHCCD and he thanked those members who had contributed thus far.

A. Chevron awards – Engineering Scholars Program & Science and Math camps Adam A. Alvidrez, Policy, Government & Public Affairs Representative

Dr. Post introduced Adam Alvidres of Chevron USA and Ana Leon of WHCC CDC. Dr. Post noted that Mr. Alvidres was the first person he met when he first came to Coalinga. Mr. Alvidres thanked Dr. Post, Dr. Gornick and the board for the opportunity to present this award. Mr. Alvidres stated that Chevron partners with communities in which they live and work by investing in education area of science and math and they recognize the importance to give students a support network to finish their education. Mr. Alvidres commented that Chevron is proud to help and glad to be a part of the support to students in the WHC Lemoore Engineering Scholars program and to the WHC Coalinga Child Development Center's Science/Math camps. Mr. Alvidres presented a check in the amount of $7,500. Mrs. Leon thanked Mr. Alvidres and Chevron and commented that last year they were able to serve 20 children through donations, this year they will be able to serve over 100 children for the Avenal Resource Center Science/Math camps.

3. Chancellor's Report-Dr. Frank Gornick

Dr. Gornick thanked Mr. Alvidres and Chevron for their generous donation. Dr. Gornick commented on the significant reduction in the spring course schedule, the current state budget deficit for this fiscal year which is about $21 billion, and classes are bursting at the seams, hats off to faculty and staff throughout the District because there is really not much we can do when the state cuts our budget. Dr. Gornick noted the City of Coalinga has plans to put a "Welcome" sign at Cherry St, where the old dairy has come down, which will be a nice amenity. Dr. Gornick stated the city council provided an agreement to receive acreage for an office location on Phelps, which will be the new location for the District Office. Dr. Gornick commented they are working with the City of Lemoore on an agreement regarding the multi-use sports complex in which the city will provide amenities for the pool and sport field. Dr. Gornick noted that WHCL campus has 2 charter schools: Lemoore Charter High School (9-12 grades) and University Charter School (5-8 grades), both schools have an increased performance average on API scores. Dr. Gornick added Dr. Lewallen met with the City of San Joaquin to offer classes and the Westside Institute of Technology is in partnership with local area business to fund programs to train employees for solar technicians, they are currently looking for a facility and Mendota is looking at a multi-use complex. Dr. Gornick noted that the District has made an offer on the last parcel in Firebaugh and the owners accepted.

4. Campus Reports

- A. Dr. Willard Lewallen-WHC Coalinga
- B. Don Warkentin- WHC Lemoore

Due to the absence of the college Presidents; no campus reports were given.

5. Investment Committee Report

- A. Summary of Investment Portfolio year-to-date-Jim Giordano, Vice President UBS Financial Services

Jim Giordano of UBS Financial thanked the Board of Directors for the opportunity to report on the Foundation year-to-date Summary of Investment Portfolio. Mr. Giordano reported on the Performance Detail (Pg.2) for all four UBS Foundation accounts: SS07529 Westside Educational is a smaller account with about 2/3 equity and a return of about 22%; SS07508 Main has approximately $1,400,000.00 in the account with a return of about 9 3/4%; SS07509 Foundation Club is a newer account so there are no yearly numbers to report, the monies are safe in CD's; SS07515 General Endowment are purely CD's, CD market is recovering and expect the international rate to increase over the next year. Mr. Giordano noted that in general the November numbers are increasing nicely. Dr. Post commented that the newer account is the account that was established for the smaller club accounts to be moved into so those accounts are protected from any losses in the market.

6. Len Falter CFO, Financial Report

A. Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2009

Mr. Falter reported that a lot of work has gone into the transition from QuickBooks to Datatel. Mr. Falter introduced Olga Keough and explained her role in the foundation and that she has brought the foundation up to date and account balances current. Welcome Olga.

B. Auditors' Preliminary report- Period ending June 30, 2009.

Mr. Falter noted on the summary of auditors' results (Pg.22) that there were no compliance issues.

7. Action Items

Due to lack of a quorum, the action items listed on the agenda were not considered. The action items were postponed for consideration until the January 20, 2009 board meeting.

8. Announcements

A. Regular Board meeting on January 20, 2010

Dr. Post announced he would appreciate any agenda items for this meeting.

B. West Hills Community College Foundation 14th Annual Golf Tournament Monday May 10, 2010

8. Member comments and requests

Dr. Post updated the Board on President Ernie Drewry's condition and stated that Ernie is doing well; he is healing and plans to return in January.

Dr. Post noted that traditionally the foundation pays for the audit. The auditing firm was hired by his predecessor. The cost of the audit was $9,700 for the eighteen months ending June 30, 2009. The district has paid the bill and the Foundation will reimburse the district.

Dr. Post wished the Board a Happy Thanksgiving.

Public Comments

There are no public comments.

President Ernie Drewry announced that member Ann Stone needed to excuse herself early and requested a motion to change the order of the agenda items by moving Action items F and G ahead of the Reports.

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pacheu, seconded by Trustee Nina Oxborrow, and carried unanimously the Board of Directors approved the motion.

Action Items

F. Consideration of Nina Oxborrow-Community Director nominee

On a motion by Community Director/Secretary Ann Stone, seconded by Community Director Dr. Don Forth, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved Nina Oxborrow as a Community Director to the Foundation Board of Directors. This is a three year term.

G. Consideration of Katie Delano-Community Board member nominee

On a motion by Community Director/Secretary Ann Stone, seconded by Trustee Director Bill Henry, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved Katie Delano as a Community Director to the Foundation Board of Directors. This is a three year term.

The Foundation Board of Directors welcomes Katie Delano as Community Director.

President Ernie Drewry questioned the disclaimer notice on the agenda. Dr. Post commented that the disclaimer notice will appear on all future agendas due to having three Board of Trustee members from the West Hills Community College District Board of Trustees on the Foundation Board. Dr. Post noted the disclaimer notice basically states that no Board of Trustee matters or business will be discussed or acted upon by the Trustees present at the meeting of the Foundation Board of Directors.

2. Interim Executive Director's Report-Dr. Rick Post

A. Recognition of Edna Ivans and Nina Oxborrow

Dr. Post recognized Mrs. Ivans and thanked her for her many years of services to the Foundation Board. Mrs. Oxborrow was absent from the meeting. Each lady was presented with a bouquet of roses and an engraved glass art piece.

B. Recognition of Trustee Board members: Steve Cantu and Bill Henry

Dr. Post recognized and welcomed new Trustee Directors Steve Cantu and Bill Henry to the Foundation Board. Dr. Post commented that he personally met with both gentlemen and feels they will be a wonderful addition to the Board.

C. President's Scholars Golf Tournament - Donations/Pledges to date

Dr. Post reported the Foundation golf tournament is moving along nicely, the sponsor letters were mailed in December. A reminder post card was also recently mailed. Dr. Post noted that the tournament is five months away and already received 75K in sponsorships pledges and donations.

Dr. Post commented on the next three items and felt it would be appropriate to get a consensus of the Board as to whether he should proceed with drafting language for consideration at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Board.

D. Affiliate membership – proposed Bylaws amendment

E. Removal of Community Directors –proposed Bylaws amendment

F. Request to Continue Service – proposed Board member term renewal form

Dr. Post stated that an affiliate membership will allow a person to attend or be listed as a member of the board, this person will not have voting privileges, nor be counted for purposes of establishing a quorum. Mrs. Mendes-Moore asked if an affiliate membership is used to assist in fund raising? Dr. Post commented in the affirmative and said that affiliate members could also be corporations. Mr. Henry asked if this is a common procedure? Dr. Post noted that an affiliate membership is common practice. Dr. Gornick added that an affiliate membership may be a more comfortable place for community/corporations, and this allows a way to still keep connected. Dr. Post commented that an affiliate membership would more than likely go to someone who has been on and is familiar with the Foundation board.

Dr. Post commented on the Removal of Community Directors and that the Board should have a mechanism to remove board members and felt this would be an appropriate common practice to have in the By-laws. Dr. Forth stated the By-laws already had something. Dr. Post noted that the current By-laws discuss removal, but not the grounds for removal or how to remove. Ernie Drewry indicated that he felt the Board should have this, there are members of the Board that he has never seen. Bill Pucheu asked what would be a reason to remove a Board member other than absence? Dr. Post commented that a conflict of interest, ethnic issues, etc. would be reasons for removal.

Dr. Post commented that a Request to Continue Service is basically a re-enlistment document that would allow a sitting director, whose term is about to expire, to express interest in continuing to serve on the Board.

There was a consensus that Dr. Post proceed with writing language and he stated that he will draft the documents for consideration by the Board at the next meeting.

3. Chancellor's Report-Dr. Frank Gornick

Dr. Gornick reported on the significant reduction in course offerings and that the District is no longer receiving money for growth, but only money to maintain the District's current status. Dr. Gornick commented that even with the reduction in course offerings the colleges hit their enrollment target and will generate more FTE's. He is very pleased. Dr. Gornick noted that from a financial prospective the District is in a good position to respond to growth in the future. Dr. Gornick reported on the grants department and that Cathy Barabe is just shy of $100 million and he is very proud of Cathy's efforts. Dr. Gornick commented on Dr. Post's replacement as Interim Executive Director of the Foundation and stated that they may do some in-house juggling or open it up to outside candidates, he will keep the Board updated.

4. Campus Reports-

A. Dr. Willard Lewallen-WHC Coalinga

Dr. Lewallen reported on the mobile welding trailer and the fact that they are negotiating with two companies on adding the WHCCD logo onto the trailer as an in-kind donation. The new shop building located on the Farm of the Future is underway and they are looking for additional equipment to furnish it. Dr. Lewallen noted that there are a large number of students in the International student program, sixteen new students just arrived and that there are 14 countries represented on campus. Dr. Gornick commented that the Foundation handles the International Education Exchange Consortium billing, there are only five colleges in the consortium, WHCCD is the only college located in California. Dr. Lewallen reported on the almond and pistachio orchards and how they are a good source of revenue for the farm. Dr. Lewallen commented that Kirk Quaid (local businessman and an agronomist) is developing a schedule of production to ensure the crops are being taken care of properly.

B. Don Warkentin- WHC Lemoore

In Don Warkentin's absence, WHC Lemoore Vice President Dave Bolt gave report.

Mr. Bolt reported that the Health and Fitness center is under construction, the weather is playing havoc, but the architects are on task. Mr. Bolt noted that Cathy Barabe has received unofficial word on a national science grant , if WHCL is awarded the grant, 100% will go to student scholarships.

4. Investment Committee Report-

A. Analysis of Investment Portfolio year-to-date-Jim Giordano, Vice President UBS Financial Services

Mr. Giordano reported that we started the year w/ $1.66 million and finished the year positive at $1.66 million. Asset allocation is approximately 20% cash, 23% equity with the remaining 48% in fixed income. Mr. Giordano noted that this is a conservative stance on the portfolio and is broken down over the four UBS accounts.

