College Philosophy for Making Decisions

To improve our planning and decision-making, West Hills College Lemoore commits itself to a culture of transparency, collegiality, inclusiveness, evidence, student learning, and assessment. This serves as the foundation for shared governance at the college, which values the contribution of each of its constituents—faculty, students, staff, and administrators—in the decision-making structures and processes that we have adopted.

Diversity

West Hills College Lemoore values diversity and inclusion and believes that a diverse campus and community is an enriched campus and community. The college is committed to the recruitment and retention of diverse campus staff and student population, one that mirrors the community we serve and believes this will prepare students for global engagement and success. Furthermore, the college is committed to a practice of equity and anti-racism, which requires consistent identification and upending of racist policies and practices and replacing them with ones that foster equity between racial groups.

Collegiality and Inclusiveness

The West Hills College Lemoore governance structure and process are designed to be inclusive and collaborative. The planning process involves faculty, staff, students, and administrators with input from the community, local businesses, and educational partners. The governance structure and practices were developed collaboratively and support the participatory approach to decision-making.

We expect all committee members to respect one another as we share ideas, participate in dialogue, and express views and analyses during meetings. Committee members participate in governance with the understanding that professional disagreements do not warrant incivility. We may disagree with one another, but we should do so in a civil manner. We overcome our disagreements democratically through majority rule. Many of our decisions, however, are reached through consensus, after thoughtful discussions.

The West Hills Community College District Board of Trustees is the final authority for governance at West Hills College Lemoore and delegates its authority to the District Chancellor who in turn delegates authority to the College Presidents. The College President then solicits and receives input through the participatory governance decision-making process at the college level.

Student Learning & Achievement (WHCL's North Star)

The primary mission of West Hills College Lemoore is to teach students both inside and outside of the classroom (learning), and students attend the College to obtain a certificate, degree, opportunity to transfer, and/or gain employment (achievement). Therefore, by setting student learning and achievement as our North Star, or the focus by which all our goals and standards are set, and through on-going assessment and continuous improvement, we will naturally meet all our other objectives. We believe that disaggregation at the course, program level, and equity group levels will help us further focus on student learning and achievement.

To implement this, the question, "How does it benefit our students?" stands as the primary focus that motivates committee members to put students and their needs at the center of our deliberations and discussions. The faculty, staff, students and administrators work collaboratively and cooperatively to concentrate on broad issues that affect student learning and improve outcomes. This vision focuses on our educational community as we help our students realize their educational goals. Of course, such questions require that we make evidence-based decisions.

Culture of Evidence

The College utilizes evidence to support its decisions. Evidence must be accurate, valid, and standardized to ensure consistency and greater precision in the interpretation of the data. The focus should be on using longitudinal data, benchmarks, and best practices. Much of the evidence for decision-making is the result of analyses from the campus-wide comprehensive program review process. In addition to program reviews conducted by departments, Institutional Research provides a variety of statistics and data and focus-groups are consistently used to inform discussion and decision-making.

Innovation

The college supports innovative ideas and practices to stimulate improvement and progress. The college recognizes that change is inevitable, but will not change for the sake of change alone. We will change if it is better for our students. We encourage the expression of novel ideas and new approaches because we recognize that they may better serve our students. We will implement novel ideas and new approaches when we have evidence to support the case that our students will learn more, become more likely to achieve their educational goals, and have an improved experience at college.

Transparency and Communication

Transparency and communication are essential to making our decision-making processes work. The college is committed to making its processes transparent and communicating decisions to all college constituents. To this end, all committee meetings are open to the college community; faculty, staff, students and administrators are invited to attend committee meetings, even if they are not members. The following is published on the college Portal:

- Membership
- Meeting schedules
- Agendas
- Meeting minutes

Planning and Resource Allocation

The West Hills Community College District Strategic Plan, West Hills College Lemoore's Strategic Plan, comprehensive program review, and SLO assessment are the bases for the college's planning process and resource allocation. To support the planning process, specific plans have been developed in focused areas.