B. Gift Acceptance Policy – draft

Mr. Drewry stated that there will be no motion to adopt, this is only a review and would like to see an ad hoc committee formed. Dr. Post noted the Board of Trustees for WHCCD has a one page gift acceptance policy and that the Foundation does not have such a policy, and felt that a gift acceptance policy would give guidance and sets policies and procedures to accept gifts. Dr. Post recommended to the Board President an ad-hoc committee go through document thoroughly. Dr. Lewallen commented that he would like to see a document or checklist for someone to put forward a gift. Mr. Henry commented on a gift that didn't go very well. Dr. Post noted that he will draft a gift acceptance checklist form for personal property and would welcome any ideas.

6. Len Falter CFO, Financial Report

A. Balance sheet and Statement of Activities - July1, 2009 through December 31, 2009

Mr. Falter reported on the Statement of Activities change in net assets. Dr. Post acknowledged Olga's efforts to bring the Foundation current. Mr. Falter commented that Datatel is now solid and asked that the Board accept the financial statement. There were no objections.

B. Auditors' Preliminary report as of June 30, 2009 & December 2008 - Larry Corum
VTD

Mr. Corum reported on the June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008 preliminary audit report and noted the reason for the six month audit was to bring the Foundation current with the 2009 – 2010 fiscal year, also included in this audit is the reflection of sale of the NDC property. Mr. Corum commented (Pg. 2) the Independent Auditors' Report and felt the financial statements in the report were accurate and correct. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Financial Position (Pg. 4) and noted the change in Accounts Receivable. Mr. Stoppenbrink asked if the receivables have always been there? Larry and Rick both replied that IEE (International Education Exchange) and the WHCCF golf tournament were both contributors. Mr. Corum reported the Statement of Activities (Pg. 5) shows an increase in net assets. Mr. Corum reported the Statements of Cash Flows (Pg. 6) shows an increase in A/R which is generally a good thing, but noted that when A/R increases the cash goes down. Mr. Corum reported the Statements of Functional Expenses (Pg. 7) is a matrix of the seven categories that the Foundation spends money on and noted that items of salary are donated from the District expense/revenue to Foundation. Mr. Corum reported on the Notes to Financial Statements (Pg. 12) Note 8 and commented that the sale of the Firebaugh property occurred at the beginning of the 2009-2010 fiscal year and will make a big impact next year. Mr. Corum reported on the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards. Mr. Corum reported on the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs (Pg. 22) and noted the type of auditors' reports issued as "unqualified" with no material weakness and no issues of non-compliance. This concluded his report.

7. Action Items

A. Approval of Minutes

(1) Special Board meeting of October 14, 2009

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Community Director Dr. Don Forth, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Minutes of the Special Board meeting of October 14, 2009.

B. Acknowledgement of adjourned Board meeting notes: November 18, 2009

On a motion by Community Director Dr. Don Forth, seconded by Community Director Bill Henry, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors acknowledged the Notes of the adjourned Board meeting November 18, 2009. No actions were taken at this meeting.

C. Consideration of Receipt of Sale of sixteen calves- Farm of the Future

On a motion by Community Director Bill Henry, seconded by Community Director Bill Pucheu, and carried unanimously, the Sale of sixteen calves belonging to the Farm of the Future was approved.

D. Consideration of Auditors Preliminary report as of June 30, 2009 and December 2008

On a motion by Vice President Dr. Don Forth, seconded by Community Director Steve Cantu, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Auditors' Final Report – for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2009 and December 2009.

E. Consideration of Gift Acceptance Policy-draft

Dr. Post commented that this review of the policy is a first reading. The Board will be asked to review the policy between now and the next regularly scheduled meeting and take action on the proposed policy at that time.

F. Consideration of Nina Oxborrow- Community Director member nominee

On a proper motion, the order of this item on the agenda was changed and the item was considered and approved earlier in the agenda.

G. Consideration of Katie Delano-Community Board member nominee

On a proper motion, the order of this item on the agenda was changed and the item was considered and approved earlier in the agenda.

H. Consideration of transfer of 2005 Bulldozer CAT D4C to WHCCD

I. Consideration of transfer of Fire truck to WHCCD

J. Consideration of transfer of Almond- Pistachio trees to WHCCD

K. Consideration of deletion of livestock from list of WHCCF assets

Dr. Post commented there were issues raised previously by members of the Board as to why the Foundation was carrying certain assets on its books that were rightfully District assets, such as the almond and pistachio trees and after thoroughly researching this matter it was determined that there was no need to continue this practice. Dr. Post felt that transferring the assets to the District by formal action of the Board was a cleaner way to handle assets that were originally donated to the District. After all, the Foundation merely served as a conduit to receive each donation on behalf of the District. Mr. Stoppenbrink asked with respect to the trees, does this mean the revenue goes to the District? Dr. Post responded with "No, the intent of the gift was that revenue would go to the Farm of the Future program." Dr. Gornick commented that there has always been an issue on who owns trees, the agreement between the Farm of the Future and the District was that income would come into the Foundation to offset the expenses to maintain, the issue has been how we accounted for it. Mrs. Ivans (in a Public comment) noted that this is similar to Basketball Fundraiser –the monies come into the Foundation and gets deposited into their account and it should be the same with the trees –all monies come to the Foundation.

On a motion by Community Director Steve Cantu, seconded by Vice President Dr. Don Forth, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the transfer of all right, title and interest to the District of the 2005 Caterpillar Dozer, Model D4C, Product Identification Number 6BS00586, the GMC-Van Pelt Fire truck, Serial Number 63450Y1072 and all almond-pistachio trees located on Farm of the Future land and the removal of the livestock associated with the Farm of the Future and WHCC Rodeo program from the list of Foundation assets.

Dr. Post thanked the Board of Directors for approving these action items.

2. Interim Executive Director's Report-Dr. Rick Post

A. President's Scholars Golf Tournament - Donations/Pledges to date

Dr. Post reported the Foundation golf tournament is moving along nicely and Comcast will be donating echo bags that will be given to each player. Dr. Post thanked Len / Comcast for their generous donation. Dr. Post noted that the tournament is less than 2 months away and already received over 80K in sponsors.

B. Rationale for new proposed policies and procedures

Dr. Post commented that the proposed Bylaw amendments were suggestions, not mandated. Dr. Post noted there is a new appendix A in the board packet, which is a check list for permanent and non-real property, the district policy will be adopted where employees are concerned.

C. State of the Foundation

Dr. Post reported that the Foundation is now complaint with the Bylaws. Dr. Post stated the 8% administration fee has been discontinued on smaller accounts and that a number of assets were transferred to the district. Dr. Post noted that while he has been Interim Executive Director he has successfully recruited 4 new Foundation board members, the Foundation has sponsored a toad at Coalinga's Horned Toad Derby, the Foundation has also participated in a number of campus support activities, as well as community events. Dr. Post commented that he felt it important to be visible in the community and that the Foundation is now on a positive track.

3. Chancellor's Report-Dr. Frank Gornick

Due to the absence of Dr. Gornick, there was no report given

4. Campus Reports-

A. Dr. Willard Lewallen-WHC Coalinga

Dr. Lewallen presented the most recent edition of the President's Pen. Dr. Lewallen noted last week the Citizen Oversight Committee met regarding Measure Q for NDC, the committee will meet quarterly, and last night the Citizen Oversight Committee met regarding Measure C for Coalinga, the committee was able to tour the dorms and wellness center. Dr. Lewallen commented that the construction on the Wellness Center is 65-70% complete. Dr. Lewallen noted that tomorrow at noon a survey will be conducted on campus staff to gain input on the College's mission, vision and goals.

B. Don Warkentin- WHC Lemoore

Mr. Warkentin presented the most recent edition of the Screamin' Eagle. Mr. Warkentin commented on campus highlights stating that February was Black History Month and played host to Gumbo & Gospel night where local church organizations and choir groups performed and was a very successful event. Mr. Warkentin noted the campus also hosted Wine & Wellness in which proceeds went to support the WHCL nursing and culinary program. Mr. Warkentin added the first class of nursing students will be graduating this fall. Mr. Warkentin commented on the WHCL building project and the construction process on the "Eagle Arena" is 20% complete. Mr. Warkentin noted that in Lemoore and District wide grants will be ending, they are reviewing the budget and working hard to maintain staff and faculty.

5. Investment Committee Report

A. Analysis of Investment Portfolio year-to-date-Jim Giordano, Vice President UBS Financial Services

Mr. Giordano reported that the market has increased in February and accounts are relatively conservative. Asset allocation is about 62% fixed income, 25% equity with the remaining 12% in cash. Mr. Giordano noted the cash is down about 8% from last month, cash is safe, just not earning much at this time.

6. Len Falter CFO, Financial Report

A. Balance sheet and Statement of Activities – January 31, 2010

Mr. Falter reported on the Statement of Activities change in net assets due to the transfer of fixed assets to the District. Mr. Falter reported on the Balance Sheet unrestricted net assets is at 1.6M, temporarily restricted net assets is at 350K, and permanently restricted net assets is at 144K. Dr. Post noted that any scholarship below the endowment target is not able to pay scholarship, anything above 25K is paying scholarships. Mr. Warkentin asked, why are we not paying Bill Hooper Scholarship. Dr. Post replied, "this endowment is actually 30K and it has not reached target. "

7. Action Items

A. Approval of Minutes

(1) Regular meeting: January 20, 2010

On a motion by Community Director Bill Pucheu, seconded by Vice President, Community Director Dr. Don Forth, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Minutes of the Regular Board meeting January 20, 2010.

B. Consideration of Gift Acceptance Policy WHCCF 3820

On a motion by Community Director Steve Cantu, seconded by Community Director Sheilah Kreyenhagen, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors approved the Gift Acceptance Policy WHCCF 3820.

Dr. Post explained that he used the same policy # as the District for reference purposes. Dr. Post noted to delete the very last line on Page 3. Laura Mendes-Moore commented on Document to Obtain under Insurance Policy (Pg. 14) should be West Hills Community College Foundation. Dr. Post noted a major change in Appendix A (Pg. 8) should have checklist for non-real personal property, this is not mandated, just felt important. Mr. Pucheu asked with respect to the proposed policies, is everything we are doing going to the governing board for approval? Dr. Post replied with, "Any document made by the Foundation, the governing board has the right to review." Mr. Gleason commented this is a good thing to have in place.

On a motion by Community Director Steve Cantu, seconded by Community Director Sheilah Kreyenhagen, and carried unanimously, the Board of Directors moved to amend the motion to accept as policy is corrected.

C. Consideration of IRS Form 990 Review Policy WHCCF 990

2. Executive Director's Report-Frances Squire

A. Update on UBS Finance Report

Ms. Squire noted that the Foundation moved $700,000.00 from Union bank to UBS Financial two weeks ago. Mrs. Squire stated that after the transfer the disbursement will be the same as usual. Ms. Squire stated she would like to bring Jim Giordano, UBS Financial advisor, into our next board meeting to discuss account charges and disbursements.

3. Action Items

- Consideration to approve the West Hills Community College Foundation Operating Budget for the 2010-2011 year.

Ms. Squire noted that the beginning balance is estimated at $400,000.00. Mrs. Squire commented that at our Investment Committee meeting on Friday, July 9, Nina Oxborrow had questions regarding bank charges, community support, allocations for the chancellor and presidents and the revenue from the Medi-Cal Administrative Activities 8% fee.

The bank fees are on five different accounts including quarterly fees on the UBS Investment accounts.

Community support is used throughout the district for events and activities supporting the colleges on an as requested basis. Mr. Pucheu stated we should use the community support money in the best way that supports the Foundation and the needs of the colleges.

Mr. Warkentin stated that the president's money is used for events like the open house at the Lemoore campus. Dr Lewallen also stated the same use for the money.

Mrs. Squire commented that the Medi-Cal amount is based on last year's amount.

On a motion by Community Director Marc Scott, seconded by Community Director Ted Frame, and carried on the following roll call vote, the Board of Directors approved the Operating Budget for 2010-2011 year.

President's Executive Cabinet/Budget Meeting
May 18, 2009

Present: Cathy Barabe, Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson, Dave Bolt, Jose Lopez, Don Warkentin, Bob Clement, Charles Freeman, James Preston

The purpose of this meeting was to continue budget district Mr. Warkentin commented that the election is May 19. A letter was sent from Dr. Gornick and if the propositions do not pass we may have further cuts. The governor is proposing 50% cuts on categorical monies. Dr. Gornick has talked about decreasing the reserve from 5% to 3% if necessary. WE wil need to use MAA dollars to keep programs going. A budget needs to be identified for MAA.

Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson held a Xtreme Registration meeting and there was discussion about reducing this event to be held once per year and possibly from 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. only.

Mr. Warkentin asked for those who manage a MAA account to put together a list of events held which were funded by MAA and prioritize which events would be most important to keep.

Charles Freeman recommended that there be some MAA training.

West Hills College Lemoore

July 29, 2009 – 8:30 a.m.
Conference Rm. 124
MINUTES

Present: Don Warkentin, Dave Bolt, Jose Lopez, Marlon Hall, Bob Clement, Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the budget report from the chancellor. He stated if there was not any movement by August 25, the next board meeting, then it is possible that the board would impose their will and place the district in a state of emergency. Faculty are being asked to consider teaching an extra class without pay to save on adjunct faculty costs. The estimation for one part time class is $3,500 per class.

No summer school for summer 2010 is also being considered as a savings. 700 FTE will moved forward for this year. Enrollment is up 10% for fall. This current budget crisis is estimated as a three year concern. Ideas for further savings will be discussed at the August 28 retreat.

1. MAA participation

MAA participation was discussed and Mr. Warkentin stated that we have less people doing Code 4. We cannot force staff to participate, however; staff needs to understand that no participation will equate to no budget for travel, etc. Staff needs to understand the benefit of MAA participation which will lend to continued activities. The dollars earned go back to the areas of participation. MAA week occurs only three times per year for one week. It's a service we should be providing to students anyway. Several staff members have been trained as a certified advisor. Discussion ensued as to whether or not staff realized the events that MAA dollars have sponsored. It takes 1-1 ½ years to be reimbursed.

2. MAA expenditures

Late last spring it was decided to not hold Extreme Registration this fall 2009 in order to save approximately $10,000. Jose Lopez stated that he would not be buying any outreach supplies. It was discussed as to whether we would continue dinners for events, (i.e. veteran's lunch, counselor's lunch). Mr. Warkentin will approve ten (10) ladies to attend the Fresno Women's Conference. Marketing expenditures will be cut back. Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson commented that she believes it necessary to maintain our relationship with the Lemoore Chamber of Commerce for their events. Bob Clement will also cut expenditures on athletic hats and shirts. The consensus was positive to have a staff Christmas party. Donations currently made for 2008-2009 will be maintained, as well expenditures for food for staff events. There will not be a bond Grizzlie's celebration this year. The monies spent for the Grizzlies will be cut in half and other events will be coordinated (i.e. Fresno State football, women's conference). A furniture expense will be incurred this year for an athletic office.

3. Low enrollment classes for fall

Mr. Warkentin stated that another way to save is to cut out low enrolled classes. Dave Bolt presented a report showing class enrollments and review was made with discussion ensuing.

4. Increase class size for English/communication classes

Dr. Hall stated that best practice states 25 students per class. We are at 30 students for speech and English. The contract reflects nothing about an increase to 40. Dave would like to raise the maximum to 35 and 40 later if needed. Six sections equal 30 students. Dave will raise the English classes and notify the counselors.

5. Other

Bob Clement announced that there would be an athletic orientation on August 20.

Jose Lopez announced that there is a Battle of the Bands planned on August 20 beginning at 5:00 p.m. The radio station, 104.1, will run ads, approximately 40 per day. First prize will be free air time. SGA has hired a caterer from Fresno.

1.0 Welcome Week Update

Sylvia made a review of the events of the upcoming welcome week. Activities will be held Tuesday through Thursday.

2.0 Fall Schedule

Class enrollments for fall were reviewed and discussed.

3.0 Accreditation Progress

Dave Bolt reported that the accreditation process is progressing.

4.0 Accreditation Team Site

Sylvia gave a review of the Standard 4 team site through the portal. She is the first to use this process. A request goes in through the web system. Tanner will set up the team site and Tom Robb provides the training. Sylvia reviewed the team site to show report development and how to track the progress thereof. This will be up and running by Spring 2011 and the process itself becomes a huge form of dialog. Sylvia posted a discussion to her team showing how discussion of the document can occur. As standards are written the evidence can be listed by standard through the portal team site. Evidence can be monitored by the standard committees and what is needed will be revealed. It can be set up to view so the accrediting team can see the dialog that has transpired. Also created can be the responses to the previous accreditation as an accessible file through the portal. Susan whitener reported that she has a meeting in two weeks with portal governance.

5.0 Melinda's Duties and Replacement

Mr. Warkentin will have a recommendation next week about what will transpire with the office manager position. He has been asked to coordinate duties as possible.

6.0 Budget Update

Mr. Warkentin stated that next year the discussion is to have no furloughs although layoffs may be needed. $600,000 will need to be cut this year district-wide. This will mean a $330,000 cut to Lemoore. Faculty did not agree to a four day teaching schedule. Looking at the fall schedule we have second nine week classes low enrolled. Some we will need to maintain for those students pursuing engineering scholars, classes like Math 2A & 1B. We may need to figure out an independent study course. We need to keep basic skills, transfer classes, any kind of fluff classes will have to go. We built a schedule that centers on these classes. We will have to cut classes out of the spring schedule. This will affect the full-time and adjunct faculty. Fulltime will have to pick up part-time classes. Dr. Gornick said if necessary there will be layoffs across the board district-wide. The state has reduced our FTE target down to 4985 and we won't get growth dollars on FTE. Before the end of the fall we will know about further reductions. Carole Goldsmith will take over Darlene's functions at the district office. The district office will be reorganized. Mr. Warkentin would like a MWF schedule.

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the rules for furloughs as he is aware to date. Classified will be taking one day per month per full-time employee. It is up to each supervisor to coordinate and schedule classified furlough days, make sure offices are covered, leave form must be completed. We are trying to find three days in December to close the campus. We will close for Easter and Christmas weeks and use furlough days. We are not sure about summer school next year; a decision will not be made until after census week.

Furlough days have to be taken during a teaching work day. This will mean 10 days for most and they will need to coordinate with their administrator and the day they decide they will need to give their class an out of class assignment. It has to be a day that they are teaching class. There is not going to be a duty and flex day in January which will put those at ten days per year down to eight furlough days.

This is a time that allows us to evaluate what we are doing and how we are doing it. This lends to how we can more efficiently use the technology that we have at our disposal.

After census week we will know more about summer school, on-line courses, etc.

Will there be some parameters of flexibility from WASC? Mr. Warkentin does not see this although he believes as long as there is a plan in place with wholeness comes back around. The state is talking about suspending the 75/25 rule and the 50% law. Even though gender equity is not a concern now all needed is a plan to get it back in place.

Ken Stoppenbrink has stated that if CTA agrees we will be able to make a 5% reserve for this year. We need to reduce this year to have an ending balance to roll over for next year including not replacing positions.

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the productivity report prepared by Pedro Avila. He thanked all for the hard work due to the productivity report. This is based upon the enrollment that was in the schedule this past Monday and is only a snap shot in time.

7.0 Other

Mr. Warkentin stated that Dr. Gornick has asked why the placement test cannot be completely on-line. He suggested checking on this immediately.

1.0 Portal Site Options

Tom Robb, educational technology specialist, was in attendance and gave a brief overview of the portal site options. In order to make a request one can go through the portal or e-mail the dean of distance learning. Discussion transpired regarding the positive potential of a team portal site for athletics. This is an opportunity to get the forms/packet that athletes need to be accessible through the portal.

2.0 Budget Cutoffs/Update

Mr. Warkentin reported that Vice Chancellor Stoppenbrink had attended a budget workshop in Sacramento. Things are not good and the federal stimulus dollars are not going to be what is projected. The categorical memo came out to alert us as to the dollars the state will provide. There will not be as much categorical monies as projected. There will be January deductions (revise) and possible layoff notices across the board. We have many staff on grants and we generate more money than we spend on this campus. We are most usually in excess of revenue. Jana Cox, HR Director, is doing a report on Lemoore FT faculty based on the FTE the district generates. If we are in excess then we may need to look at this. We have hired no general fund faculty. Next year we may freeze salaries where they are now. Yesterday afternoon after the board meeting a meeting was held to talk about furloughs.

3.0 Furlough Days

Mr. Warkentin would like administrators to submit their requested furlough days on the time off request forms and send them to Glenda for his approval. He stated that an agreement with CSEA had been reached to close after finals prior to Christmas break. We are normally closed between Christmas and New Year's. We can use furlough or vacation days there. Furlough days need to be used as they will not be paid to you. CSEA is also looking at Veteran's day as a furlough day. There has been no more discussion about closing for summer. CSEA president, Mark Millet, stated that a 19 hr. per week employee would still take one furlough day per month. Classified employees will need to submit furlough days one day per month if they are a twelve month employee. Departments should keep a furlough calendar from July - Dec. Spring semester will wait as we do not yet know. Faculty will take one day per month; a ten month employee will take ten days, an eleven month employee will take eleven days, a twelve month employee, twelve days. Two days will be flex and duty days in January 2010. Faculty have to submit a furlough day on a day that they are working. Faculty have a 175 day contract M-F. If they don't have a class on a particular day they can take that as a furlough day. Coaches cannot coach their sport on a furlough day and cannot return after 3:30 p.m. to coach. The assistant coach would then have to cover. The day cannot be fragmented. Coaches can get around this by leaving furlough days until the next season/semester. It can't be the same days each month, i. e. Mondays each month. Dave Bolt has prepared a set of guidelines. When on a furlough day you don't show up. Forms go to the supervisors for approval. No assignments are to be given to students in lieu of furlough days. Past flex/duty days can be used for furlough days. Most faculty will only have to be concerned with eight days. Dave stated that if things come up to let them know. The rule is to not take more than two days per a month.