- Strategic Plan
- Educational Master Plan
- Facilities Master Plan

Annual Budget Allocation Process

Resource needs arising from Program Review are forwarded to the appropriate Area Budget Committee (ABC) and then to the Budget Allocation Committee (BAC) for discussion and prioritization. New faculty position requests are forwarded to the Academic Senate for prioritization. Facility resource needs are forwarded to the Facilities and Safety Committee for prioritization. All prioritized lists are forwarded to the Planning and Governance Council, which is then provided to the Executive Team to discuss and move forward to the President. The President will then further discuss prioritized lists with the Chancellor's Executive Cabinet. The final outcome of the discussion is then communicated to the campus by the President. The process is as follows:

Program Review and Student Learning Outcomes

The Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) has described student-learning outcomes as the knowledge, skills, abilities, competencies, attitudes, beliefs, opinions, or values students acquire as a result of learning at an educational institution (Guided to Evaluating Institutions).

A student learning outcome (SLO) is a statement of what a student learns as a result of participating in courses, programs, and/or other campus services. The term “student learning outcomes” is used as an umbrella term. At WHCL, we have labeled our student learning outcomes based on where and how they are assessed.

- Institutional Student Learning Outcomes (ISLOs)
- Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLOs)
- Course Student Learning Outcomes (CSLOs)
- Service Area Outcomes (SAOs)

ACCJC requires that SLOs be interconnected and organized hierarchically. At the top of the SLO organizational ladder are ISLOs. ISLOs describe the knowledge, skills, abilities, and attitudes students should master as a result of their overall college experience.

WHCL’s educational programs use three types of SLOs that align upward with our ISLOs.

Course Student Learning Outcomes – CSLOs measure learning outcomes acquired in courses and other instructional environments.

Program Student Learning Outcomes – PSLOs measure learning outcomes acquired by completing a series of courses associated with a specific degree, certificate, or program of study.

Service Area Outcomes – SAOs are for non-instructional departments such as student services or maintenance and operations. SAOs measure the student/staff experience, the quality of services provided, and the quantity of services provided.

Service departments (programs that do not provide direct instruction to students but provide services that influence and support instruction) use Service Area Outcomes (SAOs) in lieu of CSLOs or PSLOs. SAOs align up to ISLOs and may be measured indirectly through unit-designed surveys, quantity, time to complete service, and other achievement-based measurement tools.

WHCL’s student learning outcomes and the assessment of those outcomes are the foundation for program review. Every program undergoes a program review. The program review cycle for most instructional and institutional support programs is the completion of a full program review every four years with a midterm due every two years. Career Technical Education (CTE) programs are required to do a full program review every two years with no midterm. Program reviews are the primary basis for requesting resource allocations. Resource allocation requests should stem from the assessment of student learning and achievement, connectivity to the college plans (Strategic Plan, Educational Master Plan, and Facility Master Plan), or Federal/State mandates.

Instructional programs are defined as any course of study leading to a degree or Certificate of Achievement (COA). Institutional support programs are defined as non-instructional functions that support West Hills College Lemoore students and the key operations of the college.

Governance Structure

Organization

The Planning and Governance Council (PGC), as the principal participatory governance body of the College, creates the processes for recommending College procedures and governance committee structures. The PGC relies on the College's committees for recommendations to determine appropriate actions. The PGC amends and guides the planning processes and recommends policies and procedures to respond to the changing needs of the student population and the internal and external environments. The PGC reviews, revises if necessary, and approves the College's plans and initiatives. All decision-making is based on the college's mission and vision statements, as well as the Strategic Plan and Educational Master Plan.

The WHCCD District Strategic Plan and the West Hills College Lemoore Strategic plan outline goals and key performance indicators to help ensure student learning and achievement. The PGC reviews the Strategic Plan and evaluates progress toward achieving the college goals.

Each governance committee is responsible for completing the actions in the annual agenda as outlined for each committee along with its role, goals, and products. The governance committees report directly to the PGC and each has a representative on the PGC. The College President serves as the chair of the PGC. All governance committee representatives on the PGC report progress on their annual agenda, assigned goals, roles, and products at the PGC meetings.

The Board of Trustees is the ultimate decision-maker in those areas assigned to it by State and Federal laws and regulations (BP 2510 & AP 2510—Participation in Local Decision Making).

Representation

The governance structure provides for representation from four recognized constituencies at West Hills College Lemoore: students, faculty, classified staff, and administrators.

Planning and governance meetings are public. In addition to representation afforded to individuals through constituency representation, other individuals and groups may be heard in any governance meeting by requesting and receiving permission from the chair to participate and/or have items added to the agenda.

Appointments from the constituencies, when not specified by position, are made by the following:

- Associated Student Government (ASG) – Students
- Academic Senate – Faculty
- California State Employee Association (CSEA) – Classified Staff
- President – Administrators

With the exception of a committee member assigned by position/title, or where specifically stated otherwise, the constituent appointees serve a 2-year term and may be re-appointed by their constituent group. Unless required by the position, or no other person is available, representatives should sit on no more than two committees at the same time.

Representative, Committee Chair, and Note-taker Responsibilities

The primary responsibilities of representatives are as follows:

- Prepare for and attend meetings
- Keep respective constituencies informed of the proceedings and recommendations
- Contribute to informed decision-making

The primary responsibilities of committee chairs are as follows:

- Create agendas for all meetings ensuring that annual agenda guidelines are included
- Establish annual meeting dates
- Ensure completion of annual agenda

The primary responsibilities of note-takers are as follows:

- Send meeting announcements out to committee members
- Ensure meeting rooms are reserved
- Publish meeting dates/times on the Portal
- Update committee members on the Membership Page of the Portal
- Send out requests to constituent groups for committee member vacancies
- Update committee members in Board Docs and ensure members have access
- Create agendas in Board Docs for all meetings ensuring that annual agenda guidelines are included
- Place a copy of all agendas and meeting minutes from Board Docs on the Portal for transparent communication
- Prepare minutes and post them to the Portal and Board Docs in a timely manner (within 1 week of meeting)

Committees are assessed on a biennial basis via a WHCCD Committee Communication and Effectiveness Survey. Committees review the results and, if necessary, make recommendations for change to the Planning and Governance Council.

Meetings and Actions

The agenda of each meeting shall be prepared by the chair (or his/her designee) and posted (on the College Portal and Board Docs) in advance of the meeting. All meeting minutes are posted on the Portal and in Board Docs.

The chair or his/her designee and half of the voting members of the council/committee plus one (50% + 1) shall constitute a quorum. If a council/committee member knows in advance that they will be unable to be absent from a meeting they can identify a proxy from their constituent group and inform the council/committee chair that they have a proxy vote for the one meeting.

The council/committee shall attempt to achieve consensus for any and all actions. When consensus cannot be reached, a majority of members shall determine the recommendation.

Governance Body Definitions

Other members need not be members of the committee to which it reports, but members are appointed by their constituency group as applicable.

Internal Communication Guidelines

BoardDocs

BoardDocs is WHCCD's official repository for all meetings subject to the Brown Act and the College's participatory governance meetings. Agendas, minutes, and applicable meeting documents for these meetings must be uploaded to BoardDocs with attachments in PDF format. Meetings that fall under the Brown Act (i.e. Academic Senate, Student Senate/ASB, Citizen's Bond Oversight Committee, etc.) are available to the public while participatory governance committees are accessible only to members of the committee. Therefore, WHCCD's SharePoint Portal is the required secondary repository for agendas, minutes, and applicable meeting documents to ensure transparency and accessibility to all College constituents.

Sharepoint

The WHCCD SharePoint is the secondary repository for all WHCL participatory governance committee meetings. Participatory governance committee pages should be accessible (viewable) to all constituents including, faculty, staff, administrators, and students who are members of the committee/s. The participatory governance committee pages should include the following for each committee:

1. Role (per the Planning and Governance Manual)
2. Products (per the Planning and Governance Manual)
3. Members including the constituent/position they represent
4. Term dates
5. Meeting calendar
6. Agendas
7. Minutes
8. Annual agenda guidelines (per the Planning and Governance Manual)

The WHCCD SharePoint site allows for private group document sharing as well as public accessibility. Participatory governance committees should utilize both public and private access points on the SharePoint site for their committee to optimize efficiencies in committee communications.