4.0 Accreditation Progress

Dave Bolt reported that he has received nothing for the last couple of weeks. Mr. Warkentin has sent the district's response to the accreditation standard chairs. He reported a good discussion with the Academic Senate President, Stephanie Droker, this morning. They discussed hybrid classes. As president he has to ensure quality and integrity is taking place. There are five faculty teaching a face to face class as hybrid (partly on-line and partly face to face). He has asked for samples of assignments that these faculty are requiring in lieu of seat time. Some are requesting students to view a movie with following discussion. One teacher had students write about their summer vacation. There will most likely be discussion at the retreat regarding this. The accrediting team will no doubt have concern with hybrid classes during their visit. The question was asked as how many years back we go as far as documents? Use the most recent. Be sure to include district office responses into your standard. In 1A there were no district responses, but 1.B yes.

5.0 Melinda's Duties and Replacement

Mr. Warkentin announced that Melinda Olson's last day is this Friday, August 28th. Anna Silvestre will take Melinda's place and Melinda will return to train her. Anna is grant funded for 70% of her time: TEAM Teach, Upward Bound, and Upward Bound Math & Science. Anna will maintain her current salary and will be Student Services Office Grants Manager. She will perform both functions. Mr. Warkentin has requested a list of Melinda's duties. Bob Clement will write up her athletics duties. Teresa Quilici will work in conjunction with Anna regarding athletics. Most of the paperwork is done at the beginning of the season.

6.0 Health Services Program Planning

Mr. Warkentin stated that we need to take some time to discuss how to provide some healthy family services to our students. Marlon suggested offering flu shots. Sylvia believes that part of the students lack information, for example, personal information to keep them healthy, then their families, and where to go for services. She recommends holding a health fair. Also she recommended looking at how to use portal for a device toward communication. We last year looked at a software program which was something interactive through the website. Stephanie A.-Alston recommends tapping into the Health 35 class and conducting a survey of sorts. Jose Lopez commented that Health and Wellness 101 is the software program and is very interactive, although, the IT department was not favorable of the software. Sylvia stated that the Kings County Health Dept. could be contacted for their assistance. Dave Bolt suggested that free labor be considered from our nursing students. Mr. Warkentin would like Sylvia to plan a health screening activity for next semester. Sylvia will call Kings County regarding flu shots. Dave recommended having our Health Advisory Committee meeting during the health faire. Kings County Health at one point in time came to campus to provided counseling once per month.

7.0 Retirement Luncheon

Mr. Warkentin would like to hold a luncheon in honor of Melinda Olson, Eric Christenson, and Etsel Barner. The culinary program will provide the lunch.

8.0 Groundbreaking

Mr. Warkentin announced the upcoming groundbreaking for the Multi-use Sports Complex on September 22 beginning at 11:00 a.m. Invitations are soon to be sent out. A lunch will be prepared and served by the culinary program.

9.0 Reorganization

Mr. Warkentin stated that the reorganization may be discussed tomorrow at the retreat. Dr. Gornick is reorganizing at the district level and believes we can do more with less. The colleges will also consider reorganization. The point is that when Stephanie leaves her responsibilities will be picked up by all administrators. Dr. Hall may be asked to pick up the CTE area. Dave will pick up program review, math & science, and Bob will take over Standard 1. The president's office will pick up the accreditation evidence collection. Depending on what the chancellor says at the retreat tomorrow there may be other reorganization strategies. There may be district office staff assigned to this campus. The state chancellor's office has stated that colleges need to downsize. We are going to lose $2.5 million. More info will be forthcoming regarding organization.

10.0 Strategic Planning Retreat

Mr. Warkentin announced that the next strategic planning meeting is scheduled for September 4th beginning at 2:00 p.m. in the conference center room 256. Should any have agenda items they should submit them to Glenda.

11.0 Other

There were no other items of concern at this time.

Others: Ron Oxford

1. Accreditation Progress

Mr. Bolt discussed the needs expressed by the ghost writer on the various standards, specifically; Standard 1, 1.B.6 clarification is needed on SLOs. Also, Standard 1.B.2 is to be expanded. Meeting minutes are needed from the president's office to use as a resource toward expansion. Additionally, planning agendas need to be revisited and 1.A and B need descriptive summaries. The initial self study report recommendations need to be reviewed. Dr. Hall reported that the Standard II subcommittee will meet to review their draft on Monday. They have attempted to be critical and to expand their writing at this point. Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson reported that the Standard III team has met for the last three days. They are going through each question and answer. She stated that her goal is to identify key documents as they make review. After the templates are completed they will be sent to Dave Bolt. Jose Lopez reported that the Standard IV subcommittee had met two weeks ago and made revisions. They will meet next week. Dave Bolt asked that changes made to the draft should be made in color. The self study will need to be done by spring 2010. A supplement can be sent thereafter if necessary.

2. Program Review Progress

Dean Alston reported that the program review schedule is out. She has scheduled the first workshop and those programs scheduled to complete their review have agreed to be at the workshop. Financial Aid has not yet completed a program review but they are due this year. The chart does not reflect the program review completed by the Office of the President and Educational Services as yet. It needs to be updated. Program reviews are completed every four years and are used upon completion to make budget decisions.

3. SLO Portal Team Site

Ron Oxford was invited to the meeting to provide a demonstration of the SLO team site. Significant progress has been made. Ron stated that he will add the team site for all to access. Discussion took place regarding outcomes that support student learning, i.e. a SLO for EOPS might be for students to learn to follow an ed plan in order to achieve their degree, another might be that students would learn to advocate for needed resources. Mr. Warkentin would like learning area administrators to review their learning area team sites; go through the SLOS, look at courses and methods of assessment with faculty. Is the assessment on cycle? Mr. Warkentin asked if it is feasible to get these done in one year. The consensus was affirmative. Dean Alston reported that two programs in her learning area completed SLOs last year and others are complete but have not yet entered them on the forms. Upcoming program review parties will allow time to cut and paste into the forms. Mr. Warkentin reminded all that the issue is that WASC will no longer give a grace period for SLOs and assessments. All must be done by March 2011. Mr. Bolt would like to know which courses don't have SLOs. He suggests that programs needing attention be put in red as a placeholder. WASC does not necessarily care about what our SLOs are, just that we have SLOs. Mr. Warkentin suggested that area administrators invite Ron Oxford or David Babb to their learning area meeting to work on SLOs.

4. Budget Training

Mr. Warkentin announced that Anne Jorgens has offered to come to campus to provide budget training for budget managers and others as determined by the manager. The tentative date for the training is October 12. Glenda will send a confirming e-mail.

5. Other

Sylvia announced the upcoming Health Fair scheduled for October 21 and Eagle Outreach on October 7-8. Eagle Outreach will bring special education students on campus from the area high schools. Lunch will be provided for them.

Mr. Warkentin stated that those trained for MAA and not participating; the college will still have to pay for the training.

Mr. Warkentin announced that he had a meeting with Vice Chancellor Ken Stoppenbrink on the district reorganization. The college presidents may be given the directive to reorganize at the college level.

Mr. Warkentin announced that tickets had been purchased for "Evening Under the Stars" on September 19. Those interested to attend should contact his office.

Mr. Warkentin reminded members of the retirement dinner scheduled on Friday, September 11 at the Tachi Hotel and Casino.

The meeting adjourned at 3:25 p.m.

Mr. Warkentin announced that WHCL now has 136 employees as follows:

- 14 administrative/managers/confidential
- 45 full-time classified
- 32 part-time classified
- 45 fulltime faculty

Housekeeping Items:

Mr. Warkentin reported that a WHCL President's Cabinet (PC) meeting had been scheduled. PC is more of a show and tell meeting to learn what's happening between the district level and college level. He believes these meetings can also serve as training sessions, i.e. 320 report daily, census week and how these are calculated. It would be good to understand the interworking. How we get out FTE. This meeting will be turned into exchanging ideas, etc.

Mr. Warkentin announced that we have a Strategic Planning Committee meeting scheduled on November 13. This will be in a town hall forum similar to what we did with students. It will involve faculty, staff and administration. We will address concerns and dialogue with break out tables. We will create solutions and assign them for follow-up. More information regarding this meeting will be sent.

Mr. Warkentin stated that he had observed student workers that appear to not have much to do. He questioned that need for this many student workers. If they are not needed then we need to take a look at this.

Mr. Warkentin asked for those not intending to participate in MAA to let Kyle know. Names will need to be removed if not participating. If you know of any in your areas not participating get their name to Kyle so they can be removed.

Last year the Christmas party was at Alicia's in Hanford. Mr. Warkentin asked for opinions as to what to do this Christmas. Discussion ensued with the majority in favor of a Christmas party this year. Dr. Hall will look for a place to reserve.

Furloughs days need to be submitted to supervisors. The directive was to submit furlough days for the year. Jana Cox stated that even though administration/managers are to take 24 furlough days that they should keep an eye on vacation balances so as not to lose days. Furlough days can be used in December 21-23 and four days for spring break March 29-April 1. CSEA can use furlough days, leave without pay, or vacation time. They are not locked into furlough days.

1. Spring 2010 FTES projection tool

Pedro Avila was in attendance to show/explain the FTES projections for Summer 09, fall 2008, and fall 2009. Bob Clement commented that NDC is included with Coalinga. Pedro stated that these numbers do include the centers. 4,985 is what the state will pay. If we go above this we will not get paid. Marlon asked if a cushion is good to have. Pedro responded that he had discounted 100 FTE from the fall for this reason. Lemoore generates 55% of the district FTE. This is a challenge due to reduction in sections. Coalinga's classes were smaller. The target for the spring is 975 FTE. Last spring Lemoore generated 1517 FTE. A contact hour is the number of hours the class meets per week and the number of students in the classroom equals weekly student contact hours. FTES equals full-time equivalent students and FTEF equals full-time equivalent faculty. One FTES equals approximately $5,000. Sylvia would like this type of report accessible on a team site. This type of data can be used for her standard. Dave Bolt pointed out that when all FTES are added it totals 713 but includes overload that cannot be put in spring schedules. A significant amount has to come from the part-time load. This also includes the retirees. These will be taken out of this spreadsheet. Overload and adjunct salaries have been greatly reduced for spring. $300,000 will need to be cut from overload and adjunct. This is a good tool when looking at eliminating courses.

2. WHCL program review team site

Pedro demonstrated the WHCL program review team site. This team site includes all instructional program data. No one can see other instructional data unless it is specific data. This can be incorporated into their review. Survey results are additionally available. Also included is the exit survey from graduating students. Not all staff has access to this site. This team site will be available to the accrediting team.

3. Classified Seniority List

Jana distributed a list of classified employees by seniority. Mr. Warkentin asked administrators, as we anticipate further budget cuts, to consider using grants to offset any possible general budget salary savings. The more we can do now the bigger the savings later. Jana can forward her information to all. We may be looking at layoffs and the more we transfer to grants the better we are. The financial aid assistants are completely general funded. Jana will look at the BFAP budget to see if they can be moved. Secretaries are mostly already grant funded. Amber and Lupe are 100% general fund. Student services assistants are Monique at 100% general; Valerie and Aimee are 50/50 funded. The question was asked if there are any faculty that could be put on grants? The part-time list of classified employees is set up the same. Many of our part-time employees are already grant funded. The goal is to try and save dollars to save jobs as there will be mid-year cuts. Mr. Warkentin asked for all to look these over and see where dollars can be saved.

Robert Clement, Athletic Director

Charles Freeman, Director of Nursing

Marlon Hall, Associate Dean of Educational Services, Evening College

Jose Lopez, Dean of Student Services

Jody Ruble, Director of Upward Bound Program

Don Warkentin, President

Mr. Warkentin asked for recommendations for classified staff to attend the Strategic Planning Session on November 13th. Academic Senate President Stephanie Droker is coordinating the session comprised of all constituency group representatives. Six classified staff members are still needed. Suggestions for classified staff participation were made as follows:

- Rebecca Riddle
- Gustavo Enriquez
- Elva Torres
- Jose Murrieta
- Anna Silvestre
- Frances Andrade

Mr. Warkentin stated that the last Christmas party was held at Alicia's Restaurant in Hanford and this location was almost too small. A difference this year is that staff will have to pay a cost of $20 per person. The dinner, decorations, band and location were paid for last Christmas. Mr. Lopez would like to know what the reaction from the classified personnel will be as far as the cost. The Tachi Palace is also a consideration for the location as it is bigger.

Dr. Hall announced that on October 22nd there will be Professional Development Workshop held during the President's Executive Cabinet meeting.

Mr. Warkentin asked for those who would like to attend the Crab Feed. Tickets were requested as follows: Don Warkentin - 2, Sylvia Dorsey-Robinson - 2, Jana Cox - 2, Rick Post - 2.

1. Accreditation Progress

Mr. Bolt reported that he had not received much information recently from the accreditation teams. He is reassured to know that we began the process earlier this time. He feels as if momentum might somewhat be slipping. Standard III is the only standard that has given information to the ghost writer. The ghost writer does not have access to the portal sites. Mr. Warkentin asked when a second draft is expected. Mr. Bolt responded that the committee work should be done by the end of the calendar year. He believes March 1st is when the next draft will be ready. We will by the end of the semester be able to see where there are gaps. Twenty-one criteria need to be done, the documentation collected, and a mapping document has to be completed. The questioner was asked when we should start to develop our charts and figures. Mr. Bolt responded that the demographics will be done next semester by the district office. During the summer the document will go through the governance processes and will be printed in October 2010. The time goes by fast. Mr. Bolt offered to attend standard meetings when he is able.

2. Program Review Process Flowcharts

This flowchart was completed at the last Strategic Planning Committee meeting and was returned to PGC. This shows how the program review process works. This will be included in our self-study document. Mr. Bolt explained that the program review process summary sheet was an attempt for edification. The process is lengthy and therefore this summary sheet was developed. It will go atop the program review document. It will come to PGC for sign off. It includes all information in a nutshell as it recaptures the recommendations. The back page is a list of additional items. Mr. Bolt presented this process at a recent conference and they liked how it linked back to the committee structure.

3. Spring Schedule

Mr. Bolt reported that various stops and starts have taken place with the schedule as there have been changing parameters, i.e. budget considerations and FTES targets. This has been a difficult time. A meeting was held with the chancellor and presidents about the spring schedule and they all left with a better understanding of where we are. Mr. Bolt stated that he is under the impression that it is more important to stay within budgets and what FTES is produced we will have to live with. We will have to use summer enrollment to make up the difference. A preliminary schedule has been revised with 250 sections. Full-time faculty have to be given their full-time loads. They can massage the schedule for reductions in adjunct and overloads to stay within budget. They were told to budget no more than $200,000 for adjunct and overloads. Mr. Bolt can try to do this and what was first submitted was way over by approximately $200,000. The president has further asked for a reduced schedule to $50,000 instead of $200,000. There have been various versions and what it came down to is to look at what we have remaining in the schedule taught by adjunct which equaled 25 sections. This in itself will take us over the $50,000 limit. If we build a spring schedule with 25 sections taught by adjunct and give overloads to full-time faculty we will still be over budget. We are in a difficult situation. We do have to maintain engineering and psychology, and PE classes are taught by part-timers. Aerobics may become a community education class. We are expected to have a schedule complete by next Monday, October 19th to be looked at by staff members. Harsh cuts have been made. Sections have been cut in half. Dave believes 15-20 part-timers are now scheduled where 80-100 have been employed prior. The good news is a similar summer schedule can be produced by borrowing money from next year. Registration will begin in November although the date is unknown. Priority registration is to begin on November 2, but possibly will be postponed. The students will be notified about priorities. Jose stated that undoubtedly there will be students who will be graduating. Priority registration will now include president's scholars and students who have complete 45-75 units at WHC. This priority registration is due to students who need classes in order to graduate in May. Last year there were 460 sections. This year we will have 213. We lost 247 sections, a 54% reduction in schedule.

4. Standard IV

Mr. Lopez reported that he has received input from his subcommittee members. He has arranged for a portal site and he is in the process of uploading documents.

- President's Executive Cabinet:

Mr. Warkentin reported that he has developed a purpose statement for this group President's Executive Cabinet. Minutes from this meeting will be posted to the portal for access by its members. Jody Ruble questioned how this group fits inot the shared governance process and suggested that this information be included may want to indicate this information We may want to indicate. This document should be available under the portal site as a purpose statement.

Jody Ruble asked if the summer session is in the plan. Mr. Warkentin responded that summer session will happen and will be just like last summer. Jody questioned what would be the contingency if summer session cancelled. Then the campus would close. Jody asked as he would have to talk e to Department of Education and make sure they understand. This will not be a unique situation. We are planning on a full-blown summer.

1. Program Review Overall Progress

Don explained that he wants to encourage a final push to complete program reviews and SLOs for continued institutional effectiveness. He reported that Chancellor Gornick had attended a training in Sacramento and learned the need for colleges to prove that they are in continuous quality improvement stage, if not, the Accrediting Commission could very likely make a recommendation in this regard to include an additional visit. Don reported that for this reason he had invited Pedro, Stephanie, Ron and David to this meeting to find out where we currently are. The first draft of the self study is soon due. All of the President's Executive Cabinet meetings will focus on these things. Sylvia questioned the mechanism for creating the artifacts for program review in order to have a seamless flow. The closer we get to our accreditation visit the more important this will be. Mr. Warkentin stated that all have been involved with program review for a long time; what we have not done is implement program reviews. This is the hard part, specifically with the lack of budget. Pedro commented that the action for program review is related to budget, but we can't use this as an excuse. We have to use the results of program review toward improvements. Dave stated that components of program review can be facilities. Don questioned if improvements can be documented as to what was identified and those that were made. Jody responded that improvements were made in his areas as they are working at doing things better, transfers, etc. Don believes what would help for our evidence is to have folders with samples of program review documents along with the documented improvements. He gave an example of the recent reorganization which has brought about improvements. In some cases a program review has resulted in new courses and also the move of the DSPS lab. The string is going back to make sure and bring forward that the DSPS lab was moved with evidence documented showing it was due to growth, the need for increased staff and hours which were added. This documentation should be in the midterm report. Pedro, playing devil's advocate, stated that he had pulled out some program reviews and their action plans and some show that the action had occurred, and some show no action. Don responded that the Budget Allocation Committee (BAC) ranks priorities for personnel and equipment. Sylvia stated that at Sacramento City College, in her role as an accrediting team member, she observed that they listed all of their program goals in a master list; it lifted requests resulting from program reviews onto a master list along with the fiscal impact. It was listed by each program review and the outcomes and what they related to, i.e. budget, facilities, courses, etc. Dave voiced that this was the intent of the program review summary sheet. The requests coming from program review should come from the originator of the program review. Ron explained that this was the idea for the Eagles Nest portal team site; to house needed information in one location. Don asked if Sacramento City was well along with their program reviews. Sylvia responded that they had on-line training for their staff. Stephanie commented that program review parties are held at WHCL to help new managers begin the process. Don stated that some type of attention to program review will occur for managers every two years. He recalled when new staff once received an on-going orientation throughout the semester. Ron will demonstrate the Eagles Nest portal team site when it is completed. Don stated that we need to get to sustainable quality improvement and demonstrate that we are closing the cycle.

2. Course level SLO Progress

- a. Identification of SLOs
- b. Assessment tool
- c. Assessments
- d. Improvements

David Babb was in attendance to address agenda items 2, a – d. He distributed a tracking spreadsheet showing the course level SLOs, active courses, non-active courses, GE courses, courses with SLOs defined (100%), SLOs assessed, results analyzed, and how many courses have used the results to improve learning. The learning area representatives came up with a schedule last semester. The area reps and he keep an eye on getting things done and remind faculty to make sure courses are getting assessed. Basically this chart shows the six learning areas. David uses this spreadsheet for his annual report. 28% of active courses have been assessed. Once data is received further implementation is required. This year's WASC report had different questions. WASC simply asks for how many courses have been assessed. Don asked if for the courses currently offered this fall, spring and summer and the following fall, could they have David believes we will only be able to achieve 60% completion but there are many courses on the books that we don't offer. Each learning areas has to decide to make courses active. If an active course is in the catalog then it has to be tracked. Most of these classes fall under CTE, and the CTE department has done the fewest assessments. This is a massive area when it comes to courses and programs and an area that needs reps. Pedro stated that the team will be looking at completion of SLOs by 2012. It is not impossible, but there are; for example, 5 psychology classes taught by adjunct. These classes were not put on the assessment schedule. There are big chunks in learning areas that are being done by adjunct faculty. If the schedule extends to 2010 and we are at the end of 2009 at 28%, and have been working on these since 2008, is it likely we will be where we need to be? David believes we will be at 34% by the end of this semester. The topic of SLO progress needs to be on each learning area meeting agenda. Health and Wellness took their schedule to 2013. It's not just the assessments; it is additionally analyzing the results and making improvements. Don would like David to return to this meeting in early spring to provide another update.

3. Program Level SLO Progress

- a. Identification of SLOs
- b. Assessment tool
- c. Assessments
- d. Improvements

David spoke about overall totals of programs. He can't get an accurate count on the number of instructional programs we have with our definition. He has been working with Dave to get a handle on what to call a program for tracking purposes. He came up with certificates and degrees and they are now doing program review for every certificate. He needs to know what to put on his list so he can motivate people. Program SLOs are a part of program review and there seems to be disconnection. In Child Development there are many degrees and certificates. Pat Kraft-Chapman only does two of these; also Matriculation is another review for seven different programs. Does each seven have different SLOs? Child Development has one degree and several certificates. She does a program review for the certificate options. Pat plans to create SLOs to be bundled. Don expressed concern about how programs are being defined with regard to Child Development having seven program reviews. Brian Kron prefers to do program reviews for each certificate option. If there is a series of certificate options within a program, it seems only one review should be necessary. The data is pulled for each certificate and the students are overlapped. Pedro feels that these need not be separated. WASC will not question our program definition. Stephanie thinks we can do what we choose to do as far as WASC is concerned. Where can we be in six months on the instructional side? David believes by the end of next semester we can be 1/3 complete with the programs. At the end of this academic year SLOS will have been written and 33% assessed. We have to be 100% identified and the assessment tool identified. With proficiency levels we do not have to have everything assessed, but defined, with assessments in place.