The classic WHCCD portal is archived and still available but not for use for new content. New shared documents and communications for participatory governance committees and other campus functions must transition to SharePoint Sites.*

Eagle Answer Center SharePoint Site

The Eagle Answer Center page on the WHCCD SharePoint is the official repository of important College information and includes:

1. Hours of operation for various campus offices
2. Important telephone numbers
3. Campus calendars (includes college events, evening administrator, and ASB events)
4. Links to important forms and campus procedures
5. Participatory Governance Committee meeting schedule
6. Student Body Activity Calendar

Outlook Calendar

Microsoft Outlook calendars are used as the official tool for scheduling meetings and booking rooms at WHCL. Faculty and staff should make every effort to ensure their Outlook calendar is up-to-date to help meeting schedulers find availability for meetings, etc.

Microsoft Teams

Microsoft Team sites are best used for day-to-day communication and managing short-term projects. Team sites may be restricted to particular members of a team or public for all campus constituents. Although documents may be uploaded to team sites (relevant to a particular communication), team sites are not official document repositories. An example of a team site is the Guided Pathways team site. A Microsoft Teams app is available for both Android and Apple operating systems. Features include:

- Group conversations (chat)
- Individual conversations
- Team tasks and tracking
- Tag individuals/groups in conversations
- Teams Video Meetings

Microsoft Teams sites may also be used for virtual communications including committee or small group meetings, counseling sessions, task forces, help desk, etc. Teams sessions allow individuals to call in from various locations and the platform can handle up to 300 participants. Features include video, audio, screen sharing, chat, and recording.

Canvas

The primary purpose and function of Canvas is for instructional delivery. It is the Learning Management System (LMS) for the college. The Canvas LMS can be used as a repository for documents, group discussions, including voting features and task assignments, and one-way messaging in the form of announcements. Canvas works best for mid and long-term groups, such as the Faculty Resource Guide or Learning Areas.

College Hour

The college has identified Mondays and Wednesdays from 2:30 p.m.-4:00 p.m. during the fall and spring semester as the "college hour". The participatory governance committees will work with the President's Office to attempt to schedule their meetings during this time so assure constituency participation and to avoid time conflicts with other committee meetings.

Elumen

Elumen is the official repository for curriculum, ISLO/PSLO/CSLO/SAO assessment, program planning, and program review.

Email

Email is an official means of communication for individual correspondence. It should not be used if the message is urgent (call, text, or walk over if it is urgent.) Email may be used on an as-needed basis for voting purposes (voting feature). Email messages should be viewed as memos rather than as reports or lengthy correspondence.

Email Protocol:

- Combine messages of similar nature rather than sending multiple email messages.
- Shorter emails are best—use bullets when possible to reduce text.
- Always include a relevant subject line (Curriculum Report: Vote Needed).
- If the conversation changes, update the subject line and make sure recipients don't need to change as well.
- If action is needed, start the email off with "action needed/vote needed/feedback needed" or include "action/vote/feedback needed" at the end of your subject line. If you need a response by a certain date, include that in your email.
- Do not "reply all" if the message is for one person.
- Use your WHCCD email for work-related communication and not personal reasons (i.e. sharing recipes, jokes, memes, etc.
- Use repository/storage tools for sharing journal articles, long documents, etc., and link those sources to your email.
- When sending videos, attach an audio transcript or include captions.

ReGroup

ReGroup is the text message, call, and email system used for emergency notifications or other important campus-wide information such as a network down, school closure, etc.

Zoom

Zoom may be used for virtual communications including committee or small group meetings, counseling sessions, task forces, help desk, etc. Zoom sessions allow individuals to call in from various locations and the platform can handle up to 300 participants. Features include video, audio, screen sharing, chat, and recording. Recorded Zoom sessions are automatically transcribed with a link sent to the individual who set up the Zoom meeting within 30 minutes. This feature allows for sharing which makes it a good communication tool to develop training videos or classroom materials. There are three Zoom meeting rooms on campus (Admin 124, Eagle Training Room 902, and Conference Room 937 in the Student Union). Zoom meetings can be scheduled through the Outlook calendar. The majority of classrooms on campus will have Zoom capacity as of Spring 2022.