4. Institutional Level SLOs

- a. Identification
- b. Assessment tools
- c. Assessments
- d. Improvements

The Library and Tutoring SLOS are still to be completed and Ron is working with Debra Christy, snack bar manager, on the snack bar SLOs. Ron figures it will be assessed by their program reviews and updates. These will also be mapped. Ron believes all these areas will have assessments this year. Matriculation and its areas are done. Program reviews are being sent to the SLO Committee first for review. How will we assess our SLOs? SLO's will likely be assessed by collecting a survey of student engagement. Ron is confident that the first three columns will be at a 100% soon. Sylvia would like "not applicable" put in the fourth column. Ron will return in the early spring to report to this group. In theory we are shooting for mapping from any course and to trace SLOs back.

For clarification, on the rubric they don't use institutional level; rather they have course and degree level. Pedro hopes both colleges can call them the same. Stephanie asked if we are talking about an AA versus an AS. We defined a degree as a program. Nowhere on the rubric do they mention institutional SLOs. Don commented that by getting a degree the outcomes could be what they have learned after they leave. These are in the general ed SLOs. Could we map job skills back and/or information competency? The goals are based on student progress and outcome data, not necessarily learning outcomes. David stated that program level only looks at the core courses not the general ed courses. Think of the goals as performance indicators for the institution. One approach is to identify programs that align with institutional SLOs; you bring up the information and use this data to support this SLO. Another approach is an exit test for graduates to find out if they are walking away with what they should have accomplished. The mission statement and syllabus need to be considered. Looking at this from a broad sense we are trying to connect the dots to all areas, i.e. Student Services and M & O. David stated that this campus started with course level SLOs and other schools started with program level. How do we measure quality environment? Environment has to do with the Student Services side. We need to tie to the mission statement. Pedro reported that at American River College they took a survey and aligned the questions to their SLOs. It is a good idea, but not for all programs or courses. David has every course level SLO mapped to general ed. Some general ed courses are in a program. The rubric does not state AA and/or AS. Pedro believes that both degrees were combined. David stated that we are looking at program level and degree level. What are we expecting them to walk away with? Expectations for the degree will be on the next agenda. WASC is not clear about the definitions. They do not give a clear answer and they leave it subjective. Don asked the consensus on this. Will we bundle our program and general ed courses together and call it programs including general ed? Pedro suggested to put the groups together.

6. Standard I Accreditation Review

Bob Clement, co-chairs

Bob has tri-chairs and has ten committee members. Don's intent is to go through the standard as a group. We can give something to our writer. Standard IA.I is the mission; 1b is institution effectiveness and planning. Pedro recommends referencing the guide. Sylvia as a newbie needed a chart. Dave stated the one of the goals was to produce a 200 page document. We need to be concerned that we answer the questions thoroughly. The guide provides an overview. This time we will have 300-600 pages. The teams are broken up into standards and focus on their standard. We must be thorough and specific to make sure we walk away with the minimum of recommendations. The bullets each need to be considered in our write ups. Program review, dialogue and Communication are part of the answers to the question. The committees should write an introduction to each standard. All four standards ask the same questions there is some redundancy. Pedro is aware of a college who wrote their document as a story from the beginning to the end. He recommends that the committees go back and reference the guide. Don stated that suggestions to the subcommittees be made for additional items. Pedro submitted an eight page document on standard I and none has been included. Sylvia's stated that Standard III is ready for review. Jody asked how the district portion is intended to be incorporated. The intent was for centralized services to have input into this process. District strategic planning and WHCIST needs to be mentioned. Standard III will begin to be reviewed at the next meeting. The summary narrative is the introduction. Don wants an overall introduction for 2.a, 2.b., and 2.c. We are doing all the work for the writer, and the writer has to make sense of it all. The ghost writer has some working knowledge of how the college operates and will take the templates and mesh them into one document. As soon as the draft is available the person one wrote the template needs to make sure their intent is included. Ultimately the final decision as to what will be included in the document falls to the president. ON the planning agenda sections should be kept these to a minimum. Make them attainable and make sure they are identified with a weakness. Pedro stated it you identify a weakness and a planning agenda is written; make sure it is attainable and realistic. An introduction should be written for each sub standard. For process mapping, we will go with our functions and services. As a recommendation two visits ago the team identified confusion from employees regarding where some services were provided. So we conducted a mapping service which lists all the functions and services at the district. This gives the employee the option to select where the function lies and how often they interact with these functions. A survey will go out to staff. Some functions have changed. Some colleges do it by standard. The order of review is as follows: Standard 3 - 2 - 4 - 1.

1. FTE Projections for 2009-2010

Mr. Warkentin reviewed the FTE projections for 2009-2010. The goal was to reduce FTES, but we increased. The chancellor wants to have less due to the savings. This means we will not have a big fall and spring for 2010-2011. Ken is building the budget based on the reduction. What this means to Instruction is to refer to these targets for planning. Pedro has a formula to use. These numbers are to be shared with areas.

2. Budget Update

Mr. Warkentin reported that we still don't know where we are with the State budget as yet. We still have to meet our target of $540,000. The district office has set their budget target and exceeded it. Coalinga is working on theirs and believes they will also meet their target. There could be layoffs. Dr. Gornick will be having a meeting with CTA and CSEA. There are 17 faculty and counselors district-wide whose grants end in June or December of next year. If the district absorbs these positions then grants aren't going to fund them. Staff on grants can bump others in the classified group, if they are qualified. Faculty is different. Sylvia commented that in the learning area meeting the conversation was around counselors who meet minimal qualifications in specialized areas. Mr. Warkentin explained that certificated staff had to obtain equivalency with a master degree in the area or closely related to the area. The determination of equivalency goes through a faculty process. For every full-time faculty you are under you have to pay the State chancellor's office $63,000. Dr. Gornick has stated that there probably will not be mid-year cuts from the state. Budget development needs to continue as always. Bob asked if there are seniority provisions for the management group. Don will discuss this with Ken Stoppenbrink.

3. Spring Schedule

Don reported that we are just about at capacity concerning the spring schedule. There are few classes open. Dave has reported that budget wise for spring we are close to our goal. Dr. Gornick was pleased that we had increased our FTE with fewer sections. Students registered early. Dave commented that he has received concern from students about sections closed. The drop date for nonpayment is January 8th. Payment reminders will be sent. Dave believes there will be last minute students register and be disappointed that there are no classes open. Sylvia mentioned that 1/11-1/27 there will be walk-in appointments available to students.

4. Winter Vacations

Don stated that the last day of finals is 12/18 and the college will close beginning 12/21/2009. Time off requests should be submitted for three days.

Marlon's schedule will be changed back to day time with night duty being assigned to administrators. Glenda will create a calendar. Administrators must stay until 9:00 p.m. The president's cart can be used to drive around campus.

5. Standard III

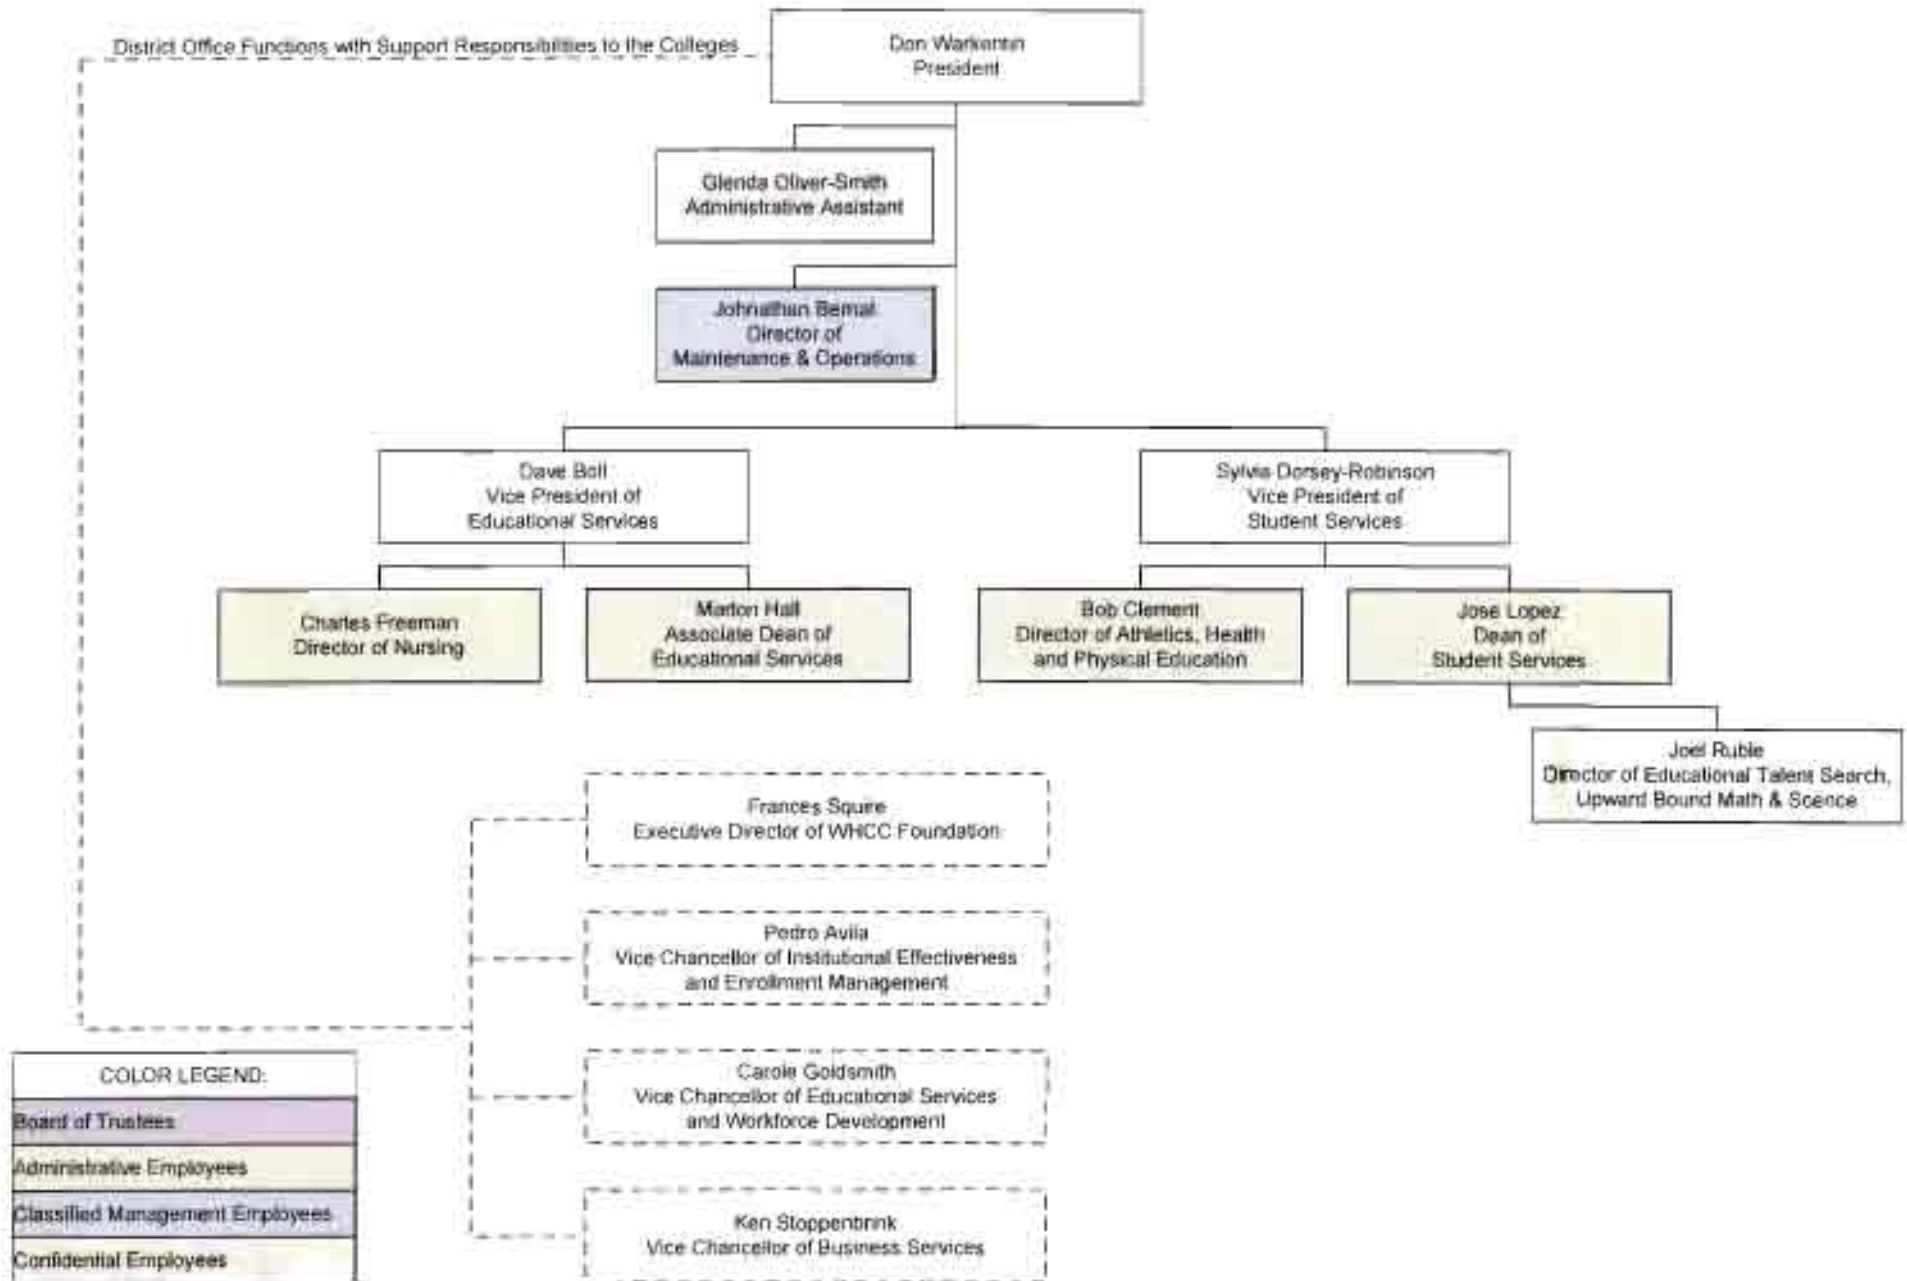

Standard III review has been completed. We may begin having PEC meetings weekly for standards review. Standard II is up for review next.

6. Other

Don reported that the sports complex is moving along. Plans are being made for events/concerts. Dennis Gallegos is filming a commercial to use for fund raising.

WHCL scholarships for science, technology, engineering, math

From District sources

West Hills College Lemoore students may be $522,000 ahead over the next five years thanks to a new scholarship funded by the National Science Foundation.

Open to 25 students with financial need majoring in science, technology, engineering and math, the scholarships will be good for up to $4,176 per academic year and are renewable for two years.

Applications are now being accepted for full-time students who will be enrolled in spring semester. The scholarship application deadline is Nov. 15.

In addition to the cash awards, the National Science Foundation S-STEM Scholarships provide academic advising and assistance, professional development opportunities, career services and counseling and peer and faculty mentoring.

Don Warkentin, president of WHCL, said that to qualify, students must:

- Enroll at WHCL for 12 or more units per semester.

- Pursue a degree in one of the STEM disciplines--biology, chemistry, biotechnology, computer science, math or engineering. Nursing and health science student are not eligible.

- Demonstrate financial need, defined by the U.S. Department of Education rules for need-based federal financial aid.

- Be a U.S. citizen or U.S. national, permanent resident or admitted refugee.

- Demonstrate financial need.

- Demonstrate academic potential (minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0).

- Participate in events of the program.

For information and scholarship applications, visit www.westhillscollege.com/district/foundation/scholarships or call the West Hills Community College Foundation office at 559 934-2134.

Lemoore City Council candidates offer views

Six candidates for the city council met with members of the community and West Hills College Lemoore students on Oct. 20. They are from left Dr. Ron Meade, John Gordon, Mary Hornsby, Willard Rodarmel, Lisa Elgin and Edward Neal. Both Hornsby and Rodarmel are asking for reelection to the four-year posts on the council. The Nov. 3 vote will decide which of the six will hold the office for the next two years.

The candidates offered views ranging from how to improve the city's economy and sharing with NASL.

Area candidates politely disagree

By Katherine Hardin
Eagle editor

Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) hosted a candidate's forum on Oct. 20 in the West Hills College Lemoore conference center. This opportunity was geared toward educating local voters on the candidate's perspectives and their individual philosophies and objectives.

The event, attended by more than 150, was moderated by Kings County Assessor Ken Baird, who opened with a quote by a former Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis: "The most important political office is that of the private citizen."

Candidates for the 16th state senate seat, Michael Rubio, Democrat and Tim Thiesen, GOP, kicked off the evening, but noted water, education, and jobs would be the theme for other candidates.

When asked by Baird how they would propose bringing about change, their responses were similar regarding water, but the two differed on more taxes and less spending. Both candidates recognize a dysfunctional legislature and a lack of priority within state government.

Thiesen noted that he is not a politician; but rather is a framer, trucker, involved in real estate. "I decided to run for office because enough is enough. There are too many regulations, a lack of citizen confidence, and a general lack of common sense in government."

Rubio served for the past six years on the Kern County Board of Supervisors and is a Lost Hills native. He sees the challenges the state faces in less of a business capacity, instead as "Mothers and fathers can't provide for their families" Rubio cites "brain drain," meaning Valley educated students are leaving for better jobs.

"We need to focus on keeping the brightest and the best to make California and the Valley the best it can be. Green technology, valley medical schools, boosting youth opportunities, are ways to shatter the downward spiral California sees itself in," Rubio said. "The buck stops here."

SIFE sponsors candidates' forum

The percentage of students who will vote in the Nov. 2 general election will likely remain smaller than the general population, pollsters predict. While the large percentage of college students backed President Obama, the same prognosticators think the Republicans will retake many of the congressional seats lost to the Democrats in 2008.

'Scholar's Program' one of many outstanding offerings

As you know, West Hills College Lemoore has many outstanding and unique programs and services. Among these is our President's Scholars Program. On Thursday, Nov. 4 we will host the Eighth Annual President's Scholars Dinner whereby we invite high school senior CSF (California Scholastic Federation) members and their parents to dine with us and hear a presentation about our scholars program.

The President's Scholars Program is available to any high school student who has been a member of CSF for four semesters and has earned a GPA of 3.5 or higher. If they enroll at West Hills they will receive free tuition, a $500 per year book stipend and priority registration. The monies to fund the scholars program are raised from holding an annual golf tournament which is coordinated through the West Hills Community College District Foundation Office.

Currently we have 48 students who are enrolled at West Hills College Lemoore under the President's Scholars Program. We anticipate approximately 40 current high school senior CSF members to attend along with their parents.

Town/gown vitality enhanced by cooperation

Ever wonder if West Hills College Lemoore is carrying its full share in making the community, county and area a better place?

While most students are focused on passing mid-terms and getting a good seat in spring classes, members of the college community, including some students, administrators, staff and faculty are donning their town/gowns to invite, promote and staff many of the community events that make Lemoore such a neat place to live.

The following are just a few of the many things our college does -- read them and be proud. Or better yet, read them and then get involved!

For the 30th District of the State Assembly, the only candidate to attend the forum was Democrat Fran Florez. A 4th generation Californian with 35 years serving community, Florez said she recognizes the issues as water and lack of jobs and acknowledged education is a priority.

Funding education before prisons was another concern voiced by Florez, stating that more money is spent on corrections rather than on schools.

David Valadao, GOP, reportedly had a previous commitment.

We will have students from Caruthers, Hanford, Hanford West, Kings Christian, Concoran, Lemoore, and Riverdale high schools join us for dinner and a presentation.

At this year's event, Brian Abela, chemistry instructor and Jameson Birrell, math instructor will be keynote speakers and Angela Tovey, counselor will describe the application process.

West Hills College Lemoore recognizes the value of high academic achievement and we are honored to have this group of high school graduating seniors become members of our student body.

City council candidates agree to disagree

Special to the Eagle

With all six candidates vying for two open positions on the Lemoore City Council present for the Oct. 20 WHCL forum, many of the 150 or so interested spectators stuck around the Conference Center to hear the issues debated.

But there was little debate as each of the six politely stated his or her opinions and did little quibbling with each other. Mary Hornsby and Wilford Rodarmel, each holding a seat up for the election, stated their plans and hopes for additional terms using their background and record as council members as talking points.

Dr. Ron Meade and Lisa Elgin, as planning commission members trying to move up to the council, had done their homework, particularly Elgin who has backed the Navy in disagreements with the city over land use.

Meade suggested use of RDA funding to help secure jobs for local people – a goal of all the candidates.

November will be John Gordon's second try for a council spot while Edward Neal is a first-timer in local politics but has worked with Lemoore youth in a city-sponsored boxing program.

Voters are asked to vote for two on the Nov. 3 ballot. All candidates thanked SIFE and West Hills Lemoore for sponsoring the event – and each asked for the audience members' vote.

Keri Baird, Kings County Assessor/Clerk/Recorder moderated the evening. Ryan Cardoza, SGA president, opened the meeting.

Equivalents Online

A scary story about your history paper made right

By Russell Bellamy
Adjunct Librarian

It's late at night. The library's closed. You're working on your paper for your History class. You need to look up some information, but your resources are sparse. What to do.

First of all, you should check our databases through the West Hills homepage portal. Under the "My Bookmarks" tab, click on "Library Electronic Resources (Off Campus Access)" and you'll find CountryWatch information on the 192 countries of the world, Gale Virtual Reference with subject encyclopedias, SIRS Knowledge Source, a good place to start your research, CQResearcher, covering a wide range of social, economic and political issues and EBSCOHOST with literally thousands of journal articles across a wide spectrum of subjects.