Student Conduct/Concern Report

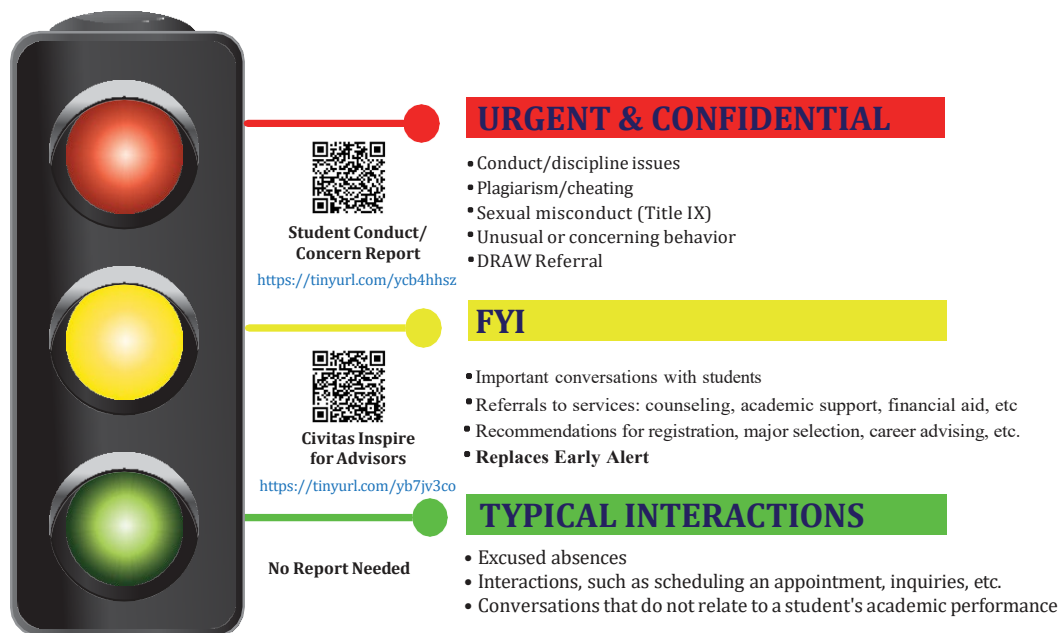

The Student Conduct/Concern Report is the official means of communicating/reporting the following concerning students:

1. Student conduct issues
2. Plagiarism/cheating
3. Title IX (sexual misconduct)
4. Concerning Behavior
5. Depression Reduction Achieving Wellness (DRAW) referral

Alert/Case Management Tools

Use the Alert on the Portal, which includes Next Gen Inspire for early alerts, important conversations with students, and to obtain other important information related to a student's academic progress (registration, GPA, assigned counselor, etc.) Emails and information that is specific to students should be included in the "notes" section. Communication to students in a mass email should not be included in notes, but rather via the communication feature.

Capacity Load Ratio This number is computed by comparing the total number of students that a classroom or laboratory could accommodate during the primary hours of a week with the number of students that actually use the classroom or laboratory during that same period. For example: If a classroom could hold 40 students for 50 hours per week then its capacity would be 40 times 50 which equals 2000. If the actual number of students utilizing that room for any given week were 1000 then the capacity load ratio would be 2000/1000 or exactly 2.0. As a percentage that would be 200%. That says that the capacity is 200% of the usage or load. A high percentage shows low usage while a low percentage shows high usage. The percentage is computed separately for classrooms, laboratories, offices, and other miscellaneous types of rooms. If the ratio is too high then the State will indicate that the district will not qualify for capital outlay funding for that type of facility. In addition, the operating costs for the District will be high if the ratio is too high.

Capital Outlay The acquisition of, or additions to, fixed assets, including land or existing buildings, improvements of grounds, construction of buildings, additions to buildings, remodeling of buildings, or equipment.

Capital Projects Funds that are used for the acquisition or construction of capital outlay items (e.g. buildings, major equipment).