But your bibliography is lacking a book. Well, click on the eBooks link for access to hundreds of books in digital form through the Net Library. Problem solved.

In addition, there are many reference "equivalents" that can be found on the Internet. Need a dictionary and thesaurus? Go to www.merriam-webster.com there are tabs for both. We have a Current Biography set here in our library, but chances are you don't have one. A&E provides some biographies at www.biography.com. Need a different encyclopedia? Encyclopedia Britannica is available at www.britannica.com. A caveat: while Wikipedia has improved the accuracy of its entries in recent years (some say it's now nearly 90%), the wise student would always cross-check and corroborate any information found there.

Information Please has an almanac available at www.infoplease.com. If you need statistics about the United States, the Statistical Abstract of the United States is digitized at www.census.gov/compendia/statab/. For some in-depth searching in US law codes use www.fedlaw.com.

These are better alternatives than "just Google-ing it" and sifting through multiple "hits" deciding which websites and information are valid.

Now you're ready to cite and write your bibliography, but you don't have the MLA Handbook or A Writer's Reference. Never fear. There is also citation help for all four major styles on the Library Electronic Resources "page" in the two links under Research Tools.

By the way, for occupational information, maybe concerning your future vocation, the US Government provides Occupational Outlook Handbook at www.bls.gov/oco.

I hope this helps with your research and, as always, when in doubt, ask a librarian.

DSPS staffers left out of story!

October has come and gone, along with Disability Awareness month, but West Hills College Lemoore's instructional aides and counselors see every month as a time for disability awareness.

These individuals stand ready to assist special needs within the student body and become the hand-up needed within this student demographic.

The Eagle apologizes for omitting the faces of the DSPS program within the original article, and take this opportunity to showcase these individuals.

A Saturday Night Thought by Erik Linan

Editor's note: Erik Linan shares a tale of discrimination. Editor's note: West Hills College student Erik Linan has stories to tell. Not your typical bed-time stories, but tales of real life. A student in instructor Cathy Focarazzo's English 1A class, Erik wrote an essay concerning discrimination and bias many can relate to.

Has anyone ever heard unmistakable remarks of discrimination such as, "Get out of here you damn cockroaches, and take your gimpy with you?" "Yeah, we don't want you guys around here; go back where you came from." Maybe not exactly these slurs, but perhaps something similar to them. They sound like remarks from a notable created character on the Dave Chappelle Show, Clayton Bigsby. Although this is a comedy show and Bigsby a fictional character, this is a real dilemma in America, and there is nothing funny about prejudice and discrimination. On one Saturday night, the monster called racial bias reared its ugly head. Prejudice, which I once thought was well hidden and not explicit, became clear to me as a looking through recently cleaned window; evidence for the entire world to see that discrimination does exist.

On a Saturday night my friends and I decided to go barhopping. Gio, Joe, and I headed toward what we thought would be a good time. We left roughly around ten p.m. to meet up with Sandy and Liz outside some bars, who are friends with Gio and Joe. At this particular bar, as we went in, you could only hear the jukebox tunes playing. Over a hundred eyes gawking at us as we looked for a table. When the cocktail waitress approached us, it was not with the typical, welcoming expression or the service you might expect. She took our order with a sneering, condescending look on her face. I thought maybe she was just having a bad day, so I did not think much of it. After our second beer, my friend Hector got up and walked towards another table to talk to some girls. I noticed that as he walked towards the table to greet the ladies, many of the eyes that were there scrutinized his every movement.

We decided it was best if we left after two drinks since none of us felt quite welcomed being there. My instincts were correct; before we left, I noticed my check was double the amount of what I had ordered, I looked at our waitress and told her, "There must be a mistake." Before I could say anything else, the waitress screeched for security to come over to the table where we were sitting. I looked up and saw this 6'4", three hundred pound guy who looked like a football defensive lineman approaching us. He stopped at our table, "Is there a problem here?" When I saw the sheer size of this lummoX, I almost soiled myself! I was not going to allow him to intimidate me or have the waitress overcharge us; could I have just lost track of what we ordered or how much we had to drink? It is possible, but not probable.

Hector had come back and tried to find out what was going on, only to have another security guard escort him out of the bar as I tried to calm the senseless situation. Within an instant, people who were at the bar surrounded us like sharks, instigating conflict as if they were the paparazzi. I was angry because they did not his fist and swung at the guy who had said that me, only to be thrown out by two more security guards. I saw the frightened faces of Joe, Sandy, Liz, and I was angry and baffled at the atrocious behavior from nearly everyone.

I thought of my friends and decided it was best not to stoop any lower to the level of these bigots. Out of anger, fury, irritation and disbelief of such ignorance I pulled a crisp, new, hundred dollar bill from my wallet and threw it at the waitress. As we left the place, you could hear the vehement shouts of almost fifty people fading into distant echoes down the alley. "We don't want your kind around here!" "Go back where you came from!" Sure, we could have filed a complaint with law enforcement, but whose word would they have believed; me or the owner and over fifty of his supporters? The people of the bar would have portrayed us to the investigating officers in a negative way: "The Mexicans", drunk gimpy with his gangster friends. I had done nothing wrong, but I still felt badly. I had never seen this level of bias, prejudice, discrimination and racial ignorance before. Our Saturday night of good times turned into hours of independent reflection.

During our drive home Gio, Joe, Hector and I were each quiet, the silence not different from just having left a funeral. They felt belittled, ridiculed to a point where it felt as if their man hood had been taken away. We were in disbelief of what had just happened. My friends were angry, upset, and wanted to retaliate, but that would only mean we were letting them get the best of us. This was a night where we just wanted to get home, sleep in the comfort of our own beds and be grateful no one was hurt.

It left a bitter taste in our mouths; most of all, it left me wondering how visible prejudice is and how much of a problem it continues to be. There are people with this level of bias who may not show it normally, but placed in the right situation, their ignorance and prejudice is evident. What should have begun and finished as a carefree weekend became a Saturday night of thought and reflection.

want to listen to what I had to say. I was unsure of why they were treating us differently, but I gradually came to the realization why.

After that management came to talk to me, to our shock and surprise he stated, "Then maybe you guys should not be here." At this point almost everyone in the bar of course was intoxicated, being loud and belligerent, and had their attention on us. "Get out of here you cockroaches, and take your gimpy with you!" a voice cried out. It was a racial slur and a pointed remark concerning my obvious disability, from a small guy who was hiding behind the security guard. Out of anger, Gio crunched

October finds Golden Eagles soccer on top

By Nate Neer
Sports coordinator

By Oct. 21 the Golden Eagle soccer team was 6-4-2 overall and 2-0-1 in the Central Valley Conference (CVC) tied for 1st place with Fresno City College.

The Eagles battled to a 0-0 tie playing a man down for over 30 minutes after Omar Lopez was ejected from the game.

The Eagles defeated Taft and COS in their previous CVC matches putting the Eagles Tied for first place going into the 2nd half of conference play.

The Eagles are led by team captains Jose Martinez and Salvador Espindola, both 2nd year players. Scott Binford is another returning starter who was injured early in the year and is finally healthy so he plans to transfer at the end of the spring semester.

New comers to WHCL Adrian Arias and Erik Rodriguez have both contributed significantly helping to ignite the Eagle offense.

The speedy freshman Juan Mantzo has also been a terror on defenses this season. "Injuries have been a problem for us early, if we can stay healthy this team can really do something special this season", coach Fortune said.

The Golden Eagles are coming off of a history-setting season last year winning the first men's soccer regional playoff match. In 2005 the Golden Eagles made it to the 2nd round on a bye but lost. Last year the Eagles beat Communitas River in the first round and lost to Taft, the Men's Soccer state finalist.

Assistant coach Derek Lopez says "This team is fun to watch and really fun to coach. The men work hard and enjoy learning, which makes it fun to be out there."

If the Golden Eagles are able to continue their winning ways the last game of their regular season should be extremely exciting. The Eagles play Fresno City in Lamoree in what could be a game for the CVC Championship. The game will take place Friday, Nov. 12 at 3 p.m.

Coach Fortune said about the upcoming game with Fresno. "Well that is a ways off and we have some big games before that one but hopefully we are able to keep playing well and give ourselves a chance to do something that has only been done one other time in our schools short history. We would love to have the sidelines full supporting this group of young men."

West Hills College Men's Soccer has been in existence since 2004. Coach Fortune and Lopez are in their 3rd season in the Men's Soccer coaching staff and hold tryouts the first week of the Fall semester. The coaching staff encourages all students that are interested in participating in tryouts to enroll in the Spring and Summer soccer classes to get fit and learn the WHCL Men's Soccer System. If you would like more information contact Coach Fortune at 559-925-3326 or email at allenfortune@whccd.edu.

Women's golf...

The WHCL women's golf team, residing in third place after the Oct. 26 match at Kings River CC, Kingsburg, shot a team 424, behind league leaders Fresno CC with a 375 and Canada's 378. Reedley and COS bring up the hind end of the 5-team league, says coach David Neer.

For WHCL, Janice Geide shot a 91, Tammie Alanax 102.

Women's soccer...

Overall record is 6 wins and 8 losses. CVC 0 and 2. Team has 5 remaining games, 4 of which are CVC league games. Highlights, had a 4 game winning streak, second longest in school history. Stefanie Harris is 12th in the State with 24 points, 10 goals and 4 assists. Lucia Betty Chavez is 25th in the State with 21 points, 7 goals and 7 assists. Team has recorded five shutouts, second most in school history.

Russian for Beginners

The Community Education Program at West Hills College Coolidge is offering an introductory course in Russian this fall semester. The class will meet every Monday afternoon during the month of November from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in Room E-2 on the Coolidge campus.

Russian is the fifth most spoken language in the world. Community education courses are open to anyone in the community. You do not have to be a student at West Hills College Coolidge to enroll in a community education course.

The courses are offered in addition to regular schedule of courses for individuals who are interested in learning something new or taking part in fun activities. College credit is not given for these courses. The course fee is $45. For information, contact Connie Flores at 934-2223.

Our featured artist this month is Brian Diniz, a 24-year-old former student at West Hills College, Lemoore. Brian currently resides in Lemoore and considers himself to be a Fine Arts Major, even though he is not currently enrolled in college classes.

His aspiration is to have a career in illustration or story boarding.

He describes his style as a mix of different influences, but feels he is mainly influenced by comic book art. Pencil and ink are his favorite media, but lately he has been working with Adobe Photoshop and acrylic paints. He claims to have many influences, including his family, comic books, graffiti, electronic games, movies, anime, animation, artists from the Renaissance, Salvador Dalí, and, most importantly, the people in his life.

Another influence is music; as he says, "I feel like music enhances my artistic process. It helps keep my mind away from over-thinking. And I think my pieces come out better in the end."

Brian has completed murals, logos and other artistic commissions, so far, and hopes to continue with these sorts of activities in the future.

When asked if he has advice for other art students, he says, "Be unique, have fun with art, and keep fixe-minded people close."
